(m) Territorial extent. This order applies to all persons in the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

(n) Bureau of the Budget approval. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Subsequent specific record-keeping or reporting requirements by the Director will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(o) Effective date. This order shall be effective on March 24, 1943, as of 12:01 a. m., e. w. t.

PART 1460—FATS AND OILS

RESTRICTIONS ON USE, CONSUMPTION, PROCESSING, SALE AND DELIVERY OF PALM OIL

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of palm oil to meet war and essential civilian needs, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1460.9 Use, consumption, processing, sale and delivery of palm oil restricted—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "palm oil" means all oils of any grade or description, heretofore known or sold as palm oil, whether crude, refined, bleached, or deodorized.

(2) The term "dealer" means any person who imports, buys, sells, or distributes palm oil.

(3) The term "person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity.

(4) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(b) General restrictions on use. Unless specifically authorized by the Director, no person shall use or consume palm oil except in the following manufactures or processes:

(1) The manufacture of tin plate, terne plate, long terne plate, steel sheets, steel strip, and black plate;

(2) Any manufacture, process or use in which glycerine is produced in compliance with the provisions of Food Distribution Order No. 33;

(3) Any manufacture, process, or use by any person whose total use or consumption of palm oil is less than 2,000 pounds in each of the several three month periods of the year commencing on January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1.

(c) Restrictions on processing. No person shall hereafter put in process or change the condition of any palm oil in preparation for any manufacture, process, or use permitted by this order except to the extent necessary for such preparation and then only in such quantities as may be necessary to meet his normal production schedule or, if such palm oil is to be manufactured or used by another person, then the normal production schedule of such other person.

(d) Reserve. Every person who was required by General Preference Order M–59 of the War Production Board (7 F.R. 2186) to set aside an inventory quota of palm oil shall use, put in process, sell, or deliver all or any part of such quota only upon express instruction of the Director, except that this paragraph (d) shall not be construed to prevent changing the condition of the oil so set aside to the extent necessary to prevent deterioration while carried in inventory.

(e) Restrictions on sales and deliveries. No person shall sell or deliver any palm oil to any other person, except a dealer or a person using such oil in the manufactures, processes, or uses set out in paragraph (b) hereof, except as may be specifically authorized by the Director.

(f) Intra-company transactions. The prohibitions or restrictions contained in this order with respect to deliveries shall, in the absence of a contrary direction, apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise, to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise owned or controlled by the same person.

(g) Existing contracts. The restrictions of this order concerning the use, consumption, processing, sale, and delivery of palm oil shall be observed without regard to existing contracts or any rights accrued or payments made thereunder.

(h) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other period of time as the Director may designate) and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such time as he may prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections, at all reasonable times, of his stocks of palm oil and of the premises used in his business, and all of his books, records, and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(j) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate), for relief to the Director setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate and such action shall be final.

(k) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order, or who wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation, and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(l) Communications to the Department of Agriculture. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref: FD 38.

(m) General Preference Order M–59 superseded. This order supersedes in all respects General Preference Order M–59 of the War Production Board (7 F.R. 2186) except that as to violations of said order or rights accrued, liabilities incurred or appeals taken under said order prior to the effective date hereof, said general preference order shall be deemed to be in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right or liability. Any appeal pending under the said General Preference Order shall be considered under paragraph (j) hereof.

(n) Territorial extent. This order applies to all persons in the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

(o) Effective date. This order shall be effective on March 24, 1943, as of 12:01 a. m., e. w. t.

Issued this 19th day of March 1943.

PART 1460—FATS AND OILS

RESTRICTIONS ON USE, PROCESSING, CONSUMPTION, AND DELIVERY OF TUNG OIL

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of tung oil to meet war and essential civilian needs, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1460.5 Delivery, use and distribution of tung oil; restricted—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "tung oil" means that oil obtained from the tung nut, commonly known as tung oil or china wood oil, whether crude, raw, filtered, or refined.

(2) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity.

(3) The term "producer" means any person engaged in the production of tung oil and includes any person who has tung oil produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(4) The term "distributor" means any person who has purchased or purchases tung oil for purposes of resale.

(5) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(b) Restrictions on delivery, use, and processing. (1) No person shall deliver, accept delivery of, use, or process tung oil except as specifically authorized or directed by the Director.

(2) Authorization or directions with respect to deliveries, use, and processing in each calendar month will, so far as practicable, be issued by the Director prior to the commencement of such month, but the Director may at any time at his discretion, and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) hereof, issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted, or with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of tung oil to be delivered or then on hand. He may also at any time issue directions to the producer with respect to the grade of tung oil which he may manufacture.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of tung oil shall use such oil for the purposes authorized and only for such purposes except as otherwise specifically directed.

(4) Tung oil allocated for inventories shall not be used or processed except as specifically authorized or directed by the Director. Tung oil allocated:

(i) To fill a specified order, or shall revert to inventories where and to the extent that the oil so allocated is not used for the specific order or the specific end use.

(c) Exceptions to requirements for specific authorization. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) hereof, specific authorizations by the Director shall not be required for:

(1) Acceptance of delivery, use, or processing by any person in any one calendar month of 40 lbs., or less, of tung oil in the aggregate; and

(2) The delivery of tung oil by any producer or distributor to any person who shall have filed with him an authorization signed by the Director authorizing such person to accept delivery of tung oil in the quantity and in the period in which delivery is made.

(d) Exceptions for small orders. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) hereof, specific authorization by the Director shall not be required for deliveries set forth in this paragraph, but no producer shall make deliveries described in this paragraph without a specific authorization by the Director to make deliveries of a specific maximum quantity under this paragraph each month. Deliveries of quantities in excess of this maximum may not be made without further authorization by the Director. The application for authorization to make such delivery shall specify the maximum quantity requested. The provisions of this paragraph apply to the delivery of tung oil by any producer or distributor to any person who shall have filed with him a certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the United States Department of Agriculture, Food Distribution Administration, and to his supplier that the tung oil hereby ordered for delivery in _____, 1943, does not, taken with all other tung oil delivered or to be delivered in such month, exceed 40 lbs., the amount which he is entitled to receive under paragraph (c) (1) of Food Distribution Order No. 39.

Name of Purchaser

Date By _____ Authorized Official

Title

Such certificate shall be signed by an authorized official of the purchaser. The receipt of such certificate shall not authorize the delivery of tung oil by a producer or distributor where he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false, but in the absence of such knowledge or belief, he may rely on the certificate.

(e) Applications for delivery, use, or processing. (1) Each person requiring authorization to accept delivery of, use, or process, tung oil during any calendar month, beginning with April 1943 (including a person seeking authorization to accept the delivery of tung oil for resale), shall file application therefor on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for delivery, use, or processing is requested. Application for acceptance of delivery, use or processing in April 1943 shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of the requested delivery, use, or processing. In any case, such application shall be made on War Production Board Form PD–600, or such other form or forms as may be prescribed by the Director. Forms may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board or the Food Distribution Administration, United States Department of Agriculture. Five copies shall be prepared, four of which shall be forwarded to the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref: FD–39, the fifth to be retained for applicant's files. For the purposes of this order, if War Production Board Form PD–600 is used, it shall be completed in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) In the heading, under the name of chemical, specify "tung oil"; under WPB Order No., specify "FD 39"; under unit of measure specify "pounds, dry weight"; in the heading of Table I in the blank insert the month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery, use or processing is sought.

(ii) In the space under "supplier with whom this order is placed" state name of usual supplier and list his shipping point. If application is for authority to use, consume, or process oil from his own inventory, leave these spaces blank.

(iii) In Columns 1, 11, and 19, indicate grade in terms of the following: crude or refined. If same grade of oil is required for more than one "primary product", or for the same "primary product" for more than one ultimate use, include quantity of grade applicable to each "primary product" or ultimate use.

(iv) In Columns 3, 20, and 22, specify your primary product in terms of the following: protective coating, core oil, electrical insulation, synthetic resins, food container linings, others (specify).

(v) In Column 4 specify ultimate use of product (as for example "airplane engine castings" as opposed to "core oil" and "bomb linings" as opposed to "protective coatings" or "synthetic resins", each of which may be made of the primary product called for in Columns 3, 20, and 22); and also specify in each case whether your customer is Army, Navy, or other Government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer, and give Government specification number, if any. If the application for tung oil for resale or for inventory (as tung oil), leave Column 4 blank. In each case where the application for authorization to use or process tung oil is granted, one copy signed by the Director will be returned to the applicant; and where the application is also for authorization to accept delivery, a second copy also signed by the Director will be sent to the applicant so that applicant may furnish same to the supplier selected by him.

(2) Each producer of tung oil shall file War Production Board Form PD–601, or such other form or forms as may be prescribed by the Director, on or before the 15th day of each month, beginning with April 1943. Forms may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board or the Food Distribution Administration, United States Department of Agriculture. Four copies shall be prepared of which three shall be forward to the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref: FD–39, the fourth to be retained in applicant's file. For the purposes of this order, if War Production Board Form PD–601 is used, it shall be completed in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) In the heading under the name of chemical, specify "tung oil"; under WPB Order No., specify "FD–39"; under name of company, state name and mailing address; under unit of measure, specify "pounds, dry weight"; in the heading "This schedule is for deliveries to be made during the month of _____, 194__", strike out the words "to be", and insert in the blank the month preceding the month in which form is filed and also indicate year.

(ii) Insert in Column 1 the words "total small order deliveries last month", and in Column 4 specify the total quantity of tung oil delivered by applicant in such last month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) and (d) hereof. In other respects Table I may, at the applicant's discretion, be left blank.

(iii) In Column 8 specify grades produced in terms of grades included in paragraph (e) (1) (ii) hereof.

(iv) In Column 9 show actual production during preceding month.

(v) In Column 10 show actual deliveries during preceding month.

(vi) In Column 11 show stocks as of first of preceding month.

(vii) In Column 12 show stocks as of first of current month.

(viii) Leave blank columns 13–16, inclusive.

(ix) In addition to the foregoing, each producer who is a crusher of tung nuts shall strike out the heading of Columns 15 and 16 and insert in the columns and in the margin:

(a) Quantity of tung nuts received during preceding month;

(b) Quantity of tung nuts crushed during preceding month; and

(c) Quantity of tung nuts on hand at end of preceding month.

(3) The Director may issue other and further directions with respect to preparing and filing forms.

(f) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate), and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe.

(g) Bureau of the Budget approval. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Subsequent specific record-keeping or reporting requirements by the Director will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(h) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(i) Existing contracts. The restrictions of this order concerning delivery, acceptance, use, processing and consumption of tung oil shall be observed without regard to existing contracts or any rights accrued or payments made thereunder.

(j) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of tung oil shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also deliveries from one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(k) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections, at all reasonable times, of his stocks of tung oil and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records, and accounts, shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(l) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation; and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(n) Communications to Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Ref: FD–39.

(o) General Preference Order M–57 superseded. This order supersedes in all respects General Preference Order M–57 [7 F.R. 7398] of the War Production Board except that as to violations of said order or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said order prior to the effective date hereof, said general preference order shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, or liability. Any appeal pending under said general preference order shall be considered under paragraph (1) hereof.

(p) Territorial extent. This order applies to all persons in the United States, its Territories and Possessions, and the District of Columbia.

(q) Effective date. This order shall be effective on March 24, 1943, as of 12:01 a. m., e. w. t.

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

CONTRACT CLAUSES RELATING TO TAXES

Sections 81.357 and 81.358 are amended as follows:

§ 81.357 Tax articles in fixed price (lump sum) contracts—(a) Long form tax article. Except as otherwise stated in paragraphs (b), (c), and (e) of this section all fixed price (lump sum) contracts will include a tax article substantially in the form set forth in this paragraph. Attention is directed to the necessity of including in each contract suitable provisions (see § 81.358) to specify any taxes to be excluded from or included in the contract price otherwise than as provided in such tax article. If desired, the words "of the award of this contract" or "of the bid upon the basis of which this contract was placed" may be substituted for the italicized words "of this contract" in the following article: Provided, That such substitution is made uniformly throughout the article and that the date of the award or the date of the bid, as the case may be, is specified in the contract.

Article ... Taxes. (a) Unless otherwise indicated in this contract (A) the prices herein do not include any of the following taxes in effect at the date of this contract,

(1) Any Federal tax which is directly applicable to the completed supplies or work covered hereby (including component parts, articles, or units of which the contractor is the manufacturer, importer, or producer) and as to which exemption from tax is available, or

(2) Any state or local sales, use, or other tax from which the contractor or this transaction of the procurement of these supplies or work is exempt, and (B) the prices herein include all other applicable Federal, State and local taxes in effect at the date of this contract. Upon request of the contractor the Government will issue tax exemption certificates or furnish other similar proof of exemption with respect to all taxes excluded from the price.

(b) If after the date of this contract the Federal Government or any state or local government shall impose, remove or change (including any change by the removal by statute of an exemption available to the contractor for the purposes of this contract) any duty, sales, use, or excise tax or any other tax or charge directly applicable to the supplies or work covered hereby or the materials used in the manufacture thereof or directly upon the importation, production, processing, manufacture, construction, sale, or use of such supplies, work, or materials, which tax or charge must be borne by the contractor because of a specific contractual obligation or by operation of law, or, in case of a decrease or elimination of any such tax, where the contractor is relieved to that extent, and if in case of an increase in such an existing tax or the imposition of such a new tax the contractor has paid such tax or charge to the Federal Government or to a state or local government, or any other person, then the prices named herein will be increased or decreased accordingly, and any amount due to the contractor as a result of such change will be charged to the Government and entered on vouchers (or invoices) as a separate item: Provided, however, That the Government reserves the right to issue to the contractor in lieu of such payment a tax exemption certificate or certificates acceptable to the Federal Government or state or local government, as the case may be. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph (b) may be determined by a written agreement between the parties hereto. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as requiring the Government to reimburse the contractor for any Federal, state, or local income taxes, income surtaxes or excess profits taxes, transportation taxes, or taxes on property.

(c) In the case of any state or local tax or charge which the contractor contends is chargeable to the Government because of the provisions of this article, or any other provision of this contract, the contractor agrees to refrain from paying any such tax or charge upon the direction of the contracting officer (in which event the Government will save the contractor harmless from penalties and interest incurred through compliance with the direction of the contracting officer not to pay such tax); to take such steps as may be directed by the Government to cause such tax or charge to be paid under protest; to preserve and, if so directed by the contracting officer, to cause to be assigned to the Government any and all rights to the abatement or refund of such tax or charge; if so requested, to permit the Government to prosecute any claim, litigation, or proceeding for the refund of such tax in the name of the contractor, and to furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation requested by the Government in any litigation or proceeding for the recovery of such tax or charge.

If desired the following sentence, or substantially similar language, may be added at the end of paragraph (b) of the foregoing tax article:

For the purposes of any additional procurement of supplies or work called for by any agreement supplemental hereto, the words "date of this contract" shall be deemed to refer to the date of such supplemental agreement.

(b) Short form tax article. In purchase orders and contracts where the estimated time of the performance of the purchase order or contract does not exceed 60 days, the following short form of tax article may be employed or a tax article may be omitted. Attention is directed to the necessity of including in each contract (§ 81.358) suitable provisions to specify any taxes to be excluded from or included in the contract price otherwise than as provided in such tax article.

Article ... Taxes. Unless otherwise indicated in this contract (A) the prices herein do not include any of the following taxes in effect at the date of this contract:

(1) Any Federal tax which is directly applicable to the completed supplies covered hereby (including component parts, articles, or units of which the contractor is the manufacturer, importer, or producer) and as to which exemption from tax is available, or

(2) Any state or local sales, use or other tax from which the contractor or this transaction of the procurement of these supplies is exempt, and (B) the prices herein include all other Federal, state, and local taxes (including without limitation of the foregoing all transportation taxes). Upon request of the contractor the Government will issue tax exemption certificates or furnish other similar proof of exemption with respect to all taxes excluded from the price.

(c) Use of tax articles. Supply services may continue to use existing contract or purchase order forms containing a tax article substantially in the form of the tax article prescribed prior to March 1, 1943, by § 81.357 of the procurement regulations as it then read or other tax article hitherto approved, if suitable modifications in or additions to such tax articles are included in the contract to reflect accurately the taxes expressly included in or excluded from the contract price in the particular case. Attention is also directed to the provisions of § 81.809a, Procurement Regulation No. 8, setting forth the policies to be applied on and after March 1, 1943, with respect to exemptions from Federal excise taxes.

(d) State and local taxes. State and local sales or use taxes generally do not apply to sales directly to the United States or the use of property by the United States (see § 81.810). Special provisions may be included in any contract with respect to any state or local excise tax as to which there is doubt whether an exemption exists applicable to the transaction covered by the contract. Any such special provisions should clearly specify whether such tax is to be included in or excluded from the price and whether the Government must pay or reimburse the contractor for the tax if no exemption is applicable. Contracting officers, so far as is practicable, should take precautions to see that contractors do not include in their bid or price any amount for (1) any state or local sales or use taxes which do not apply to sales to the Federal Government or to the use of property by the Federal Government, or (2) any other state or local taxes, exemption from which is available in the case of transactions to which the Federal Government is a party.

(e) Appropriate tax articles. The chief of any supply service may authorize the omission of the tax articles set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 81.357 from any contracts where they are plainly inapplicable or inappropriate. In any class or classes of contracts for services where a major part of the cost of performance consists of payroll expense, for example, stevedoring contracts, the chief of any supply service may authorize the inclusion of a provision for price adjustment in the event of changes in payroll taxes with respect to such services. The form of any such provision in general should be similar to the provision found in paragraph (b) of the tax article set out in § 81.357 (a) but should not be made applicable to taxes other than these paid with respect to the wages of the employees of the particular contractor.

§ 81.358 Taxes affecting cost. Special emphasis is placed on the necessity that each contract contain appropriate provisions showing accurately the nature of any taxes which are expressly included in or excluded from the contract price contrary to the standard provisions of the tax article which is in fact contained in such contract. Invitations to bid, requests for proposals, specifications, instructions to bidders, and proposals should indicate expressly the types of taxes to be included in or excluded from the contract price and whether tax exemption certificates will be given or required. Care must be taken to see that the tax provisions of each contract are in conformity with any invitation to bid, specifications, and proposal issued or made in connection therewith. PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following amendments and additions to the regulations contained in Part 81 are hereby prescribed. These regulations are also contained in War Department Procurement Regulations dated September 5, 1942 (7 F.R. 8082), as amended by Changes No. 12, March 3, 1943.[1] In section numbers the figures to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective paragraph numbers in the procurement regulations.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 5a, National Defense Act, as amended, 41 Stat. 764, 54 Stat. 1225; 10 U.S.C. 1193-1195, and the First War Powers Act 1941, 55 Stat. 838, 50 U.S.C. Sup. 601-622.

AUTHORITY TO MAKE AWARDS, CONTRACTS, AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF; REQUIRED APPROVALS

Section 81.304 (b) is amended as follows:

§ 81.304 Definitions. * * *

(b) Contract. As used in this section, the term "contract" means any contract except supplemental agreements and change orders and except those contracts referred to in §§ 83.707, 81.1014 and 81.1015.

PROCUREMENT OF SUPPLIES

Sections 81.602 to 81.605, inclusive, are rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

[1] For previous changes see 7 F.R. 8163, 9268, 9660, 10184, 10247, 10640, 10906, and 8 F.R. 401, 411, 2531.

GENERAL

§ 81.602 Definitions—(a) Procurement. The term "procurement" as used in this regulation refers to the procedure necessary to obtain a given item or class of items and includes the execution of the following functions:

(1) Specification (abbr. spec.). This function consists of the preparation and custodianship of specifications necessary for the procurement of a given item or class of items, except specifications charged to other Federal agencies.

(2) Determination of requirements (abbr. reqs.). This function involves the determination by a supply service of its own requirements as well as the requirements of the using Arms for which the supply service is responsible under existing Army regulations. When only one service is indicated as having responsibility for determination of requirements for an item it shall be understood that said service is responsible for determining the requirements of all Arms and Services.

(3) Provision of funds (abbr. funds). This function involves the preparation of estimates, defense of estimates, and custody of funds.

(4) Purchase (abbr. pur.). This function consists of buying a given item or class of items or manufacturing such items in government owned establishments under the jurisdiction of a supply service, and includes final acceptance.

(5) Inspection (abbr. insp.). This function consists of making the inspections necessary for final acceptance of any item from the contractor.

(b) Interbranch and interdepartmental procurement. The term "interbranch procurement" refers to the procurement of items by one supply service for another supply service. The term "interdepartmental procurement" refers to the purchase of items by one department or agency of the government from another department or agency thereof.

INTERBRANCH PROCUREMENT

§ 81.603 Authority of Procurement Assignment Board. The Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Services of Supply, is authorized to assign responsibility for all functions of procurement enumerated in § 81.602(a) in regard to any item or class of items subject to the following limitation: Prior to the assignment by the Procurement Assignment Board of the "specification" function the Board will obtain the concurrence of the Resources and Production Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, and prior to the assignment of the "provision of funds" function the Board will obtain the concurrence of the Budget Officer for the War Department. The Director of the Resources and Production Division and the Budget Officer will each designate a representative to participtate in meetings of the Procurement Assignment Board. With respect to a given item or class of items all functions may be assigned to one supply service or apportioned among different supply services. Unless and until action is taken by the Procurement Assignment Board the responsibility for the performance of the functions enumerated in § 81.602(a) in respect to an item or class of items will remain with the supply service or supply services exercising such responsibility.

(a) Army Air Forces. When action by the Board is to be taken in regard to an item in which the Army Air Forces have a substantial interest, it will be understood that the Army Air Forces will be given an opportunity to be heard on the matter, and that if the Army Air Forces disagree with any action proposed to be taken by the Procurement Assignment Board, an effort will be made by the Board to reconcile the disagreement by a conference with a representative designated by the Commanding General, Army Air Forces; and that in the event a satisfactory agreement cannot be reached in this manner, the Board and the representative of the Army Air Forces will jointly prepare a brief setting forth their respective views on the matter, which brief will be submitted to the Under Secretary of War, who will make the final decision.

(b) Purchase. Purchase of an item shall be made by the service assigned such responsibility, except in a given transaction when:

(1) The item is required within a brief period of time and in the judgment of the service requiring the item cannot be provided in such time by the service having responsibility for purchasing the item, or

(2) The service having purchase responsibility has, by the issuance of general instructions or by consent granted with respect to the specific transaction, indicated its acquiescence. In the event that any purchase made pursuant to subparagraph (1) above involves an expenditure in excess of $5,000, a prompt report of the transaction will be made to the chief of the supply service having responsibility for the purchase of the item and a copy of such report will be sent to the Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

(c) Instructions. All instructions by Services of Supply, Staff Divisions thereof, or Army Air Forces to be issued in War Department or Services of Supply publications concerning:

(1) Transfer of any of the functions of procurement from one supply service to another or to or from the Army Air Forces, or

(2) Assumption of any of the functions of procurement by a supply service or the Army Air Forces; shall be submitted for concurrence and clearance to the Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Services of Supply, before publication.

(d) Assignment by classes. Insofar as practicable, the Procurement Assignment Board, in assigning responsibility for procurement of all items and groups of items will classify items according to the Federal Standard Stock Catalog classes for Storage and Issue. The determinations of the Board will be published in § 81 605.

(e) Outstanding orders. (1) When action by the Board centralizes the responsibity for the purchase of a given item or class of items in a supply service, any other supply service having such an item or class of items on order will compile and transmit to the service assigned such responsibility a list of all outstanding orders for such items. These lists will indicate the following: (i) number and adequate description of items including specifications and applicable funds; (ii) name and address of supplier; (iii) unit price; (iv) delivery dates; (v) status of deliveries, to be supplemented monthly; (vi) contract or purchase order symbol; and (vii) partial payments or advance payments already made. If in the opinion of the supply service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned, diversion of the items on order is necessary, copies of all contracts and purchase orders covering these items will also be supplied by the other supply services upon request by the service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned.

(2) In case of diversion of items:

(i) The service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned will be the sole agency to issue instructions regarding shipping, change orders, renegotiation and cancellation to the contracting officer administering the contract; and

(ii) The service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned may request the contracting officer to issue a change order modifying the shipping instructions and changing the allotment number from the one originally used by the supply service which entered into the contract to an appropriate allotment number furnished by the supply service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned. In the event that advance or partial payments have been made by the contracting service on items subsequently diverted, the service receiving the items will reimburse the contracting service for such payments.

(f) Procedure. (1) All supply services requiring an item for which determination of requirements and provisions of funds therefor has been assigned to another service, will assist the responsible supply service by furnishing to it statements of their requirements at such times as may be called for by the responsible supply service.

(2) The supply service or services having responsibility for determination of requirements will forward requisitions for requirements and allotment of applicable funds to the supply service having responsibility for purchase at such times and for such periods as may be specified by the latter.

(3) Emergency requirements will be forwarded by the most expeditious method available through the service responsible for the determination of requirements to the service responsible for purchase and will be confirmed by a formal requisition.

(4) Each requisition will contain a certificate of availability of funds and citation of the applicable allotment number.

§ 81.604 Previous actions of the Procurement Assignment Board. The present practice of the Procurement Assignment Board of assigning responsibility for items and groups of items in accordance with the procedure outlined in § 81.603 (d) represents a departure from its previous practice. Previously the Board assigned "procurement responsibility" and "purchase responsibility". The assignments of procurement responsibility and purchase responsibility made by the Board with respect to a large number of items are indicated in Appendix I[2] to this Procurement Regulation No. 6. There are contained on the first page of that appendix definitions of the terms "procurement responsibility" and "purchase responsibility". It is contemplated that in the near future assignments of the items listed in that appendix will be made in accordance with the procedure outlined in § 81.603 (d). In the meantime, however, it is to be understood that the past actions of the Board in making the assignments of procurement responsibility and purchase responsibility, as reflected in Appendix I,[2] are not to be regarded as rescinded. Accordingly, the appendix should be retained until further notice.

The subparagraphs under § 81.605 (a) do not run consecutively for the reason that each of these subparagraphs contains an assignment of one of the Federal Standard Stock Catalog Classes. Thus subparagraph (7) will contain the assignment made by the Procurement Assignment Board of the items included in Federal Standard Stock Catalog Class 7 and subparagraph (9) will contain the Assignment made by the Board of the items contained in Federal Standard Stock Catalog Class 9. As all ninety-three classes contained in the Federal Standard Stock Catalog Classification have not as yet been assigned, subparagraphs have been reserved for such assignments.

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING CLEARANCE AND APPROVAL OF FACILITIES EXPANSIONS

Sections 81.1008 to 81.1013, inclusive, are rescinded and the following §§ 81.1008 to 81.1015 are substituted therefor:

§ 81.1008 Submission of projects. (a) The chief of the supply service concerned will submit to the Resources and Production Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, as provided in § 81.1009 every proposed facilities expansion involving either

(1) New construction, regardless of amount;

(2) The addition of machinery or equipment where Expediting Production Funds are required, or

(3) The addition, under other funds, of machinery or equipment, the estimated cost of which exceeds $100,000.

(b) When new facilities are first being considered, the initiating office will contact the Facilities Utilization Division of the Facilities Bureau, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., to ascertain the availability of existing facilities suitable for the required production.

§ 81.1009 Approval of projects and release of Expediting Production Funds. (a) Applications for approval of any proposed facilities expansion of the type described in § 81.1008, and for release of Expediting Production Funds, where such funds are required, will be made to the Resources and Production Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, except as provided for the Air Forces in § 81.1010 (c). Such applications will supply the following information in triplicate:

(1) Name of the project.

(2) Name and address of proposed operator.

(3) Location of project with map showing location.

(4) Product and by-products to be produced with maximum capacity of the proposed facility for each.

(5) Estimated costs:

(i) Land ------ acres. $----

(ii) Purchase of existing plant. $----

(iii) Construction. $----

(iv) Machine tools. $----

(v) Other machinery & equipment. $----

(vi) Government overhead & miscellaneous (give breakdown). $----

(vii) Total. $----

(viii) Costs, other than for machine tools. $----

(6) Method of financing. If use of Expediting Production Funds is required, make a request for a specific amount or state that such a request will be submitted separately, stating, also how the remainder of cost is to be financed.

(7) Physical data:

(i) Description of proposed construction and of site. (Include number of square feet of productive and non-productive floor space.)

(ii) Estimated critical materials:

(b) Copper ------ pounds.

(c) Aluminum ------ pounds.

(iii) Estimated date of initial operation.

(iv) Estimated date of completion of project.

(v) Estimated date of full operation.

(8) General statement of raw materials required for operation and the source of supply.

(9) Estimated labor requirements for operation (include estimated percentage of female labor):

(i) Supervisory and administrative.

(ii) Skilled.

(iii) Semi-skilled.

(iv) Unskilled.

(v) Total.

(vi) Total supervisory, administrative and skilled labor required for initial operation.

(10) Power:

(i) Expected maximum demand in kilowatts.

(ii) Availability of adequate power locally.

(iii) Source of power supply.

(11) Transportation:

(i) Estimated transportation requirements.

(ii) Availability of adequate main line rail facilities.

(iii) Availability of adequate improved highway facilities to the site.

(12) Water:

(i) Expected water requirements in gallons per day.

(ii) Availability of adequate supply of water.

(iii) Source of supply.

(13) Fuel:

(i) Type of fuel.

(ii) Source of supply of fuel.

(14) Sewage disposal requirements and proposed method of handling.

(15) (i) Estimated number of units and amount of new housing required.

(ii) Are all necessary public utilities available and are they adequate for the new housing required? If not, explain, methods proposed for providing them.

(16) As available, summarized data on site selection as reported by the supply service charged with responsibility for the project.

(17) Reasons which caused the recommended site to be selected against alternate sites.

(18) Affirmative opinion with respect to each of the following points as they apply to the proposed facility (regardless of above data):

(i) It is essential for the war effort.

(ii) Postponement of construction would be detrimental to the war effort.

(iii) It is not practicable to rent or convert existing facilities for the purpose.

(iv) The construction will not result in duplication or unnecessary expansion of existing plants or facilities now under construction or about to be constructed.

(v) All possible economies have been made in the project, resulting in deletion of all non-essential items and parts.

(vi) The structure of the project has been designed of the simplest type, just sufficient to meet the minimum requirements.

(vii) The answers to the following questions relating to conditions at the proposed site are all to be affirmative to the extent that they are pertinent:

(a) Are there sufficient labor and materials available to build it?

(b) Will adequate public utilities be available without costly extensions?

(c) Will transportation be available to serve it?

(d) Will labor be available to man it? (Are housing and other community facilities adequate?)

(e) Will machine tools and other equipment be available to equip it?

(f) Will raw materials be available to operate it?

(g) Can the manufactured product be used at once or stored until needed?

(b) Where it is deemed essential, in the interest of expedition, to file any application before the complete data required above is available, the missing information will be promptly supplied in a second letter following the original application.

(c) Except for those projects of the Army Air Forces which, under § 81.1010, must be approved by the War Production Board, all applications by the Army Air Forces or by the supply services must be approved by the Director of Procurement, Headquarters, Services of Supply.

§ 81.1010 War Production Board clearance. Except as provided in § 81.1011, each proposed facilities expansion with costs (exclusive of costs of machine tools) in excess of $100,000 must be approved by the War Production Board. Where the costs (exclusive of costs of machine tools) are between $100,000 and $500,000, the approval will be by the Facility Review Committee, and where the costs (exclusive of costs of machine tools) are over $500,000, the approval will be by the Facility Clearance Board.

(a) Definition of machine tool. A machine tool is any machine for shaping and forming metal by removing excess metal in chips with cutting tools, abrasive wheels, buffing wheels, lapping wheels, hones, abrasive belts, and forming by bending, drawing, pressing, shearing, punching, forging, riveting, planishing and extruding. The costs of machine tools, for the purpose of § 81.1010, shall include all costs necessary to deliver and place the machine in its proper location in the plant, to construct any special foundations required therefor and to connect to necessary utilities within twenty (20) feet.

(b) Facility Clearance Board or Facility Review Committee. When a project of a supply service has received the approval of the Director of Procurement, the Resources and Production Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, will submit one copy of the application, received under § 81.1009, to the Facility Clearance Board or Facility Review Committee (whichever has jurisdiction) for approval and will act as the liaison for the supply service in obtaining action. The Facility Clearance Board or the Facility Review Committee will notify the interested supply service directly of action taken, sending a copy of the notification to the Resources and Production Division.

(c) Projects of Materiel Command, Army Air Forces. In the case of projects of the Materiel Command, Army Air Forces, which require approval by the War Production Board, the Materiel Command will address and submit an original of the application, containing the information specified in § 81.1009, directly to the Facility Clearance Board or the Facility Review Committee (whichever has jurisdiction), and will send the remaining two originals of such application to the Resources and Production Division for its information. The Facility Clearance Board or the Facility Review Committee will notify the Materiel Command directly of action taken, sending a copy of the notification to the Resources and Production Division.

§ 81.1011 Increased costs only. Where the application is made only for the purpose of covering an increase in cost due to an initial low estimate and does not involve a change in scope of project or in production output, approval of the War Production Board is not required, regardless of amount. All such applications of the supply services will be made to and be subject to the approval of the Resources and Production Division, which will notify the War Production Board of the increased cost.

§ 81.1012 Expediting Production Funds. When a project requires release of Expediting Production Funds, application therefor shall be made to the Resources and Production Division in the application for approval of the project, or in a separate application, in either case stating the amount of Expediting Production Funds required and the manner in which any remaining cost is to be financed. When a project for which Expediting Production Funds are requested has received approvals herein required to be given by the Resources and Production Division, the War Production Board, or both, Resources and Production Division will submit the project, with all supporting information, to the Under Secretary of War for approval and release of Expediting Production Funds.

§ 81.1013 Notification of approvals. In all cases involving approval by the Resources and Production Division or release of Expediting Production Funds, the Resources and Production Division will advise the interested supply service in writing when the project has received all necessary approvals.

§ 81.1014 Obtaining the letter of commitment in connection with Defense Plant Corporation lease agreements. Where the proposed expansion is to be financed through a Defense Plant Corporation lease agreement, the letter of commitment from the War Department to the Defense Plant Corporation will be submitted to the Under Secretary of War. Such submission will be through the Special Legal and Liaison Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, and will be accompanied by a brief statement of the nature, location, estimated cost and productive capacity of the project, together with a statement that the project is essential and that the estimated cost thereof is believed reasonable.

§ 81.1015 Approval of contracts required in special cases. All emergency plant facilities contracts, all special facilities contracts and all other agreements or leases for providing facilities to a contractor, as well as all contracts required to be submitted under § 81.1007, will be submitted to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, for approval.

PROCESSING APPLICATIONS FOR NECESSITY CERTIFICATES IN CONNECTION WITH FACILITIES EXPANSIONS

Sections 81.1014 to 81.1017, inclusive, are redesignated §§ 81.1016 to 81.1019, respectively, as follows:

§ 81.1016 Information to be submitted in application. * * *

§ 81.1017 Place of filing applications. * * *

§ 81.1018 Procedure for processing applications. * * *

This contract is authorized by the following laws:

GOVERNMENT-OWNED EQUIPMENT RENTAL AGREEMENT

This agreement, entered into this ------ day of ---------- 194-- by the United States of America (hereinafter called the Government), represented by the Contracting Officer executing this contract, and ---------- [1] a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ---------- [1] a joint venture consisting of ---------- [1] a partnership consisting of ---------- [1] an individual trading as ---------- of the City of ---------- in the State of ---------- (hereinafter called the Lessee), witnesseth that;

[2] Whereas, the Lessee has entered into Contract No. W---------- or may enter into a contract (hereinafter, in either event, called the principal contract) with the Government to construct for the Government ---------- at or near ---------- (hereinafter referred to as the project); and

[2] Whereas, the Lessee has entered into Subcontract No. - ---------- to Contract No. W--------, such subcontract hereinafter, for the purposes of this Agreement, being referred to as the "principal contract", to construct ---------- at or near ---------- (hereinafter referred to as the project); and

Whereas, the Government owns certain equipment as set forth in Schedule A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, located at ----------; and

Whereas, the equipment is not now required by the Government for use on other projects within ---------- and the Lessee desires to lease the same; and

Whereas, the leasing of the equipment to expedite performance of the principal contract by the Lessee is deemed necessary by the War Department to facilitate the prosecution of the war; and

Whereas, the Secretary of War has authorized the execution of this lease on behalf of the United States;

Now, therefore, the parties hereto do mutually agree as follows:

SECTION 1. The Government hereby leases to the Lessee the equipment listed in Schedule A, attached hereto and made a part hereof, which equipment the Lessee shall use in the performance of the principal contract at the project. This equipment is the property of the Government and is now located at ---------- Schedule A may be supplemented from time to time whenever equipment is added to or withdrawn from the scope of this lease. Each such supplement shall be signed on behalf of the Lessee and the Government.

SEC. 2. Upon notification by the Contracting Officer that the equipment is ready for delivery, the Lessee agrees to receive the same without delay at the present location thereof, in its present condition, as is, without any warranty, express or implied, on the part of the Government as to condition or serviceability.

SEC. 3. The term of this lease shall begin on ---------- and shall end upon the return of the equipment to the Government at ---------- or at such other place as the Contracting Officer may designate, but in no event to exceed the time necessary to complete the Lessee's principal contract.

SEC. 4. This lease may be terminated by the Government by giving ---------- days' written notice at any time after ---------- days from the date of this lease.

SEC. 5. The Lessee agrees that he will pay rental at the rate and at the times prescribed in Schedule A, and that such rental may be deducted from the payments due or to become due to the Lessee under the terms of the principal contract. Such deductions will be made monthly on or about the 10th of the month for the previous calendar month if practicable. The rental period shall begin on the date of commencement of the term of this lease and shall cease on the termination of the lease, as defined in section 3.

[1] SEC. 5. The rental period shall begin on the date of commencement of the term of this lease and shall cease on the termination of this lease, as defined in section 3 hereof. The Lessee shall pay rental at the rate prescribed on Schedule A. The rental accrued at the end of any calendar month shall be paid to the Government on or before the 10th day of the following month.

SEC. 6. Title to the equipment leased hereunder is and shall remain in the Government.

SEC. 7. The Lessee at its own expense will maintain the equipment in good repair and make all necessary replacements during the term of this lease. Any replacement of parts shall be by parts recommended by the manufacturer of the equipment or approved by the Contracting Officer. All fuel and lubricants will be furnished by the Lessee. The obligations under this section shall continue until the equipment shall have been delivered to a common carrier for return to the Government.

SEC. 8. The Lessee shall not remove any of the equipment from the project without the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative. The Lessee shall not pledge, assign, transfer, sublet or part with the possession of any of the equipment in any manner to any third party either directly or indirectly, except that this provision shall not preclude the Lessee from permitting the use of the equipment by a third party with the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative; and the Lessee shall not do or suffer anything whereby any of the equipment shall or may be seized, taken in execution, attached, removed, destroyed or injured.

SEC. 9. The Lessee shall not, without the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, use any of the equipment for any purpose other than performance of the principal contract at the project, in furtherance of the national war effort. Upon failure of the Lessee to comply with this provision, the Contracting Officer may terminate this lease upon twenty-four hours' notice communicated to the Lessee or its agent at its address as set forth in Section 21, and upon such termination the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative may require the immediate return of the equipment.

SEC. 10. The equipment shall be returned to the Government upon the expiration or termination of this lease in as good condition as when delivered to Lessee, reasonable wear and tear excepted. If in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative the Lessee shall have failed to comply with the requirements of the lease in this respect, the Lessee shall pay to the Government as damages the amount necessary to place the equipment in as good condition as when delivered to Lessee, reasonable wear and tear excepted, or if such equipment can not be placed in such condition, Lessee shall pay an amount equivalent to the value of such equipment as stipulated in Schedule A, less the sum of the amount determined by the Contracting Officer to represent reasonable wear and tear, and the scrap value of such equipment.

SEC. 11. Between the time of delivery of the equipment to the Lessee at---------- and the time of its return to the Government at----------or at such other place as the Contracting Officer may designate pursuant to Sections 3 and 12, the Lessee shall be solely responsible for any loss or destruction of the equipment, irrespective of whether such loss or destruction results from the failure of the Lessee to exercise reasonable care. Such responsibility shall be measured by the value of the equipment as set forth in Schedule A, less the amount determined by the Contracting Officer to represent reasonable wear and tear for the period during which such equipment was used. The Lessee shall take all necessary steps to protect the interest of the Government in the equipment. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Contracting Officer may require, and in that event the Lessee shall, at its own expense, take specific measures, including but not limited to the procurement of insurance, as directed by the Contracting Officer, to protect the interests of the Government.[2]

SEC. 12. The Lessee agrees to reimburse the Government immediately upon presentation of a statement thereof, for all packing and handling costs, and further agrees to pay all transportation charges on the equipment from----------to the job site of the project at----------. Upon expiration or termination of this lease, the Lessee agrees to pay all packing, handling, and transportation charges necessary for the return of the equipment to the Government at----------, or at such other place as the Contracting Officer may designate; but the Lessee's responsibility for return transportation charges shall not exceed the amount required to return the equipment to ----------.

SEC. 13. The equipment is rented without operators. Any operator deemed incompetent by the Contracting Officer shall be removed from the equipment.

SEC. 14. The Contracting Officer shall furnish to the Lessee without charge, upon request, copies of such drawings, specifications, instructions, or the like as the Lessee may require for the operation or repair of the equipment and as may be on file at ---------- This is for the sole purpose of enabling the Lessee to maintain the equipment in serviceable condition, and does not constitute a license or authority initially to manufacture, use or sell any articles covered by unexpired United States Letters Patent as shown or described in such copies.

SEC. 15. The Government shall not be responsible for damages to property of the Lessee or property of others, or for personal injuries to the Lessee's officers, agents, servants or employees, or to other persons, arising from or incident to the use of the equipment herein leased, and the Lessee shall save the Government harmless from any and all such claims; provided, that nothing contained in this Section 15 shall be deemed to affect any liability of the Government to its own employees.

SEC. 16. At all times the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall have access to the job site whereon any of the equipment is situated, for the purpose of inspecting or inventorying the same, or for the purpose of removing the same in the event of the termination of this lease.

SEC. 18. (Insert [¶ 323] (§ 81.323)).

SEC. 19. (Insert [¶ 326] (§ 81.326) omitting last sentence).

SEC. 20. This agreement shall be subject to the written approval of ---------- and shall not be binding until so approved.

SCHEDULE A—RATES OF RENTAL

ARTICLE A. Daily basis.

For any piece of equipment leased by the day and:

(1) Which is not in actual use for more than 8 hours in one daily period, the rental price shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of the applicable rate "per day" in the Table of Rates set forth in this Schedule;

(2) Which is in actual use for more than 8 hours but not more than 16 hours during one daily period, the additional rental price for such additional use shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of 50% of such applicable rate "per day";

(3) Which is in actual use for more than 16 hours during one daily period, the additional rental price for the total additional use over 8 hours shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of 100% of such applicable rate "per day".

ART. B. Weekly basis.

For any piece of equipment leased by the week and:

(1) Which is not in actual use for more than 48 hours during one weekly period, the rental price shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of the applicable rate "per week" in the Table of Rates set forth in this Schedule;

(2) Which is in actual use for more than 48 hours but not more than 96 hours during one weekly period, the additional rental price for such additional use shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of 50% of such applicable rate "per week";

(3) Which is in actual use for more than 96 hours during one weekly period, the additional rental price for the total additional use over 48 hours shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of 100% of such applicable rate "per week";

(4) Which remains in the possession of the Lessee for a part of a weekly period beyond one or more full weekly periods, the rental price for such part of the weekly period shall be the higher of the following: (i) 1 7 of the applicable rate "per week" for each daily period, or part thereof, of possession or (ii) 1 48th of the applicable rate "per week" for each hour, or part thereof, of actual use: Provided, That if such equipment is in actual use during such part of a weekly period for more than 48 hours, the rental price for such part of a weekly period shall be the rental price determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this Article, together with subparagraphs (2) or (3), whichever may be applicable.

ART. C. Monthly basis.

For any piece of equipment leased by the month and:

(1) Which is not in actual use for more than 240 hours during one monthly period, the rental price shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of the applicable rate "per month" in the Tables of Rates set forth in this Schedule;

(2) Which is in actual use for more than 240 hours during one monthly period, the rental price for each additional hour, or part thereof, of actual use shall be the rental price calculated upon the basis of 1 480th of such applicable rate "per month";

(3) Which remains in the possession of the Lessee for a part of a monthly period beyond one or more full monthly periods, the rental price for such equipment for such part of the monthly period shall be the higher of the following: (i) 1 30th of the applicable rate "per month" for each daily period, or part thereof, of possession or (ii) 1 240th of the applicable rate "per month" for each hour, or part thereof, of actual use: Provided, That if such equipment is in actual use during such part of a monthly period for more than 240 hours, the rental shall be the rental price determined in accordance with subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this Article.

ART. D. Hourly or other basis.

For any piece of equipment leased on a "per hour" or other basis, the rental price shall be:

(1) Determined in accordance with provisions of Article A, if such equipment is in the Lessee's possession for not more than 4 consecutive daily periods;

(2) Determined in accordance with the provisions of Article B, if such equipment is in the Lessee's possession for more than 4 consecutive daily periods and not more than 3 consecutive weekly periods;

(3) Determined in accordance with the provisions of Article C, if such equipment is in the Lessee's possession for more than 3 consecutive weekly periods;

ART. E. Rates most favorable to lessee.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Schedule, if any piece of equipment is leased by the day and the rental price thereof calculated upon a daily basis exceeds the rental price calculated upon a weekly basis or upon a monthly basis, or if such equipment is leased by the week and the rental price thereof calculated upon a weekly basis exceeds the rental price calculated upon a monthly basis, the price calculated upon the basis most favorable to the Lessee. This Article shall apply even where the periods of rental are not consecutive, if the Lessee in such case is willing to rent such equipment continuously and the interval between the determination of the initial period of rental and the commencement of the subsequent period of rental to the same Lessee does not exceed thirty days. In such case, the rental price shall be calculated as if the rental price periods were consecutive.

TABLE OF RATES

Quantity	Item. Complete description, capacity and identifying Nos.	Total purchase cost or fair value	Rental rates
			Per day	Per week	Per month

[1] The first form of section 5 will be used when the equipment rental agreement is between the Government and a lump sum or unit price prime contractor; the second form when the agreement is with a lump sum or unit price subcontractor.

[2] Note that the provisions of this standard form of contract deviate from the requirements of § 81.333. Such deviation has been specifically authorized.

Appendix I (7 F.R. 9291) is amended as follows:

APPENDIX I

PROCUREMENT ASSIGNMENT BOARD, HEADQUARTERS, SERVICES OF SUPPLY, ASSIGNMENT OF PROCUREMENT RESPONSIBILITY AND PURCHASE RESPONSIBILITY

* * * * *

2. (a) The term "procurement responsibility" as used in this Appendix means the responsibility assigned to a designated service or services to make all necessary arrangements short of actual purchase for the procurement of a given item or class of items. This responsibility includes procurement planning, preparation of estimates, defense of such estimates and custody of funds.

(b) The term "purchase responsibility," as used in this Appendix, means the responsibility assigned to a designated service to buy, inspect and accept from industry or produce in Government-owned establishments under such service, a given item, component part thereof, or class of items.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5247]

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

INCOME TAX

Amending Regulations 103 to conform to section 135 of the Revenue Act of 1942, relating to returns for a period of less than twelve months.

In order to conform Regulations 103 (Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.) to section 135 of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.47-1 the following:

SEC. 135. RETURNS FOR A PERIOD OF LESS THAN TWELVE MONTHS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

(a) Income placed on an annual basis. Section 47 (c) is amended to read as follows:

"(c) Income placed on annual basis.—

"(1) General rule. If a separate return is made under subsection (a) on account of a change in the accounting period, the net income, computed on the basis of the period for which separate return is made (referred to in this subsection as 'the short period'), shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by twelve, and dividing by the number of months in the short period. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of months in the short period is of twelve months.

"(2) Exception. If the taxpayer establishes the amount of his net income for the period of twelve months beginning with the first day of the short period, computed as if such twelve-month period were a taxable year, under the law applicable to such year, then the tax for the short period shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed on the net income for such twelve-month period as the net income computed on the basis of the short period is of the net income for the twelve-month period. The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file his return without the application of this paragraph. If the taxpayer (other than a corporation) was not in existence at the end of the twelve-month period, or if the taxpayer is a corporation and has disposed of substantially all its assets prior to the end of such twelve-month period, then in lieu of the net income for such twelve-month period there shall be used for the purposes of this paragraph the net income for the twelve-month period ending with the last day of the short period. The tax computed under this paragraph shall in no case be less than the tax computed on the net income for the short period without placing such net income on an annual basis. The benefits of this paragraph shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer, at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require (but not after the time prescribed for the filing of the return for the first taxable year which ends on or after twelve months after the beginning of the short period), makes application therefor in accordance with such regulations. Such application, in case the return was filed without regard to this paragraph, shall be considered a claim for credit or refund with respect to the amount by which the tax is reduced under this paragraph. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary for the application of this paragraph."

(c) Returns where taxpayer not in existence for twelve months. Section 47 is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(g) Returns where taxpayer not in existence for twelve months. In the case of a taxpayer not in existence during the whole of an annual accounting period ending on the last day of a month, or, if the taxpayer has no such annual accounting period or does not keep books, during the whole of a calendar year, the return shall be made for the fractional part of the year during which the taxpayer was in existence."

* * * * *

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 2. Section 19.47-1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5165, approved August 13, 1942, is further amended by striking out that part of such section which follows the first paragraph thereof and by inserting at the end of such paragraph the following sentences and paragraph:

A return is required in the case of every taxable year which is a period of less than 12 months if the gross income for such taxable year is greater than the personal exemption for such taxable year as so reduced. In the case of a return by a corporation for a fractional part of a year beginning on or after January 1, 1942, the credit provided by section 26 (e) for the income of the corporation subject to excess profits tax is considered an amount of which the excess profits tax of the corporation for such period is 90 percent. For the computation of such credit in case the net income of the corporation is placed on an annual basis, see § 19.47-2.

If a taxpayer dies during a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1942, the return for such taxable year is a return for 12 months and not for a fractional part of a year. If a taxpayer dies during a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1942, the return shall be made only for the fractional part of the year during which the taxpayer was alive.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately after § 19.47-1 the following new section:

§ 19.47-2 Returns for period of less than 12 months on account of a change in accounting period—(a) Net income placed on annual basis and tax computed thereon. In the case of a return for a period of less than 12 months on account of a change in accounting period, section 47 (c) provides that the net income computed on the return for such short period (except in the case of such a return by a corporation for a short period beginning before January 1, 1942) shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by 12 and dividing by the number of months in the short period. The tax is such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of months in the period is of 12 months. If, in the case of a corporation, such a short period begins before January 1, 1942, the net income shall not be placed on an annual basis under section 47 (c), and the tax shall not be computed under such section. The net income in such a case shall be computed on the basis of the period for which return is made, and the tax shall be the tax computed thereon.

In placing on an annual basis the net income of a corporation for a short period which begins on or after January 1, 1942, the credit for dividends received is placed on an annual basis to correspond to the amount of dividends received included in the net income, which amount is placed on an annual basis when such net income is placed on an annual basis. Similarly, the credit for interest on United States obligations should reflect the amount of such interest as increased when such amount is placed on an annual basis as part of the net income which is placed on an annual basis. If the corporation computes its excess profits tax under section 711 (a) (3) (A), the credit provided in section 26 (e) for the adjusted excess profits net income of the corporation is determined with the excess profits net income placed on an annual basis under such section 711 (a) (3) (A). The credit for the adjusted excess profits net income so determined on an annual basis is applied against the net income after such net income has been placed on an annual basis. If the corporation computes its excess profits tax under section 711 (a) (3) (B), the credit provided in section 26 (e) is computed as an amount of which the tax of the corporation for the short period under section 711 (a) (3) (B) is 90 percent. This adjusted excess profits net income is placed on an annual basis by multiplying by 12 and dividing by the number of months in the short period, and the credit for the adjusted excess profits net income so determined on an annual basis is applied against the net income after such net income has been placed on an annual basis.

The following examples illustrate the application of this section:

Example (1). A citizen of the United States made a return for a 10-month period ended October 31, 1942, on account of a change in accounting period. His net income including his earned net income for such 10-month period was $10,000 and his earned net income for such period was $4,000. He was entitled to a personal exemption of $1,200 but not to a credit for dependents. His tax for the period is $2,412.67, computed as follows:

Net income for 10-month period		$10,000.00
Multiplied by 12		120,000.00
Net income on annual basis ($120,000 − 10)		12,000.00
Less: Personal exemption		1,200.00
Surtax net income		10,800.00
Earned net income for 10-month period	$4,000.00
Multiplied by 12	48,000.00
Earned net income on annual basis ($48,000 ÷ 10)	4,800.00
Subtracting: Earned income credit (10% of $4,800)		$480.00
Net income subject to normal tax		10,320.00
Normal tax (6% of $10,320)		619.20
Surtax on $10,800		2,276.00
Total tax on annual basis		2,895.20
Amount of tax for period ($2,895.20 × 10/12)		2,412.67

Example (2). The X Corporation made a return for the 8-month period ended August 31, 1942 on account of a change in accounting period. The net income of the corporation for such 8-month period was $72,000, including $4,000 interest on obligations of the United States described in section 26 (a) and $12,000 in dividends from a domestic corporation, for which the credit provided in section 26 (b) is applicable. The adjusted excess profits net income of the corporation for such period was $27,375, computed after the excess profits net income for such period was placed on an annual basis under section 711 (a) (3) (A), and its excess profits tax computed under such section was $16,402.50 (243/365 × 90 percent of $27,375). The tax for the 8-month period is $16,460, computed as follows:

Net income for 8-month period		$72,000
Multiplied by 12		864,000
Net income on annual basis ($864,000 ÷ 8)		108,000
Less: Adjusted excess profits net income		27,375
Remainder		80,625
Dividends received, subject to the credit provided in section 26 (b)	$12,000
Multiplied by 12	144,000
Dividends received placed on annual basis ($144,000 ÷ 8)	18,000
Subtracting: Credit provided in section 26 (b) for dividends received (85% of $18,000)		15,300
Surtax net income		65,325
Interest on United States obligations subject to credit provided in section 26 (a)	$4,000
Multiplied by 12	48,000
Subtracting: Credit provided in section 26 (a) for interest placed on annual basis ($48,000 ÷ 8)		6,000
Normal tax net income		59,325
Normal tax on $59,325		14,238
Surtax on $65,325		10,452
Total tax on annual basis		24,690
Amount of tax for period ($24,690 × 8/12)		16,460

If it had been assumed that the corporation had applied for the benefits of section 711 (a) (3) (B), and that the excess profits tax of the corporation was reduced under that section to $11,250, then in the above computations the credit for the adjusted excess profits net income of the corporation, applied against the $108,000 net income (as placed on an annual basis), would not be $27,375, the amount computed upon the application of section 711 (a) (3) (A), but would be $18,750, the adjusted excess profits net income computed on the basis of the excess profits tax determined under section 711 (a) (3) (B) and placed on an annual basis. The computation is as follows:

Excess profits tax for short period	$11,250
Adjusted excess profits net income for short periods (amount of which excess profits tax is 90 percent, or 100/90 × $11,250)	12,500
Multiplied by twelve	150,000
Adjusted excess profits net income on annual basis ($150,000 ÷ 8)	18,750

(b) Tax for short period determined by annual income. If the taxpayer applies to the Commissioner in the manner provided in paragraph (c) of this section to have his tax computed under the provisions of section 47 (c) (2), and if the taxpayer establishes the amount of his net income for the 12-month period hereinafter described, then section 47 (c) (2) provides that the tax for the short period shall be reduced to an amount which is such part of the tax computed on the basis of the net income which the taxpayer has established for the 12-month period as the net income for the short period is of the net income for the 12-month period. If such amount, however, is greater than the tax computed under paragraph (a) of this section, the tax for the short period is the tax computed under paragraph (a). The 12-month period referred to above is the 12-month period beginning with the first day of the short period, except that if the taxpayer (other than a corporation) is not in existence at the end of such 12-month period, or if the taxpayer is a corporation which has distributed substantially all its assets prior to the end of such 12-month period, then it is the 12-month period ending with the last day of the short period. If a corporation ceases business and distributes so much of the assets used in its business that it cannot resume its customary operations with the remaining assets, it will be considered to have distributed substantially all of its assets.

In computing the tax under section 47 (c) (2), the net income for the short period is not placed on an annual basis. The net income for the 12-month period is computed under the same provisions of law as are applicable to the short period, and is computed as if the 12-month period were an actual accounting period of the taxpayer. All items which fall in such 12-month period must be included even if they are extraordinary in amount or of an unusual nature. If the taxpayer is a member of a partnership, there shall be included in computing his income for the 12-month period his share of the partnership income for taxable years of the partnership ending with or during such 12 month period, but no amount shall be included with respect to a taxable year of the partnership ending after such 12-month period. In the case of a corporation, the credit provided by section 26 (e) for the adjusted excess profits net income of the corporation is computed as an amount of which the excess profits tax imposed for such 12-month period is 90 percent. The excess profits tax imposed for such 12-month period is the excess profits tax for the short period plus, for any taxable year which includes only part of such 12-month period, such part of the excess profits tax for such taxable year as is allocable to the part of the 12-month period included in such taxable year is of the excess profits net income computed for the taxable year. However, if some other method of apportionment will more clearly reflect the portion of the excess profits tax which is attributable to the part of the 12-month period included in the taxable year, such other method shall be used.

If any other item partially applicable to such 12-month period can be determined only at the end of a taxable year which includes only part of the 12-month period, the taxpayer, subject to review by the Commissioner, shall apportion such item to the 12-month period in such manner as will most clearly reflect the income for the 12-month period. In the case of a taxpayer permitted or required to take inventories, the cost of goods sold during the part of the 12-month period included in the taxable year shall be considered, unless a more exact determination is available, as such part of the cost of goods sold during the entire taxable year as the gross receipts from sales for the part of the 12-month period included in the taxable year is of the gross receipts from sales for the entire taxable year. For example, the 12-month period of a corporation, engaged in the sale of merchandise, which has a short period from January 1, 1942 to September 30, 1942, is the calendar year 1942. The three-month period October 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942 is a part of the fiscal year ending September 30, 1943. The cost of goods sold during such three-month period is such part of the cost of goods sold during the entire fiscal year ending September 30, 1943 as the gross receipts from sales for such three-month period are of the gross receipts from sales for the entire fiscal year. The Commissioner may, in granting permission to a taxpayer to change its accounting period, require as a condition to granting the change that, if the taxpayer is to obtain the benefits of section 47 (c) (2), it shall take a closing inventory upon the last day of the 12-month period. Such closing inventory will be used only for the purposes of section 47 (c) (2), and the taxpayer will not be required to use such inventory in computing the net income for the taxable year in which such inventory is taken.

The tax for the short period may not be reduced under section 47 (c) (2) to an amount which is less than the tax for the short period computed on the basis of the net income for the short period without placing such net income on an annual basis. If the tax computed under section 47 (c) (2) by reference to the net income for a 12-month period is less than such amount, the tax may be reduced only to such amount. In computing the tax of a corporation for the short period without placing its net income on an annual basis, the adjusted excess profits net income of the corporation is, for the purpose of determining the credit under section 26 (e), an amount of which the excess profits tax of the corporation for the short period is 90 percent.

Example (1). The facts are the same as in example (1) in paragraph (a) of this section. In the period from November 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942, the taxpayer has $1,000 net income, all of which is earned income. The net income for the 12-month period from January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942, including the earned net income for such period, is, therefore, $11,000, of which $5,000 is earned income. The taxpayer files an application under the provisions of paragraph (c) for a reduction of his tax to an amount computed on the basis of his actual net income for the 12-month period from January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942. His tax is reduced to $2,292.73, computed as follows:

Net income for 12-month period, January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942	$11,000.00
Less: Personal exemption	1,200.00
Surtax net income	9,800.00
Less: Earned income credit (10% of $5,000)	500.00
Net income subject to normal tax	9,300.00
Normal tax (6% of $9,300)	558.00
Surtax on $9,800	1,964.00
Total tax on annual income	2,522.00
Net income for 10-month period, January 1, 1942, to October 31, 1942	10,000.00
Net income for 12-month period, January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942	11,000.00
Amount of tax for 10-month period $\left(\frac{$10,000}{$11,000} \times $2,522\right)$	2,292.73

The amount of tax that would be due if the income for the short period were not placed on an annual basis is $2,256, computed as follows:

Net income for 10-month period, January 1, 1942, to October 31, 1942	$10,000.00
Less: Personal exemption $\left(\frac{10}{12} \times $1,200\right)$	1,000.00
Surtax net income	9,000.00
Less: Earned income credit (10% of $4,000)	400.00
Net income subject to normal tax	8,600.00
Normal tax (6% of $8,600)	516.00
Surtax on $9,000	1,740.00
Total tax for period	2,256.00

Since the tax for the short period computed under section 47 (c) (2) by reference to the actual income for the 12-month period, or $2,292.73, is greater than the tax that would be due if the income for the short period were not placed on an annual basis, or $2,256.00, the tax for the short period is reduced to $2,292.73, the tax computed by reference to the income for the 12-month period.

Example (2). The facts are the same as in example (1) of this paragraph, except that during the period from November 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942, the taxpayer has no income, but has deductible business expenses of $1,000. His net income for the 12 month period from January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942, including his earned net income is, therefore, $9,000, of which $4,000 is earned income. The taxpayer files an application under paragraph (c) for a reduction of his tax under the provisions of section 47 (c) (2). The tax computed on the basis of the net income for the period from January 1, 1942, to October 31, 1942, without placing such net income on an annual basis is $2,256.00 (see example (1)). The tax computed under section 47 (c) (2) by reference to the actual net income for the 12-month period from January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942, is $2,062.22, computed as follows:

Net income for the 12-month period from January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942	$9,000.00
Less: Personal exemption	1,200.00
Surtax net income	7,800.00
Less: Earned income credit (10% of $4,000)	400.00
Net income subject to normal tax	7,400.00
Normal tax (6% of $7,400)	444.00
Surtax on $7,800	1,412.00
Total tax on annual income	1,856.00
Net income for 10-month period, January 1, 1942, to October 31, 1942	10,000.00
Net income for 12-month period, January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942	9,000.00
Amount of tax for 10-month period $\left(\frac{$9,000}{$10,000} \times $1,856\right)$	2,062.22

Since the tax computed on the basis of the net income for the short period without placing such net income on an annual basis, or $2,256.00, is greater than $2,062.22, the tax computed by reference to the actual net income for the 12-month period, the tax for the short period under section 47 (c) (2) is $2,256.00.

Example (3). The facts are the same as in example (2) in paragraph (a) of this section. The taxpayer applies to have its tax reduced under the provisions of section 47 (c) (2). During the four-month period from September 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, the X Corporation has $16,000 net income, including $3,000 dividends from a domestic corporation for which the credit provided in section 26 (b) is applicable and $1,000 interest on obligations of the United States described in section 26 (a), and its excess profits net income computed for such four-month period is $12,000. The net income for the 12-month period from January 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942 is, therefore, $88,000. For such 12-month period, the dividends from domestic corporations for which the credit provided in section 26 (b) is applicable amount to $15,000, and the interest on United States obligations described in section 26 (a) amounts to $5,000. The excess profits tax for the short period is $16,402.50. The excess profits tax for the taxable year from September 1, 1942 to August 31, 1943, which includes the last four months of the 12-month period, is $43,200, and the excess profits net income for such period is $96,000. The tax for the short period is reduced under section 47 (c) (2) to $15,489.61, computed as follows:

Excess profits tax for 8-month period January 1, 1942 to August 31, 1942	16,402.50
Excess profits tax for fiscal year September 1, 1942 to August 31, 1943	43,200.00
Excess profits net income for period September 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942	12,000.00
Excess profits net income for fiscal year September 1, 1942 to August 31, 1943	96,000.00
Portion of excess profits tax allocable to period September 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942 $\left(\frac{$12,000}{$96,000} \times $43,200\right)$	5,400.00
Excess profits tax imposed for 12-month period January 1, 1942, to December 31, 1942 ($16,402.50 + $5,400.00)	21,802.50
Subtracting: Adjusted excess profits net income for 12-month period January 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942 (amount of which tax for 12-month period is 90%, or $\frac{100}{90}$ x $21,802.50)	$24,225.00
Less: Dividends received credit provided by section 26 (b) (85% of $15,000)	12,750.00
Surtax net income	51,025.00
Less: Credit provided in section 26 (a) for interest on United States obligations	5,000.00
Normal tax net income	46,025.00
Normal tax on $46,025.00	10,767.75
Surtax on $51,025.00	8,164.00
Total tax on annual income	18,931.75
Net income for 8-month period January 1, 1942 to August 31, 1942	72,000.00
Net income for 12-month period January 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942	88,000.00
Amount of tax for 8-month period January 1, 1942 to August 31, 1942 $\frac{$72,000}{$88,000} \times $18,931.75$	15,489.61

The amount of tax that would be due if the income for the short period were not placed on an annual basis is $15,354.75, computed as follows:

Net income for 8-month period	$72,000.00
Excess profits tax for 8-month period	16,402.50
Subtracting: Adjusted excess profits net income (amount of which tax for period is 90%, or $\frac{100}{90} \times $16,402.50$)	18,225.00
Credit for dividends received (85% of $12,000)	10,200.00
	28,425.00
Surtax net income	43,575.00
Less: Credit for interest on United States obligations	4,000.00
Normal tax net income	39,575.00
Normal tax on $39,575.00	8,769.25
Surtax on $43,575.00	6,585.50
Total tax for period	15,354.75

Since the tax for the short period computed under section 47 (c) (2) by reference to the actual income for the 12-month period, or $15,489.61, is greater than the tax that would be due if the income for the short period were not placed on an annual basis, or $15,354.75, the tax for the short period is reduced to $15,489.61, the tax computed by reference to the income for the 12-month period.

(c) Application to compute tax under section 47 (c) (2). A taxpayer desiring the benefit of section 47 (c) (2) must file an application therefor. If at the time the return for the short period is filed the taxpayer is able to determine that the 12-month period ending with the close of the short period will be used in the computation under section 47 (c) (2), then the tax on the return for the short period may be determined under the provisions of section 47 (c) (2). In such a case, an income tax return form covering the 12-month period shall be attached to the return as a part thereof, and the return will then be considered the application for the benefits of section 47 (c) (2) required by that section. In all other cases, the taxpayer shall file its return and compute its tax as provided in paragraph (a), and the application for the benefits of section 47 (c) (2) shall be made in the form of a claim for credit or refund. The claim shall set forth the computation of the net income and the tax thereon for the 12-month period, and must be filed not later than the time prescribed for filing the return for the first taxable year ending with or after the twelfth month after the beginning of the short period. For example, the taxpayer changes its accounting period from the calendar year basis to the fiscal year basis ending September 30, and files a return for the period from January 1, 1942 to September 30, 1942. Its application for the benefits of section 47 (c) (2) must be filed not later than the time prescribed for filing its return for the first taxable year which ends on or after the last day of December, 1942, the 12th month after the beginning of the short period. In this case, the taxpayer must file its application not later than December 15, 1943, the time prescribed for filing the return for its fiscal year ending September 30, 1943. However, if it obtains an extension of time for filing the return for such fiscal year, it may file its application during the period of such extension. If the Commissioner determines that the taxpayer has established the amount of the net income for the 12-month period, any excess of the tax paid for the short period over the tax computed under section 47 (c) (2) will be credited or refunded to the taxpayer in the same manner as in the case of an overpayment.

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately after section 48, which section immediately follows § 19.47–2, the following:

(d) Short taxable year. The second sentence of section 48 (a) is amended to read as follows: "'Taxable year' means, in the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year under the provisions of this chapter or under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, the period for which such return is made."

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 5. Section 19.52–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5165, approved August 13, 1942, is further amended by changing the sixth sentence thereof to read as follows:

A corporation is not in existence after it ceases business and dissolves, retaining no assets, whether or not under State law it may thereafter be treated as continuing as a corporation for certain limited purposes connected with winding up its affairs such as for the purpose of suing and being sued. If the corporation has valuable claims for which it will bring suit during this period, it has retained assets, and it continues in existence. A corporation does not go out of existence if it is merely turned over to receivers or trustees who continue to operate it.

PAR. 6. Section 19.53–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5165, approved August 13, 1942, is further amended as follows:

A. By striking out the phrase "by a corporation" in the first sentence thereof.

B. By striking out the second and third sentences, and inserting in lieu thereof the following sentences:

The return by a taxpayer (other than a nonresident alien individual or foreign corporation) for a fractional part of a year beginning in 1942 and ending in that year by reason of the taxpayer going out of existence shall be filed on or before March 15, 1943. In all other cases, the return (other than a return by a nonresident alien individual or foreign corporation) for a fractional part of a year shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the third full calendar month following the close of the fractional part of a year, except that upon a showing by the taxpayer of unusual circumstances, the Commissioner may prescribe a later time for the filing of the return. In such a case, the time prescribed by the Commissioner shall not be later than the fifteenth day of the fifteenth month ending after the beginning of such fractional part of a year.

SEC. 101. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title I.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 8. Section 19.102–4, as amended by Treasury Decision 5086, approved October 10, 1941, is further amended by inserting at the end of the first paragraph thereof the following sentence:

In the case of a taxable year of less than 12 months on account of a change in the accounting period of the corporation, the corporate net income is computed on the basis of the period included in the taxable year, and is not placed on an annual basis under the provisions of section 47 (c).

PART 30—REGULATIONS UNDER THE EXCESS-PROFITS ACT OF 1940

EXCESS-PROFITS TAX

Regulations 109 amended to conform to Revenue Act of 1942 (77th Congress), section 202, relating to rate of excess-profits tax, section 203, relating to certain fiscal year taxpayers, section 204, relating to unused excess profits credit adjustment, section 205 (a), relating to excess profits tax in case of certain mutual insurance companies, section 205 (g) (1), relating to specific exemption of certain mutual insurance companies, section 222 (b), relating to deferment of payment of tax in case of abnormality, section 226, relating to exemption from tax of mining of certain strategic minerals, and section 229, relating to termination of Supplement B.

In order to conform Regulations 109 [Part 30, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1941 Sup.] to sections 202, 203, 204, 205 (a), 205 (g) (1), 222 (b), 226, and 229, of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 30.710–1 the following:

SEC. 202. RATE OF EXCESS-PROFITS TAX. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Section 710 (a) (1) (relating to rate of excess-profits tax) is amended to read as follows:

(1) General rule. There shall be levied, collected, and paid, for each taxable year, upon the adjusted excess-profits net income, as defined in subsection (b), of every corporation (except a corporation exempt under section 727) a tax equal to whichever of the following amounts is the lesser:

(A) 90 per centum of the adjusted excess-profits net income, or

(B) an amount which when added to the tax imposed for the taxable year under Chapter 1 (other than section 102) equals 80 per centum of the corporation surtax net income, computed under section 15 or Supplement G, as the case may be, but without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e) (relating to income subject to the tax imposed by this subchapter).

SEC. 229. TERMINATION OF SUPPLEMENT B. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Retroactive repeal of section 752.

* * * * *

(2) Section 710 (a) (2) (relating to application of highest bracket amount in computing tax) is repealed as of the date of enactment of the Second Revenue Act of 1940.

* * * * *

SEC. 203. CERTAIN FISCAL YEAR TAXPAYERS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Computation of tax for year ending in 1942. Section 710 (a) (relating to imposition of excess-profits tax) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(3) Taxable years beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942. In the case of a taxable year beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942, the tax shall be an amount equal to the sum of—

"(A) that portion of a tentative tax under this subchapter, computed without regard to section 203 of the Revenue Act of 1942, which the number of days in such taxable year before July 1, 1942, bears to the total number of days in such taxable year, plus

"(B) that portion of a tentative tax under this subchapter, computed as if the amendments made by sections 105 (c), 105 (d), 202, and 206 of the Revenue Act of 1942 were applicable to such taxable year, which the number of days in such taxable year after June 30, 1942, bears to the total number of days in such taxable year."

(b) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendment made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942.

SEC. 205. COMPUTATION OF EXCESS PROFITS AND INVESTED CAPITAL OF INSURANCE COMPANIES. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Section 710 (a) (relating to imposition of excess profits tax) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(4) Mutual insurance companies. In the case of a mutual insurance company other than life or marine, if the gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is over $75,000 but less than $125,000, the tax imposed under this section shall be an amount which bears the same proportion to the amount ascertained under this section, computed without reference to this paragraph, as the excess over $75,000 of such gross amount received bears to $50,000."

* * * * *

SEC. 222. RELIEF PROVISIONS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(b) Deferment of payment of tax. Section 710 (a) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

"(5) Deferment of payment in case of abnormality. If the adjusted excess profits net income (computed without reference to section 722) for the taxable year of a taxpayer which claims on its return, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, the benefits of section 722, is in excess of 50 per centum of its normal tax net income for such year, computed without the credit provided in section 26 (e) (relating to adjusted excess profits net income), the amount of tax payable at the time prescribed for payment may be reduced by an amount equal to 33 per centum of the amount of the reduction in the tax so claimed. For the purposes of section 271, if the tax payable is the tax so reduced, the tax so reduced shall be considered the amount shown on the return."

SEC. 204. TWO-YEAR CARRY-BACK OF UNUSED EXCESS PROFITS CREDIT. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Technical amendment. Section 710 (b) (3), relating to the deduction of the excess profits credit carry-over, is amended by striking out "excess profits credit carry-over" and by inserting in lieu thereof "unused excess profits credit adjustment".

(b) Carry-back of unused credit. Section 710 (c) (relating to the determination of the excess profits credit carry-over) is amended to read as follows:

"(c) Unused excess profits credit adjustment.

"(1) Computation of unused excess profits credit adjustment. The unused excess profits credit adjustment for any taxable year shall be the aggregate of the unused excess profits credit carry-overs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs to such taxable year.

"(2) Definition of unused excess profits credit. The term 'unused excess profits credit' means the excess, if any, of the excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, over the excess profits net income for such taxable year, computed on the basis of the excess profits credit applicable to such taxable year. For such purpose the excess profits credit and the excess profits net income for any taxable year beginning in 1940 shall be computed under the law applicable to taxable years beginning in 1941. The unused excess profits credit for a taxable year of less than twelve months shall be an amount which is such part of the unused excess profits credit determined under the first sentence of this paragraph as the number of days in the taxable year is of the number of days in the twelve months ending with the close of the taxable year.

"(3) Amount of unused excess profits credit carry-back and carry-over.

"(A) Unused excess profits credit carry-back. If for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, the taxpayer has an unused excess profits credit, such unused excess profits credit shall be an unused excess profits credit carry-back for each of the two preceding taxable years, except that the carry-back in the case of the first preceding taxable year shall be the excess, if any, of the amount of such unused excess profits credit over the adjusted excess profits net income for the second preceding taxable year computed for such taxable year (i) by determining the unused excess profits credit adjustment without regard to such unused excess profits credit and (ii) without the deduction of the specific exemption provided in subsection (b) (1).

"(B) Unused excess profits credit carry-over. If for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, the taxpayer has an unused excess profits credit, such unused excess profits credit shall be an unused excess profits credit carry-over for each of the two succeeding taxable years, except that the carry-over in the case of the second succeeding taxable year shall be the excess, if any, of the amount of such unused excess profits credit over the adjusted excess profits net income for the intervening taxable year computed for such intervening taxable year (i) by determining the unused excess profits credit adjustment without regard to such unused excess profits credit or to any unused excess profits credit carry-back and (ii) without the deduction of the specific exemption provided in subsection (b) (1). For the purposes of the preceding sentence, the unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, shall first be reduced by the sum of the adjusted excess profits net income for each of the two preceding taxable years (computed for each such preceding taxable year (i) by determining the unused excess profits credit adjustment without regard to such unused excess profits credit or to the unused excess profits credit for the succeeding taxable year, and (ii) without the deduction of the specific exemption provided in subsection (b) (1).

"(4) No carry-back to year prior to 1941. As used in this subsection, the term 'preceding taxable year' and the term 'preceding taxable years' do not include any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1941."

(c) Taxable years to which amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

SEC. 201. TAXABLE YEARS TO WHICH AMENDMENTS APPLICABLE. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

PAR. 2. Section 30.710–1 is amended as follows:

A. By changing the third sentence to read as follows:

A corporation, the excess profits net income of which for any taxable year, computed under the provisions of section 711 (a) (2) and (3) applicable to such year is not greater than $5,000, or a mutual insurance company (other than life or marine) which is an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, the excess profits net income of which for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, is not greater than $50,000, need not file an excess profits tax return for such year.

B. By inserting at the end the following new sentence:

With respect to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, the excess profits tax shall not exceed an amount which when added to the normal tax and surtax for such year equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income computed without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax.

PAR. 3. Section 30.710–2 as amended by Treasury Decision 5092, approved October 21, 1941, is stricken out and there are inserted in lieu thereof §§ 30.710–2, 30.710–3, 30.710–4, and 30.710–5, as follows:

§ 30.710–2 Measure of tax. The adjusted excess profits net income upon which is based the excess profits tax for a taxable year is determined by deducting from the excess profits net income (determined under the provisions of section 711 applicable to such year) the sum of:

(a) A specific exemption of $5,000; with respect to years beginning after December 31, 1941, in the case of a mutual insurance company (other than life or marine) which is an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, the specific exemption is $50,000.

(b) The excess profits credit allowed by section 712 or section 741, in the case of certain reorganizations, and

(c) With respect to taxable years beginning in 1940, a carry-over of the unused excess profits credit (as defined in section 710 (c) (1) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942) for the two preceding excess profits tax taxable years (short taxable years), computed as provided in section 710 (c) (2) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, or

(d) With respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, the unused excess profits credit adjustment (as defined in section 710 (c) (1)) consisting of the aggregate of the unused excess profits credit carry-overs from each of the two preceding excess profits tax taxable years and the excess profits credit carry-backs from each of the two succeeding excess profits tax taxable years, computed as provided in section 710 (c) (2).

For the computation of corporation surtax net income computed without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e) relating to income subject to the excess profits tax, in those cases where the excess profits tax is an amount which when added to the tax imposed by chapter 1 (other than section 102) equals 80 percent of such corporation surtax net income, see § 30.710–4 (c).

As to the exemption of income in the case of certain corporations engaged in mining strategic metals, see section 731; as to the excess profits tax in the case of corporations completing contracts under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, see section 726; and in the case of corporations deriving abnormal income in the taxable year, see section 721.

For the computation of the excess profits tax for a taxable year of less than twelve months, see the provisions of section 711 (a) (3) applicable to such year.

§ 30.710–3 Unused excess profits credit, excess profits credit carry-over and carry-back, and unused excess profits credit adjustment—(a) Unused excess profits credit. The unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939 is the excess of the excess profits credit for the taxable year over the excess profits net income, if any, for such taxable year. In the case of a taxpayer entitled to use the excess profits credit based on income or the excess profits credit based on invested capital, the credit which results in the larger unused excess profits credit is used. The excess profits net income is computed on the basis of the excess profits credit so used. In computing the unused excess profits credit for a taxable year beginning in 1940, the excess profits credit and the excess profits net income for such taxable year shall be computed under the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1941.

For the purpose of determining the carry-over or carry-back of the unused excess profits credit to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, the unused excess profits credit for a taxable year of less than 12 months is reduced to such part of the unused excess profits credit determined in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph as the number of days in the taxable year of less than 12 months is of the number of days in the 12 months ending with the close of the taxable year. In determining the unused excess profits credit which is so reduced, the excess profits net income for the taxable year of less than 12 months is first placed on an annual basis under the provisions of section 711 (a) (3) (A) by reference to the number of days in the taxable year. For example, a taxpayer changes from the calendar year basis to a fiscal year basis ending January 31, and files a return for the taxable year January 1 to January 31, 1942. Its excess profits credit for this taxable year is $91,250. Its excess profits net income computed on the basis of this taxable year is $6,200, and this excess profits net income placed on an annual basis under the provisions of section 711 (a) (3) (A) is $73,000, that is $\frac{365 \times $2,000}{31}$. The unused excess profits credit computed under the preceding paragraph is, therefore, $18,250, the excess of the $91,250 excess profits credit over the $73,000 excess profits net income placed on an annual basis. The unused excess profits credit for the taxable year January 1 to January 31, 1942, is reduced to $1,550, that is $\frac{31 \times $18,250}{365}$ or such part of $18,250 as the number of days in the taxable year (31) is of the number of days in the 12 months ending with the close of the taxable year (365).

(b) Excess profits credit carry-over: two or more taxable years beginning in 1940. In the case of a taxpayer having two or more taxable years beginning in 1940, the adjusted excess profits net income for the second and any subsequent taxable year beginning in 1940 is determined by deducting from the excess profits net income for such taxable year not only the taxpayer's excess profits credit and its $5,000 specific exemption but also its excess profits credit carry-over for such taxable year. If there were only two taxable years beginning in 1940, the excess profits credit carry-over for the second taxable year is the unused profits credit for the first taxable year. In cases in which there were more than two taxable years beginning in 1940, the method for determining the excess profits credit carry-over for the third and any subsequent taxable years beginning in 1940 is set forth in section 710 (c) prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942. The provisions of section 710 (c) (2), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, for the reduction of the unused excess profits credit in the case of a taxable year of less than 12 months do not apply for the purpose of computing the excess profits credit carry-over for a taxable year beginning in 1940.

(c) Unused excess profits credit adjustment; taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, the adjusted excess profits net income is determined by deducting from the excess profits net income the taxpayer's excess profits credit, its $5,000 specific exemption, and its unused excess profits credit adjustment. The unused excess profits credit adjustment is the aggregate of the portions of the unused excess profits credits for the two preceding and two succeeding taxable years which are treated under section 710 (c) (3), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, as unused excess profits credit carry-overs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs to the taxable year.

The unused excess profits credit carry-over to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940 should be distinguished from the excess profits credit carry-over for a taxable year beginning in 1940. The excess profits credit carry-used excess profits credit is carried over

The following example illustrates the income for 1946, computed without the de-time its return is due, it shall compute

in 1940. The excess profits credit carry-over for a taxable year beginning in 1940, described in paragraph (b) of this section, is the amount, deductible from the excess profits net income for the taxable year in determining the adjusted excess profits net income, which is computed by reference to the unused excess profits credits for such of the two taxable years preceding the taxable year as begin after December 31, 1939. The unused excess profits credit carry-over to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, is the portion of the unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, which is carried over to a subsequent taxable year and forms part of the unused excess profits credit adjustment which is deducted from the excess profits net income for such subsequent taxable year to determine adjusted excess profits net income.

(d) Amount of unused excess profits credit carry-overs and unused excess profits credit carry-backs used to determine unused excess profits credit adjustment. Under the provisions of section 710 (c) (3), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, the unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941) and carried back to each of the two preceding taxable years (not considering as a preceding taxable year any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941) and forms part of the unused excess profits credit adjustment for such preceding taxable year. The unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, to the extent it is not used as a carry-back, is carried forward to the two succeeding taxable years and forms part of the unused excess profits credit adjustment for such of those succeeding taxable years as begin after December 31, 1940. The amount which is carried back or carried forward is limited in the case of each such preceding or succeeding taxable year to the portion of the unused excess profits credit which was not applied against excess profits net income (either as part of the excess profits credit carry-over in the case of a taxable year beginning in 1940 or as part of the unused excess profits credit adjustment in the case of a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940) in determining the adjusted excess profits net income for the taxable years, if any, before such preceding or succeeding taxable year. The amount of the unused excess profits credit which was so applied is determined as follows: The adjusted excess profits net income is computed for each such taxable year without the specific exemption of $5,000 allowed by section 710 (b) (1), and without credit of any carry-over or carry-back from the taxable year in which such unused excess profits credit arose or from any taxable year subsequent thereto. The unused excess profits credit, which is a carry-over or a carry-back to such taxable year, is considered to have been applied against the amount so computed.

The entire unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939 but not beginning after December 31, 1941 is carried over to the first succeeding taxable year. The unused excess profits credit is carried over to the second succeeding taxable year to the extent it exceeds the adjusted excess profits net income for the first succeeding taxable year (whether or not such first succeeding taxable year began after December 31, 1940). For the purpose of determining this excess, the adjusted excess profits net income is computed without credit of the specific exemption of $5,000 allowed by section 710 (b) (1) and without credit of the carry-over from the taxable year in which the unused excess profits credit arose or of any carry-over or carry-back from a taxable year subsequent thereto. The entire unused excess profits credit for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941 is carried back to the second preceding taxable year if such taxable year began after December 31, 1940. If the second preceding taxable year began prior to January 1, 1941, the entire unused excess profits credit is carried back to the first preceding taxable year, since a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1941 is not considered a "preceding taxable year" for the purposes of section 710 (c) (3), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942, and no part of the adjusted excess profits net income for such a taxable year reduces the amount of the unused excess profits credits for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, which may be carried back or carried over to other taxable years. If the second preceding taxable year began after December 31, 1940, the unused excess profits credit is carried back to the first preceding taxable year to the extent it exceeds the adjusted excess profits net income for the second preceding taxable year (such adjusted excess profits net income being computed without credit of the specific exemption of $5,000 and without credit of any carry-back from the taxable year in which the unused excess profits credit arose or of any carry-back from any taxable year subsequent thereto). The unused excess profits credit is carried over to the first succeeding taxable year to the extent that it exceeds the aggregate of the adjusted excess profits net income for the two preceding taxable years (computed for each such taxable year without credit of the specific exemption of $5,000 and without credit of any carry-back from the taxable year in which such unused excess profits credit arose or of any carry-back from a taxable year subsequent thereto), not considering as a preceding taxable year any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1941. The unused excess profits credit is carried over to the second succeeding taxable year to the extent that the unused excess profits credit exceeds the aggregate of the adjusted excess profits net income for the two preceding taxable years and for the first succeeding taxable year (computed for each such taxable year without credit of the specific exemption of $5,000 and without credit of any carry-over or carry-back from the taxable year in which the unused excess profits credit arose or from any taxable year subsequent thereto), not considering as a preceding taxable year any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1941.

The following example illustrates the operation of section 710 (c) (3), as amended by the Revenue Act of 1942.

Example. It is assumed that the taxpayer, on the calendar year basis, has an excess profits credit of $100,000. It has no unused excess profits credit for 1940 or 1941. It has $125,000 excess profits net income in 1942, $185,000 excess profits net income in 1943, $55,000 excess profits net income in 1944, $25,000 excess profits net income in 1945, $30,000 excess profits net income in 1946, $160,000 excess profits net income in 1947, and $200,000 excess profits net income in 1948. It has no unused excess profits credit in 1949 or 1950. Since the taxpayer has a $100,000 excess profits credit, and excess profits net income of only $55,000 in 1944, $25,000 in 1945, and $30,000 in 1946, it has an unused excess profits credit of $45,000 in 1944, $75,000 in 1945, and $70,000 in 1946. Such unused excess profits credit will form the basis for carry-backs and carry-overs computed as follows:

(1) The amount of the $45,000 unused excess profits credit for 1944 which may be used as a carry-back to 1942 and 1943 and as a carry-over to 1945 and 1946 is computed as follows:

(i) For 1942, the carry-back is $45,000 (the amount of the unused excess profits credit).

(ii) For 1943, the carry-back is $20,000, determined by deducting from the $45,000 unused excess profits credit the adjusted excess profits net income for 1942 computed without the deduction of the specific exemption or any carry-back from 1944 or from any year subsequent to 1944 (the $125,000 excess profits net income for 1942 less the $100,000 excess profits credit for such taxable year, or $25,000).

(iii) For 1945 and 1946 there is no carry-over from 1944 since all of the unused excess profits credit has been applied against the excess profits net income for 1942 and 1943. To determine the carry-over, the $45,000 unused excess profits credit must first be reduced by the sum of the adjusted excess profits net income for 1942 and 1943 computed for each such year without the deduction of any $5,000 specific exemption or of any carry-back from 1944 or from any year subsequent to 1944 (for 1942, the $125,000 excess profits net income less the $100,000 excess profits credit for such year, or $25,000, plus, for 1943, the $185,000 excess profits net income less the $100,000 excess profits credit for such year, or $85,000, a total of $110,000).

(2) The amount of the $75,000 unused excess profits credit for 1945 which may be used as a carry-back to 1943 and 1944 and as a carry-over to 1946 and 1947, is computed as follows:

(i) For 1943, the carry-back is $75,000 (the amount of the unused excess profits credit).

(ii) For 1944, the carry-back is $10,000, determined by deducting from the $75,000 unused excess profits credit the $65,000 adjusted excess profits net income for 1943 computed without the deduction of the $5,000 specific exemption or of any carry-back from 1945 or any year subsequent to 1945 (the $185,000 excess profits net income for 1943, less the $100,000 excess profits credit and the $20,000 excess profits credit carry-back from 1944).

(iii) For 1946, the carry-over is $10,000, determined by reducing the $75,000 unused excess profits credit by the sum of the adjusted excess profits net income for 1943 and 1944 computed for each such year without the deduction of any $5,000 specific exemption or of any carry-back from 1945 or any year subsequent to 1945 (for 1943, the $185,000 excess profits net income less the $100,000 excess profits credit and the $20,000 carry-back from 1944, or $65,000, plus, for 1944, the $55,000 excess profits net income less the $100,000 excess profits credit, or $0 adjusted excess profits net income, a total of $65,000).

(iv) For 1947, the carry-over is also $10,000, since there was no adjusted excess profits net income for 1946, computed without the deduction of the $5,000 specific exemption or of any carry-over from 1945 or of any carry-over or carry-back from any year subsequent to 1945 (the $30,000 excess profits net income for 1946 less the $100,000 excess profits credit), to offset any of the carry-over to such year.

(3) The amount of the $70,000 unused excess profits credit for 1946 which may be taken as a carry-back to 1944 and 1945, and as a carry-over to 1947 and 1948, is computed as follows:

(i) For 1944, the carry-back is $70,000 (the unused excess profits credit).

(ii) For 1945, the carry-back is also $70,000, since there was no adjusted excess profits net income for 1944, computed without the deduction of the $5,000 specific exemption or of the carry-back from 1946 or from any year subsequent to 1946 (the excess profits net income of $55,000 for 1944 less the $100,000 excess profits credit and the $10,000 carry-back from 1945) to offset any of such unused excess profits credit for 1946.

(iii) For 1947, the carry-over is also $70,000, since there was no adjusted excess profits net income in 1944 or 1945 to offset any of the unused excess profits credit for 1946. The carry-over to 1947 is computed by reducing the $70,000 unused excess profits credit by the sum of the adjusted excess profits net income for 1944 and 1945, computed for each such year without the deduction of any $5,000 specific exemption or of any carry-back from 1946 or from any year subsequent to 1946. (For 1944, the adjusted excess profits net income so computed is $0, that is, the $55,000 excess profits net income for such year less the $100,000 excess profits credit and the $10,000 carry-back from 1945. For 1945, the adjusted excess profits net income so computed is $0, that is, the $25,000 excess profits net income for 1945 less the $100,000 excess profits credit.)

(iv) For 1948, the carry-over is $20,000, computed by reducing the $70,000 carry-over to 1947 by the adjusted excess profits net income for 1947 computed without the deduction of the $5,000 specific exemption or of the carry-over from 1946 or of any carry-over or carry-back from a year subsequent to 1946 (that is, the $160,000 excess profits net income for 1947 less the $100,000 excess profits credit and the $10,000 carry-over from 1945).

The aggregate of the carry-backs and carry-overs to each taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940 is the unused excess profits credit adjustment for such taxable year which may be credited against excess profits net income to determine adjusted excess profits net income. Therefore, the unused excess profits credit adjustment for 1942 is $45,000, the carry-back to that year from 1944. The unused excess profits credit adjustment for 1943 is $95,000, the aggregate of the $20,000 carry-back from 1944 and the $75,000 carry-back from 1945. The unused excess profits credit adjustment for 1947 is $80,000, the aggregate of the $10,000 carry-over from 1945 and the $70,000 carry-over from 1946. The unused excess profits credit adjustment for 1948 is $20,000, the carry-over from 1946.

In the case of a mutual insurance company (other than life or marine) which is an interinsurer or reciprocal underwriter, the $50,000 exemption allowed in such cases under section 710 (b) (1) is to be substituted wherever reference is made in this section to the $5,000 specific exemption.

(e) Ascertainment of unused excess profits credit adjustment dependent upon unused excess profits credit carry-back. If, for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, the taxpayer is entitled in computing its unused excess profits credit adjustment to an unused excess profits credit carry-back which it is not able to ascertain at the time its return is due, it shall compute the unused excess profits credit adjustment on its return without regard to such unused excess profits credit carry-back. When the taxpayer ascertains the unused excess profits credit carry-back, it may file a claim for credit or refund of the overpayment, if any, resulting from the failure to compute the unused excess profits credit adjustment for the taxable year with the inclusion of such carry-back. Under the provisions of section 3771 (e), as added by section 153 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1942, no interest is allowed with respect to any such overpayment for the period prior to the filing of the claim for credit or refund of such overpayment or prior to the filing of a petition to The Tax Court of the United States asserting such overpayment, whichever is earlier. If the taxpayer files a claim based upon the overpayment caused by a carry-back from the first succeeding taxable year, and later ascertains that it is entitled to a carry-back from the second succeeding taxable year, it shall file a second claim for credit or refund based on the overpayment, if any, caused by the failure to take into account the carry-back from such second succeeding taxable year.

§ 30.710–4 Rate of tax—(a) Taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942 and ending before July 1, 1942. The following tables show the excess profits tax (1) for taxable years beginning in 1940, and (2) for taxable years beginning in 1941 and ending before July 1, 1942, upon certain specified amounts of adjusted excess profits net income. In each instance the first figure of the adjusted excess profits net income in the adjusted excess profits net income column is to be excluded and the second figure included. The percentage given opposite applies to the excess of income over the first figure in the adjusted excess profits net income column. The last column gives the total excess profits tax on an adjusted excess profits net income equal to the second figure in the adjusted excess profits net income column.

TABLE I.—Taxable years beginning in 1940

Adjusted excess profits net income	Percent	Total excess profits tax
$0 to $20,000	25	$5,000
$20,000 to $50,000	30	14,000
$50,000 to $100,000	35	31,500
$100,000 to $250,000	40	91,500
$250,000 to $500,000	45	204,000

TABLE II.—Taxable years beginning in 1941 and ending before July 1, 1942

Adjusted excess profits net income	Percent	Total excess profits tax
$0 to $20,000	35	$7,000
$20,000 to $50,000	40	19,000
$50,000 to $100,000	45	41,500
$100,000 to $250,000	50	116,500
$250,000 to $500,000	55	254,000
$500,000 up	60

The excess profits tax for any amount of adjusted excess profits net income not stated in round figures in the table is computed by adding to the excess profits tax for the largest amount stated which is less than the adjusted excess profits net income, the excess profits tax upon the excess over that amount at the rate indicated in the table.

The computation of the tax is illustrated by the following example:

Example. The X Corporation has for the calendar year 1941 an excess profits net income of $800,000. The amount of its excess profits credit as allowed under section 712 is $195,000. The excess profits tax of the corporation for the calendar year 1941 is $314,000, computed as follows:

Excess profits net income		$800,000
Less:
Specific exemption	$5,000
Excess profits credit	195,000
		200,000
Adjusted excess profits net income		600,000
Computation of excess profits tax
Tax on $500,000 (see table)		254,000
Tax on $100,000 at 60 percent		60,000
Total		314,000

(b) Taxable years beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942. The excess profits tax for a taxable year beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942, is an amount determined under section 710 (a) (3), in lieu of an amount which would otherwise be determined under the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1941. Such excess profits tax is computed in a manner comparable to the computation of the normal tax and surtax under section 108 (a) (1) for the same taxable year, that is, as the sum of the proportionate parts of two tentative taxes. (See § 19.108–1 of Regulations 103.) Consequently, each of the tentative excess profits taxes is to be computed in the light of, and with regard to, the computation of the corresponding tentative normal tax and surtax.

The excess profits tax computed under section 710 (a) (3) is an amount equal to the sum of:

(1) That portion of a tentative excess profits tax computed under the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1941, which the number of days before July 1, 1942, in the taxable year of the taxpayer bears to the total number of days in such year, plus

(2) That portion of a tentative excess profits tax computed under the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1941, determined as if such law included the amendments made by the Revenue Act of 1942 in section 105 (c) (relating to the nondeductibility of the excess profits tax in computing net income), section 105 (d) (relating to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax), section 202 (relating to rate of excess profits tax for years beginning after December 31, 1941), and section 206 (relating to certain technical changes in the determination of excess profits net income under section 711, occasioned by the change in base for the computation of normal tax and surtax), which the number of days after June 30, 1942, in the taxable year of the taxpayer bears to the total number of days in such year.

The tentative excess profits taxes determined under section 710 (a) (3) (A) and subparagraph (1) of this section, or section 710 (a) (3) (B) and subpara-graph (2) of this section, to be prorated in the determination of the excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3), shall be

If the excess profits net incomes for purposes of the tentative taxes for a taxable year of less than twelve months are placed on an annual basis under sec-

section, the tax imposed for the taxable year under chapter 1 is the sum of the normal tax and surtax for such year prior to the credit under section 131 for graph (2) of this section, to be prorated in the determination of the excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3), shall be the taxes prior to the credit under section 729 (c) and (d) for tax paid to a foreign country or possession of the United States and prior to the adjustment under section 734 on account of position inconsistent with prior income tax liability. The credit under section 729 (c) and (d) and the adjustment under section 734 shall be applied against the sum of the portion of the tentative excess profits taxes finally determined under section 710 (a) (3).

The excess profits net income for purposes of the tentative excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) (A) and subparagraph (1) of this subsection shall be computed upon the basis of the normal tax net income determined for the purposes of the tentative normal tax under section 108 (a) (1) (A), and any adjustments under section 711 (a) (1) and (2), applicable to a taxable year beginning on January 1, 1941, shall be made with respect to such normal tax net income.

The excess profits net income for purposes of the tentative excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) (B) and subparagraph (2) of this section shall be computed on the basis of the normal tax net income determined for the purposes of the tentative normal tax under section 108 (a) (1) (B), and any adjustments under section 711 (a) (1) and (2) applicable to a taxable year beginning on January 1, 1941, determined as if the amendments made by section 206 of the Revenue Act of 1942 were applicable to such year, shall be made with respect to such normal tax net income. If such tentative excess profits tax is computed as an amount under section 710 (a) (1) (B) which when added to the normal tax and surtax imposed for the taxable year under chapter 1 equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income determined without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e) (relating to income subject to excess profits tax), the normal tax and surtax for the purposes of such computation shall be the tentative normal tax and surtax computed under section 108 (a) (1) (B), and the corporation surtax net income shall be the corporation surtax net income computed under the provisions of section 108 (a) (1) (B) but without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax. Thus, in the computation of such corporation surtax net income, the deduction for charitable and other contributions under section 23 (q) and for percentage depletion and discovery depletion under section 23 (m) and section 114 limited to a percentage of net income shall be based upon net income without regard to any deduction for excess profits tax or for income subject to excess profits tax under section 26 (e). Likewise, the credit for dividends received, in the computation of such corporation surtax net income, shall be limited to an amount equal to 85 percent of such net income. For the computation of corporation surtax net income for purposes of the excess profits tax computation under section 710 (a) (1) (B), see § 30.710–4 (c).

Example. Assume that corporation F makes its income and excess profits tax returns on the basis of a fiscal year beginning October 1, and ending on September 30. For the taxable year ending September 30, 1942, it has a net income of $1,480,000 which includes $100,000 of dividends consisting of $80,000 of dividends upon the common stock of a domestic manufacturing company and $20,000 of dividends upon the preferred stock of a public utility company and $20,000 of interest on United States Government obligations which is exempt from the normal tax, but does not include a long-term capital loss of $400,000 or $60,000 of charitable contributions. Assume also that the excess profits credit based on income of corporation F is $385,000 and that such corporation has no unused excess profits credit adjustment. Its excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) is $565,228.66, computed as follows:

Tentative Excess Profits Tax Under Section 710 (a) (3) (A)

1. Normal tax net income computed without deduction of excess profits tax, of charitable contributions, or of credit for dividends received (item 25 plus the sum of item 16, item 19, and item 24)		$1,050,000
2. Less deduction for charitable contributions (item 18 but not in excess of 5 percent of item 15)		54,000
3. Item 1 minus item 2		1,006,000
4. Less dividends received credit (100 percent of item 23)		100,000
5. Item 3 minus item 4		906,000

21. Less credit under section 26 (a) for interest on certain U. S. obligations		20,000
22. Adjusted net income		527,580
23. Dividends received	$100,000
24. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 23 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 22)		85,000
25. Normal tax net income (item 22 minus item 24)		442,580
26. Tentative normal tax (24 percent of item 25)		106,219.20
27. Net income (item 20)		$547,580
28. Dividends received	$100,000
29. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 28 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 27)		85,000
30. Corporation surtax net income (item 27 minus item 29)		462,580
31. Surtax ($1,500 plus 7 percent of $437,580)		32,130.60

Tentative Excess Profits Tax Under Section 710 (a) (3) (B)

33. Normal tax net income computed without credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax and without credit for dividends received (item 58)		1,006,000
34. Less dividends received credit (100 percent of item 61)		100,000
35. Item 33 minus item 34		906,000
36. Add net long-term capital loss		400,000
37. Excess profits net income		1,306,000
38. Less: Specific exemption	$5,000
39. Excess profits credit	385,000
40. Item 38 plus item 39		390,000
41. Adjusted excess profits net income		916,000

43. Net income (item 56)		1,026,000
44. Amount of dividends received	$100,000
45. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 44 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 43)		85,000
46. Corporation surtax net income computed without the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax (item 43 minus item 45)		941,000
47. 80 percent of item 46		752,800
48. Total normal tax and surtax under Chapter 1 (item 72)		4,695
49. Excess of item 47 over item 48		748,105
50. Tentative excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) (B) (item 42 or item 49, whichever is lesser)		748,105

Tentative Normal Tax and Surtax Under Section 108 (a) (1) (B)

51. Net income (partially computed)		1,480,000
52. Less long-term capital loss		400,000
53. Item 51 minus item 52		1,080,000
54. Charitable contributions	$60,000
55. Less deduction for charitable contributions (item 54 but not in excess of 5 percent of item 53)		54,000
56. Net income (item 53 minus item 55)		1,026,000
57. Less credit under section 26 (a) for interest on certain U. S. obligations		27,000
58. Adjusted net income		1,000,000

63. Normal tax net income		13,500
64. Tentative normal tax under section 108 (a) (1) (B) ($750 plus 17 percent of $8,500)		$2,195
65. Net income (item 56)		1,026,000
66. Less credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax (item 41)		916,000
67. Item 65 minus item 66		110,000
68. Dividends received	$100,000
69. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 68 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 67)		85,000
70. Corporation surtax net income		25,000
71. Tentative surtax under section 108 (a) (1) (B) (10 percent of item 70)		2,500
72. Total tentative normal tax and surtax under section 108 (a) (1) (B) (item 64 plus item 71)		4,695

Excess Profits Tax Under Section 710 (a) (3)

73 Tentative excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) (A) (item 12)	$503,600
74. Total number of days in taxable year of taxpayer	365
75. Number of days before July 1, 1942, in taxable year of taxpayer	273
76 Portion of tentative tax under section 710 (a) (3) (A) which item 75 bears to item 74 (item 73 multiplied by 273 and divided by 365)		376,665.21
77. Tentative excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) (B) (item 50)	$748,105
78. Number of days after June 30, 1942, in taxable year of taxpayer	92
79 Portion of tentative tax under section 710 (a) (3) (B) which item 79 bears to item 74 (item 77 multiplied by 92 and divided by 365)		188,563.45
80 Excess profits tax under section 710 (a) (3) (item 76 plus item 79)		565,228.66

If the taxable year which begins in 1941 and ends after June 30, 1942, is a taxable year of less than twelve months, the excess profits net income shall be placed on an annual basis under section 711 (a) (3) (A) for the purposes of both tentative tax computations under section 710 (a) (3) and this section, or shall be determined as the actual excess profits net income for a twelve-month period under the method provided in section 711 (a) (3) (B) for the purposes of both such tentative tax computations. Regardless of the method adopted, the amounts of excess profits taxes so computed upon the basis of twelve months income shall be properly reduced under section 711 (a) (3) in order to determine the tentative taxes under section 710 (a) (3) (A) and (B), and the tentative taxes so determined shall then be properly prorated upon the basis prescribed in section 710 (a) (3) (A) and (B) and subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this section.

If the excess profits net incomes for purposes of the tentative taxes for a taxable year of less than twelve months are placed on an annual basis under section 711 (a) (3) (A), the normal tax net income used in computing excess profits net income for each tentative tax shall be the normal tax net income determined under section 108 (a) (1) (A) or section 108 (a) (1) (B), as the case may be, and the appropriate adjustments under section 711 (a) (1) and (2) shall be based upon such normal tax net income. If such tentative taxes are computed under section 711 (a) (3) (B) on the basis of an established adjusted excess profits net income for a twelve-month period, the normal tax net income used in computing excess profits net income for each tentative tax shall be the normal tax net income determined under section 108 (a) (1) (A) or section 108 (a) (1) (B), as the case may be, for the appropriate twelve-month period described in section 711 (a) (3) (B), and the proper adjustments under section 711 (a) (1) and (2) shall be made with respect to such normal tax net income. If the tentative excess profits tax is an amount, under section 710 (a) (1) (B), which when added to the normal tax and surtax imposed for the taxable year under chapter 1 equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income determined without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e) (relating to income subject to excess profits tax), the normal tax and surtax shall be the tentative normal tax and surtax ascertained under section 108 (a) (1) (B). The corporation surtax net income shall be the corporation surtax net income computed under section 108 (a) (1) (B) (without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) relating to income subject to excess profits tax), but upon the basis, annual basis or basis of an established twelve-month period, which is used in computing the excess profits tax. The amount determined by multiplying such corporation surtax net income by 80 percent shall be properly reduced pursuant to section 711 (a) (3). The difference between such amount so reduced and the sum of the normal tax and surtax shall be the tentative excess profits tax computed under section 710 (a) (1) (B). For the computation of the excess profits tax in the case of a taxable year of less than twelve months, see section 711 (a) (3).

(c) Taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941. With respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941, the excess profits tax shall be whichever of the following is the lesser:

(1) An amount equal to 90 percent of the adjusted excess profits net income, or

(2) An amount which when added to the tax imposed for the taxable year under chapter 1 (not including the tax under section 102 on account of the improper accumulation of surplus) equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income, computed under section 15 or Supplement G (relating to insurance companies), as the case may be, but without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e) relating to income subject to excess profits tax.

For the purposes of section 710 (a) (1) (B) and of subparagraph (2) of this section, the tax imposed for the taxable year under chapter 1 is the sum of the normal tax and surtax for such year prior to the credit under section 131 for taxes paid to a foreign country or possession of the United States. The corporation surtax net income for such purposes shall be computed by disregarding the credit under section 26 (e) (relating to income subject to excess profits tax) otherwise provided in section 15 (a) or Supplement G as a reduction against net income in determining corporation surtax net income and in determining the amount of net income upon which is computed the 85 percent limitation upon the credit for dividends received for both computations. In all other respects, corporation surtax net income shall be computed as provided in section 15 (a) or Supplement G as the case may be.

The application of section 710 (a) (1) and of this section may be shown by the following example:

Assume that corporation A, which makes its return on the calendar year basis, is a public utility corporation within the definition in section 26 (h) (2) (A). Its net income for 1942 is $411,000 and includes $100,000 of dividends upon the common stock of a domestic manufacturing company, $10,000 of dividends upon the preferred stock (as defined in section 26 (h) (2) (B)) of a public utility corporation which it owns, and $1,000 of interest on certain United States Government obligations which is exempt from the normal tax. It has paid a dividend of $5,000 on its preferred stock (as defined in section 26 (h) (2) (B)). Its excess profits net income is $500,000, its excess profits credit is $145,000 and it has no unused excess profits credit adjustment. Its excess profits tax is $254,955, computed as follows:

Excess Profits Tax

1. Excess profits net income		$500,000
2. Specific exemption	$5,000
3. Excess profits credit	145,000
4 Total of item 2 and item 3		150,000

27. (a) Total dividends received	$110,000
(b) Less dividends received on preferred stock of public utility corporation	10,000
(c) Difference	100,000
28 Less: (a) Dividends received credit (85 percent of item 27 (c) but not in excess of 85 percent of item 26)	51,850
(b) Dividends paid on certain preferred stock	5,000	56,850
29. Corporation surtax net income		4,150
30 Surtax (10 percent of item 29)		415
31 Total normal tax and surtax (item 23 plus item 30)		1,845

If, in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, a mutual insurance company, other than life or marine, receives a gross amount from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) in excess of $75,000 but less than $125,000, the tax imposed under section 710 is an amount which bears the same proportion to the amount of tax otherwise determined under such section, computed without regard to section 710 (a) (4) and the provisions of this sentence, as the excess over $75,000 of such gross amount received bears to $50,000. For example, assume that a mutual insurance company (other than a life or marine insurance company) receives a gross amount from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums of $115,000, and that its excess profits tax computed under section 710 (a) (1) is $18,000. Under section 710 (a) (4), the excess profits tax imposed under section 710 is $14,400 $\left(\frac{40,000}{50,000} \times $18,000\right)$.

§ 30.710–5 Deferment of payment of tax in case of base period or invested capital abnormality. If a taxpayer claims the benefits of section 722 (relating to general excess profits tax relief through a constructive average base period net income) for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, it must make its return and compute and pay its tax without the benefits of such section, and not later than six months after the date prescribed by law for the filing of its return make application for relief under such section. (See section 722 (d).) However, if the adjusted excess profits net income so computed on its return (without the benefits of section 722) for such year exceeds 50 percent of the taxpayer's normal tax net income for such year, computed without the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax, and if the taxpayer on its return claims to be entitled to the benefits of section 722, the amount of tax payable at the time prescribed for payment may be reduced by an amount equal to 33 percent of the reduction in tax so claimed. (See section 710 (a) (5).) In computing the normal tax net income for purposes of the 50 percent determination, the credit for dividends received under section 26 (b) shall be limited to 85 percent of adjusted net income unreduced by the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax.

The amount of reduction in tax claimed under section 722 shall be the difference between the amount of tax computed under section 710 (a) (1) without the benefit of section 722 (prior to the credit under section 729 for taxes paid to a foreign country or to a possession of the United States, to the credit under section 783 for debt retirement, and to the adjustment under section 734 on account of an inconsistent position) and the amount of tax so computed using instead of the actual excess profits credit the excess profits credit based upon the constructive average base period net income claimed by the taxpayer. In any case in which the excess profits tax computed with the use of the constructive average base period net income is determined under section 710 (a) (1) (B) as an amount which when added to the normal tax and surtax imposed under chapter 1 equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income (computed without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax), the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax used in determining normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income for the purposes of computing such normal tax and surtax shall be computed by using the excess profits credit based upon the constructive average base period net income in lieu of the actual excess profits credit.

A taxpayer which claims to be entitled to a tax deferment under the provisions of section 710 (a) (5) and of this section must, at the time of filing its excess profits tax return on Form 1121, attach thereto an application for relief under section 722 on Form 991 (revised January, 1943). The application must set forth under oath each ground under section 722 upon which the application for relief is based and facts sufficient to apprise the Commissioner of the exact basis thereof and to establish eligibility for relief, as well as data and information in sufficient detail to establish the amount of constructive average base period net income claimed, the amount of tax reduction claimed by the use of section 722, and the amount of tax claimed on the return. In any case in which an application for relief on Form 991 (revised January, 1943) is not so attached to the excess profits tax return, the taxpayer shall not be deemed to have claimed on its return the benefits of section 722. In such case the amount of tax deferment claimed under section 710 (a) (5) and this section shall be added to the amount of tax otherwise shown by the taxpayer to be payable. For the purposes of section 271 (made applicable to subchapter E of chapter 2 by section 729) relating to the definition of deficiency, the amount of tax shown by the taxpayer to be payable so increased shall be considered the amount of tax shown on the return.

For the purposes of section 271, in case a taxpayer has claimed a tax reduction under section 710 (a) (5) and has attached Form 991 (revised January, 1943) to its excess profits tax return as provided in this section, the tax so reduced shall be the tax shown on the return.

If a constructive average base period net income has been finally determined and has been used in computation of the excess profits tax for a prior excess profits tax taxable year under section 722 and under regulations prescribed under such section, such constructive average base period net income may be applicable in the computation of the excess profits tax for the current excess profits tax taxable year. In such case, the excess profits tax for such current year shall be computed with the use of such constructive average base period net income, and the provisions of section 710 (a) (5) shall be inapplicable with respect to such year.

The application of section 710 (a) (5) may be illustrated by the following example:

Assume that corporation B, which makes its return on the calendar year basis, has for 1942 a net income of $1,010,000, which includes $300,000 of dividends on the common stock of domestic manufacturing corporations, $10,000 of interest on certain United States Government obligations which is exempt from the normal tax, and $200,000 of long-term capital losses which are offset against an equal amount of short-term capital gains. Its adjusted net income is $1,000,000, and it has an excess profits credit of $95,000, and no unused excess profits credit adjustment. It has filed, with its excess profits tax return for 1942, an application for relief under section 722 in which it claims a constructive average base period net income of $600,000. Its excess profits tax return for 1942, computed without regard to section 722, shows an amount of tax deferred under section 710 (a) (5) of $99,584.10, and an excess profits tax due of $494,685.90, computed as follows:

Excess Profits Tax

1. Normal tax net income (computed without allowance of credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax and without allowance of dividends received credit) (item 22)		$1,000,000
2. Plus long-term capital loss adjustment		200,000
3. Item 1 plus item 2		1,200,000
4. Less dividend received credit adjustment (100 percent of item 25)	$300,000
5. Excess profits net income	900,000
6. Less Specific exemption	$5,000
7. Excess profits credit	95,000
8. Total of item 6 and item 7	100,000
9. Adjusted excess profits net income (item 5 minus item 8)	800,000
10. Excess profits tax (90 percent of item 9)	720,000

12. Dividends received	$300,000
13. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 12, but not in excess of 85 percent of item 11)	255,000
14. Corporation surtax net income (computed without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e)) (item 11 minus item 13)	755,000
15. 80 percent of item 14	604,000
16. Income tax under chapter 1 (other than section 102) for the taxable year (item 36)	9,730
17. Excess of item 15 over item 16	594,270
18. Excess profits tax (item 10 or item 17, whichever is lesser)	594,270
19. Less tax deferred under section 710 (a) (5) (item 56)	99,584.10
20. Excess profits tax payable (item 18 minus item 19)	494,685.90
Normal Tax
21. Net income	1,010,000
22. Adjusted net income (item 21 minus $10,000 interest on certain U. S. obligations)	1,000,000
23. Less income subject to excess profits tax (credit under section 26 (e)) (item 9)	800,000
24. Item 22 minus item 23	200,000
25. Dividends received	$300,000
26. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 25 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 24)	170,000
27. Normal tax net income	30,000
28. Normal tax ($4,250 plus 31 percent of $5,000)	5,800
Surtax
29. Net income (item 21)	1,010,000
30. Less income subject to excess profits tax (credit under section 26 (e)) (item 9)	800,000
31. Item 29 minus item 30	210,000
32. Dividends received	$300,000
33. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 32 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 31)	178,500
34. Corporation surtax net income	31,500
35 Surtax ($2,500 plus 22 percent of $6,500)	3,930
86. Total normal tax and surtax (item 28 plus item 35)	$9,730
Percentage which adjusted excess profits net income bears to normal tax net income computed without credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax
37. Adjusted excess profits net income computed without regard to section 722 (item 9)	800,000
38. Adjusted net income (item 22)	1,000,000
39. Dividends received	$300,000
40. Dividends received credit (85 percent of item 39 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 38)	255,000

42. Percentage which item 37 bears to item 41	107%
Tax Deferred Under Section 710 (a) (5) Excess Profits Tax Under Section 722
43. Excess profits net income (item 5)	$900,000
44. Less Specific exemption	$5,000
45. Excess profits credit based on constructive excess profits net income under section 722 (95 percent of $600,000)	570,000
46. Item 44 plus item 45	575,000
47. Adjusted excess profits net income computed under section 722 (item 43 minus item 46)	325,000
48. Excess profits tax under section 722 (90 percent of item 47)	292,500
49. Corporation surtax net income (computed without regard to the credit provided in section 26 (e)) (item 14)	755,000
50. 80 percent of item 49	604,000
51. Income tax under chapter 1 (other than section 102) for the taxable year, computed with the excess profits tax determined under section 722) (item 72)	169,600
52. Excess of item 50 over item 51	434,400
53. Excess profits tax computed without the benefit of section 722 (item 17)	594,270
54. Excess profits tax computed under section 722 (item 48 or item 52, whichever is lesser)	292,500
55. Amount of tax reduction claimed under section 722 (item 53 minus item 54)	301,770
56. Amount of tax deferred under section 710 (a) (5) (33 percent of item 55)	99,584.10
Normal Tax
57. Net income (item 21)	1,010,000
58. Adjusted net income (item 22)	1,000,000
59. Less income subject under section 722 to excess profits tax (credit under section 26 (e)) (item 47)	$325,000
60. Item 58 minus item 59	675,000
61. Dividends received	$300,000
62. Less dividends received credit (85 percent of item 61 but not in excess of 85 percent of item 60)	255,000
63. Normal tax net income	420,000
64. Normal tax (24 percent of item 63)	100,800

71. Surtax (16 percent of item 70)	68,800
72. Total normal tax and surtax (item 64 plus item 71)	169,600

PAR. 4. Section 30.726–1 (b) is amended by inserting at the end the following:

With respect to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, the tentative tax under section 726 (b) (1), as is the case with respect to the tax computed under section 710, shall be the lesser of:

(1) An amount equal to 90 percent of the adjusted excess profits net income (section 710 (a) (1) (A)), or

(2) An amount which when added to the sum of the normal tax and surtax for the taxable year equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income computed under section 15 (a) but without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax (section 710 (a) (1) (B)).

If the tentative tax is computed under section 710 (a) (1) (B) and subparagraph (2) of this section, the normal tax and surtax for such purposes shall be the actual normal tax and surtax computed under chapter 1 and shall be determined by using as the credit under section 26 (e), in computing normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income, the amount of which the tax computed under section 726 (b) pursuant to the provisions of section 710 (a) (1) (A) is 90 percent. The corporation surtax net income for the purposes of section 710 (a) (1) (B) and subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, computed without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax, shall be increased by the amount of any payments made, or to be made, to the United States Maritime Commission with respect to contracts or subcontracts subject to the provisions of section 505 (b). For the computation of tax under section 710 (a) (1) (B), see § 30.710–4 (c). For the computation of excess profits tax for years beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942, see section 710 (a) (3) and § 30.710–4 (b).

If the excess profits tax is computed for a taxable year of less than twelve months, the excess profits net income for the purposes of the excess profits tax computed under section 726 (b) shall be placed on an annual basis under section 711 (a) (3) (A) if the excess profits net income is so placed for the purposes of the tax computed under section 710 (a), or shall be determined upon the basis of an established twelve-month period if the excess profits net income for purposes of the tax under section 710 (a) is so established.

The application of this paragraph may be illustrated by the following example:

For the calendar year 1942, corporation S has a normal tax net income, and corporation surtax net income of $300,000, an excess profits net income of $330,000, and an excess profits credit of $75,000. It has paid to the United States Maritime Commission with respect to contracts completed in 1942 and subject to section 505 (b) of the Merchant Marine Act of 1936, as amended, $40,000. Its excess profits tax is $210,222.23, computed as follows:

Excess Profits Tax Under Section 710

1. Excess profits net income		$330,000
2. Less Specific exemption	5,000
3. Excess profits credit	75,000
4. Item 2 plus item 3		80,000
5. Adjusted excess profits net income (item 1 minus item 4)		250,000
6. 90 percent of item 5		225,000
7. Corporation surtax net income computed without regard to credit under section 26 (e) relating to income subject to excess profits tax		300,000
8. 80 percent of item 7		240,000
9. Total normal tax and surtax (item 15)		20,000
10. Item 8 minus item 9		220,000
11. Excess profits tax (item 8 or item 10 whichever is lesser)		220,000
Normal Tax and Surtax
12. Normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income computed without regard to credit under section 26 (e)		300,000
13. Less credit under section 26 (e) (amount of which item 6 is 90 percent, i. e., item 5)		250,000
14. Normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income		50,000
15. Total normal tax and surtax (40 percent of item 14)		20,000
Excess Profits Tax Under Section 726 (b)
16. Excess profits net income including payment to Maritime Commission		$370,000
17. Less Specific exemption	$5,000
18. Excess profits credit	75,000
19. Item 17 plus item 18		80,000
20. Adjusted excess profits net income		290,000
21. Tentative excess profits tax under section 726 (b) (1) and section 710 (a) (1) (A) (90 percent of item 20)		$261,000
22. Less payments made to Maritime Commission		40,000
23. Excess profits tax under section 726 (b) and section 710 (a) (1) (A)		221,000
24. Corporation surtax net income including payment to Maritime Commission		340,000
25. 80 percent of item 22		272,000
26. Total normal tax and surtax (item 35)		21,777.77
27. Tentative excess profits tax under section 726 (b) (1) and section 710 (a) (1) (B) (item 25 minus item 26)		250,222.23
28. Less payments made to Maritime Commission		40,000
29. Excess profits tax under section 726 (b) and section 710 (a) (1) (B)		210,222.23
30. Excess profits tax under section 726 (b) (item 29 or item 23 whichever is the lesser)		210,222.23
31. Excess profits tax under section 726 (item 11 or item 30 whichever is the lesser)		210,222.23
Normal Tax and Surtax for Item 26
32. Normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income (item 12)		300,000
33. Less credit under section 26 (e) (amount of which $221,000, item 23, is 90 percent)		245,555.56
34. Normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income		54,444.44
35. Normal tax and surtax (40 percent of item 34)		21,777.77

PAR. 5. There is inserted immediately preceding § 30.731–1 the following:

SEC. 226. EXEMPTION FROM TAX OF MINING OF CERTAIN STRATEGIC MINERALS. (Revenue Act of 1942, Title II.)

(a) Exemption. Subchapter E of Chapter 2 is amended by inserting after section 730 the following new section:

"SEC. 731. CORPORATIONS ENGAGED IN MINING OF STRATEGIC MINERALS.

"In the case of any domestic corporation engaged in the mining of antimony, chromite, manganese, nickel, platinum, quicksilver, sheet mica, tantalum, tin, tungsten, or vanadium, the portion of the adjusted excess profits net income attributable to such mining in the United States shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this subchapter. The tax on the remaining portion of such adjusted excess profits net income shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the tax computed without regard to this section as such remaining portion bears to the entire adjusted excess profits net income."

(b) Taxable years to which amendment applicable. The amendment made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

PAR. 5½. Section 30.731–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5092, approved October 21, 1941, is further amended as follows:

A. By changing the heading and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 30.731–1 Corporations which mine strategic minerals. (a) In case a domestic corporation is engaged during a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, in mining tungsten, quicksilver, manganese, platinum, antimony, chromite, or tin, or during a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, in mining tungsten, quicksilver, manganese, platinum, antimony, chromite, tin, nickel, sheet mica, tantalum, or vanadium (all of which minerals are hereinafter referred to as strategic minerals), within the United States, the portion of its adjusted excess profits net income attributable to such mining is exempt from excess profits tax. The excess profits tax on the remaining portion of such adjusted excess profits net income is an amount which bears the same ratio to the excess profits tax computed without regard to section 731 as such remaining portion bears to the entire adjusted excess profits net income. The excess profits tax for a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1942, computed without regard to section 731 shall be an amount determined under the provisions of section 710 applicable to such year. Such excess profits tax for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, shall be the lesser of

(1) An amount equal to 90 percent of the adjusted excess profits net income (section 710 (a) (1) (A)), or

(2) An amount which when added to the sum of the normal tax and surtax for the taxable year equals 80 percent of the corporation surtax net income computed under section 15 (a) but without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax (section 710 (a) (1) (B)). If the excess profits tax for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1941, computed without regard to section 731 is determined under section 710 (a) (1) (B) and subdivision (2) of this paragraph, the normal tax and surtax for such purposes shall be determined by using as the credit under section 26 (e) in computing normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income the amount of which the tax computed pursuant to section 710 (a) (1) (A) and under section 731 upon the adjusted excess profits net income other than from mining strategic minerals is 90 percent. For the computation of the excess profits tax for a taxable year beginning in 1941 and ending after June 30, 1942, see § 30.710–4 (b).

B. By changing the second sentence of paragraph (b) to read as follows:

For any taxable year, the portion of the excess profits net income attributable to such mining is the gross income derived from strategic minerals and arising out of operations which give rise to "gross income from the property", as defined in § 19.23 (m)–1 (f) of Regulations 103, less the sum of (1) allowable deductions which are directly attributable to such mining for such year, (2) any adjustments made under the provisions of section 711 applicable to such year involving items directly attributable to such mining, and (3) an allocable portion of any deductions partly attributable to such mining and of any adjustments under the provisions of section 711 applicable to such year involving items partly attributable to such mining.

C. By changing that portion of paragraph (c) immediately after subparagraph (3) and immediately preceding the example to read as follows:

The following examples illustrate the computation of the tax in the case of a corporation entitled to the benefits of section 731:

D. By changing the first and second sentences of the example under paragraph (c) to read as follows:

The M Corporation, a domestic corporation which makes its return on a calendar year basis, mines both gold and platinum (a by-product of gold) and reduces the ores containing such metals. For 1941, the corporation has an excess profits credit of $40,000.

E. By adding at the end of paragraph (c) the following new example:

Example. For 1942 the excess profits net income of the M Corporation described in the preceding example attributable to platinum mining is $40,000; that attributable to other activities is $180,000. The normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income computed without regard to the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax is $200,000. The excess profits tax is $112,314.05, computed as follows:

1. Total excess profits net income		$220,000
2. Less Specific exemption	5,000
3 Excess profits credit	40,000
4. Item 2 plus item 3		45,000
5. Adjusted excess profits net income		175,000
6. Less portion attributable to platinum mining ($\frac{40,000}{220,000}$ of 175,000)		31,818.18
7. Remaining portion of adjusted excess profits net income		143,181.82
8 Excess profits tax on adjusted excess profits net income computed without regard to section 731 (90 percent of item 5)		157,500
9 Excess profits tax pursuant to section 710 (a) (1) (A) under section 731 on item 7, i. e., portion of item 8 which bears the same ratio to $157,500 (item 8) as portion of adjusted excess profits net income not attributable to platinum mining (item 7) bears to total adjusted excess profits net income (item 5) ($\frac{143,181.82}{175,000}$ of $157,500) (viz. 90 percent of item 7)		128,863.64
10. Corporation surtax net income computed without credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax		200,000
11. 80 percent of item 10		160,000
12. Total normal tax and surtax (item 19)		22,727.27
13 Item 11 minus item 12		137,272.73
14 Excess profits tax pursuant to section 710 (a) (1) (B) under section 731 on item 7, i. e., portion of item 13 which bears the same ratio to $137,272.73 (item 13) as portion of adjusted excess profits net income not attributable to platinum mining (item 7) bears to total adjusted excess profits net income (item 5) ($\frac{143,181.82}{175,000}$ of $137,272.73)		$112,314.05
15. Excess profits tax under section 731 on portion of adjusted excess profits net income not attributable to platinum mining (item 7) (item 9 or item 14, whichever is the lesser)		112,314.05
Normal Tax and Surtax
16. Normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income computed without regard to credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax		200,000
17. Less credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax (an amount of which the excess profits tax under section 731 computed without regard to section 710 (a) (1) (B) is 90 percent, i. e., an amount of which $128,863.64 (item 9) is 90 percent (viz. item 7)		143,181.82
18. Normal tax net income and corporation surtax net income		56,818.18
19. Total normal tax and surtax (40 percent of item 18)		22,727.27

PAR. 6. There is inserted immediately preceding § 30.750–1 the following:

* * * * *

(b) Sections 750 and 751 (relating to determination of property paid in, etc., in certain cases) shall not apply with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 194 .

PAR. 7. Section 30.750–1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 30.750–1 Purpose and scope of Supplement B. The term "Supplement B," when used in these regulations, means sections 750 and 751, and is applicable only to excess profits tax taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1942. It provides rules relative to the extent to which equity invested capital and borrowed capital are affected by the acquisition of property in an exchange meeting the requirements of section 750 (a) (see section 751[1]). Such rules are applicable in the case of exchanges occurring prior to the beginning of the acquiring corporation's first excess profits tax taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1942, as well as exchanges occurring after such year but in an excess profits tax taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1942. The purpose of section 751 is in general to provide a rule for the determination of the extent to which property is paid in for stock in cases involving an assumption of liabilities and the payment of boot, and to prevent a duplication in invested capital in cases where bonds as well as stock are issued as consideration for the transfer of the properties acquired.

PAR. 8. Section 30.750–3 and § 30.750–4 are stricken out.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1871]

PART 321—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 1

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 1 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 1, and for a change in shipping point for a certain mine in District No. 1.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 1 and a change in shipping point for the coals produced by Charles H. Burk at the Burk and Williams Mine, Mine Index No. 739; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 321.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 321.24 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That the proposal contained in the original petition, with respect to the Burk and Williams Mine, Mine Index No. 789, be, and the same hereby is, denied, for the reason that it now appears that the successor operator of this mine desires the shipping point to remain unchanged.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 4, 1943.

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 323.6 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-I, and § 323.8 (Special prices—(b) Railroad fuel prices for all movements except via lakes) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-II. § 323.8 (Special prices—(c) Railroad fuel prices for movement via all lakes—all ports) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-III, and § 323.23 (General prices) is added by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith, the shipping points and freight origin group numbers appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for mines mentioned therein are effective in place of the shipping points and freight origin group numbers heretofore established for these mines.

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 323.6 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-I, and § 323.8 (Special prices—(b) Railroad fuel prices for all movements except via lakes) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-II. § 323.8 (Special prices—(c) Railroad fuel prices for movement via all lakes—all ports) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-III, and § 323.23 (General prices) is added by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith, the shipping points and freight origin group numbers appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for mines mentioned therein are effective in place of the shipping points and freight origin group numbers heretofore established for these mines.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

PART 324—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 4

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 4 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 4; for changes in shipping points of certain mines; and requesting the establishment of an additional price instruction in the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 4 for all shipments except truck.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 4, and for changes in shipping points for the coals of certain mines in District No. 4; and further requesting the establishment of an additional price instruction in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for All Shipments Except Truck, which would permit all coal going through any one of several preparation plants listed in said petition to be invoiced as having originated at said preparation plant irrespective of whether such coals were produced at the mine of which such preparation plant is not a part; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the matter hereinafter set forth, and that the following action is necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows:

Commencing forthwith § 324.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 324.24 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and, commencing forthwith, the shipping points, Freight Origin Group numbers and Railroad Fuel Price Group numbers appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for certain mines are effective in lieu of the shipping points, Freight Origin Group numbers and Railroad Fuel Price Group numbers heretofore established for said mines.

It is further ordered, That, commencing forthwith, all references appearing in § 324.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) § 324.8 (Numerical list of mines), § 324.2 (Seasonal discounts), § 324.9 (Recapitulation of price classifications) § 324.11 (Special prices—(a) Railroad fuel prices for all movements exclusive of lake cargo railroad fuel), and § 324.24 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas), as amended by the order issued in Docket No. A-1504 (7 F.R. 5857) for the West Point Mine, Mine Index No. 441, operated by Bozzo Coal Company (Emory Torrence) be, and the same hereby are, deleted therefrom, for the reason that said mine is now classified and priced in the aforesaid sections, as amended by the order issued in Docket No. A-1648 (7 F.R. 9116), as Mine Index No. 3048, operated by Marshall Mining Company.

No relief is granted herein as to the coals of the Kennard Mine (Mine Index No. 75) of Kennard Coal Company, or to the coals of the Walton Mine (Mine Index No. 805) of Isam Walton, for the reason that petitioner has requested in a letter dated February 8, 1943, that the request made in its original petition for changes in shipping points for the coals of Mine Index No. 75 and Mine Index No. 805 be deleted from said petition.

No relief is granted herein as to that part of the petition requesting the establishment of an additional price instruction to be added to the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for All Shipments Except Truck, which would permit all coal going through any one of several preparation plants listed in said petition to be invoiced as having originated at said preparation plant irrespective of whether such coals were produced at the mine of which such preparation plant is a part, for the reasons set forth in the order issued this day designating the portion of Docket No. A-1836 relating to such relief as Docket No. A-1836 Part II.

Dated: March 6, 1943.

PART 324—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 4

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 4 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for rail and truck shipments; and for a change in the shipping point for the coals of the Paskell Mine.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for certain mines located in District No. 4, and a change of the freight origin group number and the shipping point for the coals of the Paskell Mine, Mine Index No. 104, of A. W. Paskell (Twin Coal Company), located in District No. 4; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 324.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 324.24 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith, the freight origin group number and the shipping point appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for the coals of the Paskell Mine, Mine Index No. 104, of A. W. Paskell (Twin Coal Company), is effective in place of the freight origin group number and the shipping point heretofore established for this mine.

The petition proposed minimum f. o. b. mine prices for truck shipment for the coals produced at the Crow Hollow No. 3 Mine of the Jefferson Coal Company, which had been effective prior to the order issued in General Docket No. 21 on August 28, 1942, 7 F.R. 6943. This order increased the effective minimum prices 20 cents per net ton, effective October 1, 1942, and this increase is reflected in the minimum f. o. b. mine prices established by this order for these coals.

No relief is granted herein for the coals to be produced by W. J. Eaton (Pine Hollow Coal Company) at a new stripping operation which is designated in the petition as the Gray Bros. Mine for the reason that this operation is a part of the operation designated as Mine Index No. 326 and these coals will take the price classifications and minimum prices which have been established for such coals, in the order issued in Docket No. A-1182 on January 6, 1942.

The petition proposed minimum f. o. b. mine prices for truck shipments for the coals to be produced at the North Lima No. 2 Mine of The East Fairfield Coal Company which are not in accordance with those applicable to comparable coals produced in Mahoning County in District No. 4. The prices established by this order for the North Lima No. 2 Mine of The East Fairfield Coal Company are the same as those established for comparable coals produced in Mahoning County in District No. 4.

The petition proposed a minimum f. o. b. mine price of $1.65 per net ton for the Size Group No. 8 coals produced by George W. Riffle at the Riffle Mine, Mine Index No. 3108, for truck shipment, which price is lower than that established for analogous coals produced in Vinton County, Subdistrict No. 7, of District No. 4. Therefore, a price of $1.85 per net ton, which is the minimum price for analogous coals produced in Vinton County, in Subdistrict No. 7, of District No. 4, has been established in this order for these coals.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 6, 1943.

Director.

PART 338—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 18

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 18 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 18.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in Subdistricts 1 through 8 in District No. 18 for shipment by rail to all market areas to which such coals have not heretofore been priced; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

The following minimum f. o. b. mine prices shall be inserted in § 338.5 in Minimum Price Schedule for District No. 18, as amended, for mines in Sub-Districts 2 through 8, for which minimum prices for rail shipments to certain market areas have heretofore been established, and shall apply for rail shipments to all market areas other than those market areas specifically enumerated for the respective sub-districts, as set forth in § 338.5 in Minimum Price Schedule for District No. 18, as amended.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VI—Selective Service System

PART 603—SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS

[Amendment 140, 2d Ed.]

APPOINTMENT OF DIRECTOR FOR NEW YORK CITY

By virtue of the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 885, 50 U.S.C., Sup. 301-318, inclusive); E.O. No. 8545, 5 F.R. 3779, E.O. No. 9279, 7 F.R. 10177, and the authority vested in me by the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission in Administrative Order No. 26, 7 F.R. 10512, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 603.12-1 to read as follows:

§ 603.12-1 Director of Selective Service for New York City may be appointed. Subject to the approval of the Director of Selective Service, the Governor of New York is authorized to recommend for appointment a second official to whom he may delegate his administrative functions relating to all selective service matters within the city of New York. This second official, hereinafter referred to as the "City Director," if so recommended and appointed, shall have jurisdiction in all selective service matters within the city of New York and in connection therewith shall have all the functions, duties, powers, and responsibilities of a State Director of Selective Service. If and when the City Director is appointed, the State Director of Selective Service for New York shall be relieved from his responsibilities and his functions, duties, and powers with reference to selective service matters within the city of New York: Provided, however, That the City Director shall continue to be subject to such supervision of the State Director of Selective Service as the Governor of New York shall direct, but not otherwise.

2. The foregoing amendment to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

LEWIS B. HERSHEY,
Director.

Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

PART 937—ZINC

[General Preference Order M-11-a as Amended March 20, 1943]

Section 937.2 Supplementary Order M-11-a is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 937.2 General Preference Order M-11-a—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Zinc oxide" means all grades of zinc oxide, including lead free and leaded, produced from ores, concentrates, metallic zinc, or other primary material and from scrap, dross, ashes, skimmings or other secondary material.

(2) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(3) "Producer" means any person producing zinc oxide and any person who has zinc oxide produced for him under toll agreement.

(c) Restrictions—(1) Allocated production. Each producer of zinc oxide shall set aside from his production each month quantities of zinc oxide, to be determined from time to time by the Director General for Operations, to be delivered only upon express direction of the Director General for Operations.

(2) Other production. Each producer of zinc oxide shall ship all his production not set aside pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) so that each customer will receive an equal percentage of the producer's commitments to him.

(d) Exception. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c), a producer may satisfy his commitments to any one customer in full up to but not exceeding 2,000 pounds of zinc oxide during any one month.

(e) Applications for allocations. Any person who in any month cannot otherwise obtain zinc oxide in quantities required to fill his preference rated orders may apply for an allocation of zinc oxide for that month by filing with the War Production Board, Ref: M-11-a not later than the 15th of the month preceding the month in which the allocation is desired, an application on Form PD-62.

(f) Interdepartmental shipments. The restrictions, limitations and prohibitions in paragraph (c) of this order shall apply to any shipments of zinc oxide from any producing branch, division or department of any business enterprise to another branch, division or department in the same or any other business enterprise owned or controlled by the same person.

(g) Limitation of inventories. Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall knowingly make delivery of zinc oxide, and no person shall accept delivery thereof, if the inventory of zinc oxide of the person accepting delivery is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, in excess of the practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet deliveries of the person accepting delivery, on the basis of his current method and rate of operation.

(h) Addressing of communications. All applications, statements or other communications filed pursuant to this order or concerning the subject matter hereof, should be addressed to: War Production Board, Zinc Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-11-a.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Effective date. This amended order shall take effect January 1, 1943.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1099—BEDS, SPRINGS AND MATTRESSES

[Interpretation 1 to Limitation Order L-49, As Amended February 23, 1943]

The following interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 1099.1, General Limitation Order L-49, as amended February 23, 1943:

Some question has arisen as to the effect of L-49 upon the repair and renovation of used coil, flat, and fabric bedsprings. Paragraph (a) (5) of L-49 defines a manufacturer as "any person who manufactures or assembles bedding products . . ." and paragraph (a) (6) defines a renovator as "any person who repairs used bedding products."

Persons who obtain new or used parts, or used bedsprings, which they tear down completely and which they thereafter reassemble into bedsprings are engaged in manufacturing operations regardless of the fact that only used parts may be involved. As manufacturers they become subject to weight and quota limitations on bedsprings contained in L-49. Persons who take used bedsprings and remove only worn parts of such springs which they replace with either new parts or parts which have been used in bedsprings other than the specific ones being repaired are renovators and as such are not subject to any restrictions contained in L-49.

Issued this 20th day of March, 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1107—TRACK-LAYING TRACTORS AND AUXILIARY EQUIPMENT

[Supplementary General Limitation Order L-53-b as Amended March 20, 1943]

REPAIR PARTS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain repair parts necessary to service track-laying tractors for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1107.3 Supplementary General Limitation Order L-53-b—(a) Definitions. (1) "Track-laying tractor" means a vehicle powered by an internal combustion engine, used for pushing or pulling heavy loads, obtaining traction and steered by a full crawler or track-type device but does not include Ordnance models of tank-type construction such as models M–2, M–4 and M–5.

(2) "Repair part" means:

(i) Any part manufactured for use in the repair of track-laying tractors, but shall not mean parts sold to other manufacturers for manufacturing purposes.

(ii) Tools which bear a producer's standard parts number and which are used in servicing track-laying tractors or attachments.

(3) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(4) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of track-laying tractors and repair parts.

(5) "Domestic dealer or distributor" means any person located within the United States or Canada who by a written agreement with a producer has been granted a sales territory for the sale of repair parts within the United States or Canada.

(6) "Export dealer or distributor" means any dealer or distributor who by written agreement with a producer has been granted a sales territory for the sale of repair parts outside the United States and Canada.

(7) "Certificate of minimum requirements" means a declaration in writing by a purchaser pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) of this order.

(8) "War project" means:

(i) A construction project undertaken by or contracted for by or for the account of, the Army, the Navy, Maritime Commission or Defense Plant Corporation or any other construction project granted a preference rating of AA–4 or higher under any order in the P–55 or P–19 series.

(ii) Any other project which shall be so designated by the Director General for Operations.

(9) "Essential civilian operation" means:

(i) The operation of any mine that holds a serial number under Preference Rating Order P–56;

(ii) Any operation directly incident to the production of logs of any species, including the delivery of logs to sawmills, pulp mills or other dealers in or users of logs;

(iii) Any operation directly incident to the planting, growing or harvesting of agricultural products (excluding flowers, shrubs and other plants grown for decorative purposes);

(iv) Any operation directly incident to the discovery, development or depletion of petroleum pools or the extraction, processing or storing of petroleum or petroleum products, or the transportation thereof by pipe line; or

(v) Any other operation or project which shall be so designated by the Director General for Operations.

(10) "United States" means the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(11) "Foreign base" means a construction project located outside the United States or Canada being built for or under the supervision of the War Department, Navy Department or other United States Government Agency by civilian contracting or engineering organizations which normally purchase repair parts from sources located within the United States.

(12) "Military agency" means the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration or any of the following persons when acting as the authorized procurement agents for the Navy:

(i) George A. Fuller Co. and Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp.;

(ii) M. T. Reed Company;

(iii) Siems-Drake, Puget Sound;

(iv) Pacific Naval Air Bases.

(b) Limitations on sales by producers. (1) No producer shall sell or deliver repair parts to any person except:

(i) A military agency,

(ii) A domestic dealer or distributor located within the United States or Canada, or

(iii) Any person (other than a military agency or domestic dealer or distributor) for export outside the territorial limits of the United States and Canada subject to paragraph (b) (2) hereof.

(2) On and after April 15, 1943, no producer shall sell or deliver any repair parts to any person (except a military agency or an export dealer or distributor) for export outside the territorial limits of the United States and Canada, except upon receipt of Form PD–556 approved by the Director General for Operations. In order to receive such approval a purchaser shall file Form PD–556 with the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–53–b.

(3) No producer shall, during the period of July 1, 1942 to June 30, 1943, sell or deliver to or for the combined accounts of the military agencies any repair parts in excess of an aggregate of 40 percent of the value, at invoice price, of his total shipments of such repair parts during such period. No producer shall, during the period of July 1, 1943 to June 30, 1944, sell or deliver to or for the combined accounts of the military agencies any repair parts in excess of an aggregate of 40 percent of the value, at invoice price, of his total shipments of such repair parts during such period. This 40 percent restriction does not limit purchases made by a military agency from domestic dealers or distributors upon a certificate of minimum requirements.

(4) Except as provided in paragraph (b) (5) of this order or upon specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, pursuant to application by letter in triplicate to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref. L–53–b, no producer shall during any calendar quarter sell or ship to any domestic dealer or distributor a quantity of repair parts of a value at invoice price in excess of either $500.00 or 60 percent of the value of such producer's shipments to such domestic dealer or distributor during the preceding six calendar months, whichever is the greater.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (4) of this order, a producer may sell or ship to any domestic dealer or distributor during any calendar quarter repair parts in an amount up to and including 25 percent in excess of the quota of such domestic dealer or distributor as computed in accordance with the terms of paragraph (b) (4) of this order, but any sales or shipments in excess of such quota shall be charged against the quota of such domestic dealer or distributor for the next calendar quarter, and such excess shipments shall not be used in computing any base period quota thereafter.

(c) Limitations on sales by domestic dealers and distributors. (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) (3) and (c) (4) of this order, no domestic dealer or distributor of repair parts shall sell or deliver any repair parts to any person (except a producer or another domestic or export dealer or distributor) unless he has received from such person a separate certificate for each track-laying tractor for which repair parts are sought to be purchased, in substantially the form set forth below, signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, and giving all of the information called for:

Pursuant to the terms of Limitation Order L–53–b of the War Production Board the undersigned certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that the following statements are correct:

(i) _____
Make and model of track-laying tractor for which repair parts are sought

(ii) _____
Factory serial number

(iii) _____
Owner of track-laying tractor

(iv) _____
Type of work track-laying tractor is being repaired to perform (e. g., government construction, mining, logging, agriculture, etc.)

(v) _____
Contract number of war agency or P–19 serial number and rating, if any

(vi) The purchaser hereby certifies that he has registered all construction equipment owned by him pursuant to the terms of Limitation Order L–196.

(vii) The purchaser hereby certifies that the repair parts listed on the purchase order to which this certificate pertains are the minimum quantity of repair parts immediately necessary to put such track-laying tractor in serviceable condition.

(viii) The purchaser hereby certifies that he does not have like parts on hand or on order to repair the above-described track-laying tractor.

_____ _____
Date Name of purchaser

Address of purchaser

(2) No domestic dealer or distributor of repair parts shall sell or deliver:

(i) A quantity of repair parts to any person in excess of such person's certified minimum requirements.

(ii) Any repair parts to any person whose certificate such domestic dealer or distributor knows or has reason to believe is false.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) of this order, a domestic dealer or distributor may sell and deliver repair parts to a purchaser for use on a foreign base under circumstances where the distances involved, the time element, or the lack of shipping facilities make it impracticable to furnish a certificate of minimum requirements, provided such domestic dealer or distributor receives from such purchaser Form PD–556 approved by the Director General for Operations. In order to receive such approval a purchaser shall file Form PD–556 with the Director General for Operations, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–53–b.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) of this order, a domestic dealer or distributor may sell or deliver fuel filters and oil filters in sufficient quantity to permit 500 hours operation if he has received from the purchaser a certificate in accordance with paragraph (c) (1) hereof even though subdivisions (vii) and (viii) of such certificate are not completed.

(d) Procedure for domestic dealer or distributor in placing orders for critical repair parts. (1) A domestic dealer or distributor in placing a purchase order with a producer for a repair part may, if he wishes such purchase order to be entitled to the treatment by the producer required in paragraph (e) of this order, state on the purchase order (i) the name of the person for whom such repair part is being ordered, and (ii) the type of work the track-laying tractor is to be repaired to perform as shown by item (iv) of the certificate of minimum requirements of such person or by Form PD–556 in cases subject to paragraph (c) (3) relating to sales for use on a foreign base. Any repair part received by such domestic dealer or distributor pursuant to such a purchase order shall be delivered only to the person for whom it was ordered or as otherwise directed by the producer from whom it was received. Nothing in the foregoing shall be construed to require a domestic dealer or distributor to place the statements specified above on any order for a repair part placed with a producer for the purpose of building inventory stock or for any other purpose.

(e) Procedure when inventory of producer is insufficient to fill orders. (1) Whenever unfilled orders in the hands of a producer calling for immediate delivery of any repair part shall exceed his inventory of such repair part, he shall, so long as such condition exists, make no sale (except to military agencies and for export pursuant to paragraph (b) (2) of this order) on any purchase order not containing the statements referred to in paragraph (d) (1) of this order and shall apportion his sales of such repair part as follows:

(i) Sales directly to military agencies—not more during any month than 40 percent of his total sales of such repair part during that month.

(ii) Sales to domestic dealers and distributors for delivery to persons engaged on war projects and on foreign bases (as indicated by the purchase order of the dealer or distributor)—not more during any month than 20 percent of his total sales of such repair part during that month.

(iii) Sales to domestic dealers and distributors for delivery to persons engaged in essential civilian operations (as indicated by the purchase order of the dealer or distributor)—not more during any month than 20 percent of his total sales of such repair part during that month.

(iv) Sales for export (except to military agencies and to persons operating on foreign bases)—not more during any month than 15 percent of the total sales of such repair part during that month.

(v) Sales to persons or for purposes other than those specified in subdivisions (i) through (iv) of this paragraph (e) (1) upon authorization of the Director General for Operations on Form PD–556—the remainder of his total sales during the month.

(2) If at any time a producer has no unfilled orders for any of the categories of sales specified in subdivisions (ii), (iii) or (iv) of paragraph (e) (1), he may fill, out of the sales quota allotted to that category, any purchase order in any other of the categories of sales described in said subdivisions (ii), (iii) and (iv).

(3) Each producer shall fill purchase orders within each of the categories of sales specified in paragraph (e) (1) above in the order in which they were received by him.

(4) No producer shall fill any purchase order for a repair part which does not contain the statements specified in paragraph (d) (1) of this order so long as he has on hand unfilled orders for that repair part which do contain such statements.

(f) Filling orders upon specific direction of the Director General for Operations. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this order, a producer or a domestic dealer or distributor shall, upon the specific direction of the Director General for Operations on Form PD–556, make delivery of any repair part to fill any order specified in such authorization, provided that nothing in this paragraph (f) shall authorize the Director General for Operations to reduce a producer's sales of any repair part to the military agencies, during any month, below 40 percent of such producer's total sales of such repair part during that month.

(g) Return of used repair parts. (1) No person (other than a military agency or a person operating on a foreign base) shall purchase any metal repair part from a domestic dealer or distributor unless he:

(i) Delivers to the dealer or distributor concurrently with the purchase a used part (except in the case of repair parts consumed in use, lost or stolen) of similar kind and size for each new repair part purchased by him; or

(ii) Agrees with seller in writing to do so within 30 days or to furnish to the seller within such period a duplicate sales receipt indicating the sale or disposal of such used part through customary scrap channels.

No domestic dealer or distributor shall sell a new repair part to a person to replace a part which such domestic dealer or distributor can recondition by the use of available facilities.

(h) Inventories and allocation of repair parts. (1) The Director General for Operations may from time to time require any designated person, except a military agency, to submit his inventory of repair parts.

(2) Whenever the Director General for Operations determines that a critical shortage of repair parts needed for national defense exists, he may issue a schedule defining such repair parts and may thereupon according to the degree of the shortage and the immediacy of the needs:

(i) Direct any producer, dealer or distributor, except a military agency, to deliver or sell to any other person at regularly established prices and terms such quantities of such repair parts as he may determine to be in excess of the minimum requirements of the person so directed.

(ii) Prohibit any person, except a military agency, from purchasing, delivering or accepting delivery of such repair parts without the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. (1) The provisions of § 944.2 through and including § 944.9 of Priorities Regulation No. 1 as amended, shall not be applicable to any purchase order for track-laying tractor repair parts placed with a producer, dealer or distributor.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (i) (1) hereof, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(j) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, sales, purchase orders and certificates of minimum requirements pursuant to which he has sold repair parts.

(k) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(l) Reports. Any person affected by this order shall file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

(m) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonskins for defense, for private account

(2) Deerskin leather rejected in writ- Order S–201, issued January 1, 1943, is ment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(n) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(o) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to War Production Board, Construction Machinery Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-53-b.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PUMPS

NOTE: Paragraph (d) (1) (vi) amended March 20, 1943

§ 3115.8 Schedule VII to Limitation Order L-217—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this Schedule VII:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of pumps as herein defined.

(3) "Pumps" means gasoline or electric motor driven pumps, skid or trailer mounted, ordinarily used by contractors for dewatering and supply of the types approved by the Associated General Contractors of America (A. G. C.), February 21, 1941, and listed below:

(i) Centrifugal self-priming pumps.
(ii) Diaphragm pumps.
(iii) Triplex piston road pumps.
(iv) Plunger pumps.

This definition does not include Underwriter's approved fire fighting pumps, farm type pumps and industrial type pumps.

(4) "Repair part" means any part manufactured for use in the repair of pumps as herein defined.

(5) "The Military" means the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration and the following persons when acting as the authorized procurement agents for the Navy:

(i) Fuller, Merritt, Chapman and Scott Corporation.
(ii) M. T. Reed Contracting Company.
(iii) Siems Drake Puget Sound.
(iv) Pacific Naval Air Bases.

(6) "New" when applied to pumps, means any pump which has not been sold by a producer or a distributor to a person acquiring it for use, regardless of whether such pump may have been leased to any person by such producer or distributor.

(7) "Copper" means unalloyed copper metal, including unalloyed copper metal produced from scrap.

(8) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds forty percent (40%) of the total weight of the alloy. It shall include alloy metal produced from scrap.

(b) Exemptions. Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to prevent producers from filling orders for pumps placed by or for the account of the military.

(c) Limitation on production and assembly of pumps. (1) On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall put into process any materials for the manufacture of pumps which do not conform to the sizes, types, models and designs established in paragraph (d) hereof. Nothing in this paragraph c) (1) shall be deemed to prohibit the use of any such materials which may have been in transit to such producer or in process by him on that date.

(2) Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to restrict the production of repair parts.

(d) Limitation on sizes and types. Producers are limited to the following sizes, types and models of pumps, and no more than one design is permitted for each such type, size and model:

(1) Self-priming centrifugal pumps (Iron body construction only):

(i) 1½"—3,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (mounted on skids only).
(ii) 2"—10,000 G P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(iii) 3"—20,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(iv) 4"—40,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(v) 6"—90,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(vi) 8"—125,000 G. P H. minimum capacity (four wheel running gear or on skids only).
(vii) 10"—180,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (four wheel running gear or on skids only).

(2) Diaphragm pumps:

(i) 3" single diaphragm on 2 wheel trailer mounting with closed type discharge.
(ii) 4" single diaphragm on 2 wheel trailer mounting with closed type discharge.

(3) Triplex road pumps:

(i) 125 G. P. H. at 500 pounds pressure model mounted on four wheel running gear.

(4) Plunger pumps:

(i) No plunger pumps are to be manufactured for dewatering purposes.

(e) Limitation on painting. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall use striping or trimming on pumps, nor use more than one color finish coat paint on any one pump and its repair parts if painted. Nothing in this paragraph (e) shall be deemed to require the repainting of any pumps or repair parts in any such producer's inventory on March 15, 1943.

(f) Limitations on accessories. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall manufacture, or receive from his supplier for resale, any of the following items, unless such items are in process or on order prior to February 25, 1943:

(1) Hand cranks, other than rope starters, to be furnished as equipment for new single cylinder engine pumps;
(2) Spring axle mountings for new pumps;
(3) Bearings, except plain or agricultural pin type bearings, for axle wheels on new pumps;
(4) Vacuum or pressure gauges, except for resale as special equipment;
(5) Skids, unless made of wood, for new pumps; or
(6) Wheel bushings containing copper or copper base alloy.

(g) Restrictions on producers. No producer, unless actively engaged in the current production of pumps (as indicated by his January, 1943, filing of production and shipment schedules on Form PD-697, pursuant to Limitation Order L-192) shall thereafter enter into the production thereof.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Interpretation 1 to Limitation Order L-245]

The following interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 3133.17 Limitation Order L-245.

Question has arisen as to whether a "publisher" as defined in paragraph (a) (3), may purchase, for resale, books printed by a printer (or book manufacturer).

A printer (or book manufacturer) who was not a "publisher" of books during the base period, 1942, has no quota of paper for the publishing of books in 1943 under the terms of the order. He is engaged in the commercial printing of books for the account of book publishers and as such any paper which he may put into process is limited to such amount as is provided by the terms of Order L-241. Order L-241 excepts from such printer's quota "books" printed for a publisher. Consequently a publisher ordering such books must deduct the tonnage of paper represented by such books from his quota.

As between publishers, however, Order L-245 does not prohibit Publisher A from purchasing books from Publisher B where such books bear the imprint of Publisher B and where the paper for such books is deducted by Publisher B from his quota.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943

PART 3222—DEERSKINS

[General Preference Order M-301]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of deerskins for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3222.1 General Preference Order M-301—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Domestic deerskin" means the skin of any deer, except:

(i) Elk, moose, and caribou skins, and
(ii) Imported deerskin.

(2) "Deerskin leather" means any leather resulting from the tanning of deerskins.

(3) "Put in process" means to soak in water or solution before depilation.

(4) "Military order" means an order for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development, the government of Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom, including its Dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates, or Yugoslavia, or the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(c) Restrictions on processing, splitting, shaving, skiving, distribution and use. (1) No person shall put in process, or continue to process, any domestic deerskin or deerskin leather, except for the following purposes:

(i) To produce suitable leather meeting United States Army specification 9-75, as amended from time to time, or United States Quartermaster Corps Tentative Specification CQD-105, as amended from time to time; or

(ii) To fill a specific military order.

(2) No person shall sell or deliver any domestic deerskin leather, or incorporate or manufacture any domestic deerskin leather into any product, except against a specific military order.

(d) Exceptions. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to:

(1) Any deerskin or deerskin leather which does not meet either of the specifications referred to in paragraph (c) (1) above and cannot be processed by any person into suitable leather meeting either of such specifications: Provided, however, That the color prescribed in either of said specifications shall not be considered a part of said specification within the meaning of this paragraph (d) (1).

(2) Deerskin leather rejected in writing by the United States Army Quartermaster Depot, Chicago, Illinois.

(3) Deerskin leather colored black or dark brown before March 20, 1943.

(4) Any person who at no time processes, splits, shaves, skives, sells, delivers or uses more than 25 deerskins during any calendar month beginning with March, 1943, or causes more than 25 deerskins to be processed, split, shaved, skived, sold, delivered or used for his account during any such month.

(e) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(f) Records. Any person who puts deerskins in process or uses deerskin leather for manufacturing purposes shall preserve such records for not less than two years as will clearly and adequately indicate his compliance with this order.

(g) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports, applications, forms or communications required under or referred to in this order, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Leather and Shoe Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-301.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or who furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority assistance.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Revocation of Suspension Order S-201]

SOUTHERN STOVE WORKS

Southern Stove Works, Inc., Richmond, Virginia, has appealed from the provisions of Suspension Order S-201, (8 F.R. 98) issued January 1, 1943. After reviewing the Company's appeal, it has been determined that the Company was in doubt as to the effect of War Production Board orders upon its operations during the period when its violations occurred and was not wilful or culpably negligent in failing to ascertain the exact effect of such orders. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3155—IMPORTED COTTON YARNS AND FABRICS

[Supplementary Order M-272-a]

§ 3155.2 Supplementary Order M-272-a. Pursuant to paragraph (d) of Conservation Order M-272—Imported Cotton Yarns and Fabrics, which this order supplements, the percentage referred to in said paragraph (d) is hereby raised to 30% for the calendar quarter beginning April 1, 1943, and for every calendar quarter thereafter until such time as a different percentage is established.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 2157—CONTROLLED SHIPMENTS

[Interpretation 2 to General Transportation Order T-1]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued with respect to § 3157.1 General Transportation Order T-1:

Whenever any city or village is specifically referred to in any zone designated on List 1, the boundary of such city or village shall be deemed to include the railroad switching limits as established in duly published rail tariffs.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

[F. R. Doc. 43-4402; Filed, March 22, 1943; 11:24 a. m.]

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Interpretation 2 of CMP Reg. 1]

The following interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 3175.1 of CMP Regulation No. 1, as amended February 27, 1943. The question has been raised as to whether a consumer may place authorized controlled material orders or make allotments exceeding in the aggregate the total amount of his allotment if he intends to cancel the excess before delivery.

Under CMP Regulation No. 1 a consumer is prohibited from duplicating authorized controlled material orders or allotments even though he intends to cancel or reduce his delivery orders to the allotted amount prior to delivery.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen Ration Order 3A,[1] Amendment 1]

RATION BANKING: DEPOSITORS

A rationale for this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order 3A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1305.441 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1305.441 Account opened where dollar account kept. Every account opened for any establishment, or for any activity not connected with a specific establishment, must be opened at a bank carrying a dollar checking account for that establishment or activity. Every account opened for a group of establishments must be opened at a bank carrying a dollar checking account for any establishment of that group. If there is no such dollar checking account, the account may be opened at any bank.

2. Section 1305.443 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1305.443 Number of accounts limited. Not more than one account for any one establishment may be opened for the same rationing program, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration. Accounts for activities not connected with any specific establishment may also be opened, if authorized by the Office of Price Administration.

3. Section 1305.461 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1305.461 Checks and stubs filled out; use of other records in place of stubs. Each check and its stub must be completely filled out before the check may be issued. However, a check register, duplicate voucher or any similar record may be used in place of the check stub. Both check and stub or other record must contain the name of the person to whom the check is to be issued, the date on which it is drawn and the amount of credits to be transferred. The check must bear the depositor's authorized signature or signatures Checks may not be filled out or signed in pencil.

4. Section 1305.473 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1305.473 Depositor replaces altered and lost checks and reports lost checks to banks. A depositor to whom an altered, mutilated or partially destroyed check is returned, or who receives notification of the loss or destruction of a check, must issue a new check to the person to whom the original was issued. He must enter on the stub or other record (used in place of the stub) of the original check the fact that it has been lost, altered, mutilated, partially or completely destroyed, and on the stub or other record of the new check the fact that it replaces the original check. Each depositor shall immediately send his bank a written description of any checks drawn on his account and lost before deposit, together with a statement of the circumstances of the loss and a description of the check issued to replace the lost check.

5. Section 1305.488 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1305.488 Depositor keeps records. A depositor must keep for at least two years all duplicate copies of deposit slips, notices of errors in deposit slips, statements of account made available to him, cancelled checks returned to him, all stubs from which checks have been detached or other record used in place of stubs, returned or unissued checks, and unused and spoiled check forms. He must keep a record of the disposition of each check form, whether or not it is filled out or issued. All records are subject to inspection removal or other disposition only by the Department of Justice, the Office of Price Administration or any other persons designated by the Office of Price Administration.

This amendment shall become effective March 25, 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 11,[1] Amendment 50]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new § 1394.5404 is added; as set forth below:

Miscellaneous Uses

§ 1394.5404 Electric power generation. (a) In the area designated in paragraph (g) of this section, no ration shall be issued or used, on or after April 5, 1943, for the operation of any electric power generation equipment having an aggregate generating capacity of 100 KW., or more (except for emergency operation and except as otherwise provided in this section), unless:

(1) The consumer's electric facilities are not connected with any alternate source of power, as defined in paragraph (b) of this section, and cannot be connected with any alternate source of power without the use of an unreasonable quantity of materials essential to the war effort or without unreasonable expense; or

(2) The substitution of any such alternate source of power is not feasible because of capacity, frequency or other technical characteristics or physical limitations; or

(3) The consumer's generation of electric power is a by-produce of process steam or other requirements, and the discontinuance or reduction of such electric power generation will not result in a material reduction in the use of fuel oil; or

In § 1306.464 (d) (1), the example set forth in Footnote 8 is corrected to read "2" ID 3.67#" instead of "2" OD 3.67#".

In § 1306.464 (d) (2), the reference to paragraphs (b) (3) and (c) (5) of Appendix A is corrected to read (b) (2) and (c) (3) of that Appendix.

(4) Unreasonable interference with the consumer's operations would result from a denial of the ration because of the provisions of this paragraph.

(b) An alternate source of power means electric generating facilities which do not use fuel oil in the generation of electric power.

(c) Where in said area application for such ration is made on or after April 5, 1943, the applicant may, if any of the conditions of subparagraphs (1) to (4) of paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, submit with his application a statement on Form OPA R–1133, in duplicate. If the statement on Form OPA R–1133 is submitted, the Board shall forward one copy thereof to the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board and shall pass upon the application in the manner provided in § 1394.5402. Any ration which the Board may grant to the applicant shall, however, be subject to reduction or modification in accordance with the findings and recommendation of the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board. If the ration is reduced or modified, the applicant shall promptly upon receipt of notice thereof surrender to the board his coupon sheets or delivery receipts for reduction or modification as the case may be. If the applicant does not submit such statement (Form OPA R–1133), the ration requested shall not be granted: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be deemed to forbid the issuance to such applicant of a ration for the emergency operation of the generation equipment for ten (10) days.

(d) Each person in said area to whom a ration was issued prior to April 5, 1943, for the operation of any electric power generation equipment having an aggregate generating capacity of 100 KW., or more, (except where the ration was granted for the emergency operation of the equipment) shall, on April 5, 6 or 7, 1943:

(1) If none of the conditions of subparagraphs (1) to (4) of paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, surrender his coupon sheets or delivery receipts, representing the ration issued to him for the operation of such electric power equipment, to the issuing board, in which event the board will adjust the allowable ration issued for such purpose to the amount the consumer requires for the emergency operation of the electric generation equipment for ten (10) days; or

(2) If any of the conditions of subparagraphs (1) to (4) of paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, submit to the board a statement on Form OPA R–1133, prepared in duplicate. The board shall forward one copy of such statement to the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board. The issuing board will, in accordance with the findings and recommendation of the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board, leave unaffected, reduce, or accelerate the expiration date of, the consumer's ration. If the ration is to be so modified, the issuing board will notify the consumer accordingly, and he shall, in compliance with such notice, promptly surrender to the board his coupon sheets or Delivery Receipts, for such modification: Provided, however, That in no such event shall the consumer's allowable ration issued for such power generation purpose be reduced to an amount less than that required for the emergency operation of the electric generation equipment for ten (10) days.

(e) Notwithstanding that any of the conditions of subparagraphs (1) to (4) of paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, if the consumer shall certify to the board on April 5, 6, or 7, 1943, that he will, within a period not exceeding fifteen (15) days from any such date (but not later than the date his ration may be used pursuant to § 1394.5503 (h)), surrender to the board his coupon sheets or Delivery Receipts, representing his ration, for reduction pursuant to subparagraph (1) of paragraph (d) of this section, he shall not be required to file the statement on Form OPA R–1133, but shall on the date stated by him surrender his ration to the board for such reduction. No such ration shall be used by the consumer after the date fixed by him for the surrender thereof pursuant to this paragraph except as adjusted by the board after such surrender. During the period of such extension the consumer shall not accept transfers of fuel oil for the operation of such electric generation facilities in excess of the amount needed for such purpose.

(f) The findings and recommendation (as may be modified from time to time) of the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board shall continue to limit or define the allowable ration, if any, of any such consumer who submitted a statement on Form OPA R–1133, with respect to all applications which he may make for a ration or further ration for the same purpose pursuant to §§ 1394.5551 or 1394.5552. If at the date of application for a further ration, the Office of Price Administration has not received from the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board its findings and recommendation with respect to any statement on Form OPA R–1133 submitted by the consumer pursuant to paragraph (c) or (d) of this section, the issuing Board shall pass upon the application in the manner provided in § 1394.5402: Provided, That any ration which may be granted on such application shall be subject to reduction or modification in accordance with the findings and recommendation of the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board with respect to any such statement (Form OPA R–1133).

This amendment shall become effective on March 24, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 3,[1] Amendment 43]

SUGAR RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new § 1407.112 is added as set forth below:

Retailers and Wholesalers

§ 1407.112 Surrender of certain expired stamps and certificates in exchange for certificates or reduction of excess inventory. (a) A registered retailer or wholesaler may surrender to the board any stamps numbered 1 through 9 or any expired certificates in exchange for which he delivered before March 19, 1943, and within the periods specified in § 1407.141, the quantity of sugar authorized to be delivered by such stamps and certificates. If his excess inventory as adjusted pursuant to § 1407.107 is equal to or greater than the weight value of such surrendered stamps and certificates, the board shall reduce the excess inventory by the weight value of such stamps and certificates. However, if the weight value of such stamps and certificates is greater than his excess inventory as adjusted pursuant to § 1407.107, the board shall cancel the excess inventory and issue to him a certificate in weight value equal to the difference.

(b) Application for such reduction of excess inventory or a Certificate shall be made on OPA Form No. R–315 on or before April 9, 1943. The application shall state facts establishing compliance with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section and such other information as the board may require. The application shall be accompanied by the stamps and certificates to be surrendered and such stamps shall be pasted on cards as prescribed by § 1407.142.

Effective Date

§ 1407.222 Effective date of amendments. * * *

(pp) Amendment No. 48 (§ 1407.112) shall become effective March 25, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 216 Under § 1499.18 (b) of GMPR]

BACHMAN CHOCOLATE MANUFACTURING CO.

Order No. 216 under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation—Docket No. GF3-2723.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1816 Adjustment of maximum prices through decrease in weight of "Old Sol Bar" manufactured and sold by Bachman Chocolate Manufacturing Company. (a) Bachman Chocolate Manufacturing Company, Mount Joy, Pennsylvania, hereby is authorized to reduce the size and weight of its milk chocolate bar known as "Old Sol Bar" packed 24 bars to the box from 2 ounces to 1¾ ounces net per bar and sell such 1¾ ounce bar at a maximum price no higher than that established for the 2 ounce bar pursuant to the General Maximum Price Regulation. Authorization to reduce the size of "Old Sol Bar" is given on the specific condition that in reducing the size of this bar, Bachman Chocolate Manufacturing Company shall not change or alter its formula for such bar in any manner.

(b) All wholesalers and retailers who purchase "Old Sol Bar" for resale are hereby permitted to sell said bar in its new weight of 1¾ ounces at a price not in excess of the maximum price which they established for the 2 ounce "Old Sol Bar", pursuant to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(c) All sellers are required to continue the same discounts, allowances, and price differentials as they offered in March, 1942: Provided, however, That sellers may change discounts, allowances, and price differentials only if such changes result in prices lower than the maximum price fixed herein.

(d) Bachman Chocolate Manufacturing Company shall mail or cause to be mailed to all persons who purchase "Old Sol Bar" from it for resale, a notice reading as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized us to reduce the weight of our "Old Sol Bar" from 2 ounces to 1¾ ounces. This reduction in weight represents only that part of the cost increase which we were unable to absorb, and permission to decrease our weight was granted with the understanding that no increase in price would be made at either the wholesale or the retail level. The Office of Price Administration does, however, authorize you and all other sellers to sell the new 1¾ ounce bar at a price which is not in excess of the maximum price you established for the 2 ounce bar pursuant to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(e) Bachman Chocolate Manufacturing Company shall attach to or place in each smallest box or other packing unit of "Old Sol Bar," a notice as follows:

The weight of our "Old Sol Bar" has been reduced to 1¾ ounces. The Office of Price Administration has authorized all retailers to sell this 1¾ ounce "Old Sol Bar" for a price not in excess of the maximum price established by each retailer for the 2 ounce "Old Sol Bar", pursuant to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(f) All prayers of the applicant not granted herein are denied.

(g) This Order No. 216 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(h) This Order No. 216 (§ 1499.1816) is hereby incorporated as a section of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 which contains modifications of maximum prices established by § 1499.2.

(i) This Order No. 216 (§ 1499.1816) shall become effective March 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 217 Under § 1499.18 (b) of GMPR]

F. STRAUSS & SON

Order No. 217 under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation—Docket Number 3193-15.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1817 Adjustment of maximum prices of domestic and imported distilled spirits and wines sold by F. Strauss, C. M. Strauss, Irvin Shlenker, Herman Masur and David S. Sherman, a partnership doing business as F. Strauss & Son, 223 East Markham Street, Little Rock, Arkansas. (a) F. Strauss, C. M. Strauss, Irvin Shlenker, Herman Masur and David S. Sherman, a partnership doing business as F. Strauss & Son, 223 East Markham Street, Little Rock, Arkansas (hereinafter referred to as F. Strauss & Son) may sell and deliver imported and domestic distilled spirits and wines without granting, and any person may buy and receive such commodities from F. Strauss & Son without receiving discounts as follows:

For purchases in any one month amounting to:	Discount
$250	2%
350	3%
450	4%
550	5%
750	6%
1,250	7%

(b) F. Strauss & Son shall not otherwise change its maximum prices or its customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change shall result in a lower selling price.

(c) Before or at the time of making each initial sale of domestic or imported distilled spirits or wine after the effective date of this order to a purchaser heretofore entitled to receive the discounts set forth in paragraph (a), F. Strauss & Son shall notify such purchaser in writing as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us to raise our maximum prices for sales of imported and domestic distilled spirits and wines by discontinuing the following discount plan on purchases from us:

For purchases in any one month amounting to:	Discount
$250	2%
350	3%
450	4%
550	5%
750	6%
1250	7%

This permission was granted to us with the understanding that ceiling prices of purchasers from us would not be raised. The Office of Price Administration has not permitted you or any other seller of imported or domestic distilled spirits or wine to raise his prices because of discontinuance of these discounts. OPA requires you to keep this notice for examination.

(d) All prayers of the petition, whether prayers of F. Strauss & Son, or of joint petitioners D. B. Hamilton doing business as United Liquors, 609 West Markham Street, Little Rock, Arkansas, Harry L. Hastings, Marre Sherry Hastings and Trustees for Harry L. Hastings, Jr., a partnership doing business as Moon Distributing Company, 715 East Markham Street, Little Rock, Arkansas, and Dan and F. Silbernagel, a partnership doing business as Silbernagel & Company, 300 Ferry Street, Little Rock, Arkansas, not granted herein are denied.

(e) This Order No. 217 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) This Order No. 217 (§ 1499.1817) is hereby incorporated as a section of Supplementary Regulation No. 14, which contains modifications of maximum prices established by § 1499.2.

(g) This Order No. 217 (§ 1499.1817) shall become effective March 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Supplementary Order 38, as Amended]

ACCOMMODATION SALES OF SERVICE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of Supplementary Order No. 38, as amended, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1305.51 is hereby amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1305.51 Accommodation sales of service. (a) Any seller of services, other than a seller at retail, who in March 1942 had a fixed practice of making accommodation sales of service is hereby authorized to charge, and any person, other than a purchaser at retail, is hereby authorized to pay rates, charges, fees and compensation at an amount not exceeding the aggregate of the cost of direct labor at legally permitted wage rates and materials at actual cost to the seller or at the ceiling price thereof, whichever is lower, for the service sold or supplied.

(b) As used in this supplementary order, "accommodation sales of service" means a sale made, other than at retail, for the convenience or benefit of the purchaser at the aggregate of the cost of direct labor at legally permitted wage rates and materials at actual cost to the seller or at the ceiling price thereof, whichever is lower. It does not include a service rendered without charge, or for less than such costs, or in connection with the sale of any other service or commodity other than an accommodation sale. It does not include sales by cooperatives, non-profit or other organizations, which make sales initially above cost, but later give refunds, bonuses, dividends or other allowances to purchasers.

(c) As used in this supplementary order, "seller at retail" means one who sells to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user. Sales to farmers shall be considered sales at retail.

(d) This Supplementary Order No. 38, as amended (§ 1205.51) shall become effective as of March 15, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 19th day of March 1943.

PART 1340—FUELS

[Rev. MPR 122,[1] Amendment 2]

SOLID FUELS SOLD AND DELIVERED BY DEALERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1340.256 (a) (1) is amended by deleting the phrase "his handling and storage charges in effect during December 15-31, 1941, but not to exceed".

2. In § 1340.256, the text after the headnote of paragraph (c) is designated subparagraph (1) and new subparagraph (2) is added to read as follows:

(c) Lake cargo coal. * * *

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding paragraph (c) (1), the maximum price of solid fuel received during 1943 via water transportation facilities at, and sold from, a dock located on the United States bank of Lake Superior or on that part of the west bank of Lake Michigan north of the Illinois-Wisconsin State line shall be a price for like sales calculated by Rule 1A of § 1340.254, plus:

(i) In the case of bituminous coal prepared at the dock as double-screened or lump sizes, the amount specified for the solid fuels following:

From mines in Districts Nos.:
1, 2, 3, 4 or 6	$.55
7 or 8: low volatile	1.10
7 or 8: high volatile	.80

(ii) In the case of bituminous coal in all other sizes, the increase in the supplier's maximum price for each size of such coal over the weighted average price charged the dealer for the same fuel received via water transportation facilities during 1942.

(iii) In the case of Pennsylvania anthracite, the amount specified for the sizes following:

Size:
Egg, stove and nut	$0.55
Pea	.50
Buckwheat and rice	.45
Barley	.35
Sizes smaller than barley	.30

3. Section 1340.255 (a) (3) is amended by inserting after the phrase "for the purposes of this regulation" the phrase "to the extent the supplier's maximum prices for such sizes do not exceed $7.30 per net ton".

4. Section 1340.259 (a) (5) and the following first two undesignated subparagraphs are revoked.

5. Section 1340.266 (a) (10) and (11) are added to read as follows:

(10) "Weighted average price" is that price obtained by dividing the total amount charged for a size, kind and quality of solid fuel by the total tonnage of the same fuel received or delivered, as the case may be, during the applicable period specified by this regulation.

(11) "District No." refers to the producing districts delineated and numbered by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended.

This amendment shall become effective March 19, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. Order 185,[1] Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

AIROBE COMPANY

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register,* It is hereby ordered:

That Order No. 185 under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation is revised and amended to read as follows:

§ 1499.1421 Approval of maximum prices for sales of "Airobe". (a) On and after December 16, 1942, Airobe Company of New York, New York may sell and deliver, and agree, offer, solicit and attempt to sell and deliver the special blanket made of cellulose and cloth described in subparagraph (1) at prices not in excess of those stated therein, and on and after March 19, 1943, may similarly sell and deliver, and agree, offer, solicit and attempt to sell and deliver the special blankets made of cellulose and cloth described in subparagraphs (2) (3) and (4) at prices not in excess of those stated therein:

(1) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of ten or more layers of paper, three layers of yarn, having a cloth binding, weight approximately two and one-quarter pounds, size 68 inches by 80 inches, $1.25 each, all transportation charges on orders in excess of $50.00 to be absorbed by the seller.

(2) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of six layers of paper and yarn, summer weight of approximately one and one-half pounds, having a cloth binding, size 68 inches by 80 inches, $1.00 each, all transportation charges on orders in excess of $50.00 to be absorbed by the seller.

(3) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of four layers of paper and yarn, summer weight of approximately one pound, having a cloth binding, size 68 inches by 80 inches, $.85 each, all transportation charges on orders in excess of $50.00 to be absorbed by the seller.

(4) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of eight layers of paper and yarn, summer weight of approximately one pound, having a cloth binding, baby blanket size 40 inches by 60 inches, $.68 each, all transportation charges on order in excess of $50.00 to be absorbed by the seller.

(b) On and after December 16, 1942, every establishment selling the special blanket described in subparagraph (1) at retail may sell and deliver and agree, offer, solicit and attempt to sell and deliver the aforesaid special blanket at prices not in excess of those stated therein, and, on and after March 19, 1943, every establishment selling the special blankets described in subparagraphs (2) (3) and (4) at retail may similarly sell and deliver and agree, offer, solicit and attempt to sell and deliver the aforesaid special blankets at prices not in excess of those stated therein:

(1) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of ten or more layers of paper, three layers of yarn, having a cloth binding, weight approximately two and one-quarter pounds, size 68 inches by 80 inches, $2.00 each.

(2) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of six layers of paper and yarn, summer weight of approximately one and one-half pounds, having a cloth binding, size 68 inches by 80 inches, $1.36 each.

(3) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of four layers of paper and yarn, summer weight of approximately one pound, having a cloth binding, size 68 inches by 80 inches, $1.36 each.

(4) "Airobe", a cellulose fibre blanket consisting of eight layers of paper and yarn, summer weight of approximately one pound, having a cloth binding, baby blanket size 40 inches by 60 inches, $1.09 each.

(c) Retail price labels. Before the delivery of any "Airobe" blankets, the manufacturer must attach securely to each blanket so that it is clearly visible, a tag or label, containing in easily readable lettering, the following appropriate statement in this form:

Retail ceiling price, 13 or more layers, 68" x 80" wt. (approximately 2¼ pounds)	$2.00
Retail ceiling price, 6 layers, 68" x 80" summer wt. (approximately 1½ pounds)	1.60
Retail ceiling price, 4 layers, 68" x 80" summer wt. (approximately 1 pound)	1.36
Retail ceiling price, 8 layers, baby blanket size 40" x 60" wt. (approximately 1 pound)	1.09

This may not be removed until after delivery to the consumer.

(d) Notification. Anyone who delivers "Airobe" blankets for the purpose of reselling shall notify the purchaser as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has established a retail ceiling price of $2.00 on "Airobe" thirteen or more layer blankets, of $1.60 on "Airobe" six-layer summer weight blankets, of $1.36 on "Airobe" four-layer summer weight blankets, and of $1.09 on the "Airobe" four-layer summer weight blankets, and of $1.09 on the "Airobe" eight-layer baby blankets. The blankets are so labeled with this price, and you are not permitted to remove this label.

(e) Transportation charges. All transportation charges on orders combining any of the aforementioned commodities in excess of $50.00 shall be absorbed by the seller.

(f) The maximum selling prices set forth shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration. The manufacturing cost for the thirteen or more layer "Airobe" blanket covering the period from the inception of manufacturing operations to March 19, 1943, shall be submitted to the Office of Price Administration within 21 days from such date, also profit and loss statements and balance sheets for the same period, and a list or retail selling prices for such blanket established by leading retail stores during the same period. Within 21 days after concluding three months manufacturing operations on the six-layer summer weight blanket, the four-layer summer weight blanket, and the eight-layer baby blanket, the Airobe Company shall likewise submit to the Office of Price Administration manufacturing costs on such products for such three-month period, profit and loss statements, and balance sheets for the same period, and also a list of retail selling prices for such blankets established by leading retail stores during such period.

(g) This Revised Order No. 185 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

This revised order shall become effective March 19, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 18th day of March 1943.

Pursuant to the authority of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, including section 205 (f) (2) thereof, it is hereby ordered:

§1305.52 Licensing sellers of containers, and of services relating thereto—(a) License required. A license as a condition of selling is required of every person selling any container or any service relating thereto for which a maximum price is established by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 117, 186, 195, or 320,[1] as now or hereafter amended or supplemented, or by any other price regulation now or hereafter issued or amended which makes applicable by reference the provisions of this supplementary order.

(b) License granted. Every person selling any container or any service relating thereto for which a maximum price is established by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 117, 186, 195 or 320, as now or hereafter amended or supplemented, or by any other price regulation now or hereafter issued or amended making applicable by reference the provisions of this supplementary order, is hereby granted a license as a condition of selling such containers and services. The provisions of every regulation of the Office of Price Administration to which this order now is or may hereafter become applicable shall be deemed to be incorporated in the license hereby granted, and any violation of any provisions so incorporated shall be a violation of the provisions of said license. The license granted by this order shall become effective upon the effective date of this order, or when any person becomes subject to the provisions of this order, and shall, unless suspended as provided in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, continue in force so long as and to the extent that any such regulation or any applicable part, amendment or supplement thereof, remains in effect.

(c) Registration and licensing provisions of General Maximum Price Regulation superseded. This supplementary order supersedes the registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] insofar as said sections may be applicable to persons making sales for which a license is required by this order.

(d) Registration of licensees. Every seller hereby licensed may be required to register with the Office of Price Administration at such time and in such manner as the Administrator may hereafter by regulation prescribe.

(e) Suspension of license. Licensees violating any of the provisions of this order or of the license hereby granted or violating any of the provisions of the price regulations specified in paragraph (a) hereof, or violating the provisions of any applicable regulation, order or requirement under Section 202 (b) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, are subject to the license suspension proceedings provided for in said Act. No person whose license is suspended in proceedings under Section 205 (f) (2) of the Act shall, during the period of suspension, sell any container or service as to which his license to sell is suspended. No proceeding for the suspension of a license, and no suspension, shall confer any immunity from any other provision of the Act.

(f) Definitions. When used in this supplementary order the terms:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor, agency, or representative of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Price regulation" means a price schedule effective in accordance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, a maximum price regulation or temporary maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, or any order issued pursuant to any such regulation or schedule.

(3) "Act" means the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

This supplementary order shall become effective March 26, 1943.

PART 1307—RAW MATERIALS FOR COTTON TEXTILES

[MPR 33,[1] Amendment 3]

CARDED COTTON YARNS AND THE PROCESSING THEREOF

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1307.63, paragraphs (d) and (e) are amended and a new paragraph (f) is added, in paragraph (a) of § 1307.64, subparagraphs (2) and (7) are amended, in § 1307.67, subparagraph (5) of paragraph (c) is amended, subparagraph (7) of paragraph (c) is deleted and a new paragraph (j) is added as set forth below:

§ 1307.63 Exempt sales. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 33 shall not apply to:

* * * * *

(d) Sales of dyed carded cotton yarns or the charges for the dyeing of carded cotton yarns;

(e) Sales of yarns composed of cotton blended or in combination with other fibers; and

(f) Sales of thread, meaning any product which is concerted[2] from one or more carded cotton yarns, braided or twisted together, and which is used predominantly for sewing, darning, crocheting, tatting, embroidering or handknitting. This exclusion of thread shall in no event be construed to exclude from this Maximum Price Regulation No. 33 any of the types of yarns specifically listed in the definition of carded cotton yarn set forth in the following section.

§ 1307.64 Definitions of terms used. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 33, the term:

* * * * *

(2) "Carded cotton yarn" means grey or processed yarns which are (i) composed of cotton, (ii) spun on the cotton system and (iii) not subjected to combing in the preparatory processes. This term shall include such products, when made of carded cotton yarn, as sewing twine, bag twine, bag closing twine, broom twine, tufting twine, wrapping twine and twine.

* * * * *

(7) "Thread yarn" means carded cotton yarns sold to a producer or converter for use solely in the production of thread;

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 268,[1] Amendment 5]

SALES OF CERTAIN PERISHABLE FOOD COMMODITIES AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 268 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1103a (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Butter—(1) When sold by a retail store owned or operated by a creamery. The "net cost" to be used by a retail store owned or operated by a creamery and physically separated from the premises of the creamery in calculating a maximum price for any particular score, grade and form of butter which it receives from the creamery and which is manufactured by the creamery shall be that maximum price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 289[2] for sales by the creamery of that particular score, grade and form of butter sold to a wholesaler delivered to the city, town, village or hamlet in which the retail store pricing hereunder is located.

(2) When sold by a retailer who prints. When a retailer packages and prints butter he shall calculate a maximum price per pound for each resulting type of print and package and score or grade of butter. In calculating his maximum price for butter of any particular score in a print or package he shall use as his "net cost" that maximum price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 which would apply to sales of that particular score or grade of butter in such print or package to a wholesaler delivered to the city, town, village or hamlet in which the customary receiving point of the retailer pricing hereunder is located. When a retailer performs the printing and packaging functions in a butter print division apart from his warehouse or individual store and then delivers the printed or packaged butter to his warehouse, the warehouse shall be considered his customary receiving point, and when it is delivered directly from the butter print division to his store, the store shall be considered his customary receiving point.

(3) Limitation on "net cost" when purchased f. o. b. seller's shipping point. When a retailer purchases butter f. o. b. seller's shipping point in no case shall "net cost" exceed the maximum price established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 for sales to him of that particular grade or score and form of butter delivered to his customary receiving point.

2. Section 1351.1103b (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) Additional charges allowed for slaughtering and plucking poultry—(1) Additional charges allowed retailers. A retailer may add to his maximum price otherwise established by this regulation the following:

(i) 10c for a bird killed in accordance with the Hebraic dietary laws, if such killing was done by his employee or an agent or contractor engaged and paid by him.

(ii) 10c for plucking a bird which the retailer buys live and sells live or buys "kosher-killed" and sells "kosher-killed," if such plucking is done by his employee or an agent or contractor engaged and paid by him.

(2) Service charges by persons other than retailers. No person shall charge a consumer more than 10c for killing a bird in accordance with the Hebraic dietary laws and no person shall charge more than 10c for plucking such a bird in accordance with the Hebraic dietary laws. No charges under this sub-paragraph are allowed if the retailer collects a sum listed in sub-paragraph (1) above from the consumer for the same service.

Section 1351.1108 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1108 Fractions of cents. Any calculation of a maximum price for a designated unit of sale or for a greater quantity as provided in § 1351.1104 which results in a fraction of a cent shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent and shall be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more. Any calculation of a maximum price for a quantity less than a designated unit of sale as provided in § 1351.1104 which results in a fraction of a cent shall be increased to the nearest higher cent.

4. Items 3 and 5 in the table of § 1351.1116 (a) are amended to read as follows:

(a) Maximum prices for any transactions after the effective date of this regulation must be calculated on the basis established in this regulation and a retailer will have a new maximum price whenever his "net cost" increases or decreases.

Food commodity	Day of the week on which retailer must calculate maximum prices	Figures to be multiplied by net cost of unit in determining maximum prices under this regulation
		Independent retailer with annual volume			Class 4 Chain retailer with annual volume under $250,000	Class 5 Any retailer (chain or independent) with annual volume of $250,000 or more	Unit of sale for which base maximum selling price must be computed
		Class 1 under $20,000	Class 2 $20,000 but less than $50,000	Class 3 $50,000 but less than $250,000
3. All poultry bought dressed and sold dressed, bought drawn and sold drawn, bought "kosher-killed" and sold "kosher-killed", bought "kosher-dressed-and-plucked" and sold "kosher-dressed-and-plucked", bought split and sold split, or bought cut-up and sold cut-up (boxed and other pack).	Thursday	1.20	1.20	1.20	1.18	1.18	1 pound
5. All poultry bought live and sold on a dressed weight basis, including poultry bought live and sold "kosher-dressed-and-plucked", (multiply live cost per pound by applicable figure in table. This establishes selling price per dressed weight pound).	Thursday	1.28	1.28	1.28	1.26	1.26	1

5. Section 1351.1116 (c) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) "Poultry" means all live, dressed, kosher-killed, "kosher-dressed-and-plucked," split, cut-up, drawn, and eviscerated broilers, fryers, roasters—light, medium and heavy, fowl—light, medium and heavy, capons—light and heavy, stag—light and heavy, old roosters—light and heavy, geese, guineas, squabs, pigeons, young turkeys—light, medium and heavy, old turkeys—light, medium and heavy, and all other forms of poultry sold for human consumption, excluding such day-old or started birds as are sold for development to marketable size or such birds as are sold for breeding purposes.

Poultry sold by the retailer drawn or eviscerated must be sold on a dressed weight basis applying the margin for items 3 or 5 above depending on whether the poultry was purchased live or dressed. No extra charge may be added for drawing or eviscerating. No price may be quoted for poultry on a drawn or eviscerated basis except where poultry is purchased by the retailer quick-frozen or eviscerated or drawn. When poultry is bought live, dressed or drawn and is sold split or cut-up, the aggregate price received through the sale of the cut-up

PART 1370—ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

[MPR 294,[1] Amendment 1]

USED HOUSEHOLD VACUUM CLEANERS AND ATTACHMENTS FOR HOUSEHOLD VACUUM CLEANERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 294 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1370.71a is amended by correcting reference to § 1370.83 to read § 1370.85.

2. Section 1370.73 (b) (8) is added to read as follows:

(8) The maximum price may not be increased because of re-plating, polishing or buffing the cleaner or any of its parts.

3. Section 1370.76 is amended by the addition of the following sentence: "Every factory rebuilt cleaner must be identified by a statement by the manufacturer, which shall be delivered to the purchaser at the time of sale, showing that such cleaner was rebuilt at the factory of the company originally manufacturing such cleaner."

4. Section 1370.77 is amended by inserting after the word "guarantee", the last word in the paragraph, the phrase "or with any guarantee other than that provided for in this regulation."

5. Section 1370.78 (a) (6) is amended to read as follows:

(6) In case excessive mechanical noise, vibration or other evidence of wear is attributable to defective motor bearings, the bearings shall have been replaced.

6. Section 1370.78 (a) (12) is amended to read as follows:

(12) Electric insulation—all cleaners shall have been subjected to a standard test for short circuits and shock hazards.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

7. Section 1370.78 (a) (13) is amended to read as follows:

(13) The vacuum cleaner cord shall have no breaks over its entire length. It shall be at least eighteen feet long, type SV National Board of Fire Underwriters approved vacuum cleaner cord or its equivalent.

8. Section 1370.79 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) "Attachments" means all supplementary devices, new or used, which may be combined with the cleaner to increase the number of its functions and improve its efficiency, except those for which maximum prices are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 111.

9. Section 1370.79 (a) (9) is added to read as follows:

(9) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale to any person other than an ultimate user or his agent.

10. Section 1370.79 (a) (10) is added to read as follows:

(10) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or any representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

11. Section 1370.79 (a) (11) is added to read as follows:

(11) "Private-brand" means a vacuum cleaner not originally offered for sale at retail under the manufacturer's own brand name.

12. Section 1370.85 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Attachment sets. The maximum price for the sale at retail of attachment sets (except where any price in paragraph (f) of this section includes attachment sets) shall be as follows:

1. Standard attachment sets	$5.50
2. Deluxe attachment sets	8.50
3. The maximum price for a tank cleaner may be increased no more than $3.00 when sold with a set of deluxe attachments.

13. Section 1370.85 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) The maximum price for the sale at wholesale of a rebuilt used household vacuum cleaner or set of attachments is 62½% of the maximum price at retail.

14. Section 1370.85 (e) is re-designated as § 1370.85 (f).

15. Section 1370.85 (f) is re-designated as § 1370.85 (g).

16. A new § 1370.85 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) The maximum "as is" or "rebuilt" price of any private-brand cleaner not specifically listed in this section shall be the maximum price allowed for the same model or type cleaner produced by the same manufacturer under his own name.

17. The new § 1370.85 (f) is amended by deleting from this paragraph, the vacuum cleaners known as Filter Queen and Healthmore, and the Bee-Vac Birtman, Cadillac-Clements, and Universal hand cleaners.

18. The new § 1370.85 (f) is amended by deleting from this paragraph, General Electric Model 69, and Singer Model R-5.

19. The new § 1370.85 (f) is amended by inserting the maximum wholesale "as is" price for the models of Hoover cleaners rebuilt by the Hoover company as follows:

Model:	Maximum wholesale "as is" price

PART 1438—NONMETALLIC MINERALS

[MPR 347]

MICA

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for mica by a specific maximum price regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

AUTHORITY: § 1438 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729; 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

SECTION 1 Maximum prices for scrap mica and unground mica schist. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 and of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] shall not apply to sales or deliveries of scrap mica and of unground mica schist.

SEC. 2 Maximum prices for ground mica and mica schist and for water-washed mica—(a) Sales or deliveries of grades of ground mica and mica schist, water-washed mica, and micronized mica sold or offered for sale by the seller during March, 1942—(1) Dry ground mica and mica schist and water-washed mica. (i) The maximum prices for dry ground mica and mica schist and for water-washed mica shall be $5.00 a ton above the prices at which the seller made the greatest number of deliveries of the same grades of mica or mica schist during March, 1942, to purchasers of the same class.

(ii) If no delivery of a particular grade of such mica, mica schist, or water-washed mica was made by a seller during March, 1942, to a particular class of purchasers, his maximum price for that grade to that class of purchasers shall be the price at which he made the greatest number of offers to deliver the same grade in March, 1942, to purchasers of the same class.

(2) Wet ground mica and mica schist and micronized mica—(i) All such sales or deliveries, except as provided in paragraph (a) (2) (ii) of this section. (a) The maximum prices for water-ground mica and mica schist and for micronized mica shall be ¼¢ a pound above the prices at which the seller made the greatest number of deliveries of the same grades of mica or mica schist during March, 1942, to purchasers of the same class.

(b) If no delivery of a particular grade of such mica, mica schist, or micronized mica was made by a seller during March, 1942, to a particular class of purchasers, his maximum price for that grade to that class of purchasers shall be the price at which he made the greatest number of offers to deliver the same grade in March, 1942, to purchasers of the same class.

(ii) Sales or deliveries of such water-ground mica by David T. Vance and the Newdale Mica Company. David T Vance, Plumtree, North Carolina, and the Newdale Mica Company, Erwin, Tennessee, may sell and deliver, and any person may buy or receive from David T. Vance or the Newdale Mica Company, such water-ground mica at prices not in excess of $10.00 per ton above the prices at which such seller made the greatest number of deliveries of the same grade of mica during March, 1942, to purchasers of the same class.

(b) All other sales or deliveries of ground mica and mica schist, water-washed mica, and micronized mica.

Whenever a seller is unable to determine his maximum price or prices under paragraph (a) of this section because he did not sell or offer to sell a particular grade of mica during March, 1942, or because he did not sell to the same class of purchasers during March, 1942, he shall determine the net price or prices at which he expects to sell his product and shall then file such net price or prices with the Office of Price Administration for approval as his maximum price or prices. Such proposed selling price or prices shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Second and D Streets, S. W., Washington, D. C., within 15 days after the first sale made on or after March 26, 1943.

When filing such prices with the Office of Price Administration, the seller shall set forth, in addition to the net prices, his list prices, and all discounts, allowances, and differentials for all classes of buyers, a description and identification of the commodity, including the mesh size and grade or quality, a statement of facts differentiating such commodity from the other commodities sold by the seller, a statement showing how the proposed price was determined, and a description of the use or uses for which the commodity is to be produced.

Pending action by the Price Administrator on prices submitted for approval under this paragraph (b), any such seller may sell, deliver, exchange, or offer to sell, deliver or exchange, and any person may buy, offer to buy or receive from such seller any such commodity at the price submitted for approval. In the absence of notice to the contrary from the Office of Price Administration within thirty days after a seller files such selling prices with the Office of Price Administration, the prices filed shall stand approved and shall be the maximum prices applicable to that sale and to subsequent sales. If, however, the Price Administrator disapproves the prices submitted, the selling prices shall be revised downward to the maximum prices which the Price Administrator shall approve and any payment made after March 26, 1943, in excess of the prices so approved may be required to be refunded to the buyer within fifteen days after the date of the written instrument informing the seller of such revision. Notice of such revision will be given to the seller by letter in the name of the Price Executive of the Non-Ferrous Metals Branch of the Office of Price Administration. At the request of the seller, however, if made within thirty days from the date of such notice, the notice of disapproval and the revised price will be incorporated in an order.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices for punch and sheet mica—(a) Strategic mica. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 and of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of strategic punch and sheet mica.

(b) Nonstrategic mica—(1) Domestically produced mica. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 and of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of domestically produced nonstrategic punch and sheet mica.

(2) Imported mica. The maximum prices established by Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12[2] to the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to all nonstrategic punch and sheet mica imported into the forty-eight States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 4 Maximum prices for fabricated mica produced from punch or sheet mica.—(a) Strategic mica. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347, except as provided in Section 14, paragraph (b), and of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of fabricated mica produced from strategic punch or sheet mica.

(b) Nonstrategic mica. The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall continue to apply to sales and deliveries of fabricated mica produced from nonstrategic punch and sheet mica. In addition, the reporting provisions of Section 14, paragraph (b), of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347, shall apply to domestic producers of fabricated mica produced from nonstrategic punch and sheet mica.

SEC. 5 Maximum prices for mica splittings and built-up mica produced therefrom. The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall continue to apply to sales and deliveries of mica splittings and built-up mica produced therefrom. In addition, the reporting provisions of Section 14, paragraph (b), of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347, shall apply to domestic producers of built-up mica.

SEC. 6 Maximum charge for bags. Every seller may add to his maximum prices for dry ground mica and mica schist and for water-washed mica an amount not greater than the cost of the bags in which the mica is shipped.

SEC. 7 Transportation practices. A seller may not change the transportation practices which he had in effect during March, 1942, if such change would result in higher prices to his customers.

SEC. 8. Prohibition against selling mica at prices above maximum prices. On and after March 26, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver any mica and no person shall buy or receive any mica in the course of trade or business from any seller at a price in excess of the maximum prices established by this regulation and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do so.

SEC. 9 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth above may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 10 Export sales. Export sales of mica shall be subject to the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11 Idle or frozen materials. The maximum price at which any person may sell or deliver any idle or frozen mica shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 204[4] on Idle or Frozen Materials Sold Under Priorities Regulation No. 13.

SEC. 12 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In an appropriate situation, where an application for adjustment or a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

SEC. 13 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to mica, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 14 Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales or deliveries of mica, and every person making purchases or accepting delivery of mica in the course of trade or business, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long a period as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect complete and accurate records of each such sale, purchase, or delivery showing the date thereof, the name of the purchaser or seller, the quantity and kind of commodity sold, purchased, or delivered, and the price received or paid therefor, and each such seller shall keep a record of all discounts, differentials and allowances which the seller had in effect during March, 1942, with a proper identification of each such discount, differential and allowance.

(b) On or before May 1, 1943, every domestic producer of ground mica and mica schist, water-washed mica, micronized mica, fabricated mica, and built-up mica shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a copy of his current price lists and discount schedules or other statements setting forth his current selling prices for all classes of buyers, indicating in each instance his maximum price as determined by this regulation.

(c) Such person shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration, and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section, as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

SEC. 15. Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347, or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

SEC. 16 Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Applications for adjustment. The following adjustment provisions (subparagraphs (1) and (2)) permit the granting of relief to producers who are unable to maintain or expand their production under their existing maximum prices whenever, under (1), there is a general shortage in the essential supply of the commodity, or, under (2), the loss of the seller's production would result in higher prices to consumers. The extent of relief to be granted under each provision is set forth therein.

(1) Whenever it appears that a shortage exists or threatens to exist in the essential supply of any grade of mica and that a producer of such grade is unable to maintain or expand his production at his maximum price or prices, the Office of Price Administration may, either on application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[1] or on its own motion, adjust his maximum price or prices by an amount necessary to permit the maintenance or expansion of such production upon a reasonable operating margin. In determining such margin, consideration will be given to such factors as:

(i) Revenue from sales of such grade and from all other sources, and

(ii) Production, mining, development, milling, processing, and transportation costs, administrative and sales expenses, depreciation and depletion charges, taxes (excluding Federal and State income taxes), and capital investment.

(2) Whenever it appears that the loss of a seller's production of any grade of mica would force his customers to resort to higher priced sources of supply and that the seller is unable to maintain his production at his maximum price or prices, the Office of Price Administration may, either on application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 or on its own motion adjust his maximum price or prices by an amount adequate to cover his operating costs: Provided, however, That in no instance will the seller's maximum price be increased to a price in excess of the general level of prices prevailing for alternative sources of the supply of that grade. The term "operating costs" shall include the cost of labor, maintenance, supplies, power, taxes other than State and Federal income taxes, insurance, workmen's compensation, royalties, and other direct expenses, depreciation and depletion (whenever practicable as determined by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the computation of the Federal income tax), and reasonable costs of selling and administration.

(3) Before filing an application for adjustment under the provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2), it is suggested that each applicant obtain from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement of the specific information that will be necessary in order that his application may receive prompt action.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 may file a petition for an amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 17. Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347, the term: (1) "Grade" means mesh, size, color, quality, or other classification used by the seller to differentiate his products.

(2) "Ground mica and mica schist" means mica and mica schist ground in the United States, whether from domestic or imported scrap or crude material. The so-called foliated talc produced by the Victor Mica Company shall be considered a grade of mica schist.

(3) "Idle or frozen materials" means any commodity, accessory, part, assembly or product not in a form normally sold by the seller in the ordinary course of his business and sold or delivered pursuant to Priorities Regulation No. 13 issued by the Division of Industry Operations of the War Production Board on July 7, 1942.

(4) "Micronized mica" means mica micronized in the United States, regardless of the source of the scrap or ground mica treated.

(5) "Nonstrategic mica" means mica that is not classified as strategic by the War Production Board.

(6) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(7) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller of setting different prices for commodities or services for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, distributor, dealer, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, large consumer, medium consumer, small consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale. Customary differentials in discounts on price list goods shall be among the criteria which establish differences among classes of purchasers.

(8) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, lease, transfer, and deliver, and contracts and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sale," "selling," "sold," "seller," "buy," "purchase" and "purchaser," shall be construed accordingly.

(9) "Strategic mica" means mica classified as strategic by the War Production Board.

(10) "Water-washed mica" means the mica produced by the operations of the Harris Clay Company and the Carolina China Clay Company in connection with their clay operations or mica produced by similar operations.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 18. Applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 347 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 19. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable only to the forty-eight states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

Effective Date

This regulation shall become effective March 26, 1943.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

JOHN E. HAMM,
Acting Administrator.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 343 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

JOVAN LABORATORIES, INC., NEW YORK CITY

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1779 Approval of maximum prices for sales of Hexovan Tablets—(a) Maximum prices. Maximum prices for sales by any seller of Hexovan Tablets are established as follows:

(1) Sales other than sales on prescription.

	Per bottle of 100 tablets
Sales to wholesalers	$0.83
Sales to retailers	1.00
Sales at retail	1.50

(2) Sales on prescription. The maximum prices established by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not apply to sales on prescription of Hexovan Tablets. The maximum price for a sale on prescription of Hexovan Tablets shall be determined by the person making the sale on prescription in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that no report of the maximum price so determined need be filed as required by that section.

(b) Discounts and allowances. Any seller making sales of Hexovan Tablets shall apply to the maximum prices established for such sales in paragraph (a) all quantity differentials, trade practices, credit terms, practices relating to the payment of shipping charges, and other customary discounts and allowances which were in effect in March 1942 on sales of Jovan Sulphur Compound Tablets by such seller or if such seller did not sell Jovan Sulphur Compound Tablets in March 1942, on sales of the estrogen most comparable to Hexovan Tablets which such seller sold in March 1942.

(c) Definitions. When used in this order the term:

(1) "Hexovan Tablets" refers to a synthetic estrogen containing 2.0 mg. hexestrel manufactured by Jovan Laboratories, Incorporated.

(2) "Jovan Sulphur Compound Tablets" refers to coated tablets containing sulphur manufactured by Jovan Laboratories, Incorporated.

(d) Marking packages with retail ceiling price. On and after March 20, 1943, Jovan Laboratories, Incorporated, shall mark the carton in which it packages each bottle of 100 Hexovan Tablets as follows: "Ceiling price $1.50."

This legend shall be printed or stamped in letters at least one quarter as large as those used for the name of the product on the container to be sold by the seller at retail to the ultimate consumer, when it is not sold on prescription, and the type shall be sufficiently bold and the words shall be printed or stamped in a color which sharply contrasts with the background so that the words are clearly legible. No retailer, except a person making a sale on prescription, shall make sales of Hexovan Tablets unless the package is marked with the ceiling price as required by this paragraph.

(e) Notification of maximum prices by Jovan Laboratories, Incorporated to wholesalers. Jovan Laboratories, Incorporated shall supply to each wholesaler before or at the time of its first delivery of Hexovan Tablets to such wholesaler a written notification of maximum prices as follows:

OPA has authorized us to charge wholesalers not more than $.83, less customary discounts and allowances, for one bottle of 100 Hexovan Tablets.

Wholesaler's maximum prices for sales of one bottle of 100 Hexovan Tablets to retailers are established at $1.00 per bottle, less customary discounts and allowances.

Retailer's maximum prices for sales of one bottle of 100 Hexovan Tablets are established at $1.50 per bottle, less customary discounts and allowances.

OPA requires that you keep a copy of this notice for examination.

(f) This Order No. 343 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This Order No. 343 (§ 1499.1779) shall become effective March 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

[Order 344 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

DOW CHEMICAL COMPANY

Maximum Prices Authorized under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, Order No. 344.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1780 Approval of maximum prices for sales of Coaladd "D. C. W." produced by Dow Chemical Company, Midland, Michigan—(a) Maximum prices for sales by Dow Chemical Company to Johnson March Corporation. The maximum prices f. o. b. Midland, Michigan, for sales by Dow Chemical Company, of Midland, Michigan, of Coaladd "D. C. W.", a coal dusting composition prepared by it for the Johnson March Corporation of New York, New York, to the Johnson March Corporation, shall be a price equal to the cost of materials plus $6.50, per ton of Coaladd "D. C. W." The cost of materials shall be considered to be:

(i) In the case of materials for which the maximum price for sales thereof by the Dow Chemical Company has been established under any regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, the maximum price so established.

(ii) In the case of other materials, the actual cost of such materials delivered to the Dow Chemical Company, but not in excess of the maximum price therefor, delivered to the Dow Chemical Company, as established under any regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Maximum prices for sales of Coaladd "D. C. W." by Johnson March Corporation: (1) The maximum price for sales of Coaladd "D. C. W." to any class of purchasers by the Johnson March Corporation shall be the maximum price established for sales by it under the General Maximum Price Regulation to a purchaser of the same class of that formula of Coaladd "D. C. W." which it sold and delivered during March 1942.

(2) Johnson March Corporation shall apply to the maximum prices set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph all discounts and allowances and practices with regard to transportation costs which were in effect in March 1942 on its sales of Coaladd "D. C. W."

(c) This Order No. 344 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective March 20, 1943.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[MPR 346,[1] Amendment 1]

CORN

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 346 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2 Prohibition against dealing in corn at prices above the maximum prices. On and after March 12, 1943 regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall in the course of trade or business sell, deliver, buy or receive corn at prices above the maximum prices established by this regulation, nor shall any person agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, however, That any contract made and entered into on and between January 13, 1943, and March 11, 1943, both dates inclusive, which complies with Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 25, may be performed in accordance with the terms and provisions thereof, notwithstanding any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 346. However, prices lower than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged and paid.

2. Section 11 (a) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11 Maximum prices for other grades, classes and kinds of corn—(a) Yellow corn. The maximum prices for No. 1 yellow corn at all points shall be the same as the maximum prices determined under this regulation for No. 2 yellow corn. The maximum prices for all other grades of yellow corn at all points, when the grading factors which determine these prices are any factors other than moisture content, shall be the respective prices per bushel established by this regulation for No. 2 yellow corn, less the amounts set forth below:

	Cents
No. 3 yellow	½
No. 4 yellow	1
No. 5 yellow	1½
Sample yellow	2

The prices established by this regulation for all grades of yellow corn are maximum prices for these grades having a moisture content of 15½ per cent or less. For each one-half per cent or fraction thereof, of moisture in excess of 15½ per cent, the maximum price for each grade shall be decreased ½ cent.

3. Section 11 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(b) White corn. (1) The maximum prices per bushel for No. 1 and No. 2 white corn in carload or less than carload quantities, at the terminal basing points, shall be:

Chicago	$1.23½
Milwaukee	1.23½
Duluth and Superior	1.21¼
Minneapolis and St. Paul	1.18
Peoria	1.22½
St. Louis and East St. Louis	1.21¼
Kansas City	1.14
St. Joseph, Mo.	1.14
Omaha and Council Bluffs	1.14
Sioux City	1.14

White corn for the purpose of this regulation shall include mixed corn containing 95 per cent or more of white corn.

The maximum prices for all other grades of white corn at all points, when the grading factors are any factors other than moisture content, shall be the price per bushel established by this paragraph for No. 1 or No. 2 white corn, less the respective amounts set forth below:

	Cents
No. 3 white	½
No. 4 white	1
No. 5 white	1½
Sample white	2

The prices established for all grades of white corn are maximum prices for these grades having a moisture content of 15½ per cent or less. For each one-half per cent or fraction thereof, of moisture in excess of 15½ per cent, the maximum price for each grade shall be decreased ½ cent.

This amendment shall become effective March 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

PART 1526—MARKETING FUEL OIL

[Supp. Order 1 to Petroleum Distribution Order 3]

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created in certain areas a shortage in the supply of fuel oil for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest, to promote the national defense, and to provide adequate supplies of fuel oil for military and other essential uses:

§ 1526.2 Supplementary Order No. 1 to Petroleum Distribution Order No. 3.—(a) Definitions. The definitions of Petroleum Distribution Order No. 3 shall apply in this order.

(b) Restrictions on delivery of fuel oil for electric power generation. Notwithstanding the provisions of Petroleum Distribution Order No. 3, on and after April 8, 1943 no person may deliver or otherwise supply fuel oil to any person for the operation of any electric power generation equipment having an aggregate generating capacity of 100 kw. or more, and no person may accept delivery of fuel oil for such purpose, unless the person receiving fuel oil for such purpose has complied with § 1394.5404 of Ration Order No. 11, as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration, and has furnished to the delivering supplier at the time of the first delivery on or after April 8, 1943, a certification in substantially the following form signed by a duly authorized official:

(Date)

To the Petroleum Administrator for War and the delivering supplier:

The undersigned certifies that he has complied with the terms of § 1394.5404 of Ration Order No. 11, as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration, with the terms of which he is familiar.

(Name of person receiving fuel oil for operation of power generation equipment)

(Signature of duly authorized official)

(Address of such person).

This certification shall constitute a representation to the Petroleum Administrator for War and to the delivering supplier, and the delivering supplier is entitled to rely on such representation unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(c) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the District Director in Charge, Petroleum Administration for War, 122 East 42nd Street, New York, New York, Ref: SPD 3.

(d) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(e) Area of applicability. This order shall apply only to any person, or to the delivery of fuel oil, in any portion of District One, except that portion of the State of Florida west of the Apalachicola River.

Issued this 19th day of March 1943.

[Petroleum Directive 66]

PART 1527—MARKETING ASPHALT

The most effective utilization of petroleum requires that the number of grades of asphalt be limited to the minimum necessary to fulfill essential civilian and war demands, contributing thereby to the best use of the transportation and storage facilities available for asphalt; and the following operating directive is deemed necessary and appropriate, to promote the national defense, and to provide adequate supplies of petroleum for military and other essential uses:

§ 1527.1 Petroleum Directive 66—(a) Manufacture of asphalt. No asphalt or asphaltic products for paving purposes or dust palliatives other than the grades specified in paragraph (b) shall be manufactured after the effective date of this directive.

(b) Grades of asphalt. The grades of asphalt and asphaltic products for paving purposes which may be manufactured after the effective date of this Directive are:

Asphalt cements:
Penetration Ranges—50–60, 60–70, 85–100, 120–150, 150–200, [2]200–300.
Federal Specifications—[2] SS–A–706a (November 26, 1940) and SS–R–406a (April 25, 1942).

[1] Same specifications as 150–200 penetration asphalt except that the softening point shall be 90–125 degrees Fahrenheit, and penetration at 77 degrees Fahrenheit, 100 grams, 5 seconds, shall be 200–300.

[2] The test, Organic Matter Insoluble, may be waived.

Medium curing cutback asphalts:
MC–1, MC–2, MC–3, MC–5.

[Order 19A]

PART 17—INTERNATIONAL RADIOTELEPHONE COMMUNICATIONS

TERMINATION OF CERTAIN COMMUNICATIONS

Whereas, the Board of War Communications has determined that the national security and defense and the successful conduct of the war demand

[2] Rapid curing cutback asphalt RC–1 may be manufactured only when this product is to be transported from a refinery to a terminal via tank ship or barge.

the termination of certain international radiotelephone communications;

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in the Board by Executive Order No. 8964 (6 F.R. 6367) dated December 10, 1941, Order No. 19 (7 F.R. 7917) dated September 30, 1942, is hereby amended to read as follows:

It is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1714.1 Termination of certain international radiotelephone communications. From and after the date hereof, (a) non-governmental business radiotelephone calls between the United States and Great Britain shall be permitted subject to the prior approval thereof from the Office of Censorship. No personal radiotelephone calls shall be permitted between the United States and Great Britain.

(b) No non-governmental business or personal radiotelephone call shall be made to or from any foreign point outside of the Western Hemisphere other than Great Britain, or to or from the Bahama Islands or Jamaica, unless such call is made in the interest of the United States or the United Nations and unless an agency of the United States Government sponsors such call and obtains prior approval therefor from the Office of Censorship: Provided, however, That this provision shall not apply to American press calls or radio broadcast programs, or to such other press calls and radio programs as may be specifically approved by the Office of Censorship.

(c) No calls of any nature, over the radiotelephone circuits under the jurisdiction of the United States, no matter where such calls may originate, unless sponsored and approved as provided in paragraph (b), shall be permitted to, from, or on behalf of, the following thirteen countries: Egypt, Finland, France, Iceland, Iran, Ireland, Latvia, Lithuania, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and Turkey.

(d) Personal calls other than those prohibited in the foregoing paragraphs may be completed between two points in the Western Hemisphere.

Subject to such further order as the Board may deem appropriate.

Nothing herein shall apply to existing regulations governing the use of cable, telegraph or radiotelegraph communications.

BOARD OF WAR COMMUNICATIONS.
JAMES LAWRENCE FLY,
Chairman.

Attest: March 17, 1943.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Navy

PART 6—REGULATIONS FOR SECURITY OF PORTS AND THE CONTROL OF VESSELS IN THE NAVIGABLE WATERS OF THE UNITED STATES

Pursuant to the authority contained in section 1, Title II of the Espionage Act approved June 15, 1917, 40 Stat. 220, as amended by the Act of November 15, 1941, 55 Stat. 763 (U.S.C. Title 50, sec. 191, 191a), and by virtue of the Proclamation and Executive Order issued June 27, 1940 (5 F.R. 2419), and November 1, 1941 (6 F.R. 5581), respectively, the regulations relating to the control of vessels in the navigable waters of the United States, are hereby amended as follows:

By amending §§ 6.3–5 to 6.3–70, inclusive, of Subpart C, to read as follows:

The Port of New York

§ 6.3–15 Hudson River, New York.—(a) Anchorage No. 16. Northward of a line on a range with the north side of the north pier of the Union Dry Dock and Repair Company Shipyard, Edgewater, N. J.; westward of a line ranging 25° true from a point 120 yards east of the east end of said pier to a point 500 yards from the shore (915 yards from Fort Lee flagpole) on a line bearing 100° true and ranging between the Fort Lee flagpole and the square chimney on the Medical Center Building at 168th Street, Manhattan; and southward of said line ranging between the Fort Lee flagpole and the square chimney of the Medical Center.

(1) Subject to the provisions for naval anchorage No. 19, the Captain of the Port may shift the position of, or clear the area of, any vessel so moored as to obstruct the use of this area for additional anchorage of naval vessels when found necessary.

(b) Anchorage No. 17. Northward of a line bearing 66° true ranging between the south face of the building known as "Ben Marden's Riviera" north of the George Washington Bridge at Fort Lee, N. J., and the bell tower of the "Cloisters" at Fort Tryon Park, Manhattan; westward of lines ranging 29° true from spar buoy (lat. N. 40°51'34", long. W. 73°56'54") to spar buoy (lat. N. 40°52'27", long. W. 73°56'16"); thence 20° true to spar buoy (lat. N. 40°54'17", long. W. 73°55'23"); thence 15° true to spar buoy (lat. N. 40°56'20", long. W. 73°54'39"); and southward of a line (bearing 104° true) on a range with the latter buoy and the stack of the Yonkers Sewage Disposal Plant: Provided, That in order to give free passage for ferry boats, no vessel shall anchor within 300 yards of the line of the Englewood, N. J. to Dyckman Street, Manhattan, N. Y. ferry.

(1) Subject to the provisions for naval anchorage No. 19, the Captain of the Port may shift the position of, or clear the area of, any vessel so moored as to obstruct the use of this area for additional anchorage of naval vessels when found necessary.

(1) Subject to the provisions for naval anchorage No. 19, the Captain of the Port may shift the position of, or clear the area of, any vessel so moored as to obstruct the use of this area for additional anchorage of naval vessels when found necessary.

(d) Anchorage No. 18–B. Northward of the south side of West 181st Street, prolonged; eastward of a line ranging 28° true from Jeffreys Hook Light on Fort Washington Point and tangent to the east shore of the river at Inwood Hill Park; and southward of the line of the south ferry rack, extended due east, at Dyckman Street, Manhattan, N. Y.

(1) Subject to the provisions for naval anchorage No. 19, the Captain of the Port may shift the position of, or clear the area of, any vessel so moored as to obstruct the use of this area for additional anchorage of naval vessels when found necessary.

(e) Anchorage No. 19 (Naval Anchorage). An anchorage is defined and established for the mooring of naval vessels northward of the south side of West 72nd Street, Manhattan, prolonged; eastward of the east channel line of the Federally improved Weehawken-Edgewater channel, said east channel line being extended to a point opposite West 156th Street; thence eastward of a line bearing 17° true ranging between the end of the pier at the foot of West 134th Street and a point on the George Washington Bridge 250 yards westward of the air beacon on the east bridge tower; and southward of said bridge: Provided, That, in order to give free passage for ferry boats, no vessel shall anchor within a limit of 300 yards of the line of the West 125th Street, Manhattan to Edgewater, N. J. ferry.

(1) In the discretion of the Captain of the Port, small commercial or pleasure vessels may anchor in this area shoreward of a line extending from the channelward end of the New York Central Railroad pier at the foot of West 70th Street to the channelward end of the pier at the foot of West 129th Street and shoreward of the pierhead line as established by the Secretary of War, between West 134th Street, and a prolongation of the bridge over the New York Central Railroad tracks located 1,000 feet south of the George Washington Bridge.

(2) The Captain of the Port may grant permission for one stake boat to occupy an area in the westerly 200-yard portion of the naval anchorage.

(3) The Captain of the Port may permit limited temporary anchorage, not to exceed 24 hours, of commercial vessels awaiting berths in the westerly portion of the naval anchorage south of West 135th Street when use of the anchorage of naval vessels will permit.

(4) The established anchorages for naval vessels having been found inadequate at times when large numbers of them are in the harbor a numbered series of anchorages is defined and established, as shown on Key Chart No. 1, and Key Chart No. 2 (not published herein) in order that when a necessity for additional anchorages arises, permission may be given naval vessels to anchor at designated points serially numbered from 2 to 40 for capital ships, from 100 to 129 for intermediate ships, from 213 to 399 for destroyers and small craft, and from 508 to 611 for the anchorage of destroyers and small craft on the east side of the river, when the space is not required for capital or intermediate ships. Berths 16 to 19, 546, 547, and 551 to 555, are for use only on occasions when the other numbered berths available are not sufficient for the accommodation of the naval ships present. The Captain of the Port, on request from the proper naval authorities, may grant permission to occupy the numbered anchorages outside of, or extending outside of, naval anchorage No. 19, provided those specified in the request can be made available, commercial conditions at the time being given proper consideration. If, in his opinion, there are reasons why the anchorage or anchorages asked for should not be assigned, he will confer with the naval officers making the request, and if other numbers can be agreed upon, will authorize their use; otherwise he will communicate the request to the Secretary of the Navy with a statement of the circumstances and with his recommendation.

Special Anchorages for Pleasure Vessels

(f) The following areas in the Hudson River are designated as special anchorage areas wherein vessels no more than sixty-five feet in length, when at anchor, shall not be required to carry or exhibit anchor lights:

(2) Hastings-on-Hudson, New York. Northward of a line on range with the northerly face of the club house of the Tower Ridge Yacht Club, eastward of a line on range with the elevated tank of the Anaconda Wire and Cable Company and the channelward face of the northerly building on the waterfront of the said Company's property, and southward of a line on range with the first footbridge across the New York Central Railroad tracks, north of the Tower Ridge Yacht Club.

§ 6.3–20 Upper Bay anchorages.—(a) Anchorage No. 20. Within an area lying northeast of Ellis Island to the southeastward of a line bearing 58° from the northernmost corner of the island; to the southwestward of a line bearing 100° from the northeast corner of the Central Railroad of New Jersey Pier No. 9 to the outer end of the Staten Island Ferry Racks, on the New York shore; to the Westward of a line bearing 178° from the northeast corner of the Central Railroad of New Jersey Pier No. 5; and to the northward of a line ranging 85° from the south corner of the northerly section of Ellis Island to the outer end of the Staten Island Ferry Racks on the New York shore.

(b) Anchorage No. 20–A. To the southward of a line ranging from the southernmost corner of Ellis Island to Cable Lower Buoy "1" off Ellis Island; to the westward of two lines, one line in extension of the line marking the eastern limits of Anchorage No. 20 and the other line ranging 205° from Main Channel Lighted Bell Buoy "31" through Main Channel Lighted Bell Buoy "29" to the north end of the United States Marine Hospital at Stapleton, Staten Island; and to the northward of a line ranging 132° through Nun Buoy "2" and Main Channel Lighted Bell Buoy "29" toward a tall brick chimney near the foot of 52nd Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Area 49–B in this anchorage is reserved for explosives and is excluded from use as a general anchorage. (See § 6.3–65.)

(d) Anchorage No. 20–B. To the southward of Pennsylvania Railroad Greenville Terminal dredged channel on a line from the southerly corner of the southerly pier of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company Greenville Terminal to the end of the south pier of the Bethlehem Steel Company Ship Building Division at the foot of 56th Street, Brooklyn; to the westward of a line from the Governors Island Extension Light to the tower at the westerly end of the St. George Ferry Terminal, to the northward of a line ranging 262° from Robbins Reef Gong Buoy "27", and northeast of the channel approach to the north side of Constable Point.

(1) No vessel shall anchor between Ellis Island and the piers of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, or in the dredged channel approaches to this space, or the piers and wharves of the railroad, or in the dredged channel approaches to the National Docks at Black Tom Island, to Bedloes Island, to the Greenville, Claremont and Bayonne Terminals, or in the New Jersey Pierhead Channel, or near the entrances to said channels so as to obstruct the approaches or interfere in any way with the free navigation of the same. The portion of Anchorage 20–A, north of the National Docks at Black Tom Island, and the portion of Anchorage 20–B which are east of a line ranging 204.5° true and tangent to the east end of the east landing pier of Bedloes Island through Bayonne Terminal Lighted Buoy "1", Robbins Reef Lighted Gong Buoy "27", and Coast Guard Depot North Dock Light, are set aside as temporary anchorages for vessels arriving in and leaving port. No vessel shall occupy these anchorages for a longer period than 72 hours unless a permit is obtained from the Captain of the Port for that purpose.

(e) Anchorage No. 21. To the southward of a line passing through Claremont Terminal Lighted Buoy "1", the easterly white spar buoy "A" marking the north limit of the anchorage ground and the middle point of the front of the New York Dock Company Pier No. 41 (Merchants Stores); to the westward of Red Hook and Bay Ridge Channels marked by anchorage and channel buoys along the western edge of the dredged channel; to the eastward of a line through Bay Ridge Channel Junction Lighted Bell Buoy and Gowanus Flats Lighted Bell Buoy "22"; to the eastward of a line from thence to Gowanus Flats Lighted Bell Buoy "24"; northerly therefrom, to the eastward of a line ranging 28° from the southeast corner of city pier No. 16, Staten Island, to the light at southwest end of Governors Island, through Gowanus Flats Lighted Bell Buoys "26", "28" and "30".

(f) Anchorage No. 21–A. All that portion of Anchorage No. 21 to the northward of a line ranging from the end of the 39th Street Ferry rack (northeast rack), Brooklyn, to Gowanus Flats Lighted Bell Buoy "28". This anchorage to be used for sailing vessels; deep-laden vessels to use the western half of the anchorage and light-draft vessels to use the eastern half.

(g) Anchorage No. 21–B. That portion of Anchorage No. 21 south of Anchorage No. 21–A as described above, and west and south of Anchorage No. 21–C described below. This anchorage shall be used by steamers; those deep-laden to use the western side and southern end of the anchorage ground, and light-draft steamers to use the eastern side, excluding the fairway described below.

(h) Anchorage No. 21–C. That portion of Anchorage No. 21 south of Anchorage No. 21–A as described above, northerly of a line ranging from Robbins Reef Light to the northerly of the tall chimneys of the Brooklyn Edison Company's power house at 66th Street, Brooklyn, and easterly of a line ranging from the point of Red Hook to the north corner of Pier 21 of the Pouch Terminal at Clifton, Staten Island, excluding the fairway described below. Barges drawing 12 feet or less are required to use this anchorage to the exclusion of Anchorage Nos. 21–A and 21–B.

(1) Vessels of the various types required to use Anchorage Nos. 21–A, 21–B, and 21–C may be anchored in other of these areas than those set aside for them for a limited time after first obtaining a permit from the Captain of the Port, when and to the extent that they are not needed for vessels of the types assigned to them.

(2) A fairway 600 feet wide, crossing Anchorage Nos. 21–B and 21–C, marked by buoys at each entrance, shall be excluded from the anchorage grounds. Its northerly side is on range with Claremont Terminal Lighted Buoy "1" at the entrance to Claremont Terminal Channel, and the center of the head of the north pier of the Long Island Railroad terminal at the foot of 64th Street, Bay Ridge.

(3) No vessel shall occupy these anchorages for a period longer than 30 days, unless a permit is obtained from the Captain of the Port for that purpose.

(i) Anchorage No. 21–D. Small vessels may, in the discretion of the Captain of the Port, anchor to the eastward of a line ranging 338.5° from the west edge of Fort Lafayette, and southward of 92nd Street; between 79th Street and 92nd Street, eastward of a line ranging from Craven Shoal Lighted Bell Buoy to the Statue of Liberty, and eastward of Bay Ridge Channel, northward of 79th Street to a point off 66th Street; but not within 100 yards of the pier at 69th Street, Brooklyn.

(j) Anchorage No. 22 (Man-of-War Anchorage). To the southward of a line ranging 85° from the north end of the east rack of St. George Ferry; to the westward of a line ranging 171° through the northeast corner of Bayonne Terminal; and to the northward of a line ranging 72° from the northeast corner of Pier 6, Tompkinsville, Staten Island.

(1) The Captain of the Port may permit commercial vessels to anchor, temporarily, ordinarily for a period not greater than 24 hours, in this anchorage, when he knows that it is not going to be needed for naval vessels, but two berths for capital ships of the Navy shall be reserved in the eastern portion of the anchorage, and two berths reserved for Coast Guard vessels near shore. Commercial vessels so anchored shall be moved at their own expense whenever the anchorage ground is needed for naval vessels.

(k) Anchorage No. 23 (Temporary Anchorage). South of a line ranging 72° from the northeast corner of Pier 6, Tompkinsville, Staten Island; to the westward of a line ranging 175° from Robbins Reef Light to the northeast corner of Quarantine Wharf, and to the northward of a line bearing 226° to the center of a large gas tank at Clifton, Staten Island. No vessel shall occupy this anchorage for a longer period than 48 hours, unless a permit is obtained from the Captain of the Port for that purpose.

(1) Vessels arriving at quarantine and awaiting inspection may anchor temporarily to the westward of a line bearing 346°, 100 yards westerly from and parallel with a line ranging from Craven Shoal Lighted Bell Buoy to Robbins Reef Lighthouse, but not south of a line bearing 270° from the north side of Fort Lafayette or north of a line ranging 85° from the north end of the east rack of the St. George Ferry Landing. As soon as cleared by the quarantine officer, vessels must vacate this temporary anchorage and, if detained in quarantine, must at once move into the quarantine anchorage.

(2) Northerly of Quarantine Wharf, Rosebank, Staten Island, vessels may be kept to the westward of the east boundary range of this temporary anchorage at all times by dropping anchors on or to the westward of a line ranging 168° from Fort Wadsworth Light when the combined lengths of anchor line and vessels swinging eastward of the line shall in no case exceed from 370 yards off Quarantine Wharf, to 270 yards opposite Pier 6, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, and proportionate lengths between such points.

(3) Whenever the temporary quarantine anchorage off Staten Island is fully utilized, vessels shall anchor as directed by the Captain of the Port. (See Quarantine Anchorage No. 44).

§ 6.3–30 Lower Bay Anchorages, New York.—(a) Anchorage No. 26. In Sandy Hook Bay to the southward of a line extending from Point Comfort to Sandy Hook Point Light.

(b) Anchorage No. 48–B. Within an area on the north side of, and in the east end of the bay to the southward of the established United States pierhead line on the north side of the bay; to the westward of the prolonged west side of Coyle Street; to the northward of a line from a point 90 feet south of said pierhead line in said prolonged west side of Coyle Street, ranging toward the intersection of the curb lines at the southwest corner of Shore Boulevard and Kensington Avenue; and to the northward of a line (intersecting said last-mentioned line westward of Brown Street, prolonged) extending westerly parallel to and 450 feet north of the south side of Shore Boulevard; to the northeastward of a line extending northwesterly from the point of intersection of the last-described line with the prolonged east side of East 28th Street to a point on the prolonged east side of East 27th Street and 245 feet south of the established United States Pierhead line on the north side of the bay, and to the eastward of the prolonged east side of East 27th Street.

(c) Anchorage No. 48–C. Within an area on the south side of the bay to the southward of a line extending from a point 300 feet northerly from the south side of Shore Boulevard (perpendicular distance) and in the prolonged west side of Hastings Street, to a point on the prolonged east side of Mackenzie Street 250 feet north of the south side of Shore Boulevard, and southward of a line extending thence easterly parallel to, and 250 feet north of, said south side of Shore Boulevard; to the westward of the prolonged west side of Coyle Street; to the northward of a line parallel to, and 150 feet north of, the south side of Shore Boulevard; and to the eastward of the prolonged west side of Hastings Street.

§ 6.3–65 Anchorages for explosives in New Jersey Flats and Raritan Bay.—(a) Anchorage No. 49–B. On the New Jersey Flats to the southward of a line drawn parallel to, and 500 yards to the south of the Black Tom dredged channel, to the westward of a line ranging from the east end of the east landing pier on Bedloes Island through Bayonne Terminal Lighted Buoy "1", Robbins Reef Lighted Gong Buoy "27" and Coast Guard Depot North Dock Light, and to the northward of a line parallel to and 400 yards north of a line ranging 131° true through Nun Buoy "2" and Main Channel Lighted Bell Buoy "29" toward a tall brick chimney near the foot of 52nd Street, Brooklyn, New York; and east of a line ranging 36° from the tall chimney located on Constable's Hook and the black stack located on the Pennsylvania Railroad Greenville yard terminal, Provided: That this anchorage does not include any portion of the channel marked on the northwest by Lighted Bell Buoy "2", Nun Buoy "4", Lighted Buoy "6"; and on the southeast by Can Buoy "1", Can Buoy "3", and Can Buoy "5".

(1) Vessels shall not anchor within 800 yards of Bedloes Island or within 500 yards of any pier.

(2) No vessel using this anchorage shall carry more than 20 tons of high explosives.

(3) No vessel carrying explosives of any kind shall anchor in this anchorage within 500 feet of any other vessel carrying high explosives; except that the Captain of the Port may authorize the placing of moorings not less than 500 feet apart within this area and the making fast thereto of not to exceed 3 barges at each mooring, provided the combined load of the barges at a mooring is not more than 20 tons of high explosives.

(4) Insofar as practicable, in the use of this anchorage, preference shall be given to vessels storing explosives for current consumption.

(5) In cases of great emergency and when weather conditions are such that it is impossible for barges, scows or lighters loaded with more than 20 tons of high explosives to proceed to Gravesend Bay or Raritan Bay, or lie at anchor there, such vessel may anchor temporarily in the Jersey Flats anchorage, but in each case the Captain of the Port must be immediately notified, and such vessel will not remain so anchored without his special permission.

(b) Anchorage No. 49–D. An anchorage in Raritan Bay for barges or lighters loaded with explosives as follows: To the southward of a line ranging 70° from Raritan Bay Buoy "EX" to West Bank Light; to the westward of a line ranging 137° from tower of former Princess Bay Light to tower of former Waackaack Light; to the northward of a line ranging 250° from Old Orchard Shoal Light to Boundary Beacon; and to the eastward of a line ranging 306° from Boundary Beacon to Raritan Bay Buoy "EX."

§ 6.3–70 Randall Bay, Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.—(a) The anchorage area. Vessels may anchor at Randall Bay to the southward of a line 312 feet south of and parallel to the south side of Casino Street; to the eastward of a line 215 feet east of and parallel to the east side of West Side Avenue, said line extending southerly to a point 233 feet north of the prolonged north side of Clinton Street; to the northeastward of a line from the last-mentioned point to a point 243 feet southerly of the prolonged south side of Clinton Street and 210 feet east of the east side of Prospect Street; to the eastward of a line 210 feet east of and parallel to the east side of Prospect Street; to the northward of a line 25 feet north of and parallel to the prolonged north side of Suffolk Street; to the westward of a line 210 feet west of and parallel to the west side of South Long Beach Avenue, said line extending northerly to a point 222 feet south of the prolonged south side of Queens Street; to the southwestward of a line from the last-mentioned point to a point 74 feet northerly of the prolonged north side of Queens Street and 120 feet west of the west side of Roosevelt Avenue; and to the westward of a line 120 feet west of and parallel to the west side of Roosevelt Avenue.

(1) The Captain of the Port is authorized to issue permits for maintaining mooring buoys within the anchorage. The method of anchoring these buoys will be prescribed by the Captain of the Port. No vessel shall anchor in the anchorage in such a manner as to interfere with the use of a duly authorized mooring buoy.

(2) No vessel shall be navigated within Randall Bay at a speed exceeding 6 knots.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts

PART 202—MINIMUM WAGE DETERMINATIONS

EMPLOYMENT OF LEARNERS AT SUBMINIMUM RATES IN DESIGNATED INDUSTRIES

In the matter of the determinations of the prevailing minimum wages in the cotton garment and allied industries, gloves and mittens industry, knitted and men's woven underwear and commercial knitting industry, seamless hosiery industry, and textile industry.

Whereas, the prevailing minimum wage determinations for the cotton garment and allied industries, issued by me on June 20, 1942, for the gloves and mittens industry, issued by me on December 16, 1942 for the knitted and men's woven underwear and commercial knitting industry, issued by me on February 3, 1942, for the seamless hosiery industry, issued by me on March 12, 1942, and for the textile industry, issued by me on May 25, 1942, provide that learners may be employed at subminimum rates in accordance with the applicable regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act which were in effect on the respective dates of issuance of said minimum wage determinations; and

Whereas on March 10, 1943, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division issued Administrative Order No. 181, effective March 22, 1943, amending the learner regulations of the Wage and Hour Division applicable to the employment of learners in the hosiery industry, women's apparel industry, single pants, shirts and allied garments industry, textile industry, knitted and men's woven underwear and commercial knitting industry, knitted outerwear industry, gloves and mittens industry, and the sportswear and other odd outerwear and the belts divisions of the apparel industry, insofar as they are inconsistent with the following provisions, to be effective for the duration of the war emergency:

1. Special learner certificates may be issued upon individual applications of employers provided that it is satisfactorily shown that:

(a) Experienced labor is not available in the locality from which the employer customarily draws his labor supply; owned by or under bareboat or time char-

14 thereof and § 522.5 (b) of the regula-known as Legging, Seaming, Looping,

Notice of Amended Order for the Employ-

(b) Learners are available for employment at the established subminimum learner wage rate;

(c) The issue of a certificate will not tend to impair working or wage standards established for experienced workers in the industry;

(d) The issue of such certificates will not create unfair competitive labor cost advantages;

(e) The number of learners applied for will not tend to impair the statutory minimum wage rate in such plant;

(f) The applicant's piece work or hourly wage rates yield average earnings to experienced workers substantially above the minimum wage rate.

2. The subminimum wage rate which may be provided in special learner certificates shall be not less than 35 cents per hour.

3. Authorization to employ a number or percentage of learners for labor turnover in excess of that provided in learner industry regulations, issued pursuant to § 522.4 of the regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division and presently in effect, may be granted to the extent of the actual need of an individual applicant, when that need is due to an abnormal labor turnover resulting from the war emergency.

and amending, as of March 22, 1943, certificates presently in effect in these industries insofar as they are inconsistent with paragraph 2; and

Whereas it appears advisable, for the purpose of coordinating the administration of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and the Public Contracts Act, to adopt the above amendments for the purposes of the aforementioned prevailing minimum wage determinations, insofar as said learner regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division are presently applicable to said minimum wage determinations,

Now, therefore upon consideration of all the facts and circumstances, I hereby determine that learners may be employed at subminimum rates in the cotton garment and allied industries, in the gloves and mittens industry, in the knitted and men's woven underwear and commercial knitting industry, in the seamless hosiery industry, and in the textile industry, only in accordance with the present applicable regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division under the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended on March 22, 1943, which I hereby adopt for the purposes of this determination.

This determination shall be effective and its provisions shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, bids for which are solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency on or after March 22, 1943, except that learners may be employed at subminimum rates, in accordance with the amended regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, on or after March 22, 1943, in the performance of contracts, bids for which were solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency prior to that date.

Nothing in this determination shall affect such obligations for the payment of minimum wages as an employer may have under any law or agreement more favorable to employees than the requirements of this determination.

Dated: March 20, 1943.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

LEARNER EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES

ISSUANCE TO VARIOUS INDUSTRIES

Notice of issuance of special certificates for the employment of learners under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

Notice is hereby given that special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at hourly wages lower than the minimum rate applicable under section 6 of the Act are issued under section 14 thereof and § 522.5 (b) of the regulations issued thereunder (August 16, 1940, 5 F.R. 2862) to the employers listed below effective March 22, 1943.

The employment of learners under these certificates is limited to the terms and conditions as designated opposite the employer's name. These certificates are issued upon the employers' representations that experienced workers for the learner occupations are not available for employment and that they are actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment. The certificates may be cancelled in the manner provided for in the regulations and as indicated on the Certificate. Any person aggrieved by the issuance of these certificates may seek a review or reconsideration thereof.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 6401]

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

In the matter of changes in directory of station listings and increased rates of The Western Union Telegraph Company for service to and from various points in the United States and Canada.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of March, 1943:

It appearing, that The Western Union Telegraph Company has filed a petition requesting elimination from the proceeding herein of certain changes in directory listings, and for termination of the suspension proceeding herein with respect to such listings, and has also filed an accompanying application for special permission to file appropriate tariff schedules to effectuate favorable action on such petition; and that it has subsequently filed an additional application for special permission to file appropriate tariffs to cancel changes proposed in certain of its listings;

It further appearing, that The Western Union Telegraph Company has submitted in informal conferences data with respect to the changes in its directory of station listings involved in this proceeding which indicate that the carrier's practices with respect to the so-called "other-line" charges should be considered on a system-wide basis;

It is ordered, That said application for special tariff permission be, and the same are hereby, granted with respect to the changes in directory listings of points set forth in Exhibit A[1] attached hereto and made a part hereof;

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same is hereby, dismissed, as of the effective date of the tariffs to be filed pursuant to the special tariff permissions herein granted, without prejudice to appropriate action in a further proceeding regarding the matters involved herein.

By the Commission.

MACKAY RADIO AND TELEGRAPH CO. ET AL.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATIONS

In the matter of applications of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Docket No. 6495; Press Wireless, Inc., Docket No. 6496; R. C. A. Communications, Inc., Docket No. 6497; R. C. A. Communications, Inc., Docket No. 6498; for authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria.

At a regular session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of March, 1943:

The Commission having under consideration the petition of Press Wireless, Inc., filed on February 25, 1943, and the petition of R. C. A. Communications, Inc., filed on March 11, 1943, for reconsideration of the Commission's action of February 19, 1943, with respect to applications filed by Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Press Wireless, Inc., and R. C. A. Communications, Inc. for special temporary authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria, and for other relief; and the Commission also having under consideration the opposition to the foregoing petition of Press Wireless, Inc., filed on March 5, 1943, by Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company; and upon the Commission's reconsideration of its action of February 19, 1943, with respect to the foregoing applications for authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria;

It is ordered, That the foregoing applications of Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company (File No. T1-SA-213), Press Wireless, Inc. (File No. T1-SA-205), and R. C. A. Communications, Inc. (File No. T1-SA-228), and the application of R.C.A. Communications, Inc. for authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria, to provide a contact control channel, (File No. T1-SA-219), be, and they are hereby designated for consolidated hearing upon the following issues:

1. To determine the method of operation proposed by each of the respective applicants for operating a communication circuit between the United States and Algiers, Algeria;

2. To determine what classifications of messages each of the respective applicants proposes to handle between the United States and Algiers, Algeria;

3. To determine what rates are proposed by each of the respective applicants for service between the United States and Algiers, Algeria;

4. To determine which of the applicants can operate a communication circuit and a contact control channel between the United States and Algiers, Algeria in a manner most consistent with public interest, convenience or necessity under wartime conditions;

5. To determine whether public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by authorizing more than one of the applicants to communicate with Algiers, Algeria;

6. To determine whether public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by authorizing one or more of such applicants to operate a communication circuit between the United States and Algiers, Algeria, and another of such applicants to provide a contact control channel between the United States and Algiers, Algeria;

7. To determine whether in the light of the foregoing issues, public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by a continuance of the special temporary authority heretofore issued to Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, for authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria, or any extension or renewal thereof.

It is further ordered, That the special temporary authority to communicate with Algiers, Algeria, granted to Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company on February 19, 1943, for a term of three months, be, and it is hereby, made subject to the disposition of the proceeding herein instituted;

It is further ordered, That the hearing herein ordered be held at the Commission's offices at Washington, D. C., beginning on the 19th day of April, 1943;

By the Commission.

SCOVILL MANUFACTURING COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Order No. 9 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 125—Nonferrous Castings—Docket No. 3125-18.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250 and § 1395.12 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 125, It is hereby ordered:

(a) The Scovill Manufacturing Company of Waterbury, Connecticut, hereinafter referred to as "the applicant," may sell and deliver and any person may buy and receive from the applicant nonferrous castings produced by the applicant's Morency-Van Buren Division of Sturgis, Michigan, the same, or of the same class, as those sold or contracted to be sold by the applicant during the period from October 1 to October 15, 1941, inclusive, and those sold, contracted to be sold or delivered by the applicant during the period from May 11, 1942 to January 31, 1943, inclusive, at the maximum prices prescribed by § 1395.3 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 125: Except, That in determining the maximum prices of nonferrous castings under that section the applicant need not make the reductions required by paragraph (b) of that section.

(b) The applicant may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from the applicant nonferrous castings produced by the applicant's Morency-Van Buren Division of Sturgis, Michigan, whose maximum price cannot be determined under paragraph (a) of this Order at the maximum prices prescribed by § 1395.4 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 125: Except, That instead of using the pricing formula or method prescribed by paragraph (a) of that section, the applicant shall use the pricing formula and method set out in a letter dated March 1, 1943, addressed to the Office of Price Administration and signed by Mr T. H. Van Buren which is a supplement to application for adjustment heretofore filed by the applicant with the Office of Price Administration and assigned Docket Number 3125-18.

(c) All prayers in the applicant's application for adjustment, Docket Number 3125-18, not granted herein, are hereby denied: Except, That for the purposes of the wage increase case that the applicant has pending before the War Labor Board, this application for adjustment shall be deemed to have been filed in accordance with the requirements of Supplementary Order No. 28.

(d) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective as of February 1, 1943.

Issued this 19th day of March 1943.

WILLIAM KAUFMAN

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Order No. 2 under § 1410.51 (b) (3) Maximum Price Regulation No. 58—Wool and Wool Tops and Yarns. Establishment of maximum price for 172 bales of greasy Australian wool.

On November 19, 1942, William Kaufman of 79 Wall Street, New York, New York, made application under § 1410.51 (b) (3) of Revised Price Schedule No. 58 for authorization to determine a maximum price for 172 bales of greasy Australian wool. Due consideration has been given to the application and an opinion in support of this order has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in the opinion, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration, It is ordered:

(a) That William Kaufman may sell and any person may buy from him 172 bales of greasy Australian wool, or any part thereof, at a price, or prices not in excess of 98¢ per pound, clean basis, duty paid, covering all charges inclusive of war risk insurance.

(b) That William Kaufman may sell and any person may buy from him 20 bales of the greasy Australian wool hereinbefore mentioned in paragraph (a) hereof, or any part thereof, at a price, or prices not in excess of a maximum price which shall be determined in the following manner:

(1) Convert the 98¢ duty paid clean basis price to a grease basis price based upon the yield of clean wool estimated by the United States customs, then add

(i) The actual charges paid for scouring;

(ii) Transportation charges to scouring plant actually paid but in no case in excess of $.50 per hundredweight of grease wool;

(iii) Actual charges paid for sorting but in no case in excess of $1.00 per hundredweight of grease wool.

(2) Divide the sum obtained in paragraph 1 above by the number of pounds of scoured wool obtained in order to secure the price per pound scoured.

(3) Add to the price per pound scoured, the sum of 5¢ to obtain the price per pound which may be charged for the carbonized wool.

This order shall become effective March 20, 1943.

STANDARD EQUITIES CORP., ET AL.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Standard Equities Corporation, successor to Standard Investing Corporation, and International Equities Corporation.

Standard Equities Corporation, a registered investment company, having filed an application pursuant to the provisions of section 8 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order declaring that Standard Investing Corporation and International Equities Corporation have ceased to be investment companies within the meaning of said Act;

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 40 (a) of the said Act, that a hearing on the aforesaid application be held on the 29th day of March 1943 at 10:00 a. m., Eastern War Time, in Room 318 of the Securities and Exchange Building at 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty, Esq., or any other officer of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all of the powers granted to the Commission under sections 41 and 42 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and to trial examiners under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to the applicant and to any other persons whose participation in such proceedings may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

By the Commission.

MIDLAND UNITED CO., ETC., ET AL.

ORDER RECONVENING HEARING AND DESIGNATING NEW TRIAL EXAMINER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March 1943.

In the matter of Midland United Company, Trustee, Midland Stock Transfer Company, Northern Indiana Public Service Company, Chicago, South Shore and South Bend Railroad, Indiana Service Corporation.

The Commission having, on July 31, 1936, found that Midland Stock Transfer Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Midland United Company, a registered holding company in reorganization under section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act, might appropriately function as a subsidiary service company, and having on that date issued an order permitting such operations; two amendments having subsequently been filed, one on August 8, 1942, and the other on September 4, 1942; after appropriate notice a public hearing was held on said amendments, which hearing was continued subject to the call of the trial examiner; and

It now appearing appropriate that such hearing be reconvened primarily for the purpose of closing the record; and it further appearing that the trial examiner heretofore designated to preside is now engaged in other matters and accordingly is unable to preside in this proceeding:

It is therefore ordered, That a hearing be held on March 22, 1943, at 11 o'clock a. m., or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act, and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

By the Commission.

ASSOCIATED ELECTRIC COMPANY AND STATEN ISLAND EDISON CORPORATION

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATIONS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1943.

Associated Electric Company, a registered holding company, and Staten Island Edison Corporation, a subsidiary of New York State Electric & Gas Corporation and an indirect subsidiary of NY PA NJ Utilities Company, a registered holding company, having filed declarations, as amended, pursuant to sections 12 (b), 12 (c), and 12 (f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rules U-42 and U-43 promulgated thereunder, in regard to the following transactions: Associated Electric Company proposes to acquire $2,222,000 principal amount of its own 4½% bonds, due January 1, 1953, from Staten Island Edison Corporation for a cash consideration of $1,130,442.50, plus accrued interest. State Island Edison Corporation proposes to advance the sum of $1,050,000 to its subsidiary, Richmond Light and Railroad Company, to enable such company to redeem, at the call price of 105, the entire outstanding issue of $1,000,000 principal amount of its first and collateral trust 4% 50-year gold bonds, due July 1, 1952, secured by assets of the said Staten Island Edison Corporation;

Hearings with respect to said declarations, as amended, having been held after appropriate notice, the Commission having heard oral argument, being duly advised in the premises and having entered its findings and opinion herein;

It is hereby ordered, On the basis of said findings and opinion that the aforesaid declarations be and hereby are permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

OKLAHOMA POWER AND WATER CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATIONS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March, A. D., 1943.

Oklahoma Power and Water Co., a subsidiary of The Middle West Corporation, a registered holding company, having filed declarations pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding three proposed transactions as follows:

(1) To prepay $100,000 principal amount of its 5% unsecured promissory notes aggregating $412,000 and due August 1, 1943, as heretofore extended, to the payee, Sand Springs Home, Sand Springs, Oklahoma, and to extend the maturity of the principal amount of $312,000, so that payments will be made upon principal at the rate of $4,000 monthly from September 1, 1943 to August 1, 1947 and at the rate of $5,000 monthly from September 1, 1947 to August 1, 1949, and to issue two unsecured promissory notes in the amounts of $172,000 and $140,000, respectively, as evidence of the amount due;

(2) To prepay $100,000 principal amount of collateral notes held by Harris Trust and Savings Bank, The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, City National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, National Bank of Tulsa, First National Bank and Trust Company (Tulsa, Oklahoma), and First National Bank and Trust Company (Oklahoma City, Oklahoma) due July 27, 1944 in the aggregate principal amount to $1,575,000, and to cancel $420,000 principal amount of its first mortgage 5% 20 year gold bonds, Series B due February 1, 1949, and $80,000 principal amount of its first mortgage 5% 20 year gold bonds, Series A due February 1, 1948, previously deposited with said banks as collateral;

(3) To change its existing issues of common and preferred stock, all of which are held by said The Middle West Corporation into 23,141 shares of capital stock of the par value of $100 per share; and

Said declarations having been filed on February 10, 1943, and amendments thereto having been filed on March 4, 1943, and March 11, 1943, and notice of filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed in Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said Act and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said declarations within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and Oklahoma Power and Water Co. having requested that prior action be taken upon the above proposed transactions numbered (1) and (2) and that jurisdiction be reserved with regard to transaction number (3); and

The Commission finding with respect to transactions (1) and (2) above under section 7 of said Act that the requirements of section 7 (c) are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary under section 7 (d) and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declarations with respect to transactions (1) and (2) above to become effective forthwith:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said Act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that the aforesaid declarations with respect to transactions (1) and (2) be, and hereby are, permitted to become effective forthwith, and jurisdiction is reserved with regard to transaction number (3).

STANLEY CLARKE, ETC., ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March, 1943.

In the matter of Stanley Clarke, trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company; Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation.

ACQUISITION OF SECURITIES BY REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANY OR SUBSIDIARY—EXEMPTION

Application pursuant to section 9 (c) (3) of the Act, filed by trustees, for exemption from the provisions of section 9 (a) of the Act, regarding acquisition of securities as part of compromises of claims of the estates, granted, the compromises having been approved by the bankruptcy court and the transactions being found not detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

ACQUISITION OF SECURITIES BY ISSUER—EXEMPTION

Application-declaration filed by trustees for exemption from the rules promulgated under the Act, regarding acquisition of securities as part of compromises of claims of the estates, granted under the provisions of Rule U-100, the compromises having been approved by the bankruptcy court and compliance with the requirements of Rule U-42 being found not necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers.

An application-declaration has been filed jointly by Stanley Clarke, Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company (hereinafter referred to as "Ageco"), a registered holding company, and Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "Agecorp"), a registered holding company. Both companies are in reorganization under Chapter X of the Bankruptcy Act.

The applicants-declarants have entered into agreements to compromise their claims and those of their direct and indirect subsidiaries and affiliates against Daniel Starch and against Travis, Brownback & Paxson. As part of such agreements Travis, Brownback & Paxson will deliver to the applicants-declarants certain debentures of Agecorp, which are to be delivered to the Trustees of Agecorp for cancellation, and certain shares of Ageco stock, which are to be delivered to the Trustee of Ageco for cancellation. The agreement to compromise claims against Daniel Starch involves the transfer and delivery from Daniel Starch to the applicants-declarants of various securities of Ageco, Agecorp, and certain subsidiary companies, together with certain other assets. After deduction for expenses of investigation, negotiation, settlement, and distribution incidental to these proposed settlements, the applicants-declarants will, with the requisite court and commission approvals, allocate and distribute said securities and other assets to, or among, the Trustees of Ageco and Agecorp, and their subsidiaries and affiliates, in such proportions as may be appropriately determined. The proposed transaction which is the subject of this application-declaration is only the initial delivery to the applicants-declarants of the securities referred to.

After appropriate notice, a public hearing was held on the matter, at which no one appeared to object to the proposed transactions.

The proposed settlements have been approved by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and certified copies of the orders of that court appear in the record.

The proposed transaction by the trustees of the two estates involves an acquisition subject to the provisions of section 9 of the Public Utility Act of 1935. Pursuant to section 9 (c) (3), this Commission is empowered to grant exemptions from the provisions of section 9 (a) "within such limitations, as the Commission may by rules and regulations or order prescribe as appropriate in the ordinary course of business of a registered holding company or a subsidiary company thereof and as not detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers."

The applicants-declarants herein are all trustees appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Bankruptcy Act, and their duties as such, as defined in section 47 (a) of that Act) include the collection of claims available to the estates. In this context, the proposed acquisitions may properly be said to be within "the ordinary course of business" of the applicants-declarants.

We find that the proposed transactions are not detrimental to the public interest, or the interest of investors or consumers, and that the proposed transactions are properly the subject for an exemption from the provisions of section 9 (a) of the Act.

We also find that compliance with the requirements of Rule U-42 of the general rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, is not necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers, and therefore that the proposed transactions are properly the subject for an exemption under the provisions of Rule U-100.

It is therefore ordered, That, pursuant to section 9 (c) (3) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and to Rule U-100 of the general rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the transaction embraced by the application-declaration herein be, and hereby is, granted an exemption from the requirements of section 9 (a) of the Act and from the rules promulgated thereunder.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

ALADDIN GOLD MINING CO., LTD.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND DESIGNATING OFFICER TO TAKE TESTIMONY

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 19th day of March, A. D., 1943.

In the matter of proceeding under section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to determine whether the registration of Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd. common stock, 10¢ par value should be suspended or withdrawn.

I.

It appearing to the Commission:

That Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Nevada, is the issuer of common stock, 10¢ par value; and

That said Aladdin Gold Mining Company Ltd., registered such common stock on the San Francisco Mining Exchange by filing with the exchange and with the Commission on or about April 15, 1938 an application on Form 8-A pursuant to section 12 (b) and (c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Rule X-12B-1, as amended, promulgated by the Commission thereunder, registration pursuant to such application having become effective June 19, 1938 and remaining in effect to and including the date hereof; and

It further appearing to the Commission:

That Rule X-13-1, promulgated pursuant to section 13 of said Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, did and does require that an annual report for each issuer of a security registered on a national securities exchange shall be filed on the appropriate form prescribed therefor; and

That Rule X-13A-2, promulgated pursuant to section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, did and does prescribe Form 10-K as the annual report form to be used for the annual reports of all corporations except those for which another form is specified, and that no other form was or is specified for use by Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd.; and

That said Rule X-13A-1 requires that said annual report be filed not more than 120 days after the close of each fiscal year or such other period as may be prescribed in the instruction book applicable to the particular form; that the Instruction Book for Form 10-K does not prescribe any period other than such 120 days; and that pursuant to said Rule X-13A-1 the annual report must be filed within such period unless the registrant files with the Commission a request for an extension of time to a specified date within six months after the close of the fiscal year; and

That said Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd., has a fiscal year ended December 31, that the annual report for its fiscal year ended December 31, 1941 was due to be filed not later than April 30, 1942; that the registrant made a request for extension of time within which to file such report; that the time for filing was extended by the Commission to September 15, 1942; that on September 29, 1942 the registrant filed a report purporting to cover a fiscal year ended June 30, 1941; that the annual report for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1941 was not filed within the time prescribed for filing said report or at any later date;

II.

The Commission having reasonable cause to believe that:

Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd., has failed to comply with the provisions of section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and X-13A-1 and X-13A-2 promulgated thereunder, in that (1) it has failed to file its annual report for the year ended December 31, 1941, within the date prescribed for filing said report and (2) it has failed to file such annual report at any later date; and

III.

It being the opinion of the Commission that the hearing herein ordered to be held is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended:

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 19 (a) (2) of said Act, that a public hearing be held to determine whether Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd., has failed to comply with section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules, Regulations and Forms promulgated by the Commission thereunder, in the respects set forth above; and if so, whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend for a period not exceeding twelve months or to withdraw the registration of the common stock, 10¢ par value of Aladdin Gold Mining Company, Ltd., on said San Francisco Mining Exchange.

It is further ordered, Pursuant to the provisions of section 21 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that for the purpose of such hearing William J. Cogan, an officer of the Commission, is hereby designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take testimony and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law;

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this hearing begin on the 5th day of April, 1943, at 10:00 A. M. E. W. T. at the Regional Office of the Securities Exchange Commission, 120 Broadway, New York, N. Y., and continue thereafter at such time and place as the officer hereinbefore designated may determine.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

[Notice Regarding Proposed CMP Regulation No. 6]

CONSTRUCTION AND FACILITIES

The issuance of proposed CMP Regulation No. 6 covering procedures for obtaining controlled materials for construction and facilities under the Controlled Materials Plan has been postponed pending a revision of processing procedures and standardization of forms.

All current construction jobs authorized in accordance with War Production Board orders prior to February 17, 1943, have been assigned to individual Claimant Agencies. The Claimant Agencies consist of the following: War Department, Navy Department, Maritime Commission, Aircraft Resources Control Office, Office of Lend-Lease Administration, Board of Economic Warfare, Office of Civilian Supply, Department of Agriculture, Office of Defense Transportation, Office of Rubber Director, Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board, Petroleum Administration for War, National Housing Agency and Office of War Utilities Director.

Claimant Agencies have contacted jobs under their jurisdiction, requesting applications for controlled materials. The following forms are being used: Form CMP-OCE No. 1—War Department; CMP-14; CMP-15 and CMP-4C—Office of Civilian Supply; Forms CMP-16; CMP-17 and CMP-4C—Facilities Bureau; and Form CMP-4C—All other Claimant Agencies.

In the case of construction projects authorized subsequent to February 17, 1943, instructions will be issued to the consumers involved indicating the Claimant Agency to which applications for controlled materials are to be directed and the specific application forms to be used. Applications for authorization to construct will, until further notice, be made in accordance with existing procedures.

All of the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 1 are applicable to construction operations with the following exceptions. None of the provisions of such regulation respecting the authorization of or compliance with production schedules applies to construction and the provisions of paragraph (s-1), restricting the placement of authorized controlled material orders to specified quantities, do not apply to construction. Preference ratings assigned to construction projects may be applied or extended only for the purpose of acquiring those items of materials specifically approved in connection with the issuance of the authorization to construct. Numbers identifying allotments for construction may be used along with such preference ratings in the same manner as provided in CMP Regulation No. 3 governing preference ratings assigned to production schedules.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

MAKING AVAILABLE FOR THE USE OF THE ARMY AND NAVY QUININE SULFATE ACQUIRED BY THE PROCUREMENT DIVISION OF THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT PURSUANT TO THE ACT OF JUNE 7, 1939

WHEREAS the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department has acquired by purchase, pursuant to the provisions of the act of June 7, 1939, 53 Stat. 811, stocks of quinine sulfate suitable for medicinal use; and

WHEREAS the Chairman of the War Production Board has reported to me that there is a need for quinine sulfate for medicinal uses by the military forces:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States by section 4 of the said act of June 7, 1939, it is ordered as follows:

The Procurement Division of the Treasury Department is hereby authorized and directed to make available, from the stocks acquired by it pursuant to the said act of June 7, 1939, upon such terms of sale and delivery to the buyers and users thereof as may be mutually satisfactory to the Procurement Division and to them, a total of 3,634,782 ounces of quinine sulfate for the use of the Army and a total of 1,283,600 ounces of quinine sulfate for the use of the Navy.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VIII—Food Distribution Administration

PART 802—SUGAR DETERMINATIONS

PRODUCTION OF SUGAR BEETS DURING 1943

Amendment to determination of farming practices to be carried out on farms in connection with the production of sugar beets during the crop year 1943.

Pursuant to the provisions of subsection (e) of section 301 of the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 802.13h Farming practices in connection with the production of sugar beets during the crop year 1943—(a) For farms in States other than California. The requirements of subsection (e) of section 301 of the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, shall be deemed to have been fulfilled with respect to the production of the 1943 crop of sugar beets on any farm in a State other than California, if the producer and the county agricultural conservation committee certify that there has been carried out on land on the farm which is adapted to the production of sugar beets, not less than one-half acre of soil-conserving practices for each acre of sugar beets planted on the farm for harvest in 1943 for the extraction of sugar: Provided, however, That not in excess of 75 percent of the foregoing requirements in connection with rented acreage which would otherwise be part of another farm may consist of practices carried out on such farm in excess of any practices required thereon.

For the purposes of paragraph (a) of this section:

(1) Each of the following shall be deemed to be one acre of soil-conserving practices:

(i) Maintaining until after July 1, 1943, one acre of a protective covering of adapted perennial or biennial legumes, adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures of such legumes and grasses.

(ii) Seeding in 1943 one acre of adapted perennial legumes (except alfalfa) or biennial legumes, adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures of such legumes and grasses.

(iii) Seeding in 1943 one-half acre of adapted alfalfa.

(iv) Plowing under during 1943 one acre of a good stand and a good growth of an adapted green manure crop.

(v) Applying during 1943 eight short tons of animal manure or the amount of manure normally produced in one year by any of the following two head of cattle (of more than one year of age), two horses, two mules, four calves, four colts, ten sheep, or ten goats.

(vi) Applying during 1943 to land on which sugar beets are planted for harvest in 1943, 75 pounds of net available nitrogen, potash and/or phosphoric acid in the form of commercial chemical fertilizer.

(2) Adapted perennial or biennial legumes or adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures thereof, or adapted green manure crops, shall be deemed to be those perennial or biennial legumes, or perennial grasses, or mixtures thereof, or green manure crops, which are approved under the 1943 State Agricultural Conservation Program as being adaptable for the State in which the farm is located.

(b) For farms in California. The requirements of subsection (e) of section 301 of the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, shall be deemed to have been fulfilled with respect to the production of the 1943 crop of sugar beets on any farm in California if the producer and the county agricultural conservation committee certify that during the crop year 1943 peat land on the farm has not been burned unless the burning is approved by the county and state agricultural conservation committees as necessary to permit satisfactory crop production and that there has been carried out on land on the farm which is adapted to the production of sugar beets not less than one-half acre of the soil conserving practices approved in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for each acre planted to sugar beets for harvest for the extraction of sugar: Provided, however, That one-fourth acre of soil-conserving practices shall be required for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1939, if a perennial legume was produced thereon in 1940 or if any legumes were produced thereon in 1941 or 1942; and three-eighths acre of soil-conserving practices shall be required for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1940, if legumes were produced thereon in 1941 or 1942; and Provided further, If practice (i), (ii), or (iii), specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, or any combination of such practices, is used to meet the requirements with respect to all the sugar beets on the farm, one-sixth acre of soil-conserving practices shall be required for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1939, if a perennial legume was produced thereon in 1940, or if any legumes were produced thereon in 1941 or 1942; one-fourth acre of soil-conserving practices shall be required for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1940, if legumes were produced thereon in 1941 or 1942; one-fourth acre of soil-conserving practices shall be required for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1939; and one-third acre of soil conserving practices shall be required for each acre planted to sugar beets on land which has not produced sugar beets since 1940: Provided further, That a portion of the acres of soil-conserving practices required for rented acreage of any farm which would otherwise be part of another farm may consist of acres of practices carried out on the latter farm in excess of any practices required thereon, but an acreage of soil-conserving practices equal to not less than 12.5 percent of the acres planted to sugar beets on such rented acreage shall be carried out on the farm of which such rented acreage is a part in excess of any practices which would be required if such rented acreage were not a part of such farm.

For the purposes of paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) The term "crop year" means the calendar year, except where the grower requests that the crop year be a 12-month period beginning 120 days prior to the normal planting date of sugar beets for the community, in which case the crop year shall be such 12-month period, if approval is given by the county committee.

(2) Each of the following which is recommended by the county agricultural conservation committee and approved by the state agricultural conservation committee as a practice applicable to the county for preserving and improving fertility of the soil and for preventing soil erosion shall be deemed to be one acre of soil-conserving practices:

(i) Maintaining until after July 1, 1943, one acre of protective covering of adapted perennial or biennial legumes, adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures of such legumes and grasses.

(ii) Seeding during the crop year 1943 one-half acre of land to adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures of such legumes and grasses.

(iii) Seeding and maintaining until after December 31, 1943, one acre of a good growth and a good stand of an adapted cover crop, or plowing under during the crop year 1943 one acre of a good stand and a good growth of an adapted green manure crop.

(iv) Applying during the crop year 1943 eight short tons of animal manure, or the amount of manure normally produced in one year by any of the following: two head of cattle of more than one year of age, two horses, two mules, four calves, four colts, ten sheep, or ten goats.

(v) Applying during the crop year 1943 not less than eight tons (air dry weight) of leguminous crop residues.

(vi) Applying during the crop year 1943 three tons of lime, or 1,000 pounds of 18 percent gypsum or its sulphur equivalent.

(vii) Applying during the crop year 1943 to land planted to sugar beets, or to or in connection with the seeding of legumes except when seeded in rows to be cultivated, or to or in connection with the seeding of perennial grasses, 64 pounds of net available P_2O_5 in the form of commercial fertilizers.

(viii) Applying during the crop year 1943, either just before planting or during the growth of a crop of sugar beets, 75 pounds of available nitrogen and/or potash in the form of commercial chemical fertilizers.

(3) Adapted perennial or biennial legumes, or adapted perennial grasses, or mixtures thereof, or adapted green manure or cover crops, shall be deemed to be those perennial and biennial legumes or perennial grasses or mixtures thereof, or green manure crops, and cover crops, which are approved under the 1943 State Agricultural Conservation Program as being adaptable for the State.

(4) Acres of soil-conserving practices (other than acreage qualifying under practice (i)) carried out to meet similar requirements prescribed for the 1942 sugar beet crop shall not be used to meet the requirements set forth herein for the 1943 crop.

(c) General provision. All the foregoing soil-conserving practices shall be carried out in accordance with the farming methods commonly used in the community in which the farm is located.

(Sec. 301, 50 Stat. 910; 7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 1131.)

This determination supersedes the "Determination of Farming Practices to be Carried Out on Farms in Connection with the Production of Sugar Beets During the Crop Year 1943," issued December 11, 1942 (7 F.R. 10421).

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of March 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Chapter XI—Food Distribution Administration

[FDO 40]

PART 1495—EGGS AND EGG PRODUCTS

RESTRICTIONS ON THE SALE AND STORAGE OF SHELL EGGS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and in order to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of eggs and egg products to meet war and essential civilian needs; It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1495.2 Restrictions on sale and storage of shell eggs—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "shell eggs" means the eggs of the fowl, known as the domestic or barnyard hen, in their natural state or treated with a mineral oil for the purpose of preservation.

(2) The term "storage" means a room or rooms of a total of 1500 cubic feet or more of storage space and equipped to be refrigerated to a temperature of 40° F. or less.

(3) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity.

(4) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by the Director.

(5) The term "governmental agency" means the Food Distribution Administration, the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the War Shipping Administration, the Veterans Administration, or any other agency or instrumentality of the United States designated by the Director.

(b) Restrictions on sale and storage of shell eggs. (1) On May 31, 1943, each person owning shell eggs in storage shall set aside and hold such eggs for delivery to a governmental agency: Provided, That the Director, upon the written application of any person owning shell eggs which are set aside pursuant to this order, may release, from restriction hereunder, any or all such eggs.

(2) The shell eggs set aside pursuant to (b) (1) may be offered for sale by the owner thereof to a governmental agency at no more than the ceiling price or ceiling prices established by the Office of Price Administration and applicable to sales to governmental agencies.

(3) On and after June 1, 1943, no owner of shell eggs shall place or cause such shell eggs to be placed in storage: Provided, That, upon the written application of an owner of shell eggs, the Director may permit such owner to store such shell eggs.

(4) The restrictions and requirements hereof shall be observed without regard to the rights of creditors, prior contracts, existing contracts, payments made, or deliveries of shell eggs made prior to the effective date hereof: Provided, That the terms of this order shall not apply to any eggs owned by a governmental agency.

(c) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate) and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(d) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections by the Director at all reasonable times of his stocks of restricted foods, and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records, and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(e) Applicability of order. Any person doing business in one or more of the 48 States or the District of Columbia is subject to the provisions hereof, but the provisions hereof shall not apply to any person doing business in any Territory or Possession of the United States with respect to such business.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation; and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35 (a) of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(g) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(h) Communications to the Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Ref: FD-40.

(i) Delegation of authority. The Director of Food Distribution is hereby designated to administer the provisions hereof.

(j) Effective date. This order shall be effective as of 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., March 25, 1943.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179)

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

PART 1495—EGGS AND EGG PRODUCTS

RESTRICTIONS ON THE DISTRIBUTION AND PRODUCTION OF LIQUID, DRIED, AND FROZEN EGGS, AND EGG PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and in order to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of eggs and egg products to meet war and essential civilian needs, It is hereby ordered, as follows:

§ 1495.1 Restrictions on distribution and production of eggs and egg products—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) The term "drier" means any person who produces spray dried whole eggs.

(2) The term "spray dried whole eggs" means the dried whole eggs, of the type produced by the spray process, defined and identified in an order (4 F.R. 3376, 21 CFR, 1939 Supp., 42.30) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on July 19, 1939, promulgating a regulation fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food product commonly known as dried whole eggs.

(3) The term "seasonal year 1943" means the twelve-month period commencing February 1, 1943, and extending through January 31, 1944.

(4) The term "seasonal year 1942" means the twelve-month period commencing February 1, 1942, and extending through January 31, 1943.

(5) The term "egg products" means whole eggs, albumen, yolks, sugared or salted yolks, or any mixtures or emulsions thereof, either in frozen or liquid form.

(6) The term "whole eggs" means shell eggs which are broken from the shells, with yolk and albumen in their natural proportion as so broken, either in liquid or frozen form.

(7) The term "albumen" means the whites of shell eggs, either in liquid or frozen form, after the breaking of the eggs and the separation of the whites from the yolks.

(8) The term "yolks" means the egg yolk, either in frozen or liquid form, defined and identified in an order (4 F.R. 3376, 21 CFR, 1959 Supp., 42.40) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on July 19, 1939, promulgating a regulation fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food product commonly known as egg yolks.

(9) The term "sugared or salted yolks" means yolks, either in frozen or liquid form, to which sugar or salt has been added.

(10) The term "emulsion" means a mixture of egg products, whether in liquid or frozen form, to which has been added an emulsifying agent or solvent such as glycerin.

(11) The term "mixtures" means the mixtures, either in frozen or liquid form, of two or more individual egg products.

(12) The term "dried egg yolks" means the food prepared by drying egg yolks which are defined and identified in an order (4 F.R. 3375, 21 CFR, 1939 Supp., 42.60) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on July 19, 1939, promulgating a regulation fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food product commonly known as dried egg yolks.

(13) The term "dried albumen" means liquid albumen that has been dried and is generally sold in flaked or powdered form.

(14) The term "pan-dried whole eggs" means the dried whole eggs, of the type produced by the pan drying method, defined and identified in an order (4 F.R. 3376, 21 CFR, 1939 Supp., 42.30) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on July 19, 1939, promulgating a regulation fixing and establishing a reasonable definition and standard of identity for the food product commonly known as dried whole eggs.

(15) The term "shell eggs" means the eggs of the fowl, known as the domestic or barnyard hen, in their natural state or treated with a mineral oil for the purpose of preservation.

(16) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity.

(17) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by the Director.

(18) The term "governmental agency" means the Food Distribution Administration, the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the War Shipping Administration, the Veterans Administration, or any other agency or instrumentality of the United States designated by the Director.

(b) Restrictions on processing, and sale of eggs and egg products. (1) Each drier shall set aside and hold for delivery to a governmental agency all spray dried whole eggs now owned or hereafter produced by him: Provided, That the Director may permit the sale of spray dried whole eggs to purchasers, other than a governmental agency, for essential civilian requirements.

(2) The spray dried whole eggs set aside pursuant to (b) (1) may be offered for sale by the drier to a governmental agency, at no more than the ceiling price or ceiling prices established by the Office of Price Administration.

(3) During the seasonal year 1943 no person shall produce liquid or frozen egg products, which will be used for purposes other than drying or furnishing to, for, or on account of a governmental agency, in a quantity in excess of the total amount of all such egg products which were produced by such person in the seasonal year 1942 and which were used for purposes other than drying.

(4) During the seasonal year 1943 no person shall produce, other than that which is produced for, or on account of, a governmental agency, dried egg yolk, dried albumen, any mixtures of dried egg yolk and dried albumen, or pan-dried whole eggs in a quantity in excess of the total amount of dried egg yolk, dried albumen, any mixtures of dried egg yolk and dried albumen, or pan-dried whole eggs, respectively, which were produced by such person in the seasonal year 1942.

(5) The restrictions and requirements hereof shall be observed without regard to the rights of creditors, prior contracts, existing contracts, payments made, or deliveries of spray dried whole eggs, pan dried whole eggs, dried yolk, dried albumen, or egg products made prior to the effective date hereof. This order shall not, however, affect the amount of such articles which any person is required to offer, or to deliver, under any contract for the furnishing of eggs or egg products to a governmental agency; nor shall this order apply to any sale, purchase, or processing of spray dried whole eggs, pan-dried whole eggs, dried yolk, dried albumen or egg products to, by, or for, a governmental agency, or any person for use in the manufacture of any product in the fulfillment of a contract with a governmental agency.

(c) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate) and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(d) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections by the Director at all reasonable times of his stocks of restricted foods, and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records, and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(e) Applicability of order. Any person doing business in one or more of the 48 States or the District of Columbia is subject to the provisions hereof, but the provisions hereof shall not apply to any person doing business in any Territory or Possession of the United States with respect to such business.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation; and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35 (a) of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(g) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(h) Communications to the Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Ref: FD-41.

(i) Delegation of authority. The Director of Food Distribution is hereby designated to administer the provisions hereof.

(j) Effective date. This order shall be effective as of 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., March 25, 1943.

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Regulations, Serial No. 266]

PART 20—PILOT CERTIFICATES

SPECIAL CIVIL AIR REGULATION

PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS AND MEDICAL CERTIFICATES FOR MILITARY PERSONNEL OF THE CAA WAR TRAINING SERVICE

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of March 1943.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Part 20 of the Civil Air Regulations, military personnel on active or reserve status assigned by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard of the United States for pilot training to the Civil Aeronautics Administration War Training Service shall be deemed to have met the requirements of §§ 20.104 and 20.730 of the Civil Air Regulations. Such trainees may pilot aircraft without being in possession of a medical certificate or other certificate of physical fitness only during the period that they are receiving student pilot training from the Civil Aeronautics Administration War Training Service.

This regulation shall be effective for the duration of the war and not more than six months thereafter.

PART 20—PILOT CERTIFICATE

SPECIAL CIVIL AIR REGULATIONS

CONTACT FLIGHT OPERATIONS UNDER LOCAL INSTRUMENT VISIBILITY CONDITIONS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of March 1943.

The following special civil air regulation is made and promulgated to become effective March 17, 1943:

Military airplanes of the United States making ferry flights over civil airways under contact flight rules, in case of military necessity, may take-off from, land at, or fly over airports where the local visibility conditions are below the minimum visibility requirements for operation under contact flight rules, if the visibility elsewhere along the civil airways to be flown is above the minimum required by contact flight rules.

This regulation shall terminate at the end of the war.

PART 40—AIR CARRIER OPERATING CERTIFICATION

ROUTE COMPETENCY; FIRST PILOTS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of March 1943.

Effective March 17, 1943, Part 40 of the Civil Air Regulations is amended as follows:

1. By amending § 40.2611 (b) to read as follows:

§ 40.261 First pilots. * * * -

§ 40.2611 (b) Each first pilot within the six months preceding his qualifications for a particular route shall have made over such route or part thereof on which he will pilot aircraft for applicant five one-ways trips, any of which may be made either as the pilot without passengers or as second pilot with or without passengers. Two of such trips shall have been made within the 60 days preceding qualification. During the qualifying trips, the pilot shall be able at least twice to observe every part of the route for which qualification is sought when the visibility is not less than five miles as observed from the cockpit. In addition, the pilot shall have made over such route or such part thereof one trip during which the visibility was not less than five miles as observed from the cockpit and during which he shall have made at least one landing at each intermediate field or a visual examination thereof from a safe low altitude if field conditions prevent such landings. During the six above specified trips he shall have made at least one landing at each terminal and scheduled intermediate stop.

For the duration of the war and not to exceed six months thereafter the Administrator may, in lieu of all or any part of the above specified trip requiring landing at or examination of intermediate fields, permit an examination of such fields from the ground or such other qualifying means as may in his opinion provide equivalent competency."

2. By amending §§ 40.2612 (c) and 40.2613 (d) to read as follows:

§ 40.2612 (c) (Unassigned).

3. By amending § 40.2614 (e) to read as follows:

§ 40.2614 (e). Each first pilot within the six months preceding his qualification for an alternate route shall have made over the proposed route on which he will pilot aircraft for applicant one trip during which the visibility was not less than five miles as observed from the cockpit and during which he shall have made at least one landing at each scheduled intermediate stop and intermediate field or, in the case of an intermediate field, a visual examination thereof from a safe low altitude if field conditions prevent such landing. For the duration of the war and not to exceed six months thereafter the Administrator may, in lieu of the above specified trip permit an examination of such fields from the ground or such other qualifying means as may in his opinion provide equivalent competency.

4. By amending § 40.271 to read as follows:

§ 40.271 First pilots. Same as in § 40.261, except that at least one one-way trip of those trips required by § 40.2611 (b) shall have been made during the period between 1 hour after sunset and 1 hour before sunrise.

FLIGHT PLAN

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of March 1943.

Effective April 1, 1943, § 60.133 of the Civil Air Regulations is amended to read as follows:

§ 60.133 Flight plan. * * *

§ 60.1330 Flight plan for contact flight. The flight plan shall contain the following information:

(a) Identity of pilot and aircraft.

(b) Time and point of departure.

(c) Proposed cruising altitude or altitudes.

(d) Proposed route to be followed.

(e) Destination and estimated time of arrival.

(f) Usable radio equipment carried in aircraft, if any.

(g) Number of aircraft making the flight, if the aircraft are to be flown in formation.

§ 60.1331 Flight plan for instrument or over-the-top flight. The flight plan shall contain the following information:

(a) The aircraft identification mark, or the name of the governmental service in which the aircraft is employed, if so employed, or the name of the air carrier operator and the trip number, if engaged in scheduled air transportation service.

(b) The type of aircraft involved and the number of aircraft making the flight, if the aircraft are in formation.

(c) The name of the pilot, or of the flight commander if the aircraft are in formation.

(d) The point of departure of the particular flight for which such plan is being filed.

(e) The proposed cruising altitude or altitudes.

(f) The point of first intended landing.

(g) The proposed cruising airspeed.

(h) The radio equipment carried in the aircraft. (If no radio—NORDO; if radio receiver only—RONLY; if two-way radio, statement of transmitter frequency to be used.)

(i) The proposed time of departure. (The time of departure shall be considered as the time when the aircraft leaves the ground.)

(j) The estimated elapsed time until arrival on the ground at the point of first intended landing. (For scheduled operation, the first stop to be made, together with additional stops if requested by an airway traffic control center.)

(k) The alternate airport, if the flight is to involve instrument flight.

(l) The route, if other than a direct course, and any other pertinent information which the pilot deems useful for control purposes or which may be requested by an airway traffic control center.

PART 61—SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER RULES

ROUTE COMPETENCY RENEWAL; FIRST PILOTS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of March 1943.

Effective March 17, 1943, §§ 61.5150 (a) and 61.5151 (b) of the Civil Air Regulations are amended to read as follows:

§ 61.515 Route competency renewal. * * *

§ 61.5150 (a) A first pilot, who has been absent from flight duty over a regular route or part thereof for a period of less than 18 consecutive months and whose route competency has expired in accordance with the provisions of § 61.5140 (a), will be deemed competent for such route or part thereof upon completion of two one-way trips over the route or part thereof as pilot without passengers or as second pilot with or without passengers. During such trips the pilot shall be able at least once to observe every part of the route for which renewal of competency is sought, when the visibility is not less than five miles as observed from the cockpit.

§ 61.5151 (b) Alternate route renewal. A first pilot who has been absent from flight duty over an alternate route for a period of more than 24 consecutive months and whose competency has expired in accordance with the provisions of § 61.5141 (b) will be deemed competent for such alternate route upon completion of one one-way trip over the route as pilot without passengers or as second pilot with or without passengers.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 239—FORMS UNDER SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

RULE AS TO USE OF FORM S-1

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, particularly sections 7, 10 and 19 (a) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary for the execution of the functions vested in it by the said Act, hereby takes the following action:

Instruction 1 under the caption "General Instructions" for Form S-1 is amended to read as follows:

1. Rule as to use of Form S-1. This form may be used for registration under the Securities Act of 1933 of securities of any issuer which would otherwise be authorized or required to use Form A-1, A-2 or E-1: Provided, however, That this form shall not be used for securities of investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

Effective March 20, 1943.

PART 270—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940

VALUATION OF PORTFOLIO SECURITIES OF INVESTMENT COMPANIES, ETC.

Amendment to rule relating to valuation of portfolio securities of investment companies and amendment to forms relating to annual and quarterly reports of investment companies.

The Securities and Exchange Commission acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Investment Company Act of 1940, particularly sections 2 (a) (39), 30 (a), 30 (b) (1) and 38 (a) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary for the execution of the functions vested in it by the said Act, hereby takes the following action:

I. Amendment of § 270.2A-1 [Rule N-2A-1]. Section 270.2A-1 [Rule N-2A-1] is amended to read as follows:

§ 270.2A-1 Valuation of portfolio securities in special cases. (a) Any investment company whose securities are qualified for sale, or for whose securities application for such qualification has been made, in any state in which the securities owned by such company are required by applicable state law or regulations to be valued at cost or on some other basis different from that prescribed by clause (A) of section 2 (a) (39) of the Act for the purpose of determining the percentage of its assets invested in any particular type or classification of securities or in the securities of any one issuer, may, in valuing its securities for the purposes of sections 5 and 12 of the Act, use the same basis of valuation as that used in complying with such state law or regulations in lieu of the method of valuation prescribed by clause (A) of section 2 (a) (39) of the Act.

(b) Any open-end company which has heretofore valued its securities at cost for the purpose of qualifying as a "mutual investment company" under the Internal Revenue Code, prior to its amendment by the Revenue Act of 1942, shall henceforth, for the purposes of sections 5 and 12 of the Act, value its securities in accordance with the method prescribed in clause (A) of section 2 (a) (39) of the Act unless such company is permitted under paragraph (a) of this rule to use a different method of valuation.

(c) A registered investment company which has adopted for the purposes of sections 5 and 12 of the Act a method of valuation permitted by paragraph (a) of this rule, shall state in its registration statement filed pursuant to section 8 [54 Stat. 803; 15 U.S.C. 80a–8] of the Act, or in a report filed pursuant to section 30 [54 Stat. 836; 15 U.S.C. 80a–30] of the Act, the method of valuation adopted and the facts which justify the adoption of such method. A registered investment company which has adopted for the purposes of sections 5 and 12 of the Act a method of valuation permitted by paragraph (a) of this rule, unless it shall have adopted such method for the purpose or partly for the purpose of qualifying as a "mutual investment company" under the Internal Revenue Code, shall continue to use that method until it has notified the Commission of its desire to use a different method, and has received from the Commission permission for such change. Such permission may be made effective on a fixed date or within such reasonable time thereafter as may be deemed advisable under the circumstances.

(d) If at any time it appears that the method of valuation adopted by any company pursuant to paragraph (a) of this rule is no longer justified by the facts, the Commission may require a change in the method of valuation within a reasonable period of time either to the method prescribed in clause (A) of section 2 (a) (39) of the Act or to some other method permitted by paragraph (a) of this rule which is justified by the existing facts.

II. Amendment of Form N–30A–1. 1. Item 48 of Form N–30A–1 is amended by inserting immediately after the item number and caption the following statement:

NOTE: This item is not required to be answered by registrants which file quarterly reports on Form N–30B–1.

2. Form N–30A–1 is amended by inserting immediately after the caption "Exhibits" on page 25 thereof the following statement:

NOTE: The exhibits required by paragraphs A and B are not required to be furnished by registrants which file quarterly reports on Form N–30B–1.

3. Item 64 of Form N–30A–1 is amended to read as follows:

64. Regulated Investment Company. (a) State whether registrant has elected to be a regulated investment company as defined in section 361 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) If registrant has elected to be a regulated investment company, state whether registrant qualified as a regulated investment company during its last taxable year.

III. Amendment of Form N–30B–1. Paragraph (e) of Item 5 of Form N–30B–1 is amended to read as follows:

(e) If registrant, in valuing its assets for the purpose of Item 5 (a), (b), (c) and (d), has adopted a method of valuation permitted by paragraph (a) of § 270.2A–1 [Rule N–2A–1], indicate the method adopted.

The foregoing action of the Commission shall become effective March 20, 1943.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VII—National Housing Agency

[NHA General Order 60–5A]

PART 703—PUBLIC WAR HOUSING

OCCUPANCY OF PUBLIC WAR HOUSING

The purpose of this General Order is to amend NHA General Order No. 60–5, as to the length of time public war housing must be held for the use of eligible war workers, and the conditions under which such housing may be made available for other purposes.

Section 703.2 of NHA General Order No. 60–5 is hereby amended by deleting in its entirety the proviso clause constituting the last paragraph thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 703.2 Exclusive reservation. • • •

Provided, That after any housing accommodation, described in the foregoing § 703.2 (a), (b), (c), has been held available for occupancy by such eligible war workers for a reasonable period of time after completion or after any vacancy occurs, the NHA constituent unit having control of any such dwelling accommodation may (upon 10 days notice to the NHA Regional Representative who shall have the privilege of indicating a further holding period if he deems it desirable) permit such housing accommodations to be occupied, in the following order of preference, by (1) eligible in-migrant military personnel, viz, enlisted men in the naval or military services of the United States or to officers of the Army or Marine Corps not above the rank of Captain, and officers of the Navy and Coast Guard not above the grade of Lieutenant, Senior Grade, assigned to duty at military or naval reservations, posts or bases, or to duty at defense industries; (2) other civilian war workers (as defined in NHA General Order No. 60–1) or eligible military personnel; or (3) (in the event there is no present or anticipated demand for occupancy by such other civilian war workers or military personnel) to others eligible for occupancy as determined and prescribed by the NHA constituent unit having control of such dwelling accommodation. The term "reasonable period of time", as used in this proviso, shall be deemed to constitute a period of sixty days, except that a lesser period of time may be established by the NHA constituent unit having control of such dwelling accommodation, if such constituent unit (with the concurrence of the NHA Regional Representative) determines on the basis of local conditions that there is no present or anticipated demand for occupancy of such dwelling accommodations by indispensable immigrant civilian war workers.

The effective date of this General Order shall be March 23, 1943.

[Docket No. A–1768]

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT No. 2

MEMORANDUM OPINION, ETC.

Memorandum opinion and order of the director in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 2 for a change in minimum prices and price classifications established for Size Groups 1 and 2 for rail shipments for the coals of the Midland Mine, Mine Index No. 148 in District No. 2.

This proceeding was instituted upon a petition filed on November 27, 1942, by District Board 2 with the Bituminous Coal Division pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bitumious Coal Act of 1937. The petition requests the establishment of an "A" price classification for coals in Size Groups 1 and 2 produced by Pittsburgh Coal Co., a code member in District 2, at its Midland Mine (Mine Index No. 148), for rail shipment to all market areas, in lieu of the presently effective "C" classification for such coals.

Pursuant to appropriate orders and after due notice to all interested persons, a hearing in this matter was held on January 19, 1943, before D. C. McCurtain, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, at a hearing room thereof in Washington, D. C. All interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses and otherwise be heard. Petitioner and Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel appeared. All parties waived the preparation and filing of a report by the Examiner, and the matter was thereupon submitted to me for consideration.

The Midland mine is located in Chartiers Township of Washington County, Pennsylvania, in the Panhandle-Avella Subdistrict No. 7 of District 2. It operates in the Pittsburgh seam with an annual production of approximately 1,200,000 net tons. The sizes produced in Size Group 1 and 2 i. e., 4" lump, 6" x 4" egg, and 6" lump, are marketed for domestic consumption. The mine is equipped with a modern tipple and has modern preparation facilities.

On the basis of information available at the time, District Board 2 proposed and the Division, in General Docket No. 15, established a "C" classification. According to Francis Y. Casey, Vice-Chairman of District Board 2, the Price and Classification Committee of the District Board, of which he is a member, recently conducted investigations and obtained additional information which indicates that the "C" classification should be revised.

It appears that Pittsburgh Coal Co. regularly markets domestic coals in Size Groups 1 and 2 produced at the Midland Mine under its trade name "Champion" interchangeably with other coals under the same trade name which are produced at other mines operated by it and classified "A" in these size groups. While analytical qualities are not relatively important factors in the sale of domestic coals, Casey testified that analytically Midland coals are practically identical with coals produced at Pittsburgh Coal Co. Champion No. 1 Mine (Mine Index No. 28), for which an "A" classification was established. The record established that the real basis on which the requested classification is justified is the fact that Midland coals, in the size groups in question, are of exceptionally high quality, firm structure, favorable appearance, are produced in large block lumps, and enjoy customer acceptability comparable to similarly sized coals with "A" classification. Casey testified further that the other mines in the immediate area for which a "C" classification was established produce coals of smaller lumps, and do not enjoy customer acceptability comparable to the Midland domestic coals in Size Groups 1 and 2.[1]

No opposition to the request of District Board 2 was expressed at the hearing. The evidence adequately supports the request and establishes that the coals in question are comparable to and are of equal value with similarly sized coals produced by mines in the immediate area for which a price classification of "A" has been established. I am of the opinion that such a price classification for the coals in question would properly reflect their relative market value, and would properly relate such coals with comparable competitive coals.[2]

[1] With respect to "the large mines operating in District 2," the witness Casey testified that at the time of the original proposal of their classifications, the District Board had information only as to analytical comparisons but not as to other characteristics such as structure. To assure a proper correlation of the price classification of the coals involved herein with that of competitive, comparable coals in District 2, it is expected that the District Board will promptly undertake an investigation of the characteristics of the coals produced by such mines in District 2 and propose reclassifications where necessary to effectuate the purpose of the Act.

[2] While the foregoing relief appears warranted in this case, it should be reflected here, as has been pointed out in prior cases, that long established minimum prices will not be increased, where maximum prices may thereby be affected, unless a showing is satisfactorily made that such revision complies in all respects with the standards of the Act and effectuates the purposes thereof. See In the Matter of the Petition of Kentucky Cardinal Coal Corporation, etc., Docket No. A-1478; In the Matter of Petition of District Board No. 8 etc., Docket No. A-1634.

For the foregoing reasons and upon the basis of the entire record in this proceeding I find that coals in Size Groups 1 and 2, for rail shipment to all market areas, produced at the Midland Mine (Mine Index No. 148) of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. should be classified "A" instead of "C" and minimum prices therefor revised accordingly. I further find that such classification complies with the standards set forth in section 4 II (a) and (b) of the Act, and is necessary to effectuate the policy and purpose thereof.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That effective fifteen (15) days from the date of this order § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) be, and the same hereby is, amended by revising the price classification of coals produced by Pittsburgh Coal Co. at its Midland Mine (Mine Index No. 148) in District 2 in Size Groups 1 and 2 from "C" to "A".

Dated: March 19, 1943.

PART 327—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE. DISTRICT NO. 7

ORDER CONSOLIDATING MATTERS, ETC.

Order consolidating matters, granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petitions of District Board No. 7 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines and for changes in shipping points for the coals of certain other mines.

Original petitions pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7 and for changes in shipping points for certain other mines in District No. 7; and

It appearing that said petitions should be consolidated and that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That the above-entitled matters be, and the same hereby are, consolidated.

It is further ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 327.11 (Low volatile coals: Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I, § 327.21 (High volatile coals: Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II, and § 327.34 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into any market area) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 5, 1943.

[Docket No. A-1517, Part II]

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE. DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

A petition was filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") on June 23, 1942, by District Board No. 8, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act") requesting temporary and permanent relief by the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

The petition contains, among other proposals, the request for price classifications and minimum prices for the coals produced by certain mines (Mine Index Nos. 136, 441 to 445, inclusive, 531, 614, 727, and 5517) of Stearns Coal & Lumber Company for all shipments except truck from its Blue Heron Preparation Plant, some of which have heretofore been established for the coals of the various mines of Stearns Coal & Lumber Company, at various shipping points.[1]

[1] The original petition was assigned Docket No. A-1517, dated July 24, 1942. That portion of the docket relating to Mine Index Nos. 136, 441, to 445, inclusive, 531, 614, 727, and 5517 of the Stearns Coal & Lumber Company, a code member, was severed from the original docket and given the above designation of No. A-1517, Part II. By way of temporary relief the order directed that the price classifications and minimum prices requested by District Board No. 8 in the original petition for the coal of these mines be effective pending disposition of Part II of No. A-1517.

A hearing in this matter was held on August 17, 1942, before W. A. Cuff, a duly designated Examiner of the Division at a hearing room thereof in Washington, D. C., in which all interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and otherwise be heard. The petitioner and Stearns Coal & Lumber Company appeared. All parties waived the preparation and filing of a report by the Examiner, and the matter was thereupon submitted to me for my consideration.

The undersigned has made Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law and has rendered an Opinion filed herewith.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That § 328.11 (High volatile coals—Alphabetical list of code members) be and it is hereby amended by adding thereto Supplement R, which supplement is hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That the request for all other relief should be denied.

Dated: March 1, 1943.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting permanent relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for changes in price classifications and minimum prices in Size Groups 1 to 7, inclusive, for all shipments except truck and for truck shipments, for the coals of Red Parrot No. 2 Mine (Mine Index No. 593), of Red Parrot Coal Company, a code member in District No. 8.

Upon the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the opinion of the Director, filed simultaneously herewith, wherein it appears that the price classifications and minimum prices of the coals of the Red Parrot Coal Company, a code member in District 8, operating the Red Parrot No. 2 Mine (Mine Index No. 593), in Size Groups 1 to 7, inclusive, and 18 to 21, inclusive, for rail and lake shipment, and in Size Groups 1, 2, 4, 7, and 8 for truck shipment, should be revised, and that the seam designation of said mine should be changed, and pursuant to section 4 II (d) and other provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937,

It is hereby ordered, That effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof, § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 328.34 (General prices for high, volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof;

It is further ordered, That the seam designation of the Red Parrot No. 2 Mine (Mine Index No. 593) be changed from "Red Parrot" to "No. 5 Block Seam."

Dated: March 9, 1943.

PART 329—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 9

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 9 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 9.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 9; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 329.5 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 329.24 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into any market area) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 12, 1943.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VI—Selective Service System

[Order 93]

HARRISBURG STATE HOSPITAL PROJECT, PA.

ESTABLISHMENT FOR CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS

I, Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, in accordance with the provisions of section 5 (g) of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 885) and pursuant to authorization and direction contained in Executive Order No. 8675 dated February 6, 1941, hereby designate the Harrisburg State Hospital Project to be work of national importance, to be known as Civilian Public Service Camp No. 93. Said project, located at Harrisburg, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, will be the base of operations for work at the Harrisburg State Hospital, and registrants under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, who have been classified by their local boards as conscientious objectors to both combatant and noncombatant military service and have been placed in Class IV–E, may be assigned to said project in lieu of their induction for military service.

Men assigned to said Harrisburg State Hospital Project will be engaged in clerical work, as attendants, waiters, farm hands, etc., and shall be under the direction of the Superintendent, Harrisburg State Hospital, as well as will be the project management. Men shall be assigned to and retained in camp in accordance with the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 and regulations and orders promulgated thereunder, as well as the regulations of the Harrisburg State Hospital. Administrative and directive control shall be under the Selective Service System through the Camp Operations Division of National Selective Service Headquarters.

LEWIS B. HERSHEY,
Director.

PART 1052—KITCHEN, HOUSEHOLD AND OTHER MISCELLANEOUS ARTICLES

[Supplementary Limitation Order L–30–a, as Amended March 22, 1943]

GALVANIZED WARE AND NON-METAL COATED METAL ARTICLES

§ 1052.2 Supplementary Limitation Order L–30–a—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Restricted" when applied to any products or articles, means made of iron or steel which is zinc-coated or has a plain, japanned, painted, lithographed or lacquered finish.

(2) "Preferred order" means any purchase order, contract or subcontract for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(3) "Garbage, rubbish and ash receptacles" or "garbage cans and pails" do not include:

(i) Cans which are both specifically designed for, and of a type customarily used for, the disposal of oily waste or film scrap; or

(ii) Cans produced in fulfillment of preferred orders, provided such cans are constructed in accordance with United States Army Specifications Nos. 29–91 (dated October 19, 1939) or 29–91A (dated March 3, 1942), Federal Specification No. RR–C–81 (as amended May, 1936), Emergency Alternate Federal Specification No. E–RR–C–81 (dated April 30, 1941), or Bureau of Ships Specification No. 42C23 (INT) (dated June 1, 1942).

(4) "Pails," "buckets" or "tubs" do not include:

(i) Any pails, buckets or tubs designed expressly for use as packing or shipping containers; or

(ii) Any buckets produced in fulfillment of preferred orders, provided such buckets are constructed in accordance with Federal Specification No. RR–B–771a (dated March 3, 1939) or Emergency Alternate Federal Specification No. E–RR–B–771a (dated December 11, 1941).

(5) [Deleted March 22, 1943]

(6) "Manufacturer" means any person who produces or assembles any restricted product or article, or any part for such product or article.

(7) "Put into process" means the first change by a manufacturer in the form of material from that form in which it is received by him.

(8) "Base period" means the twelve months ending June 30, 1941.

(b) Restrictions on miscellaneous articles. Except as provided in paragraph (g), on and after November 12, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of any of the following restricted articles:

(1) Watering pots,
(2) Radiator and tractor filling cans (other than blitz cans),
(3) Foot baths,
(4) Liquid and dry measures (other than oil measures with flexible spouts), except in fulfillment of preferred orders,
(5) Dippers, except in fulfillment of preferred orders,
(6) Ash sifters,
(7) Coal hods and scuttles,
(8) Utility baskets.

(c) Restrictions on garbage, rubbish and ash receptacles. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), on and after November 12, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of any restricted garbage, rubbish or ash receptacles except garbage cans and pails as permitted in Schedule A attached to this order.

(2) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of restricted garbage cans and pails permitted under Schedule A than three times 50% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of restricted garbage, rubbish and ash receptacles.

[1] 8 F.R. 1574, 2773.

(d) Restrictions on pails, buckets and tubs. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), on and after November 12, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of any restricted pails, buckets or tubs (other than fire buckets) except pails and buckets and wash tubs as permitted under Schedule A.

(2) On and after January 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of any restricted fire bucket.

(3) Except in fulfillment of preferred orders and orders placed by the Rubber Development Corporation, U. S. Commercial Corporation and Defense Supplies Corporation, and except as provided in paragraph (d) (4), during the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943 and during each succeeding period of three months no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of:

(i) Restricted pails and buckets permitted under Schedule A than three times $16\frac{2}{3}$% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of restricted pails and buckets (other than fire buckets and wringer buckets); or

(ii) Restricted washtubs permitted under Schedule A than three times $16\frac{2}{3}$% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of the restricted washtubs.

(4) A manufacturer may increase the percentages described in paragraph (d) (3) from $16\frac{2}{3}$% to not more than 50%, to the extent that he puts into process iron or steel which he has identified as falling within one or more of the following classes:

(i) Iron and steel in his inventory on March 22, 1943;

(ii) Iron and steel obtained by him pursuant to a special sale, as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 13, and in accordance with the terms of that regulation;

(iii) Top cuts of steel (being that portion of steel in ingot normally discarded as not meeting special quality requirements of the customer's order for which it was melted);

(iv) Bessemer processed steel;

(v) Sheet mill seconds, rejects and waivers, 28-gauge and heavier;

(vi) Tin mill black plate rejects, 29 and 30-gauge;

(vii) Iron and steel obtained by him from a warehouse (as defined in Conservation Order M–21–b).

(e) Restrictions on wash boilers and fire shovels. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), on and after November 12, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of any:

(i) Restricted wash boiler except as permitted in Schedule A; or

(ii) Restricted fire shovel more than 22 inches in length.

(2) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, no manufacturer shall put into process more iron and steel, by weight, in the production of:

(i) Restricted wash boilers permitted under Schedule A than three times 50% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him in the base period in the production of wash boilers (whether restricted or not), or

(ii) Restricted fire shovels, than three times 50% of the average monthly amount of iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of restricted fire shovels.

(f) Restrictions on funnels, refrigerator pans and cans designed for the storage of oil, kerosene or gasoline. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (g), no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in the production of:

(i) Any restricted funnels, except:

(a) In fulfillment of preferred orders or

(b) As permitted in Schedule A;

(ii) Any restricted refrigerator pans; or

(iii) Any restricted cans, with a capacity of one to five gallons, inclusive, designed for the storage of oil, gasoline or kerosene, except:

(a) In fulfillment of preferred orders,

(b) Cans commonly known as safety cans, used for the storage of inflammable liquids,

(c) Cans used as operating supplies by railroads, common carriers, or mines (as defined in Order P–56), provided that all such cans are sold only in fulfillment of purchase orders from railroads, common carriers or mines, or (d) Cans designed for use on tank trucks for petroleum distribution operations.

(2) Except in fulfillment of preferred orders, no manufacturer shall put into process in the production of restricted funnels permitted under Schedule A:

(i) Any material other than iron or steel which he has identified as falling within one or more of the classes of iron and steel enumerated in subparagraphs (i) to (vii) of paragraph (d) (4); or

(ii) More iron and steel of such classes, by weight,

(a) During the period from March 22, 1943 to March 31, 1943, inclusive, than 50% of the average monthly amount of all iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of restricted funnels, or

(b) During the period of three months beginning April 1, 1943, and during each succeeding period of three months, than three times 50% of the average monthly amount of all iron and steel, by weight, put into process by him during the base period in the production of restricted funnels.

(g) Exceptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b), (c) (1), (d) (1), (e) (1) and (f) (1), a manufacturer may produce any restricted article mentioned in these paragraphs from iron and steel which, on November 12, 1942, had been cut or blanked to size for such restricted article by him or by any other person: Provided, That such restricted article is completed on or before December 7, 1942, except for the application of a zinc or other coating and the attaching of bails, handles, spouts or ears, which may be done thereafter.

(h) Applicability of other orders. The provisions of this order shall supersede the provisions of Limitation Order L–30 in respect to restricted articles covered by this order, but nothing in this order shall be deemed in any way to affect the provisions of said Order L–30 and other orders in respect to any other articles or products. In so far as any other order restricts the use of any material in the production of any restricted articles to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(j) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order should be made on Form PD–500, directed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–30–a.

(k) Avoidance of excessive inventories. No manufacturer shall accumulate, for use in the manufacture of restricted articles covered by this order, inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials, or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production of such restricted articles as permitted by this order

(l) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(m) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(n) Reports. (1) All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

(2) Each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board, on or before the tenth day of each calendar month, beginning December 10, 1942, a report on Form PD-655 showing all shipments of restricted articles covered by this order made during the preceding calendar month, together with a statement of stocks of such articles on hand at the beginning and end of such month.

(o) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(p) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-30-a.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A

[NOTE: The article "Funnels" in the table was amended March 22, 1943.]

Under paragraphs (c) (1), (d) (1), (e) (1) and (f) (1) of Limitation Order L-30-a, except as provided in paragraph (g) of that order, on and after November 12, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron or steel for use in certain restricted articles unless such restricted articles fall within the permissible sizes and other limitations set forth in this schedule. When a manufacturer is permitted by this schedule to make more than one size of any restricted article, each size he manufactures shall fall within a different one of the size ranges specified.

Articles	Number of sizes permitted each manufacturer	Size (actual capacity or dimensions)	Gauges
Garbage cans and pails (covers must not be zinc-coated).	4	5-7 gallons	26-31 gauge.
		9-11 gallons	26-31 gauge.
		20 gallons*	26-31 gauge.
		27 gallons*	22-24 gauge.
Pails and buckets (other than fire buckets and wringer buckets).	2	10 quarts*	28 gauge and lighter.
		14 quarts*	28 gauge and heavier.
Wash tubs (without stands or legs)	1	14 gallons*	28 gauge and lighter.
Wash boilers	1	11 to 14½ gallons	28 gauge and lighter.
Funnels (with or without wire strainers)	Unlimited	10" to 15" in diameter of bowl by 9⅛" to 12¾" deep.	22-30 gauge.

*The capacity or dimensions of these sizes may vary 10% from the figures stated.

INTERPRETATION 1

Paragraph (b) (4) of Order L-30-a, as amended February 11, 1943, refers to "liquid and dry measures (other than oil measures with flexible spouts) . . ." Oil measures which contain spouts of rigid construction but contain hinges which permit the spouts to be raised, lowered, or otherwise moved, are to be considered "measures with flexible spouts" pursuant to paragraph (b) (4) of L-30-a. (Issued March 11, 1943.)

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Schedule 8 to Limitation Order L-211]

CARBON STEEL PLATES

§ 3102.9 Schedule 8 to Limitation Order L-211—(a) Definitions. (1) "Plates" means flat hot-rolled finished steel products in the following dimensions:

3/16" (0.1875") or thicker, over 48" wide.
1/4" (0.250") or thicker, over 6" wide.
7.65 lb. per sq. ft. or heavier, over 48" wide.
10.2 lb. per sq. ft. or heavier, over 6" wide.

(2) "Carbon steel" means any steel on which the maximum of the range is specified or guaranteed to be 1.65 percent or less for manganese, 0.60 percent or less for silicon, 0.6 percent or less for copper, or on which the minimum of the range for copper is specified or guaranteed to be less than 0.40 percent, or on which no minimum content for any other alloying element is specified or guaranteed, or known to have been added to obtain a desired alloying effect.

(3) "Government order" means an order placed

(i) By the Government of the United States or any department or agency thereof, or

(ii) By any other person covering material to be physically incorporated into material to be delivered to such government, department, or agency, or

(iii) By a warehouse which has been designated by such government, department, or agency as a source of supply for government orders, for delivery to a stock maintained for that purpose.

(b) Restrictions on specifications—(1) Government orders. No person shall produce or deliver on a government order any carbon steel plate which does not conform to a specification set forth in List 1 or List 2 of this schedule.

(2) Other orders. No person shall produce, or deliver on any order other than a government order, any carbon steel plate which does not conform to a specification set forth in List 1 of this schedule.

(c) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of carbon steel plates which he knows or has reason to believe were produced or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraph (b).

(d) Exceptions. (1) The provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) shall not apply to carbon steel plates:

(i) The production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of which is specifically excepted by the Director General for Operations, or

(ii) Which have been produced or fabricated prior to March 22, 1943, or which prior to such date have been processed in such manner and to such extent that processing to conform to such specifications would be impracticable.

(iii) Which are certified by the U. S. Army or Navy to the producer or supplier as being necessary to insure the military characteristics of the item for which such carbon steel plates are required.

(2) The provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) shall not prevent:

(i) Waiver by the purchaser or procuring agency of any of the inspection or test requirements of the specifications prescribed in paragraph (b).

(ii) Delivery or acceptance of carbon steel plates which because of errors in manufacture do not conform to the requirements of paragraph (b), providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser or procuring agency.

(e) Records. Each person owning or possessing carbon steel plates excepted by the provisions of paragraph (d) shall retain records of such material available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-256]

UNITED ENGINE & MACHINE CO.

United Engine & Machine Company, a California corporation, doing business at 310 Preda Street, San Leandro, California, is engaged in the manufacture of aluminum piston castings and finished pistons.

Between January 7, 1942 and September 30, 1942, the United Engine & Machine Company melted approximately 65,877 pounds of aluminum scrap, without the authorization of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations. Inasmuch as the United Engine & Machine Company was specifically advised by letter dated April 24, 1942 from the War Production Board that it could not melt any plant-generated scrap and that such scrap must be disposed of through authorized smelters, but nevertheless it continued to melt its own scrap until September 30, 1942, such conduct constituted wilful violations of Supplementary Order M-1-d.

The United Engine & Machine Company, without the authorization of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, accepted deliveries of and melted approximately 6,000 pounds of copper wire scrap, which acts constituted wilful violations of Supplementary Order M-9-b.

These violations of Supplementary Order M-1-d and Supplementary Order M-9-b have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.256 Suspension Order S-256. (a) The United Engine & Machine Company, its successors and assigns, shall not accept delivery of primary aluminum, secondary aluminum, aluminum scrap or alloys of which aluminum constitutes the major part, except to enable it to fill orders having an AA-1 rating or higher, or orders which have been approved by the Regional Compliance Chief of the San Francisco Regional Office of the War Production Board.

(b) Except for the purpose of enabling the United Engine & Machine Company to fill orders having an AA-1 rating or higher, deliveries to said company shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) No allocations of primary aluminum, secondary aluminum, aluminum scrap or alloys of which aluminum constitutes the major part shall be made to United Engine & Machine Company, its successors and assigns, other than are necessary for the company to fill orders having an AA-1 rating or higher unless specifically approved by the Regional Compliance Chief of the San Francisco Regional Office of the War Production Board.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve United Engine & Machine Company, its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations, or the Director General for Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on March 27, 1943 and shall expire on September 27, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-258]

REAL FORM GIRDLE CO.

Meyer Dorfman, doing business as Real Form Girdle Company, 218 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, is engaged in the business of manufacturing women's girdles and in connection therewith uses rubber yarn. Despite the fact that Conservation Order M-124, as amended August 26, 1942, prohibits the use of rubber yarn to make girdles, for a period of three months thereafter the Real Form Girdle Company continued to knit rubber yarn into elastic fabric for girdles, using in excess of 1,000 pounds of rubber yarn to do so. The failure of the Real Form Girdle Company to acquaint itself with this restriction was so grossly negligent as to constitute a wilful violation of Conservation Order M-124, and has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.258 Suspension Order S-258. (a) Deliveries of material to Meyer Dorfman, doing business as Real Form Girdle Company or under any other name, his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Meyer Dorfman, doing business as Real Form Girdle Company or under any other name, his successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Meyer Dorfman, doing business as Real Form Girdle Company or under any other name, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on March 24, 1943, and shall expire on June 24, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

The following direction is issued, pursuant to paragraph (t) (6) of CMP Regulation No. 1 (8 F.R. 482, 1730, 2565, 2857) to all steel producers:

(a) Orders which on or before March 22 1943, were promised for shipment during the second quarter of 1943 shall not be displaced in the absence of a specific direction to the contrary, by any order (including authorized controlled material orders) received at any time prior to April 15, 1943, notwithstanding any provision contained in any CMP regulation.

(b) Orders which on or before March 22 1943, were promised for shipment during the second quarter of 1943 may be converted into authorized controlled material orders at any time pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 1.

(c) Authorized controlled material orders or allotments converting other orders into authorized controlled material orders, which orders were not as of March 22, 1943, promised for shipment in the month indicated by the allotment number, shall be held in abeyance and not accepted until April 15, 1943.

(d) On and after April 15, 1943, authorized controlled material orders for shipment during the second quarter of 1943 shall be accepted and filled to the extent required by paragraph (t) of CMP Regulation No. 1. Such orders shall, however, be subordinated to orders mentioned in paragraph (a) above which have been converted into authorized controlled material orders prior to April 15, 1943.

(e) A consumer who receives, after March 10, 1943, an authorized production schedule in connection with a new program and is unable, by reason of this direction, to get his authorized controlled material orders accepted for shipment in time to fulfill such schedule, may apply for relief either directly or through the Claimant Agency involved to the appropriate Products Section of the Steel Division of the War Production Board. The Steel Division will, if the circumstances warrant, direct a producer to fill such order.

(f) This direction shall not apply to the acceptance or scheduling of authorized controlled material orders for shipment after June 30, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

H. G. BATCHELLER,
Director, Steel Division.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-259]

LERNER SHOPS OF CALIFORNIA, INC.

Lerner Shops of California, Inc., is a corporation which operates retail stores in the State of California.

After December 5, 1942, without the authorization of the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board, Lerner Shops of California, Inc., began construction and ordered, purchased and withdrew from inventory, materials to begin construction on the remodeling of a building located at 6533 Pacific Boulevard, Huntington Park, California, the estimated cost of which construction was in excess of $200.00. At the time this remodeling was undertaken, Lerner Shops of California, Inc., was familiar with the provisions of Conservation Order L-41. Nevertheless, the company elected to proceed with the project, disregarding the provisions and restrictions of said order.

Since this construction was begun in violation of Conservation Order L-41, it cannot be allowed to continue. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.259 Suspension Order S-259. (a) Neither Lerner Shops of California, Inc., nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to continue or complete construction of the remodeling of the building located at 6533 Pacific Boulevard, Huntington Park, California, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Lerner Shops of California, Inc. from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 25, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1128—CLOSURES FOR GLASS CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M-104,[1] as Amended March 15, 1943]

§ 1128.1 Conservation Order M-104—(a) Definitions. (1) "Closure" means any sealing or covering device affixed or to be affixed to a glass container for the purpose of retaining the contents within the container.

(2) "Glass container" means any bottle, jar, or tumbler which is made of glass and which is suitable for packing any product.

(3) "Tinplate" means sheet steel coated with tin, and includes "primes," "seconds," "waste-waste," and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

(4) "Terneplate" means sheet steel coated with a lead-tin alloy, and includes "primes," "seconds," "waste-waste," and all other forms of terneplate except waste.

(5) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel, other than tinplate or terneplate, suitable for manufacture into closures, and includes "rejects," "electrolytic waste-waste," and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

(6) "Waste" means used closures and used cans, made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate; and scrap tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing closures.

(7) "Rubber," whether a separate sealing ring or incorporated into a closure, means any polyvinyl acetate, or any crude rubber, latex, scrap rubber, reclaimed rubber, or synthetic rubber, as defined by Supplementary Order M-15-b, as amended from time to time.

(8) "Pack," unless particularly specified, means the number of closures used for packing a product during the base period specified.

(b) Restrictions upon manufacture, sale, and delivery of closures. (1) No person shall sell or deliver any closure made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, wire, rubber, or waste, except under a purchase order or contract validated by delivery to such person of a purchaser's certificate, manually signed by the purchaser or an authorized official of the purchaser, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any such closure which he knows or has reason to believe will be used in violation of any provision of this order.

(2) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, waste or rubber for the manufacture of the following types of closures:

(i) Cover caps which serve as a protective or decorative closure in addition to any original sealing medium such as another closure or paraffin.

(ii) Double shell or semi-double shell caps.

(iii) Two-piece closures when both pieces are made of metal, except as permitted in paragraph (b) (3).

(3) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate, blackplate, wire, or rubber for the manufacture of any closure of the home canning type, except as, and to the extent permitted in Schedule V attached to this order. No closure manufactured pursuant to Schedule V shall knowingly be sold to any person for packing any product for sale.

(4) No person shall use any tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate, except "rejects" or "electrolytic waste-waste," heavier than 90 pounds per base box, for the manufacture of crown caps.

(5) No person shall use for the manufacture of closures any tinplate with a tin coating in excess of 1.25 pounds per base box.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and use of closures. No person shall, during any calendar year (or seasonal year or other period, when specified) purchase, accept delivery of, or use for packing a product, any closure made in whole or in part of tinplate terneplate, blackplate, or rubber, except as, and to the extent permitted in Schedules I, II, III, and IV, attached to this order: Provided, however, That a jobber or retailer may obtain and sell closures in conformity with the provisions of this order. Blackplate may be used wherever tinplate or terneplate is specified. Closures made of waste shall not be used for packing any product for which closures made of tinplate, terneplate, and blackplate are totally prohibited.

(d) Exceptions. (1) Nothing in this order shall prohibit any person who used less than 5,000 closures during the calendar year 1942 from purchasing, accepting delivery of, or using without restriction, an aggregate of 5,000 closures during any subsequent calendar year.

(2) The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use of closures for packing any product not listed in the schedules attached to this order, when such closures, on or before December 23, 1942, were completely manufactured or were in the form of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate fully lithographed with a person's private design cut into strips.

(3) No certificate shall be required for the sale or delivery of closures to:

(i) Retailers;

(ii) Persons purchasing closures from retailers.

(4) Nothing in this order shall prohibit the purchase, acceptance of delivery, or use (such use to be in addition to any quota specified in the schedules attached to this order) of closures by any of the following persons or by any person for packing any product to be delivered to or for the account of any of the following persons:

(i) Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States (including persons operating vessels for such Administration or Commission for use thereon).

(ii) Any person for packing products for retail sale or distribution through post-exchanges, sales commissaries, officers' messes, servicemen's clubs, ship service stores, or outlets; provided same are located at Army or Navy camps, are not operated for private profit and are established primarily for the use of Army or Navy enlisted personnel within Army or Navy establishments or on Army or Navy vessels.

(iii) American Red Cross or United Service Organizations.

(iv) Any agency of the United States purchasing for a foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(v) Any person in the Territory of Hawaii; provided that the exception provided by this paragraph (d) (4) (v) shall be limited to closures used in connection with the packing of products to be consumed in the said Territory.

The effect of this amendment is to amend certain items in Schedules I and V.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-104.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 15th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE I—FOOD CLOSURES

[NOTE: Item 5 under "Milk and Dairy Products" was amended March 15, 1943]

A. Any person who used closures from January 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, for packing a food product not listed in this Schedule I, may use an equal number of closures during the year 1943 for packing the products listed in this schedule, in addition to the quotas respectively specified.

B. Wherever the asterisk appears the packing quota relates to the number of closures and cans used for packing the applicable product.

C. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (d) (4) of this order, the respective quotas specified for items 3 and 6 under Fruits and item 6 under Milk and Dairy Products shall include pack required to be set aside by any order of the Director General for Operations for purchase by government agencies.

D. No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a glass container, by the same or a different person, in the same or a different form, except to the extent specifically permitted in this schedule.

E. Split year items such as "1941-2" appearing in the column "1943 Packing Quota" refer to specified seasonal year base periods to be used in computing permitted packs for subsequent seasonal years.

SCHEDULE IV—BEVERAGE CLOSURES

A From December 23, 1942, to December 31, 1942, any person shall have the option of using closures for the bottling of malt and non-alcoholic beverages in accordance with the provisions of Order M-104 as amended September 26, 1942, or in accordance with this schedule. On and after January 1, 1943, no person shall use closures for such purpose except in accordance with this schedule.

Product—Bottling quota	Closure material
Product: Malt beverages, including only beer, ale, porter, near-beer, and mixtures thereof. Quota: Any person who produced in 1941 less than 65,000 barrels may use in any calendar month, commencing with December 1, 1942, 100 percent, and any person who produced in 1941 over 65,000 barrels may use in any calendar month, commencing with December 1, 1942, 70 percent of the number of closures affixed by him to glass containers during the corresponding month of 1941. In the case of a person who packed all or part of his 1941 production in cans, each such can may be counted as a closure affixed to a glass container. In the case of a person who did not produce any malt beverages in 1941, such beverages bottled by him, shall be considered as having been produced by him, and his authorized usage of closures shall be calculated accordingly.	Tinplate and blackplate allocated for purposes of crown manufacture, only, and in inventory of crown manufacturer or bottler on or before December 11, 1942. Also rejects and electrolytic waste-waste.
Product: Non-alcoholic beverages, including only carbonated soft drinks; non-carbonated soft drinks; unflavored carbonated waters, unflavored naturally carbonated and still waters; drinks consisting of fruit juices, vegetable juices, and combinations thereof, where less than 85 percent by weight of such drinks is pure fruit juice, vegetable juice, or a mixture thereof; and sterilized milk drinks made with powdered milk. Quota: Any person who used in 1941 less than 5,000 gross of closures, may use during any calendar quarter, commencing with October 1, 1942, 100 percent of the number of closures affixed by him to glass containers during the corresponding quarter of 1941. Any person who used in 1941 more than 5,000 and less than 7,000 gross of closures, may use not to exceed 5,000 gross of closures in any twelve-month period, commencing with October 1, 1942; the number used during any calendar quarter to be at the same proportionate rate he affixed closures to glass containers during the corresponding quarter of 1941. Any person who used in 1941 more than 7,000 gross of closures, may use during any calendar quarter, commencing with October 1, 1942, 70 percent of the number of closures affixed by him to glass containers during the corresponding quarter of 1941.	Tinplate and blackplate allocated for purposes of crown manufacture only, and in inventory of crown manufacturer or bottler on or before December 11, 1942. Also rejects and electrolytic waste-waste.

(1) No person, other than a jobber purchasing for resale, shall accept delivery of malt beverage or non-alcoholic beverage closures which would increase his inventory beyond 20 percent of the number of such closures and cans which he used in 1941 for packing malt beverages and non-alcoholic beverages.

(2) Closures for waters. Except with regard to items listed in Schedule II, no closures made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate shall be affixed to glass containers smaller than 12 fluid ounces, for packing unflavored carbonated, natural or mineral waters, unless such glass containers were manufactured on or before June 1, 1942.

(3) All persons who bottle malt beverages or non-alcoholic beverages, shall report upon Form PD-519 to the Containers Division, War Production Board, Washington D. C.

PART 937—ZINC

[General Preference Order M-11-l[1] as Amended March 23, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of zinc dust for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 937.13 General Preference Order M-11-l—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Zinc dust" means all grades of zinc dust, produced from ores, concentrates, metallic zinc or other primary material and from scrap, dross or other primary material and from scrap, dross or other secondary material.

(2) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(3) "Producer" means any person producing zinc dust and any person who has zinc dust produced for him under a toll agreement.

(4) "Toll agreement" means any agreement by which title to material remains vested in a person other than the one processing the material.

(c) Restrictions—(1) Deliveries by producers. No producer shall ship or deliver zinc dust to any person except on presentation by that person of an allocation certificate issued by the Director General for Operations. Upon accepting an allocation certificate, the producer shall endorse thereon the amounts of zinc dust which he agrees to ship under such certificate in the calendar month covered by the certificate. No producer shall endorse an allocation certificate for zinc dust or make any shipment thereunder if, by so doing, the total endorsements, or shipments, under the certificate will exceed the amounts authorized by such certificate.

(2) Acceptance of deliveries. No person shall accept any delivery of zinc dust from a producer otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(3) Toll agreements. Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall produce any zinc dust under any existing or future toll agreement.

(d) Allocation certificates. The Director General for Operations will issue allocation certificates for zinc dust on or about the first of each month. An allocation certificate will authorize shipment of specified amounts of zinc dust during the calendar month for which it is issued by a producer to the holder of the certificate. This certificate must be presented to the producer for endorsement as provided in paragraph (c) (1) of this order. A producer need not accept a new order although supported by an allocation certificate if his entire production for the month is committed under contract and he has reason to believe that other allocation certificates will be presented during the month by the person or persons to whom his production is committed in amounts at least equal to his production.

(e) Applications for allocation certificates. Any person wishing to apply for an allocation of zinc dust from a producer for any month beginning with January, 1943, shall file an application with the War Production Board, Zinc Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-11-l, not later than the fifteenth of the month preceding the month in which the allocation of zinc dust is desired: Provided, however, That if application is for an allocation of zinc dust for January, 1943, it may be filed not later than December 30, 1942. Persons shall make application on Form PD-755.

(f) Exceptions. Exceptions from the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) shall be as follows:

(1) Small order exceptions. Any producer may ship and deliver zinc dust to any other person without an allocation certificate for zinc dust: Provided, That such other person shall certify to the producer in writing at the time of delivery;

(i) That the total amount of zinc dust delivered to such other person from all sources (inclusive of the amount then being delivered) has not exceeded 75 pounds in the month in which delivery is being made,

(ii) That no allocation certificate for zinc dust for that month has been issued to such other person by the Director General for Operations, and

(iii) The end use to which the zinc dust is to be put.

No person shall accept from a producer delivery of more than 75 pounds of zinc dust in any month without an allocation certificate, or of any zinc dust not endorsed on the allocation certificate if he has one.

(2) Deliveries to the Metals Reserve Company. Any producer may ship and deliver zinc dust without an allocation certificate to the Metals Reserve Company or to any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U.S.C. section 606 (b)) or to any duly authorized agent of any such corporation.

(3) Special directions. The Director General for Operations may, from time to time, issue special directions to any person as to the source, destination or amounts of zinc dust to be shipped and delivered by any producer or received by any person, and the Director may also specifically direct the manner and quantities in which such zinc dust may be processed.

(4) Zinc dust for export. Zinc dust may be shipped or delivered for export by any producer without an allocation certificate if shipment or delivery is to be made pursuant to an export license duly issued by the Office of Export Control of the Board of Economic Warfare.

(g) Interdepartmental shipments. The restrictions, limitations and prohibitions in paragraph (c) of this order shall apply not only to all shipments from one person to another person but also to all shipments and deliveries of zinc dust from any producing branch, division or department of any business enterprise to another branch, division or department in the same or any other business enterprise owned or controlled by the same person.

(h) Each producer of zinc dust shall file monthly, on Form PD–758, a report of his production, shipments and inventory of zinc dust. All producers and users of zinc dust shall file such other reports with the War Production Board at such times and in such manner and form as it may prescribe, showing such information as the War Production Board may from time to time require.

(i) Addressing of communications. All applications, statements or other communications filed pursuant to this order or concerning the subject matter hereof, should be addressed to: War Production Board, Zinc Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–11–I.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and, upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Effective date. The provisions of this order other than those of paragraph (e) shall not be effective until January 1, 1943. Paragraph (e) shall be effective at once.

(l) Expiration date. This order shall continue in effect until revoked.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1293—HAND TOOLS SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L–157, Schedule II as Amended March 23, 1943]

FORGED AXES, FORGED HATCHETS, FORGED BROAD AXES, FORGED ADZES, AND FORGED LIGHT HAMMERS

§ 1293.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L–157—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures or otherwise fabricates forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes and forged light hammers.

(2) "Forged light hammer" means a forged hammer weighing less than 4 pounds. (Handles not included in this weight).

(3) "Put into process" means the act of material from that form in which it was received by him.

(4) "Lend-Lease Government" means the government of any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". (Lend-Lease Act).

(b) Simplifiecd practices. (1) Pursuant to Limitation Order No. L–157, the kinds, styles, sizes, weights and provisions set forth in Appendices A, B and C hereto, are hereby established as specifications for the manufacture of forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes and forged light hammers. Notwithstanding such limitation a producer may manufacture or otherwise fabricate forged axes not conforming to the specifications set forth in Appendix A hereto, for export under a license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare or to fill an order of a Lend-Lease Government.

(2) Forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes or forged light hammers may be supplied with or without handles. Handles shall be limited to not more than three grades, as selected by the producer, for any one pattern (irrespective of size) of axe, hatchet, broad axe, adze, or light hammer manufactured, forged, or otherwise fabricated in accordance with this paragraph (b). On or before May 15, 1943, each producer shall file on Form PD–754, with the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., a list of the three grades of handles selected by him for each pattern.

(c) Effective date of simplified practices. The provisions of this Schedule II, as amended, shall take effect on the 15th day of April, 1943. On and after the 15th day of April, 1943, no producer shall put into process any ferrous metal in the manufacture of a forged axe, forged hatchet, forged broad axe, forged adze or forged light hammer, which fails to conform to the specifications established by paragraph (b) of this Schedule II and as set forth in Appendices A, B, and C hereto. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of this Schedule II, a producer may at any time sell or deliver a forged axe, forged hatchet, forged broad axe, forged adze or forged light hammer manufactured prior to the 15th day of April, 1943.

by which a person first changes the form

(d) Application to manufacture exceptions. Application by a producer to manufacture a forged axe, forged hatchet, forged broad axe, forged adze or forged light hammer, not in accordance with the specifications as set forth in Appendices A, B and C of this schedule shall be made in writing to the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–157 The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deem appropriate.

(e) Records covering material, types and sizes, work in process, etc. On or before May 15, 1943, each producer of forged axes, forged hatchets, forged broad axes, forged adzes and forged light hammers shall file on Form PD–754 with the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., a list of all items manufactured by him in conformance with this amended schedule.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

APPENDIX A TO SCHEDULE II—LIMITATION ORDER L–157

FORGED AXES

1. Patterns, bit styles and sizes shall be as specified in the following tables 1, 2 and 3, and patterns shall conform to a manufacturer's patterns as manufactured by him on March 23, 1943. Not more than one type of any one pattern as listed shall be manufactured.

2. A "plain" bit style means a forged axe having a bit in which the transverse surface is continuous.

3. The finish on all forged axes shall be a forge finish as follows: All flash and scale to be removed with a hard wheel from the head and the bit or bits. The striking face and bit or bits shall be ground and polished, but not to exceed a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of an 80-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed. The bit or bits shall be ground and polished for a distance not to exceed 2 inches from the cutting edge. Surfaces having a polish finish shall be completely and heavily coated with an oil or grease compound, or a clear transparent lacquer for prevention of rust. The balance of the head may be covered with a coating of paint, lacquer, enamel or other rust-proof coating over the natural forge finish.

4. In cases where a substitute name is shown in the listing of pattern names, the name listed first shall be the name of the pattern, but a producer or distributor may use one of the substituted names for the pattern, providing such listing does not indicate it as a different pattern. Substitute names may not be used for patterns other than as listed.

5. A manufacturing tolerance of 3 ounces plus or minus shall be permitted in the sizes as listed, but any pattern may only be catalogued and listed in the sizes as shown in the tables.

6. No alloy steel shall be used in the manufacture of any forged axes.

FORGED HATCHETS, BROAD AXES AND ADZES

1. Patterns, sizes, widths of cutting edge and weight of head shall be as specified in the following tables 1, 2 and 3.

2. Patterns as specified shall conform to a manufacturer's patterns as manufactured by him on March 23, 1943, but not more than one type of any one pattern of hatchet, broad axe or adze as listed shall be manufactured.

(i) When "width of cutting edge in inches" for forged hatchets, forged broad axes, and forged adzes is specified in tables 1, 2 and 3 of this appendix, a tolerance of ⅛ inch plus or minus shall be permitted.

(ii) When "approximate weight of head in pounds" for forged broad axes is specified in table 2 of this appendix, a tolerance of 8 ounces plus or minus shall be permitted.

4. No alloy steel shall be used in the manufacture of any forged hatchets, forged broad axes or forged adzes.

5. The finish on all forged hatchets, forged broad axes and forged adzes, shall be a forge finish as follows: All flash and scale to be removed with a hard wheel from the head and the bit. The bit shall be, and striking face may be, ground and polished but not to exceed a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of an 80-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed. The bit shall be ground and polished for a distance not to exceed 1½ inches from the cutting edge. Surfaces having a polish finish shall be completely and heavily coated with an oil or grease compound, or a clear transparent lacquer for prevention of rust. The balance of the head may be covered with a coating of paint, lacquer, enamel or other rust-proof coating over the natural forge finish.

FORGED LIGHT HAMMERS

1. Kinds, patterns and weights of forged light hammers shall be as specified in the following tables 1 and 2.

2. Octagon or hexagon patterns indicate a hammer having an octagonal or hexagonal neck or poll, or neck and poll.

3. The finish on all forged light hammers shall be a forge finish as follows: All flash and scale to be removed with a hard wheel. Only striking faces and peins to be ground and polished, but not to exceed a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of an 80-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed. Surfaces having a polish finish shall be completely and heavily coated with an oil or grease compound, or a clear transparent lacquer for prevention of rust. The balance of the head may be covered with a coating of paint, lacquer, enamel or other rust-proof coating over the natural forge finish.

4. Where weights are specified in tables 1 and 2, such weights are for heads only, and a tolerance of 2 ounces plus or minus shall be permitted.

5. No alloy steel shall be used in the manufacture of any forged light hammers or special purpose hammers except machinists and magnetic tack or bill-posters hammers. Alloy steels, such as are permitted at the time of manufacture by the Steel Division of the War Production Board, may be used in the manufacture of machinists and magnetic tack or bill-posters hammers.

6. Milled faces on nail and ripping hammers will be permitted on 16 ounce and 20 ounce sizes only.

PART 3033—PORTLAND CEMENT

[Limitation Order L-179 as Amended March 23, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has made imminent a shortage in the supply of portland cement for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate to protect the public interest and to promote the national war effort:

§ 3033.1 General Limitation Order L-179—(a) Restrictions—(1) Manufacture. On and after twenty days subsequent to August 3, 1942, no person shall manufacture any portland cement except portland cement which conforms with one or more of the following specifications as such specifications exist on August 3, 1942:

(i) Federal specifications: Emergency Alternate Federal Specification for cement: Portland-E-SS-C-191b, dated June 5, 1942;

(ii) Federal specifications: Emergency Alternate Federal Specification for cement; Portland-E-SS-C-201a, dated June 5, 1942;

(iii) Federal specifications: Emergency Alternate Federal Specification for cement; Portland E-SS-C-206a, dated June 5, 1942;

(iv) American Society for Testing Materials specifications: Emergency Alternate Specification for Portland Cement A. S. T. M. Designation EA-C 150-Type I, dated June 6, 1942;

(v) American Society for Testing Materials specifications: Emergency Alternate Specification for Portland Cement A. S. T. M. Designation EA-C 150-Type III, dated June 6, 1942;

(vi) American Society for Testing Materials specifications: Emergency Alternate Specifications for Portland Cement A. S. T. M. Designation EA-C 150-Type II, dated June 6, 1942.

(2) [Revoked February 16, 1943]

(3) Requirements for testing. A purchaser of portland cement may require tests of such cement, but such tests may only be made in accordance with "Federal Specifications: Emergency Alternate Federal Specifications for Cement; Portland—Dated June 5, 1942, E-SS-C-158a" or "American Society for Testing Materials Specifications: Emergency Alternate Specifications for Portland Cement A. S. T. M. Designation EA-C 150, dated June 6, 1942".

(b) Specific exemptions. The provisions of this order shall not apply to portland cement manufactured and stored pursuant to orders or contracts for any cement:

(1) To be used in the following named projects under the direction or control of the United States Bureau of Reclamation:

(i) Boise Project—Anderson Ranch Dam—Boise, Idaho;

(ii) Central Valley Project—Kennett Division—Redding, California;

(iii) Central Valley Project—Friant Division—Friant, California;

(iv) Davis Dam Project—Kingman, Arizona;

(2) To be used in the following project under the direction or control of United States War Department, U. S. Army Engineer Corps:

(i) Norfolk Dam—Arkansas.

(3) To be used in the following projects under the direction or control of the Tennessee Valley Authority:

(i) Fontana Dam—Fontana Dam, North Carolina;

(ii) Douglas Dam—Rural Station, Jefferson City, Tennessee;

(iii) Fort Loudon Dam—Lenoir City, Tennessee;

(iv) Kentucky Dam—Gilbertsville, Kentucky;

(v) Apalachia Dam—Farner, Tennessee;

(vi) Ocoee No. 3 Dam—McFarland, Tennessee;

(4) To be used in oil wells under conditions of high temperature, such cement being commonly known as "oil well cement";

(5) To be used pursuant to the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations.

(c) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(d) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(e) Reports. Each person to whom this order applies shall file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time specify.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(h) Applicability of other orders. The provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (§ 944.14, Inventory restrictions) shall not apply to this order and all transactions affected thereby. Insofar as any other order issued by the Director General for Operations, or to be issued by him after August 3, 1942, limits the use of any material to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order the restrictions of such other order shall govern, unless otherwise specified herein.

(i) Communications. Reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-179.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH

[Rev. MPR 239,[1] Amendment 1]

LAMB CARCASSES AND WHOLESALE AND RETAIL CUTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 239 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1364.160 (a) (5) is amended by changing the word "resale" to read "sale."

2. Section 1364.160 (a) (9) (i) is amended by inserting the words "bracelets, chucks, kidneys," between the word "fores" and the word "steaks."

3. Section 1364.167 (a) is amended by changing the word "two" in the last sentence of the first unnumbered paragraph to read "applicable" and by deleting the word "chuck" in the second sentence of the first unnumbered paragraph.

4. Section 1364.167 (b) is amended by deleting the word "chuck."

5. Section 1364.169 is amended by changing the words "applicable zone prices" wherever they appear to read "applicable maximum prices."

6. Section 1364.170 (a) is amended by inserting the words "and carcasses" between the word "cuts" and the figure "$0.25."

7. Section 1364.170 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Freezing. (1) For freezing and storage by the seller, cost at published commercial rate for nearest commercial freezer not to exceed $0.50 per cwt.

(2) For freezing and storage by commercial freezer, cost at commercial rate for such freezing, plus transportation charges calculated at the lowest common carrier rate for a similar haul—both not to exceed $0.50 per cwt.

(3) If the seller is a wholesaler or hotel supply house who has paid a charge for freezing and storage under subparagraphs (1) and (2), he may upon the resale of the meat upon which the charge has been made add the amount of such charge if the meat is still in its frozen form.

8. Section 1364.170 (e) is amended by inserting the words "all supplies and" between the word "For" and the word "all."

9. Section 1364.170 (g) is amended by inserting the words "or cuts" between the word "out" and the figure "$3.50."

10. Section 1364.170 (h) (2) (i) is amended by inserting the words "purveyor of meals" between the words "hotel supply house" and the words "or commercial user."

11. Section 1364.170 (h) (2) (ii) is amended by inserting the words "purveyor of meals" between the words "hotel supply house" and the words "or commercial user."

12. Section 1364.170 (h) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) Limitation on total charge for transportation and delivery. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of paragraphs (h) (1) to (h) (3), inclusive, of this section, nothing therein contained shall be construed to permit a total charge for transportation and for delivery from the point at which the meat was slaughtered to the place of business or receiving point of a retail seller, purveyor of meals, war procurement agency, other government agency or commercial user of more than $0.50 per cwt. in price zones 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, or 10; or $0.75 per cwt. in price zones 2, 3, and 4. The additions specified in this paragraph (h) for transportation and for local delivery may be charged: Provided, That the seller shall itemize separately on an invoice to the buyer the amount charged the buyer for transportation and/or local delivery, except that if such separate statement of transportation charges is prohibited by local law, the seller shall maintain in his own record of the transaction a separate statement of any addition for transportation or local delivery which is included in the maximum price charged.

13. Section 1364.174 (a) (10) (viii) is amended to read as follows:

(viii) "Chuck" means the subdivision of the foresaddle left after cutting a bracelet and consists of the neck, shoulders, shank and brisket. It includes the 1st to the 4th ribs. It is separated from the foresaddle or forequarter by cutting between the 4th and 5th ribs following the curvature of the ribs close to the 4th rib until this rib turns to join the breast bone at which point the cut is completed by following a line through the breast at a right angle to the chine bone. It may be split through the center of the chine bone.

14. Section 1364.174 (a) (10) (ix) is amended by changing the word "mutton" to read "lamb" and by deleting the word "breast" the second time it appears and changing it to read "brisket" the third time it appears.

15. Section 1364.174 (a) (10) (x) is amended to read as follows:

(x) "Breast or shank" means either the part which remains after the 4-rib shoulder has been removed from the yoke, in which case it includes the breast, brisket and shank, or the part which remains after the 4-rib shoulder has been removed from the chuck, in which case it includes the brisket and shank.

16. The second paragraph in § 1364.174 (a) (10), "Hotel supply cuts", is redesignated as § 1364.174 (a) (11) and is amended to read as follows:

(11) "Hotel supply cuts" means the following cuts derived from the permitted wholesale cuts:

(i) "Leg, oven-prepared" means the leg cut as described in paragraph 10 (iii) of this section with all bones except the leg bone (femur) removed and tied. The leg bone means the bone between the stifle joint and the rump bone.

(ii) "Leg, boned, rolled, and tied" means the leg cut as described in paragraph (10) (iii) of this section prepared in the following manner: All bones are removed, the fell is pulled off the shank meat up to the stifle joint, the shank meat is either cut off and placed lengthwise in the pocket left by the aitch and leg bones, or folded back, and the meat is then rolled into a cylindrical shape and tied with at least four loops.

(iii) "Loin, flank on, kidneys and suet out" means the loin cut as described in paragraph (10) (iv) of this section with the kidney and all surrounding suet and the melt removed. The fat in the loin shall be trimmed smooth and trimming by a knife shall be apparent.

(iv) "Loin, flank off, kidney and suet out" means the loin prepared as described in the preceding paragraph with the flank removed. The flank shall be removed by starting at a point on the 13th rib not more than four inches down from the point of the eye and then cutting in a straight line to a point at the other end not more than four-and-a-half inches from the chine bone.

(v) "Loin chops" means chops cut from the loin, prepared as described in the preceding paragraph with the flank off and the kidney and suet out, from which the 13th rib has been removed. To make chops, the fell is removed and the loin is then split into two parts along the center of the chine bone. Each half is further separated by making cuts straight down on lines at right angles to the chine bone. Each half loin must be cut in this manner into at least four individual chops which may be of any desired size or weight.

(vi) "Loin, boned, rolled, and tied" means the loin prepared flank on, kidney and suet out, as described in paragraph (11) (iii) of this section, from which is removed one inch of the flank containing the gristle and sinews. The 13th rib and the entire chine bone are also removed. The loin meat is then rolled into a cylindrical shape and tied with at least four loops.

(vii) "Rib chops, regular" mean chops cut from the hotel rack in the following manner: The fell is removed together with all excess fat and the rack is then divided in the center of the chine bone. The single hotel rack is then divided into rib chops by splitting between the ribs into at least four rib sections which may be of any desired size or weight.

(viii) "Rib chops, 5th to 7th rib inclusive" mean chops made from the forward end of the hotel rack as described in the preceding paragraph, which include the 5th, 6th, and 7th ribs and which contain segments of shoulder-blade bone or cartilage.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 7 F.R. 10688.

(ix) "Rib chops, 8th to 12th rib, inclusive" mean chops made from the back end of the hotel rack as described in paragraph (11) (vii) of this section which include the 8th to 12th ribs and which do not contain any segments of shoulder-blade bone or cartilage.

(x) "Yoke boned, rolled and tied" means the yoke cut from a mutton carcass as described in paragraph (10) (vi) of this section with all bones removed, rolled into a cylindrical shape and tied with at least four loops.

(xi) "Yoke, boneless stew" means small cubes of boneless meat derived from the yoke, none of which is more than two cubic inches in size or contains more than one-fourth inch of fat or consists of more than 25 percent fat.

(xii) "Shoulder, boneless stew" means small cubes of boneless meat derived from the shoulder, none of which is more than two cubic inches in size or contains more than one-fourth inch of fat or consists of more than 25 percent fat.

(xiii) "Shoulder, boned, rolled, and tied" means the 4-rib shoulder cut as described in paragraph (10) (ix) of this section with all bones removed, rolled into a cylindrical shape and tied with at least four loops.

(xiv) "Shoulder, regular stew, bone in" means small cubes of meat derived from the 4-rib shoulder none of which is larger than two cubic inches in size.

(xv) "Breast and shank, regular stew, bone in" means small cubes of meat derived from the breast and shank cut as described in paragraph (10) (x) none of which is larger than two cubic inches in size.

(xvi) "Shank, braising" means the shank separated from the breast and shank cut as described in paragraph (10) (x) in the following manner: The shank is separated from the breast at the shank knuckle bones. The cut should start at the same point as that which separates the breast and shank from the shoulder. The lower fore shank bone is cut off at the knee joint.

(xvii) "Shank, regular stew, bone in" means small cubes of meat derived from the shank cut as described in the preceding paragraph none of which is larger than two cubic inches in size.

(xviii) "Breast, regular stew, bone in" means small cubes of meat derived from the breast none of which is larger than two cubic inches in size. The breast is the part of the breast and shank which is left after the shank is severed as described in paragraph (11) (xvi) of this section. It includes the brisket.

(xix) "Hotel rack, chine removed, blade bone out" means the single hotel rack as described in paragraph (10) (v) of this section with the chine bone (backbone), including the feather bones, and the shoulder blade and shoulder blade cartilage completely removed. The chine bone is removed by cutting along the line where the ribs join the backbone.

17. Section 1364.176 (c) is amended by adding a new Item to read as follows:

Item	Lamb			Mutton
	Grade AA	Grade A	Grade B	Grade C	Grade S	Grade M
. . .	. . .	. . .	. . .	. . .	. . .	. . .

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 16]

MEAT, FATS, FISH, AND CHEESES

Preamble: Why These Foods Are Being Rationed. This order rations meats, cheeses, canned fish, butter, oleomargarine, fats and oils. The reasons for rationing these foods are clear to all. The necessities of total war—the food requirements for our military forces and the shortage of manpower on the farms—have combined to create a scarcity in the supply of all these foods for civilians at home.

Under these circumstances there is no alternative but to see that these scarce and highly essential foods are distributed on a fair and equitable basis. Indeed in recent weeks there has been no question in anybody's mind as to the need to ration these foods—the only real problem was how to ration them. Rationing has had to wait merely until a fair and workable system could be set into operation.

Why These Foods Are Rationed in One Group

The foods controlled by this order represent a great variety of more or less closely related products. The word "meat", for example, covers not just one simple commodity, as does the word "sugar"—it refers to a large number of edible cuts from several kinds of animals. These cuts are not equally plentiful (there is only a limited amount of steak in every steer), and these cuts are not equally sought by all consumers. Millions of consumer choices govern the distribution of the various kinds and cuts of meats, as well as the sale of products which can be substituted for meats, such as canned fish and cheese. Obviously, no rationing system could hope to be successful if it disregarded these individual choices and attempted an equal distribution of every cut of meat, of every type of cheese and of our relatively scarce supplies of canned fish.

For these reasons the group or point system, which has already been employed for the rationing of canned fruits and vegetables, is naturally indicated as the best method for handling the rationing problems arising under this program. Under this system all related items that need to be rationed and that can effectively be rationed together are covered as a group, with a single set of point stamps for all. The point values of the various items can then be fixed according to their individual supply and their relationship to each other.

In developing the group or point plan for meats and fats, the question arose as to whether these foods should be regarded as forming one group or two. In many of their aspects, the two groups merge into one. Thus from the production or supply standpoint, meat products are converted not only into lard but also into oleomargarine. Oleomargarine in turn can be manufactured from either animal fats or vegetable oils, or both. In dealing with the production of meats and fats, we do not have two distinct supplies, but a single total or over-all supply which is, to some extent, divided into meats and fats according to the conditions of demand.

Even from the consumer standpoint, meats and fats are to a certain extent substitutes for one another. Some people get a great deal of their dietary needs for fats by eating fat meats; others prefer lean meats, and depend on butter, oleomargarine or vegetable fats for their fat needs.

It was therefore decided to treat meats and fats as a single interrelated group of foods, to be handled by one set of rationing controls and one set of rationing stamps. This plan makes for greater flexibility in the production of the various foods and also gives the housewife a larger freedom of choice in budgeting her rationing points to suit her family needs or preferences.

Aside from these considerations, the use of a single set of stamps has the advantage of simplicity and convenience. Obviously, it is more convenient for the consumer and for the trade to handle as few kinds of stamps as possible, and when the number of stamps can be reduced without damage to the basic purposes of rationing, this is a gain of no mean importance.

How the Program Operates

In its general mechanics, this program closely parallels the processed foods rationing program. The consumer is issued point stamps and gives them to the retailer when he buys the rationed goods—using only the points that are valid for a given period. The retailer turns over the points to the wholesaler when he replenishes his stock of goods. The points are either turned over in stamp form, or, if the retailer has a ration banking account, are deposited in the bank and the transfer is made by ration bank check. The wholesaler, who is required to operate a ration banking account, also gets his supplies through the transfer of points. When the packer or producer is reached, he turns over his point receipts to the Office of Price Administration.

Institutional users—restaurants and the like—will receive points in accordance with the provisions of the Institutional User Order. This means that the supplies they receive will represent a cut from past consumption like that which the ordinary consumer has to take because of rationing. Patrons of restaurants are not required to give up ration points in order to eat rationed foods.

Industrial users of rationed commodities will receive quotas of points from the local boards on the basis of their past use. Certain industrial consumers who use fats and oils for making inedible products will receive their allotments of points from the Department of Agriculture.

A number of changes from the general pattern have been made because of the character of the commodities covered by this program. Thus, because most of the items are perishable and no large inventories can be accumulated by the consumers or by retailers, there has been no general freeze on sales of all rationed items to let retailers build up inventory prior to the start of the program. Because perishability bulks so large in this program, and because no consumer registration is needed (since consumers already have their ration books) there is also no consumers' declaration of inventory on hand when rationing begins. Retailers and wholesalers get deliveries of the rationed items for the first two weeks of rationing without surrender of points, even though deliveries to consumers require points. In this manner, trade inventories can be built up while rationing is under way.

How Retailers and Wholesalers Operate

During the first two weeks of rationing, the retailer builds up his supply of points—his point capital for rationing operations—by taking in the points which his customers give him when they buy goods. At the end of that period, the retailer has both to buy and sell his points. During the fifth week of rationing (by which time it is assumed that rationing demands will have become relatively stable), the retailer keeps a record of his sales. He then registers with his rationing board and is given an "allowable inventory," based on those sales. If his actual inventory is excessive, he is required to return points to the Office of Price Administration, so that he cannot accumulate excessive stocks at the expense of his competitors.

The procedure for wholesalers is much the same. However, since the wholesaler makes deliveries to retailers during the first two weeks of rationing without receiving points, he has no opportunity to build up a point capital. He is, therefore, permitted to deposit in his bank account a point credit, calculated on the basis of his sales. During the fifth week of rationing, he keeps a record of his sales and then, like retailers, he registers with his local rationing board and is given an allowable inventory based on those sales. Like the retailer, he must return points matching any excessive inventory he may have.

How Small Business Is Protected Under the Rationing Program

As in previous rationing programs, the principle of an allowable inventory has been introduced for the purpose of insuring a fair distribution of business in rationed goods. Since under rationing the only way a tradesman can get goods is by giving up ration points or coupons, and since he needs to have goods in his shop in order to get these points or coupons, it is important that everybody have an equal opportunity to get goods and accumulate "ration capital" during the opening period. That is why an allowable inventory is set for each tradesman after the program has been in operation for a preliminary period. By this means, all tradesmen can get their fair share of the rationed goods for sale.

Furthermore, since retailers and wholesalers are required to give up points representing any excessive stocks they may have, no one can accumulate disproportionate inventories at the expense of his competitors or the public. Any retailer or wholesaler who finds himself handicapped in his opportunity to do business by too low an allowable inventory, can of course apply for an inventory adjustment, at any time.

Neither retailers nor wholesalers are required to register again, after their first registration on a simple form. Nor are they required to file any reports after that registration.

Special Provisions for Home Producers

Although consumers generally must surrender points to get meats, butter, and fats, a special but limited exception has been made for persons who slaughter their own livestock, or make lard or butter or other rationed foods for their personal consumption. Such persons need not surrender any points for the use of the goods they themselves produce. In addition, they are permitted to lend these foods to others, in limited amounts. Thus, the habit of pooling home production, existing in some sections of the country, can continue to operate under rationing.

How Producers and Processors (Primary Distributors) Operate

Slaughterers, packers, importers, processors and other producers of the foods rationed under this order must continue to make reports to the Office of Price Administration after they register, since they are the primary source of these foods and all rationed food must be accounted for.

In order to avoid unnecessary burdens, small primary distributors are permitted to report to their local boards, on a simplified form. The larger primary distributors report to the district offices, in somewhat greater detail.

Farmers who slaughter livestock for sale, or who produce lard and butter or other foods covered by the order for sale, are required to comply with the same regulations that govern other commercial primary distributors. They cannot make sales except for points, and they are required to register. However, they are generally entitled to use the simplified report forms for the months they operate. In order to permit farm slaughterer primary distributors to operate economically, the order allows them to sell to consumers for stamps which have not yet become valid. In this way, they can follow the practice of disposing of their primal cuts, to single consumers or families, before spoilage sets in.

RATION ORDER NO. 16—MEAT, FATS, FISH, AND CHEESES

CONTENTS

ARTICLE I—INTRODUCTION

Sec.
1.1 Foods covered by this order.
1.2 Meat, cheese, and canned fish and fats and oils are rationed by the point system.
1.3 Form in which points are used.

ARTICLE II—CONSUMERS

2.1 When a person is a consumer.
2.2 Consumers may purchase after March 28, 1943, only for points.
2.3 How points are given up by a consumer.
2.4 Consumers who need more foods covered by this order because of illness may apply for more points.
2.5 Consumers who must purchase in quantity may apply for certificates.
2.6 Service men on furlough may get certificates.

ARTICLE III—HOME PRODUCERS

3.1 Home producers may consume what they produce and may lend limited amounts.
3.2 Consumers may purchase larger quantities of meat at a time from farm slaughterers.
3.3 Consumers may arrange to have their food processed.

ARTICLE IV—PRIMARY DISTRIBUTORS

4.1 Explanation of the term primary distributor.
4.2 Explanation of the term primary distributor establishment.
4.3 A place at which a food covered by this order is produced is a primary distributor establishment.
4.4 A place at which a food covered by this order is converted into another such food, is a primary distributor establishment.
4.5 A place to which foods covered by this order are imported is a primary distributor establishment.
4.6 Place where foods covered by this order are produced or imported may be a primary distributor establishment as to foods not produced or imported there.
4.7 A place where a person keeps foods may be a primary distributor establishment even if he does not produce or import there.
4.8 A place is a single primary distributor establishment even if a person engages in several operations there.
4.9 Butter and cheese assembly plant is a primary distributor establishment.
4.10 A place where foods are produced or imported for use only is not a primary distributor establishment.
4.11 Primary distributors must register and file reports.
4.12 Primary distributor may not do business if he does not file reports.
4.13 A primary distributor must surrender to the Office of Price Administration all points he is not permitted to use.
4.14 Primary distributors may get points to acquire foods.
4.15 A primary distributor who has more than one establishment must operate them separately.
4.16 Primary distributors must keep records.

7.9 Industrial users must keep records.
7.10 Explanation of the terms industrial consumption and industrial consumer.
7.11 Industrial consumers may apply for points to acquire foods.

ARTICLE VIII—COMBINED OPERATIONS AND COMBINED ESTABLISHMENTS

8.1 A person who operates different types of establishments is treated as if he were different persons.
8.2 The same person may be both a wholesaler (or retailer) and an industrial user at the same place.
8.3 The same person may be both a wholesaler (or retailer) and an institutional user at the same place.
8.4 The same person may be both a primary distributor and a wholesaler (or retailer) at the same place.
8.5 The same place may be more than one establishment.

ARTICLE IX—RATION BANK ACCOUNTS

9.1 A ration bank account is an account in which points are deposited.
9.2 Who must open a ration bank account.
9.3 All points must be deposited in the account.
9.4 When points must be deposited.

ARTICLE X—SALES AND TRANSFERS OF FOODS COVERED BY THIS ORDER

10.1 Only retailers, wholesalers, and primary distributors may transfer foods covered by this order.
10.2 Transfers to certain persons after March 28, 1943, may be made only for points.
10.3 Transfers to retailers, wholesalers and primary distributors after April 10, 1943, may be made only for points.
10.4 How foods covered by this order are transferred to consumers.
10.5 How foods covered by this order are transferred to persons other than consumers.
10.6 Point fractions are to be computed to nearest full point.
10.7 Transfers between establishments of different types or between separately registered establishments of the same type operated by the same person.
10.8 Transferor may not use points he receives in advance until foods are transferred.
10.9 Points may be returned for underdeliveries of foods covered by this order.
10.10 Points must be given up for imports of foods.

ARTICLE XI—POINT-FREE TRANSFERS

11.1 Foods in transit to industrial or institutional users or industrial consumers on March 28, 1943, may be acquired point-free.
11.2 Foods in transit to primary distributors, wholesalers, or retailers on April 10, 1943, may be acquired point-free.
11.3 Foods may be moved to establishment in whose inventory they are included, point-free.
11.4 Foods covered by this order may be exchanged for other such foods.
11.5 Lost or stolen foods may be returned, point-free.
11.6 Stocks of foods may be moved point-free between establishments of the same person which are registered together.
11.7 Foods may be stored and returned from storage, point-free.
11.8 Security interests in foods may be created and released, point-free.
11.9 Foods may be transferred, point-free, for liquidation, by operation of law, or in judicial proceedings.
11.10 Foods may be acquired point-free, by insurers or for salvage.
11.11 Foods may be delivered to importer by customs official, point-free.
11.12 Foods may be transferred, point-free, in connection with transfer of a business.

ARTICLE XII—SALE OF BUSINESS

ARTICLE XX—MISCELLANEOUS RULES AND PROHIBITIONS

20.1 Additional prohibitions.
20.2 Stamps and certificates may not be taken by legal process or acquired by will.
20.3 Office of Price Administration must be notified of legal proceedings.
20.4 Definition of meat in price order or regulation governs under this order.

ARTICLE XXI—EXPORTS

21.1 Foods covered by this order may be exported point-free.
21.2 Points may be obtained to acquire foods covered by this order for export.
21.3 Exporter must account for all foods covered by this order exported.

ARTICLE XXII—EXEMPT AGENCIES AND OTHER SPECIAL CASES

22.1 Exempt agencies may acquire foods covered by this order.
22.2 How exempt agencies acquire foods covered by this order.
22.3 Post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore may acquire foods for points.
22.4 Sale commissaries, post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore may transfer foods for points.
22.5 Veterans Administration may apply for certificates to acquire foods.
22.6 Industrial users may replenish foods used in products transferred to exempt agencies.
22.7 Ships' stores for ocean-going vessels.
22.8 Governmental investigatory agencies may acquire foods needed in their investigations.

ARTICLE XXIII—SUSPENSION ORDERS

23.1 Office of Price Administration may issue suspension orders.

ARTICLE XXIV—DEFINITIONS

24.1 Definitions

Article I—Introduction[1]

SECTION 1.1 Foods covered by this order. (a) This order covers "meat", "canned fish", "rationed cheeses" and "rationed fats or oils".

(1) "Meat" means the carcass or any edible part of the carcass of cattle, calves, sheep, lambs or swine. It includes edible offal, bones and skins. It also includes any other edible product containing more than twenty per cent, by weight, of any of the above items.

[1] Words which are specially defined in this order are shown in quotation marks the first time they appear in each Article. Definitions are given in sec. 24.1 of the order.

(2) "Canned fish" means any of the following items, if packed in hermetically sealed containers: edible fish or shellfish or any edible part of them; fish roe, including caviar; any other edible product containing more than twenty per cent, by weight, of those items.

(3) "Rationed cheeses" include any natural cheese (but not "cream" or "cottage cheeses") and any other edible product containing thirty per cent or more, by weight, of natural cheese (other than cream or cottage cheeses). The term rationed cheeses does not include the items listed in an Appendix which will be issued as an amendment to this order.

(4) "Rationed fats or oils", which are defined in detail in section 24.1, include, among other products, "butter", "margarine", "lard", "cooking and salad oils" and "shortening". Mayonnaise, salad dressing, USP vitamin oils, fish liver oil, sperm oil and "fats" resulting from cooking done by "consumers" and "institutional users", are not included.

(b) No item which is a processed food covered by Ration Order 13 (8 F.R. 1840) or which is a pharmaceutical product, is rationed under this order, even if it comes within the above definitions.

(c) Puncturing or opening the container in which "canned fish" is packed, or merely removing it from the container, does not cause it to cease to be a "food covered by this order."

(d) When a "food covered by this order" is prepared for service and served, it is no longer considered a food covered by this order. Thus, a "person" who is served meat loaf in a restaurant, as part of a meal, is not getting a food covered by this order. Furthermore, when a food covered by this order has been used in making a product which is not rationed under this order, it ceases to be a food covered by this order. For example, butter may be used in baking peach pie—that pie, and the butter in it, are not food covered by this order.

SEC. 1.2 Meat, cheese, and canned fish and fats and oils are rationed by the point system. (a) All types of meat, rationed cheeses, canned fish and rationed fats or oils are rationed together, as a group, through the use of the point system of rationing. Each item is given a particular point value for each cut, pound or size in which it is sold. The point value of an article of these foods is the number of points that must be given up by any person who wants to get it, just as the money price of an article is the amount of money it costs. The point values will be fixed by the Office of Price Administration in a supplement to this order, containing the official tables of point values. These point values may be changed from time to time, as conditions require.

SEC. 1.3 Form in which points are used. (a) There are several forms of tokens or ration currency which represent points.

(b) The basic tokens are the red "stamps" in War Ration Book Two, which are designated by the Office of Price Administration to be used for the acquisition of all foods covered by this order. They are the form in which points are generally given up by "consumers."

(c) Other forms of ration currency authorized by the Office of Price Administration are "certificates" (OPA Form R–1201) and ration checks drawn on ration bank accounts. (During a limited period, credit authorizations, on OPA Form R–1608, may be used for deposit in ration bank accounts, but they are not used directly to get foods under this order.) A certificate is issued by the Office of Price Administration (or a person authorized by that office to issue it) and is worth the number of points stated on it. Ration checks are very much like ordinary checks. They are drawn on a bank account in which a person has deposited his points, just as an ordinary check is drawn on a bank account in which he has deposited his money.

Article II—Consumers

SECTION 2.1 When a person is a consumer. (a) Any "person" who buys or "acquires" "foods covered by this order" for his personal use or for use at a table at which he eats, is a "consumer". (When a person gets foods covered by this order in order to resell them or in order to use them in making other products for sale, he is not a consumer, since those are not personal uses. He is a consumer only so far as he does get foods covered by this order for personal use.)

SEC. 2.2 Consumers may purchase after March 28, 1943 only for points. (a) Beginning March 29, 1943, a consumer may buy or acquire foods covered by this order only by giving up points equal to the point value of the foods acquired. However, a consumer may exchange foods covered by this order with any other person for other such foods covered by this order of equal point value, without giving up points.

(b) Consumers may lend foods covered by this order to, or borrow them from, other consumers, and they may return borrowed foods. They may also acquire foods from other consumers for consumption at a common table with them. No points are to be given up for such transactions. (A transaction is not a loan if any charge is made.)

SEC. 2.3 How points are given up by a consumer—(a) A consumer uses stamps. A consumer gives up points, when he acquires foods covered by this order, by surrendering red "stamps" taken from his War Ration Book Two. A stamp is not good unless the book from which it is taken has a validation stamp properly placed on its cover, with the number of that book written across the validation stamp.

(b) Stamps may be used only during fixed periods. Each red stamp in War Ration Book Two is good for a limited time only and a consumer may use it only during that time. The letter printed on the stamp indicates the time when it may be used by a consumer. Stamps lettered "A", "B", "C", and "D", may be used only during the following periods:

Stamps	Time when they may be used
A----	March 29, 1943 to April 30, 1943, incl.
B----	April 4, 1943 to April 30, 1943, incl.
C----	April 11, 1943 to April 30, 1943, incl.
D----	April 18, 1943 to April 30, 1943, incl.

The other red stamps in War Ration Book Two may be used only during periods which will be fixed in a supplement to this order. These periods may be changed by the Office of Price Administration even after they have begun. A consumer who acquires "meat" from a "primary distributor" who holds a permit as a farm slaughterer under Food Distribution Order No. 27 of the Food Distribution Administration, may, however, give up, in addition to his currently valid stamps, stamps remaining in his War Ration Book Two which are not yet good, up to the total point value of the meat acquired.

(c) General rules for the use of stamps by consumers. A consumer must give up stamps worth exactly the point value of the foods covered by this order which he acquires, except that fractional amounts are to be handled in the way described in section 10.6. The number of points a stamp is worth is shown by the figure printed on it. Stamps must be given up at the time the foods are acquired. The stamps may be used by a consumer only if torn out of the war ration book in the presence of the person who is selling or transferring the foods. A stamp may be used only to get foods covered by this order for the consumer from whose book it is taken, or for use at a table at which he eats. If the consumer is unable to give up points exactly equal to the point value of the foods acquired by him because he does not have stamps of sufficiently small value to make up the proper amount, he may give up, and the transferor may accept, stamps of the nearest higher value, and the transferor must return the excess number of points to the consumer in the form of loose one-point stamps. Loose one-point stamps may be used by a consumer to acquire foods covered by this order only if he has received the stamps in this way from his transferor. A transferor may accept loose one-point stamps from a consumer, unless he knows or has reason to believe that they were not acquired by the consumer in this way.

(d) A consumer also uses certificates. Any consumer to whom a "board" issues a "certificate" may use it to acquire foods covered by this order, just as the red stamps from War Ration Book Two are used. The number of points a certificate is worth, and the date when it expires, will be shown on that certificate. A consumer to whom a certificate has been issued must sign his name on the back before he may use it.

(e) How mail order purchases are made. A consumer who orders food covered by this order for delivery by mail may detach stamps from his War Ration Book Two and send them with his order. The stamps are good if the envelope in which they are enclosed is postmarked on or before the last day on which they may be used by a consumer, even if the seller does not receive them until after that date. If the seller cannot fill all or any part of the order, he will return a ration check for the difference. The consumer must exchange that check, at any board, for a certificate which he can then use to get foods covered by this order.

SEC. 2.4 Consumers who need more foods covered by this order because of illness may apply for more points. (a) Any consumer whose health requires that he have more foods covered by this order than he can get with War Ration Book Two, may apply for additional points. The application must be made, on OPA Form R–315, by the consumer himself or by someone acting for him, and may be made in person or by mail. The application can be made only to the board for the place where the consumer lives. He must submit with his application a written statement of a licensed or registered physician or surgeon, showing why he must have more foods covered by this order, the amounts and types he needs during the next two months, and why he cannot use unrationed foods instead.

(b) If the board finds that his health depends upon his getting more foods covered by this order, and that he cannot use or cannot get unrationed foods, it shall issue to him one or more certificates for the number of points necessary to get the additional foods covered by this order which he needs during the next two months.

SEC. 2.5 Consumers who must purchase in quantity may apply for certificates. (a) Some consumers may not be able to get foods covered by this order during the period when their stamps are good, either because of transportation difficulties, or because they live an unusually long distance from their market. Such a consumer may apply for a certificate in exchange for some or all of the red stamps in his War Ration Book Two, so that he can get the amount of foods to which he is entitled at a time when he is able to get them. The application must be made on OPA Form R–315, in person or by mail, to the board for the place where he lives. It must be made by the consumer himself or by someone acting for him.

(b) If the board finds that the consumer will suffer hardship because he cannot get the foods covered by this order to which he is entitled during the periods when his stamps are good (for the reasons set forth above, it may issue to him a certificate. The certificate may be for any number of points up to the value of the remaining red stamps in his War Ration Book Two. The board must remove from that book, and cancel, red stamps worth the amount of the certificate.

SEC. 2.6 Service men on furlough may get certificates. (a) A person in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard of the United States, who is on furlough for three days or longer and who does not have a War Ration Book Two, may get a certificate for eight points for each three days (or fraction thereof) of his furlough. He may get such a certificate by presenting his leave papers to any board. The board must write on the leave papers its designation, a statement that it has issued a certificate, the amount of the certificate, and the date of issuance.

Article III—Home Producers

SECTION 3.1 Home producers may consume what they produce and may lend limited amounts—(a) Points need not be given up. Any "person" who produces any "food covered by this order" wholly from foods not covered by this order, (whether or not they are later processed) primarily for consumption in his own household, may consume what he produces and may let members of his family unit and those who eat at his table consume it, without giving up points.

(b) Loans. He may lend the food he so produced to any consumer, without the surrender of points. However, he may not lend a total of more than four hundred pounds of beef and veal together, one hundred and fifty pounds of any other meat, or twenty-five pounds of any other foods covered by this order, which he so produced in any one calendar year, under this section. Foods so loaned may not be sold by the person who receives them or by anyone else. (A transaction is not a loan if any charge is made.)

(c) If the person is a primary distributor. No primary distributor who reports or is required to report on OPA Form R–1606 may consume or lend foods pursuant to this Section without the surrender of points.

SEC. 3.2 Consumers may purchase larger quantities of meat at a time from farm slaughterers. (a) A primary distributor (other than one who reports or is required to report on OPA Form R–1606) who holds a permit as a farm slaughterer under Food Distribution Order No. 27, (Slaughter of Livestock) of the Food Distribution Administration may sell or transfer "meat" to a "consumer" in exchange for red "stamps" from his war ration book equal to the point value of the meat transferred, even though the stamps are not yet good. The primary distributor must not deposit in his ration bank account, if any, the stamps which are not yet good, but must enclose them with his report for the period during which he received them.

SEC. 3.3 Consumers may arrange to have their food processed. (a) Any consumer may bring any of his food covered by this order to another person to be processed (for example, to be cured, smoked or rendered) before it is consumed. When he gives the food to that person for processing he is entitled to receive from that person points equal to the point value of the food, and when he gets the food back after processing, he must give to that person points equal to the point value of the food he gets back.

Article IV—Primary Distributors

SECTION 4.1 Explanation of the term primary distributor. (a) Any "person" who has a "primary distributor establishment" is called a "primary distributor" as to that establishment. If he has more than one such establishment, he is considered a separate primary distributor as to each of them.

SEC. 4.2 Explanation of the term primary distributor establishment. (a) There are three main types of primary distributor establishments:

(1) A place where a "food covered by this order" is produced entirely from products not covered by this order (described in section 4.3);

(2) A place where an item or kind of food covered by this order is produced, by a processing operation, wholly or partly from another item or kind of food covered by this order (described in section 4.4);

(3) A place to which foods covered by this order are imported (described in section 4.5).

In certain cases, places at which no production or processing operations are performed are, for reasons of trade convenience, also considered primary distributor establishments. (These establishments are described in sections 4.7 and 4.9). The rules which determine whether a place is a primary distributor establishment are set forth in the sections which follow.

SEC. 4.3 A place at which a food covered by this order is produced is a primary distributor establishment—(a) Meat; slaughtering. Any place at which a person slaughters cattle, calves, sheep, lambs or swine, for sale or other "transfer", is a primary distributor establishment.

(1) If a person slaughters livestock himself, the place where he does so is his primary distributor establishment. Even if he has the slaughtering done for him by an agent or employee, the place where it is done is his primary distributor establishment, unless it comes within the following description:

(i) That place is another person's primary distributor establishment (because of other slaughtering done thereby or for that other person); and also

(ii) The agent or employee in question is that other person, or someone who works for that other person.

(b) Canning fish. Any place at which a person produces "canned fish", for sale or other transfer, is a primary distributor establishment. A person produces canned fish if he packs any of the items described in section 1.1 (a) (2) in hermetically-sealed containers.

(c) Production of rationed fats or oils, or rationed cheeses. Any place at which a person produces a "rationed fat or oil" or "rationed cheeses" for sale or other transfer, is a primary distributor establishment.

SEC. 4.4 A place at which a food covered by this order is converted into another such food, is a primary distributor establishment. (a) Any place at which a person, by processing, makes any item or kind of food covered by this order, wholly or in part from another item or kind of such food, for sale or other transfer, is a primary distributor establishment.

(1) The term "processing" does not include cutting, grinding, boning, freezing, packaging or repackaging. It does, however, include curing, smoking, cooking, pickling, canning, blending, mixing, rendering, extracting, drying, dehydrating, or any other similar process by which an item or kind of food covered by this order is converted into another item or kind of such food. It also includes the manufacture of sausage, scrapple, souse and similar products.

(b) A place at which a person "acquires" and processes foods covered by this order is, however, not a primary distributor establishment as to any of those foods acquired and processed there if both of the following conditions are met:

(1) No foods covered by this order are produced there (other than by processing) and not more than five thousand pounds of foods covered by this order are processed there in any month; and

(2) More than fifty percent, by weight, of the transfers from there of all foods covered by this order are made to consumers; and

(3) More than fifty percent, by weight, of the foods covered by this order which were acquired and processed there are transferred from there to consumers, or to that person's own "institutional user establishment".

(For example, a delicatessen store, which buys "meat", cures it and sells most of it to consumers, is not a primary distributor establishment. This would be so even if the owner of the store transfers some of the cured meat to his own restaurant and uses it in meals he serves there. Such a store would not be a primary distributor establishment, even though foods covered by this order are processed there. It would be a "retail establishment".)

SEC. 4.5 A place to which foods covered by this order are imported is a primary distributor establishment. (a) Any place (including space in a public warehouse) to which a person imports foods covered by this order into the United States, from any place outside the United States, for sale or transfer, is a primary distributor establishment.

SEC. 4.6 Place where foods covered by this order are produced or imported may be a primary distributor establishment as to foods not produced or imported there. (a) A person may produce, process, or import foods covered by this order, at a particular price, for sale or transfer. He may also regularly keep there, for sale or transfer, foods covered by this order which he did not produce, process, or import there. That place is a primary distributor establishment, since foods are produced, processed or imported there. It would also be a retail or a "wholesale establishment" (depending on its operations) since foods not produced, processed, or imported there are regularly kept there for sale or transfer. However, if ninety percent or more, by weight, of all the foods covered by this order which are transferred from there, were produced, processed, or imported there, it is considered to be only a primary distributor establishment, as to all foods covered by this order held there for sale or transfer. In that case, it would not also be a retail or wholesale establishment.

SEC. 4.7 A place where a person keeps foods may be a primary distributor establishment even if he does not produce or import there. (a) Any place (including space in a public warehouse) at which a person regularly keeps foods covered by this order not produced, processed or imported there, for sale or transfer, is a primary distributor establishment as to those foods even though it does not meet the tests described in section 4.6, if both of the following conditions are met:

(1) He himself produced, processed or imported ninety per cent or more, by weight, of those foods; and

(2) More than fifty per cent, by weight, of the foods covered by this order which he keeps there are transferred from there to persons other than "industrial users", "industrial consumers", "institutional users", "retailers", or "consumers".

(b) There is also a general case in which a place where a person regularly keeps foods covered by this order which were produced, processed, or imported by someone else, is a primary distributor establishment as to those foods. If he uses ninety per cent or more, by weight, of those foods to make, by processing, other kinds or items of food covered by this order, the place where he keeps them is a primary distributor establishment. (For reasons of trade convenience, there is, in addition, a special rule covering certain places where "butter" or rationed cheeses are assembled. That rule is covered in section 4.9.)

(c) The rules set forth in this section apply whether or not the person also produces, processes or imports at that place foods covered by this order. The place is a primary distributor establishment as to any foods he produces, processes or imports there. This section, and sections 4.6 and 4.9, show when it is a primary distributor establishment as to foods he did not produce, process or import there.

SEC. 4.8. A place is a single primary distributor establishment even if a person engages in several operations there. (a) A place at which a person engages in more than one type of operation any one of which would make it a primary distributor establishment, is a single primary distributor establishment as to all such operations of that person. (Thus, if a person slaughters swine, renders "lard" and cures hams at the same place, that place is treated as a single primary distributor establishment of that person.) The only exception to this rule is covered in section 4.9 (c).

SEC. 4.9 Butter and cheese assembly plant is a primary distributor establishment. (a) Any place at which a person regularly keeps, for sale or transfer, stocks of butter or rationed cheeses which he did not produce, process or import there, is a primary distributor establishment, as to those stocks, if more than fifty per cent of them, by weight, is sold or transferred from there to persons other than industrial or institutional users, industrial consumers, retailers or consumers. However, if he keeps the stocks which are not transferred to persons other than the above, just to supply his own establishments, it is a primary distributor establishment only if it supplies:

(1) At least one of his primary distributor establishments; or

(2) At least four of his wholesale establishments.

(b) This section applies only to a place which would not be a primary distributor establishment as to those stocks under section 4.6 or section 4.7.

(c) A place to which this section applies is, for all the purposes of this order, a separate primary distributor establishment as to those stocks of butter or rationed cheeses.

SEC. 4.10 A place where foods are produced or imported for use only is not a primary distributor establishment. (a) A place at which a person produces, processes or imports foods covered by this order only for his personal, institutional or industrial use or for his use as an industrial consumer, (whether or not they will be used at that place), and not for sale or transfer in the form of foods covered by this order, is not a primary distributor establishment. The place does not become a primary distributor establishment because the person lends some of the foods to others, as permitted by section 3.1 (b), unless he loans more than the amount permitted by that section.

SEC. 4.11 Primary distributors must register and file reports—(a) Registration. Every primary distributor must register with the Office of Price Administration, by filing an additional copy of his first report, along with that report.

(b) Reports. Every primary distributor must file a report covering the operation of his primary distributor establishment during each reporting period ending on or after April 30, 1943. His first report must include his operations from March 29, 1943, to the end of his reporting period. If he has more than one primary distributor establishment, he must file a separate report for each. The report must be filed within fifteen days after the end of the reporting period it covers. A primary distributor may adopt any one of the following reporting periods:

(1) Calendar months; or

(2) Consecutive four week periods; or

(3) A system which divides the fiscal year into either four or five periods of five consecutive weeks and either seven or eight periods of four consecutive weeks.

The report must be signed by him or by his authorized agent, and is considered filed on time if the envelope in which it is enclosed is postmarked on or before the day it is due.

(c) Form to be used. A primary distributor who sold or transferred foods covered by this order worth $2,000 or more during any of his reporting periods from January 1, 1942 on, or who used points during the reporting period to "acquire" foods, or who imported such foods during that period, must report on OPA Form R–1606.

Any other primary distributor must report on OPA Form R–1609, but need not file a report for any reporting period during which he made no transfers of foods covered by this order (other than loans permitted by section 3.1 (b)). Once a primary distributor has reported on OPA Form R–1606, he must continue to use that form thereafter.

(d) Information to be given. A primary distributor must give all information called for by the form on which he reports. A primary distributor, required to report on OPA Form R–1606, must, among other things, report his inventory of rationed foods at the establishment covered by the report, at the beginning and end of the reporting period.

(e) Inventory. A primary distributor's inventory at his primary distributor establishment consists of all foods covered by this order which are physically located there or in transit to it, including foods which he holds there on consignment. If he has any such foods at or in transit to any place which is not an establishment of any type under this order, he must include them in the inventories of his establishments under this order, but he may divide them among those establishments as he chooses. He must, in that case, report the place where those foods are kept and the amount kept there which he is including in the inventory of his establishment. However, the following items are not part of his inventory:

(1) Food stored for a person other than his customer or transferee, or held as security for a loan to someone else (or similar transaction), or in transit for either of those purposes;

(2) Foods included in the inventory of one of his other establishments of any type.

(f) Place for filing report. A primary distributor who reports on OPA Form R–1606, must file it with the district office for the place where his establishment is located. If he reports on OPA Form R–1609, he must file it with the "board" for that place.

(g) Change in reporting period. A primary distributor who wishes to change his reporting periods, by reason of a change in his accounting periods, may apply to the district office (or to the board) with which he files his reports, for permission to make the change.

The application must be made on OPA Form R–315, and must give the reasons for the change desired. The district office (or the board) shall act on the application according to the circumstances of the case.

SEC. 4.12 Primary distributor may not do business if he does not file reports. (a) No primary distributor may transfer or acquire any food covered by this order after any date on which a report is due from him, until he has filed that report.

SEC. 4.13 A primary distributor must surrender to the Office of Price Administration all points he is not permitted to use. (a) A primary distributor must give up to the Office of Price Administration, for cancellation, all points he receives for sales or transfers of foods covered by this order, except for points he uses for a purpose permitted by paragraph (c) or (d) of this section. He must attach to his report for each reporting period all points not so used which he received during that period for sales or transfers of such foods. If he has, or is required to have, a ration bank account, he must give them up in the form of a certified ration check (payable to the Office of Price Administration) drawn on his ration bank account. If he has no account, he must give them up in the form he received them.

(b) A primary distributor who has received "stamps" which are not yet valid, in the way permitted by section 3.2, must enclose those stamps with his report for the period in which he received them. He may not use or deposit them.

(c) A primary distributor may use points only for the following purposes:

(1) To acquire foods covered by this order, for the purpose of processing them;

(2) To acquire, for sale or transfer without processing, foods produced, processed or imported by someone else, in an amount up to (but not exceeding) ten per cent by weight of his total transfers from his primary distributor establishment during the reporting period;

(3) To acquire, for his primary distributor establishment, foods which he produced, processed or imported elsewhere;

[NOTE: It is not a primary distributor establishment as to those foods unless it meets the tests described in section 4.6 (a) or 4.7 (a). If it does not meet one of those tests, its points may not be used to acquire such foods, except as permitted by (1), (4) and (5) of this paragraph.]

(4) To return points for underdeliveries of foods, as permitted by section 10.9;

(5) To get back foods he transferred, if his transferee returns them to him.

(d) The points of a primary distributor establishment to which section 4.9 applies may, however, be used only for the following purposes:

(1) To acquire butter or rationed cheeses for that establishment;

(2) To return points for underdeliveries of butter or rationed cheeses as permitted by section 10.9;

(3) To get back butter or rationed cheeses transferred, if the transferee returns them.

SEC. 4.14 Primary distributors may get points to acquire foods. (a) A primary distributor who does not have enough points after April 10, 1943, to acquire foods covered by this order for a purpose permitted by section 4.13 (c) or (d), may, before May 1, 1943, deposit in his ration bank account a "credit authorization" on OPA Form R–1608, for the number of points he needs, up to the maximum permitted under the next paragraph. The credit authorization must be signed by him, or by his authorized agent, and he must give all the information it calls for. (Only one credit authorization may be deposited for any primary distributor establishment.)

(b) The maximum number of points for which a primary distributor may issue and deposit a credit authorization is three times the number of pounds of all foods covered by this order which he acquired during the first three months of 1943.

(c) A primary distributor who, after April 18, 1943, needs more points to acquire foods covered by this order, for a purpose permitted by section 4.13 (c) or (d), than he has available may apply for additional points. The application must be made, on OPA Form R–315, to the district office with which his reports must be filed. The application must show the number of points he has, the reason he needs more, the number he needs and the time for which he needs them. If the district office finds that he needs more points for one or more of the purposes described in section 4.13 (c) or (d), it may issue to him a certificate (OPA Form R–1201) for the number of points he needs. If it finds that he needs them temporarily only, it may fix a time within which he is to return the points, and he must then return them at or before the time fixed.

SEC. 4.15 A primary distributor who has more than one establishment must operate them separately. (a) If a primary distributor has more than one primary distributor establishment, they are treated and must be operated separately, for all the purposes of this order, just as if they were owned by different persons.

SEC. 4.16 Primary distributors must keep records. (a) Beginning March 29, 1943, every primary distributor must keep, at his primary distributor establishment, a record showing his production and processing, by weight, and his acquisitions and transfers, by weight and point value, of each of the following foods: meat, canned fish, rationed cheeses, butter, margarine, lard, shortening and cooking or salad oils.

(b) In addition, at the time of any change in the point value of any item of food covered by this order, every primary distributor must make and keep at his establishment, a record of the amount of the item he has in his inventory, and of its point value before and after the change.

Article V—Wholesalers

SECTION 5.1 Explanation of the terms wholesaler and wholesale establishment. (a) Any place (including space in a public warehouse) where a "person" who deals in "foods covered by this order" regularly keeps stocks of those foods for sale or "transfer" (other than as a "primary distributor"), is a "wholesale establishment", if fifty per cent or more of those stocks are transferred from there directly to persons other than "consumers". However, if he keeps the stocks which are not transferred to consumers, just to supply his own establishments, it is a wholesale establishment only if it supplies:

(1) At least one of his wholesale establishments; or

(2) At least four of his "retail establishments".

(b) Any person dealing in foods covered by this order who has a wholesale establishment is called a "wholesaler", as to that establishment.

SEC. 5.2 Wholesalers must register—(a) General. Every wholesaler must register with the Office of Price Administration by filing two copies of OPA Form R–1602, at any time from May 3, 1943 to May 14, 1943, inclusive. Both copies of the form must be completed and signed by the wholesaler or his authorized agent. He must give all information called for by the form.

(b) Filing by mail. Where a registration form is filed by mail, it is considered filed on time if the envelope is postmarked on or before May 14, 1943.

(c) Registration for single wholesale establishment. A wholesaler who has only one wholesale establishment must file his registration with the "board" for the place where that establishment is located.

(d) Registration for two or more wholesale establishments of the same person. If a wholesaler has two or more wholesale establishments and has operated them separately under this order, just as if they were owned by different persons, he must either register each establishment separately on a separate OPA Form R–1602 or register all of them together on a single form, as he chooses. If he has not operated them separately under this order, he must register them together on the same form. (For example, he must register all of them together (1) if he has opened a single ration bank account for two or more of them; or (2) if he has drawn a ration check against an account serving one of them to "acquire" foods for another; or (3) if, after April 10, 1943, he transferred points, or foods covered by this order, from one to another without transferring foods or points of equal point value between them; or (4) if he elects to register them together when he files his credit authorization pursuant to section 5.7.)

(e) Where and how a wholesaler who has two or more wholesale establishments must register. If a wholesaler who has two or more wholesale establishments registers them together, he must furnish the required information for them on a single registration form and file two copies of that form with the board for the place where his principal business office is located. If he registers each of them separately, he must complete two copies of the form for each establishment and file them with the board for the place where that establishment is located.

(f) Separately registered establishments are to be treated and operated separately. If a wholesaler has more than one wholesale establishment and registers or is required to register them separately, each of those establishments is to be treated and operated separately for all the purposes of this order (including computation of allowable inventories), just as if the establishments were owned by different persons.

SEC. 5.3 Wholesaler may not do business unless he has registered. (a) No wholesaler may transfer or acquire foods covered by this order after May 14, 1943, until he has registered in the manner required.

SEC. 5.4 Wholesalers must report their inventories. (a) As part of his registration, a wholesaler must report, on OPA Form R–1602, the point value of his inventory of foods covered by this order at the close of business on May 1, 1943. If he has more than one wholesale establishment he must file a separate inventory report for each, whether or not they are registered separately. If any of his sales or transfers of foods covered by this order are not made from a fixed place (for example, if he sells foods from a mobile conveyance such as a truck) he need not file a separate inventory report for that conveyance.

(b) A wholesaler's inventory at his wholesale establishment consists of all foods covered by this order which are physically located at that establishment or in transit to it, including foods which he holds there on consignment. If he has any such foods at or in transit to any place which is not an establishment of any type under this order, he must include them in the inventories of his establishments under this order, but he may divide them among those establishments as he chooses. He must, in that case, report the place where those foods are kept and the amount kept there which he is including in the inventory of his establishment. However, the following items are not part of his inventory:

(1) Foods stored for a person other than his customer or transferee, or held as security for a loan to someone else (or similar transaction), or in transit for either of those purposes;

(2) Foods included in the inventory of one of his other establishments of any type.

SEC. 5.5 Wholesalers must report their sales and points on hand—(a) Sales and transfers. A wholesaler must report, as part of his registration, the pounds of all foods covered by this order which were transferred by him from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive. (If he has more than one wholesale establishment and they are registered together, he must report the total for all.) However, he is not to include in this report any exchanges of such foods, or transfers from one to another of his wholesale establishments, or to any other wholesale establishment. The report must show his sales and transfers separately of each of the following classes of foods covered by this order:

(1) Fresh and frozen "meats";

(2) "Shortening", "lard", "cooking or salad oil", "canned meats", "canned fish";

(3) All other foods covered by this order, including "rationed cheeses", "butter", "margarine", sausage and types of meats not described in (1) or (2).

(b) Points on hand. A wholesaler must also report, as part of his registration, the total number of points which he has available for acquiring foods covered by this order at the close of business on May 1, 1943. He must include all points which he has on hand, all in his ration bank account (except those for which ration checks are outstanding), all which he has already given up for foods not yet shipped to him, and all which he has not yet received for foods he has already shipped. However, he is not to include points he has received for foods which he has not yet shipped, or points he owes for foods already shipped to him.

SEC. 5.6 A wholesaler is given an allowable inventory — (a) General. Every wholesaler is entitled to an operating inventory, called an allowable inventory, which is based on his sales and transfers of foods covered by this order from April 25, 1943, to May 1, 1943, inclusive. This allowable inventory is stated in terms of points.

(b) Amount of allowable inventory. To get a wholesaler's allowable inventory, the number of pounds of foods in each of the three classes specified in section 5.5 (a) transferred by him from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive, is multiplied by a factor fixed for that class by the Office of Price Administration in a supplement to this order. The numbers which result are added, and the total is his allowable inventory. Exchanges of such foods, and transfers from one to another of his wholesale establishments, or to any other wholesale establishment, must not be included in this computation.

(c) Point inventory. (1) In order to determine how large a stock of foods covered by this order, a wholesaler has and is in a position to get, it is necessary to find out two things:

(i) The point value of his inventory; and

(ii) The number of points he has available for acquiring such foods, since he can use these points to get additional stocks. These points include those referred to in section 5.5 (b).

(2) The sum of the above two figures at a particular time, shows the amount of foods covered by this order he has and can get at that time. That sum is called his point inventory.

(d) When a wholesaler is entitled to a certificate. If a wholesaler's point inventory at the close of business on May 1, 1943 is less than his allowable inventory, he is entitled to receive a "certificate" for the number of points needed to make up the difference. The certificate will be issued by the board with which he registers.

(e) What a wholesaler must do if he has excess inventory. If a wholesaler's point inventory at the close of business on May 1, 1943, is greater than his allowable inventory, the difference is excess inventory. He must, in that case, give up to the board, for cancellation, points equal to his excess inventory. Points for that amount must be forwarded with his registration. He must give up the points in the form of a certified check drawn on his ration bank account, made payable to the Office of Price Administration. A wholesaler who does not have enough points at the time of registration, may accumulate and forward them later, but he may not buy or acquire foods covered by this order until he has done so.

SEC. 5.7 Wholesalers may deposit credit authorizations. (a) A wholesaler who does not have enough points after April 10, 1943 to acquire foods covered by this order in sufficient quantity to give him an adequate working inventory, may, before May 1, 1943, deposit in his ration bank account a credit authorization on OPA Form R–1608 for the number of points he needs, up to the maximum permitted under the next paragraph. The credit authorization must be signed by him or by his authorized agent, and he must give all the information it calls for. No more than one credit authorization may be deposited for any wholesale establishment, or, if a wholesaler has more than one wholesale establishment and will register or is required to register them together, only one credit authorization may be deposited for all.

(b) The maximum number of points for which a credit authorization may be issued and deposited by a wholesaler is the sum of the following:

(1) The number of pounds of meat (excluding canned meat) sold or transferred by him during any calendar week chosen by him from the week beginning January 3, to the week ending April 3, 1943, multiplied by a factor fixed by the Office of Price Administration in a supplement to this order; and

(2) The number of pounds of all other foods covered by this order (including canned meat) which were sold or transferred by him during the calendar week chosen, multiplied by a factor fixed by the Office of Price Administration in a supplement to this order.

Exchanges of foods covered by this order, and transfers from one to another of his wholesale establishments, or to any other wholesale establishment, are not to be included in this computation.

SEC. 5.8 Wholesalers must keep records. (a) Every wholesaler must keep, at his wholesale establishment (or at his principal business office, if he has more than one and registers them together) a copy of his registration on OPA Form R–1602, and of any worksheets used by him in computing his allowable inventory, and his inventory.

(b) In addition, at the time of any change in the point value of any item of food covered by this order, every wholesaler must make a record of the amount, in pounds, of that item which he has in his inventory. The record must show the point value of the item before and after the change, and the amount by which the point value of his inventory was increased or decreased as a result. Even if he has more than one wholesale establishment registered together, he must make and keep such a record at each establishment.

(c) He must keep a record of his sales or transfers of foods covered by this order from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive, according to the classes set forth in section 5.5 (a). The record is to separate from his other transfers, exchanges and transfers to wholesale establishments.

SEC. 5.9 Wholesalers who sell to consumers must post table of point values. (a) A wholesaler who makes sales or transfers to consumers at his wholesale establishment of foods covered by this order, must comply at that establishment with the provisions of section 10.4, as to the posting of the point values of the items he carries.

Article VI—Retailers

SECTION 6.1 Explanation of the terms retailer and retail establishment. (a) Any place (including space in a public warehouse) where a "person" who deals in "foods covered by this order" regularly keeps stocks of those foods for sale or "transfer" (other than as a "primary distributor") is a "retail establishment" if more than fifty percent of those stocks are sold or transferred from there directly to "consumers". It is also a retail establishment even if the amount sold or transferred to consumers is fifty percent or less, in the following case:

(1) If some of those stocks are transferred directly to consumers; and

(2) If the rest of those stocks are kept there just to supply his own establishments of any type; and

(3) If no "wholesale establishment", and not more than three retail establishments, are supplied from there.

(b) Any person dealing in food who has a retail establishment is called a "retailer" as to that establishment.

SEC 6.2 Retailers must register.—(a) General Every retailer must register his retail establishments with the Office of Price Administration at any time from May 3, 1943, to May 14, 1943, inclusive, on OPA Form R–1601. The registration form must be completed and signed by the retailer or his authorized agent. He must give all information called for by OPA Form R–1601.

(b) Mailing Where a registration form is filed by mail, it is considered filed on time if the envelope is postmarked on or before May 14, 1943.

(c) Registration for single retail establishment. A retailer who has only one retail establishment must file his registration with the "board" for the place where that establishment is located.

(d) Registration for two or more retail establishments of the same person. If a retailer has two or more retail establishments and has operated them separately under this order, just as if they were owned by different persons, he must either register each establishment separately on a separate OPA Form R–1601, or together on a single form. If he has not operated them separately under this order, he must register them together on the same form. (For example, he must register them together (1) if he has opened a ration bank account for two or more of them; or (2) if he has drawn a ration check against an account serving one of them to acquire foods for another; or (3) if, after April 10, 1943, he transferred points, or foods covered by this order, from one of his retail establishments to another of his retail establishments without transferring foods or points of equal point value between them.)

(e) Where and how a retailer owning two or more retail establishments must register. If a retailer who has two or more retail establishments registers them together, he must furnish the required information for them on a single registration form and file that form with the board for the place where his principal business office is located. If he registers each of them separately, he must file a separate registration form for each establishment with the board for the place where that establishment is located.

(f) Separately registered establishments are to be treated and operated separately. If a retailer has more than one retail establishment and registers them separately, each of those establishments is to be treated and operated separately for all the purposes of this order (including computation of allowable inventories), just as if the establishments were owned by different persons.

SEC. 6.3. A retailer may not do business unless he has registered. (a) No retailer may transfer or acquire foods covered by this order after May 14, 1943, until he has registered in the manner required.

SEC. 6.4 Retailers must report their inventories. (a) As part of his registration, a retailer must report, on OPA Form R–1601, the point value of his inventory of foods covered by this order at the close of business on May 1, 1943.

(b) A retailer's inventory at his retail establishment consists of all foods covered by this order which are physically located at that establishment or in transit to it, including foods which he holds there on consignment. If he has any such foods at or in transit to any place which is not an establishment of any type under this order, he must include them in the inventories of his establishments under this order, but he may divide them among those establishments as he chooses. He must, in that case, report the place where the foods are kept and the amount kept there which he is including in the inventory of his establishment. However, the following items are not part of his inventory:

(1) Foods stored for a person other than his customer or transferee, or held as security for a loan to someone else (or similar transaction), or in transit for either of those purposes;

(2) Foods included in the inventory of one of his other establishments of any type.

SEC. 6.5 Retailers must report their sales and points on hand—(a) Sales and transfers. A retailer must report, as part of his registration:

(1) The point value of all foods covered by this order which were transferred by him from April 25, 1943, to May 1, 1943, inclusive. If he has more than one retail establishment and they are registered together, he must report the total for all. However, he shall not include in his report any exchanges of foods, or transfers of them from one to another of his retail establishments, or to any other retail establishment; and

(2) The total number of points which he has available for acquiring food at the close of business on May 1, 1943. He must include all points which he has on hand, all in his ration bank account, if any (except those for which ration checks are outstanding), all which he has already given up for food not yet shipped to him, and all points which he has not yet received for foods he has already shipped. However, he is not to include points he has received for foods which he has not yet shipped, or points he owes for foods already shipped to him.

SEC. 6.6. A retailer is given an allowable inventory—(a) General. Every retailer is entitled to an operating inventory, called an allowable inventory, which is based on his sales and transfers of foods covered by this order from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive. This allowable inventory is stated in terms of points.

(b) Amount of allowable inventory. To get a retailer's allowable inventory, the points received or receivable for all foods covered by this order transferred from his retail establishment from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive, are multiplied by three. The result is his allowable inventory. Exchanges of foods, and transfers of them from one to another of his retail establishments, or to any other retail establishment, must not be included in this computation.

(c) Point inventory. (1) In order to determine how large a stock of foods covered by this order, a retailer has and is in a position to get, it is necessary to find out two things:

(i) The point value of his inventory; and

(ii) The number of points which he has available for acquiring food, since he can use those points to get additional stocks. These points include all those referred to in section 6.5 (a) (2).

(2) The sum of the above two figures, at the close of business on May 1, 1943, shows the amount of foods covered by this order he has and can get at that time. That sum is called his point inventory.

(d) When a retailer is entitled to a certificate. If a retailer's point inventory at the close of business on May 1, 1943, is less than his allowable inventory, he is entitled to receive a "certificate" for the number of points needed to make up the difference. The certificate will be issued by the board with which he registers.

(e) What a retailer must do if he has excess inventory. If a retailer's point inventory at the close of business on May 1, 1943, is greater than his allowable inventory, the difference is excess inventory. He must, in that case, give up to the Office of Price Administration, for cancellation, points equal to his excess inventory. Points for that amount must be forwarded with his registration. He must give up the points in the form of "stamps" or certificates, or, if he has a ration bank account, in the form of a certified check drawn on that account made payable to the Office of Price Administration. A retailer who does not have enough points at the time of registration may accumulate and forward them later, but he may not buy or acquire foods covered by this order, until he has done so.

SEC. 6.7 Retailers may apply for emergency inventory adjustments during April 1943. (a) Any retailer who finds, during the period from April 11, 1943, to May 1, 1943, inclusive, that he does not have an adequate stock of foods to meet demands under rationing, may apply for an adjustment. A retailer who has only one retail establishment must apply to the board for the place where that establishment is located. If he has more than one retail establishment, he must apply to the board for the place where his principal business office is located. However, if he will register his establishments separately, he may apply, for each establishment for which he requests an emergency adjustment, to the board for the place where that establishment is located. The application is to be made on OPA Form R–315, and must show the approximate point value of his stocks of foods covered by this Order, the point value of his sales or transfers, and the size of the inventory which he needs. The board may call upon him for any other information which it finds necessary in order to act upon the application.

(b) If the board finds that he does not have adequate stocks of foods, it may issue to him a certificate for the number of points needed to bring his stocks up to an adequate working level.

(c) An adjustment may be granted under this section only during the period from April 11, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive.

SEC. 6.8 Retailers must keep records. (a) Every retailer must keep at his retail establishment a copy of his registration for that establishment. If he has more than one retail establishment and has registered them together, he must keep the copy at his principal business office. He must also keep there any work sheets used by him in computing his allowable inventory and his inventory.

(b) In addition, at the time of any change in the point value of any item of food covered by this order, every retailer must make a record of the amount, in pounds, of that item which he has in his inventory. The record must show the point value of the item before and after the change, and the amount by which the point value of his inventory was increased or decreased as a result. He must keep this record at the place where he keeps the copy of his registration. Even if he has more than one retail establishment and they are registered together, he must make and keep such a record at each establishment.

(c) A retailer who processes foods covered by this order but who is not a primary distributor (because of the provisions of section 4.4 (b)) must keep a record of the amount and type of food covered by this order which he uses for processing, and the amount, point value and type of the item he produces by processing.

(d) Every retailer must also keep a record of the point value of the foods covered by this order transferred from his retail establishment during the week from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, inclusive. The record is to separate from his transfers, exchanges and transfers to retail establishments.

SEC. 6.9 Retailers must Post Point Prices. (a) Beginning March 29, 1943, every retailer must post the Official Tables of Consumer Point Values (OPA Forms R–1313 and R–1611) covering the items he sells, in his retail establishment in such manner that they can be plainly seen and read by customers. If he sells from a truck or other mobile conveyance, the tables must be posted in it. If a retailer carries any item for sale or transfer in a form in which it appears on the Official Table of Trade Point Values (OPA Form R–1612) and does not appear on either consumer point value table, he must keep the Official Table of Trade Point Values available for inspection by his purchasers.

(b) Every retailer must also post, at the place where he displays the items of foods covered by this order which he sells to his customers, the point value of every item of such food which he carries. The point value must be posted, in such manner that it can be plainly seen and read by consumers, in one or more of the following ways:

(1) On the item itself; or

(2) On the shelf or other place where the item is kept; or

(3) On a list attached to, or posted next to, the shelf or other place where the item is kept.

SEC. 6.10 Up to May 31, 1943, retailer may sell at lower point value foods in imminent danger of spoilage. (a) If any foods covered by this order which a retailer has in his inventory are in imminent danger of spoilage and he finds, in good faith, that he cannot dispose of them at their regular point value quickly enough so that they can be used before they spoil, he may sell or transfer them at less than their regular point value. He must, in doing so, comply with the conditions and follow the procedure set forth in this section. This authorization does not, however, apply after May 31, 1943, and no retailer may sell any item below its regular point value, under any condition, after that date.

(b) A retailer may reduce the point value of a food covered by this order when permitted by this section, only to the extent necessary to dispose of it before it spoils.

(c) Whenever a retailer sells or transfers an item of food covered by this order at less than its regular point value, he must sell or transfer that item so long as he has it on hand to any person who is willing to buy or acquire it at that reduced point value which he has posted for it. He must also post a notice where it may be clearly seen and read by his customers showing:

(1) The item that he is selling at the lower point value;

(2) The point value is at which he intends to sell it;

(3) That he is selling that item at less than its regular point value to prevent spoilage.

(d) If a retailer sells or transfers a food covered by this order at less than the regular point value he must make a written report (by postcard or otherwise) within twenty-four hours after he begins to transfer it at the lower point value, to the board for the place where his establishment is located. The report must be signed by the retailer or his authorized agent, and must show:

(1) The name and address of the establishment at which the food is being transferred at less than its regular point value;

(2) The particular reasons why the food is being transferred at less than its regular point value;

(3) The quantity and type of food involved.

(e) (1) Within four days after he began to transfer the food at less than its regular point value he must make a further report in writing (by postcard or otherwise) to that board, showing:

(i) The name and address of the establishment at which the food was transferred at less than its regular point value;

(ii) The types and quantity of food sold or transferred at the lower point value;

(iii) The total point value of the food so transferred.

(2) If he has made such a sale or transfer to any person other than a consumer, he must also report to the board:

(i) The name and address of the buyer or transferee;

(ii) The type and quantity of food sold or transferred to him;

(iii) The number of points received from him for that food.

(f) Any person other than a consumer who buys or acquires foods covered by this order at less than their regular point value, and who resells or retransfers them at a higher point value than that at which he bought or acquired them, must surrender the excess points to his board.

(g) A retailer who sold or transferred a food covered by this order at less than its regular point value may apply, on OPA Form R–315, for a certificate to replace the points by which his point inventory was reduced as a result of such transfers. The application must be made to the board for the place where his establishment is located, and must be signed by the retailer or his authorized agent. It must show the time when he made such transfers, the regular point value of the foods so transferred, and the number of points received for them. If the board finds that his point inventory was reduced by such transfers, it shall issue a certificate for the number of points by which it was reduced. However, no retailer may receive points under this section to replace point losses during any month in excess of two per cent of his allowable inventory. This paragraph does not apply to transfers made between March 29, 1943, and April 10, 1943, inclusive. Application to replace point losses must be made at or after registration. No application to replace point losses may be made after 30 days from the close of the month in which the point losses occurred.

(h) If a retailer suffers a point loss because, between April 11, 1943, and May 1, 1943, inclusive, he sold or transferred foods covered by this order at less than their regular point value, he must include the points so lost as part of his point inventory held at the close of business on May 1, 1943.

Article VII—Industrial users and industrial consumers

SECTION 7.1 Explanation of the terms industrial use, industrial user, and industrial user establishment. (a) Any use by a "person" of "foods covered by this order" in producing or manufacturing, for sale or "transfer", a food for human consumption, which is not covered by this order, or a pharmaceutical to be taken internally by humans or animals, is an "industrial use". (For example, use by a bakery of "shortening" in making bread, is an industrial use.) Industrial use also includes the use of a food covered by this order for experimental purposes. If a food covered by this order is used in producing or manufacturing a product which is neither a food covered by this order, nor a food for human consumption, nor a pharmaceutical to be taken internally by humans or animals, and if the use is not for experimental purposes, such use is not an industrial use, but is "industrial consumption". (The way foods covered by this order may be "acquired" for industrial consumption is covered in sections 7.10 and 7.11.) Moreover, the use of foods covered by this order in the preparation of food for service, or in the service of food, to "consumers", is an "institutional use", and not an industrial use. (An "institutional user" may obtain allotments of foods, and may use such foods, only in accordance with the provisions of General Ration Order 5.)

(b) Any place where a person makes an industrial use of foods covered by this order is an "industrial user establishment", and any person who has such an establishment is called an "industrial user" as to that establishment. An industrial user who ceases to make an industrial use of foods (other than temporarily) is not regarded as an industrial user after he ceases.

SEC. 7.2 Industrial users must register—(a) General. Every industrial user who operated his industrial user establishment at any time from January 1, 1942 to March 19, 1943, inclusive, must register that establishment with the Office of Price Administration, at any time from March 29, 1943, to April 10, 1943, inclusive, on OPA Form R–1605, in duplicate. The registration form must be completed and signed by the industrial user or his authorized agent. If he has more than one industrial user establishment, he must either register each establishment separately, on a separate form, or he must register them together on a single form. If he has more than one industrial user establishment, and registers them separately, each of those establishments is to be treated and operated separately for all the purposes of this order (including computation of allotments and quarterly period use) just as if the establishments were owned by different persons. If he registers them together, they are treated as a unit, for those purposes.

(b) Place where registration must be filed. The registration form must be filed, in person or by mail, with the "board" for the place where his principal business office is located. However, if he has more than one industrial user establishment, and registers them separately, the registration form for each must be filed with the "board" for the place where it is located. He must give all information called for by the form.

SEC. 7.3 Industrial user may not do business unless he has registered. (a) No industrial user may "acquire" or use foods covered by this order after April 10, 1943, until he has registered and been given an allotment under this order.

SEC. 7.4 Industrial users must report their inventories. (a) As part of his registration, an industrial user must report his inventory of foods covered by this order, at the close of business on March 28, 1943. If he has more than one industrial user establishment and registers them together, he must report his total inventory for all his establishments on the same registration form.

(b) An industrial user's inventory at his industrial user establishment consists of all foods covered by this order which are physically located at that establishment, or in transit to it. He may, however, assign to and include in the inventory of one of his industrial user establishments foods physically located at or in transit to another of his industrial user establishments. If he has any such foods at or in transit to any place which is not an establishment of any type under this order, he must include them in the inventories of his establishments under this order, but he may divide them among those establishments as he chooses. If he includes in the inventory of an industrial user establishment any foods not physically located at or in transit to it, he must report the place where those foods are kept and the amount kept there which he is including in the inventory of his establishment. However, the following items are not part of his inventory:

(1) Foods stored for a person other than his customer or transferee, or held as security for a loan to someone else (or similar transaction), or in transit for either of those purposes;

(2) Foods included in the inventory of one of his other establishments of any type.

SEC. 7.5 Industrial users must report their use of foods during certain quarterly periods. (a) As part of his registration, an industrial user must also report the number of pounds of foods covered by this order, by groups, of which he made an industrial use at his industrial user establishments during 1942. These groups will be fixed by the Office of Price Administration in a supplement to this order. The report must show the amount he used during each of the following quarters in 1942:

(1) Second quarter: April to June, inclusive;

(2) Third quarter: July to September, inclusive;

(3) Fourth quarter: October to December, inclusive;

(4) First quarter: January to March, inclusive.

(b) If an industrial user establishment was not in operation for a full quarter, his industrial use of foods covered by this order at the establishment during that quarter is fixed, for all the purposes of this order, in the following way:

(1) If it was in operation during a part of the quarter. (i) The amount of foods covered by this order so used there by him during that part of the quarter is determined;

(ii) That amount is divided by the number of days it was in operation during the quarter;

(iii) The result is multiplied by the number of days the establishment would have been operated during the quarter, if it had been a normal period of operations;

(iv) The resulting figure is treated as the amount so used during the quarter.

(2) If it was not in operation at all during the quarter but was in operation in any other part of 1942. (i) The amount of foods covered by this order so used there by him during all of 1942 is determined;

(ii) That amount is divided by the number of days it was in operation during 1942;

(iii) The result is multiplied by the number of days the establishment would have been operated during the quarter, if it had been a normal period of operations;

(iv) The resulting figure is treated as the amount so used during the quarter.

(3) If it was not in operation at all during 1942, but was in operation at some time between January 1, 1943 and March 19, 1943, inclusive. (i) The amount of foods covered by this order so used there by him between January 1, 1943 and March 19, 1943, inclusive, is determined;

(ii) That amount is divided by the number of days it was in operation between January 1, 1943 and March 19, 1943, inclusive;

(iii) The result is multiplied by the number of days the establishment would have been operated during the quarter, if it had been a normal period of operations;

(iv) The resulting figure is treated as the amount so used during the quarter. (If an industrial user's establishment was not in operation at any time from January 1, 1942 to March 19, 1943, inclusive, he is treated as a new industrial user as to that establishment under the provisions of section 13.3).

(d) The rules set forth under (1) and (2) of the last paragraph do not apply where an industrial user's establishment was not in operation during all or part of a quarter because of a normal seasonal shutdown or for any similar reason. Where that is so, it is assumed that conditions will be the same during the corresponding period in 1943 and the allotment must depend upon his actual industrial use during the quarter.

SEC. 7.6 Allotments for industrial users.—(a) General. An industrial user is given an allotment to enable him to get and use foods covered by this order at his industrial user establishment. Allotments are given for fixed periods, called allotment periods. The allotment periods are: from April 1, 1943 through June 30, 1943; July 1, 1943 through September 30, 1943; October 1, 1943 through December 31, 1943; January 1, 1944 through March 31, 1944.

(b) Application for allotments. An industrial user's registration is treated as an application for his first allotment. His application for subsequent allotments must be made, in person or by mail, to the board with which he is registered. No particular form need be used for such an application. The application must be made not more than fifteen (15) days before, nor more than five (5) days after, the beginning of the period. The board may permit the application to be made at any time during the month preceding an allotment period under such circumstances as the "Washington Office" may direct. The board, in its discretion, may also permit an application to be made at any time within the allotment period, but if it is made more than five days after the beginning of the period, the industrial user's allotment shall be reduced in proportion to the part of the allotment period which has elapsed at the time he applies.

[NOTE: An industrial user is permitted to use foods covered by this order only up to the amount of his allotments. He needs allotments even if his stocks are sufficient, since his allotments establish his right to use these foods—they are not just a method by which he gets them.]

(c) Amount of allotment. An industrial user's allotment is determined on the basis of his total industrial use of foods covered by this order at his industrial user establishments during the quarter in 1942 corresponding to the allotment period. The Office of Price Administration will fix, in a supplement to this order, a factor for each of several groups of foods covered by this Order. The number of pounds of foods in each group he used during the quarter is multiplied by the factor fixed for that group. The resulting numbers are added, and the total is his allotment, stated in points. (The factor is fixed in such a way that it gives an allotment which fairly represents the average point value of the foods covered by this order and the reduction required as a result of the scarcity of those foods.)

(d) Right to a certificate; excess inventory. (1) An industrial user is entitled to get and use foods covered by this order up to the amount of his allotment. Therefore, he is given a certificate for the number of points he needs in order to get that amount. However, if he has stocks on hand, he can use them under his allotment and therefore needs fewer points. For that reason the point value of his inventory at the close of business on March 28, 1943, must be deducted. (The method of determining his inventory at the close of business on March 28, 1943 is covered by section 7.4.)

(2) If the point value of an industrial user's inventory is less than his allotment, he is entitled to get from the board with which he registers, a certificate for the number of points needed to make up the difference.

(3) If the point value of an industrial user's inventory is greater than his first allotment, the difference is excess inventory. If an industrial user has excess inventory he is not entitled to receive a certificate until it has been absorbed by his allotments. At that time, he is entitled to get a certificate for the difference.

(e) Issuance of certificates. Only one certificate will be issued by the board, for the full number of points to which an industrial user is entitled, except that if he has more than one industrial user establishment and has registered them separately, he is to get a separate certificate for each, since separately registered establishments are treated separately.

(f) Report of point-free acquisitions. An industrial user who acquires foods covered by this order, after March 28, 1943, without giving up points, and who is not required by any other provision of this order to account for or turn over to the Office of Price Administration points for the point value of the foods so acquired, must report such acquisitions and the amount acquired, when applying for his next allotment. The point value of the amounts so acquired shall be treated as excess inventory.

(g) Accounting for errors. If an industrial user receives an allotment larger than he is entitled to receive, as a result of an error, omission, or mistake made in his application or by his board, the amount of the excess shall be treated as excess inventory.

(h) Industrial users who have unbalanced stocks. If an industrial user is not entitled to receive a certificate because he has excess inventory, but finds that he does not have an adequate stock of a particular kind of food covered by this order, he may apply to the board with which he is registered, on OPA Form R-315, for a certificate to enable him to get that kind. The application must show the kind and amount of food which he needs and the reasons he needs it. The board may call upon him for any other information which it finds necessary in order to act upon the application. If the board finds that he does not have an adequate stock of the particular food, it may issue to him a certificate for the number of points needed, up to one-third of his allotment for that period. The points so issued must be treated as excess inventory. The granting of the application shall not be treated as an increase in his allotment. The board may grant only one such application for an industrial user.

SEC. 7.7 Late registrants lose part of their allotment. (a) If an industrial user was in operation at any time from January 1, 1942 to March 19, 1943, inclusive, but failed to register at the time required, the board may permit him to register and apply for an allotment at a later date. In his registration, he must report his inventory of foods covered by this order, at the close of business on March 28, 1943.

(b) His allotment is computed in the same way as that of an industrial user who registered on time. However, unless he shows good cause for his failure to register on time, his allotment is to be reduced in proportion to the part of the allotment period which had elapsed at the time he registered and he may not receive an allotment for expired allotment periods.

SEC. 7.8 Restrictions on use of foods by industrial users. (a) No industrial user may use, during an allotment period, more foods covered by this order than his allotment for that period plus any unused part of his allotments for earlier periods. He may also use foods up to the amount of an allotment for any future period, at any time after he has been granted that allotment.

(b) No industrial user may use, for any purpose except an industrial use, foods covered by this order which are included in his industrial user inventory at the close of business on March 28, 1943, or which he acquired with points he received as an industrial user.

SEC. 7.9 Industrial users must keep records. (a) Every industrial user must keep copies of all his industrial user registrations at his principal business office. In addition, if he has more than one industrial user establishment, he must keep, at each establishment, a record of its inventory at the close of business on March 28, 1943. He must also preserve his records showing his use of foods covered by this order during the quarters reported in his registration.

(b) In addition, an industrial user must keep a record of the amount of foods covered by this order which he acquires and the date of acquisition, and the amount of such food used, at each of his industrial user establishments during each allotment period.

SEC. 7.10 Explanation of the terms industrial consumption, and industrial consumer. (a) "Industrial consumption" means any use (other than a use for experimental purposes) of a food covered by this order in the production or manufacture of a product which is not any of the following:

(1) A food covered by this order; or

(2) A food for human consumption; or

(3) A pharmaceutical to be taken internally by humans or animals.

(For example, if a manufacturer uses "lard" in making cold cream, that use is called industrial consumption. "Industrial use" and "industrial consumption" are distinguished in section 7.1.)

(b) Any person who engages in industrial consumption (of a food covered by this order) is called an "industrial consumer".

SEC. 7.11 Industrial consumers may apply for points to acquire foods. (a) An industrial consumer who needs "rationed fats or oils", (other than for the purpose of making a pharmaceutical which is not taken internally by humans or animals), may apply, in writing, to the Fats and Oils Section, Food Distribution Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to acquire and use them. If the application is granted, a certificate will be issued to the applicant by the Administrator of the Food Distribution Administration.

(b) If an industrial consumer needs any foods covered by this order, other than rationed fats or oils, or if he needs rationed fats or oils to make a pharmaceutical not taken internally by humans or animals, he may apply, on OPA Form R-315, to the district office for the place where his principal business office is located, for a certificate with which to acquire them. The application must show the kind and amount of the food needed, and the purpose for which it is to be used. He must also give any additional information the district office may request. The district office will send the application to the Washington Office, for decision, or take such other action as the Washington Office may authorize or direct.

(c) An industrial consumer to whom a certificate is issued for industrial consumption may use it only to acquire the foods for which he applied, and may use those foods only for the purpose for which his application was granted.

Article VIII—Combined Operations and Combined Establishments

SECTION 8.1 A person who operates different types of establishments is treated as if he were different persons. (a) (1) The same "person" may operate different kinds of establishments. He may have, for example, both a "wholesale establishment" and a "retail establishment." For the purposes of this order, he is both a "wholesaler" and a "retailer," since he has establishments of both kinds. The provisions of this order dealing with retailers apply to him as far as the operation of his retail establishment is concerned. The operation of his wholesale establishment is regarded as separate and is governed by the provisions dealing with wholesalers. Thus, he is treated as if he were two persons.

(2) This rule also applies to the way in which a person who is both a wholesaler and a retailer must handle the points he gets in connection with his wholesale and his retail establishment. The only points he may use as a retailer are those he gets in connection with his retail establishment. If he "transfers" food from his wholesale establishment to his retail establishment, points he has as a retailer must be given up. When those points are given up to his wholesale establishment, they become points he has as a wholesaler. Points he has as a retailer must be kept and handled separately from the points he has as a wholesaler.

(3) The same rules apply to a person who has other types of establishments, such as "primary distributor establishments" or "industrial user establishments."

(b) Where a person has establishments of more than one kind, he must operate them as if each separate kind belonged to a separate person, as far as the provisions of this order are concerned. All dealings between establishments of different kinds operated by the same person are treated just as if those establishments were operated by different persons.

SEC. 8.2 The same person may be both a wholesaler (or retailer) and an industrial user at the same place. (a) A person may keep stocks of "foods covered by this order", at a place, for sale or other transfer, and may also use such food at that place for the production of a food which is not rationed by this order. (For example, he may sell "butter" at a particular place and may also operate a bakery there and use butter in baking pies.) In a case of this type, the place is treated as two establishments. If food is transferred from there, it may be a retail or a wholesale establishment, depending upon the facts. It would also be an industrial user establishment, since food is used there in baking pies for sale.

(b) A place of the type described in the last paragraph must be registered as a retail or wholesale establishment, depending upon which it is. Its sales or transfers of food, and its stocks held for sale or transfer, must be included in that registration. It must also be registered as an industrial user establishment, and its stocks held for such use must be included in the industrial user registration.

SEC. 8.3 The same person may be both a wholesaler (or retailer) and an institutional user at the same place. (a) If, in the case described in the last section, the person operated a restaurant at that place, as well as (or instead of) a bakery, it would also be an "institutional user establishment." (Restaurants are covered by General Ration Order 5 and are called institutional user establishments in that order.) A place of that type must be registered under General Ration Order 5. Its restaurant activities and its stocks of food held for restaurant use must be included in that registration.

SEC. 8.4 The same person may be both a primary distributor and a wholesaler (or retailer) at the same place. (a) A person may produce or import food covered by this order at a particular place, for sale or transfer. He may also regularly keep at that place, for sale or transfer, food which he did not produce or import there. In such a case, that place is a primary distributor establishment, as to the food produced or imported there. If it does not meet the tests of sections 4.6, 4.7 or 4.9, it would also be a retail or wholesale establishment, depending upon the facts, since he regularly keeps there, for sale or transfer foods produced or imported somewhere else.

(b) A place of the type described in the last paragraph must be registered as a primary distributor establishment. It must also be registered as a wholesale or retail establishment, depending upon which it is. Its production or imports, and its stock and shipments of food produced or imported there, must be included in the primary distributor report. The stocks which were produced or imported elsewhere (to the extent that they do not come within sections 4.6, 4.7 or 4.9) and its sales and transfers of those stocks, must be included in the wholesaler or retailer registration.

SEC. 8.5 The same place may be more than one establishment. (a) The situations described in the last four sections are examples of the rule that the same place may be more than one establishment, depending upon the type of business or operations carried on there. Wherever the operations at a place are such that it is more than one establishment, it is treated just as if each of those establishments were located at a different place.

(b) No place can, however, be both a retail and a wholesale establishment of the same person. Under the definitions of retail and wholesale establishments, the place may be one or the other, but not both.

(c) The word establishment, as it is used in this order thus covers the operations at a place, as well as the place itself. Where a person such as a wholesaler or a retailer, does not operate from any fixed place, his wholesale or retail operations as a whole are regarded as a single establishment.

Article IX—Ration Bank Accounts

SECTION 9.1 A ration bank account is an account in which points are deposited. (a) A ration bank account is a bank account very much like an ordinary checking account. A "person" who opens a ration bank account deposits in it points he receives, and issues checks drawn on it for points he uses. These checks are called ration checks. (The general rules for the opening, closing and use of ration bank accounts are covered by General Ration Order 3A.[1])

SEC. 9.2 Who must open a ration bank account—(a) Primary distributors. Every "primary distributor" who transferred "foods covered by this order" worth $2,000 or more during any of his reporting periods from January 1, 1942 on, or who uses points to "acquire" foods covered by this order, or who imports such foods, must open a seperate ration bank account for each of his "primary distributor establishments." Any other primary distributor may open an account if he wishes, but is not required to do so. No ration bank account may be opened or used for more than one primary distributor establishment.

[1] 8 F R. 1130, 1449, 1963.

(b) Wholesalers. Every "wholesaler" must open a ration bank account for his "wholesale establishment." If he has more than one wholesale establishment and they are to be registered separately, he must open a separate account for each. If they are to be registered together, he may open one account for all, or a separate account for each or for any group of them, but all must have an account.

(c) Retailers. Every "retailer" whose gross sales of all foods during December 1942 were over $5,000, or who has more than one "retail establishment," must open a ration bank account. If he has more than one retail establishment and they are to be registered separately, he must open a separate account for each. If they are to be registered together, he may open one account for all, or a separate account for each or for any group of them, but all must have an account. Any other retailer may open an account if he wishes, but is not required to do so.

(d) Mail order houses. Any primary distributor or retailer who receives "stamps" or "certificates" from and who makes "transfers" to "consumers" by mail, must open a ration bank account.

(e) Industrial users. An "industrial user" is entitled to open a ration bank account, but is not required to do so. If he has more than one "industrial user establishment" and they are registered together, he must, if he opens an account, either open one account for all, or a separate account for each or for any group of them, and all must have an account. If they are registered separately, he may open a separate account for any one or more of them, without opening an account for the others, but no account may be opened or used for more than one of them.

(f) Institutional users. The opening of ration bank accounts by "institutional users" is covered by General Ration Order 5.

(g) Industrial consumers. "Industrial consumers" may open ration bank accounts if they wish, but are not required to do so. They may open such accounts as they find convenient.

SEC. 9.3 All points must be deposited in the account. (a) Every primary distributor, wholesaler, retailer or industrial user who has a ration bank account, must deposit in his account all points he receives, whether in the form of stamps, certificates, or ration checks.[2] Industrial consumers who have accounts may deposit their certificates in them. (Sections 2.3 and 3.2 state exceptions to this paragraph.)

SEC. 9.4 When points must be deposited.—(a) Stamps. A person who has a ration bank account may not deposit stamps later than twenty (20) days after the last date on which they were good for use by a consumer. (The periods during which particular stamps are good, are fixed in the supplement to this order.)

(b) Certificates. He may not deposit a certificate later than twenty (20) days after the date which appears on it. (The fact that the certificate may have passed through several hands before reaching him does not give him any more time to deposit it.)

(c) Effect of failure to deposit stamps or certificates. A stamp or certificate which was not deposited on time is not good, and may not be used or accepted for any purpose.

(d) Ration checks. Ration checks may be deposited at any time.

Article X—Sales and Transfers of Foods Covered by This Order

SECTION 10.1 Only retailers, wholesalers, and primary distributors may transfer foods covered by this order. (a) Beginning March 29, 1943, only "retailers," "wholesalers," and "primary distributors" may sell or "transfer" "foods covered by this order." (Certain transactions between "consumers," covered in section 2.2, are excepted from this rule. Certain other exceptions are covered in Article III and Article XI.)

(b) An "industrial" or "institutional user" may, however, sell or transfer foods covered by this order which he has for use in his "industrial user" or "institutional user establishment," in the same way that a retailer is permitted to sell or transfer those foods, if he is not able to use those foods in his establishment before they spoil. He must, immediately after selling or transferring them, account to his "board" for points equal to their point value, and must give up to the board at that time any points received for them.

(c) An industrial user or "industrial consumer" may also sell or transfer any residue of foods covered by this order which he has and is no longer able to use for his purposes in his industrial user establishment or for "industrial consumption," in the same way that a retailer is permitted to sell or transfer those foods. He must, immediately after selling or transferring them, account to his board for foods he transferred, and must give up at that time all points received for them.

SEC. 10.2 Transfers to certain persons after March 28, 1943 may be made only for points. (a) Beginning March 29, 1943, no person may sell or transfer foods covered by this order to anyone other than a retailer, wholesaler, or primary distributor, and no person other than a retailer, wholesaler, or primary distributor may buy or acquire those foods, regardless of any contract or other agreement, unless points are given up in the way this order requires.

(b) No points may be given up by, or accepted from, a retailer, wholesaler, or primary distributor for any foods covered by this order transferred to or acquired by him before April 10, 1943.

SEC. 10.3 Transfers to retailers, wholesalers and primary distributors after April 10, 1943 may be made only for points. (a) Beginning April 11, 1943, no person may sell or transfer foods covered by this order to a retailer, wholesaler, or primary distributor, and no retailer, wholesaler or primary distributor may buy or acquire those foods, unless points are given up in the way this order requires. (The word "transfer", as it is defined, means to sell, as well as to transfer in other ways. The word "acquire" means to buy, as well as to get in other ways. Therefore, the only words which will generally be used, in later sections, are "transfer" and "acquire".)

The rules covering various kinds of transactions are set forth in the sections which follow.

SEC. 10.4 How foods covered by this order are transferred to consumers—(a) General. Foods covered by this order may be transferred to a consumer, and may be acquired by him, only if he gives up to the seller or transferor, points exactly equal to the point value of the foods transferred, except that fractional amounts are to be handled in the way described in section 10.6. (Certain transactions between consumers covered in section 2.2 are excepted from this rule. Certain other exceptions are covered in Article III and Article XI.) If the consumer is unable to give up points exactly equal to the point value of the foods transferred, because he does not have "stamps" of sufficiently small value to make up the proper amount, the transferor may accept stamps of the nearest higher value which the consumer has, and the transferor must return the excess points to the consumer in the form of loose one-point stamps.

(b) How transfer may be made. A food covered by this order made be transferred to consumers only in a form in which it appears on the Official Tables of Consumer Point Values (OPA Forms R–1313 and R–1611) or the Official Table of Trade Point Values (OPA Form R–1612).

(c) Point values must be posted. (1) Beginning March 29, 1943, every retailer, wholesaler or primary distributor who displays his stocks of foods covered by this order to consumers, must post at the place where he displays the stocks, the Official Tables of Consumer Point Values (OPA Forms R–1313 and R–1611) showing the items he carries, in such manner that they can be plainly seen and read by consumers. If he carries any item for sale or transfer to consumers in a form in which it appears on the Official Table of Trade Point Values (OPA Form R–1612), and does not appear on the consumer point value tables, he must keep the Official Table of Trade Point Values available for inspection.

(2) Every retailer, wholesaler, or primary distributor who has an establishment at which the foods covered by this order which he carries are displayed to consumers must post there the point value of every item of such food he carries. The point value must be posted, in such manner that it can be plainly seen and read by consumers, in one or more of the following ways:

(i) On the item itself; or

(ii) On the shelf or other place where the item is kept; or

(iii) On a list attached to, or posted next to, the shelf or other place where the item is kept.

(d) How points are given up. Points may be given up by, and taken from, a consumer only in the form of red "stamps" from his War Ration Book Two, a "certificate" issued for him, or loose one-point stamps.

(e) When points must be given up. The seller or transferor must take the points from the consumer at the time when the foods are transferred.

(f) When stamps must be detached. The seller or transferor may accept a stamp only if it is torn out of War Ration Book Two in his presence, and only if the book has a validation stamp on its cover. Loose stamps may not be used by a consumer and they must not be accepted by the seller or transferor. However, a transferor may accept loose one-point stamps from a consumer unless he knows or has reason to believe those stamps were not acquired by the consumer in the way permitted by paragraph (a) of this section.

(g) When stamps are good. Each stamp is good for a limited time and may be accepted for a transfer to a consumer only during that time. The letter printed on the stamp serves to indicate when it may be used by a consumer. Stamps lettered A, B, C and D, may be accepted from a consumer only during the following periods:

Stamps lettered:	Time when they may be used (inclusive)
A	March 29, 1943 to April 30, 1943.
B	April 4, 1943 to April 30, 1943.
C	April 11, 1943 to April 30, 1943.
D	April 18, 1943 to April 30, 1943.

The periods during which other stamps may be accepted from a consumer will be fixed by the Office of Price Administration in a supplement to this order. However, a primary distributor who holds a permit as a farm slaughterer under Food Distribution Order No. 27 of the Food Distribution Administration, may accept for a transfer of "meat" to a consumer, not only currently valid stamps, but also red stamps remaining in the consumer's War Ration Book Two which are not yet good, up to the total point value of the meat transferred.

(h) Use of certificates. A certificate may be accepted from a consumer only if it has been signed on the back by the person for whom it was issued (or by someone authorized to act for him, if he cannot write). A certificate is not valid for a transfer to a consumer after the expiration date shown on its face, and may not be used or accepted for such a transfer after that date.

(i) Mail order sales. (1) Foods covered by this order may be transferred to consumers by mail if a certificate or detached stamps are received with the order. Stamps or certificates which are received after the last date on which they are good in the hands of the person who sent them may be accepted if the envelope in which they are enclosed is postmarked on or before that date.

(2) If the transferor fails to deliver foods equal in point value to the points received, he shall issue and send to the consumer a ration check for the balance.

(3) Before accepting stamps from and making transfers to consumers by mail, any retailer wholesaler, or primary distributor who wishes to do so, must notify, in writing, the district office for the place where his principal business office is located. The notice must give his name and principal business address, the name and address of each establishment from which he will make transfers to consumers by mail, and must contain an estimate of the dollar volume of his mail order deliveries to consumers during 1942 of foods covered by this order. He may not make any such transfers until he has given this notice. Beginning March 29, 1943, he must keep a record of the dollar volume of his transfers to consumers by mail of foods covered by this order.

(4) No primary distributor or retailer may receive stamps or certificates from and make transfers to consumers by mail unless he has a ration bank account.

SEC. 10.5 How foods covered by this order are transferred to persons other than consumers—(a) General. Foods covered by this order may be transferred to and acquired by a retailer, wholesaler or a primary distributor after April 10, 1943, or transferred to and acquired by an industrial or institutional user or industrial consumer after March 28, 1943, only if he gives up to the seller or transferor points exactly equal to the point value of the foods transferred, except that fractional amounts are to be handled in the way described in section 10.6.[4] (Certain exceptions to this rule are covered in Article XI.)

(b) How transfer may be made. A food covered by this order may be transferred only in a form in which it appears on the Official Table of Trade Point Values (OPA Form R–1612) or the Official Tables of Consumer Point Values (OPA Forms R–1313 and R–1611).

(c) Point value. The number of points which must be given up for a transfer of these foods is determined by their point value at the time of the transfer.

(d) When points must be given up. The transferor must get the points from the transferee, and the transferee must give them up, at or before the time when the transfer is made. However, if the transfer is made through shipment by railroad or any other public carrier, the transferor may arrange to have the carrier get the points for him from the transferee at the time of actual delivery, or to have the points obtained for him by anyone in exchange for the bill of lading or other document entitling its holder to take possession of the foods. Where transfer is made by delivery at a time when the transferor or his authorized agent or the transferee or his authorized agent is not present, the points may be given up later, but not more than

[2] For the purposes of General Ration Order 3A, red stamps from War Ration Book Two, certificates (on OPA Form R–1201) and ration checks are to be regarded as "evidences" valid for deposit. The term "evidences" is not, however, used in this order. Credit authorizations (OPA Form R–1608) are also valid for deposit.

[4] For convenience, the retailer, wholesaler, primary distributor, industrial or institutional user, or industrial consumer, to whom the transfer is made, will sometimes be called "the transferee" in the paragraphs which follow.

seventy-two (72) hours after the delivery.

(e) Form in which transferor must get points. The transferor may take points from the transferee only in the form of stamps, certificates or a ration check drawn on the transferee's ration bank account.

(1) Stamps. No stamp may be accepted from the transferee more than ten days after the last date on which it was good for use by a consumer. The stamps must be enclosed in sealed envelopes and must be handled in all respects in accordance with the procedure described in General Ration Order 7 for the use of such envelopes.

(2) Certificates. A certificate may not be accepted from the transferee unless the name of the person to whom it was issued has been written on the back. The back of the certificate must also carry the signature of the transferee. The certificate may not be accepted more than ten days after the date shown on its face. However, if it was issued to the transferee, it may not be accepted after the date shown on its face.

(3) Ration checks. A ration check may be accepted by the transferor only if it is made payable to him, and if it is drawn by the transferee. If the transferor does not have, and is not required to have, a ration bank account, he must take the check to his "board" and get a certificate in exchange for it.

(f) Form in which transferee must give up points.—(1) Primary distributors. A primary distributor who has, or is required to have, a ration bank account, must give up points only in the form of a ration check drawn on his ration bank account. Other primary distributors may give up points in the form of stamps or certificates, except that they may give up points to a board in the form of ration checks made payable to them.

(2) Wholesalers. A wholesaler may give up points only in the form of a ration check drawn on his ration bank account.

(3) Retailers. A retailer who has, or is required to have, a ration bank account must give up points only in the form of a ration check drawn on that account. Other retailers may give up points only in the form of stamps or certificates, except that they may give up points to a board in the form of ration checks made payable to them.

(4) Industrial and institutional users. An industrial or institutional user who has a ration bank account must give up points only in the form of a ration check drawn on that account. Other industrial or institutional users may give up points only in the form of certificates.

(5) Industrial consumers. An industrial consumer may give up points either in the form of a certificate or a ration check.

(6) General. Points may be transferred freely between establishments of the same type, other than primary distributor establishments, operated by the same person, which are or will be registered together, and points of one of those establishments may be used to get foods covered by this order for another of them. However, this rule does not apply to the movement of points between institutional user establishments, which is covered by the provisions of General Ration Order 5.

SEC. 10.6 Point fractions are to be computed to nearest full point. (a) In any case in which the point value of an amount of foods transferred under this order is not a whole number, the number of points which must be given up is to be computed in the following ways:

(1) If the fraction is less than one-half point, the fraction is to be dropped;

(2) If the fraction is one-half point or more, a full point must be given up;

(3) If more than one item of food covered by this order is transferred at the same time, and the point value of the amount of two or more of those items transferred comes to a fraction of exactly one-half point, the fractions are to be added;

(4) No foods covered by this order may be transferred for less than one point, except in accordance with the provisions of section 6.10.

SEC. 10.7 Transfers between establishments of different types or between separately registered establishments of the same type operated by the same person. (a) All of the rules set forth above which apply to transfers from one person to another, also apply to transfers between establishments of different types operated by the same person. (For example, a person may have both a wholesale and a retail establishment. He is, therefore, both a wholesaler and a retailer. He is permitted to transfer foods covered by this order from his wholesale to his retail establishment. However, when he does so, he must give up points from the retail to the wholesale establishment just as if those establishments were operated by two different persons.

(b) The rules set forth above which apply to transfers from one person to another also apply to transfers between establishments of the same type which are operated by the same person but which are registered separately under this order.

SEC. 10.8 Transferor may not use points he receives in advance until foods are transferred. (a) A transferor may receive points from his transferee before he actually transfers the foods covered by this order. In that case, he may not use points so received, to get other such foods, until he has actually transferred to the transferee foods worth that number of points.

SEC. 10.9 Points may be returned for underdeliveries of foods covered by this order. (a) If a retailer, wholesaler, or primary distributor receives points in advance for a transfer of foods covered by this order, and is unable to transfer all or any part of the amount ordered, he may return the points in excess. He must return the points in the same form he would use to give up points for a purchase or other acquisition of such foods. (For example, a wholesaler can give up points only in the form of a ration check. He would, therefore, have to return points only in the form of a check drawn on his account.) However, since points may not be accepted in advance from consumers, this section does not apply to consumers, except in connection with mail order transactions.

SEC. 10.10 Points must be given up for imports of foods. (a) Any person (other than a primary distributor who follows the procedure set forth in section 11.11) who imports foods covered by this order must give up points equal to the point value of those foods to the Collector of Customs (or his deputy) at or before the time the foods are released or delivered to him by the Collector.

(b) The Collector of Customs shall turn over, each month, to the State Office for the area in which the port of entry is located, all points received by him in this way during the preceding month.

Article XI—Point-Free Transfers

SECTION 11.1 Foods in transit to industrial or institutional users or industrial consumers on March 28, 1943, may be acquired point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a delivery of "foods covered by this order" to an "industrial" or "institutional user," or to an "industrial consumer" if those foods were in transit to him on March 28, 1943. (NOTE: Foods which were in transit to an industrial or institutional user at the close of business on March 28, 1943, must be included in the inventory which he reports in his registration.)

SEC. 11.2 Foods in transit to primary distributors, wholesalers, or retailers on April 10, 1943, may be acquired point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a delivery of foods covered by this order to a "primary distributor," "wholesaler," or "retailer," if those foods were in transit to him on April 10, 1943.

SEC. 11.3 Foods may be moved to establishment in whose inventory they are included, point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a movement of foods covered by this order to the establishment in the inventory of which those foods were included immediately before the movement started.

SEC. 11.4 Foods covered by this order may be exchanged for other such foods. (a) Any "person" may exchange foods covered by this order with any other person, for such foods of equal point value, without giving up or taking points. (This rule applies even if there is a money payment to make up any difference in the money value of the foods exchanged.)

SEC. 11.5 Lost or stolen foods may be returned, point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a return of lost or stolen foods to the person who lost them or from whom they were stolen.

SEC. 11.6 Stocks of foods may be moved point-free between establishments of the same person which are registered together. (a) No points need be given up where a person moves stocks of foods covered by this order from one of his establishments, to another of his establishments of the same kind, if those establishments are, or will be, registered together. For example, a person who has two "retail establishments" which are, or will be, registered together, may move foods covered by this order from one to the other without exchanging points between them. (However, a record must be kept of the amount of stocks involved in each such movement.) When a person "transfers" foods covered by this order between establishments of different kinds—for example, from his "wholesale establishment" to his retail establishment—points must be given up just as if those establishments were operated by different persons.

(b) This rule does not apply to the movement of stocks between "institutional user establishments," which is covered by the provisions of General Ration Order 5.

SEC. 11.7 Foods may be stored and returned from storage, point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a delivery of foods covered by this order for storage purposes only.

(b) No points need be given up for a delivery of such foods from the place of storage to the person who stored them, or to a person to whom he has sold or transferred them. (However, that sale or transfer must be made in a way permitted by this order.)

SEC. 11.8 Security interests in foods may be created and released, point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a transfer of foods covered by this order, or of any interest in them, for security purposes only. (For example, if such foods are pledged or mortgaged, the person with whom they are pledged or mortgaged need not give up points.)

(b) No points need be given up for a release of a security interest in such foods, or for a return of those foods to the person who originally transferred them for security purposes. (For example, a person who pledged those foods may get them back without giving up points. Similarly, a person who gave a chattel mortgage on them need not give up points when the mortgage is ended.)

SEC. 11.9 Foods may be transferred, point-free, for liquidation, by operation of law, or in judicial proceedings.—(a) General. No points need be given up for a transfer of foods covered by this order to a person who gets them for liquidation only. Also, no points need be given for a transfer of such foods as part of a judicial proceeding, or by operation of law, order of a court, or judicial process. (For example, foods may be taken over by a creditor, under a court order, without any surrender of points. If such foods are assigned for the benefit of creditors, the person to whom they are assigned need not give up points to the person making the assignment. Also, a person need not give up points when he inherits such foods or "acquires" them by will.)

(b) How transferee may dispose of the foods. A person who acquires foods covered by this order in this way must, within five (5) days after acquiring them, report to the district office for the place where his principal business office is located:

(1) The kinds and the point value of the foods acquired;

(2) The name and address of the person from whom they were acquired;

(3) The way in which and the date when they were acquired.

He may not use the foods unless he gives up to the district office, for cancellation, points equal to their point value. He may, however, sell or transfer them in the same way that a "retailer" is permitted to sell or transfer such foods. He must immediately after selling or transferring them, account to the district office for points equal to their point value.

(c) Consumer inheritance. A consumer who gets foods covered by this order from another consumer, by inheritance or by will, may use them without giving up points.

SEC. 11.10. Foods may be acquired, point-free, by insurers or for salvage.—(a) Acquisition of damaged foods. Damaged foods covered by this order and undamaged foods covered by this order mingled with them may be transferred to, and acquired by, the following persons, without any surrender of points:

(1) A person who has paid or is liable for a claim for the damage done to the foods, and who is entitled to reimburse himself by taking them over;

(2) A person in the business of adjusting losses or of reconditioning or selling damaged articles.

(b) Disposal of the foods. The person acquiring the foods must, within five days after acquiring them, report to the district office for the place where his principal business office is located:

(1) The kinds and point value of the foods acquired;

(2) The name and address of the person from whom he acquired them;

(3) The way in which and the date when they were acquired. If he cannot ascertain the kinds and point value immediately, he must describe the approximate amount he received and must give the detailed information as soon as he can. He may dispose of those foods only by a sale or transfer in the same way that a retailer is permitted to sell or transfer such foods. He must, immediately after selling or transferring them, account to the district office for points equal to their point value. If he cannot dispose of them all, he must report to the district office the amount which was not salable.

SEC. 11.11 Foods may be delivered to importer by customs official, point-free. (a) No points need be given up for a release or delivery of foods covered by this order by an authorized customs official to a primary distributor who imported them, if the primary distributor submits a written statement to the official showing:

(1) His name;

(2) His principal business address;

(3) The name and address of his primary distributor establishment at which the foods will be kept;

(4) The name and address of the district office with which that establishment is registered; and

(5) The amount and kinds of foods imported at that time.

(b) The Collector of Customs shall turn over, each month, to the district offices named thereon, all statements received from primary distributors during the preceding month.

SEC. 11.12 Foods may be transferred, point-free, in connection with transfer of a business. (a) No points need be given up for a sale or transfer of foods covered by this order which are in the inventory of an establishment, as part of a sale or other transfer of the establishment itself for continued operation. A person who so buys or acquires such foods may not use them, but may hold them only for sale or transfer. However, a person who acquires an industrial user establishment may use its stocks up to the amount of any allotment he gets. (The procedure which the transferor and transferee must follow, where an establishment is transferred for continued operation, is covered in Article XII.)

Article XII—Sale of business

SECTION 12.1 Sale or transfer of retail, wholesale, or primary distributor establishment.—(a) General. (1) When any "person" sells or "transfers" to any other person the business and inventory of his "retail", "wholesale" or "primary distributor establishment", for continued operation, they must both notify the "board" at which the establishment is registered, or the district office, if it is registered there. The notice must be given in writing, within five days after the sale or transfer, and must show:

(i) The name and business address of the establishment and of the persons transferring and "acquiring" it;

(ii) The point value of the inventory transferred; and

(iii) The number of points in the establishment's ration bank account, if any, and the number of points on hand, including points sent to a supplier for "foods covered by this order" not yet shipped.

This notice will be treated as the transferee's registration and as a cancellation of the transferor's registration.

(2) If the transferor has a ration bank account, he must notify the district office, in the way required by General Ration Order 3A (the ration banking order).

(b) Purchaser of retail or wholesale establishment may get its points. The purchaser or transferee of a retail or wholesale establishment may get and use all of the establishment's points in the same way that the seller or transferor was entitled to use them. If the transferor has "stamps" or "certificates", he is to give them to the transferee. If the establishment has a ration bank account, the transferor is to issue a ration check to the transferee, for the number of points in the account less outstanding ration checks. (The transferee must use the check either to open a ration bank account for the establishment, or, if he does not and is not required to open one, to get a certificate from the board.)

(c) Seller of primary distributor establishment must give up all points to the Office of Price Administration. A person who sells or transfers a primary distributor establishment must, within five days after the transfer, turn over to the board (or to the district office, if it is registered there), all points on hand at that establishment and all in its ration bank account. He does so by issuing and sending his certified ration check, payable to the Office of Price Administration, along with his notice of the transfer. (If any of the points represent foods not yet shipped, he must attach to his notice a statement showing the amount and the person from whom he got them.)

(d) Same rules apply to sale of an entire chain. The rules set forth above also apply to a person who has more than one establishment of a particular kind and who sells or transfers all of them for continued operation, whether or not the establishments were registered together. He must give the information and give up or transfer the points for all the establishments.

(e) Sale of part of a chain. Where the seller or transferor also has other establishments of the same kind which are not sold or transferred, the procedure described in paragraph (a) of this section must be followed. However, if the transferor's establishments were registered together, the purchaser or transferee may acquire the inventory of the transferred establishment, but he may not acquire its points. In this case, the seller or transferor keeps the points. If he is a "retailer", or "wholesaler", he may use the points with his other establishments of the same kind as the transferred establishment. If he is a "primary distributor" he must give up to the board or district office, the points received for sales and transfers of foods covered by this Order from that establishment at the time that he is required to give up points received by his other primary distributor establishments.

SEC. 12.2. Sale or transfer of industrial user establishments.—(a) General. (1) When an "industrial user" sells or transfers to any other person the business and inventory of his "industrial user establishment", for continued operation, both the transferor and transferee must notify the board at which the establishment is registered. The notice must be in writing, within five days after the sale or transfer, and must show:

(i) The name and business address of the establishment and of the persons transferring and acquiring it;

(ii) The point value of the inventory transferred;

(iii) The number of points in the establishment's ration bank account, if any, and the number of points on hand, including points sent to a supplier for foods covered by this order not yet shipped.

(2) If the transferor has a ration bank account, he must notify the district office, in the way required by General Ration Order 3A.

(b) Transferor must give up unused points. The seller or transferor must give up to the board all unused points he has for the establishment. If the establishment has a ration bank account, he must give up the points in the form of his certified ration check payable to the Office of Price Administration. The notice described in paragraph (a) of this section, and the surrender of unused points, will be treated as a cancellation of the transferor's registration and allotment.

(c) Application for allotment by transferee. The transferee may not use the stocks of foods covered by this order which are transferred with the establishment unless he receives an allotment. The application for an allotment must be made, on OPA Form R–315, to the board for the place where the establishment was registered, and must state facts showing whether:

(1) The entire establishment, including substantially all the equipment, the good will, and the inventory of foods covered by this order has been transferred;

(2) The transferee will continue to serve, from that establishment, the same general class of customers and the same area served by it before the transfer; and

(3) The transferee will continue to produce, at the establishment, the same product or products, though not necessarily under the same trade name. The board shall send the application, the notices sent to it by both parties and the transferor's registration to the district office.

(d) Granting of allotment. If the district office finds that the establishment will continue to be operated in substantially the same manner as before the transfer and that the tests described in paragraph (c) are satisfied, it shall assign to the transferee the transferor's allotment and quarterly use for that establishment. It shall also give him a certificate for the number of points that the transferor surrendered to the board or, if the amount of foods covered by this order transferred to the transferee with the establishment is larger than the unused part of the allotment for the current period plus any unused part of the transferor's earlier allotments, the difference shall be treated as excess inventory. The transferee may not use any part of the allotment already used by the transferor, but he may use any unused part of any prior allotment the transferor received for that establishment.

(e) Same rules apply to sale of entire chain. The same rules apply where a person who has more than one industrial user establishment sells or transfers all of them for continued operation, whether or not they were registered separately.

(f) Sale of part of a chain. (1) When the seller or transferor has more than one industrial user establishment which he registered separately, and sells or transfers one or more, but not all of them, the procedure described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this section must be followed separately, as to each of the establishments transferred.

(2) When the seller or transferor has more than one industrial user establishment which he registered together, and sells or transfers one or more, but not all of them, the procedure described in paragraphs (a) and (c) of this section must be followed, except that the transferor must also apply to the board with which he registered for a redetermination of his allotment and his quarterly use. The board shall send the application and notices of both parties, and the transferor's registration, to the district office. If the district office finds that the tests described in paragraph (c) are satisfied, it shall grant an allotment to the transferee and assign to him a quarterly use. It shall first determine the amount of the transferor's allotment and quarterly use allocable to the transferred establishment. That quarterly use shall be assigned to the transferee. The transferee's allotment shall be the part of the transferor's allotment corresponding to the unexpired part of the allotment period. The quarterly use and the allotment assigned to the transferee shall be deducted from the quarterly use and current allotment of the transferor. The district office shall issue a certificate to the transferee (or determine his excess inventory) on the basis of the allotment granted to him and the amount of the inventory he acquired from the transferor. If the amount of foods covered by this order which is transferred with the establishment is less than the allotment assigned to the transferee, the transferor must give up points to the Office of Price Administration for the difference. If he does not give up points, that difference shall be treated as excess inventory.

(g) Transferee's registration. A transferee is regarded as registered as soon as the district office assigns an allotment and quarterly use to him.

(h) Use of allotment by transferee. A transferee may not use an allotment assigned to him under this section if his operation of the transferred establishment ceases to meet the tests described in paragraph (c).

SEC. 12.3 Where and how the transferee registers the establishments acquired by him. (a) A person who buys or otherwise acquires an establishment of any type, other than a primary distributor establishment, and who already has two or more establishments of the same type as the one acquired by him, which are registered together, must register the new establishment together with his other establishments and at the same board. If he already has his other establishments of the same type registered separately, the new establishment must be registered separately with the board for the place where it is located. If he has only one other establishment of the same type he may elect whether his establishments will be registered together or separately. If he registers them together, registration shall be at the board for the place where his principal office is located. If he registers them separately, registration shall be at the board for the place where the establishment will be located. (Primary distributor establishments must always be registered separately.)

(b) The same rules apply to industrial user establishments. If a person who acquires more than one industrial user establishment is entitled to or is required to, register them separately, the district office must compute separately the portion of the transferor's allotment and quarterly use allocable to each of the establishments acquired, in the way described in section 12.2 (f) (2).

Article XIII—New Businesses

SECTION 13.1 New retail and wholesale establishments may be opened.—(a) How stocks are obtained. A "person" who wishes to open a "retail establishment" or a "wholesale establishment", after April 25, 1943, may apply for a "certificate" to get stocks of "foods covered by this order." The application must be made on OPA Form R–315 to the "board" for the place where the establishment will be located. The application must show:

(1) The proposed name and address of the establishment;

(2) The amount he has invested or expects to invest in it;

(3) The size and type of the establishment;

(4) The number of points he needs in order to get adequate stocks;

(5) The point value of any stocks of foods covered by this order which he may have for that establishment.

(b) Issuance of certificate. The board will issue to him a certificate for the number of points he needs to get an adequate working inventory.

(c) Registration. At the end of his first full week of operation, he must register that establishment, on OPA Form R–1601 or OPA Form R–1602, whichever is applicable, in the same way that "retailers" and "wholesalers" register between May 3 and May 14, 1943. He must give all information called for by the form. However, he must show his sales and "transfers" of foods covered by this order from that establishment during his first full week of operation, instead of during the period from April 25, 1943 to May 1, 1943, and must report his point inventory at the end of that week, instead of at the close of business on May 1, 1943. When he registers, he may get a certificate or, if he has excess inventory, he must give up points to the Office of Price Administration in the same way as retailers or wholesalers who register between May 3 and May 14, 1943. He may not, however, be given a certificate for more than the amount by which his allowable inventory exceeds the amount of the certificate given to him when he applied on OPA Form R–315.

(d) Procedure where no additional stocks are needed. Where the person who wishes to open the retail or wholesale establishment has enough stocks, he need not apply on OPA Form R–315. He may begin operation with the stocks he has. However, before making any sales or transfers of foods covered by this order from the establishment after May 14, 1943, he must notify the board for the place where the establishment is located. The notice must be in writing and must give the name and address of the establishment and the point value of its inventory. At the end of his first full week of operation, he must register the establishment and follow the procedure described in the last paragraph.

SEC. 13.2 New primary distributor establishments may be opened. (a) A person who opens a primary distributor establishment which was not in operation before April 30, 1943, must notify the district office for the place where the establishment will be located, before making sales or transfers of foods covered by this order from that establishment. The notice must be in writing and must show:

(1) The name and address of the establishment;

(2) The type of foods covered by this order he produces or imports there;

(3) The inventory of that establishment on the date of the notice.

He must file reports for that establishment, on OPA Form R–1606 or OPA Form R–1609, beginning for the reporting period in which he started operations there.

SEC. 13.3 In special cases, allotments may be granted for new industrial user establishments. (a) A person who wishes to open an "industrial user establishment" which he did not operate at any time between January 1, 1942, and March 19, 1943, may apply for an allotment. No such application may be granted in any case, unless it is found that:

(1) The operation of the establishment will make a direct contribution to the war effort or is essential to meet civilian needs in the area it will serve; and

(2) The product it will produce cannot be obtained from any other source in the area to be supplied.

(b) The application must be made on OPA Form R–315, to the board for the place where the establishment is or will be located. The application must show:

(1) The product the applicant will make;

(2) The size of the establishment;

(3) The amount he has invested or intends to invest in it;

(4) The market to be supplied;

(5) The kinds and point value of any foods covered by this order he may have on hand for that establishment;

(6) The amount of the allotment requested.

(c) The board may call for any additional information it finds necessary. It may not pass on the application, but must forward it, together with all information received, to the district office. It may attach its recommendation, if any, as to the action to be taken. The district office must forward the entire file to the "Washington Office", for decision, or take such other action as the Washington Office may authorize or direct.

(d) An industrial user who already has an allotment, may not open another industrial user establishment and use his allotment there, unless he applies under this section and is given permission to do so.

SEC. 13.4 Where a person who opens a new establishment registers if he already has other establishments of the same type. (a) If a person who opens a new establishment of any type, other than a primary distributor establishment, already has two or more establishments of the same type which are registered together, he must register the new establishment together with his other establishments and at the same board. If he already has establishments of the same type registered separately, the new establishment must be registered separately with the board for the place where it is or will be located. If he has only one other establishment of the same type, he may elect whether his establishments will be registered together or separately. If he registers them together, registration must be at the board for the place where his principal business office is located. If he registers them separately, registration must be at the board for the place where the establishment is or will be located.

Article XIV—Closing of Business

SECTION 14.1 What a person who closes his establishment must do.—(a) General. (1) Any "retailer," "wholesaler", "primary distributor", or "industrial user" who goes out of the business of dealing in or using "foods covered by this order" at his establishment, must notify the "board" at which it is registered, or the district office, if it is registered there. The notice must be given in writing, within five days after he goes out of the business. It must show:

(i) The name and address of the establishment;

(ii) The point value of its inventory at the time he stopped doing business there; and

(iii) The number of points in the establishment's ration bank account, if any, and the number of points on hand, including points in the hands of his suppliers for foods not yet shipped. If he has a ration bank account, he must also notify the district office, in the way required by General Ration Order 3A (the ration banking order).

(2) He must account to the Office of Price Administration for all points he has for the establishment at which he ceased doing business. If all his stocks of foods covered by this order have not been disposed of at the time of the notice, he must account for the rest of the points as soon as the stocks have been liquidated. An industrial user who has given the notice called for above, may sell or "transfer" his unused stocks of foods covered by this order in the same way that a retailer is permitted to make sales or transfers.

(b) Closing of entire chain. The rules set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, also apply to a "person" who has more than one establishment of a particular kind and who goes out of business at all of them, whether or not they were registered separately. He must give the information required, and must give up the points, for all the establishments.

(c) Closing of part of a chain. (1) A person who has several retail, wholesale, primary distributor, or industrial user establishments, which are registered separately, may go out of business at one or more, but may continue to operate the others. In that case, he must follow the procedure set forth in paragraph (a) of this section as to each of the establishments at which he goes out of business.

(2) A person who has several retail or wholesale establishments which are registered together may go out of business at one or more, but may continue to operate the others. In that case, he need not give up points to the Office of Price Administration at that time but may use them for the operation of the establishments which he continues. He must notify the board at which it is registered within five days after he closes it. The notice must be in writing and must give the name and address of the establishment closed.

(3) A person who has several industrial user establishments which are registered together may go out of business at one or more, but may continue to operate the others. In that case he must notify the board with which he is registered. The notification must be in writing and must state whether and to what extent he will continue to serve, from his other establishments, the same area and the same general class of customers. The board must send the notification and his registration to the district office. The district office shall determine the extent to which he remains entitled to use his entire allotment. He may keep his entire allotment only if his remaining establishments will continue to serve the same general class of customers and the same area as the establishment closed. His allotment and his quarterly use must be reduced to the extent that he will cease to serve the same class of customers and the same area. If his allotment is reduced, he must give up to the Office of Price Administration points equal to the reduction. If he does not have points to give up, the amount of the reduction shall be treated as excess inventory.

Article XV—Adjustments

SECTION 15.1 Adjustments for lost, destroyed, or stolen foods—(a) How to apply. Any "person" who had "foods covered by this order" which were lost, destroyed (other than by rotting or decaying), or stolen, or taken away by legal process or order of a court, may apply for a certificate for the number of points needed to replace them. The application must be made on OPA Form R–315. A "consumer" who wants a certificate must apply to the board for the place where he lives. Any other person must apply to the board with which he is registered (or to the district office, if he is registered there). The application must give:

(1) A description of the foods he wishes to replace, showing their point value;

(2) A description of the way in which they were lost, destroyed, stolen, or taken away.

He must also give any other information that the board (or the district office) may request.

(b) Action on application. If the board (or the district office) finds the statements made in the application to be true, it will issue to him a certificate for the number of points needed to replace the foods.

(c) Recovery of lost or stolen foods. If the applicant gets back any of the foods covered by his application, he must give back to the Office of Price Administration, for cancellation, points equal to the point value of the foods he recovered.

SEC. 15.2 Applications may be made for other adjustments—(a) How to apply. Any "retailer," "wholesaler," "primary distributor" or "industrial user" who needs an adjustment in his inventory or allotments, or other relief, may apply, on OPA Form R–315, to the board with which he is registered, or to the district office, if he is registered there. He must state in his application all facts which he claims show his need for the adjustment, and the nature and amount of the adjustment he requests. He must also give any other information that the board (or the district office) requests.

(b) Action on application. A board may not act upon an application under this section. It must send the application, together with all other information received, to the district office. It may attach its recommendation as to the action to be taken. The district office shall send the file to the "Washington Office," for decision, or take such other action as the Washington Office may authorize or direct.

SEC. 15.3 Points may be received to replace inventory losses due to shrinkage (evaporation). (a) Any wholesaler who suffers a loss in his inventory of "meat" (except "canned meat") or "rationed cheeses" (except process cheese, cheese foods, bottled cheeses or grated cheese) because of evaporation or dehydration (shrinkage) may apply to his board on OPA Form R–315 for a certificate to replace such losses. The application may be made at any time within one month after each three month period, beginning with April 1, 1943, during which he incurred such losses. The application must be signed by the wholesaler or his authorized agent, and must show:

(1) His name and principal business address;

(2) The three month period during which losses of inventory by shrinkage were incurred;

(3) The point value of his sales and transfers, during that period, of these foods;

(4) The number of pounds of these foods lost by shrinkage during that period;

(5) The point value of his inventory losses, during that period due to shrinkage of these foods. He must also give any other information which the board may request.

(b) If the board finds that the wholesaler suffered an inventory loss because of the shrinkage of these foods held by him for sale or transfer, it shall issue a certificate for the number of points necessary to replace the losses. However, no certificate may be issued to allow more than one percent of the point value of his sales and transfers of these foods during the three months in which the losses were incurred.

Article XVI—Issuance and Use of Certificates

SECTION 16.1 How certificates are issued—(a) By whom issued. "Certificates" (OPA Form R–1201) may be issued by the "Washington Office", by a "board", by a district office, by any authorized officer or representative of the Office of Price Administration, or by any person authorized by the Office of Price Administration to issue them. Certificates may be issued only in the cases and for the purposes permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

(b) How certificates are issued. The "person" who issues a certificate must insert, in ink, the words "Meats and Fats" in the appropriate space and must sign it and fill in:

(1) The number of points for which it is issued;

(2) The name of the person for whom it is issued; and

(3) The expiration date of the certificate, which is 60 days after the date on which it is issued.

A certificate which is not filled out in this way is not good for the acquisition of foods and may not be used or accepted for that purpose.

(c) Certificates may not be issued for points in fractional amounts.

SEC. 16.2 Certificates are good for a limited time. (a) A certificate may not be used by the person for whom it was issued after the date shown on its face. However, a "retailer" who "transferred" "foods covered by this order" for a certificate may use it to acquire such foods within ten days after the date shown on its face, if he does not have and is not required to have a ration bank account. Any person who has a ration bank account may deposit a certificate (whether it was issued to him, or received by him for a transfer of foods) within twenty days after the date shown on its face. A certificate is thus not valid for any purpose more than twenty days after the date shown on its face.

SEC. 16.3 A certificate must be endorsed. (a) Before it can be used, a certificate must be signed on the back by the person for whom it was issued, or by a person authorized to sign for him, if he cannot write.

(b) Any retailer, "wholesaler" or "primary distributor" who has transferred foods for a certificate must sign his name on the back of the certificate before he can deposit or use it.

SEC. 16.4 Board may issue a certificate in exchange for a ration check. (a) A retailer or primary distributor who does not have, and is not required to have a ration bank account, may take a ration check from a person to whom he sells or transfers foods covered by this order. He cannot use the check, but he must give it to a board and get, in return, a certificate for the same number of points. The board must give a certificate to such a retailer or primary distributor in exchange for a ration check payable to him. (He must endorse the check before exchanging it. The way in which the board then handles the ration check is covered by General Ration Order 2A.)

(b) A consumer who has received a ration check because his mail order was not filled must exchange that check for a certificate, at any board.

SEC. 16.5 Names of persons who have been given certificates may be posted. (a) A board may post at its office the name of any person to whom it has issued a certificate under this order. However, it shall not do so if it would reveal information of a military character, or information which any public law enforcement or investigating agency wishes to keep confidential.

SEC. 16.6 Certificates are the property of the Office of Price Administration and may be revoked. (a) All certificates are the property of the Office of Price Administration, whether or not they have been issued.

(b) The Office of Price Administration may suspend, cancel, or revoke any certificate issued if it finds it in the public interest to do so.

Article XVII—Records, Reports and Inspections

SECTION 17.1 Records must be kept for two years. (a) Every "person" must hold, for at least two years, all records which this order requires him to keep.

SEC. 17.2 Records may be inspected by Office of Price Administration. (a) All records kept under this order may be inspected by the Office of Price Administration, through any authorized representative. The inspection may be made at a person's place of business during regular business hours. In the case of records kept on forms prepared by the Office of Price Administration, the inspection of those records may be made at any time or place fixed by the Office of Price Administration. Every person required to keep records under this order must keep them available for such inspection.

SEC. 17.3 Places where foods covered by this order are kept may be inspected. (a) The Office of Price Administration, through any authorized representative, may at any reasonable time inspect any place where "foods covered by this order" are produced, imported, processed or kept. Any person who produces, imports, processes, or has foods covered by this order must permit such inspection of the place where he produces, imports, processes or keeps them. This section does not apply to a place if the only foods covered by this order which are produced or kept at that place are produced or kept by a person for his use as a consumer.

SEC. 17.4 Records and reports are confidential. (a) Information and documents obtained from any person under this order will not be disclosed, whether in response to a subpoena or in any other way, except to that person, unless the Administrator (or a representative of the Office of Price Administration designated by him) finds that the requested disclosure is not contrary to law and consents to it.

SEC. 17.5 Office of Price Administration may extend time for registration and reports. (a) The "Washington office" may, for good cause, give any person additional time to file any registration or report which this order requires him to file. Any person who needs more time for filing a registration or report may apply, in writing, to the Washington office. He must explain, in his application, why he needs more time. The Washington office may impose any conditions it finds proper, when it grants such an extension of time.

Article XVIII—Additional records to be kept by chains

SECTION 18.1 Chains must keep records of transfers of stocks and points between establishments. (a) Every person who has more than one "retail" or "wholesale" establishment must, if they are registered together, keep at each establishment a record, in any convenient form, which shows:

(1) The amount of "foods covered by this order" "transferred" from that establishment and "acquired" at that establishment, the date of each transfer or acquisition, and the name and address of the establishment to which the foods were transferred or from which they were acquired. The record must show the amount of foods which were transferred or acquired either by items and sizes, or by point value. (However, no such record need be kept for transfers of such foods to "consumers"); and

(2) The number of points received there (for transfers of foods covered by this order from that establishment), the disposition of those points, and the dates of their disposition.

(b) In addition, he must keep for each ration bank account used by him for more than one establishment, a record showing the number of points deposited in that account by and for each such establishment, and the dates of the deposits.

Article XIX—Appeals

SECTION 19.1 Persons directly affected by action taken under this order can appeal. (a) Any "person" directly affected by the action of a "board", district manager, state director or regional administrator, on any application or other matter, may appeal from that action in the way permitted by Procedural Regulation No. 9 of the Office of Price Administration.

(b) This section shall not apply to action taken on any application made under section 15.2.

Article XX—Miscellaneous Rules and Prohibitions

SECTION 20.1 Additional prohibitions. (a) No "person" shall use points unless he has received them in a way permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

(b) No person shall "transfer", "acquire", use or possess "foods covered by this order" except in a way permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) No person shall give or transfer points, a "stamp" or a "certificate" to any other person, except in a way permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

(d) No person may transfer foods covered by this order for a stamp, certificate or ration check if he knows or has reason to believe that it is not valid or that the person tendering it is not entitled to use it.

(e) No person shall have a stamp, certificate or ration check in his possession except the person (or agent of the person) to whom it was issued or by whom it was acquired in a way permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

(f) No person shall deface, mutilate, or destroy any stamp, certificate or ration check, except where permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration. A defaced or mutilated stamp, certificate or ration check is not valid for any purpose.

(g) No person shall counterfeit, forge, or alter a stamp, certificate, credit authorization, or ration check, and no person shall transfer, acquire, possess or use a counterfeited, forged or altered stamp, certificate, credit authorization or ration check.

(h) No person may transfer foods covered by this order in violation of any applicable order of an agency of the United States.

(i) No person shall offer, solicit, attempt or agree to do, or assist in doing any act in violation of this order.

(j) Paragraphs (b), (c), (e), (f), (g) and (h) of this section do not apply to public officials who do any of those acts in the performance of their public duties.

(k) No person shall, in any registration, report, application, or other statement or record made pursuant to or required by this order, make any untrue statement of fact, or omit to state any fact which is required to be stated or which is necessary to make a statement not misleading.

(l) No person shall, after demand, withhold a stamp, certificate or ration check from the person who is entitled to have it.

(m) No person shall sell or transfer any item of foods covered by this order at a price in excess of the applicable maximum price established for that item by the Office of Price Administration.

(n) No person shall sell or transfer any item of food covered by this order except in a form in which it appears on the Official Tables of Consumer Point Values or Official Table of Trade Point Values.

SEC. 20.2 Stamps and certificates may not be taken by legal process or acquired by will. (a) No stamp, certificate or ration check, or any interest in it, may be taken or seized by judicial process or by any court order. However, a person to whom a War Ration Book Two or a certificate has been issued may bring a legal proceeding to recover it from any person who is wrongfully in possession of it. He may, as part of that proceeding, take or seize it by judicial process or court order.

(b) No stamp or certificate, or any interest in it, may be transferred or acquired by inheritance or by will.

SEC. 20.3 Office of Price Administration must be notified of legal proceedings. (a) Any person who has a stamp, certificate or ration check must notify the district office of the Office of Price Administration immediately after the beginning of any legal proceeding involving that stamp, certificate or check.

SEC. 20.4 Definition of meat in price order or regulation governs under this order. (a) If any item of "meat" shown on the Official Tables of Consumer Point Values (OPA Form R–1313 or OPA Form R–1611) or the Official Table of Trade Point Values (OPA Form R–1612) has the same name as the name used for that item in any price order or regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration, the description of that item, or the definition of its name, in the price order or regulation shall be its description or definition for all purposes of this order.

ARTICLE XXI—Exports

SECTION 21.1 Foods covered by this order may be exported point-free. (a) Any "person" who exports "foods covered by this order" to any foreign country or to any territory or possession of the United States (other than the District of Columbia) need not receive points for the export.

SEC. 21.2 Points may be obtained to acquire foods covered by this order for export. (a) A person who needs points with which to "acquire" foods covered by this order for export to any foreign country or to any territory or possession of the United States (other than the District of Columbia), may apply, on OPA Form R–315, to the district office for the place where his principal business office is located. The application must show:

(1) His name and business address;

(2) The port (or other shipping point) from which they will be shipped, and the method of shipment;

(3) The name and address of the person to whom the foods are to be exported; and

(4) The number of points needed.

He must also give any other information which the district office may request. However, military or naval information which is secret in nature need not be disclosed.

(b) If the district office finds that the foods will be acquired for export, it shall issue a "certificate" for the number of points needed.

(c) No person may use foods acquired for a certificate issued under this section, for any purpose other than export to a foreign country or to a territory or possession of the United States (other than the District of Columbia). However, if he is unable to export them, he may dispose of them by sale or "transfer" in the way a "retailer" is permitted to do so under this order. Immediately after such a sale or transfer, he must give up to the district office all points received for them.

SEC. 21.3 Exporter must account for all foods covered by this order exported. (a) Any person who exports foods covered by this order (other than a "consumer" who acquired them with his "stamps") must submit a copy of a Shippers' Export Declaration (Commerce Form 7525) to the Office of Price Administration within seven days after the export. The declaration must contain a list of the foods exported and must contain a signed statement by an authorized customs official that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, those foods were exported by such person. The person who exported the foods must, if he received an advance of points under section 21.2, send the declaration to the district office from which he received the advance. If he did not receive an advance of points, he must send it to the "board" (or district office) with which he is registered or will register. If he is not required to register, he must send it to the "Washington office".

(b) If the foods were consigned to an agency of the United States and no Shippers' Export Declaration was filed at the time of the shipment the exporter may submit, instead of the Declaration, a bill of lading, manifest, or other satisfactory evidence that the foods were actually exported.

(c) A person who received an advance of points under section 21.2 must account to the district office within thirty days for all the points he received. At that time he must return any points which he did not use to acquire foods covered by this order for export. If, within that time, he exported all the foods which he acquired with the points received, he need only submit the declaration or other evidence of export.

(d) A retailer or "wholesaler" who exported foods covered by this order and who did not receive an advance of points under section 21.2 may, when he submits the declaration or other evidence of export, apply to his board on OPA Form R–315, for points equal to the point value of the foods he exported. If the board finds that the stated amount of foods was exported by the applicant and that he has not already received points with which to acquire or replace them, it shall issue a certificate to him for the number of points needed to replace the foods which he exported.

(e) An agency of the United States which has exported foods covered by this order need not submit a declaration or other evidence of export, and need not account for an advance of points under section 21.2.

Article XXII—Exempt Agencies and Other Special Cases

SECTION 22.1 Exempt agencies may acquire foods covered by this order. (a) Nothing in this order restricts the amount of "foods covered by this order" which may be "acquired" by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard of the United States or by the War Shipping Administration, Office of Lend-Lease Administration or Food Distribution Administration. (These agencies are referred to in this order as "exempt agencies" and are exempt agencies for the purpose of General Ration Order 3B.) In addition, the Army Exchange Service, to the extent it acquires such foods for export to a foreign country or a territory or possession of the United States (except the District of Columbia), and ships' service departments afloat, are exempt agencies under this order and General Ration Order 3B, and may acquire such foods without restriction as to quantity.

SEC. 22.2 How exempt agencies acquire foods covered by this order. (a) Each of the agencies listed in section 22.1 is authorized to open one or more exempt ration bank accounts of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. Foods covered by this order may be "transferred" to and acquired by these agencies only in exchange for points in the form of ration checks equal to the point value of the foods transferred. However, such foods may be transferred between or within these agencies without the surrender of points.

(b) Any "person" who transfers foods covered by this order to any of these agencies must, at or before the time of delivery, submit to it an invoice or other statement for the points payable on account of the transfer. The ration check must be sent to the transferor at the time of delivery or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(c) If for any reason a ration check cannot be used when one of these agencies acquires foods covered by this order, an emergency acknowledgment shall be given to the transferor, instead of a check. This acknowledgment may be in any form, but must show the name of the agency for which the foods are acquired, the name and address of the activity to which the emergency acknowledgment must be sent for replacement by a ration check, the point value of the foods acquired, and the date of acquisition. The acknowledgment must be signed by an authorized officer or employee of the agency, and must show his official title or rank. A person to whom such an acknowledgment is given may not exchange it at a "board" or use it to acquire foods covered by this order, but must send it to the agency activity designated thereon, and a ration check for the amount of foods transferred is to be given to him in exchange for it.

SEC. 22.3 Post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore may acquire foods for points. (a) Foods covered by this order may be transferred to and acquired by Army exchanges, post exchanges of the Marine Corps, and ships' service departments ashore of the Navy and Coast Guard, and other similar activities designated by the respective exempt agencies, only in exchange for points in the form of ration checks equal to the point value of the foods transferred, without regard to who transfers them. However, Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments ashore, and similar designated activities, may not open ration bank accounts with unlimited drawing privileges of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. Points needed by these activities for the acquisition of foods covered by this order will be issued to them in accordance with arrangements between the Office of Price Administration and the Army Exchange Service of the United States War Department, and the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the Navy Department, the Coast Guard and the Marine Corps. The issuance of points for use by Army exchanges, post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore for the acquisition of foods covered by this order for institutional use is covered by General Ration Order 5.)

(b) Points may be transferred freely without a transfer of foods covered by this order among ration bank accounts maintained for Army exchanges, among accounts maintained for Marine Corps post exchanges, among accounts maintained for ships' service departments ashore of the Navy, and among accounts maintained for ships' service departments ashore of the Coast Guard.

(c) On or before April 30, 1943, Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments ashore, and similar designated activities, may, if ration checks are unavailable, use emergency acknowledgments to acquire foods covered by this order, in the way described in section 22.2 (c). An emergency acknowledgment issued under this section may not be used by the person to whom it was issued to acquire foods covered by this order, but must be exchanged for a ration check at the activity designated thereon.

SEC. 22.4 Sales commissaries, post exchanges and ships' service departments ashore may transfer foods for points. (a) Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments ashore, sales commissaries, commissary stores, and any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard and the Food Distribution Administration may transfer foods covered by this order only in exchange for points in the same way as "retailers" are permitted to make transfers under this order. However, they are not required to register as retailers, "wholesalers", or "primary distributors".

(b) All points so received by Army exchanges, post exchanges, ships' service departments ashore, sales commissaries, commissary stores, or any other activity of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard or by the Food Distribution Administration must be deposited in the ration bank accounts maintained for them. These points may then be used to acquire other foods covered by this order.

SEC. 22.5 Veterans' Administration may apply for certificates to acquire foods. (a) The Veterans' Administration may apply to any district or State office, or to the Washington Office, for certificates to acquire foods covered by this order. Upon such application, one or more certificates will be issued to permit the acquisition of the amount of foods needed.

SEC. 22.6 Industrial users may replenish foods used in products transferred to exempt agencies. (a) Any "industrial user" who transfers to any exempt agency any products which he manufactured after March 28, 1943, in the manufacture of which he used foods covered by this order, may apply to and obtain from his board a "certificate" equal in point value to the foods used by him in such products. The application shall be made on OPA Form R–315, and shall set forth the nature and amount of the products, the time when the products were manufactured, the date when such products were transferred and the amount of foods covered by this order he used in such products. The application shall be accompanied by such evidence of transfer to the exempt agency as the board may require. If a certificate is issued under this section, the industrial user's allotment for the allotment period in which it is issued shall be considered increased by the amount of the certificate.

SEC. 22.7 Ships' stores for ocean-going vessels—(a) The owner of the vessel must get a statement from the collector of customs. Any person who operates an ocean-going vessel engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers in foreign, coastwise, or intercoastal trade, and who needs foods covered by this order as ships' stores, must get a statement signed by the Collector of Customs (or his deputy) authorizing the operator of the vessel (or his agent) to acquire a specified amount of such foods as ships' stores.

(b) Acquisition of the foods covered by this order by the owner of the vessel. The operator of the vessel (or his agent) may, without giving up points, acquire foods covered by this order up to the amount shown on the Cutsoms Collector's statement, by giving the statement to the person from whom he acquired the foods.

(c) Transfer of foods covered by this order to the owner of the vessel. In exchange for the Customs Collector's statement, any retailer, wholesaler, primary distributor may, without getting points, transfer foods covered by this order to the operator of the vessel (or his agent) up to the amount specified on the statement. A retailer or wholesaler may then exchange the Customs Collector's statement for a certificate, at his board. He must attach to the statement a signed receipt, invoice, or other evidence to prove the transfer of the foods. If the board is satisfied that the foods were transferred as ships' stores, it shall issue a certificate to the retailer or wholesaler for the number of points needed to replace the foods transferred. A primary distributor must send the Customs Collector's statement and the attached receipt or other evidence to the board or district office to which he reports, along with his report (on OPA Form R–1606 or OPA Form R–1609) for the reporting period in which he made the transfer.

SEC. 22.8 Governmental investigatory agencies may acquire foods needed in their investigations. (a) An investigatory agency of the United States or of any State or local government which needs foods covered by this order in order to perform its inspections or investigations, may apply for points to acquire them. The application must be in writing, on an official letterhead of the agency (if any is available), and must state the name of the agency, the purpose for which points are needed, the period during which they are needed, and the number of points required. An agency of the United States may make its application to the Washington Office, or to any district or State office. An agency of a State or local government shall apply to the district office (or, where there is none, to the State office). If the district, State, or Washington office finds that points are needed in order to carry on the investigatory activities of the agency, it shall issue one or more certificates for the number of points required.

(b) The Food and Drug Administration of the Federal Security Agency (which is hereby designated an exempt agency for this purpose) may open one or more exempt ration bank accounts of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. However, it may issue ration checks against those accounts only to acquire foods covered by this Order which are needed for inspection or investigation.

(c) Any government agency which acquires foods covered by this order under this section may, after they have served the purpose for which they were acquired, dispose of them to any federal, state or local governmental institution without receiving points for them. The institution which receives the foods shall report in writing the amount received and the date on which they were received to the board with which it is registered under General Ration Order 5, or, if it is not registered, to the board for the area in which it is located. Its allotment shall not be regarded as increased by such acquisition, and the foods so acquired shall be treated as excess inventory.

Article XXIII—Suspension Orders

SECTION 23.1 Office of Price Administration may issue suspension orders. (a) Any "person" who violates this order may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from receiving any "transfer" or delivery of, or from selling or using or otherwise disposing of, any "foods covered by this order" or other rationed product or facility. Such suspension order shall be issued for such period as in the judgment of the Administrator, or such person as he may designate for such purpose, is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national security.

Article XXIV—Definitions

SECTION 24.1 Definitions. (a) When used in this order:

"Acquire" means to accept a "transfer" or to get possession or title in any other way.

"Board" means a war price and rationing board established by the Office of Price Administration.

"Butter" means "edible fat" extracted from cow's milk, cream, or whey, or such fat mixed with any cheeses, if the cheese is less than twenty-five per cent by weight of the mixture. It includes any substance the manufacture of which is taxable as the manufacture of adulterated or renovated butter as defined by section 1, Act of August 2, 1886 (24 Stat. 209), as amended by section 4, Act of May 9, 1902 (32 Stat. 194).

"Canned fish" means any of the following items, if packed in hermetically-sealed containers; edible fish or shellfish, or any edible part of either of them; fish roe, including caviar; any other edible product containing more than twenty per cent by weight of these items.

"Certificate" means a certificate on OPA Form R-1201.

"Cheddar cheese" (frequently called American cheese) means cheddar cheese as defined in "Standards of Identity for Cheddar Cheese, Cheese, Washed Curd Cheese, Colby Cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 9, 1941 (6 F.R. 195).

"Consumer" means any person who "acquires" "foods covered by this order" for personal use, or for use at a table at which he eats.

"Cooking or salad oil" means a "rationed fat or oil," liquid at seventy degrees Fahrenheit, composed only of unhydrogenated vegetable "fats and oils", and to which no stearin has been added.

"Cottage cheese" (and "creamed cottage cheese") has the meaning assigned in "Cream Cheese, Neufchatel Cheese, Cottage Cheese, and Creamed Cottage Cheese: Definitions and Standards of Identity," promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 23, 1942 (7 F.R. 10759, §§ 19.525 and 19.530).

"Cream cheese" (and "Neufchatel cheese") has the meaning assigned in "Cream Cheese, Neufchatel Cheese, Cottage Cheese, and Creamed Cottage Cheese: Definitions and Standards of Identity," promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 23, 1942 (7 F.R. 10758, § 19.515, and 7 F.R. 10759, § 19.520).

"District office" means a district office established by the Office of Price Administration or, where there is none for a particular area, the State office having jurisdiction over that area.

"Family unit" has the meaning given to that term in section 1.3 of General Ration Order 6.

"Fat" (or "oil") means glycerides of the higher fatty acids.

"Foods covered by this order" (or "foods" where the context indicates) means "meat," "canned fish," "rationed cheeses" or "rationed fats or oils." It does not include any item which is a processed food covered by Ration Order 13, or which is a pharmaceutical product, and no such item is included in any of the above terms even if it comes within the definition of that term.

"Industrial consumer" means any "person" who engages in "industrial consumption."

"Industrial consumption" means the use (other than a use for experimental purposes) of a "food covered by this order" in the production or manufacture of any product which is neither a food covered by this order, nor any other food for human consumption, nor a pharmaceutical to be taken internally by humans or animals.

"Industrial use" means any use of "foods covered by this order" in producing or manufacturing, for sale or "transfer," a food for human consumption, which is not covered by this order, or a pharmaceutical to be taken internally by humans or animals, or for experimental purposes.

"Industrial user" means any "person" who has an "industrial user establishment."

"Industrial user establishment" means any place where a "person" makes an "industrial use" (of a "food covered by this order").

"Institutional user" means any person who has an "institutional user establishment."

"Institutional user establishment" means an institutional user establishment as defined in General Ration Order No. 5. (With certain exceptions, it means any place where a "person" uses a rationed food in the preparation of food which he serves to "consumers" or in the service of food to consumers.)

"Lard" means a "rationed fat" containing no "fat" other than the fat extracted from any part of the carcass of a swine, and not including any form of "margarine."

"Margarine" means any substance the manufacture of which is taxable as oleomargarine, under and as defined in section 2, Act of August 2, 1886 (24 Stat. 210), as amended by section 1, Act of July 10, 1930 (46 Stat. 1022).

"Meat" means the carcass or any edible part of the carcass of cattle, calves, sheep, lambs or swine, including edible offal, bones and skins. It includes any other edible product containing more than twenty per cent, by weight, of the above items.

"Person" means not only an individual, but also a partnership, corporation, association or business trust. It includes a government, government agency and any other organized group or enterprise.

"Primary distributor" means any "person" who has a "primary distributor establishment."

"Primary distributor establishment" has the meaning given to that term in sections 4.3 to 4.10, inclusive.

"Rationed cheeses" means all cheeses of any kind, variety or description (but not including "cream" or "cottage" cheeses) and any other edible product containing thirty per cent or more, by weight, of such cheeses (other than cream or cottage cheeses). The term "rationed cheeses" does not, however, include the items listed in an Appendix which will be issued as an amendment to this order.

"Rationed fats or oils" (or "rationed fats") means any of the following substances, whether or not water, coloring matter, vitamins, or a preservative or flavoring agent has been added to it, and even if it has been bleached, hydrogenated, winterized or deodorized:

(1) Any edible "fat" extracted from cows' milk, cream, or whey;

(2) Any edible fat extracted from the carcasses of cattle, sheep, calves, lambs, or swine;

(3) Any fat extracted from cottonseed, corn germs, peanuts or soy beans, and "refined";

(4) "Margarine";

(5) Any fat extracted from fish, marine mammals or flaxseed, and refined and deodorized, but not including any which is refined and deodorized in the process of producing an inedible product and used therefor;

(6) Any edible substance which is composed of a mixture of any of the above, or of a mixture of any of the above with any other fat;

(7) "Butter".

However, "rationed fats or oils" does not include mayonnaise, salad dressing, USP vitamin oils, fish liver oil, sperm oil, or fat resulting from cooking done by a "consumer" or "institutional user."

"Refine" means to improve the edible qualities or characteristics.

"Retail establishment" means any place where a "person" who deals in foods covered by this order regularly keeps stocks of those foods for sale or "transfer" (other than as a "primary distributor"), if more than fifty per cent of those stocks are sold or transferred from there directly to "consumers". Even if the amount sold or transferred from there directly to consumers is fifty per cent or less, it is still a retail establishment in the following case:

(1) If some of those stocks are transferred directly to consumers; and

(2) If he keeps the rest of the stocks there just to supply his own establishments of any type; and

(3) If no "wholesale establishment" and not more than three retail establishments are supplied from there.

"Retailer" means any "person" who has a "retail establishment."

"Shortening" means any "rationed fat or oil" other than "butter," "lard," "margarine" or "cooking or salad oil."

"Stamp" means a red stamp in, or taken from, a War Ration Book Two.

"Transfer" means to sell, give, exchange, lend, deliver, or consign. It includes any transfer of possession or title, however accomplished, and any movement of goods from one establishment to another. The use by any "person" of foods covered by this order which he holds for sale or transfer is considered a transfer of those foods to himself. However, delivery to a carrier for shipment is not regarded as a transfer to the carrier; and delivery by the carrier to the consignee is not regarded as a transfer by the carrier.

"Washington office" means the national headquarters of the Office of Price Administration, in Washington, D. C.

"Wholesale establishment" means any place where a "person" who deals in "foods covered by this order" keeps stocks of those foods for sale or transfer (other than as a "primary distributor"), if fifty per cent or more of those stocks are transferred from there directly to persons other than "consumers." However, if he keeps the stocks which are not transferred to consumers, just to supply his own establishments, it is a wholesale establishment only if it supplies:

(1) At least one of his wholesale establishments; or

(2) At least four of his "retail establishments."

"Wholesaler" means any "person" who has a "wholesale establishment."

"Weight" means pounds or equivalent fluid volume units.

Effective Date

This ration order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. on March 29, 1943.

Issued this 20th day of March 1943.

JOHN E. HAMM,
Acting Administrator.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 5]

RATIONED FATS OR OILS

Preamble: While rationing of fats and oils is to begin on March 29th, all available evidences indicate that stocks on retailers shelves have become dangerously scarce.

It is essential that some stocks be available to meet the initial demands under rationing. It is also essential, in view of the scarcity, to make certain that the stocks which are available are not swept up by a few consumers at the expense of the others. Those stocks must be conserved until their orderly and equitable distribution begins on March 29th.

For this reason, this order prohibits the sales to consumers, during the week preceding rationing, of fats and oils. This will avoid inequities resulting from last minute hoarding and will help promote fair distribution when rationing begins.

§ 1407.5001 Restriction on transfer of rationed fats or oils. Under the authority vested in the Administrator by Executive Order No. 9125, issued by the President on April 7, 1942; Directive No. 1 and Supplementary Directive No. 1-M of the War Production Board, issued on January 24, 1942, and September 12, 1942, respectively; Executive Order No. 9280, issued by the President on December 5, 1942; and Food Directives No. 1, No. 3, No. 5, No. 6, and No. 7 issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, Restriction Order 5 (Rationed Fats or Oils), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1407.5001, issued under Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421, 507, and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; W.P.B. Dir. 1, 7 F.R. 562, Supp. Dir. 1-M, 7 F.R. 7234; Food Dir. 1, 8 F.R. 827, Food Dir. 3, 8 F.R. 2005; Food Dir. 5, 8 F.R. 2257; Food Dir. 6, 8 F.R. 3471; Food Dir. 7, 8 F.R. 3471.

SECTION 1 Transfers of rationed fats or oils are prohibited—(a) When and to whom the order applies. During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m. on March 22, 1943, and ending at 12:01 a. m. on March 29, 1943, no "person" may "transfer" "rationed fats or oils" to a "consumer," and no consumer may "acquire" rationed fats or oils from any other person. However, a consumer may borrow them from, and return them to, another consumer, and may acquire them from another consumer for consumption at a common table with him.

(b) Where the order applies. This order applies only in the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2 The Director of the Food Rationing Division may make exceptions. (a) The Director of the Food Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., may grant exceptions to this order.

(b) Any person who desires an exception to this order may apply in writing to the Director of the Food Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in any convenient form, stating the reasons he needs an exception. In case of an emergency the application may be made and granted by telephone.

SEC. 3. Office of Price Administration may issue suspension orders. Any person who violates this order may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from receiving any transfer or delivery of, or from selling or using or otherwise disposing of, any rationed fats or oils or other rationed product or facility. Such suspension order shall be issued for such period as in the judgment of the Administrator, or such person as he may designate for such purpose, if necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national security.

SEC. 4. Definitions. When used in this order:

(1) "Acquire" means to accept a transfer or to get possession or title in any other way.

(2) "Butter" means edible fat extracted from cow's milk, cream, or whey, or such fat mixed with any cheeses, if the cheese is less than twenty-five per cent by weight of the mixture. It includes any substance the manufacture of which is taxable as the manufacture of adulterated or renovated butter as defined by section 1, Act of August 2, 1886 (24 Stat. 209), as amended by section 4, Act of May 9, 1902 (32 Stat. 194).

(3) "Consumer" means any person who acquires rationed fats or oils for personal use, or for use at a table at which he eats.

(4) "Cooking or salad oil" means a rationed fat or oil, liquid at seventy degrees Fahrenheit, composed only of unhydrogenated vegetable fats or oils, and to which no stearin has been added.

(5) "Fat" (or "oil") means glycerides of the higher fatty acids.

(6) "Lard" means a rationed fat containing no fat other than the fat extracted from any part of the carcass of a swine, and not including any form of margarine.

(7) "Margarine" means any substance the manufacture of which is taxable as oleomargarine, under and as defined in section 2, act of August 2, 1886 (24 Stat. 210), as amended by section 1, Act of July 10, 1930 (46 Stat. 1022).

(8) "Persons" means not only an individual, but also a partnership, corporation, association or business trust. It includes a government, government agency and any other organized group or enterprise.

(9) "Rationed fats or oils" means any of the following substances, whether or not water, coloring matter, vitamins, or a preservative or flavoring agent has been added to it, and even if it has been bleached, hydrogenated, winterized, or deodorized:

(i) Any edible fat extracted from cows' milk, cream, or whey;

(ii) Any edible fat extracted from the carcasses of cattle, sheep, calves, lambs, or swine;

(iii) Any fat extracted from cotton seed, corn germs, peanuts or soy beans, and refined;

(iv) Margarine;

(v) Any fat extracted from fish, marine mammals or flaxseed, and refined and deodorized, but not including any which is refined and deodorized in the process of producing an inedible product and used therefor;

(vi) Any edible substance which is composed of a mixture of any of the above, or of a mixture of any of the above with any other fat;

(vii) Butter.

The term "rationed fats or oils" includes, without being limited to, "cooking or salad oils" and "shortening", as well as butter, margarine, and lard. However, it does not include mayonnaise, salad dressing, USP vitamin oils, fish liver oil, sperm oil and fats resulting from cooking done by consumers and "institutional users" (as defined in General Ration Order 5).

(10) "Shortening" means any rationed fat or oil other than butter, lard, margarine or cooking or salad oil.

(11) "Transfer" means to sell, give, exchange, lend, deliver, or consign. It includes any transfer of possession or title, however accomplished, and any movement of goods from one establishment to another. The use by any person of foods covered by this order which he holds for sale or transfer is considered a transfer of those foods to himself. However, delivery to a carrier for shipment is not regarded as a transfer to the carrier; and delivery by the carrier to the consignee is not regarded as a transfer by the carrier.

This restriction order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. on March 22, 1943.

Issued this 21st day of March 1943.

JOHN E. HAMM,
Acting Administrator.

In the Appendix of the document appearing on page 3187 of the issue for Tuesday, March 16, 1943 under the main heading "Missouri" the heading "Areas 2" should be inserted immediately above the item "All Other Communities in the following Counties except those listed above in Areas A, 1a, 1, or 2a:". The heading "Areas 3" should be inserted immediately above the item reading "All Other Communities in Missouri except those listed individually or by counties in areas A, 1a, 1, 2a, or 2 above." On page 3188 the heading "Oklahoma" should precede "Areas 1a" and "Texas" should precede "Areas A." "Texas—Continued" should be the heading for the second, third and fourth columns of areas. In the fourth column the item "Frie" should be "Frio."

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 5C[1], Amendment 37]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.7651 is amended by inserting after the phrase "to July 21, 1943," the parenthetical phrase "(to November 21, 1943 with respect to passenger automobiles in the gasoline shortage area)".

2. Section 1394.7652 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.7652 Basic ration books. Class A coupon books, and Class D coupon books marked "Basic," shall be issued as basic rations. Class A books shall be issued for passenger automobiles and Class D books for motorcycles. Subject to the provisions of § 1394.7653 (d) each Class A and Class D ration book shall contain thirty-two (32) coupons. Each coupon contained in a basic ration book shall have a value of one unit. Coupons contained in Class A books shall be valid for the transfer of gasoline to a consumer only during the periods indicated below.

Coupons numbered:	Valid period
3	November 22, 1942, to January 21, 1943, inclusive.
4	January 22, 1943, to March 21, 1943, inclusive.
5	March 22, 1943, to May 21, 1943, inclusive outside the gasoline shortage area, and from March 22, 1943 to July 21, 1943 in the gasoline shortage area.
6	May 22, 1943, to July 21, 1943, inclusive outside the gasoline shortage area, and from July 22, 1943 to November 21, 1943 in the gasoline shortage area.

Coupons in basic Class D books shall be valid for the transfer of gasoline to a consumer at any time prior to July 22, 1943.

3. Section 1394.7653 (d) is amended by deleting the period after the phrase "during which such book is issued" and adding the phrase "except that after March 22, 1943 in the gasoline shortage area the board shall remove all expired coupons and one currently valid coupon for each full sixteen days which have elapsed in the 'valid period' during which such book is issued."

4. Section 1394.7653 (f) is amended to read as follows:

(f) No more than one basic ration may be issued for a vehicle, except as provided in §§ 1394.8007 and 1394.8103, and no person shall be entitled to more than one basic ration for the same vehicle, during the period from July 22, 1942, to July 21, 1943: Provided, That any person may apply for reissuance of a basic ration in any of the following cases:

(1) If he has surrendered a basic ration to a board by reason of having ceased to use the motor vehicle for which the ration was issued;

(2) If he has surrendered a basic ration to a board by reason of having removed such motor vehicle from the limitation area prior to November 22, 1942;

(3) If he has brought such motor vehicle into the gasoline shortage area after May 21, 1943, with the intention of keeping the vehicle in that area at least until November 21, 1943. In such event the applicant, at the time of application shall surrender to the board the basic ration originally issued to him.

Application for reissuance shall be made on part A of Form OPA R-534, and the applicant shall attach thereto a certification in which he shall set forth the date and place of issuance of the ration surrendered, together with the date and place of surrender thereof, the reason therefor, and the number of unused coupons remaining in the book at the time of surrender. In the event that the board is satisfied that the applicant surrendered such a ration in good faith the board shall issue a basic ration book to the applicant pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.7653: Provided, That no coupon book reissued for the reasons specified in items (1) or (2) of this paragraph shall contain coupons in excess of the number of coupons contained in the coupon book surrendered, and no coupon book issued for the reason specified in item (3) shall contain coupons in excess of the number prescribed in paragraph (d) of this section.

5. In § 1394.7701 (b) the first sentence is amended to read as follows:

When issued as a supplemental ration, Class B books issued outside the gasoline shortage area shall contain sixteen (16) coupons, and Class B books issued in the gasoline shortage area and Class C and D books shall contain the number of coupons specified in the tables set forth in § 1394.7705, necessary to provide the mileage allowed by the board.

6. Section 1394.7701 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Applicants for supplemental rations in the gasoline shortage area are deemed to have no mileage available for occupational driving by reason of the basic ration to which they are entitled.

7. Section 1394.7704 (b) is amended by substituting the figures "360" for the figures "378" in the proviso.

8. Section 1394.7704 (d) is amended by inserting after the words "it allows for a passenger automobile" the words "outside the gasoline shortage area" and by deleting the parenthetical phrase "(or in the gasoline shortage area, 90 miles per month)."

9. Section 1394.7705 (a) (2) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) In the event that the mileage allowed by the board is 360 miles per month or less one or two class B books bearing expiration dates four months from the date of issuance and containing the number of coupons specified in Table IA for the mileage allowed.

10. Section 1394.7705 (a) (2) (ii) is amended by substituting the figures "360" for the figures "378".

11. In Section 1394.7705 (a) (3) Tables IA and IIA are amended as hereinafter set forth:

TABLE IA—Determination of duration and amount of supplemental ration in gasoline shortage area

(In the event allowed mileage exceeds 960 miles per month, one additional coupon shall be issued for each 15 miles or fraction thereof.)

12. Section 1394.7705 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The board shall remove and cancel all coupons in Class B books in the gasoline shortage area and in Class C or Class D books in excess of the number to be issued hereunder.

13. Section 1394.7707 (a) is amended by substituting the figures "360" for the figures "378."

14. In § 1394.7751 (b) the first sentence is amended to read as follows:

(b) When issued as an official or fleet ration Class B books outside of the gasoline shortage area shall contain sixteen (16) coupons, and Class B books in the gasoline shortage area and Class C and D books shall contain the number of coupons specified in the tables set forth in §§ 1394.7705 and 1394.7755 (according to the type of book and the area in which it is issued), necessary to provide the mileage allowed by the board.

15. Section 1394.7754 (b) is amended by substituting the figures "360" for the figures "378" in the two places where such figures appear.

16. Section 1394.7755 (a) (2) (i) and (ii) are amended to read as follows:

(i) In the event that the mileage allowed by the board is 360 miles per month or less: one or two Class B books bearing expiration dates four months from the date of issuance and containing the number of coupons specified in Table IA in § 1394.7705 (a) (3) for the mileage allowed.

17. Section 1394.7755 (b) is amended by inserting after the words "and cancel all coupons" the words "in Class B books in the gasoline shortage area and".

18. Section 1394.8051 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) In the gasoline shortage area the board, when renewing a supplemental, fleet or official ration or a ration issued pursuant to the provisions of §§ 1394.-7757 or 1394.7758 may issue a ration to provide mileage not in excess of the following amounts:

(1) If such ration was first issued before December 21, 1942 and no adjustment has been made to compensate for mileage lost by reason of the reduction in unit value of Class B or Class C coupons, the board may not allow more than 75% of the mileage allowed in the first issuance of such ration.

(2) If such ration was first issued after December 21, 1942, or since then has been adjusted to compensate for mileage lost by reason of the reduction in unit value of Class B or Class C coupons, the board may not allow more mileage than the mileage allowed in the original or adjusted ration.

19. Section 1394.8051 (f) is amended by deleting the comma after the words "in excess of the amounts" and the phrase "or having a shorter valid period than that."

20. Section 1394.8052 (a) is amended by inserting after the phrase "miscalculation of needs" the phrase "extension of the period of validity of Class A coupons in the gasoline shortage area".

21. Section 1394.8052 (c) is amended by inserting after the phrase "in the unit value of Class A coupons" in the last sentence of the paragraph the phrase "or of the extension of the period of validity of Class A coupons in the gasoline shortage area."

22. Section 1394.8053 (b) (1) is amended by substituting the figures "360" for the figures "378".

23. In § 1394.8102 (a) the first sentence is amended to read as follows:

All Class A coupons and coupons in basic Class D books shall expire at the end of the respective valid periods provided in § 1394.7652.

24. In § 1394.8161, paragraphs (d) and (e) are revoked.

25. Section 1394.8351 (b) is amended by inserting in the proviso after the phrase "and all amendments thereto" the phrase "and the provisions of § 1394.8161 (d) and (e) of Ration Order No. 5C" and by substituting for the word "thereof" in the proviso the phrase "of Ration Order No. 5A and all amendments thereto" and by deleting the final period of the paragraph and adding the phrase "or under or pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.8161 (d) and (e) of Ration Order No. 5C prior to March 22, 1943."

This amendment shall become effective March 22, 1943.

establish maximum distributors' prices for certain coarse paper products by a separate maximum price regulation. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to distributors' prices for certain coarse paper products prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practical, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

§ 1347.701. Distributors' maximum prices for certain coarse paper products. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 (Distributors' Maximum Prices for Certain Coarse Paper Products), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

(d) All items for which maximum prices have been established for distributors by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 130, 140, 182, 266 and Appendices A to F, inclusive, of 307 are excluded herefrom.

SEC. 2 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 3 Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export coarse paper products covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 4 Federal and State taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale or delivery of the coarse paper products covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased: Provided, however, That the tax on the transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by Section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any product covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

SEC. 5 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to and at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery.

SEC. 6 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of any business are sold or otherwise transferred after May 20, 1943, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of commodities or services in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records in accordance with sec. 11 shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349.

SEC. 7 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 8 Discounts and allowances. Every distributor shall continue to grant to persons buying coarse paper products covered by this regulation, differentials, discounts, and allowances (excluding those given for quantities) not less favorable to the purchaser than those generally in effect during March, 1942 for a sale of such coarse paper products by a distributor to a purchaser of the same class.

SEC. 9 Evasion. Price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to certain coarse paper products, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other trade understanding, or by modifying, discontinuing or altering any customary trade practice of the seller, or by increasing terms for the extension of credit, or by splitting orders, or by reducing the size of the sale, or by refusing to accept a large order, or by any other means.

SEC. 10 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

SEC. 11 Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales of certain coarse paper products covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 after May 20, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, accurate records of each sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer, the price contracted for or received and the quantity of each type and grade of such certain coarse paper products sold.

(b) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 12 Licensing. The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 19,[2] licensing distributors of paper and paper products, are applicable to every distributor selling any of the commodities for which maximum prices are now or hereafter established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349. For the purposes of such licensing, the term "distributor" shall have the meaning given to it by Supplementary Order No. 19.

SEC. 13 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349, the terms:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

(2) "Records" includes books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading and other documents, letters and correspondence.

(3) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, lease and transfer, and contract and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sales", "sold", "seller", "buy", "purchases" and "purchaser" shall be construed accordingly, except that nothing in this maximum Price Regulation No. 349 shall be construed to prohibit the making of a contract to sell a commodity included in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 at a price not to exceed the maximum price at the time of delivery.

(4) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for commodities or services for sales to different purchasers of kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

(5) "Mark-up" refers to that amount set forth in Appendix A (a), which when added to the manufacturer's maximum price determines the distributor's maximum price.

(6) "Retailer" means any seller, the major portion of whose total sales are to ultimate consumers other than an industrial, commercial or institutional user or government agency.

(7) "Wholesale grocer" means any reseller, excluding a retailer, the major portion of whose total sales are in foodstuffs.

(8) "Wholesale druggist" means any reseller, excluding a retailer, the major portion of whose total sales are in drug products.

(9) "Manufacturer" includes any person who manufactures any of the commodities covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349, and any person who distributes or sells any of these commodities as an agent of a manufacturer.

(10) "Distributor" includes any person, other than a wholesale grocer or wholesale druggist or retailer, who buys and resells any of the commodities covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349.

(11) "Agent-distributor" includes any person who, although taking title to the merchandise which he resells and, invoicing it in his own name, conforms to the manufacturer's prices to distributors for the class of commodity which the agent-distributor sells. A seller becomes an agent-distributor only in the case of transactions on which he is authorized by agreement with his supplying manufacturer to act in accordance with the procedure set forth above in this paragraph.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] When sold in resale packages, the pricing unit may be case or carton or gross.

[2] 7 F.R. 8561.

[3] 7 F.R. 7434, 8986, 11007.

(12) "Pricing unit" is that quantity of any one class of commodity covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349, i. e., hundredweight, ton, case, bundle, bale, ream, roll, box, hundred, thousand, gross or package, etc., as set forth in section 1 (c).

(13) "Converting" means changing the form before reselling of any of the commodities covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 by a distributor who purchases such commodities for resale. Such converting may take the form of slitting, sheeting, trimming, rewinding, repackaging, die cutting, slotting, creasing, punching, etc.

(14) "Class" of commodity includes all variations in grade, size, color, basis weight, packing, etc., of one commodity.

(15) "Amalgamated sale" means a sale of any combination of types of one class of commodity.

(16) "Type" means a size, grade, color or other variant of a class of commodity.

(17) "Manufacturer's maximum price" means the manufacturer's maximum price for any of the commodities covered by this regulation which are now or hereafter established by any Maximum Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration including the General Maximum Price Regulation, and shall include transportation charges (not exceeding carload rate of freight) paid by the distributor less all freight allowances. The difference between carload and l. c. l. charges, if and when paid by the distributor, may be added to the distributor's maximum price.

SEC. 14. Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries by distributors of any commodities for which maximum distributors' prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349.

SEC. 15. Applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 shall be applicable to the continental limits of the United States.

Appendix A. Maximum prices for distributors. (a) The maximum price at which a distributor may sell any commodity covered by this regulation shall not exceed the manufacturer's maximum price for such commodity plus the following mark-ups: (Where the manufacturer has different maximum prices for various quantities sold, the distributor shall base his mark-up on the manufacturer's maximum price for the quantity customarily purchased by the distributor in accordance with his March, 1942 practice).

$20.00 and over	5%	4%	4%	4%	3%	3%	3%

[1] Where the total manufacturer's maximum price for a sale of one class of commodity amounts to $2.50 or more, the distributor may in any case add an amount in excess of 5% of such manufacturer's maximum price.

[2] Where the manufacturer's maximum price per pricing unit is $2.00 or more, the distributor shall determine his maximum prices by adding the appropriate unit and permissible percentage set forth above.

(b) Unit sales. Where a sale consists of one type of one class of commodity, the distributor will determine his maximum selling price as follows:

(1) Determine the manufacturer's maximum price for one unit of the type to be priced and the dollar value bracket into which such cost falls in the table set forth in paragraph (a) of this appendix.

(2) Determine the number of these units which comprise a given sale and the quantity column in which such sale falls. The maximum mark-up appears in the appropriate quantity column and value bracket.

(3) Add the mark-up thus determined to the manufacturer's maximum price per unit. Example. A distributor sells 1200 pounds of wrapping paper, the manufacturer's maximum price of which is $6.00 a hundredweight. The pricing unit of this commodity is a hundredweight. The cost per unit is between $5.00 and $7.50. Referring to the above table, 12 units of one type costing between $5.00 and $7.50 per unit take a mark-up of $1.60 per unit. By adding $1.60 to $6.00, the maximum selling price of the distributor is $7.60 per hundredweight or $91.20 for the entire sale.

(c) Amalgamated sales. Where a sale consists of two or more types of one class of commodity, the distributor will determine his maximum selling price as follows:

(1) Determine the manufacturer's maximum prices for one unit of each type to be priced and the dollar value bracket into which the cost of each type falls in the table set forth in paragraph (a) of this appendix.

(2) Determine the total number of units of all types to be priced and the quantity column in which a sale of that total number of units falls. The maximum mark-ups for each type then appear in the quantity column representing the total number of units and the appropriate value brackets.

(3) Add the mark-ups thus derived to the manufacturer's maximum price per unit of each type. Example. A distributor sells an amalgamated order of 8 thousand paper food dishes consisting of 4 thousand 1-pound dishes, 3 thousand 2-pound dishes and 1 thousand 10-pound dishes. The pricing unit of this commodity is a thousand. The manufacturer's maximum prices for each of these three sizes is $1.00, $2.00 and $5.00 per thousand respectively. The cost per unit of the first type falls in the less than $2.00 value bracket. The cost of the second type falls in the $2.00 to less than $3.00 value bracket. The cost of the third type falls in the $5.00 to $7.50 value bracket. Referring to the above table, 8 units of a type costing between $1.00 and $2.00 per unit take a mark-up of $.65 per unit; 8 units of a type costing between $2.00 and $3.00 take a mark-up of $.55 per unit, and 8 units of a type costing between $5.00 and $7.50 take a mark-up of $1.90 per unit. The selling price for this order are thus derived as follows:

$1.00 +	65¢ × 4 =	$3.60
$2.00 +	85¢ × 3 =	8.55
$5.00 +	1.90 × 1 =	6.90
Total maximum selling price		$22.05

(d) Pricing of special commodities. Where a distributor sells for a new use a commodity covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 349 which is essential to the war effort, the cost of development involving the sale of which exceeds the maximum price permitted by this regulation, he may charge a price not in excess of the maximum price for the commodity set forth in this regulation plus the actual cost of development incurred by him but only until such time as these costs have been fully amortized. Provided, That where such prices are in excess of the maximum prices determined by this regulation, such prices must be submitted to the Office of Price Administration for approval at the time of selling. Such requests for approval of special prices must be accompanied by a statement explaining the essentiality of the commodity to the war effort, the name of the customer, the name of the producer and the producer's maximum price to the distributor, special costs for development incurred and the selling price for which approval is requested. Such prices shall be subject to the adjustment or disapproval by letter of the Office of Price Administration within twenty-one days after filing, or at the expiration thereof specified by the Office of Price Administration. If no action is taken within such twenty-one days or any extension thereof, the price shall be deemed to be approved. Approval will date back to the date of the sale. Payment shall not be made or received until such approval is granted.

(e) Sales by distributors who buy from other distributors. Distributors who purchase any of the commodities covered by this Regulation from other distributors may not charge a price in excess of the maximum price which would be applicable if the purchase had been made directly from the manufacturer.

(f) Sales by agent-distributors. Where a contractual agreement between an agent-distributor and a manufacturer provides for a discount from the maximum price at which a manufacturer of the same class of commodity would offer the commodity to other distributors, the maximum price which such agent-distributor in sales to other distributors shall not exceed such manufacturer's maximum price to other distributors. For sales to persons other than distributors the manufacturer's maximum price upon which the distributor's mark-up is based shall be that price at which a manufacturer of the same class of commodity would sell the commodity to other distributors.

(g) Charges for delivery. (1) The maximum prices established in this Regulation shall be f. o. b. point of delivery. Shipments to points within a free delivery zone or area within which the distributor customarily shipped or would have shipped on such basis during March, 1942.

(2) On sales of less than carload lots to points outside the recognized free delivery zone, the distributor may add the differential which he charged during March, 1942 if he made no such sale, which he would have charged on such deliveries to purchasers of the same class, or the actual freight rate over is lower.

(3) For sales involving shipment from the manufacturer directly to a person purchasing from a distributor, the maximum prices shall be those established in Appendix A of this regulation.

(4) For sales in carload lots involving shipment from the manufacturer to a person purchasing from a distributor where local delivery by the distributor from a warehouse or rail siding is required, there may be added to the maximum price established herein the actual local delivery expense (except that no rail freight shall be included), which in no event shall exceed the applicable local common carrier rate; and such expense shall be separately included in the invoice or other evidence of sale.

(h) Charges for converting and printing. Where a distributor buys any of the commodities listed in section 1 (c) of this regulation and changes their form before reselling them by converting or printing (whether such operations are performed by the distributor or performed for the distributor by another person), he may add to his maximum selling price as determined in Appendix A the actual amount for such converting or printing which he customarily charged during March, 1942 to purchasers of the same class. Such additional charges shall not be included in the manufacturer's maximum prices to which these mark-ups are added and such converting or printing charges shall be separately set forth in each invoice or other evidence of sale.

(i) Charges for less than unit lots. On sales of less than one unit lots by distributors, a mark-up may be applied which exceeds the mark-up specified in Appendix A of this regulation by an amount not in excess of the differential between the one unit and less than one unit mark-up which was applied to sales of the commodities covered by this regulation made during March, 1942 to purchasers of the same class.

(j) Charges for cabinets, cutters, dispensers or other fixtures. Where a distributor supplies cabinets, cutters, dispensers or other fixtures for holding, dispensing or protecting any of the commodities covered by this regulation he may make a charge for such items at a price not exceeding 150% of the cost to him of such items. Such charges must be set forth separately on each invoice or other evidence of sale, and may be amortized over a period of time.

This regulation shall become effective May 21, 1943.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 291,[1] Amendment 4]

CERTAIN SYRUPS AND MOLASSES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 291 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1352 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Where a packer during the year prior to March 1, 1942, customarily paid a premium above the prevailing market price for an item of syrup or molasses which is now subject to this regulation because it had a special quality or flavor or other attribute by reason of a special process in manufacturing such item, he may apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for an order permitting him to continue to pay his established premium above the maximum prices set forth herein for such item of syrup or molasses: Provided, however, That he shall neither increase nor apply for an increase in the maximum prices set forth herein or in any other regulation for such item of syrup or molasses or anything made or manufactured from it, because of paying such premium.

2. In § 1351.1367 (b) (2) the first sentence of this subparagraph is amended to read as follows:

(2) Packers maximum prices at the factory for Louisiana cane syrup packaged in cases for sales to the wholesale and chain store warehouse trade and to commercial, industrial, institutional or governmental users in less than carload lots shall be:

3. In § 1351.1368 (c) (2) the first sentence of the last unlettered paragraph of this subparagraph is amended to read as follows:

(2) All of the above prices in this paragraph (c) shall be for carload lots to the wholesale and chain-store warehouse trade and to commercial, industrial, institutional, or governmental users.

This amendment shall become effective March 27, 1943.

PART 1367—FERTILIZERS

[Revised MPR 135[1] as Amended March 22, 1943]

MIXED FERTILIZER, SUPERPHOSPHATE AND POTASH

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 135 is amended in the following respects:

Sections 1367.31 and 1367.33 (a), are amended; § 1367.33 (c) is added; § 1367.34 is amended; § 1367.40 (b) (4) is added; § 1367.42 (a) (20) is amended; § 1367.42 (a) (21), (22) and (23) are added; the text of § 1367.44 Appendix A and 1 (f) are amended; §§ 1367.44 2 (e) and 1367.44 3 are added; § 1367.45 Appendix B and § 1367.46 Appendix C 1 (a) and (f) are amended so that Revised Maximum Price Regulation 135 as amended by Amendment 2 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash which differ, for certain grades and in certain areas of the country, from those heretofore established by applicable maximum price regulations. All of the grades of mixed fertilizer permitted to be manufactured under War Production Board Conservation Order M-231 as amended are covered by this single maximum price regulation.

The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been prepared, issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2] Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1367.31 to 1367.46, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1367.31 Sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after January 4, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver to a consumer or a dealer, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive, mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash at prices higher than the maximum prices established herein, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to make such a sale, purchase or delivery.

(b) Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth herein may be charged, demanded, offered, paid, or received.

[§ 1367.31 as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

§ 1367.32 To what transactions, products and persons this regulation applies—(a) What transactions are covered. This regulation unlike the previous fertilizer regulation (Maximum Price Regulation 135) is not limited to sales in quantities of 250 pounds or more to consumers.

It covers all sales by manufacturers to dealers and consumers, and by dealers to consumers.

(b) What products are covered. This Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 covers all mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash of whatsoever kinds and grades.

(c) What persons are covered. Manufacturers and their agents and dealers making the sales covered by this regulation are subject to it.

§ 1367.33 Manufacturers' maximum prices. (a) A manufacturer's maximum prices shall be the prices set forth in the written or printed price schedule of the manufacturer in effect during the base period as hereinafter set forth, for a sale (1) to a consumer or dealer in the same locality, (2) of the same quantity, grade and kind of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash, (3) delivered in the same type of container or bag, except as hereinafter provided, (4) under the same terms of payment including time, cash, discounts and maturities, and (5) by the same means and under the same conditions of delivery; and as those prices may be increased or decreased for the places of delivery and in the manner and amounts set forth in Appendix A incorporated herein as § 1367.44. The manufacturer's base period shall be the date interval February 16, 1942, to and including February 20, 1942, except that in Florida east of the Apalachicola River, for all provisions of the price schedule or list other than those referring to the price adjustment for special fertilizer ingredients, it shall be the date the manufacturer first issued a written or printed price schedule or list between July 1, 1941 and November 30, 1941; and except that in Puerto Rico it shall be October 15, 1941.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 2 issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43.]

(b) If the manufacturer cannot establish his maximum price under paragraph (a), or under Appendix B incorporated herein as § 1367.45, then his maximum price shall be determined as follows: He shall submit to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., a proposed maximum price, showing the calculations by which the proposed maximum price was determined by the manufacturer. Such proposed maximum price must be in line with the manufacturer's level of maximum prices established under paragraph (a), for a comparable quantity, grade and kind of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash sold by the manufacturer to a consumer or dealer in the same locality under the same conditions in the same or comparable type of containers or bags; or in the event the manufacturer had established no prices under paragraph (a) then such proposed maximum price shall not be higher than the general level of maximum prices established under paragraph (a), and the proposed maximum price to consumers shall provide no greater margin between dealer and consumer prices than is provided in the manufacturer's own consumers' price schedule or, in the absence of such schedule of his own, no greater margin than is provided in such a schedule of his most closely competitive seller of the same class. If within 10 days of the registered mailing of such proposed maximum price it has not been disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer may sell, offer for sale, and deliver such mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash at the proposed maximum price. Notwithstanding that the Office of Price Administration does not disapprove such price within such 10 day period, it may at a later time disapprove such price or require a modification thereof on such terms and conditions as it deems advisable. All deliveries to a consumer or dealer, or shipments received by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the person making the sale (including a dealer, agent or other person) after the expiration of such 10 day period but prior to such disapproval or requirement of modification, shall not be affected by such later action on the part of the Office of Price Administration disapproving or modifying such maximum price.

(c) The Head of the Agricultural Chemicals Section, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., is authorized and directed to approve, disapprove, or require modification of, established prices or proposed prices, and of terms of payment and conditions of delivery appearing in price schedules or lists submitted to, or filed with, the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., such approval, disapproval, or modification to be in accordance with the relevant provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135, as hereby or hereafter amended.

[Paragraph (c) as added by Amendment 2 issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43.]

§ 1367.34 Dealer's maximum prices. A dealer's maximum price to a consumer shall be determined as follows: (a) To the dealer's net delivered cost established herein there may be added the "suggested" or "recommended" margin specified for that dealer's sales area in the manufacturer's price schedule or list effective during the base period, or (b) if the manufacturer's price schedule in effect during the base period for the dealer's sales area provided "suggested" consumer prices, then those "suggested" consumer prices, as those prices may be increased for the places of delivery and in the manner and amounts set forth in Appendix A incorporated herein as § 1367.44, shall be the dealer's maximum consumer prices; or (c) if the manufacturer, during the base period, had no consumer prices in effect and provided no "suggested" or "recommended" consumer prices or dealer margins for the dealer's sales area, then the dealer's maximum prices to consumers shall be calculated as specified in Appendix C incorporated herein as § 1367.46.

[§ 1367.34 as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 13 (7 F.R. 6523) provides that retail sellers of commodities or services, who own more than one establishment and who have maintained a fixed practice of selling commodities or services at retail at uniform or at substantially uniform prices, may apply for authorization to determine and use uniform maximum prices.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1367.35 Terms of payment and conditions of delivery. Terms of payment or conditions of delivery to a consumer or to a dealer shall not be more onerous than those in effect and applicable to such consumer or dealer for the period from February 16 to February 20, 1942 inclusive, except that terms of payment on sales made between July 1 and December 1 of any calendar year hereafter shall not be more onerous than those in effect and applicable to such consumer or dealer for the period from October 1 to October 15, 1941, inclusive.

§ 1367.36 Federal, state and municipal taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of the mixed fertilizers, superphosphate and potash, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

(a) As to a tax in effect from February 16 to February 20, 1942 inclusive. If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price from February 16 to February 20, 1942 inclusive, the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall be regarded as having included such amount in determining the maximum price under this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135.

In all other cases if, at the time the seller determined his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax did not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller did state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135.

(b) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after February 20, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased; except that the tax on transportation imposed by § 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for the purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity subject to this regulation, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by any person transporting the commodity for hire, and it shall not be treated under any provision of this regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

§ 1367.37 Prohibited practices—General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars and cents price is as much a violation of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 as an outright overceiling price. This applies to changes in credit practices and cash discounts, and to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

§ 1367.38 Records and reports. (a) Every person (including a dealer, agent or other person) making a sale of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash, in quantities of 250 pounds or more, to a consumer or dealer, after January 4, 1943 shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended is in effect, complete and accurate records of each sale, showing the date thereof; and name and address of the buyer, of the person (including an agent) making the sale, and of the manufacturer of the mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash sold; the bags or and kind of the mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash sold; the bags or containers in which delivered; the price charged or received therefor; the terms of payment (time, cash, discounts, etc.); and the method and conditions of delivery.

(b) (1) Not later than January 15, 1943, every manufacturer of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash, who is engaged in the business of selling the same to consumers and dealers, whether by or through any agent or other person, except those manufacturers who have heretofore done so, shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., one copy of each and every written or printed price schedule, whether temporary or permanent, issued by him in connection with the sale thereof to consumers and dealers from and after July 1, 1941, together with all written or printed amendments and supplements to any such schedules; but if a manufacturer has not heretofore issued a written or printed price schedule, he shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., a list of maximum prices charged by seasons from and after October 1, 1941, for the grades and kinds of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash sold to consumers and dealers showing types of bags, terms of payment and conditions of delivery; and each manufacturer shall continue, until further notice, to file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., one copy of any and all subsequent price schedules and supplements and amendments, at least ten (10) days prior to the proposed effective date thereof. Each such price schedule, supplement or amendment hereafter filed with the Office of Price Administration shall be accompanied by a statement of all changes made wherein that price schedule, supplement or amendment differs from the price schedule in effect at the time of filing.

(2) In accordance with request addressed to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., copies of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 will be furnished each manufacturer for distribution to his agents and dealers.

(3) Each dealer or agent shall post at his place of business a list of his consumers' maximum prices.

(4) Each manufacturer selling direct to consumers shall post at his office, plant and warehouse his consumer's price list in effect for the area served by each such office, plant, or warehouse.

(c) Persons affected by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135, shall submit such other information to the Office of Price Administration as it may, from time to time, require, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended.

§ 1367.39 Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest field, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation are applicable to every person subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 selling at retail any mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash covered by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135. When used in this section, the term "selling at retail" has the definition given to it by § 1499.20 (o) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Said registration and licensing provisions became effective as to persons selling at retail on May 18, 1942.

§ 1367.40 Petitions for amendment—(a) Amendments. Persons seeking any modification of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 or an adjustment or exception not provided for herein may file petitions for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Government contracts. (1) The term "government contracts" is here used to include any contract with the United States or any of its agencies, or with the government or any governmental agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States." It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract.

(2) Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that a maximum price in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 135 is impeding or threatens to impede production of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash which is essential to the war program and which is or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6.[4] A copy can be had at any office of the Office of Price Administration.

(3) As soon as the application is filed, deliveries may be made at the requested price, subject to refund if the requested price is disapproved or lowered. The seller must tell the buyer that the delivery is made subject to this refund.

(4) Any manufacturer who is requested by a governmental agency, or a contractor on a governmental project, to submit a bid on, and offer to supply, a grade and kind of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash on which the manufacturer had not established a maximum price, may, in advance of the effective date of his proposed price to be established under § 1367.33 (b), quote a price, offer for sale, sell and deliver, such commodity to the governmental agency or contractor on a governmental project upon the condition that if the price is later disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall forthwith make the appropriate refund to the governmental agency, or its fiscal or disbursing office, or to the contractor on the governmental project, from whom he received payment for the commodity.

[Paragraph (4) as added by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1367.41 Relation to other regulations—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation. Any sale or delivery covered by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 is not subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.[5]

(b) Maximum Export Price Regulation. The maximum price for export sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash is governed by the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[6]

§ 1367.42 Definitions. (a) When used in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, farmers' or consumers' cooperative or other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Manufacturer" means a person who produces, mixes, or processes, or who markets for his own account and under his own brand or trade name, mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous material for use as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(3) "Dealer" means a person who purchases mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash and resells it to a consumer.

(4) "Consumer" means a person purchasing mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, or potash for use in aiding the growth of crops or plants (and not for resale) and also includes Agricultural Adjustment Agency of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(5) "Mixed fertilizer" means any substance containing any two or more, of potash, superphosphate, and nitrogenous material, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(6) "Superphosphate" means any product which is obtained by mixing rock phosphate with either sulphuric acid or phosphoric acid or with both acids, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(7) "Potash" means muriate, chloride, or sulphate of potash, manure salts, and any other substance containing potassium oxide (K_2O), when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(8) "Nitrogenous material" means any organic or inorganic substance containing nitrogen, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants, except when so marketed or sold without the admixture of any potash or superphosphate.

(9) "Chemical nitrogen" means any nitrogen, other than natural organic nitrogen, including, but not limited to, ammonium sulfate, sodium nitrate, calcium cyanamid, urea and nitrogen-bearing solutions.

(10) "Natural organic nitrogen material" means a fertilizer material of vegetable or animal origin containing nitrogen, including, but not limited to, animal, fish, and other tankages, castor pomace, tobacco stems, cotton seed meal, peanut meal, soybean meal, sewage sludge and cocoa shell meal.

(11) "Grade" means the minimum guarantee of the plant food content of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, or potash, expressed in terms of nitrogen, available phosphoric acid, and water soluble potash, e. g. 4-8-4, 3-8-5, etc.

(12) "Kind" as distinguished from the term "grade" refers only to mixed fertilizer and means the substances, and the proportions thereof, containing the guaranteed plant food content of mixed fertilizer—as, for example, in the case of nitrogenous material, 80% inorganic and 20% insoluble organic nitrogen; or in the case of potash, 75% sulphate of potash and 25% muriate of potash.

(13) "Price schedule" means any price list or statement, irrespective of form, issued by the seller, setting forth the prices, grades, kinds, terms of payment, types of containers or bags, method and conditions of delivery, and any other provisions relating to sales, of the commodities being priced.

(14) "Place of delivery" means rail or truck destination for goods sold under a price schedule quoting delivered prices, or f. o. b. plant for goods sold under a price schedule quoting f. o. b. plant prices.

(15) "Net to manufacturer" means the amount received by a manufacturer for a sale after deducting discounts and agent's compensation, if any, from his sales price.

(16) "Net delivered cost" means the manufacturer's price to the dealer of the mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash being sold plus the dealer's transportation costs.

(17) "Margin" means the amount of markup which may be added to the dealer's net delivered cost.

(18) "Spring season" means the fertilizer selling season from December 1 of any calendar year to and including June 30 of the next succeeding calendar year.

(19) "Fall season" means the fertilizer selling season from July 1 to November 30, inclusive, of any calendar year.

(20) "Victory garden fertilizer" means a 3-8-7 grade of mixed fertilizer for use on Victory gardens in the non-commercial production of vegetables and small fruits.

[Paragraph (20) as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

(21) "Specialty fertilizer" means a grade and kind of mixed fertilizer containing nitrogen, but not Victory garden fertilizer, which, under the provisions of Food Production Order 5 (8 F.R. 947) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture, may be manufactured, packaged and sold for unrestricted use, and which is generally marketed through retail outlets other than those selling fertilizer for commercial agricultural use.

(22) "Special fertilizer ingredient" means elemental sulphur, or chemical compounds of aluminum, boron, copper, iron, manganese, zinc, or magnesium, except magnesium in the dolomitic form when added separately by the fertilizer manufacturer to a mixed fertilizer or superphosphate.

(23) "Base period" means the date or date interval specified in § 1367.33 (a), § 1367.44 1 (f) and § 1367.45 (b) (1) (i) which shall be used in determining the manufacturer's maximum price.

[Paragraphs (21), (22) and (23) as added by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1367.43 Effective date. (a) This Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 (§§ 1367.31 to 1367.46 inclusive) shall become effective January 4, 1943.

(b) If mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash has been received before January 4, 1943 by a carrier, other than one owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment remains subject to the terms of the earlier version of this regulation (Maximum Price Regulation No. 135 as amended).

(c) During the period of thirty days next following the effective date of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135, a manufacturer or dealer may offer or agree to adjust prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum price established hereunder, but after such thirty day period has elapsed the manufacturer or dealer may offer or agree to adjust prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition for amendment or for adjustment requires extended consideration, the Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

Deduct $0.50 per ton for sales in 200-pound cotton bags.

Deduct $1.60 per ton for sales in 100-pound paper bags.

(f) Florida, east of the Apalachicola River. To the prices of mixed fertilizer, without special fertilizer ingredients, quoted in a manufacturer's written or printed price schedule first issued between July 1 1941 and November 30, 1941, plus the prices for special fertilizer ingredients quoted in the written or printed price schedule in effect from February 16, 1942, to and including February 20, 1942, there may be added amounts per ton determined as follows

[NOTE: Paragraph (f) as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43.]

(i) $1.30 per unit of organic nitrogen for the amount of organic nitrogen derived from natural organic materials other than cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal guaranteed to be in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer

(ii) $2.15 per unit of organic nitrogen for the amount of organic nitrogen derived from cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal guaranteed to be in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer.

(iii) $3.80 per unit of organic nitrogen derived from natural organic materials other than cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal when used to replace chemical nitrogen in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer.

(iv) $4.65 per unit of organic nitrogen derived from cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal when used to replace chemical nitrogen in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer.

(v) If a manufacturer wishes to reduce the amount of organic nitrogen guaranteed to be in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer after having increased his price according to subparagraphs (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) above, his price of that grade and kind of mixed fertilizer shall be reduced by deducting for the amount of natural organic nitrogen replaced by chemical nitrogen at the rates specified in (iii) or (iv) above for the types of natural organic nitrogen replaced by chemical nitrogen.

Bags. To a manufacturer's established maximum prices for sales in 200-pound burlap bags, there may be added for sales in cotton bags:

$1.15 per ton for sales in 200-pound cotton bags.

$1.65 per ton for sales in 100-pound cotton bags.

For sales in 100-pound paper bags, deduct $1.15 per ton from the 200-pound cotton bag price as determined above.

Bags. To a manufacturer's established maximum prices for sales in 100-pound paper bags, there may be added for sales in cotton bags

$1.10 per ton for sales in 200-pound cotton bags.

$1.35 per ton for sales in 125-pound cotton bags.

$1.60 per ton for sales in 100-pound cotton bags.

(h) Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Montana.

No amounts per ton may be added to manufacturer's established maximum prices.

(i) Puerto Rico. To the prices of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash quoted in a manufacturer's written or printed price schedule or list effective on October 15, 1941, designated herein as the base period prices, there may be added, net to the manufacturer, for each unit of ammonia, available phosphoric acid and potash an amount consisting of the difference in the cost per unit of such ammonia, available phosphoric acid or potash between (1) the manufacturer's average delivered-to-factory cost of such materials received by him during the period July 1 to December 31, 1941, inclusive, and (2) the manufacturer's average delivered-to-factory cost of such materials received by him during the period October 1 to December 31, 1942, inclusive.

Beginning on April 1, 1943, and quarterly thereafter, a manufacturer's base period prices may be increased or shall be decreased by the amount of the difference, if any, between (1) the manufacturer's average delivered-to-factory cost of such materials received by him during the period July 1 to December 31, 1941, inclusive, and (2) the manufacturer's average delivered-to-factory cost of such materials received by him during the three months' period last preceding the quarter annual adjustment date; if, during any such three months' period, no materials were received by the manufacturer, then the average cost for the next preceding three months' period shall be applied in making the appropriate increase or decrease in his base period prices.

Bags. A manufacturer's prices of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash determined as above set forth may be further increased, or shall be decreased, by the amount of the average increase or decrease, as the case may be, in the cost of bags used in packaging such products. The amount of such increase or decrease per ton of such products shall be determined for the same periods and in the same manner as described above for each unit of ammonia, available phosphoric acid and potash.

[Paragraph (i) added by Amendment 1. 7 F.R. 1459]

2. Use of natural organic nitrogen materials. Except for deliveries in Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Florida east of the Apalachicola River, amounts may be added to manufacturer's prices for use of natural organic nitrogen materials in mixed fertilizers as specified below:

(a) $2.00 per unit of organic nitrogen derived from natural organic materials other than cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal when used to replace chemical nitrogen in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer.

(b) $4.20 per unit of organic nitrogen derived from cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal when used to replace chemical nitrogen in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer.

(c) $2.20 per unit of organic nitrogen derived from cotton seed meal, soybean meal or peanut meal when used to replace other natural organic nitrogen materials in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer.

(d) On and after the effective date of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 135, no existing provision in any price schedule or list for adding to prices on account of the use of oil seed meals and other natural organic nitrogen materials in the manufacture of mixed fertilizer, inconsistent with the foregoing subparagraphs ((i), (ii) and (iii)) shall be effective or valid.

(e) If a manufacturer wishes to reduce the amount of organic nitrogen guaranteed to be in a particular grade and kind of mixed fertilizer, his price of that grade and kind of mixed fertilizer shall be reduced by deducting for the amount of natural organic nitrogen replaced by chemical nitrogen at the rates specified in (a), (b), or (c) above for the types of natural organic nitrogen replaced by chemical nitrogen.

[NOTE: Paragraph (e) as added by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

3. Additional grades. For grades not listed in 1 (a), (b), or (c) above, but which may be manufactured and offered for sale under the provisions of any Food Production Order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to Executive Order No. 9280 (7 F.R. 10179), amounts per ton, which may be added to the manufacturer's price at his base period level, for places of delivery in States listed in 1 (a), (b), or (c) above, are:

(i) 20¢ per unit of nitrogen in mixed fertilizers except tobacco grades and grades containing 8% or more nitrogen per ton, or

(ii) 45¢ per unit of nitrogen in mixed fertilizers for tobacco, plus

(iii) 12¢ per unit of available phosphoric acid in mixed fertilizer and superphosphate up to and including 20% of available phosphoric acid per ton, for Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, or

(iv) 8¢ per unit of available phosphoric acid in mixed fertilizer and superphosphate up to and including 20% of available phosphoric acid per ton, for New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, or

(v) 5¢ per unit of available phosphoric acid in mixed fertilizer and superphosphate up to and including 20% of available phosphoric acid per ton, for Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia West Virginia and Virginia, or

(vi) 2¢ per unit of available phosphoric acid in mixed fertilizer and superphosphate up to and including 20% of available phosphoric acid per ton, for North Carolina.

[NOTE: § 3 as added by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

3 If the Secretary of Agriculture at some later date approves the use of chemical nitrogen in specialty fertilizers, the prices established under (1) and (2) above shall be reduced at the rate of 20¢ per 100-pound package, 10¢ per 50-pound package and 5¢ per 25-pound package for each unit of nitrogen per ton derived from chemical rather than natural organic nitrogen materials

4 Each manufacturer shall continue to offer such quantity discounts as were set forth in his written or printed price schedule last issued prior to February 21, 1942, and effective for any portion of the period from February 16, 1942, to February 20, 1942, inclusive.

5. Maximum prices of specialty fertilizers for sales to consumers may be established by adding to the dealer's maximum price established under (b) (1), (2) or (3) above:

(i) The percentage markup over the price to dealers as recommended in the written or printed price schedule last issued by the manufacturer prior to February 21, 1942, and effective for any portion of the period from February 16, 1942 to February 20, 1942, inclusive; or

(ii) A markup of 40 per cent over the price to dealers as herein established if no recommended margin was provided in the price list in effect during the period from February 16, 1942 to February 20, 1942, inclusive

[NOTE: § 1367.45 as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

§ 1367.46 Appendix C: Dealers' margins.

1 Cash sales. A dealer's maximum margin on his cash sales unless otherwise determined under § 1367.34, shall be:

(a) No more than five (5) per cent margin on dealer's net delivered cost on deliveries in Alabama, Florida, west of the Apalachicola River only; Georgia; Maine, Aroostock County, Danford Township of Washington County and the part of Penobscot County north and west of Millinocket only; North Carolina; South Carolina; and Virginia

[NOTE: Paragraphs 1 and (a) as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

(b) No more than six (6) per cent margin on dealer's net delivered cost on deliveries in Delaware, Maryland, Counties of Caroline, Cecil Dorchester, Kent, Queen Annes, Somerset, Talbot, Wicomico and Worcester only; and New York, Long Island only.

(c) No more than seven (7) per cent margin on dealer's net delivered cost on deliveries in the District of Columbia; Maryland, Counties west of the Susquehanna River and Chesapeake Bay only; West Virginia except counties of Brooke, Hancock Marshall, and Ohio; and New Jersey.

(d) No more than eight (8) per cent margin on dealer's net delivered cost on deliveries in New York except Long Island.

(e) No more than nine (9%) per cent margin on dealer's net delivered cost on deliveries in Indiana; Michigan, Southern Peninsula; Ohio; Pennsylvania; and West Virginia, counties of Brooke, Hancock, Marshall and Ohio only.

(f) No more than ten (10%) per cent margin on dealer's net delivered cost on deliveries in Arizona; Arkansas; California; Colorado; Connecticut; Florida, except area west of the Apalachicola River; Idaho; Illinois, Iowa; Kansas; Kentucky; Louisiana; Maine, exclusive of Aroostook County, Danforth Township of Washington County and the part of Penobscot County north and west of Millinocket; Massachusetts; Michigan, Northern Peninsula; Minnesota; Mississippi; Missouri, Montana; Nebraska; Nevada; New Hampshire; New Mexico; North Dakota; Oklahoma; Oregon; Rhode Island; South Dakota; Tennessee; Texas; Utah; Vermont; Washington; Wisconsin; and Wyoming.

[NOTE: Paragraph (f) as amended by Amendment 2, issued 3-22-43 and effective 3-27-43]

2 Time sales—A dealer's margin on his time sales, unless otherwise determined under Section 1367.34, shall be no greater on spring season sales than he charged on similar sales during the period February 16 to February 20, 1942, inclusive; and on fall season sales no greater than he charged on similar sales during the period October 1 to October 15, 1941, inclusive.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[RO 11,* Amendment 51]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 11 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.5304 (b) is amended by adding after the period at the end of the paragraph the sentence: "For 'Area B,' subcolumn 'Thermal Zone A' of column 'Area A' of such Table shall be used."

2. Section 1394.5701 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the Army and the Navy.

3. Section 1394.5731 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the Army and the Navy.

4. The text of § 1394.5655 (a) is amended by adding after the period at the end of the paragraph, the sentence: "When fuel oil is transferred to the Army or to the Navy within the limitation area from without the limitation area, the agency receiving such fuel oil shall execute Form OPA R-544 (Revised) with respect to such transfer and shall forward such executed form to the Control and Audit Unit, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., before the expiration of the calendar month in which such transfer is made or within ten (10) days after such transfer, whichever is shorter."

5. In the subcolumn "Thermal Zone B" of the column "Area A" of Table VII of § 1394.5851 (d), the date "Nov. 20-Dec. 1" is amended to read "Nov. 26-Dec. 1" and the date "Mar. 6-Mar. 13" is amended to read "Mar. 5-Mar. 13"

This amendment shall become effective on March 27, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 5, Amendment 1]

RATIONED FATS OR OILS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Restriction Order 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new paragraph (c) is added to section 2, to read as follows:

(c) Exceptions may also be granted, upon such application, by the District Managers of the Office of Price Administration or, where there is no District Office, by the State Director.

2. The definition of "Transfer", in section 4, is amended to read as follows:

(11) "Transfer" means to sell, give, exchange, lend, deliver, or consign. It includes any transfer of possession or title, however accomplished, but it does not include use in the preparation of food for service or in the service of food to consumers. The use by any person of rationed fats or oils which he holds for sale or transfer is considered a transfer of those foods to himself.

PART 1411—COMPENSATORY ADJUSTMENT

Amendment 5 to Compensatory Adjustment Reg. 1]

WARTIME INCREASES IN THE COST OF TRANSPORTING COAL

Compensatory Adjustment Regulation No. 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1411.5a (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) (1) An application for a compensatory adjustment on account of wartime increases in the cost of transporting coal may be filed by any dealer in Pennsylvania anthracite who (i) prior to January 1, 1942 normally handled, at a business establishment, Pennsylvania anthracite transshipped from New York Harbor or Philadelphia Piers, via tidewater, either (a) to an unloading port on the Atlantic Coast north of and including Portsmouth, New Hampshire, or (b) to a yard or dock having no rail connections located at a point on the Atlantic Coast north of and including Stamford, Connecticut and south of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, except to a yard or dock located at a point in the State of New York, (ii) during the period January 1, 1942, to May 17, 1942, inclusive, received Pennsylvania anthracite transported to the same establishment at a higher cost than the cost of transporting such Pennsylvania anthracite prior to January 1, 1942, and (iii) prior to May 18, 1942, had not disposed of the Pennsylvania anthracite transported at such higher cost, or of an equivalent amount of inventory, at prices adjusted upwards over his selling prices during the month of December 1941.

(2) Such an application may also be filed by any dealer in Pennsylvania anthracite who (i) prior to January 1, 1942 normally received at a business establishment, Pennsylvania anthracite transshipped from New York Harbor or Philadelphia Piers, via tidewater, either (a) to an unloading port on the Atlantic Coast north of and including Portsmouth, New Hampshire, or (b) to a yard or dock having no rail connections located at a point on the Atlantic Coast north of and including Stamford, Connecticut and south of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, except to a yard or dock located at a point in the State of New York, and (ii) on or after May 18, 1942, incurs a greater cost for rail or combined rail and water transportation of Pennsylvania anthracite to the same business establishment: Provided, That with respect to the tonnage moving via tidewater transshipment as above described, prior to January 1, 1942, the total tonnage of Pennsylvania anthracite so moving to the dealer in the calendar year 1941 shall be the approximate maximum amount of tonnage which may be considered by the Office of Price Administration in the dealer's application for compensatory adjustments relating to tonnages of Pennsylvania anthracite shipped during the calendar year 1942, and: Provided further, That the preceding proviso shall not apply where all or approximately all of the tonnage of Pennsylvania anthracite received by the dealer in 1941 had been received by tidewater transshipment as above described.

2. Section 1411.5a (b) (2) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) Applications pursuant to paragraphs (a) (1) of this § 1411.5a shall be filed on or before May 20, 1943.

3. Section 1411.5a (b) (2) (ii) (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Applications relating to receipts during May 18-31, inclusive, 1942 and during each of the months from June 1942 to February 1943, inclusive, shall be filed on or before May 20, 1943. Applications relating to receipts during any subsequent month, beginning with March 1943, shall be filed on or before the twentieth day of the third succeeding month. For example, applications as to receipts during the month of March 1943 shall be filed on or before June 20, 1943.

4. Section 1411.5a (b) (3) (iv) (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) The water and rail transportation cost incurred for the last cargo of Pennsylvania anthracite of the same size (or other size taking the same freight rate) received in 1941 via tidewater transshipment: Provided, That the information required under this subdivision (iv) need not be restated after it has been included in a previous application filed pursuant to this Compensatory Adjustment Regulation No. 1.

5. Section 1411.5a (b) (3) (v) is amended to read as follows:

(v) The amount, if any, per gross ton by which the combined rail and water transportation cost incurred by the applicant on the last cargo of Pennsylvania anthracite of the same size (or other size taking the same freight rate) received by him in 1941, via tidewater transshipment, is less than the cost incurred by the applicant on and after May 18, 1942 for the all-rail or combined rail and water transportation of the Pennsylvania anthracite for the transportation of which an adjustment is requested. The amount, if any, of such excess shall constitute the "standard adjustment", which shall be set forth in the application: Provided, That in the case of any rail movement on and after May 18, 1942, the standard adjustment shall be based on the lowest available rail transportation charges from the same rail origin point to the same destination point.

6. Section 1411.6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1411.6 This Compensatory Adjustment Regulation No. 1 shall become effective as of May 18, 1942.

This Amendment No. 5 shall be effective as of May 18, 1942.

PART 1421—IRON AND STEEL FOUNDRY PRODUCTS

[MPR 244,* Amendment 4]

GRAY IRON CASTINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1421.156 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1421.156 Adjustable pricing and pricing during the pendency of an application for adjustment or petition for amendment. (a) It is permitted under this maximum price regulation to provide in a contract that the price shall be adjustable to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(b) Where an application for adjustment has been filed pursuant to § 1421.157 (a) of this regulation and the applicant claims to meet the requirements of subparagraph (3) under paragraph (a) of said section, he may, pending the issuance of an order granting or denying the application and without securing the express permission of the Office of Price Administration, enter into or offer to enter into contracts and may make deliveries at the price requested in the application. In an appropriate situation, where a petition for amendment or application for adjustment requires extended consideration and the applicant or petitioner does not claim to meet the requirements of subparagraph (3) under § 1421.157 (a), the Administrator or, in a case properly before him, the regional administrator for the appropriate regional office of the Office of Price Administration may, upon application, grant permission to the applicant or petitioner to enter into or offer to enter into contracts and to make deliveries at the price requested in the application or petition. Whether or not the applicant or petitioner claims to meet the requirements of subparagraph (3) under § 1421.157 (a), if the order issued denies the application or petition in whole or in part, the contract price shall be revised downward to the maximum price ordered, and if any payment has been made at the requested price, the applicant or petitioner shall be required to refund the excess. If a request for review is filed by the applicant seeking an adjustment in accordance with § 1300.17 of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, the applicant, pending action by the Administrator, may enter into or offer to enter into contracts and may make deliveries at the price requested in the application. If the order issued by the Administrator denies the application in whole or in part, the contract price shall be revised downward to the maximum price ordered, and if any payment has been made at the requested price, the applicant shall be required to refund the excess.

2. Section 1421.163 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1421.163 Maximum prices for new sellers other than transferees. Each person engaged in, or who proposes to engage in, the business of selling gray iron castings who was not in such business at his present foundry on February 1, 1942, and who is not a transferee as described in § 1421.162, shall file a proposed pricing method for computing maximum prices with the Iron and Steel Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for approval. Such proposed pricing method shall be submitted on Form 344:2 issued by the Office of Price Administration. The various pricing factors included in such pricing method shall be computed as follows:

(a) Direct labor costs shall be based upon the labor rates which were actually in effect for such seller in his gray iron operations on February 1, 1942 for each classification of direct labor, or, if labor rates for any classification of direct labor were not in effect for such seller on February 1, 1942, on labor rates no higher than the rates for such classifications of direct labor prevailing for such seller's competitors in the same area on February 1, 1942. Overtime labor may be included in cost in accordance with the provisions of § 1421.166 (b) (2) (ii) of this regulation.

(b) Direct material costs shall be based upon the costs to such seller on February 1, 1942 for such materials, or, if the seller had no such costs at that time, on his present costs for such materials, but in any case such costs may not exceed the applicable maximum prices for such materials established by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) In determining whether items of labor or material costs are direct or indirect, the seller shall employ the same classifications and criteria which he used on February 1, 1942, or, if he was not engaged in the production of gray iron castings at that time the classifications and criteria which he would have then used.

(d) Overhead rates shall be the overhead rates in effect for such seller for a similar class of work on February 1, 1942, or, if no overhead rates were in effect for such seller for a similar class of work on February 1, 1942, the overhead rates shall be the rates such seller would have used on February 1, 1942 for a similar class of work. (NOTE: Two classes of work shall be considered not similar if the overhead rates on such classes would be materially different.)

(e) Mark up, margin, or profit shall be the mark up, margin, or profit which such seller would have used on February 1, 1942 if he had been in the business of selling gray iron castings at that time.

(f) Subcontracted machinery service costs may be computed at current levels as provided in § 1421.166 (b) (5) of this regulation.

The proposed pricing method shall be approved as filed or approved subject to such adjustments, conditions and limitations as the Office of Price Administration may provide, or shall be disapproved within twenty days from the time it is received by said Iron and Steel Branch, and in the event the Office of Price Administration does not send out in writing its approval or disapproval within twenty days as provided herein, the proposed pricing method shall be deemed approved. Pending approval or disapproval by the Office of Price Administration, the seller may sell, offer to sell and deliver gray iron castings at prices determined in accordance with the requested pricing method, but such prices shall be subject to adjustment, and the seller shall state in his contracts, offers and invoices that such prices are subject to adjustment, in accordance with the maximum prices resulting from the pricing method which is approved by the Office of Price Administration, and refunds shall be given of any payments made which are in excess of such maximum prices.

3. Section 1421.164 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) (i) "Gray iron castings" means all ferrous or ferrous base castings other than steel (including manganese steel), malleable or high alloy castings,[2] sold either with or without subsequent processing thereon, such as (without limitation), machining, galvanizing, plating, japanning, and treating, but does not include: (a) gray iron castings sold in an assembly with other materials (except bolts, nuts, screws, rivets or other industrial fastenings), (b) gray iron castings purchased from the seller on which the purchaser has performed subsequent processing, (c) gray iron castings sold as another commodity by a regular manufacturer of such other commodity or by a purchaser from such manufacturer, and (d) gray iron castings for which maximum prices are established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 236[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(ii) A seller of gray iron castings is considered a regular manufacturer of another commodity when (a) he represents himself in the trade as a manufacturer of such other commodity through the issuance of catalogues, price lists or other advertising matter, circulated generally to the trade, in which such commodity is designated by name, (b) he owns the patterns used for the production of such other commodity, and (c) he customarily produces such other commodity for, and sells such commodity from, stock. A seller of gray iron castings who believes that he is a regular manufacturer of another commodity, but who does not meet each of the requirements specified in the foregoing items (a), (b), and (c) may nevertheless be considered a regular manufacturer of another commodity if he is recognized in the trade as a source of supply of such other commodity and he applies to the Office of Price Administration for a determination, or the Office of Price Administration makes a determination without such application, that he is a regular manufacturer of such other commodity.

4. Section 1421.164 (a) (13) is added to read as follows:

(13) "Seller" shall include sellers of gray iron castings who are producers and those who are not producers. For the purpose of determining maximum prices under paragraph (b) of § 1421.166 of this regulation, but for no other purpose, if a seller owns and operates a number of different foundries each such foundry shall be considered a separate seller.

5. Section 1421.164 (a) (14) is added to read as follows:

(14) "Producer of gray iron castings" and "producer" mean a person who is engaged in the business of casting the gray iron and shall include such person whether or not he performs subsequent processing on such castings or causes subsequent processing to be performed on such castings by another, the producer retaining title to the castings.

6. Section 1421.164 (a) (15) is added to read as follows:

(15) "Foundry" includes, in the case of a seller of gray iron castings who is not a producer, a plant, establishment or place of business.

7. Section 1421.166 (b) (1) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) The seller shall employ the applicable pricing method which was in use at the foundry on February 1, 1942 and which has been or will be filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with section 1421.161 herein, employing each of the pricing factors reflected in such method at the level pre-

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[SR 14[1] to GMPR,[2] Amendment 137]

CERTAIN FOOD AND BEVERAGE SPECIALTY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new subparagraph (82) is added to paragraph (a) of § 1499.73 as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

• • • • •

(82) Certain food and beverage specialty products—(i) Applicability. The provisions of this subparagraph shall apply only to those commodities listed in Appendix A hereof and only in those cases where the volume of the end-product of the new formula product is the same as or fairly equivalent to the end-product made from the old formula product.

(ii) Method of determining maximum prices. (a) The maximum prices for sales and deliveries of the food and beverage specialty products hereinafter listed in Appendix A manufactured by the identical formula and sold in the same net weight containers as they were sold and delivered in during March 1942 shall be the maximum prices determined in accordance with the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) On and after March 27, 1943, every manufacturer of a listed specialty product who since March 1942 has changed or who shall change his formula for the manufacture of such product either by the substitution, elimination or reduction of one or more of the ingredients thereof shall determine the maximum price of his new product as follows: He shall

(1) Calculate the current ingredient cost per his customary selling unit of all ingredients according to the formula used in March 1942 for the product which he sold in March 1942,

(2) Calculate the current ingredient cost per his customary selling unit of all ingredients of his new formula for the product which he is pricing,

(3) Subtract new formula ingredient costs from old formula ingredient costs, (2 from 1), and

(4) Subtract the difference in ingredient costs as determined in (3) from his previously established maximum selling price for his old formula product. The result shall be the manufacturer's maximum selling price per his customary selling unit for his new formula product. Fractions of one-half cent or more may be increased to the next higher cent and fractions of less than one-half cent shall be decreased to the next lower cent.

(c) Except as provided in (vii), if the manufacturer's formula change results in the same or greater ingredient costs for his new formula product than for his old formula product, his maximum price of his new formula product shall remain unchanged from the maximum price of his old formula product.

(iii) Discounts and allowances. Discounts, allowances and terms, whether based on quantity, class of purchaser, or any other cause, shall be no less favorable to any purchaser of a new formula product of a listed specialty product than those in effect with respect to the same old formula product.

(iv) Maximum prices for sellers at wholesale and retail. Sellers at wholesale and retail of any specialty product listed in Appendix A hereof shall not increase and they are not required to reduce their maximum prices established for that product under the General Maximum Price Regulation, regardless of any change in the net weight of such product which may result from a producer's formula change made under the provisions of this subparagraph.

(v) Reports. Every manufacturer who since March 1942 has made a change in his formula of a listed specialty product subject to the provisions of this subparagraph shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a verified statement showing (a) his actual current purchase price for each ingredient used to produce the product by the old formula, (b) the actual current purchase price for each ingredient used to produce the product by the new formula, (c) the name of his supplier of each ingredient, (d) his cost of such ingredients per his customary selling unit of the manufactured product for both the old and new formula, (e) his previous maximum selling price, and (f) his new maximum selling price. If the formula change was made prior to the effective date of this amendment, such statement must be filed within 15 days after the effective date of this amendment. If the formula change is made on or after the effective date of this amendment, such statement must be filed within 5 days after the date of the first shipment of the new formula product.

(vi) Notification. Whenever a formula change is made and a new maximum selling price is determined under the provisions of this subparagraph, the manufacturer making such change shall before or at the time of first delivery notify in writing each of the purchasers of the new formula product from him of his new maximum selling price.

(vii) Subsequent formula changes. Each time a manufacturer makes a change in his formula of a listed specialty product he shall apply the provisions of this subparagraph to determine his new maximum prices of such product. Price changes, if any, shall always be in reduction of the maximum price for the product from which the change is made, except as may be otherwise authorized under subdivision (vii).

(viii) Authorization of maximum prices. In any case where a manufacturer by a subsequent formula change of a listed specialty product shall determine that his ingredient cost for such new formula product is greater than his ingredient cost for a previous new formula product the maximum price of which he has determined in accordance with provisions of this subparagraph, he may apply to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., for an authorization of a maximum price for his latest new formula product. Such application shall set forth (a) a description in detail of the product for which a maximum price is sought and wherein it differs from the product from which the change is made and (b) the current cost of ingredients of those two products. Such authorization will be given by the Price Administrator in writing prescribing the maximum price or a method of determining the maximum price for the applicant or for sellers of the product generally, including purchasers for resale, or for a class of such sellers. If authorization is given under the provisions of this subdivision (viii) the maximum prices so authorized shall not exceed the maximum selling prices established for the product as produced and sold in March 1942.

(ix) Definitions. When used in this subparagraph (82) the term:

"Beverage mix preparations" means the dry or liquid product consisting of flavoring, coloring, acid, with or without sugar, without milk ingredients or with milk ingredients not exceeding 50 per cent of the total weight or volume as packaged.

"Dehydrated soup mixes" means the dry packaged product consisting of dehydrated vegetables, salt, sugar and seasonings, with or without alimentary paste products, and with or without capsules containing fats, vitamins or minerals, and with or without dehydrated meat or poultry particles.

"Freezing mix preparations" means the liquid or semi-fluid product customarily sold in hermetically sealed containers, consisting of sugar and or dextrose, flavoring, with or without fruit particles, coloring, salt, stabilizing colloid and or any starch compound the entire combination being used to prepare frozen desserts.

"Gelatin dessert preparations" means the dry packaged product consisting of sugar, gelatin, organic acid, coloring and flavoring.

"Ice cream powders" means the dry packaged product consisting of sugar or dextrose, or both, milk powder and or skimmed milk powder, a stabilizing colloid, flavoring, coloring and salt. This definition shall also include ice cream powders with powdered rennin and sucrose.

"Starch dessert preparations" means the dry packaged product consisting of sugar or dextrose or both, corn starch or other starches or a combination of either, flavoring, coloring and salt. This definition shall also include rennin powdered dessert preparations.

(The above are general definitions to describe the commodities. The elimination of any ingredient specified, or the addition of any optional ingredient not specified does not exclude a product from the scope of the definition.)

"End-product" means the finished food or beverage prepared according to the directions on or in the container and as described by the manufacturer.

"Ingredient cost" means the actual invoice cost of a customary quantity of any ingredient plus delivery charge, if incurred, from the customary supplying point via the customary mode of transportation. In the absence of actual invoice cost, the potential cost may be substituted.

"New formula" means the combination and proportion of ingredients which constitutes the new product and which, used according to the directions on or in the container, will produce the same or fairly equivalent volume of end-product as the old formula.

"Old formula" means the combination and proportion of ingredients used to produce the listed specialty product in March 1942, or the combination and proportion of ingredients used to produce the product once calculated and reported under the provisions of this amendment where a subsequent formula change is involved.

"Previously established maximum selling price" means the maximum selling price of the product as established by the General Maximum Price Regulation or by order of the Office of Price Administration, or as recalculated and reported under the provisions of this amendment where a subsequent formula change is involved.

(x) Appendix A: Food and beverage specialty products covered by this subparagraph. The following food and beverage specialty products, referred to in this subparagraph as listed specialty products, are covered by and the producers thereof shall be governed by the provisions of this subparagraph:

Beverage mix preparations.
Dehydrated soup mixes.
Freezing mix preparations.
Gelatin dessert preparations.
Ice cream powders.
Starch dessert preparations, including rennin powdered dessert preparations.

This amendment shall become effective March 27, 1943.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this Amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(83) "General Manager type" grain doors sold to railroads—(i) Products covered. This amendment covers "General Manager type" grain doors, size 7'0" x 20" x 1⅝" or 7'0" x 10" x 1⅝", which meet any of the following listed, or any similar, specifications:

Chicago, Burlington and Quincy R. R. specification ≠57359
Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway specification ≠17-D-2224
Great Northern Railway specification ≠1631

(ii) Maximum prices. The maximum price for a "General Manager type" grain door sold to any railroad shall be the price figured as follows: The seller should take the maximum price which governed his sales of the door prior to this amendment. He should then add the amount by which the cost of lumber, charged in at market prices (but not over any ceiling price), and the cost of direct labor used in making the door increased between March 1942 and March 1, 1943. The total is the seller's maximum price for that size grain door. However, in no event can the maximum price for doors delivered on the line of the purchasing railroad be higher than the following prices:

	Hemlock or other northern softwoods or hardwoods	Ponderosa pine, fir or other western softwoods	Southern pine, cypress, basswood or other southern or eastern softwoods or hardwoods
7'0" x 20" x 1⅝"	1.17	1.23	1.23
7'0" x 10" x 1⅝"	.60	.74	.74

(iii) Reports. Any seller who figures a maximum price for grain doors under this amendment must report the price for each size door to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. before April 15, 1943. The report must show how the maximum price was figured by showing:

(a) The seller's maximum price before this amendment;

(b) The amount added for an increase in the cost of lumber from March 1, 1942 to March 1, 1943, and an explanation of the type of lumber used and how the increase in cost was figured; and

(c) The amount added for an increase in the cost of direct labor from March 1, 1942 to March 1, 1943, and an explanation of how the increase in cost was figured.

(iv) Adjustment of incorrect maximum prices. Where the report submitted shows that the seller figured the maximum price in an incorrect manner, the Office of Price Administration will, by letter, order the price reduced to the correct ceiling price. Refunds must be made to adjust the prices charged by the seller to the correct maximum price. If the Office of Price Administration does not order the price reduced before May 1, 1943, the reported price shall be considered approved.

This amendment shall become effective March 27, 1943.

(2) Definitions. As used in this supplementary service regulation the term:

"Hand laundry" means a retail laundry establishment receiving and distributing laundry, generally finishing wearing apparel by hand ironing done on the premises, giving only limited, if any, delivery service and employing eight or less employees.

"Philadelphia area" means the counties of Northampton, Lehigh, Berks, Bucks, Montgomery, Chester, Delaware, and Philadelphia, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and is limited to them.

(3) Posting requirements. Within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation every hand laundry, the maximum prices of which are established by this supplementary service regulation, shall post on its premises in a place and manner so that it is plainly visible to the purchasing public, a placard or card to be supplied by the Philadelphia District Office of the Office of Price Administration containing the maximum prices established by this supplementary service regulation.

(4) Other services supplied by hand laundries. Services not listed in Table 1, but performed by hand laundries covered by this supplementary service regulation shall be governed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, or other applicable regulation.

(5) Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this supplementary service regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

This Supplementary Service Regulation No. 12 shall become effective March 27, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of March 1943.

DISTRICT BOARD 7

ORDER GRANTING REQUEST TO POSTPONE HEARING AND POSTPONING HEARING

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 7 for a change in the territorial boundary between Districts Nos. 7 and 8 in Nicholas County, West Virginia.

The above-entitled matter having been heretofore scheduled for hearing on March 25, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C., by an order issued herein on March 3, 1943; and

A request that said hearing be postponed until April 19, 1943 having been filed herein by the above named petitioner; and

The Director being of the opinion that good cause for the granting of said request has been shown, and that said hearing should be postponed;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That said request be, and same hereby is, granted and that said hearing be, and the same hereby is, postponed from March 25, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day to April 19, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the place and before the officer or officers heretofore designated;

It is further ordered, That said order issued herein on March 3, 1943, shall in all other respects remain in full force and effect.

Dated: March 20, 1943.

BOOTH, INC.

ORDER REINSTATING REGISTRATION

An order having been issued in the above entitled matter on February 26, 1943, suspending the registration of the above-named applicant for a period of ten (10) days from the date of service of a copy of said order on the applicant; and

Said order having been duly served on the above-named applicant on March 3, 1943, and said period of suspension having expired on March 13, 1943; and

It appearing from the affidavit of A. E. Booth, president and general manager of the applicant, sworn to on March 16, 1943 and filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on March 8, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of § 304.15 of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors and of said order of suspension issued herein on February 26, 1943, that the applicant has complied with said order of suspension and with its agreements contained in its application herein, dated March 4, 1942;

Now, therefore it is ordered, That the registration of Booth, Inc., as a registered distributor, Registration No. 0928, be, and the same hereby is reinstated effective as of 12:01 a. m. on March 13, 1943.

Dated: March 19, 1943.

SOUTHWESTERN ILLINOIS COAL CORPORATION

ORDER CHANGING EFFECTIVE DATE OF REVOCATION AND CANCELLATION OF CODE MEMBERSHIP

An order granting amended application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure, terminating code membership, providing for payment of tax for restoration of code membership and to cease and desist upon restoration, having been entered herein on February 27, 1943; and

The said order having revoked and cancelled the membership of Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation in the Code and Provided, That said revocation and cancellation should become effective fifteen (15) days from the date thereof and that prior to restoration of said membership there should be paid to the United States a tax in the amount of eight hundred twenty-nine dollars and thirty-seven cents ($829.37) as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act; and

Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation having represented by telegram dated March 15, 1943, that it had mailed to the Collector of Internal Revenue its check for the full amount of said tax but that it had not been able to obtain a receipt for the payment thereof and therefore requested an extension of ten (10) days within which to pay said tax; and

The Director deeming it advisable that said request should be granted;

Now therefore it is ordered, That the effective date of the revocation and cancellation of code membership of Southwestern Illinois Coal Corporation provided by said order dated February 27, 1943 be and it hereby is changed from fifteen (15) days from the date of said order to twenty-five (25) days from the date of said order.

It is further ordered, That the provisions of the said order dated February 27, 1943, shall, in all other respects, remain in full force and effect.

Dated: March 19, 1943.

[Docket No. A-1629]

DISTRICT BOARD 11

ORDER AMENDING ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 11 for an additional shipping point for coals produced from Mine Index Nos. 746 and 1354.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act, was duly filed with the Division by the above-named party requesting the temporary establishment for 60 days of an additional shipping point at the Bobolink Mine, Mine Index No. 11, for approximately 13,000 tons of Third Vein mine run entry coal produced by the Pyramid Coal Corporation at its Honey Creek Mine, Mine Index No. 746, and Victory Mine, Mine Index No. 1354, stored on the ground at its Honey Creek Mine.

By order issued February 3, 1943, 8 F.R. 1692, in the above-entitled matter temporary relief was granted the Pyramid Coal Corporation by the establishment of the Bobolink Mine as an additional shipping point for approximately 13,000 tons of Third Vein mine run entry coal produced at its Honey Creek and Victory Mines stored on the ground of its Honey Creek Mine in accordance with the Schedule marked Supplement R annexed to said order to be effective as of January 9, 1943 and to expire on March 9, 1943.

Subsequent to the date of the order of February 3, 1943, District Board No. 11 filed a motion to amend its original petition to extend the temporary relief granted by order on February 3, 1943, to apply to an additional six or seven thousand tons of coal on the Pyramid Coal Corporation stored on the ground of its Honey Creek Mine.

It appears that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth, that no petitions of intervention have been filed in the matter and that the following action is necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now therefore, it is ordered, That the motion to amend the order of February 3, 1943, be and the same is granted in the manner set forth herein: Commencing February 27, 1943, the Pyramid Coal Corporation shall be permitted to prepare and load over its Bobolink Mine tipple, Mine Index No. 11, approximately 7,000 tons of coal stored on the ground of its Honey Creek Mine in accordance with the Schedule marked Supplement R annexed to said order of February 3, 1943, in Docket No. A-1829, in addition to the tonnage covered in said Order of February 3, 1943.

It is further ordered, That pending further order of the Director such relief granted herein shall expire April 9, 1943.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within fifteen (15) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Dated: March 19, 1943.

J. C. FRY AND A. J. FRY

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION FOR RESTORATION OF CODE MEMBERSHIP

In the matter of Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry, (also known as Camp Creek Coal Co.) code member, applicants.

A complaint dated October 13, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), having been duly filed on October 14, 1941, by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 8, complainant, with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division"), alleging that Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry, (also known as Camp Creek Coal Co.), wilfully violated the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; and

An order having been issued herein on February 26, 1943, revoking and cancelling the code membership of the above named applicants, effective fifteen (15) days from the date of service of a copy of said order on said applicants, and ordering that prior to any reinstatement of membership in the Code there shall be paid to the United States a tax of three hundred and thirteen dollars and ninety-five cents ($313.95) as provided by section 5 (c) of the Act, and said order having been served on the above named applicants on March 3, 1943; and

An application dated March 3, 1943, for restoration of membership in the Code having been filed by said applicants with the Division on March 6, 1943; and

It appearing from said application that the above named applicant paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue at Huntington, West Virginia, on March 4, 1943, said tax of three hundred and thirteen dollars and ninety-five cents ($313.95) pursuant to said order issued February 26, 1943, and section 5 (c) of the Act, as a condition precedent to the restoration of said membership in the Code;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That said application be, and the same hereby is, granted; and

It is further ordered, That the code membership of Andrew J. Fry and J. C. Fry, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of J. C. Fry and A. J. Fry (also known as Camp Creek Coal Co.) be, and the same hereby is, restored effective simultaneously with the date of revocation of said code membership.

DISTRICT BOARD 13

ORDER WITHDRAWING PETITION, TERMINATING TEMPORARY RELIEF AND CANCELLING HEARING

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 13 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 13. In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 13 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the Size Group 10 coals of the New River Mine for rail shipment.

Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, District Board No. 13 filed an original petition in Docket No. A-1827 requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 13, including the coals in Size Group 10 produced for rail shipment at the New River Mine (Mine Index No. 21) of Brookside-Pratt Mining Company. Pursuant to an order issued March 11, 1943, so much of the matter in said petition as pertains to the coals in Size Group 10 produced for rail shipment at the New River Mine of Brookside-Pratt Mining Company was severed from Docket No. A-1827 and hearing in said Docket No. A-1827, Part temporary relief was granted, and a hearing in said Docket No. A-1827, Part II was scheduled to be held on March 22, 1943.

District Board No. 13 now requests that so much of its original petition as pertains to coals produced at the said New River Mine of Brookside-Pratt Mining Company should be withdrawn and has shown good cause therefor.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That so much of the petition in the above-entitled matter as pertains to the coals in Size Group 10 produced at the New River Mine (Mine Index No. 21) of the Brookside-Pratt Mining Company in District No. 13 be, and the same hereby is withdrawn.

It is further ordered, That the temporary relief heretofore granted in the above-entitled matter with respect to the coals in Size Group 10 produced for rail shipment at the New River Mine (Mine Index No. 21) of the Brookside-Pratt Mining Company in District No. 13, be, and the same hereby is terminated.

It is further ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter heretofore scheduled to be held on March 22, 1943 be, and the same hereby is cancelled.

Dated: March 20, 1943.

RIO GRANDE COAL CO.

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING

In the matter of E. K. Olson, W. F. Olson, Francis Bradley, and Mrs. George M. Hansen, individually and as partners doing business under the name and style of Rio Grande Coal Company, code member.

The above-entitled matter having been heretofore scheduled for hearing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of April 2, 1943, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") at the County Court Room, Price, Utah, by Notice of and order for hearing dated February 19, 1943; and

The above-named code member having duly filed herein with the Division on March 8, 1943, an application dated March 2, 1943, for disposition of the above-entitled matter without formal hearing pursuant to § 301.132 of the rules of practice and procedure, which application was denied by telegram dated March 11, 1943; and

The above-named code member having filed with the Division on March 17, 1943, a supplemental admission pursuant to said § 301.132, amending the aforesaid application dated March 2, 1943; and

The Director deeming it advisable to postpone said hearing in order to consider said application, as amended;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter be and the same hereby is postponed from 10 o'clock in the forenoon of April 2, 1943, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at the County Court Room, Price, Utah, to a time and place to be hereafter designated by appropriate order.

Dated: March 22, 1943.

DISTRICT BOARDS 7 AND 8

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING

In the matter of the petition of District Boards Nos. 7 and 8 for an increase in minimum prices, pursuant to section 4 II (a) and (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 3, an interested party in the above-entitled matter, filed a motion on March 17, 1943 requesting that the hearing in said matter heretofore scheduled for March 24, 1943 be postponed until April 15, 1943. In support of this motion Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 3 submits that the wage negotiations between the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators in the Appalachian area are now in progress and that any changes in costs which might result from any new agreement which might be entered into with the United Mine Workers of America should be taken into consideration at the hearing in this docket. Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 3 further submits that it is authorized to state that Bituminous Coal Producers Boards for Districts Nos. 1, 2, 4, 6 and 10 approve the motion and join therein.

Good cause has been shown why said motion should be granted.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter be postponed from March 24, 1943 to April 15, 1943 at the time and place heretofore designated.

Dated: March 20, 1943.

CARMELITA MUELLER MEYERHOFF

Re: Capital stock and accrued dividends owned by Carmelita Mueller Meyerhoff.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation, finding that the property described as follows:

All right, title, and interest of Carmelita Mueller Meyerhoff, whose last known address was represented to the undersigned as being Goettingen, Germany, in and to property described as follows:

(a) 1000 fully paid and non-assessable shares of $15 par value capital stock of the Hutchinson Sugar Plantation Company, San Francisco, California.

(b) 300 shares common capital stock of the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company, Ltd., c/o Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd. Honolulu, Hawaii, and

(c) Accrued dividends on the above described 300 shares of Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company, Ltd., stock, is property within the United States owned and controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany), and determining that such property is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property belonging to the same national of the same designated country and subject to vesting pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order (and in fact vested by the undersigned pursuant to Vesting Order Number 165 issued by him under date of September 24, 1942), and further determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country, and having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest, hereby vests such property in the Alien Property Custodian to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

[Vesting Order 772]

AMERICAN GIESE WIRE CORPORATION

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that J. H. Rud Giese, a sole proprietorship of Westig, Westphalia, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that Hans Giese is a citizen of Germany, whose last known address is Westig, Westphalia, Germany, and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. Finding that Svensk-Amerikanska Tradkompaniet Aktiebolag is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Kingdom of Sweden;

4. Determining that said Svensk-Amerikanska Tradkompaniet Aktiebolag is controlled by or acting for or on behalf of or as a cloak for said J. H. Rud. Giese and is, therefore, a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Finding that 100 shares of $100 par value capital stock of American Giese Wire Corporation, a New York corporation, New York, New York, are owned by the aforesaid persons in the following respective amounts:

Names and Number of Shares

Svensk-Amerikanska Tradkompaniet Aktiebolag, 97 (registered in the name of Svensk-Amerikanska Tradkompaniet).

Hans Giese, 1 (registered in the name of Hans Giese)

J. H. Rud Giese, 2 (one of which is registered in the name of Aaron Edwards and one in the name of Horst A. Wegener)

Total, 100.

6. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 100 shares of stock constitute all of the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and represent ownership thereof;

7. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is controlled by and acting for or on behalf of the aforesaid persons, and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

8. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

9. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

10. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on January 27, 1943.

K. K. SANYO SHOKAI

Re: Casting machinery owned by K. K. Sanyo Shokai.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that K. K. Sanyo Shokai is a corporation organized under the laws of Japan with its principal office in Tokyo, Japan, and is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that twenty-eight (28) cases of casting machinery located at Atlantic Dock Stores Warehouse of New York Dock Company, Pioneer Street, Brooklyn, New York, New York, are owned by said K. K. Sanyo Shokai, and therefore are property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

3. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

4. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

5. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such futher time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on February 12, 1943.

Re: Contract rights of I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G., a corporation organized under the laws of Germany and having a place of business at Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, is a national of a foreign country (Germany);

2. Finding that said I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G. is the owner of the interest described in subparagraph 3 hereof;

3. Finding therefore, that the property described as follows:

The interest of I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G. in and to an agreement dated July 1, 1937, by and between I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G. and Woburn Degreasing Company of New Jersey, relating to United States Letters Patent No. 1 892 258, together with all accrued royalties and other monies payable or held with respect to such interest, is property payable or held with respect to a patent or right related thereto in which an interest is held by, and such property itself constitutes an interest held therein by, a national of a foreign country (Germany);

4. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

5. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. I. G. FARBENINDUSTRIE, A. G.

Re: Two patent applications of I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G. is a corporation organized under the laws of Germany, doing business at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany, and is a national of a foreign country (Germany);

2. Finding that said I. G. Farbenindustrie A. G. is the owner of the patent applications more particularly described in subparagraph 3 hereof;

3. Finding therefore that the patent applications identified as follows:

Serial No.	Filing date	Inventor	Title
368,878	12-6-40	F. Leuchl	Production of ketone from alcohols
374,814	1-17-41	G. Wyssel et al.	Pimelic acid and its derivatives and process for preparing same are property of a national of a foreign country (Germany);

4. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest or for the benefit of the United States.

5. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. PIONEER POTASH CORPORATION

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that German Potash Syndicate (Deutsches Kalisyndikat G. m. b. H.), a business enterprise with its principal office in Berlin, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that Verrekeningskantoor ("Leata"), located in Amsterdam, Holland, is a corporation organized under the laws of The Netherlands, all of whose issued and outstanding capital stock is owned by German Potash Syndicate;

3. Determining that said Verrekeningskantoor ("Leata") is controlled by and acting for and on behalf of said German Potash Syndicate, and therefore, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Finding that N. V. tot Financiering van Industrieele Ondernemeingen Finindo, located in Amsterdam, Holland, is a corporation organized under the laws of The Netherlands, all of whose issued and outstanding capital stock is owned by Verrekeningskantoor ("Leata");

5. Determining that said N. V. tot Financiering van Industrieele Ondernemeingen Finindo is controlled by and acting for and on behalf of said German Potash Syndicate, and, therefore, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Finding that 4,000 shares of $100 par value common capital stock of Pioneer Potash Corporation, a Delaware corporation, New York, New York, are registered in the name of and owned by said N. V. tot Financiering van Industrieele Ondernemeingen Finindo;

7. Finding that said Pioneer Potash Corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 4,000 shares of stock constitute all of its outstanding capital stock and are evidence of ownership thereof;

8. Determining, therefore, that said Pioneer Potash Corporation is controlled by and acting for and on behalf of said German Potash Syndicate, and, therefore, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

9. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

10. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

11. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 6 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of Pioneer Potash Corporation to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

I G FARBENINDUSTRIE AKTIENGESELLSCHAFT

Re: Contract rights of I. G. Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order Number 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1 Finding that I G Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft is a corporation organized under the laws of and having its principal place of business in Germany and is a national of a foreign country (Germany),

2 Finding that I G Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft has interests and property, more particularly described in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, in and under a certain contract between said I G Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft and the Synthetic Nitrogen Products Corporation:

3 Finding that the successors and assigns, if any, of said I G Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft are nationals of a foreign country (Germany)

4 Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows

The interests and property of I G Farbenindustrie Aktiengesellschaft, its successors and assigns, and each of them, described in said Exhibit A is property payable or held with respect to a patent or right related thereto in which interests are held by, and such property itself constitutes interests held therein by, a national or nationals of a foreign country (Germany);

5 Having made all determinations and taken all action after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property hereinbefore described in subparagraph 4, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

6 Deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on March 1, 1943.

PHILLIPS AND VAN ORDEN COMPANY, INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1 Finding that Virginia A. (Phillips) Dalla Rosa-Prati is a citizen of Italy whose last known address is the Italian diplomatic post at Lisbon, Portugal, and is a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

2 Finding that Phillips and Van Orden Company, Inc., a California corporation, San Francisco, California, is a business enterprise within the United States and has a total issued and outstanding capital stock consisting of 7,500 shares of common stock;

3 Finding that 4,986 shares of the aforesaid capital stock are registered in the names of and owned by Margaret A. Phillips and the aforesaid Virginia A. (Phillips) Dalla Rosa-Prati, as joint tenants with the right of survivorship, and that such interest of said Virginia A. (Phillips) Dalla Rosa-Prati in said 4,986 shares constitutes a substantial interest in said business enterprise;

4 Finding, therefore, that said business enterprise is a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

5 Finding that the property described as follows

All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of said Virginia A. (Phillips) Dalla Rosa-Prati in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to her by said Phillips and Van Orden Company, Inc., including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, and including particularly the amount allocated by said company to Virginia A (Phillips) Dalla Rosa-Prati as stock dividends in 1942, is an interest in the aforesaid business enterprise held by a national of an enemy country, and such is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

6 Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Italy);

7 Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

8 Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian (a) the undivided interest of the aforesaid Virginia A. (Phillips) Dalla Rosa-Prati in the 4,986 shares of stock mentioned in subparagraph 3 hereof, (b) the property described in subparagraph 5 hereof and (c) all other interests of whatsoever nature which she might have in said business enterprise, to be held, used, administered, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

TSUTAKAWA & CO.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Having found in Vesting Order Number 96 of August 6, 1942, that Tsutakawa & Co., a corporation organized under the laws of Washington, is a business enterprise within the United States and is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that S. Tsutakawa, whose last known address is Kobe, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

3. Finding that 2 shares of $100 par value common capital stock of Tsutakawa Co. are registered as follows:

Names:	Number of shares
Van C. Griffin	1
B. Roy Anderson	1
Total	2

and are beneficially owned by the said S. Tsutakawa;

4. Finding therefore that the aforesaid two shares of stock are property of a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and represent an interest in said business enterprise;

5. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the 2 shares of stock referred to in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

[Vesting Order 1082]

MEIJI FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, LTD.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Tokio, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd. has an established United States Branch at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such United States Branch of said Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd. is in the process of administration and liquidation by the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business, property and affairs of said United States Branch of Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., in possession of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession or to which he may be entitled under and by virtue of the Insurance Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the said United States Branch of said Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., remaining after payment of the claims of domestic creditors of the said United States Branch, which have been or may hereafter be allowed in accordance with the Insurance Law of the State of New York, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration and liquidation by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Finding also that the property described as follows:

All property of any nature whatsoever situated in the United States and owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to, said Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., other than the business, property and affairs of the United States Branch of said Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., referred to in subparagraph 4 hereof, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

7. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraphs 4 and 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

8. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate the business, property and affairs of said United States Branch of said Meiji Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., referred to in subparagraph 4 hereof, and in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Insurance by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Insurance Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the domestic creditors of said United States Branch referred to in said subparagraph 4 together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the remaining assets of said United States Branch and/or the proceeds thereof in the possession of the said Superintendent of Insurance, or to which he may be or become entitled, shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on March 15, 1943.

SUMITOMO MARINE AND FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, LTD.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Tokio, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., has an established United States Branch at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such United States Branch of said Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., is in the process of administration and liquidation by the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business, property and affairs of said United States Branch of Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd. in possession of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession or to which he may be entitled under and by virtue of the Insurance Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the said United States Branch of said Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., remaining after payment of the claims of domestic creditors of the said United States Branch, which have been or may hereafter be allowed in accordance with the Insurance Law of the State of New York, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration and liquidation by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Finding also that the property described as follows:

All property of any nature whatsoever situated in the United States and owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to, said Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., other than the business, property and affairs of the United States Branch of said Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd. referred to in subparagraph 4 hereof, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

7. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraphs 4 and 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

8. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate the business, property and affairs of said United States Branch of said Sumitomo Marine and Fire Insurance Company, Ltd., referred to in subparagraph 4 hereof, and in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Insurance by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Insurance Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the domestic creditors of said United States Branch referred to in said subparagraph 4, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the remaining assets of said United States Branch and or the proceeds thereof in the possession of the said Superintendent of Insurance, or to which he may be or become entitled, shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

[Vesting Order 1085]

ESTATE OF ANDREW (ANDRAS) NAGY

In re: Estate of Andrew (Andras) Nagy, deceased; File D-9-34-50, E. T. sec. 5.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by the Clerk of the Mercer County Orphans' Court, acting under the judicial supervision of the Mercer County Orphans Court, Mercer County, New Jersey;

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, nationals of a designated enemy country, Hungary, namely,

Nationals:	Last known address
John Nagy	Hungary.
Michael Nagy, Sr.	Hungary.
Michael Nagy, Jr.	Hungary.
Mary Nagy Kozar	Hungary.
Elizabeth Bodnarik	Hungary.
Anna Nagy	Hungary.

And determining that—

(3) If such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country, Hungary; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of John Nagy, Michael Nagy, Sr., Michael Nagy, Jr., Mary Nagy Kozar, Elizabeth Bodnarik and Anna Nagy, and each of them, in and to the Estate of Andrew (Andras) Nagy, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Dated: March 15, 1943.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[Administrative Exception Order 1 Under Ration Order 2B]

REGISTRATION OF AUTOMOBILES

Section 2.5 prohibits any person who has acquired or who acquires a 1942 car for the purpose of resale from registering the car unless it is registered with a clearance statement for official use by or on behalf of the armed forces of the United States. The Ohio Certificate of Title Law, section 6290–2, requires all persons acquiring motor vehicles to obtain a certificate of title from the Clerk of Court in the county in which the owner resides.

In order to permit the registration of automobiles to obtain a certificate of title but not to obtain license plates,

It is hereby ordered, that: Any person in the state of Ohio who has acquired or who acquires a 1942 automobile for resale may secure a certificate of title for the car in Ohio without presenting to the automobile registration official a certificate, clearance statement or other authorization issued by the Office of Price Administration. However, no such person may obtain license plates, other than dealer plates, except upon presentation of a certificate or clearance statement issued by the Office of Price Administration.

BROOMS MADE OF BROOM CORN

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Order No. 216 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods Other Than Apparel. Granting adjustment of maximum prices for sales of brooms made of broom corn.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is ordered:

(a) On and after March 23, 1943, the manufacturer's maximum price for a broom made of broom corn shall be calculated by adding 10% to the maximum price as established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. This adjustment, however, applies only to brooms to which the manufacturer attaches a tag in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c).

(b) For a sale at wholesale or at retail of a broom made of broom corn, delivered by the manufacturer after March 22, 1943, the maximum price shall be calculated by adding 10% to the maximum price as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation. However, this increase may be taken only on brooms bearing the tag specified in paragraph (c).

(c) The manufacturer shall attach to each broom made of broom corn, delivered by him on or after March 23, 1943, a tag containing a statement in the following form:

OPA has authorized the sale of this broom by the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the retailer at a price 10% higher than the seller's March 1942 ceiling price.

The tag shall not be detached until the broom has been delivered to the consumer.

(d) Every person delivering to a retailer brooms made of broom corn shall, at or prior to the first invoice to such purchaser after March 23, 1943, give written notice of the adjustment granted by this order. The notice shall state that the adjustment applies only to brooms which have been tagged by the manufacturer in accordance with paragraph (c). A statement in the following form will be sufficient:

The Office of Price Administration has granted relief to manufacturers of brooms made of broom corn by allowing each manufacturer, wholesaler, and retailer, an increase of 10% over March 1942 ceiling prices. The increase may be taken only on brooms which are delivered by the manufacturer on or after March 23, 1943, and which bear a tag, attached by the manufacturer, stating that the 10% increase has been authorized by the Office of Price Administration. The tag must not be detached until the broom has been delivered to the consumer.

(e) This Order No. 216 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in § 1499.20 of General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to all terms used herein.

This order shall become effective March 23, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of March, 1943.

MANILA ELECTRIC COMPANY AND ESCUDERO ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY

ORDER EXTENDING EXEMPTION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 20th day of March 1943.

The Commission having heretofore on March 28, 1941, entered an order granting to Manila Electric Company and Escudero Electric Service Company, subsidiaries of Associated Electric Company, a registered holding company, an exemption, to the extent therein specified, from certain provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 applicable to them as subsidiary companies; and

The said order further providing that the exemption therein granted should expire on March 31, 1943, without prejudice, however, to the right of the applicants to apply for an extension; and

A request for an extension of the time during which such exemption should be effective having been filed; and

The Commission finding that an extension of the exemption heretofore granted is appropriate;

It is therefore ordered, That the exemption heretofore granted to Manila Electric Company and Escudero Electric Service Company be and it hereby is extended until further order of this Commission.

By the Commission.

UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT CO., ET AL.

ORDER APPROVING PLAN PERMITTING DECLARATIONS TO BECOME EFFECTIVE, AND GRANTING APPLICATIONS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 18th day of March 1943.

In the matter of The United Gas Improvement Company, File No. 54-65; The United Gas Improvement Company and Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-6; Philadelphia Electric Company, File No. 70-658.

The United Gas Improvement Company, a registered holding company, and its subsidiary company, Philadelphia Electric Company, having filed applications and declarations, and amendments thereto, pursuant to section 11 (e) and other sections of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and the Rules and Regulations of the Commission promulgated thereunder, requesting an order of the Commission approving said plan, and authorizing and directing and requiring that the transactions proposed therein be consummated in accordance with its terms and provisions; and requesting that said Order of the Commission conform to the pertinent requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including sections 371 (a), 371 (c), 371 (f) and 1808 (f) thereof, and contain the specifications therein set forth;

The Commission having, on March 4, 1940, instituted proceedings in respect of The United Gas Improvement Company and its subsidiary companies, pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of said Act, and having ordered a consolidation of the proceedings involving said application for approval of the plan and related applications and declarations with such proceedings;

A public hearing having been held after appropriate notice, and the Commission having considered the record and having made and filed its Findings and Opinion herein; and

The Commission having found that said plan is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of said Act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected hereby; and the Commission having made and filed herein its Report on said plan pursuant to Section 11 (g) of said Act;

It is ordered, That said plan, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, approved, and that said applications and declarations, as amended, be, and the same hereby are, granted, and permitted to become effective, and The United Gas Improvement Company is authorized, directed, and required to carry out and consummate the transactions proposed in said plan in accordance with its terms and provisions;

It is further ordered, That, in accordance with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, including sections 371 (a), 371 (c), 371 (f) and 1808 (f) thereof, the following steps included in the transactions proposed in said plan, are specified as being necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935;

1. The reclassification of the authorized 15,000,000 shares of no par Common Stock of Philadelphia Electric Company into 2,369,076 shares of $1 Dividend Preference Common Stock and 12,630,924 of new Common Stock, both without nominal or par value; the issuance of all of said authorized shares of $1 Dividend Preferred Common Stock and 8,160,154 shares of said new Common Stock in exchange for its presently outstanding 10,529,230 shares of Common Stock in retirement thereof, on the basis of 9 40ths of a share of $1 Dividend Preference Common Stock and 31 40ths of a share of new Common Stock for each share of presently outstanding Common Stock; and the issuance by Philadelphia Electric Company of scrip certificates in lieu of fractional shares; and the issuance by Philadelphia Electric Company of not in excess of 2,369,076 shares of its new Common Stock in exchange for shares of its $1 Dividend Preference Common Stock, pursuant to any exercise of the conversion rights attaching to the shares of said $1 Dividend Preference Common Stock;

2. The distribution by The United Gas Improvement Company of 2,295,438 shares of the $1 Dividend Preference Common Stock of Philadelphia Electric Company received by it, together with cash, in exchange for, and in liquidation and retirement of, the presently outstanding 765,146 shares of $5 Dividend Preferred Stock of The United Gas Improvement Company, on the basis of 3 shares of $1 Dividend Preference Common Stock and $40 in cash for each share of said $5 Dividend Preferred Stock;

3. The distribution by The United Gas Improvement Company pro rata to the holders of its presently outstanding 23,252,010 shares of Common Stock, as a partial distribution of capital, of 7,750,670 shares of the new Common Stock of Philadelphia Electric Company to be received by The United Gas Improvement Company, and 1,937,667.5 shares of its present holdings of the outstanding Common Stock of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, on the basis of 1 3rd share of the new Common Stock of Philadelphia Electric Company and 1 12th share of the Common Stock of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey for each share of the outstanding Common Stock of The United Gas Improvement Company, and the issuance of scrip certificates in lieu of fractional shares;

It is further ordered, That the Report of the Commission, made and filed herein pursuant to section 11 (g) of said Act, be and the same is hereby approved and adopted as the Report herein made by the Commission and as the form in which copies of said Report may be used by The United Gas Improvement Company in making solicitations, pursuant to said section 11 (g), of the holders of the shares of its outstanding Common Stock in respect of the matters therein referred to;

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved as to the approval or disapproval of the reasonableness of fees and expenses incurred or to be incurred, in connection with said plan and related transactions, in respect of the services of attorneys, agents and financial advisors;

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved to consider all matters relating to these consolidated proceedings not disposed of by this Order, to entertain such further proceedings, to make such further and supplemental findings and to take such additional and further action as may be found by the Commission to be appropriate in the premises in connection with the consummation of said plan and related and incidental transactions.

By the Commission.

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS CO., ET AL.

ORDER DISMISSING PROCEEDINGS AS TO DILLON, READ & CO. AND RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER LIMITED PAYMENT OF UNDERWRITER'S AND FINDER'S FEES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of March 1943.

In the matter of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Dillon, Read & Co., Files Nos. 65-5 and 32-197; Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, Dillon, Read & Co., File No. 70-135.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, a subsidiary of The United Light and Power Company, a registered holding company, having filed on February 22, 1940 an application regarding, among other matters, the issuance and sale of its First Mortgage Bonds pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, a subsidiary of The United Light and Power Company, having filed on August 7, 1940 an application regarding, among other matters, the issuance and sale of its First Mortgage Bonds pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and

The Commission having respectively on February 23, 1940 and August 22, 1940 issued orders to show cause against Dillon, Read & Co., Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, pursuant to Rule U-12F-2, to determine the status of Dillon, Read & Co. under said rule; and

The Commission having on March 12, 1940 issued its order approving the application of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, but reserving jurisdiction for future determination of questions concerning affiliation and the reasonableness of the proposed finder's fees to Dillon, Read & Co.; and the Commission having also on October 21, 1940 issued its order approving the application of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, subject, however, to the stipulation of counsel for Dillon, Read & Co. that pending the determination of the questions arising under the Rule, the underwriting fees involved would be deposited in escrow and that the Commission would reserve jurisdiction over all questions of fees and affiliations under the Rules; and

Dillon, Read & Co. having proposed to reduce its finder's fees claimed from Michigan Consolidated Gas Company from $10,000 to $7,500; and having proposed to reduce its fees and compensation for all services connected with the underwriting of the bonds issued by Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company so that its total compensation would not exceed the compensation payable to an underwriter whose participation was not in excess of 5% of the total offering and, upon the basis of such reduced fees, having moved the Commission for an order dismissing the consolidated proceedings and releasing jurisdiction over such reduced compensation; and permitting Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company to pay to Dillon, Read & Co. or to its assignees the sum of $25,475.65, which amount is computed at the rate applicable to a 5% participation of the total offering; and to further permit Michigan Consolidated Gas Company to pay to Dillon, Read & Co. or to its assignees the sum of $7,500 as payment in full of finder's fees for services rendered to Michigan Consolidated Gas Company; and

The Commission deeming it in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to dismiss the pending show cause orders and to release jurisdiction as to the payment of such reduced fees and compensation;

It is ordered, That the proceedings pending be and hereby are dismissed; and that jurisdiction be and hereby is released over such reduced fees and compensation payable to Dillon, Read & Co. or to its assignees.

By the Commission.

INTERIM ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION SUBJECT TO RESERVATION OF JURISDICTION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 19th day of March 1943.

In the matter of Public Service Company of New Hampshire, The Twin State Gas and Electric Company, New England Public Service Company, File No. 70-654.

Public Service Company of New Hampshire, a subsidiary company of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) of said Act of the issuance and sale of $20,500,000 aggregate principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 3¼%, maturing January 1, 1973, said bonds to be offered at competitive bidding pursuant to the requirements of Rule U-50; and Hearings having been held after appropriate notice and the Commission having made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

It is ordered, That the application as amended, be and the same hereby is granted for the purpose of submitting the bonds to competitive bidding, subject, however, to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and to the following additional terms and conditions:

I. No dividends, except dividends payable in common stock shall be paid on the common stock if the payment thereof would reduce Earned Surplus below $2,300,000 or below such part of $2,300,000 as may remain after deduction thereof by:

(a) Any amount of the Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustment Account (now carried at $840,420.34 subject to a reserve of $13,968.07) which may be written off directly against Earned Surplus, and

(b) Other adjustments applicable to Earned Surplus.

II. Except as hereinafter provided, no dividends, except dividends payable in common stock shall be paid on the common stock, unless for the entire period from January 1, 1943 to the end of the calendar month preceding the month in which such declaration is made, earnings applicable to the common stock shall have been retained to an accumulated amount equal to the total obtained by computing the retention for each full calendar year of the period (and on a pro-rata basis for any fractional part of a calendar year) at the following rates:

Yearly earnings applicable to common stock as per books:	Percentage of earnings retained (percent)
First $100,000	100
Next $100,000	None
Next $100,000	40
Next $100,000	30
Next $200,000	25
Over $600,000	10

Provided, however, That:

(a) For the purposes of the foregoing computation, if the Company shall have made provisions for depreciation of its electric plant at the rate of less than 2% per annum of its depreciable electric plant (averaged on a calendar year basis) for any year or fractional part of a year involved in any such computation, the earnings applicable to the common stock to be retained shall be increased by the amount of such deficiency or, if no other retention of earnings is required, then the amount of such deficiency shall be retained;

(b) After December 31, 1952, or after any earlier date on which the total earnings retained hereunder plus the amount of any cash and the value of any property received by the Company in consideration of the issue of additional common stock shall aggregate $2,300,000, all requirements for the retention of earnings and all restrictions upon the payment of dividends under this paragraph II shall cease, except as may be provided in subparagraph (a) above and except that surplus accumulated by earnings so retained, up to $1,300,000 thereof less the amounts of all adjustments at any time made under clause (c) below and less the amount of all cash and the value of all property received by the Company in consideration of the issue of additional common stock, shall not be available for the payment of dividends on the common other than dividends payable in common stock; and

(c) Earned Surplus accumulated as a result of retention of earnings under this paragraph II may be reduced by adjustments applicable to Earned Surplus.

III. Jurisdiction is hereby reserved by the Commission to impose such further terms and conditions as may be appropriate after the results of the competitive bidding have been reported pursuant to Rule U-50 (c).

It is further ordered, That applicant's request for a shortening of the ten-day period required by Rule U-50 (b) to the extent that applicant may be permitted to open bids on March 26, 1943, be and the same hereby is granted.

By the Commission.

THE MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC RAILWAY & TRANSPORT COMPANY AND WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY

ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 19th day of March 1943.

The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Wisconsin Electric Power Company, and Wisconsin Electric Power Company, a subsidiary of The North American Company, a registered holding company, having filed a joint application and declaration pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the General Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, relating to (1) the proposal of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company to purchase for cash at par from Wisconsin Electric Power Company 8,000 shares of its own common capital stock having a par value of $100 per share or an aggregate par value of $800,000, and to retire the stock so to be purchased by it; and (2) the proposal of Wisconsin Electric Power Company to sell to The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company the said 8,000 shares of the common capital stock of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company for the consideration above specified; and

Said joint application and declaration having been filed on the 18th day of February, 1943, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the manner and form prescribed by Rule U-23 under said Act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said joint application and declaration within the period specified in such notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the requirements of sections 10, 12 (c) and 12 (f) and Rules U-42 and U-43 are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to approve said application and to permit said declaration to become effective;

It is hereby ordered Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said Act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that said joint application be and the same is hereby approved and that said joint declaration be and the same is hereby permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission (Commissioner Healy dissenting for the reasons set forth in his memorandum of April 1, 1940).

OGDEN CORPORATION, ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 22nd day of March, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Ogden Corporation and subsidiary companies, File No. 54-69; Ogden Corporation and subsidiary companies, respondents, File No. 59-65.

Notice of filing and order for hearing on plan filed pursuant to section 11 (e); notice of and order for hearing pursuant to sections 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2), 15 (f), and 20 (a) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and order consolidating proceedings.

I

Notice is hereby given that Ogden Corporation, a registered holding company, and certain of its subsidiary companies,[1] have filed an application pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for approval of a plan, the purpose of which is to effect compliance with (1) the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act and (2) the terms of an Amended Plan of Reorganization, dated January 10, 1939, of Utilities Power & Light Corporation, predecessor in reorganization of Ogden Corporation.[2] The plan provides for the disposition by Ogden of interests held by it, directly or indirectly, in all of its subsidiaries which are registered holding companies or public utility companies and the distribution of the proceeds thereof to Ogden's stockholders. Securities of such subsidiaries not disposed of by sale or discharged in liquidation will be distributed in kind. All interested persons are referred to said plan, which is on file at the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Ogden Corporation proposes to dispose of interests held by it, directly or indirectly, in all of its subsidiary companies which are registered holding companies or public utility companies: Provided, however, That in the case of The Laclede Gas Light Company, Interstate Power Company, Missouri Natural Gas Company, Central States Utilities Corporation, Central States Power & Light Corporation, and Missouri Electric Power Company, such divestment shall not be effected by means of the sale of securities prior to the recapitalization of such companies to the extent necessary to comply with section 11 (b) (2) of the Act. As described below, Ogden Corporation, The Laclede Gas Light Company, and Interstate Power Company and its subsidiaries propose to take such steps as may be nec-

[1] The following subsidiaries of Ogden Corporation have joined in the plan in so far as their respective interests are involved: Central States Utilities Corporation, Central States Power & Light Corporation, Missouri Electric Power Company, Derby Gas & Electric Corporation (Del.), The Derby Gas and Electric Company (Conn.), The Wallingford Gas Light Company, Interstate Power Company (Del.), East Dubuque Electric Company, Eastern Iowa Electric Company, Interstate Power Company of North Dakota, Interstate Power Company of Wisconsin, Laclede Power & Light Company, The Laclede Gas Light Company, Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company (Inactive) and Missouri Natural Gas Company.

[2] See Utilities Power & Light Corporation, et al. 5 S.E.C. 483 (1939). The Plan of Reorganization, confirmed on January 2, 1940 by the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, provided that Ogden Corporation submit to the Commission, within thirty days after the entry of an order discharging the trustee and closing the case, a plan pursuant to the provisions of section 11 (e) of the Act, providing for the divestment of control, securities, or other assets, or for other action by Ogden Corporation, or any subsidiary thereof, for the purpose of enabling Ogden, or any subsidiary thereof, to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act. Such order dismissing said trustee was entered on January 28, 1943.

sary to recapitalize The Laclede Gas Light Company and Interstate Power Company in such manner as to comply with section 11 (b) (2) of the Act. Central States Utilities Corporation and its subsidiaries will liquidate and dissolve.

In all instances where disposition is made by way of sale of securities of subsidiaries which are registered holding companies or public utility companies, Ogden Corporation proposes to distribute the proceeds thereof to its stockholders. Securities of such subsidiaries not disposed of by sale or discharged in liquidation will be distributed in kind.

It is proposed that the plan will be consummated in the manner described below:

(1) Central States Utilities Corporation and subsidiaries. Central States Utilities Corporation, its subsidiary, Central States Power & Light Corporation and Missouri Electric Power Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Central States Power & Light Corporation, propose to liquidate and dissolve. It is proposed that the two companies last named will dispose of all their assets for cash. Funds thus derived will first be utilized to discharge the first mortgage bonds of Central States Power & Light Corporation, and any remaining cash will be distributed to holders of securities junior to such bonds, in accordance with the determination of the Commission or, if an appeal be taken, in accordance with such determination as finally affirmed or modified.

(2) Derby Gas & Electric Corporation and subsidiaries. Ogden proposes to dispose of the common stock of Derby Gas & Electric Corporation either by sale or by distribution in kind.

(3) Interstate Power Company and subsidiaries. Interstate Power Company proposes to simplify its corporate structure and recapitalize so as fairly and equitably to distribute voting power among its security holders. Prior to or concurrently with its recapitalization, Interstate Power Company also proposes to dispose of the Bemidji-Crookston Division of its Minnesota properties as well as the properties of Interstate Power Company of North Dakota in order to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of the Act. After consummation of such recapitalization, Ogden Corporation proposes to dispose of the new securities it receives pursuant to the plan of recapitalization either by sale or by distribution in kind.

(4) Laclede Power & Light Company and The Laclede Gas Light Company. Laclede Power & Light Company, The Laclede Gas Light Company, and Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company propose to sell for cash the properties operated by Laclede Power & Light Company to Union Electric Company of Missouri and The Laclede Gas Light Company proposes to simplify its corporate structure and recapitalize. In such recapitalization, the debt will be reduced substantially, preferred stock dividend arrears eliminated, and outstanding preferred and common stocks will be converted into a single class of stock. After consummation of such recapitalization, Ogden Corporation proposes to dispose of the securities received.

(5) Missouri Natural Gas Company. Ogden Corporation proposes to dispose of its investment in Missouri Natural Gas Company either by sale or distribution in kind or to cause Missouri Natural Gas Company to dispose of its assets.

(6) Plans on file with the Commission. Plans under section 11 (e) providing for the recapitalization of Interstate Power Company and The Laclede Gas Light Company are presently on file with the Commission (File Nos. 54-36 and 54-39, respectively). A plan providing for the liquidation and dissolution of Central States Utilities Corporation and its subsidiaries is also pending before the Commission (File No. 54-42).

(7) Provisions relating to consummation and enforcement of plan. Ogden Corporation and each of its subsidiaries which are joint proponents of this Plan propose to effectuate such plan within the statutory period provided for under section 11 (e) of the Act; and request, in the event said plan is not consummated within two years of the filing thereof, or such extended period as may be granted by the Commission, that the Commission, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act, apply to a Court in accordance with the provisions of section 18 (f) of the Act, to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of the Plan. Each of the said joint proponents authorizes the Court upon any such application made to it by the Commission, to such extent as the Court deems necessary for the purpose of carrying out the terms and provisions of this plan, to take exclusive jurisdiction and possession of Ogden Corporation, and all of its then subsidiaries which are public utility companies as defined in the Act, and of their respective assets, including securities, wherever located, and to appoint a trustee to hold or administer the same under the direction of the Court and in accordance with this plan, and the Court for such purpose may appoint the Commission as sole trustee.

II

The Commission having examined, pursuant to sections 11 (a), 18 (a), and 18 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, the corporate structure of Ogden Corporation, a registered holding company, and its subsidiary companies, the relationship among companies of said holding company system, the character of the interests thereof and the properties owned or controlled thereby, to determine the extent to which the corporate structure of such holding company system and the companies therein may be simplified, unnecessary complexities therein eliminated, voting power fairly and equitably distributed among the holders of securities thereof, and the properties and business of such system should be confined to those necessary or appropriate to the operations of an integrated public utility system or systems under the standards of section 11 (b) of the Act; and said examination having disclosed data establishing or tending to establish the following:

1. Ogden Corporation, a registered holding company, is a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware. It maintains its principal office for the doing of business in Jersey City, N. J. Ogden Corporation has twenty-two subsidiaries, twelve of which are public utility companies within the meaning of the Act, engaged in the electric and gas utility business and other businesses such as water distribution, bus transportation, ice, and steam; and the remainder of which are engaged in such diverse businesses as coal production, railroad operations, theatre ownership, etc. The operations of Ogden's utility subsidiaries are conducted within eight states of the United States, including Connecticut, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

2. The total gross book assets at December 31, 1942 of Ogden Corporation's subsidiary companies, which are public utility and holding companies within the meaning of the Act, were approximately $154,431,000 (after adjustments for intercompany items). The total assets (after adjustments for intercompany items), at December 31, 1942, of Ogden Corporation's non-utility subsidiaries were approximately $8,910,000.[3] These totals, combined with other assets of Ogden Corporation, aggregated approximately $168,595,000.

3. Central States Utilities Corporation, Central States Power & Light Company, Derby Gas & Electric Corporation, and Interstate Power Company, subsidiaries of Ogden Corporation, are also registered holding companies. The first three of these subsidiaries maintain their principal offices in Jersey City, N. J., and the last-named maintains its principal office in the City of Dubuque, Iowa.

4. The names of the subsidiary companies presently embraced in the holding company system of Ogden Corporation, the corporate relationship of these companies to each other, and the states in which such subsidiary companies are incorporated, are shown in the following table:

Name of company	State of organization
Ogden Corporation	Delaware.
Central States Utilities Corporation	Delaware.
Central States Power & Light Corporation	Delaware.
Missouri Electric Power Company	Missouri.

[3] Per books, with property stated (except for Litchfield and Madison Railway Company) after depreciation, depletion, and other property reserves. The figures for one subsidiary, Southampton (Fawley) Investment Corp. Ltd., are as of December 31, 1941, the latest available, and are converted into dollars at the rate of $4.03 to the pound sterling, approximately the current "official rate" of exchange. The asset total for the non-utility subsidiaries does not include United Fuels Corporation and its subsidiaries (sold by Ogden Corporation in February, 1943), but the carrying value for that investment is included in the total of all assets of the Ogden system.

8. The Laclede Gas Light Company, a subsidiary of Ogden, was incorporated by a Special Act of the Missouri Legislature on March 2, 1857, as amended by the Acts of March 3, 1857 and March 26, 1868. As of December 31, 1942, Ogden owned 73.51% of its outstanding voting securities, namely, 5,345 shares out of the 23,330 outstanding shares of the 5% cumulative Preferred Stock and 90,466 shares out of the 107,000 outstanding shares of Common stock.

9. Laclede Gas is engaged in the manufacture of gas and the distribution and sale of mixed manufactured and natural gas, and the distribution and resale of natural gas (for industrial purposes only), all within the corporate limits of the City of St. Louis, Missouri.

10. The capitalization, including surplus of Laclede Gas, as of December 31, 1942, adjusted to reflect dividend arrears on the Preferred Stock, was as follows:

	Amount	Percent
Debt:
Refunding and Extension Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, due April 1, 1934, extended to April 1, 1945	$9,868,000	[illegible]
First Mortgage Collateral and Refunding 5½% Gold Bonds:
Series C, due February 1, 1953	17,500,000	[illegible]
Series D, due February 1, 1960	5,500,000	[illegible]
Collateral Trust 6% Notes, due August 1, 1942, extended to August 1, 1945	2,000,000	[illegible]
Total Debt	34,868,000	[illegible]
Preferred stock and arrears:
5% Cumulative, $100 par value—23,330 shares preferred as to dividends only and ranks ratably, share for share, with the Common Stock upon dissolution or distribution of assets	2,333,000	[illegible]
Dividend arrears—$45.83 per share	1,069,211	[illegible]
Total Preferred and Arrears	3,402,211	[illegible]
Common stock $100 par value—107,000 shares	10,700,000	[illegible]
Surplus for common and preferred:
Capital surplus from revaluation of fixed assets	6,080,000	[illegible]
Capital surplus from reacquisition of Preferred Stock	117,000	[illegible]
Earned Surplus	3,384,756	[illegible]
Total Surplus	9,581,756	[illegible]
Total Capitalization	58,552,967	[illegible]

11. No dividends have been paid on the Preferred Stock of Laclede Gas since October 31, 1933, nor on its Common Stock since December 15, 1933. Arrears on the Preferred Stock, as of December 31, 1942, aggregated $45.83 per share.

12. The balance sheet of Laclede Gas at December 31, 1942 states property, plant, and equipment, including intangibles, as follows:

Property, plant and equipment, exclusive of property subject to lease and sale agreement	$46,670,533
Intangible—going value, etc.	6,098,916
	52,769,449
Property leased to Laclede Power & Light Company under lease and sale agreement:
Physical property	5,157,730
Going value	540,000
	5,697,730
Total gross property	58,467,179
Retirement reserve	1,929,808
Total net property	56,537,371

The retirement reserve applicable to the gas and electric properties was $1,211,766 and $718,042, respectively. The reserve represented only 3.3% of the total gross property and the reserve applicable to the gas property represented only 2.3% of such property.

13. As of December 31, 1942, Laclede Gas long-term debt was equivalent to 61.7% of net property; the total of long-term debt and preferred stock arrears was equivalent to 63.5% of net property.

14. The original cost of the physical property used in gas operations owned by Laclede Gas at August 31, 1942 as estimated by accountants for the Missouri Public Service Commission was $35,655,333. Net additions from September 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942 were approximately $127,000. The book value of such property at December 31, 1942 exceeds the estimated original cost by approximately $16,987,000.

15. Under a lease and sale agreement dated December 23, 1926, Laclede Gas leased to Laclede Power & Light Company, an associate company, certain of its electric properties for a term expiring on February 1, 1953. The said agreement provides that the lessee will purchase the leased properties on the expiration date thereof, and may at its option purchase such properties prior thereto, for the sum of $5,254,000, if such properties can be delivered free and clear of all liens imposed thereon by the lessor. Of such purchase price, $19,550 was received from the lessee in 1940 upon the transfer of title to a portion of the properties.

16. Laclede Gas and Laclede Power have entered into a contract to sell their electric properties to Union Electric Company of Missouri for a base price of $8,600,000 of which $2,200,000 has been assigned by the sellers to the electric property owned by Laclede Gas.

17. The net amount at which the electric properties of Laclede Gas are carried in its accounts at December 31, 1942 is $2,797,689 greater than the consideration assigned to such properties by the sellers.

18. The following table shows the balance for the preferred and common stocks (the preferred having a preference as to dividends only), after deducting preferred dividend arrears and adjusting the gas properties to original cost and the electric properties owned by Laclede Gas to the portion of the proposed sales price attributed to it ($2,200,000):

Original cost of gas properties	$35,782,333
Less: Applicable retirement reserve	1,211,766
	34,570,567
Portion of the proposed sales price of the electric properties attributed to Laclede Gas	2,200,000
	36,770,567
Excess of current and other assets over current and other liabilities	$950,571
Total fixed and other net assets	37,721,138
Securities:
Total debt securities	34,868,000
Preferred stock dividend arrears	1,069,211
Balance for preferred and common stock	1,783,967
Total securities	37,721,138

19. As of December 31, 1942, total debt securities were 92.3% of total fixed and other net assets, as adjusted above; as of the same date, total debt securities and preferred dividend arrears were 95.2% of such assets as adjusted above.

20. The following is a summary of the income of Laclede Gas for the years 1938 to 1942, inclusive:

	Operating revenue	Gross income	Net income	Preferred dividend requirements	Balance for common
1938	$6,668,178	$1,921,702	($220,440)	$116,650	($448,090)
1939	6,753,943	1,985,129	(134,729)	116,650	(251,424)
1940	6,947,728	2,341,806	224,874	116,650	108,224
1941	7,077,718	2,745,716	625,084	116,650	508,444
1942	7,874,785	2,844,537	263,316	116,650	146,666

( ) Denotes deficit.

21. An important factor contributing to the improvement in net income of Laclede Gas during the past three years is the wartime demand for coke and for other residuals derived from the production of coal gas. Residual sales, which are treated as deductions from operating expenses on the books of Laclede Gas, amounted to $2,728,906 in 1942.

22. The Federal Income Tax returns of Laclede Gas for the years 1930 to 1941 contain deductions for depreciation which are substantially greater than the provisions for retirements in the accounts of the company during such years.

23. The Refunding and Extension Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds of Laclede Gas, dated April 1, 1904, matured on April 1, 1934. The company was unable to pay these bonds at maturity and arranged with its holders for an extension of the maturity date to April 1, 1939. Subsequently, the maturity date was again extended to April 1, 1942. A third extension was granted in 1942 by the holders of $9,868,000 principal amount of such bonds. The present extended maturity date of this issue is April 1, 1945.

24. The Collateral Trust 6% Notes of Laclede Gas issued in 1935 and outstanding in the principal amount of $3,000,000 matured August 1, 1942. At maturity, the company retired only $1,000,000 principal amount of such notes. Ogden Corporation acquired the balance of $2,000,000 from public holders at their principal amount plus accrued interest and consented to an extension of the maturity date to August 1, 1945.

25. Each share of the preferred and common stock of Laclede Gas is entitled to one vote. The common stock possesses, however, approximately 62% of the voting power, which is far out of proportion to its equity in the company.

26. Central States Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Ogden Corporation, is a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware. All of its outstanding common stock is owned by Ogden. In addition, as of December 31, 1942, Ogden owned 22,406 out of 32,000 outstanding shares of its $7 Cumulative Preferred Stock, $3,129,100 out of $3,500,000 outstanding Ten-Year 6% Secured Gold Bonds, unsecured notes of $788,625, $179,984 of advances on open account, and accrued interest receivable of $1,973,620.

27. Central States Utilities Corporation is solely a holding company whose principal asset is its investment in the outstanding common stock of Central States Power & Light Corporation, which asset is carried on its books at the figure of $1.00.

28. Since January 1, 1934, Central States Utilities Corporation has been in default as to interest payments on its Ten-Year 6% Secured Gold Bonds, and since January 1, 1938, the company has been in default as to the entire principal amount.

29. As of December 31, 1942, the accrued and unpaid interest on the Ten-Year 6% Secured Bonds aggregated $1,890,000.

30. No dividends have been paid on the preferred stock of Central States Utilities Corporation since January 1, 1932; as of December 31, 1942, the dividend arrearages on the preferred amounted to $2,464,000, or $77.00 per share. No dividends have ever been paid on the common stock of Central States Utilities Corporation.

31. The principal source of revenue for Central States Utilities Corporation is its investment in the common stock of Central States Power & Light Corporation, which company has not paid dividends on its common stock since December, 1931.

32. Unless and until preferred stock dividends are in arrears for one year, the entire voting power is vested in the common stock, each share of which is entitled to one vote. As a result of dividend arrears, the preferred stock voting as a class is entitled to elect two directors.

33. Central States Power & Light Corporation, a subsidiary of Central States Utilities Corporation, is a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware. The common stock of Central States Power & Light Corporation is owned by Central States Utilities Corporation. In addition, as of December 31, 1942, Ogden owned $5,108,040 out of $5,940,000 outstanding of Central States Power & Light Corporation's 5% Debentures, and 13,473 out of 80,000 outstanding shares of its $7.00 Preferred Stock.

34. Central States Power & Light Corporation renders electric service in northern Iowa and southern Minnesota; its wholly-owned subsidiary, Missouri Electric Power Company, renders electric, water service, and also conducts an ice production and sales business in southern Missouri.

35. The consolidated capitalization, including surplus, of Central States Power & Light Corporation, as of December 31, 1942, adjusted to reflect dividend arrears and the minimum liquidating price of the preferred stock, was as follows:

	Amount	Percent
Long-term debt
1st Mtge. and 1st Lien Gold Bonds, 3½% series due 1963	$3,581,000

42. Interstate Power Company, a subsidiary of Ogden, is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware. As of December 31, 1942, Ogden owned all of the common stock of Interstate, as well as 3,108 shares out of a total of 72,500 shares of its $7.00 preferred and 9,461 shares out of a total of 47,500 shares of its $6.00 preferred stock outstanding. In addition, Ogden holds a 6% demand note of Interstate in the amount of $2,475,000 and $100 principal amount of its 6% Gold Debentures.

43. Interstate is a registered holding company, as well as an operating company. It owns all the common stock of East Dubuque Electric Company, Interstate Power Company of North Dakota, and Interstate Power Company of Wisconsin, and 60% of the common stock of Eastern Iowa Electric Company.

44. Interstate and its subsidiaries furnish electric, gas, steam heat, water, and bus transportation services to a number of communities in Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

45. The consolidated capitalization, including surplus, of Interstate as of December 31, 1942, adjusted to reflect the minimum liquidating value of $100 per share for the preferred stocks and dividend arrears thereon, was as follows:

	Amount	Percent
Long-term debt
1st Mtge. 3½% Bonds due 1967	$20,000,000
6% Debenture Bonds due 1952	2,475,000

Total common stock and surplus	(6,500,000)	(12.8)
Total capitalization	52,552,000	100.0

[1] Stated at $6,682,659 per books.

[2] Stated at $1,000,2311 per books.

[3] Earned Surplus has been charged with the preferred dividend arrears totalling $8,625,720 and with the difference ($1,000,000) between the minimum liquidating value of the preferred stock and its stated value.

46. No dividends have been paid on either class of preferred stock of Interstate since December 20, 1933, nor on its common stock since 1931. Arrears on the $7.00 preferred and on the $6.00 preferred stocks, as of December 31, 1942, aggregated $71.19 and $61.02 per share, respectively.

47. The consolidated balance sheet of Interstate and its subsidiaries at December 31, 1942 states property, plant, and equipment, including intangibles, as follows:

Gross property	$53,214,430
Reserve for depreciation	2,207,475
Net property	51,006,954

The reserve for depreciation was 4.1% of gross property.

48. As of December 31, 1942, the percentage of long-term debt to consolidated net property was 65.7%; the percentage of long-term debt, demand note due Ogden, minority interest, and preferred stocks (stated at minimum liquidating value of $100) including arrears was 110.2%.

49. The combined electric properties of Interstate and its subsidiaries were stated, per books, at $45,792,266 as of December 31, 1942. A note to the company's balance sheet as of such date states that information now available, based on the company's studies, indicates that the original cost of the electric properties, which excludes going value, amounts to approximately $26,000,000.

The original cost of the gas and other properties also appears to be below the stated value of such properties, per books, of $7,422,173.

50. The percentage of long-term debt to such indicated original cost for the electric properties, plus the gross carrying value of the gas and other properties, after deducting the reserve for depreciation, per books, was 107.4%.

51. The operating revenues, gross income before fixed charges, net income, preferred dividend requirements, and the balance for the common stock of Interstate, on a consolidated basis, for each of the years 1938 through 1942, were as follows:

	Operating revenues	Gross income before fixed charges	Net income before dividends	Preferred dividend requirements	Balance for common
1938	$6,686,717	$2,251,716	(617,661)	$792,500	($810,151)
1939	6,276,539	1,891,967	(340,582)	792,500	(1,190,082)
1940	7,125,854	2,043,230	(83,870)	792,500	(982,370)
1941	6,926,191	1,996,459	(125,293)	792,500	(917,735)
1942	7,072,735	2,109,782	142,588	792,500	(650,602)

[1] Consolidated.

[2] Income from the properties of Interstate Power Company of Nebraska, sold at December 28, 1940, are included in [illegible].

52. Since its inception in 1925, the Federal income tax returns of Interstate contain deductions for depreciation which are substantially greater than the provisions for depreciation " recorded on the company's books.

53. Unless and until preferred stock dividends are in arrears for one year, the entire voting control of Interstate is vested in the common stock, each share of which is entitled to one vote.

54. As a result of dividend arrears, the preferred stock of Interstate has the right to elect two out of a total of seven directors.

It, therefore, tentatively appearing to the Commission, on the basis of the allegations hereinbefore set forth, that the holding company system of Ogden Corporation is not confined in its operations to those of a single integrated public utility system, within the meaning of the Act, or to those of a single integrated public utility system together with such additional integrated public utility systems as meet the requirements of section 11 (b) (1) and such other businesses as can be retained under the standards of section 11 (b), and that proceedings should be instituted under section 11 (b) (1) with respect to Ogden Corporation, holding company system; and

It further appearing to the Commission that the allegations hereinbefore set forth, that proceedings should be instituted under sections 11 (b) (2), 15 (f), and 20 (a) of the Act with respect to The Laclede Gas Light Company, Central States Utilities Corporation, Central States Power & Light Corporation, and Interstate Power Company to determine whether and what steps should be required to be taken by each of such companies pursuant to the provisions of said sections;

Wherefore it is ordered, That Ogden Corporation and each of its subsidiary companies hereinbefore named and included herein, all of which are hereby made Respondents in these proceedings, shall file with the Secretary of this Commission, on or before April 9, 1943, joint or several answers in the form prescribed by Rule U-25, admitting, denying, or otherwise explaining their respective positions as to each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 54 hereof.

VII

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to the plan filed by Ogden Corporation and subsidiary companies pursuant to section 11 (e).

It further appearing to the Commission that the proceedings instituted by it herein under sections 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2), 15 (f), and 20 (a) of the Act, and the proceedings in respect of the plan filed by Ogden Corporation pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act involve common questions of law and fact and should be consolidated.

It further is ordered, That such proceedings be, and the same hereby are, consolidated.

VIII

It is further ordered, That hearings on such matters, under the applicable provisions of the Act and the Rules of the Commission thereunder, be held on the 13th day of April, 1943, at 10:00 a. m. ewt., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day, the hearing-room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, that Paul Littlefield, or any other officer or officers designated by the Commission to preside at such hearing, shall exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the proceedings herein instituted by the Commission, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

(a) Whether the allegations set forth in paragraphs numbered 1 to 54, inclusive, in this notice and order are true and accurate;

(b) Whether the utility properties of Central States Power & Light Corporation, Missouri Electric Power Company, The Derby Gas and Electric Company, The Wallingford Gas Light Company, Interstate Power Company and its subsidiaries, The Laclede Gas Light Company, Laclede Power & Light Company, and Missouri Natural Gas Company constitute more than a single integrated public utility system and systems additional thereto, control of which may be retained by Ogden under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act;

(c) Whether the businesses conducted by and operations of the non-utility subsidiaries of Ogden are reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of any of the utility systems of the companies named in paragraph (b) above;

(d) Whether an order should be entered requiring the recapitalization of The Laclede Gas Light Company and Interstate Power Company for the purpose of fairly and equitably distributing voting power among security holders of such companies;

(e) Whether the continued existence of Central States Utilities Corporation and Central States Power & Light Corporation is not an unnecessary corporate complexity in the Ogden holding company system and whether such companies should be liquidated and dissolved;

(f) Whether, in view of all the facts and circumstances concerning the interests of Ogden Corporation in Interstate Power Company (Del.), Central States Utilities Corporation, Central States Power & Light Corporation, and Laclede Power & Light Company, it is necessary or appropriate that in determining the allocation of the securities or assets in liquidation of such companies, as between Ogden Corporation and other security holders, the interests held by Ogden Corporation in such companies should be subordinated in whole or in part to the claims of other security holders, or otherwise accorded participation in a manner different than their relative priorities.

(g) Whether the plan filed by Ogden and subsidiaries pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before the 6th day of April 1943, his request or application therefor, as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules or Practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and hereby is reserved to separate, either in whole or in part, or for disposition in whole or in part, any of the issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt, and economic disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this Order to Ogden and its various subsidiaries, the Public Utility Commissions of the states of Connecticut, Illinois, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin, not less than 10 days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of the hearing; and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to Ogden and its subsidiaries, to their security holders, and to all consumers of Ogden and its subsidiaries, to all state municipalities and political subdivisions of states within which is located any of the physical assets of said companies or under the laws of which any of said companies is incorporated, all State Commissions, State Securities Commissions, and all agencies, authorities and instrumentalities of one or more states, municipalities, or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over Ogden or its subsidiaries or any of the businesses, affairs or operations of any of them, that such notice shall be given further by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than ten days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of hearing.

By the Commission.

COLUMBIA GAS AND ELECTRIC CORP., ET AL.

ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION AS TO ATTORNEY'S FEES AND EXPENSES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 22d day of March 1943.

In the matter of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation, Columbia Oil & Gasoline Corporation, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, et al.

The Commission having, by its orders dated January 21, 1942 and October 2, 1942 issued in the above-entitled proceeding, reserved jurisdiction relating to the payment of fees and expenses incurred by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company in connection with the transactions it proposed to consummate as a part of such proceeding; and having by said orders, directed the filing of supplemental data as to the reasonableness of the fees and expenses to be paid; and

Counsel for Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Edward N. Gadsby) having submitted an itemized statement of the work performed and the disbursements and expenses incurred, and having indicated that he would accept in lieu of an aggregate of $32 000 claimed by his firm for legal services rendered Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company in connection with the proceedings the aggregate sum of $26.000 and an aggregate of $1465.76 of expenses, in full payment for such services; and the Commission having examined this data and having considered the reduction in the amount of said fees so consented to by said attorneys; and it appearing to the Commission that no adverse findings are required in respect of the payment of such expenses and fees as so reduced;

It is ordered, That Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company be and it is hereby authorized to pay Edward N. Gadsby the aggregate sum of $26.000 in full payment and discharge of his claim for legal services rendered in connection with the above-entitled proceedings and to pay the sum of $1465.76, representing the expenses and disbursements incurred.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and it is hereby released with respect to said fees and expenses subject, however, to the conditions prescribed by Rule U-24.

VOLUME 8 NUMBER 59

Washington, Thursday, March 25, 1943

The President

PROCLAMATION 2579

CANCER CONTROL MONTH—1943

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Public Resolution 82, 75th Congress, approved March 28, 1938 (52 Stat. 148), authorizes and requests the President to issue annually a proclamation setting apart the month of April of each year as Cancer Control Month and to invite similar action on the part of the Governors of the several States, Territories, and possessions of the United States; and

WHEREAS in time of war we may forget the persistent menace of our less spectacular enemy, disease; and

WHEREAS cancer, as our second greatest cause of death, kills each year in the United States more than 150,000 people; and

WHEREAS thousands of deaths by that scourge would be prevented each year if men and women would pledge themselves to regular medical examination:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby set apart the month of April 1943 as Cancer Control Month; and I invite similar action on the part of the Governors of the several States, Territories, and possessions of the United States. And I call upon the medical profession, the schools and colleges, the press, the radio, the motion-picture industry, and all agencies and individuals interested in a national campaign for the control of cancer to spread the knowledge of the early symptoms of the disease and to publish information about the location and function of clinics and other health facilities engaged in the warfare on cancer.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 22d day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-seventh.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter VII—Personnel

PART 73—APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSIONED OFFICERS, WARRANT OFFICERS, AND CHAPLAINS

WARRANT OFFICERS, MARITIME AND MARITIME ENGINEER TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT IN THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES

Section 73.371 to 73.374, inclusive, are added as follows:

§ 73.371 General. (a) The classifications warrant officer, maritime and maritime engineer, will apply to temporary warrant officers only.

(b) Warrant officers, maritime, will be appointed to fill vacancies in marine grades as master, first mate, and third mate; and warrant officers, maritime engineer, in marine grades as chief engineer, first assistant engineer, second assistant engineer, and third assistant engineer, in the authorized military crews of tactical boat units and certain Transportation Corps boats.

(c) Examining boards may, in appropriate cases, conduct examinations and make recommendations for changes in the highest marine grade (see (b) above) for which a warrant officer, maritime, or a warrant officer, maritime engineer, is qualified. (Act of August 21, 1941, Public

§ 73.372 Eligibility. Eligibility requirements for appointment as temporary warrant officer, maritime or maritime engineer, will be as follows:

(a) Leadership. An applicant must have demonstrated positive qualities of leadership.

(b) Character. No applicant who has been sentenced to confinement in a penitentiary, or who has been convicted in any civil or military court for an offense denounced as a felony will be eligible for appointment. Evidence of the applicant's character while in the military service will be considered, in forwarding applications.

(c) Age. An applicant must have attained his 18th birthday and must not have passed his 60th birthday on the date of appointment.

(d) Citizenship. An applicant must be a citizen of the United States or of the Philippine Islands or a citizen of a cobelligerent or friendly country who otherwise possesses the same qualifications as a citizen of the United States.

(e) Service. The applicant need not be serving in the Army of the United States nor have had prior service therein.

(f) Physical. The standard of final type physical examination will be that required for commission in the Army of the United States. The commanders authorized to appoint temporary warrant officers and those commanders to whom they delegate this authority are authorized to take final action in the granting of waivers for minor physical defects.

(g) Education and experience. An applicant must have such education or practical experience as will insure his satisfactory performance of the duties in the classification for which application is made. (Act of August 21, 1941, Public Law, 230, 77th Congress; 55 Stat. 651; 10 U.S.C. Sup. 593a.) [Par. 20, AR 610–15, February 27, 1943]

§ 73.373 Appointment. (a) The appointing authority will issue letters of temporary appointment as warrant officers, junior grade to fill existing vacancies in the appropriate classifications within his command.

(b) Applicants who successfully meet all requirements for appointment but who are not appointed will be issued a certificate of eligibility. These certificates may be accepted at the discretion of appointing authorities in lieu of final examinations (technical) at any time within 1 year from the date of last examinations in which the applicant qualified. (Act of August 21, 1941, Public Law 230, 77th Congress; 55 Stat. 651; 10 U.S.C. Sup. 593a.) [Par. 8, AR 610–15, February 27, 1943]

§ 73.374 Termination. Persons appointed warrant officers, maritime and maritime engineer, direct from civilian life will be returned to the place of appointment at which place termination will become effective. (Act of August 21, 1941, Public Law 230, 77th Congress; 55 Stat. 651; 10 U.S.C. Sup. 593a.) [Par. 25 AR 610–15, February 27, 1943]

PART 77—MEDICAL AND DENTAL ATTENDANCE

CERTAIN ARMY HOSPITAL REGULATIONS

Sections 77.15 (b) (1), (5), and (7), 77.18 (a), 77.19 (e), and 77.20 (a) are hereby amended as follows. The regulations in these sections are also contained in Army Regulations No. 40–590 February 2, 1942, as amended by C 6, March 4, 1943, the particular paragraph being shown in brackets at end of sections.

§ 77.15 Persons who may be admitted to Army hospitals—(a) General. When suitable facilities for hospitalization are available, sick and injured persons enumerated in paragraph (b) of this section may be admitted to Army hospitals, except that admissions to the Army and Navy General Hospital, Hot Springs, Ark., and to the Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colo., will be governed by special provisions relating to these hospitals, as published in §§ 77.24 and 77.27, respectively.

(b) List. (1) Officers, Army nurses, warrant officers, cadets of the United States Military Academy, aviation cadets, enlisted men in the Army, members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps while in active Federal Service, and militarized female personnel of the Medical Department; also contract surgeons serving full time. The admission of retired personnel on inactive status will be limited to cases which, in the judgment of the commanding officer of the hospital, will be benefited by hospitalization for a reasonable time. Those requiring merely domiciliary care by reason of age or chronic invalidism will not be admitted. Officers on the Emergency Officers' Retired List and officers retired under the provisions of the act of April 3, 1939 (53 Stat. 557; 10 U. S. C. 456) are not admissible except under the provisions of subparagraphs (16) or (20) of this paragraph.

* * * * *

(5) Officers, commissioned warrant officers, and members of the Navy Nurse Corps, warrant officers, enlisted men of the Navy or Marine Corps, and militarized female personnel of the Navy in active service or on retired, inactive, or leave (furlough) status, including enlisted men transferred to the Fleet Naval Reserve after 16 or more years of service as follows:

* * * * *

(7) Officers, cadets, and enlisted men of the United States Coast Guard, and militarized female personnel of the United States Coast Guard, on active duty, including those on shore duty, and those on detached duty, upon written authorization of the responsible Coast Guard officer. [Par. 6]

* * * * *

§ 77.18 Subsistence and other charges for patients—(a) Subsistence charges. The following is the schedule of rates for subsistence charges for patients in Medical Department establishments (except the Army and Navy and the Fitzsimons General Hospitals), who are not entitled to commutation of rations under the provisions of Army Regulations. Rates for patients in the Army and Navy and the Fitzsimons General Hospitals will be found in §§ 77.24 and 77.27.

(1) For officers, Army nurses, militarized female personnel of the Medical Department on an officer status and officers of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, warrant officers, cadets of the United States Military Academy, and aviation cadets, $1 a day, except in mobile hospital units, where the rate will be an amount equal to the commutation rate prescribed in Army Regulations. Retired enlisted men who have been advanced on the retired list to commissioned or warrant grades under the provisions of the act of Congress approved May 7, 1932, will be subsisted as officer patients unless they elect to be subsisted on enlisted status. See subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(2) For officers, militarized female personnel on an officer status, members of the Navy Nurse Corps, commissioned warrant officers, and warrant officers of the Navy and Marine Corps, active or retired, the same rates as prescribed for officers of the Army in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) For retired enlisted men of the Army, for enlisted men of the Navy and Marine Corps, and for militarized female personnel of the Navy and Marine Corps on an enlisted status, active or retired, an amount per day equal to the commutation rate prescribed in Army Regulations. [Par. 12*a*]

* * * * *

§ 77.19 Civilian hospital employees. * * *

(e) Rations. Whenever it is found necessary or deemed desirable, civilian employees, irrespective of their rate of pay, may be either furnished meals at the hospital, or, by special authority of The Surgeon General in exceptional circumstances, furnished with a ration in kind; Provided, That deductions are taken from their pay for such subsistence or ration, or that reimbursement in cash is received. Civilian employees permitted or required to take meals regularly at the hospital will have appropriate deductions made from their gross compensation. Civilian employees permitted to take an occasional meal at the hospital will make reimbursement to the hospital fund in cash. The deductions for subsistence will be made according to the evaluation set forth in AR 35–3840.[1] The cash value of subsistence furnished will be determined by The Surgeon General. [Par. 13*c*]

§ 77.20 Laundry—(a) General. The hospital laundry will consist of:

(1) The linen, clothing, and bedding belonging to the Medical Department.

(2) The washable clothing of enlisted men while patients in the hospital.

(3) The white coats and trousers of enlisted attendants.

(4) The uniforms of civilian nurses, paid from Veterans' Administration or Civilian Conservation Corps funds, employed in the hospital.

(5) Washable clothing of civilian attendants when their contracts of employment entitle them to this service. [Par. 14*a*]

Chapter II—Administration of Civil Aeronautics, Department of Commerce

[Amendment 20]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

REDESIGNATION OF WIDTH OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

MARCH 13, 1943.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 302 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, I hereby amend Part 600 of the Regulations of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics as follows:

By amending § 600.10 (a) to read as follows:

§ 600.10 (a) Scope. Each civil airway shall include the navigable airspace of the United States above all that area on the surface of the earth lying within five miles of the center line prescribed for each such airway, but shall not include any of the airspace of an airspace reservation set apart as provided in section 4 of the Air Commerce Act of 1926.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. w. t., April 1, 1943.

C. I. STANTON,
Administrator.

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A–1865]

PART 343—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 23

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Ordered granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 23 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Andersen Mine and for a change in the shipping point for the Cle Elum (Curry) Mine.

On February 6, 1943 the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 23 filed a petition pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Andersen Mine (Mine Index No. 176) of code member, Andersen Coal Mines, Inc., in Subdistrict "F" in District No. 23; and for a change in the shipping point previously established for the coals of the Cle Elum (Curry) Mine (Mine Index No. 110) of code member Curry, Robert (Cle Elum Coal Company) in Subdistrict "A" in District No. 23.

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and no petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and the following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 343.4 (Code member price index) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 343.21 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That the price classifications and minimum prices heretofore established for the coals of the Cle Elum (Curry) Mine (Mine Index No. 110) of code member Robert Curry, when produced for rail shipment shall henceforth be applicable only when such coals are shipped from Cle Elum, Washington, Northern Pacific Railroad, Freight Origin Group 60 in lieu of Roslyn, Washington, Northern Pacific Railroad, Freight Origin Group 60, the shipping point heretofore shown for that mine.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter A—General Provisions

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[War Production Board Regulation 1, as Amended March 24, 1943]

DELEGATION OF POWERS AND RATIFICATION OF PREVIOUS ACTIONS

Section 903.0, War Production Board Regulation No. 1, as amended February 13, 1943, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

§ 903.0 War Production Board Regulation 1. (a) The Executive Vice Chairman of the War Production Board may, in his own name, perform the functions and exercise all the powers, authority, and discretion now or hereafter vested in the Chairman of the War Production Board (including the amendment of this Regulation), except those conferred upon the Chairman by Public Law 603, 77th Congress (Smaller War Plants Act).

(b) All actions taken in performance of the functions or in exercise of the powers, authority and discretion now or hereafter vested in the Chairman of the War Production Board which are not taken in the name of the Chairman, or in the name of the Executive Vice Chairman pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Regulation, shall be taken in the name of the War Production Board, countersigned or attested by the Executive Secretary or the Recording Secretary of the War Production Board, except:

(1) Action under Public Law 603 referred to in paragraph (a) of this Regulation, or

(2) Action taken pursuant to paragraphs (c) or (d) of this regulation.

(c) The Chairman or Executive Vice Chairman of the War Production Board may authorize appropriate officials of the regional and district offices of the War Production Board to perform such functions and exercise such powers, authority and discretion now or hereafter vested in the Chairman as he may prescribe, either in the name of such officials or otherwise, and subject to such restrictions or conditions as he may impose.

(d) The Chairman or the Executive Vice Chairman of the War Production Board may authorize any agency of the United States Government outside of the War Production Board, or any official of such agency, to perform such functions and exercise such powers, authority and discretion now or hereafter vested in the Chairman as he may prescribe, in such manner and subject to such restrictions or conditions as he may impose.

PART 962—IRON AND STEEL

[Supplementary Order M-21-a, as Amended March 24 1943]

ALLOY IRON, ALLOY STEEL AND ELECTRIC FURNACE CARBON STEEL

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1 as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040; 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719, sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

§ 962.2 Supplementary Order M-21-a—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Alloy steel" means any steel containing any one or more of the following elements in the following amounts:

Manganese, maximum of range in excess of 1.65%. Silicon, maximum of range in excess of 0.60%. Copper, maximum of range in excess of 0.60%. Aluminum, chromium, cobalt, columbium, molybdenum, nickel, titanium, tungsten, vanadium, zirconium, or any other alloying element in any amount specified or known to have been added to obtain a desired alloying effect.

(2) "Alloy iron" means any iron containing any one or more of the following elements in the following amounts:

Manganese, maximum of range in excess of 1.65%. Silicon, maximum of range in excess of 5.00%. Copper, maximum of range in excess of 0.60%. Aluminum, chromium, cobalt, columbium, molybdenum, nickel, titanium, tungsten, vanadium, zirconium, or any other alloying element in any amount specified or known to have been added to obtain a desired alloying effect

It does not include those materials commonly known as ferro-alloys.

(3) "Electric furnace carbon steel" means any steel other than alloy iron or alloy steel that is melted in any type of electric furnace.

(4) "Producer" means any person who melts alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel for subsequent conversion into rolled or forged products.

(b) Purchasers' statements. Each person who orders alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel from a producer shall include in the purchaser's statement required by paragraph (c) of General Preference Order M-21 the end use (by general classification and specific part name) for which such material will be used, the Government contract number (if any), and the date on which delivery is needed.

(c) Producers' forms. Each producer shall file monthly with the War Production Board, Reference: M-21-a, melting schedules on forms PD-391, 391-a, and such other forms as may be from time to time prescribed. The Director General for Operations may make such changes in any melting schedule as to him shall seem appropriate and may from time to time issue supplementary directions with regard to melting of alloy iron, alloy steel and electric furnace carbon steel.

(d) Melting and deliveries of alloy iron, alloy steel and electric furnace carbon steel. Except pursuant to specific authorization or direction of the Director General for Operations, alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel, shall be melted and delivered as follows:

(1) Each producer shall melt alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel in accordance and only in accordance with such melting schedules as are approved by the Director General for Operations or such supplementary directions as may from time to time be issued by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Each producer shall deliver alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel on an order and only on an order for which the melting has been specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations.

(e) Special directions. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue directions as to facilities to be used in production and directions specifying as to any alloying element the quantities and proportions which may be used in making alloy iron or alloy steel, and whether and in what proportions, any such element is to be the metal, a ferro-alloy, reclaimed metal, scrap, a chemical compound or any other material containing such element.

(f) Restrictions of deliveries under toll agreements. Except pursuant to specific authorization or direction of the Director General for Operations, no person shall make or accept delivery under any toll agreement whereby one person melts alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel for another person.

(g) Exceptions. The provisions of this order shall not apply to "tool steel" as defined by Supplementary Order M-21-h, or to alloy iron, alloy steel or electric furnace carbon steel castings.

(h) Special provisions with respect to stainless steel. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this order, and regardless of the approval of any melting schedule, no person melting stainless steel (including castings) shall use ferrochrome (including all prepared forms of chromium) in the melting of stainless steel to an extent where the aggregate chromium content derived from ferrochrome for all stainless steel melted by him in any calendar month exceeds 60 percent of the chromium content of all high carbon stainless steel (carbon over .10 percent) melted by him during such month, plus 70 percent of the chromium content of all low carbon stainless steel (carbon .10 percent maximum) melted by him during such month.

(i) Special provisions with respect to all alloy steel, except stainless and tool steel. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this order, and regardless of the approval of any melting schedule, each person melting alloy steel (including castings) shall use each calendar month in the melting of alloy steel (other than stainless and tool steel) alloy steel turnings in an amount not less than 8 percent, including alloy steel machine shop turnings in an amount not less than 4 percent, of the total weight of ingots and castings of alloy steel (other than stainless and tool steel) produced by him during such month.

Effective date. This order, as amended, shall become effective April 1, 1943.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER, Director General for Operations.

PART 982—MINES AND SMELTERS

[Preference Rating Order P-73, as Amended March 24, 1943]

NONFERROUS SMELTERS AND REFINERS

Preference Rating Order P-73, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply, for defense, for private account, and for export, of materials used in the operation of nonferrous smelters and refiners, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States:

§ 982.2 Preference Rating Order P-73—(a) Definitions. (1) "Producer" means a person actually producing any metal listed in Schedule A by smelting or refining processes, and to whom a serial number has been issued as provided in paragraph (d) hereof.

(2) "Maintenance, repair and operating supplies" means material used for any of the following purposes by a producer in connection with his production of any metal listed in Schedule A by smelting or refining processes:

(i) Minimum upkeep necessary to continue the working condition of essential property or equipment;

(ii) Restoration of essential property or equipment to a sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction or failure of parts, or the like have made the property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service;

(iii) Where such material is essential to and consumed or worn out in such operation.

(3) "Priorities assistance" means any preference rating, allotment under the Controlled Materials Plan, or other form of authorization to acquire material, issued by or under authority of the War Production Board.

(b) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this order is to provide procedures for producers to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies, and other machinery and equipment.

(c) CMP Regulation No. 5 not applicable. None of the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 5 shall apply to any producer and no producer shall obtain any material under said regulation.

(d) Issuance of serial numbers. Persons actually producing any metal listed in Schedule A by smelting or refining processes may apply to the War Production Board for serial numbers. Serial numbers may be issued to such persons and may be denied or cancelled by the Director General for Operations in appropriate cases. In taking such action and in granting priorities assistance, the Director General will consider the importance to national defense of the present and prospective output of materials to be produced, the consumption of critical material involved, and the importance to national defense of competing demands for such material.

(e) Priorities assistance—(1) Maintenance, repair and operating supplies. Producers shall apply for priorities assistance for maintenance, repair and operating supplies by filing form PD-760.

(2) Other equipment. Producers shall apply for priorities assistance for machinery or equipment other than maintenance, repair and operating supplies by submitting to the War Production Board a written application describing the machinery or equipment needed, the reasons why such machinery or equipment is essential for the proper operation of the producer's plant, and such other or further information as may from time to time be required, including such forms or information as may be required by the provisions of any other order with respect to any particular type of equipment.

(3) Emergency procedure. In case of breakdown, imminent breakdown or other emergency, application for priorities assistance may be made by telegraph.

(4) Grant of priorities assistance. On each application, the Director General will grant such priorities assistance as he deems appropriate.

(5) Restrictions on use of priorities assistance. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, including CMP Regulation No. 5, no producer shall acquire any maintenance, repair, or operating supplies or other machinery or equipment through use of a preference rating or other form of priorities assistance assigned otherwise than pursuant to this order or an order in the P-19 series.

(f) Application and extension of priorities assistance. Preference ratings assigned and allotments of controlled materials made pursuant to this order shall be applied, extended or made in accordance with the terms of Priorities Regulation No. 3, CMP Regulation No. 1, or other relevant War Production Board regulation. A producer in making use of any such priorities assistance, shall endorse on his contract or purchase order "P–73, Serial Number ------," inserting in the blank his serial number hereunder. The use of such endorsement by a producer shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35A of the Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80), that the item ordered will be used for the purpose for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it.

(g) Restrictions on use and resale. No person shall use any material obtained pursuant to this order for any purpose other than that for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it; and no person shall resell any such material except to a producer, or with the specific approval of the Mining Equipment Division.

(h) Records, audits, and reports. Each producer shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of all transactions affected by this order, and shall submit from time to time to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. Each producer shall execute and file with the War Production Board or other designated agency such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may from time to time require.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by letter referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Communications. All reports and applications hereunder and all other communications with respect to this order shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, be addressed to War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Reference: P–73.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1041—PRODUCTION, TRANSPORTATION, REFINING AND MARKETING OF PETROLEUM

[Preference Rating Order P–98–c, as Amended March 24 1943]

Section 1041.3 Preference Rating Order P–98–c is hereby amended to read as follows:

To facilitate sales of idle or excess materials, equipment and facilities by persons engaged in the petroleum industry to other persons engaged in the petroleum industry and to control the acquisition of materials by persons engaged in the petroleum industry, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national war effort:

§ 1041.3 Preference Rating Order P–98–c—(a) Definitions. (1) "Operator" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the petroleum industry.

(2) "Surplus material" means any new or used item of material (including without limitation equipment and facilities) usable for purposes other than scrap which is not required or scheduled for use during the succeeding 90 days.

(3) All other definitions of Preference Rating Order P–98–b shall apply in this order.

(b) Sales of material between operators. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, as amended from time to time, any operator may sell or transfer to any operator material from the seller's or transferor's stocks or inventories, and any such sale or transfer shall be expressly permitted within the terms of Priorities Regulation No. 13, as amended from time to time.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation Nos. 1 and 13, as amended from time to time, any operator may sell or transfer to any supplier, for direct sale or transfer by the supplier to another operator, material from the stocks or inventories of the operator.

(3) Where any material is to be used by an operator outside of the United States, its territories or possessions, no operator may sell, transfer or accept delivery of such material under the provisions of this paragraph (b) unless Form PD–470 is filed with the Petroleum Administration for War prior to any such sale or transfer. For the purposes of this subparagraph Form PD–470 will be treated as an information form only and not as an application.

(c) Restrictions on acquisition and use of materials. (1) The provisions of CMP Regulation No. 2 and paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 5 shall not be applicable to the sale, delivery, or transfer of material or the use of implementing documents under the provisions of this order. The following provisions of this paragraph (c) shall apply.

(2) No operator or supplier may deliver to any operator, and no operator may accept delivery of, any material for ultimate use in the United States, its territories or possessions, or the Dominion of Canada, in a quantity which if accepted by the operator would result in surplus material for that operator.

(3) No operator may submit a contract or purchase order, effect a sale or transfer authorized by the provisions of paragraph (b) of this order, or apply or extend priorities assistance to obtain delivery of any material for ultimate use in the United States, its territories or possessions or the Dominion of Canada in a quantity which if accepted by the operator would result in surplus material for that operator.

(4) On and after May 1, 1943, no operator who is required to obtain a serial number under the provisions of the PAW-Materials Redistribution Program No. 2 may submit a contract or purchase order, effect a sale or transfer authorized by the provisions of paragraph (b) of this order, or apply priorities assistance to obtain delivery of any material unless such serial number has been assigned and is in effect prior to such submission, sale, transfer or application of priorities assistance and the serial number is clearly identified upon the contract, purchase order or other document used in completing the transaction.

(5) Any operator or supplier may deliver to any operator, and any operator may accept delivery of, material for ultimate use outside of the United States, its territories or possessions, or the Dominion of Canada only where the operator accepting delivery of such material secures priorities assistance in conformity with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 9 and Forms PD–311 or PD–311–c, as they may be amended from time to time.

(d) Participation in Materials Redistribution Program. Where any material is to be used by an operator in the United States, its territories or possessions, such operator shall file such applications as are required by the PAW-Materials Redistribution Program No. 2 and shall participate in such program to the extent required by its terms and provisions. Any operator required to obtain a serial number under the provisions of the PAW-Materials Redistribution Program No. 2 may be deprived of priorities assistance where a determination has been made that such operator has surplus material which he has not made available for redistribution in accordance with such program.

(e) Communications and appeals. (1) All reports which may be required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed:

(i) By any person located in the United States, its territories or possessions, or elsewhere other than the Dominion of Canada to: Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., Ref.: P–98–c.

(ii) By any person located in the Dominion of Canada to: Office of Oil Controller, Dominion of Canada, Toronto, Canada, Ref.: P–98–c.

(2) Any person affected by this order or the applicable provisions of Part 1 of the PAW–Materials Redistribution Program No. 2, who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may file an appeal with the Petroleum Administration for War, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. Such appeal shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the Director of Materials, Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., Ref.: P–98–c. Action with respect to this order and the PAW–Materials Redistribution Program No. 2 may thereupon be taken as is deemed appropriate.

(f) Applicability of orders and regulations. Except as provided in paragraph (c) (1), this order does not authorize acquisition, receipt or use of any material by any person in violation of any inventory, quota or use restrictions imposed by any order or regulation. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the applicable provisions of any regulation issued by the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the Director General for Operations in connection with this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Amendment 1 to Preference Rating Order P–55]

§ 1075.7 Housing construction materials. Preference Rating Order P–55, as amended February 12, 1943, and, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (f) thereof, all preference rating orders of the P–55 series heretofore issued, are hereby amended by striking out paragraph (c), which requires countersignature on purchase orders by an authorized governmental official.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

PART 1261—LABORATORY EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–144 as Amended March 24, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of laboratory equipment and the materials entering into the manufacture thereof for the war effort, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1261.1 General Limitation Order L–144—(a) Definition. For the purpose of this order:

"Laboratory equipment" means material, instruments, appliances, devices, parts thereof, tools and operating supplies for laboratories, or for use in connection with operations usually carried on in laboratories, not including second-hand items. The term does not include reagent chemicals which are defined as any chemical prepared and packed for reagent use in laboratories.

(b) General restrictions. (1) No person shall sell, deliver, rent, purchase, acquire or accept delivery of laboratory equipment in which there is incorporated or used aluminum, chromium, copper, iron, magnesium, molybdenum, nickel, steel, tantalum, tin, titanium, any alloy of said metals, rubber, neoprene or other synthetic rubber, or non-cellulose base synthetic plastics, except: (i) pursuant to a purchase order or contract having certified thereon a statement in the following form, signed manually, or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

CERTIFICATION

The laboratory equipment herein ordered will be used or sold in conformity with the provisions of General Limitation Order No. L–144, with the terms of which the undersigned is familiar.

Name ----------
By ----------
Signature of duly authorized official

or,

(ii) Pursuant to a purchase order or contract from the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development, or the government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom, including its Dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates, and Yugoslavia.

(2) No person shall make the certification described in the foregoing paragraph for the acquisition of any item or quantity of the same item of laboratory equipment having a value of $50.00 or more, except for resale, or when authorized by the Director General for Operations under paragraph (b) (2) (vi) of this order pursuant to application on Form PD–620; nor shall any person make said certification for the acquisition of any laboratory equipment except for resale or use for one or more of the following purposes:

(i) Research on, or production, analysis or testing of, materials.

(ii) Research by or for the United States Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or any other department, or agency of the government of the United States, or of any foreign country entitled to deliveries under the Act of Congress of March 11, 1941, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(iii) [Revoked March 24, 1943.]

(iv) To the extent necessary for the replacement of essential existing equipment in laboratories affecting the public health, and in United States government, state, county, and municipal laboratories.

(v) To the extent necessary for repair parts and operating supplies for the maintenance of existing essential equipment and activities in laboratories.

(vi) For any use which the Director General for Operations determines is necessary and appropriate in the public interest, pursuant to application on Form PD–620.

(3) Said certification shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and to the person with whom the purchase order or contract is placed, that the subject matter of the order or contract will be used or sold in accordance with the provisions of this order. Every person concerned shall be entitled to rely on said certification, unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(4) No manufacturer shall use any scarce material described in foregoing paragraph (b) (1), where and to the extent that the use of other material is practicable.

(c) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944) as amended from time to time except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(d) Records. All persons to whom this order applies shall keep and preserve for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales, including copies of each purchase order or contract containing the certification hereinabove referred to.

(e) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(f) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal to the War Production Board setting forth pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder or communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed be addressed to War Production Board, Safety and Technical Equipment Division, Technical and Scientific Equipment Section, Washington, D. C.: Ref.: L–144.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

PART 3156—CATTLE HIDE LEATHER AND CATTLE HIDE LEATHER PRODUCTS

[Revocation of Conservation Order M-273-a]

Section 3156.2 Conservation Order M-273-a is hereby revoked.

This action shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability or penalty accrued or incurred under said Order M-273-a.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1312—LUMBER AND LUMBER PRODUCTS

[MPR 348]

LOGS AND BOLTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

§ 1312.401 Maximum prices for logs and bolts. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 348 (Logs and Bolts), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1312.401 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871

MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 348—LOGS AND BOLTS

SECTION 1 Sales of logs and bolts at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after April 23, 1943, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver to any plant, and no plant shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any logs or bolts at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person or plant shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things. However, if a contract for sale of logs or bolts was made before March 23, 1943, at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, the seller may apply by letter to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. for permission to deliver under the contract, at the contract price, until and including June 23, 1943. The application must include a copy of the contract, or a summary of all the terms of the contract. Permission may be granted by letter or telegram.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged or paid.

(c) If logs or bolts have been received before April 23, 1943, by a carrier, other than one owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment is not subject to this regulation.

SEC. 2 To what products, transactions, and persons this regulation applies—(a) Products covered by the regulation. This regulation covers, under the term "logs and bolts", all diameters, lengths, grades and species of logs and bolts produced or cut anywhere in the United States. It applies to logs or bolts sold on any type of measure, including log scale, lumber scale, standards, or cubic volume (such as cord measurement). However, it specifically does not apply to the following:

(1) West Coast logs covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 161 (West Coast Logs) [1] or any amendment or revision of that regulation;

(2) Prime grade hardwood logs covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 313 (Prime Grade Hardwood Logs) [2] or any amendment or revision of that regulation;

(3) Sequoia or California Redwood logs and bolts;

(4) Pulpwood of any species sold for manufacture into woodpulp or pulp products;

(5) Logs and bolts sold for use as firewood or fuel;

(6) Posts, poles or piling of any species sold for use as posts, poles, or piling.

(b) Transactions covered by the regulation. This regulation covers all purchases of logs and bolts by plants which convert logs or bolts into finished or unfinished wood or chemical products, other than woodpulp or pulp products. It also covers all sales of logs and bolts to these plants.

(c) Persons covered by the regulation. Any person who makes the kind of sale or purchase covered by this regulation is subject to the regulation. The term "person" includes: an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or their legal successors, or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of the foregoing.

SEC. 3 Maximum prices—(a) In general. The highest price which any buying plant can pay for logs or bolts is the average price which that buying plant paid during September and October 1942 for the same species and grade of logs or bolts. This ceiling price is also the highest price which any seller can charge for logs or bolts sold to this particular buying plant. The term "buying plant" means any sawmill, veneer factory, stave mill, or any other operation which converts logs or bolts into finished or unfinished wood or chemical products, other than woodpulp or pulp products. If a company owns plants at more than one location, each plant shall be considered a separate buying plant.

The paragraphs that follow explain how to apply the general rule in figuring the ceiling price.

(b) How to figure grades and scale—(1) In general. Each buying plant must use the same scaling and grading rules and practices which it used during September and October 1942. In working out the grades which it used, a buying plant should consider only the species and the physical qualities of logs and bolts (such as length, diameter, and defects) which affected the prices the buying plant paid during September and October 1942. For example, if a buying plant during those two months paid the same price for all logs of a certain species, it has only one grade for this species. On the other hand, if it paid a higher price for logs 16 inches and over than for those under 16 inches in the same species, the larger logs would be one grade and the smaller logs another grade.

(2) Combination grades. A buying plant may buy logs or bolts on combination grades (such as "woods run"). However, the specifications of the combination grades must be the same as those used by the buying plant during September and October 1942.

(3) Grades for logs of a kind which the buying plant did not purchase during September and October 1942. In figuring grades for logs of a kind which a buying plant did not purchase during September and October 1942, a buying plant should use the same methods as those explained in the next paragraph for figuring average prices for these logs. That is, the buying plant should use the grades for these logs which the nearest competitive buying plant used during September and October 1942. (See subparagraph (2) of the next paragraph, "Competitor's price".) If grades for these logs cannot be figured in this manner, the buying plant should work out its own grades and send the details to the Office of Price Administration when the buying plant writes for an authorization of, or instruction to figure, an average price. (See subparagraph (3) of the next paragraph, Application to the Office of Price Administration.)

(c) How to figure the average price. The average price should be figured as follows:

(1) Purchased logs and bolts. If, during September and October 1942, the buying plant bought logs or bolts of the species and grade for which it is figuring an average price, the buying plant should add up the total delivered cost of all logs or bolts of that grade and species purchased during the two months, and divide this total by the total footage of these logs or bolts. In figuring the total cost of these logs or bolts, the buying plant is to include any charges paid for transporting the logs or bolts to the plant.

(2) Competitor's price. If, during September and October 1942, the buying plant did not buy logs or bolts of the species and grade for which it is figuring an average price, the buying plant should use the average price arrived at by the nearest competitive buying plant. A buying plant cannot use as a competitor a plant which is more than 50 miles away or which is engaged in a different kind of business. For example, a veneer factory is not a competitor of a sawmill, but is a competitor of another veneer mill located not more than 50 miles away. A buying plant must tell its average prices to a competitor upon request.

(3) Application to the Office of Price Administration. If an average price for logs or bolts of any grade or species cannot be figured under either of the two methods explained above, the buying plant should write a letter to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The letter should give the name of the species and a full description of the grade. The Office of Price Administration by letter or telegram will authorize, or instruct how to figure, an average price for the species and grade in question.

(d) Using average prices as maximum prices. The average prices for September and October 1942 are the maximum prices for logs or bolts delivered by the seller to the buying plant. This means that the seller cannot add to the maximum prices any charge for hauling logs or bolts to the buying plant.

(e) Reduction of maximum prices when the seller does not make delivery to the buying plant. If the buying plant takes delivery of logs or bolts away from the plant, the maximum price must be reduced by the amount which it costs the buyer to bring the logs or bolts to the plant.

SEC. 4 Posting, advertising and filing maximum prices—(a) Posting maximum prices. Every buying plant must display in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, log and bolt sellers, the maximum prices permitted under this regulation. The display shall be headed "Our Ceiling Prices for Buying Logs and Bolts",[3] and shall list the species, a full and complete description of all the grades, and the maximum price for each species and grade. Also, the display must be dated and include the following notations:

(1) These are the ceiling prices for logs and bolts[3] delivered to our plant located at ———. For logs and bolts not delivered to the plant, these ceiling prices must be reduced by our cost of bringing the logs and bolts to the plant.

(2) The Federal law prohibits our paying higher prices and makes it illegal for anyone to charge us higher prices. Our purchases are subject to inspection by Federal officials. A copy of this notice has been filed with the Federal Government.

(b) Advertising maximum prices. Every buying plant must send to each of its log and bolt suppliers a notice or handbill which contains all the information on the display required in the above paragraph (a).

(c) Filing maximum prices. A copy of the notice or handbill required in the above paragraph (b) must be filed with the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(d) Time limit. The things required in this section must be done before April 23, 1943.

SEC. 5 What the invoice or billing must contain. (a) All invoices and billings of logs or bolts must contain a sufficiently complete description of the logs or bolts covered to show whether the price is proper or not. This means that the invoices and billings must show the species (or that the sale was of a "mixed species"), the grade (or that the sale was of a combination grade), the net footage and the price of the logs or bolts purchased or sold. In addition, the invoices and billings must show to what place the seller delivered the logs or bolts, the date of sale, and the name and address of the buyer and seller.

(b) Any part of the information required on the invoice may be furnished in a tally sheet attached to and made part of the invoice.

(c) An invoice or billing may cover all logs or bolts delivered by the seller to a purchaser during a period of not more than two weeks.

(d) Either the buyer or seller may prepare the invoice or billing, but both have the responsibility for correct invoicing or billing.

(e) Failure to invoice properly is just as much a violation of this regulation as charging an excessive price.

SEC. 6 Records—(a) Billings and invoices. All invoices and billings must be made with two copies. Each buyer and seller must keep, as a record, one copy of all invoices and billings covering the logs or bolts purchased or sold. These must be kept for two years, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Purchase records for September and October 1942. Every buying plant must keep all records available on March 23, 1943, of purchases of logs and bolts during September and October 1942. These must be kept until April 1, 1945 for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7 Prohibited practices—(a) In general. Any practice which gets the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific prohibited practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Up-grading, up-scaling, or allowing a greater net scale footage than the actual scale content of the logs or bolts.

(2) Increasing the price of logs or bolts by failing to make an effort in good faith to collect advances to loggers. An advance to a logger is to be considered as part of the price of the logs or bolts to be supplied by the logger.

(3) Adding to the maximum prices a charge for grading, scaling, or inspection.

(c) Service commissions. It is unlawful for any person to charge or receive from a buying plant, or for a buying plant to pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating logs or bolts, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of logs or bolts, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buying plant which is higher than the maximum price of the logs or bolts. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price or value of the logs or bolts in connection with which the service is performed.

(d) Adjustable pricing. The price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at time of delivery. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect sometime after delivery of the logs or bolts has been completed. However, in the event a petition for amendment or adjustment has been filed which requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during consideration of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

(e) Credit terms. The maximum price cannot be increased for the extension of credit. The maximum price does not have to be reduced where the buyer purchases on cash terms.

(f) Purchases of stumpage and payments to loggers. It is a violation of this regulation for a buying plant to purchase stumpage and contract for the seller to cut the stumpage, if the total amount paid by the buying plant for the stumpage and the logging is higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation.

In all cases payments for contract logging are controlled by the General Maximum Price Regulation [4] or any amendment or revision of that regulation.

SEC. 8 Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts. (1) The term "government contracts" is here used to mean any contract with the United States or any of its agencies, or with the government or any government agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 1, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States". It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract.

(2) Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that the maximum price established in this regulation is impeding or threatens to impede production of logs or bolts which are essential to the war program and which are or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9 Establishment of dollars-and-cents prices by areas—(a) Petition for "area pricing". Any group of four or more buying plants, of any kind, may petition the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., to establish a system of dollars-and-cents prices by grades, sizes, and species for buying plants in an area of at least 400 square miles which contains at least five buying plants. The petition must relate to all grades, sizes, and species of logs and bolts bought by plants in that area, and must request establishment of a system of ceiling prices applicable to all buying plants in the area.

(b) Contents of petition. The petition must contain:

(1) A description of the exact boundaries of the area, and the reasons for the boundary lines chosen; that is, the reasons why the particular area constitutes a market area in which a single pricing system should prevail.

(2) Copies of the notices of maximum prices of the petitioning plants.

(3) A proposal of uniform grades with detailed specifications, uniform scaling rules, and a dollars-and-cents ceiling price system; and a comparison of these with the average prices, and the grades and rules prevailing in the area during the period September–October, 1942. The system proposed may contain price differentials within the area, based on differences in transportation rates, which will prevent diversion of logs as between buying plants in the area.

(4) A showing that the proposed prices will not cause diversion of logs or bolts away from buying plants in either this area or elsewhere.

(c) Notice and hearing. On receipt of a petition showing a proper case for the consideration of area pricing, the Office of Price Administration will send notices of the proposed prices, grades and scaling rules and area boundaries to all buying plants in and within 25 miles of the area whose maximum prices have been filed under section 4 (c) of this regulation. Within 20 days of the date of this notice, any person affected may submit objections to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. If there is any substantial volume of objection, the Office of Price Administration may hold a hearing on the proposal.

(d) Action on petition. The Price Administrator, if he believes the facts submitted justify such action, will establish a system of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices at a level in line with the general level of prices under this regulation, and establish uniform grades and scaling rules, for all buying plants in an appropriate area. The Price Administrator may depart from the original proposal, establish price differentials within an area, or set up a system based on sellers' prices for logs and bolts produced within a specified area, if necessary or proper to make the action fair and equitable and to prevent diversion. In considering requests for area pricing, the Price Administrator may consolidate petitions dealing with areas that are near each other. When a system of area pricing is approved, the prices, grades, scaling rules, and a description of the area will be published as an appendix to this regulation.

SEC. 10 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation. Persons who make sales covered by this regulation to war procurement agencies are, however, subject to all the liabilities imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This regulation shall become effective April 23, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 346 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

ROYAL CONTAINER COMPANY

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith: It is ordered:

§ 1499.1782 Authorization for Royal Container Company of San Francisco, California, to determine maximum prices for meat bags and lard bags, which products differ in use, serviceability or price range from other products delivered during March, 1942 by Royal Container Company, and also differ in use, serviceability or price range from products delivered by Royal Container Company's most nearly competitive manufacture during March, 1942. (a) The maximum prices which may be charged for meat bags and lard bags sold by Royal Container Company, hereinafter called "the manufacturer" shall be determined in accordance with the following instructions:

(1) The cost of raw materials should be computed at the cost of acquisition, which in no event shall exceed the appropriate maximum price established by the Office of Price Administration for such raw materials. All subsequent savings in the cost of raw materials shall be reflected in the maximum prices.

(2) All charges for hand or machine operations involved in the manufacture or conversion of the product shall be computed at a rate not to exceed the hourly rate at which such hand or machine operations were computed during the month of March, 1942, and the time allowance, or the resulting piece rates, for the operations shall not be in excess of those estimated or used during the month of March, 1942.

(3) The percentage margin or difference between total manufacturing costs and selling price, f. o. b. manufacturer's plant, shall not exceed that percentage margin used in determining a selling price for that item sold by the manufacturer during March, 1942 which most closely resembles the new meat bag and lard bag respectively in manufacturing cost, quantities of raw materials per unit, converting operations required and quantity of production.

(i) The manufacturer shall continue to grant its customary discounts, differentials and allowances to the different classes of purchasers in accordance with its accepted practice.

(ii) If the manufacturer's customary practice during March 1942 was to sell on a delivered basis, such practice shall be continued.

(b) Within ten days after a maximum price has been determined in accordance with this order Royal Container Company shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the maximum price as computed by it. The report shall set forth in detail a description of the new meat bag and lard bag respectively, a statement of the facts which differentiate these products from other commodities delivered during March 1942 by the manufacturer or by other competitive manufacturers of the same class, a computation of estimated costs, together with the percentage margin or difference between total manufacturing costs and selling price f. o. b. manufacturer's plant, the amount of transportation charges to be absorbed and also a statement indicating whether or not the method of handling freight charges is in line with the established policy of Royal Container Company for comparable commodities. The report shall also state the name of that commodity, delivered during March 1942 by the manufacturer, or by other competitive manufacturers of the same class, which is used to establish the proper percentage margin or difference between total manufacturing cost and selling price f. o. b. manufacturer's plant.

(c) Within ninety days after a maximum price has been determined in accordance with this Order, Royal Container Company shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report covering the actual manufacturing costs of the new meat bags and lard bags. The report shall cover the entire period during which the new meat bags and lard bags shall have been manufactured and any change in the allocation of freight charges and those set forth in the report required by (b) above shall be indicated.

(d) Any selling price determined under this order shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(e) This Order No. 346 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

(f) This Order No. 346 (§ 1499.1782) shall become effective March 24, 1943.

NUCO PAPER EXCELSIOR AND PAD COMPANY

Order 218 under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation; GF3-2457. For the reasons set forth in the opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1818 Adjustment of maximum prices of wood excelsior sold by Nuco Paper Excelsior and Pad Company. (a) On and after March 24, 1943, Nuco Paper Excelsior and Pad Company, 2505 East Eighteenth Street, Kansas City, Missouri, may sell and deliver and offer, agree, and attempt to sell and deliver, and any person may buy from the Nuco Paper Excelsior and Pad Company, wood excelsior at a price no higher than $26.00 per ton, in the grade known as standard grade, put up in bales averaging about sixty-five pounds to the bale. This price is f. o. b. the plant.

(b) The above price is subject to all customary discounts and allowances in use by the seller in March 1942.

(c) This Order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(d) This Order No. 218 (§ 1499.1818) is hereby incorporated as a section of Supplementary Section 14, which contains modifications of maximum prices established by § 1499.2.

(e) This Order No. 218 (§ 1499.1818) shall become effective on March 24, 1943.

[Docket No. B-282]

WEST VIRGINIA-PITTSBURGH COAL COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

Order granting application filed pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for disposition of proceeding without formal hearing, revoking and cancelling code membership and cancelling hearing.

A complaint dated June 6, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), having been duly filed on June 6, 1942, by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 6 (the "complainant") alleging that the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company, a code member (the "applicant") operating the Gilchrist and Locust Grove Mines, Mine Index Nos. 12 and 15, respectively, located in Brooke County, West Virginia, District No. 6, wilfully violated the provisions of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "code"), and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") and the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 6 For All Shipments Except Truck, as more fully set forth in the complaint; and

The complaint herein and notice of and order for hearing issued June 24, 1942, having been duly served on the code member on June 30, 1942, and the hearing herein noticed for August 4, 1942, having been postponed by order issued July 31, 1942, to a time and place to be thereafter designated by an appropriate order; and

Said code member having filed with the Division on July 20, 1942, its answer to the complaint herein in which it alleges that the transactions referred to in the complaint were consummated pursuant to written contracts entered into between it and the Weirton Steel Company made and entered into prior to June 16, 1933, as extended, which were exempt from the price provisions of the Act and from the effective minimum prices pursuant to Section 4 II (e) of the act; and

Said code member having filed with the Division on July 30, 1942, an application dated July 30, 1942 (the "application"), for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division; and

Notice dated October 27, 1942, of the filing of the application having been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 28, 1942, pursuant to said § 301.132, and copies of said notice having been duly mailed to interested parties, including the complainant herein; and said notice having provided that interested parties desiring to do so might within fifteen (15) days from the date thereof file recommendations or requests for informal conferences in respect to the application, and no such recommendations or requests having been filed with the Division; and

It appearing from the application that the applicant admits, for the purpose of the application only,

(a) Committing the violations as alleged in paragraph 4 of the complaint herein by selling for rail shipment approximately 4,935 tons of 1¼" lump coal produced at the above-named mines to the Weirton Steel Company during the month of March 1941 at a price of $1.90 per net ton, f. o. b. said mines, whereas the effective minimum price for such coal was $2.05 per net ton, f. o. b. said mines, and the violations as alleged in paragraph 2 (a) of the complaint herein to the extent of approximately 58.12 tons of ¾" lump coal sold to the Weirton Steel Company during the month of February 1941 at a price of $1.90 per net ton, f. o. b. said mines, upon the basis of which it consents to the entry of an order revoking its membership in the Code and requiring the payment of the sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000) to the United States as a condition precedent to the restoration of said code membership;

(b) Committing, in addition to the violations referred to in (a) hereof, the additional violations as alleged in the complaint, upon the basis of which it consents to the entry of a cease and desist order which shall be effective upon any restoration of code membership; and

It further appearing from the application that the Applicant, to the best of its knowledge and belief, has not committed any violations of the act, the Code, or rules and regulations thereunder, other than those involved in shipments to Weirton Steel Company prior to April 1, 1941.

Now therefore pursuant to the authority vested in the Division by said section 4 II (j) of the Act authorizing it to adjust complaints and to compose the differences of the parties thereto and upon the application of the Code member for disposition hereof without formal hearing and upon evidence in the possession of the Division;

It is hereby found, That:

The West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company, a corporation, filed with the Division its acceptance of code membership dated June 18, 1937, which became effective as of that date, and said corporation ever since has been and now is a code member engaged in the business of mining and producing bituminous coal at its Gilchrist and Locust Grove Mines, Mine Index Nos. 12 and 15, respectively, located in Brooke County, West Virginia, District No. 6.

The alleged contract between West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Weirton Steel Company entered into prior to June 16, 1933, as extended, did not exempt the transactions referred to in the complaint and hereinafter referred to from the effective minimum prices.

The West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company sold and delivered to the Weirton Steel Company coal produced at its above mines during the period October 1, 1940, to March 31, 1941, both dates inclusive, at prices below the effective minimum prices therefor, in wilful violation of the Act and regulations thereunder, as follows:

Tons	Size	Sales price	Effective minimum price
8,239	1¼" lump	$1.90	$2.05
7,622.19	¾" lump	1.90	2.05
9,976.17	¾" slack	.90	1.05

Now therefore on the basis of the above findings and said admissions and consent of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company, as contained in its application filed pursuant to Section 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division, and the authority vested in the Division as aforesaid;

It is ordered, That the application be and the same hereby is granted;

It is further ordered, That pursuant to section 5 (b) of the act, the code membership of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company be and the same hereby is revoked and cancelled, said revocation and cancellation to be effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof;

It is further ordered, That prior to the restoration of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company to membership in the Code, there shall be paid to the United States a tax in the amount of four thousand dollars ($4,000), as provided in section 5 (c) of the Act and that upon the payment of said tax and prompt application for restoration of said code membership, the same shall be restored as of the date of payment of said tax;

It is further ordered, That upon any restoration of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company to code membership, said company, its representatives, servants, agents, officers, employees, attorneys, receivers, successors, and assigns, and any and all persons acting or claiming to act in its behalf or interest, shall cease and desist, and they are hereby permanently enjoined and restrained, from violating the Bituminous Coal Act, the Bituminous Coal Code, and rules and regulations issued thereunder, including, but not in limitation hereof, the making of further sales pursuant to the above alleged contracts between West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Weirton Steel Company, as extended or otherwise, at less than the effective minimum prices established for such coal;

It is further ordered, That upon any failure to comply with the restraining provisions of this order, the Division may apply to any Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States, having jurisdiction, for the enforcement thereof, or take other appropriate action;

It is further ordered, That the aforesaid hearing heretofore postponed by order dated July 31, 1942, to a time and place to be thereafter designated by appropriate order be and the same hereby is cancelled.

Dated: March 22, 1943.

[Docket No. B-283]

SURE FIRE COAL COMPANY

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING CODE MEMBERSHIP

In the matter of William Dishon, Benjamin Dishon, and Stanley Dishon, individually and as copartners, doing business as Sure Fire Coal Company, Code Members.

On October 7, 1942, after notice and hearing, Charles S. Mitchell, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, submitted a report in which he found that code members William Dishon, Benjamin Dishon, and Stanley Dishon, individually and as copartners, doing business as Sure Fire Coal Company, operating the Dishon Mine (Mine Index No. 2076), in New Straitsville, Perry County, Ohio, in District No. 4, willfully violated:

(a) Section 4 II (e) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, by giving or donating to Straitsville Brick Company, New Straitsville, Ohio, during the month of February 1941, five tons of 2" x 0 coal produced at the Dishon Mine, whereas the effective minimum price for such coal was $1.65 per ton f. o. b. the mine, and by selling to the Straitsville Brick Company, during the period April 1, 1941 through May 31, 1941, 185 tons of 2" x 0 coal produced at the Dishon Mine, at 75 cents per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas the applicable minimum price for such coal was $1.65 per ton f. o. b. the mine; and

(b) Section 4 II (a) of the Act and the corresponding section of the Bituminous Coal Code[1] and Order No. 312 of the Division, dated February 24, 1941, by falsely reporting to the Division on Form 225-S that the selling price of the 2" x 0 coal so sold to Straitsville Brick Company from April 1, 1941 through May 31, 1941, was $1.55 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas the selling price was in fact 75 cents per net ton f. o. b. the mine.

The Examiner recommended that the code membership of William Dishon, Benjamin Dishon, and Stanley Dishon, individually and as copartners doing business as Sure Fire Coal Company be cancelled and revoked.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's Report. No exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the Report of the Examiner and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record. Upon the basis of the proposed findings of fact, proposed conclusions of law and recommendation set forth in the Report and upon the entire record in this proceeding;

It is hereby ordered, That the proposed findings of fact and the proposed conclusions of law of the Examiner are approved and adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director;

It is further ordered, That the code membership of William Dishon, Benjaman Dishon, and Stanley Dishon, individually and as copartners, doing business as Sure Fire Coal Company, operating the Dishon Mine (Mine Index No. 2076), in New Straitsville, Perry County, Ohio, District No. 4, is hereby cancelled and revoked;

It is further ordered, That prior to the restoration of code membership of all or any of the above-named persons, there shall be paid to the United States a tax in the amount of $122.27, as provided in Section 5 (c) of the Act.

Dated: March 23, 1943.

LEARNER EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES

ISSUANCE TO VARIOUS INDUSTRIES

Notice of issuance of special certificates for the employment of learners under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

[1] It would seem that section 4 II (a) of the Act empowers the Division to require the maintenance and filing of certain data and does not, without Division action, prescribe a rule of conduct. Accordingly, it might more accurately have been alleged that code members violated the requirements of Order No. 312 promulgated pursuant to section 4 II (a) of the Act.

Notice is hereby given that special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at hourly wages lower than the minimum wage rate applicable under section 6 of the Act are issued under section 14 thereof, Part 522 of the Regulations issued thereunder (August 16, 1940, 5 F.R. 2862), and as amended June 25, 1942, 7 F.R. 4725), and the determination and order or regulation listed below and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as here stated.

[Docket No. 4933]

AUTOMATIC CANTEEN COMPANY OF AMERICA

COMPLAINT AND NOTICE OF HEARING

The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the party respondent named in the caption hereof, and hereinafter more particularly designated and described, since June 19, 1936, has violated and is now violating the provisions of section 3 and of subsection (f) of section 2 of the Clayton Act (U. S. C. title 15, sec. 13), as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936, hereby issues its complaint against the said respondent, stating its charges as follows:

Count I

PARAGRAPH 1. Respondent, Automatic Canteen Company of America, is a corporation organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Delaware, with its principal office and place of business located at 222 West North Bank Street, Chicago, Illinois.

PAR. 2. Respondent is now and for many years last past has been engaged in the business of leasing and licensing automatic vending machines used in the dispensing of candy bars, chewing gum and nuts, hereinafter referred to as confection and nut products. Respondent is likewise engaged in the sale and distribution to lessees or licensees of said automatic vending machine of the confection and nut products vended in said machines, which products respondent purchases from various manufacturers and sells to said lessees in a manner and under terms and conditions hereinafter described. In connection with the leasing and licensing of automatic vending machines, and in connection with the sale and distribution of confection and nut products to the lessees thereof, respondent has caused, and still causes, said vending machines when leased or licensed and the said confection and nut products when sold to be transported from its principal place of business located in the State of Illinois to the lessees, licensees and vendees thereof located in various points in the several states of the United States other than the State of Illinois, and in the District of Columbia, and said respondent now is and has been for more than five years last past constantly engaged in commerce in said vending machines and said confection and nut products between and among the various states of the United States, the territories thereof, and the District of Columbia.

PAR. 3: In the course and conduct of its said business in commerce, as aforesaid, said respondent is, and has been for many years last past, in competition with individuals, partnerships and corporations engaged in the manufacture, leasing, licensing and vending of automatic vending machines and with other individuals, partnerships, and corporations who have been and are engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of confection and nut products, most, if not all, of which latter competitors manufacture and/or sell and distribute confection and nut products suitable for use in respondent's vending machines. Respondent would have been, and would now be in more active and substantial competition with both said competing vending machine manufacturers, lessors and venors and with said competing manufacturers and or sellers and distributors of confection and nut products suitable for use in vending machines but for the restrictive conditions of respondent's contracts of license, lease and sale as hereinafter more particularly set forth.

Respondent does not manufacture its own automatic vending machines but has said machines manufactured for it by other companies in accordance with specifications furnished by respondent. Respondent was organized in 1931, has enjoyed rapid growth and is now and has been for more than five years last past one of the largest concerns engaged in the business aforesaid. Respondent now has outstanding in numerous locations in 31 states of the United States, and under lease agreements hereinafter described, executed by and between respondent and some 140 lessees, numerous vending machines as follows: 88,856 selective candy machines, 27,735 standard gum machines, 37,487 selective nut machines, 50,976 selective gum machines, and an unknown but large number of standard candy machines and standard nut machines. That by reason of the rapid growth of respondent's business, as aforesaid, and by reason of the numerous machines outstanding under lease as aforesaid, respondent is a dominant factor in the business of leasing and licensing vending machines; however, such business of respondent is incidental to its business of selling and distributing confection and nut products to the lessees of said vending machines. The candy vending machines of respondent vend in excess of 200,000,000 candy bars annually. The nut vending machines of respondent vend in excess of 5,000,000 pounds of nuts annually. Respondent annually purchases from one supplier alone for resale to its gum machines lessees approximately 1,850,000 boxes (100 sticks to a box) of chewing gum. Respondent has leased and now leases its vending machines to its said lessees for specified nominal rentals; the rental charge on the selective candy machines varies from 25 cents to 37 cents per machine per period and the year is divided into thirteen periods. The lease terms of some types of respendent's gum machines are as low as four cents per period. Respondent derives little or no profit from the leasing of its vending machines, its principal source of profit being derived from the sale of confection and nut products to the lessees of its machines at terms provided for in said lease or at terms as later modified during the period of the lease by mutual agreement. The leases entered into by respondent and its various lessees covering said vending machines run for a fixed term of eighteen years without any right to terminate given to the lessees thereunder and provide that the lessees may use such machines only in a certain designated territory allotted by respondent as an exclusive franchise for the period of the lease. The approximate life and usefulness of respondent's vending machines, due to wear, deterioration and obsolescence, is approximately eight years or less than one-half of the term of the leases covering said vending machines of respondent. Pursuant to arrangements made by respondent or its said lessees, respondent's vending machines are located in industrial plants, service stations, garages and terminals, approximately 95 per cent of such vending machines being in industrial plants. The lessees are required by respondent to pay to the owners of the locations a commisison of 10 per cent on all sales made through said machines and in addition the lessees are sometimes required to pay an additional monetary consideration to the owners of choice locations. Respondent maintains certain supervision over its lessees by provisions in the lease agreement that said lessees shall follow standard practices of respondent with respect to methods employed in obtaining machine locations, in maintaining, reconditioning and servicing the machines, and in accounting and bookkeeping procedure, but said lease agreements expressly provide that the lessees are independent contractors and are in no sense the agents or representatives of the respondent.

PAR. 4. The respondent, in the course and conduct of its business hereinbefore described in paragraphs 1, 2, and 3, has leased and licensed, and is now leasing and licensing, its automatic vending machines for use in the several states and territories of the United States and in the District of Columbia on the condition, agreement or understanding that the lessees or licensees thereof will not use the said automatic vending machines to vend any confections, nut products or merchandise other than those purchased from respondent; and on the further condition, agreement or understanding that the lessees or licensees thereof, during the period of said leases, will not acquire, hold, use, operate, lease or otherwise deal with any automatic vending machines other than those of respondent; and on the further condition, agreement or understanding that if the lessees or licensees thereof fail to comply with the aforesaid conditions during a period of fifteen days after written notice from respondent, all rights of said lessees or licensees shall terminate, including the right to the use and possession of such automatic vending machines which may be thereafter immediately repossessed by respondent and removed by respondent from their respective sales locations or from the premises of said lessees or licensees; and on the further condition, agreement or understanding that the lessees or licensees thereof, upon the termination of said leases by lapse of time or by respondent, upon the breach of any of the conditions aforesaid, shall not own, lease or deal in any automatic vending machines of any kind or character, or sell any merchandise of any kind or character by means of any automatic vending machines within the franchise territory of such lessees or licensees for a period of five years after said termination of said leases.

PAR. 5. The effect of said leases or licenses on the said conditions, agreements or understandings set forth in paragraph 4 hereof may be to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in either or both of two lines of commerce, to-wit: (1) the leasing, licensing or selling of automatic vending machines between and among the several states of the United States and in the District of Columbia; and (2) the sale of confections and nut products suitable for use in automatic vending machines between and among the various states of the United States and in the District of Columbia.

PAR. 6. The aforesaid acts, practices and methods of respondent constitute a violation of the provisions of section 3 of the hereinabove-mentioned Act of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes", approved October 15, 1914 (Clayton Act).

Count II

PARAGRAPHS 1 TO 3, INCLUSIVE: As paragraphs 1 to 3, inclusive, of Count II of this complaint, the Commission hereby incorporates paragraphs 1 to 3, inclusive, of Count I hereof to precisely the same extent as if each and all of them were set forth in full and repeated verbatim in this count.

PAR. 4. Respondent in the course and conduct of its business more particularly described in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 hereof, as a result of the restrictive covenants contained in its automatic vending machine leases, more particularly described in Count I hereof, is one of the largest distributors of confection and nut products to automatic vending machine operators in the United States, and in consequence is an important outlet to manufacturers of such confection and nut products who wish extensive distribution of said products throughout the United States.

Respondent in the course and conduct of its business, now and since June, 1936, has been in substantial competition with other corporations, individuals, partnerships and firms similarly engaged in the business of buying, selling and distributing confection and nut products, except in so far as such competition has been affected by the practices which are the subject of this Count. Respondent in its business of leasing automatic vending machines, of securing additional locations for the lessees of said machines, of increasing the number of its said machines outstanding under lease, and of supplying the lessees thereof with confection and nut products for use therein, is in active competition with jobbers of candy who supply the retail candy trade and also with the retail customers of such jobbers.

PAR. 5. Respondent and its competitors buy confection and nut products from a large number of manufacturers, jobbers and distributors located in the various states of the United States (hereinafter called sellers), representative of whom are the following:

The Curtiss Candy Company, Chicago, Ill.; Walter H. Johnson Candy Company, Chicago, Ill; Williamson Candy Company, Chicago, Ill.; Bunte Brothers, Chicago, Ill.; D. L. Clarke Company, Pittsburgh, Pa; Luden's Inc., Reading, Pa.; Nelster Candy Company, Cambridge, Wis.; Switzer's Candy Company, St. Louis, Mo.; Sperry Candy Company, Milwaukee, Wis; Queen Anne Candy Company, Hammond, Ind.; Trudeau Candies, Inc., St. Paul, Minn.; Wayne Candies, Inc., Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Chase Candy Company, St. Joseph, Mo.; Wm. Wrigley, Jr., Company, Chicago, Ill.

Each of said sellers sell and distribute confection or nut products in commerce between and among the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia causing said confection or nut products to be shipped and transported from their respective places of business in the various states of the United States to respondent at its principal place of business in Chicago, Illinois, where respondent takes possession of all of its said purchases, to competitors of respondent, and to said competitors' customers located in the various states of the United States and in the District of Columbia. That the sellers located in Chicago, Illinois, make deliveries to respondent with the knowledge that a substantial portion of respondent's purchases is intended for the use of the lessees of the respondent's automatic vending machines located in the various states of the United States other than the State of Illinois.

Respondent and respondent's competitors resell and distribute said confection and nut products in commerce between and among the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia, causing said confection and nut products to be shipped and transported from their respective places of business in the various states of the United States to their respective customers located in the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

PAR. 6. In the course and conduct of their respective businesses as above described said sellers have been and are now being induced by respondent to discriminate in price between different purchasers buying said confection and nut products of like grade and quality in commerce for use, consumption and resale within the United States by charging said competitors of respondent higher prices than those charged respondent. Said discriminations in prices which favor respondent are not uniform on each confection and nut product sold or from each seller. Respondent pays such sellers from approximately 10 per cent to approximately 25 per cent less for said confections and nut products of like grade and quality than respondent's competitors pay said sellers, depending upon the confection and nut product and the sellers, or either of them.

PAR. 7. The effect of said discriminations in prices as set forth in paragraph 6 hereof may be substantially to lessen competition between respondent and competing jobbers likewise engaged in the sale of candy either to vending machine companies or to retailers engaged in the sale and distribution of confection and nut products; to tend to create a monopoly in respondent in the lines of commerce in which respondent and its competitors are engaged; and to injure, destroy or prevent competition with respondent in the resale of such confection and nut products of like grade and quality puurchased from said sellers; and to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with the sellers granting said discriminations in prices to respondent.

PAR. 8. Respondent receives information as to the regular prices paid by its competitors to said sellers for said confection and nut products, refuses to purchase said confection and nut products from said sellers unless it is granted prices lower than paid by its competitors, and accepts and receives such lower prices on said confection and nut products and thereby and while engaged in commerce and in the course of such commerce as alleged in Paragraph Five hereof, is now and has been since June 19, 1936, knowingly inducing and receiving the discriminations in price alleged in Paragraph Six hereof.

PAR. 9. The foregoing alleged acts of said respondent are in violation of section 2 (f) of said Act of Congress approved June 19, 1936, entitled "An Act to amend section 2 of the Act entitled 'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies and other purposes' approved October 15, 1914, as amended (U. S. C. Title 15, sec. 13) and for other purposes."

Wherefore, the premises considered the Federal Trade Commission on this 19th day of March, A. D., 1943, issues its complaint against said respondent.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given you, Automatic Canteen Company of America, a corporation, respondent herein, that the 23d day of April, A. D. 1943, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requires you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to the effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of March, A. D. 1943.

By the Commission.

OFFICE OF ALIEN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN.

[Vesting Order 473]

CERTAIN COPYRIGHTS AND CLAIMS OF COPYRIGHT

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation, finding that the property hereinafter described is property payable or held with respect to copyrights, or rights related thereto, in which interests are held by, and such property constitutes interests held therein by, nationals of foreign countries, and having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest, hereby vests such property in the Alien Property Custodian, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States; such property being described as follows:

(a) All right, title and interest, arising under the laws of the United States, of every kind or nature whatsoever, of the owners and claimants thereof in, to and under each of the copyrights described in Exhibits A and B attached hereto and made a part hereof, and the claims of copyrights described in Exhibit C attached hereto and made a part hereof, including but not limited to all accrued royalties, all rights to receive royalties, all damages and profits recoverable at law or in equity from any or all persons, firms, corporations or governments for past infringement thereof, and all rights of renewal subject to be exercised by or through any or all of such owners and claimants designated in such Exhibits A and C.

(b) All right, title and interest, arising under the laws of the United States, of every kind or nature whatsoever, of each and all of the authors of the publications described in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof in, to and under each and all of the copyrights described in said Exhibit A, including but not limited to all accrued royalties, all rights to receive royalties, all damages and profits recoverable at law or in equity from any or all persons, firms, corporations or governments for past infringement thereof, and all rights of renewal subject to be exercised by or through any or all of such authors or by their widows, children, executors or next of kin.

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on December 10, 1942.

[Vesting Order 678]

KALLE & CO., A. G., ET AL.

Re: Five patents and interests of German corporations in contracts relating to patents.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Kalle & Co., A. G. and I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G., are corporations organized under the laws of and having their principal places of business in Germany and are nationals of a foreign country (Germany);

2. Finding that Helge Svenson, Goteborg, Sweden, is controlled by or acting for or on behalf of or as a cloak for the aforesaid Kalle & Co., A. G., and I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G. and therefore is a national of a foreign country (Germany);

3. Finding that the aforesaid Kalle & Co., A. G., I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G. and Helge Svenson own interests in the contracts referred to in subparagraph 5-a hereof;

4. Finding that the patents referred to in paragraph 5-b hereof stand of record in the United States Patent Office in the name of the aforesaid Helge Svenson and that such patents are held by him on behalf of or as a cloak for the aforesaid Kalle & Co., A. G.

5. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

a. The interests in contracts described in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, and

b. All right, title and interest, including all accrued royalties and all damages and profits recoverable at law or in equity from any person, firm, corporation or government for past infringement thereof, in and to the patents identified in Exhibit B attached hereto and made a part hereof, is property of, or is property payable or held with respect to patents or rights related thereto in which interests are held by and such property itself constitutes interests held therein by, nationals of a foreign country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property hereinbefore described in subparagraph 5, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on January 18, 1943.

[SEAL] LEO T. CROWLEY,
Alien Property Custodian.

[Order 3 Under MPR 193]

ED PHILLIPS AND SONS CO.

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 193—Domestic Distilled Spirits.

Authorization of maximum prices for "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey manufactured by Ed Phillips & Sons Company. Ed Phillips & Sons Company, Northwest Terminal, Minneapolis, Minnesota, rectifier of alcoholic beverages, has made application under § 1420.13 (c) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 193 for determination of maximum prices for sales of "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey. That brand is a blend of straight whiskies at 86° proof, aged as follows: 5%—6 years, 5%—4 years, 15%—3 years, 35%—2 years 6 months, and 40%—2 years.

Due consideration has been given to the application, and an opinion in support of this order has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in the opinion and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, It is ordered:

(a) On and after March 24, 1943, Ed Phillips & Sons Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota, may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from Ed Phillips & Sons Company "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey, a blend of straight whiskies at 86° proof, aged as above, at the following prices:

$19.34 plus $5.16, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $24.50 per case of 12 bottles, each bottle containing one quart of such whiskey;

$19.94 plus $5.16, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $25.10 per case of 24 bottles, each bottle containing one pint of such whiskey; and

$15.82 plus $4.13, being the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, or a total of $19.95 per case of 12 bottles, each bottle containing one-fifth gallon of such whiskey.

(b) The maximum prices for sales of each container size of "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey, as hereinbefore described, to Monopoly States shall be the maximum price for such container size set forth in paragraph (a), plus an amount which will restore to the price any trade discount now allowed to the Monopoly State: Provided, That the rate of such discount shall not exceed the rate prevailing on March 31, 1942.

(1) Any Monopoly State may sell or deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such Monopoly State "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey at maximum prices determined as follows:

(i) Add to the maximum price established at (b), exclusive of the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto, for the particular container size in question the amount of freight charges, if any, at the rate applicable in March, 1942 from the rectifying plant or freight basing point from which shipment is made to the receiving point of the particular Monopoly State.

(ii) Add to the resulting figure at (i) the applicable amount of any tax incident to the sale, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder in accordance with any statute in effect in the Monopoly State on March 31, 1942.

(iii) Apply to the resulting figure at (ii) the statutory or discretionary percentage markup in effect in such Monopoly State on March 31, 1942.

(iv) Add to the resulting figure at (iii) the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto.

(v) Divide the resulting figure at (iv) by the figure 12 in the case of quarts and fifths, and by the figure 24 in the case of pints, and follow the practice prevailing in the Monopoly State on March 31, 1942 with respect to the disposition of fractional and odd cents, if any, existing in the latter figure. The resulting figure shall be the Monopoly State's maximum price for the particular container size in question of "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey.

(c) Any wholesaler or jobber may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such wholesaler or jobber "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey, as hereinbefore described, at prices not in excess of those computed by the wholesaler or jobber as follows:

(1) Add to the amount of $19.34, $19.94 or $15.82 for cases of 12 quarts, 24 pints or 12 fifths respectively, freight charges, if any at the rate applicable in March, 1942 from the rectifying plant or freight basing point from which shipment is made to the receiving point of the particular wholesaler or jobber.

(2) Add to the resulting figure at (1) the amount of any tax incident to the sale, delivery, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the wholesaler or jobber by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof in effect in March, 1942: Provided, That the amount of such tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authority or to any prior vendor.

(3) Multiply the resulting figure at (2) by 1.15, or in those States or subdivisions thereof where the markup of such vendors of distilled spirits is fixed by a statute or ordinance in effect in March, 1942, by a figure which will produce a selling price for the particular vendor in accordance with the minimum requirements of such statute or ordinance.

(4) Add to the resulting figure at (3) the amount of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto; and the applicable amount of any new or increased tax incident to the sale, delivery, processing, or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the wholesaler or jobber by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof which became effective after March 31, 1942: Provided, That the amount of such new or increased tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authority or to any prior vendor. The resulting amount shall be the particular wholesaler's or jobber's maximum price for the particular container size in question of "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey.

(5) Wholesalers' and jobbers' discounts on sales of "Tom Burns" brand of whiskey shall be applicable to the maximum prices established pursuant to (c) at a rate which is not less than the rate allowed by the wholesaler or jobber in March, 1942 on sales of domestic whiskey in the same price class to the same class of purchasers.

(d) Any retailer may sell and deliver to any person and any person may buy and receive from such retailer "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey, as hereinbefore described, at prices not in excess of those computed by the retailer as follows:

(1) Multiply the resulting figure at (c) (3), as computed by the particular wholesaler or jobber from whom the retailer purchases such commodity by 1.33, or, in those states or subdivisions thereof where the markup of such vendors of distilled spirits is fixed by statute or ordinance in effect in March, 1942, by a figure which will produce a selling price for the particular vendor in accordance with the minimum requirements of such statute or ordinance.

(2) Add to the resulting figure at (1) the amount of the Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 applicable thereto; and the applicable amount of any new or increased tax incident to the sale, processing or use of the domestic whiskey to be priced hereunder which is imposed upon the seller by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof which became effective after March 31, 1942; Provided, That the amount of such new or increased tax has been paid or shall have accrued and be payable by the seller to the proper taxing authority or to any prior vendor.

(3) Divide the resulting figure at (2) by the figure 12 in the case of quarts and fifths, and by the figure 24 in the case of pints. The retailer shall adjust the figure thus arrived at to the next higher even cent if the fraction is ½ cent or over or to the next lower even cent if the fraction is less than ½ cent.

(4) Multiply the resulting figure at (3) by the percentage rate of any State or local sales tax imposed upon the retailer by any statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof; Provided, That the amount thereof was separately stated and collected by the retailer in March, 1942, and the retailer now continues to state and collect the amount thereof separately. The resulting figure shall be rounded off to the nearest full cent in accordance with the practice of the seller in March, 1942, and added to the amount determined at (3). The resulting amount shall be the particular retailer's maximum price for the particular container size in question of "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey.

(e) On or before the first delivery of this commodity after the effective date hereof Ed Phillips & Sons Company shall notify any person purchasing the commodity from them of applicant's maximum price established under paragraph (a), and applicant shall make a separate statement of the increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942. Such notification shall be accomplished by attaching a true and exact copy of this order to the invoice issued by the applicant in connection with the particular transaction. No notification shall be required after the first notification to any particular purchaser.

(f) On or before the first delivery of this commodity after the effective date hereof, all wholesalers and jobbers of this commodity shall notify retail purchasers thereof of the wholesalers or jobbers maximum price as established under paragraph (c); and they shall notify such retailers of the method for the computation of the retailers maximum price as follows:

Our maximum price for "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey and the method whereby we have computed your maximum price for that brand is as follows:

1. Our maximum price per case of (container size in question) -- $_____
2. Subtract increased Federal excise tax of November 1, 1942 -- $_____
3. Subtract increased State or local taxes after March 31, 1942 -- $_____
4. Base for computation of retailer's maximum price -- $_____
5. Line 4 multiplied by 1.33 or minimum statutory markup -- $_____
6. Add increased Federal excise tax -- $_____
7. Add increased State or local tax -- $_____
8. Total -- $_____
9. Divide line 8 by the figure 12 for quarts and fifths and by the figure 24 for pints.
10. Add State or local sales tax or similar tax per bottle (if separately stated and collected by retailer in March, 1942 and which retailer now separately states and collects) -- $_____
11. Retailer's maximum price per (container size in question) -- $_____

The figure at line 11 is your maximum price, including all taxes, per (container size in question) for "Tom Burns" brand of domestic whiskey in accordance with OPA Order No. 3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 193. OPA requires you to keep this notice for examination.

No notification shall be required after the first notification unless the seller's maximum price shall be adjusted for a permitted tax increase pursuant to the provisions hereof.

(g) This Order No. 3 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(h) This Order No. 3 shall become effective March 24, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

[Order 1 Under MPR 197]

CHARLES HEWITT AND SONS CO.

APPROVAL OF MAXIMUM PRICE

Order No. 1 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 197—Canned Fruits and Canned Berries at Wholesale and Retail.

Approval of maximum price for Charles Hewitt & Sons Company, Des Moines, Iowa.

The applicant, Charles Hewitt & Sons Company, has filed an application for the specific authorization of a maximum price for 1200 cases of 4 oz. cans of fancy crushed Cuban pineapple, four dozen cans to a case, labeled as "Soroa."

Due consideration has been given to the information submitted by the applicant with respect to the merchandise in question.

For the reasons set forth in the opinion which accompanies this order and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250: It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) The applicant, Charles Hewitt & Sons Company, may sell, offer to sell or deliver and any person may buy, offer to buy or receive from the applicant, all or any part of a lot of 1200 cases of 4 oz. cans of fancy crushed Cuban pineapple, four dozen cans to the case, labeled as "Soroa", at no higher than the price of 77½ cents per dozen, delivered.

(b) The maximum price for such 4 oz. cans of fancy crushed Cuban pineapple, labeled as "Soroa", at retail, for any type of retailer, shall be eight cents per can.

(c) The applicant shall not report a base price or permitted increase when making sales of such merchandise.

(d) The applicant shall give each purchaser notice in writing, at the time of sale or at the time of delivery to the purchaser, of the maximum price at retail. Such notice may be given by marking the same on the cases or by attaching a notice to the cases or in any other method and such notice shall read as follows:

Official retail ceiling price, 8 cents per can.

(e) This Order No. 1 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1341.710 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 233 and section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall be applicable to the terms used herein.

(g) This order shall become effective March 24, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

[Order 226 Under MPR 188]

CONSUMERS' ARTICLES CONTAINING NEWLY MINED DOMESTIC SILVER

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SALES

Order No. 226 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods Other Than Apparel.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is ordered:

(a) Articles to which this order applies. This order applies only to the following articles containing newly mined domestic silver:

Ecclesiastical ware.
Eyeglass and spectacle frames and mountings.
Fountain pens.
Insignia.
Jewelry, including compacts and toilet sets.
Jewelry findings.
Mechanical pencils.
Mirrors.
Silverware.
Tinsel.
Watch cases.
Zippers.

(b) Manufacturer's maximum price. The manufacturer's maximum price for any article listed in paragraph (a) shall be calculated as follows: The provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 shall first be applied just as if the article contained silver other than newly mined domestic. Then, to the price thus obtained for the article, shall be added 36 cents for each fine troy ounce of net content of newly mined domestic silver.

(c) Wholesaler's maximum price. The wholesaler's maximum price for any article for which the manufacturer's maximum price was established under paragraph (b) above shall be calculated as follows: The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall first be applied just as if the article contained silver other than newly mined domestic. Then, to the price thus obtained for the article, shall be added 36 cents for each fine troy ounce of net content of newly mined domestic silver.

(d) Retailer's maximum price. The retailer's maximum price for any article for which the supplier's maximum price was established under paragraph (b) or (c) above, shall be calculated as follows: The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall first be applied just as if the article contained silver other than newly mined domestic. Then, to the price thus obtained for the article, shall be added 36 cents for each fine troy ounce of net content of newly mined domestic silver.

(e) Invoices. Every sale other than a sale at retail of any article listed in paragraph (a) above containing newly mined domestic silver, shall be invoiced by the seller. The original invoice shall be delivered to the buyer, who shall preserve such invoice for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, and the seller shall preserve a copy of every invoice for the same period. Each such invoice shall contain:

(1) The names and addresses of the buyer and seller.

(2) A description of the article sold.

(3) The quantity and unit being sold.

(4) A statement of the maximum price of the article when made of silver other than newly mined domestic silver.

(5) A statement of the net number of troy ounces of fine silver content of newly mined domestic silver.

(6) The amount of added cost at 36 cents per ounce due to the change to newly mined domestic silver.

(f) Notification to purchasers for resale. Every person delivering to a purchaser for resale an article for which the seller's maximum price has been established under paragraph (b) or (c) shall, at or prior to the first invoice to such purchaser after March 23, 1943, give written notice of the adjustment granted by this order. The notice shall state that the adjustment does not apply to inventories in wholesalers' and retailers' hands on March 23, 1943. A statement in the following form will be sufficient:

The Office of Price Administration has granted relief to manufacturers of _____ (insert _____ containing newly mined name of article) domestic silver by allowing each manufacturer, wholesaler, and retailer to charge, in addition to his March 1942 ceiling price, 36 cents for each fine troy ounce of newly mined domestic silver contained in the article. The adjustment does not apply to inventories in wholesalers' and retailers' hands on March 23, 1943. Our invoice covering each shipment will notify you how much you may charge, in addition to your maximum price as determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation, for each article in the shipment.

(g) Determination of amount of newly mined domestic silver. The amount of newly mined domestic silver which the particular article being priced contains may be computed in the case of wholesalers or retailers on the basis of the supplier's invoice. Manufacturers may treat as newly mined domestic silver, any silver which is certified to be such, by the supplier pursuant to § 1499.73 (a) (12) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or any silver which the Director of the Mint has approved, pursuant to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury under section 4 (c) of the Act of July 6, 1939.

(h) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective March 23, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

PRENTISS M. BROWN,
Administrator.

LONE STAR GAS CORP., ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL AND AMENDATORY ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 22d day of March, 1943.

In the matter of Lone Star Gas Corporation, Lone Star Gas Company, Community Natural Gas Company, Texas Cities Gas Company, The Dallas Gas Company, Council Bluffs Gas Company, Lone Star Gasoline Company.

The Commission having entered an Order on October 22, 1942, pursuant to sections 11 (b) and 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935,

(1) Requiring Lone Star Gas Corporation to divest itself of all interests in, and all ownership and control of, Council Bluffs Gas Company, Northern Natural Gas Company and the properties provided therein, are hereby found to be states, municipalities, or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over for 293,204 common shares of ENYP, given of said hearing to the above named ural Gas Company, and the properties and businesses of Texas Cities Gas Company located in and around the cities of El Paso and Galveston, Texas;

(2) Approving the plan of reorganization of the Lone Star Gas Corporation holding company system filed by Lone Star Gas Corporation and certain of its subsidiaries, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act, for the purpose of enabling the Lone Star System to meet the requirements of section 11 (b) of the act, subject to the condition that the plan be amended to provide for the disposal of the properties and businesses of Texas Cities Gas Company in and around the cities of El Paso and Galveston, Texas;

(3) Directing that the several transactions, approved or authorized by the said order, should be carried out in accordance with the terms and conditions of, and for the purposes stated in, the declarations and applications, as amended, filed in such proceeding:

(4) Reserving jurisdiction to entertain such further proceedings, to make such further and supplemental findings, to approve the terms and conditions, and to take such additional and further action as may be appropriate in the premises in connection with the disposition of assets proposed in the plan of reorganization or required by the said order;

The transactions and steps ordered to be taken and provided for in the plan and in the declarations and applications, having been specifically described in the Commission's findings and opinion; the Commission having in its findings and opinion, which accompanied the said order and which formed a part thereof, concluded that the steps required to be taken by the said order and the steps proposed in the plan, which the Commission approved, were necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) and were fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby;

Lone Star Gas Corporation having requested that the said order of the Commission be amended to describe specifically in the formal portion thereof the transactions and steps ordered to be taken and which were specifically described in the findings and opinion and provided for in the plan and in the declarations and applications so as to eliminate any doubt as to the conformity of the said order to the formal requirements specified in sections 371 (f) and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code;

It appearing that the said order should be amended to comply with such request and to eliminate any doubt as to the intent and purpose of the order:

It is ordered, That the said order be amended by inserting the following paragraphs at the end of the formal portion of such order and immediately before "By the Commission":

It is further ordered, That disposition by Lone Star Gas Corporation of all of its interests in Council Bluffs Gas Company, Northern Natural Gas Company, and the properties and business of Texas Cities Gas Company located in and around the cities of El Paso and Galveston, Texas, and the said plan and the said applications and declarations, as amended, including the following sales, distributions, exchanges, transfers, conveyances, transactions, and steps provided therein, are hereby found to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935;

(1) The sale of the securities of Council Bluffs Gas Company, consisting of 13,500 shares of common stock, par value $100 each, and a note dated June 1, 1934, payable to Lone Star Gas Corporation in the original principal amount of $1,595,000, with an unpaid principal balance of $1,000,000, for a cash consideration of approximately $1,350,000 and the use of the proceeds of such sale to reduce outstanding bank loans of Lone Star Gas Corporation;

(2) The distribution as a dividend by Lone Star Gas Corporation to its stockholders of record at the close of business on December 18, 1942 of its 304,500 shares of common stock of Northern Natural Gas Company, having a par value of $20 each, in the ratio of one share of Northern stock for each eighteen shares of Lone Star stock; only whole shares to be distributed, and shares representing undistributed fractional interests to be sold at the most favorable prices obtainable through arm's-length negotiations and the entire proceeds derived from such sales to be distributed in the form of cash to stockholders having fractional interests;

(3) The simplification of the balance of the Lone Star System by taking the following steps:

(a) The transfer of all the assets and business of Lone Star Gas Company, Community Natural Gas Company, Texas Cities Gas Company, The Dallas Gas Company, and Lone Star Gasoline Company, subsidiaries of Lone Star Gas Corporation, to Lone Star Gas Corporation in return for the surrender of all of their stock and the cancellation of all of their notes owned by Lone Star Gas Corporation and the assumption by it of all their liabilities;

(b) The dissolution of such subsidiaries and the retirement of sixty-four shares of stock of Lone Star Gas Company, held by minority stockholders, by cash payment;

(c) The transfer of all the assets then held by Lone Star Gas Corporation (after disposition of the securities of Northern Natural Gas Company and Council Bluffs Gas Company, and except the securities of Northwest Cities Gas Company) to a new Texas corporation to be named Lone Star Gas Company, but presently designated as Corporation A in exchange for the assumption by Corporation A of all of the System's liabilities and the issuance to Lone Star Gas Corporation of 5,499,000 shares of its common stock, par value of $10 per share;

(d) The dissolution of Lone Star Gas Corporation and the distribution of the stock of Corporation A to its stockholders, share for share, for its own stock;

(e) The transfer by Corporation A of approximately $1,000,000 in cash and a portion of the assets acquired by it to a second new Texas corporation to be named Lone Star Producing Company but presently designated as Corporation B, such assets consisting principally of all of the production assets of the System, including all assets owned by Lone Star Gasoline Company, the oil and gas leases, and other production properties owned by Lone Star Gas Company, and a small amount of such assets owned by Community Natural Gas Company, in exchange for the issuance to Corporation A of 85,000 shares of common stock, par value $100 per share, and the assumption of all of the liabilities of Lone Star Gasoline Company (except notes owing to Lone Star Gas Corporation, which will be cancelled).

By the Commission.

PEOPLES LIGHT AND POWER CO., ET AL.

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING AND DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 22d day of March A. D. 1943.

In the matter of Peoples Light and Power Company and subsidiary companies, applicants, file No. 54-67; Peoples Light and Power Company, California Public Service Company, Texas Public Service Company, Texas Public Service Farm Company, West Coast Power Company, Western States Utilities Company, respondents, file No. 59-64.

The Commission having on March 9, 1943, pursuant to sections 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2) and 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, ordered a hearing to be held on April 1, 1943 in the above-entitled matter; and

Peoples Light and Power Company having on March 18, 1943 filed an amendment requesting that said hearing be postponed until April 20, 1943 for the reason that by that date the management anticipates substantial progress will have been made with respect to negotiations for the sale and acquisition of certain properties considered in the plan previously filed with this Commission under section 11 (e) of the Act, the amendment stating that these developments may have an important bearing on the method proposed to be followed to consummate said plan; and

It appearing to the Commission, after due consideration of such amendment, that a postponement of said hearing until April 20, 1943 will be in the public interest:

It is ordered, That the hearing in this matter previously scheduled for April 1, 1943, be, and hereby is, postponed to April 20, 1943, at the same time and place as heretofore designated; and

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder, an officer of the Commission, be and he is hereby designated to preside at such postponed hearing and that he shall exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice; and

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the postponement of hearing by mailing a copy of this order to Peoples and its various subsidiaries, to the Public Utility Commissions of the States of Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, and Wyoming, and the Railroad Commissions of California and Texas, not less than 20 days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the new date of the hearing; and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to Peoples and its subsidiaries, to their security holders, and to all consumers of Peoples' subsidiary companies, to all states, municipalities, and political subdivisions of states within which are located any of the physical assets of said companies or under the laws of which any of said companies is incorporated, all State Commissions, State Securities Commissions, and all agencies, authorities and instrumentalities of one or more states, municipalities, or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over Peoples or its subsidiaries or any of the businesses, affairs or operations of any of them; that such notice shall be given further by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than ten days prior to the new date hereinbefore fixed as the date of the hearing.

By the Commission.

INTERNATIONAL HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM, ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING WITH RESPECT TO APPLICATION NO. 2

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its offices in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 22d day of March, 1943.

In the matter of International Hydro-Electric System, Hudson River Power Corporation, System Properties, Inc., Eastern New York Power Corporation.

Notice is hereby given that declarations and applications have been filed with this Commission by International Hydro-Electric System (hereinafter referred to as "IHES") a registered holding company, its subsidiary companies, Hudson River Power Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "Hudson River") and System Properties, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "SPI") and by Eastern New York Power Corporation (hereinafter referred to as "ENYP"), pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6, 7, 9, 10, 11 and 12 thereof and Rules U-42, U-43, U-44, U-45 and U-50 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder. Applicants and declarants have designated the filing as Application No. 2 for all necessary approvals of the proposed action as a step toward complying with section 11 of the act and the order of this Commission thereunder with respect to IHES, dated July 21, 1942 (Holding Company Act Release No. 3679). All interested persons are referred to said declarations and applications, which are on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

IHES proposes to acquire the subscription rights of the incorporators of ENYP and to advance to ENYP an amount not exceeding $25,000 for organization expenses. IHES then proposes to transfer to ENYP 95,300 shares of common stock of Hudson River and 256,510 shares of common stock of SPI, constituting all of the outstanding common stock of such companies, in return for 293,204 common shares of ENYP, constituting all of such common shares outstanding. Hudson River and SPI will then be merged into ENYP through statutory merger under the New York Stock Corporation Law by which ENYP will acquire all of the assets and assume all of the liabilities of Hudson River and SPI. ENYP will then issue 227,348 shares of common stock to IHES in discharge of demand notes of Hudson River in the amount of $3,525,000 and of SPI in the amount of $1,178,710 and of open account indebtedness of Hudson River in the amount of $980,000, all of which ENYP will then have assumed. ENYP will then also issue and sell $8,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Sinking Fund Bonds, 3½% Series, due 1961, and $5,968,000 principal amount of Second Mortgage Bonds, 4% Series, due 1962, secured respectively by a first mortgage and a second mortgage of substantially all of its fixed assets as then constituted, the proceeds of said sale together with other funds to be used for the redemption and retirement of $13,743,000 principal amount of First and Refunding 5% Sinking Fund Mortgage Bonds, due 1947, issued by International Paper Company which by assumption became a primary obligation of Hudson River, and for the payment of a $225,000 note held by The First National Bank of Boston and now an obligation of SPI. ENYP will also acquire for a nominal consideration certain electrical equipment situated on properties now owned by Hudson River and SPI and leased to International Paper Company which International Paper Company is obligated in any event to transfer to the owners of the properties upon expiration of the respective leases in 1962.

Applicants and declarants state that they now have tentative arrangements for a private sale of the first and second mortgage bonds of ENYP and have requested an order of the Commission exempting the issuance and sale of said bonds from the requirements of section (b) of Rule U-50.

Additional information concerning the proposed transactions is to be filed by amendment.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matters, that said declarations shall not become effective nor said applications be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission:

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on April 14, 1943 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such declarations and applications shall become effective or shall be granted. Notice is hereby given of said hearing to the above named declarants and applicants and to all interested parties, said notices to be given to said declarants and applicants by registered mail and to all other persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said declarations and applications otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the issuance and sale by ENYP of the aforementioned securities have been expressly authorized by the State Commission of the State in which that company is organized and doing business.

2. If it be found that the issuance and sale by ENYP of the aforementioned securities have not been expressly authorized by the State commission of the State in which that company is organized and doing business, whether the securities to be issued and sold by ENYP are reasonably adopted to the earning power of ENYP and to the security structure of ENYP and other companies in the holding company system of which it is a part; whether financing by the issue and sale of the particular securities to be issued and sold are necessary or appropriate to the economical and efficient operation of the business in which ENYP is lawfully engaged or has an interest; whether the fees, commissions, or other remuneration, to whomsoever paid, directly or indirectly, in connection with the securities to be issued and sold by ENYP, are reasonable; whether the terms and conditions of the issue and sale are detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers; and whether there has been compliance with applicable State laws with respect to the issue and sale of the securities.

3. Whether the merger of Hudson River and SPI into ENYP is detrimental to the carrying out of the provisions of Section II and whether such merger will serve the public interest by tending towards the economical and efficient development of an integrated public utility system.

4. Whether the accounting entries to be made in connection with any or all of such proposed transactions are appropriate under the standards and requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and all Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder.

5. Whether the proposed action is a proper step toward compliance with the aforementioned order of the Commission, dated July 21, 1942.

6. Whether terms and conditions are appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers or are necessary to be imposed to ensure compliance with the requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 or any rules, regulations or orders promulgated thereunder.

7. Whether the issuance and sale of the proposed first and second mortgage by ENYP should be exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) of Rule U-50.

8. Generally, whether all action proposed to be taken, complies with the requirements of such act and rules, regulations, or orders promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That the trial examiner upon the convening of the hearing ordered herein shall proceed with the taking of evidence with respect to the issue of exemption from competitive bidding as specified in paragraph 7 above and that when the taking of such evidence has been completed the record with respect thereto shall be transmitted forthwith to the Commission for consideration and determination.

By the Commission.

P. M. CHANDLER, ET AL.

ORDER DISMISSING PROCEEDING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1943

In the matter of P. M. Chandler, Chandler & Company, Inc., P. M. Chandler & Co., Inc., Securities Corporation General, Burr & Company, Inc., Thaddeus Rich, as trustee for Marie Louise Chandler, Arthur Bayard Chandler, Eleanor Anne Chandler and Mrs. Marie L. Chandler, Brandywine Farms Corporation, Carroll E. Gray, Mrs. Marie L. Chandler, Robert Leonard, as successor trustee for Mrs. Marie L. Chandler, Harry Williams, Jr., and Ralph P. Buell, respondents.

The Commission on October 30, 1940 having ordered, pursuant to section 2 (a) (7) (B) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, that a hearing be held to determine whether the above-named respondents, or any one or more of them, directly or indirectly exercise, either alone or pursuant to an arrangement or understanding with each other or with one or more other persons, such a controlling influence over the management or policies of International Utilities Corporation as to make it necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers that the above-named respondents, or any one or more of them, be subject to the obligations, duties and liabilities imposed by said act upon holding companies; and

The hearing aforesaid having been held on December 18, 1940, and having been continued from time to time to March 28, 1941 and said hearing on that date having been continued subject to the call of the trial examiner, so that at the present time no date has been set for continuing such hearing; and

The proceeding having previously been dismissed, by order of the Commission, as to respondents Burr & Company, Inc. and Carroll E. Gray; and

The Commission having been advised by its Public Utilities Division that numerous changes have taken place since the commencement of said proceeding, in the relationships of the several Respondents to International Utilities Corporation, including the resignation of P. M. Chandler, one of the Respondents, from his positions as President and as Chairman of the Board of International Utilities Corporation and the disposition by International Utilities Corporation of all its interest in Securities Corporation General, an investment subsidiary of International Utilities Corporation and a respondent herein, and it appearing to the Commission that the said relationships which are the subject matter of this proceeding have been so materially altered since the initiation of such proceeding that it is no longer appropriate that such proceeding be further maintained;

It is hereby ordered, That this proceeding be and the same hereby is dismissed, without prejudice to the Commission's right to review the record herein made and, if circumstances in connection therewith warrant, to institute such further proceeding with respect to the respondents herein as may appear necessary or appropriate.

By the Commission.

SAN ANTONIO PUBLIC SERVICE CO. AND MELLON SECURITIES CORP.

ORDER DISMISSING PROCEEDINGS AND RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER LIMITED PAYMENT OF UNDERWRITER'S FEES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 20th day of March 1943.

San Antonio Public Service Company, a subsidiary of The United Light and Power Company, a registered holding company, having filed on August 10, 1940 a declaration regarding, among other things, the issuance and sale of its first mortgage bonds pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and

The Commission having, on August 23, 1940, issued an order to show cause against Mellon Securities Corporation and San Antonio Public Service Company pursuant to Rule U-12F-2 to determine the status of Mellon Securities Corporation under said rule; and

The Commission having on October 23, 1940 issued its order permitting the declaration of San Antonio Public Service Company to become effective, subject, however, to the stipulation of counsel for Mellon Securities Corporation that, pending the determination of the questions arising under the rule, the underwriter's fees involved would be deposited in escrow and that the Commission would reserve jurisdiction over all questions of fees and affiliations under the rule; and

Mellon Securities Corporation having proposed to reduce its fees and compensation for all services connected with the underwriting of the bonds issued by San Antonio Public Service Company so that its total compensation would not exceed the compensation payable to an underwriter whose participation was not in excess of 5% of the total offering, and upon the basis of such reduced fees, having moved the Commission for an order dismissing the above-entitled proceedings and releasing jurisdiction over such reduced compensation; and permitting San Antonio Public Service Company to pay to Mellon Securities Corporation the sum of $2,728.37, which amounts is computed at the rate applicable to a 5% participation of the total offering; and

The Commission deeming it in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to dismiss the pending show cause order and to release jurisdiction as to the payment of such reduced fees and compensation;

It is ordered, That the above-entitled proceedings be and hereby are dismissed; and that jurisdiction be and hereby is released over such reduced fees and compensation payable to Mellon Securities Corporation.

By the Commission (Chairman Purcell and Commissioners Healy, Burke and O'Brien), Commissioner Pike being absent and not participating.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9320

AMENDING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 9108 OF MARCH 21, 1942, DIRECTING THE DIRECTOR OF THE OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION TO TAKE CONTROL OF THE TOLEDO, PEORIA AND WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, and as President of the United States and as Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy, Executive Order No. 9108 of March 21, 1942,[1] directing the Director of the Office of Defense Transportation to take possession of the property, franchises, rights and other assets of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad (therein referred to as the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad Company), is hereby amended by inserting, after paragraph 5 thereof, a new paragraph, reading as follows:

"6. As part of the terms and conditions of the possession and operation directed to be taken hereunder, the Director of the Office of Defense Transportation is authorized in his discretion to make advances from the net cash earnings of his operation of the railroad, in such amounts and on such terms as he deems desirable, for the discharge of lawful obligations of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, and for the preservation of the real and personal property, corporate organization and franchises, rights and other assets, tangible and intangible, of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, but not including payment of executive salaries beyond amounts he deems necessary for the foregoing purposes and not including payment of dividends. Advances pursuant to the authority of this paragraph shall not be repayable before the time of final determination, by settlement or adjudication, of the claim of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad for compensation by reason of action taken pursuant to this order."

PART 52—CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

GRADING AND CERTIFICATION

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States by Public Law No. 674, 77th Congress, approved July 22, 1942, entitled "An Act making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, and for other purposes", authorizing the establishment of an inspection service for farm products, the rules and regulations governing the grading and certification of canned fruits and vegetables, as amended (7 CFR 52.1 et seq.) are hereby further amended as follows:

1. By deleting from said rules and regulations the provisions in § 52.57.

2. By renumbering the section subsequent to § 52.57 so as to have said subsequent sections follow in numerical sequence after § 52.56.

3. The provisions hereof shall not affect the rights of any person who, prior to the effective date hereof, filed a declaration of intention pursuant to said § 52.57 of the rules and regulations.

4. The provisions hereof shall be and become effective at 12:01 a. m. e. w. t., March 24, 1943.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of March 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the United States Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] PAUL H. APPLEBY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 913—MILK IN THE GREATER KANSAS CITY MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK

Order suspending certain provisions of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City Marketing Area.[1]

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act", and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City marketing area, it is hereby found that the provisions of the said order relating to base ratings for producers of milk, as used in the said order, obstruct and no longer tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to the producers of milk under such marketing order.

[1] This affects § 913.10.

It is, therefore, ordered, That, effective as of 11:59 p. m., c. w. t., March 31, 1943, the provisions of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City marketing area, which relate to base ratings for producers of milk, as used in the said order, are hereby suspended.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of March 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] THOMAS J. FLAVIN,
Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture.[1]

[FPO 5, Amendment 1]

PART 1206—FERTILIZER

CHEMICAL FERTILIZER

Section 1206.1 (i) (1) (ii) (8 F.R. 947) is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1206.1 Chemical fertilizer. * * *
(i) Requirements—(i) Group A crops. * * *

(ii) The requirements of any person for chemical fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen for use on Group A cotton shall be the acreage of such Group A cotton to be grown by such person multiplied by either the rate of application per acre previously used in the 1940–41 or the 1941–42 season on any cotton crop by such person, or previously used in the 1940–41 or the 1941–42 season on any cotton crop on the farm for which fertilizer is being requested, or if information as to neither of such rates of application per acre is available, the rate of application per acre shall be the same as that being used to determine the requirements of persons for Group A cotton on comparable farms in the same areas: Provided, That in no case shall the rate of application per acre exceed the rate of application per acre recommended by the State Agricultural Experiment Station for the approved grade (straight or mixed) to be used on Group A cotton.

This amendment shall become effective March 26, 1943.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179)

Done at Washington, D. C. this 24th day of March 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] PAUL H. APPLEBY,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 1415—IMPORTED FOODS

TEA QUOTAS, REPORTS, AND RECORDS FOR PACKERS AND WHOLESALERS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 18 (8 F.R. 1778), issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on February 6, 1943, under the authority of Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and in order to effectuate the purposes of such orders, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1415.4 Tea quotas, reports, and records. (a) For the quarterly period beginning on April 1, 1943, and for each subsequent quarterly period of three months, tea quotas, subject to any increase pursuant to (b) hereof, shall be as follows:

(1) The acceptance quota for any packer shall be one and one-third times the amount of his delivery quota under (a) (2) hereof.

(2) The delivery quota for any packer, in any quarterly period of three months, shall be 50 percent of his "net deliveries" (as defined in said Food Distribution Order No. 18) of tea during the corresponding quarterly period of three months in 1941 or 100 percent of his said net deliveries in the corresponding quarterly period of three months in 1942, whichever is the greater.

(3) Any packer who, during the first quarterly period of three months in 1943, finds it impossible to deliver his entire quota for the first quarterly period of three months in 1943 may carry over into the second quarterly period of three months in 1943 any such undelivered balance and deliver, in such second quarterly period, the aforesaid undelivered balance in addition to the respective packer's quota for the second quarterly period.

(4) The acceptance quota for any wholesale receiver shall be 50 percent of his "net deliveries" (as defined in said Food Distribution Order No. 18) of tea during the corresponding quarterly period of three months in 1941 or 100 percent of his said net deliveries in the corresponding quarterly period of 1942, whichever is the greater.

(5) Any wholesale receiver whose permissible acceptance quota for the first quarterly period of three months in 1943 was in excess of his actual acceptances may add to his acceptance quota for the second quarterly period and accept during said second quarterly period the amount by which his permissible acceptance quota for the first quarterly period exceeded actual acceptances.

(b) Any person who (1) computes a quota under (a) hereof on the basis of the specified 1941 base period and not on the basis of the 1942 base period, and (2) directly or indirectly serves any county or other area designated in Schedule D (§ 1407.244) of Rationing Order 3 (7 F.R. 6937, 10845) of the Office of Price Administration, as amended, is hereby assigned a supplementary quota for each such area. Such supplementary quota, available only for ultimate distribution in the particular increased-population area referred to in said Schedule D of Rationing Order 3, shall be computed by determining the amount of his quota under (a) hereof, by determining the portion of that amount allocable to deliveries to or for each such area, and by applying to that portion the percentage of population increase designated, in said Schedule D of Rationing Order 3, for that area for periods commencing on or after January 1, 1943.

(c) All tea accepted by any packer or wholesale receiver and all tea delivered by any packer, on or after January 1, 1943, shall be charged against the acceptance, delivery, or supplementary quota of the respective packer or wholesale receiver, as the case may be, for the respective quarterly period in which such tea was delivered or accepted, as aforesaid.

(d) Within 10 days after the end of each quarterly period, each packer shall report, by letter, to the Director the total quantity of any quota-exempt deliveries of tea made by him during that quarterly period of three months in connection with each class of persons under the provisions of § 1415.2 (c) (4) of Food Distribution Order No. 18. Each packer and each wholesale receiver, respectively, participating in any transaction to which this order is applicable shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate) as will disclose his total monthly inventory of tea and the monthly deliveries of tea made by him, if he is a packer, or accepted by him, if he is a wholesale receiver. If the sales slips, invoices, bills, or other instruments or records customarily kept by him are sufficient to furnish the information specified herein, no additional record system need be installed to meet the requirements hereof (these record-keeping and reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942).

(e) This order shall take effect at 12:01 a. m., e. w. t., April 1, 1943.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; F.D.O. 18, 8 F.R. 1778)

Issued this 23d day of March 1943.

Acting Director of Food Distribution.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Labor

PART 3—DETERMINATIONS RELATING TO OVERTIME, SUNDAY AND HOLIDAY PAY

SUGAR PROCESSING INDUSTRY

Upon application of the U. S. Beet Sugar Association and the United States Sugar Corporation, a hearing was held in Washington, D. C., on March 1, 1943, pursuant to Executive Order 9248 to determine whether the provisions of section IA (1) of Executive Order 9240 requiring the payment of double time compensation on the seventh consecutive day of a regularly scheduled workweek shall apply to the sugar processing industry.

After due consideration of the testimony presented at the hearing in support of and in opposition to the application, I have found that the nature and exigencies of operations in this industry make it necessary and advisable for the successful prosecution of the war to determine that the provisions of section IA (1) of Executive Order 9240 shall not apply to the sugar processing industry as defined in this order.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power vested in me by Executive Order 9248, It is ordered, That in the case of an employer engaged in the processing of sugar beets or sugar-cane into sugar (but not refined sugar) or into syrup, the provisions of section IA (1) of Executive Order 9240 shall not apply to his employees in any place of employment where he is so engaged.

Dated: March 24, 1943.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1866]

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for rail and truck shipments and changes in shipping points for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices and changes in the Freight Origin Group Numbers and the shipping points for the coals of certain mines in District No. 8; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-I, § 328.21 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R-II, § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T-I, and § 328.42 (General prices for low volatile coals) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T-II, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith, the shipping points appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R for mines mentioned therein are effective in place of the shipping points heretofore established for these mines.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 4, 1943.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER,
Director.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting permanent relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for a change in the price classifications and minimum prices for rail and truck shipments for the coals produced by certain mines in the Red Ash Seam in Southern Appalachian Subdistrict of District No. 8 for shipment to all market areas.

Upon the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth in the opinion of the Director, filed simultaneously herewith, wherein it appears that the price classifications and minimum prices of the coals of High Point Coal Company, operating the High Point No. 2 Mine (Mine Index No. 242), the Diamond Coal Mining Company, operating the Diamond No. 3 Mine (Mine Index No. 165), and Block Coal and Coke Company, operating the Block No. 3 Mine (Mine Index No. 560), code members in District 8, in Size Groups 1 to 7, inclusive, for rail shipment, in Size Groups 1 to 6, inclusive for lake shipment, and in Size Groups 1, 2, and 4 for truck shipment, should be revised, and pursuant to section 4 II (d) and other provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937,

It is hereby ordered, That, effective fifteen (15) days from the date hereof § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

Dated: March 9, 1943.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER, Director.

NOTE: The material contained in these supplements is to be read in the light of the classifications, prices, instructions, exceptions and other provisions contained in Part 328, Minimum Price Schedule in District No. 8 and supplements thereto.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A-1857]

PART 321—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 1

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting motion to amend petion, amending petition, granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 1 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices and for other relief.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines located in District No. 1; changes in the shipping points for the coals produced by W. R. Cowan & S. A. Copenhaver (S. A. Copenhaver) at the Copenhaver No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 583, and by H. C. Bonner at the Arcadia No. 96 Mine, Mine Index No. 3744, respectively, and correction of the rail loading designation for the coals produced by Morris Run Coal Mining Company, at its Morris Run (Bloss) Mine, Mine Index No. 335, and its Morris Run (Seymour) Mine, Mine Index No. 455; and

A motion having been filed herein by the above-named party, requesting that the original petition heretofore filed herein be amended by deleting therefrom the proposals therein contained with respect to the coal produced by the Brothers Valley Coal Co. at its Reed No. 2 Mine, for the reason that this mine has been heretofore classified and priced as Reed No. 2 Mine, Mine Index No. 3894, by the Order issued in Docket No. A-1807 on January 8, 1943; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That said motion to amend the original petition be, and the same hereby is, granted, and that said original petition be, and the same hereby is, amended accordingly.

It is further ordered, That commencing forthwith § 321.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 321.24 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That the pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: March 11, 1943.

PART 323—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE; DISTRICT NO. 3

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order of consolidation and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petitions of District Board No. 3 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices and for changes in shipping points and freight origin group numbers for the coals of certain mines in District No. 3 and in the matter of the petition of Mountaineer Engineering Company, a code member in District No. 3, for a change in the shipping point for the coals of its Cottrell Mine located in District No. 3.

Original petitions having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named parties, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices and changes in the shipping points and Freight Origin Group Numbers for the coals of certain mines in District No. 3; and

It appearing that the above-entitled petitions raise similar and related issues and that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matters; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That the above-entitled petitions be, and the same hereby are, consolidated.

It is further ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted as follows: Commencing forthwith § 323.6 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplements R–I and R–V, § 323.8 (Special prices—(b) Railroad fuel prices for all movements except via lakes) is amended by adding thereto Supplements R–II and R–VI, § 323.8 (Special prices—(c) Railroad fuel prices for movement via all lakes—all ports) is amended by adding thereto Supplements R–III and R–VII, § 323.8 (Special prices—(a) Bunker fuel—tidewater) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–IV, and § 323.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith and shipping points and Freight Origin Group Numbers appearing in the aforesaid Supplements R–I and R–V for certain mines are effective in lieu of the shipping points and Freight Origin Group Numbers heretofore established for said mines.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petitions in the above-entitled matter, and applications to stay, terminate, or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4, II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless otherwise ordered.

Dated: February 26, 1943.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter III—Bureau of Mines

PART 303—GENERAL LICENSES PERTAINING TO EXPLOSIVES

PURCHASER'S LICENSE FOR SPECIFIED FIREWORKS

§ 303.7 General purchaser's license for limited quantities of specified fireworks manufactured before January 1, 1943. A general license is hereby granted under the Federal Explosives Act of December 26, 1941 (55 Stat. 863), to any individual not forbidden by Presidental or War Department proclamation, or regulations of the Attorney General, to possess explosives, authorizing him to purchase, possess, and use for amusement a combined total at any one time of not more than 10 pounds of the following described fireworks: colored lights, dipped sticks, paper caps in which the explosives content per cap is not more than 0.15 grains, smoke pots, snakes which do not contain any mercury salt, sparklers, torches, fountains and mines in which no explosive is used except as a propellant or expellant and no part of the contents of which will carry more than 15 feet in any direction, and wheels of which no part of the contents will carry more than 15 feet in any direction.

This general license applies orily to fireworks manufactured before January 1, 1943. It relieves persons covered by it from the duty of applying for and securing individual licenses. It does not relieve anyone who sells or distributes fireworks to such persons from the duty of keeping records of such transactions as prescribed by the Act or the regulations issued under the Act or from any other obligation with respect to explosives imposed by the Act or the regulations.

This general license does not supersede any State or local law forbidding or regulating the purchase, possession or use of fireworks.

This general license expires at midnight, July 10, 1943, unless sooner terminated.

R. R. SAYERS,
Director, Bureau of Mines.

The foregoing general license is approved, and all regulations inconsistent therewith are waived.

Dated: March 19, 1943.

MICHAEL W. STRAUSS,
First Assistant Secretary, Department of the Interior.

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Amendment 1 to WPB Reg. 1 as Amended March 24, 1943]

RATIFICATION AND CONFIRMATION OF PRIOR ACTIONS, ETC.

Section 903.0. WPB Regulation No. 1, as amended March 24, 1943 [8 F.R. 3666] is hereby further amended by adding an additional paragraph as follows:

(e) All existing rules, regulations, orders, directives, directions, certificates, delegations of authority and other actions taken by or under authority of the Director General for Operations or of his predecessors, the Director of Industry Operations of the War Production Board or the Director of Priorities of the Office of Production Management, or by the Rubber Director or the Director of War Utilities, are hereby ratified and confirmed and shall remain in full force and effect until they expire by their terms or are revoked or amended, and any references therein or in any rule, regulation, order, directive, direction, certificate or other action hereafter issued or taken, to action taken by the Director General for Operations, the Director of Industry Operations, the Director of Priorities, the Rubber Director or the Director of War Utilities shall be deemed to be references to action taken pursuant to this regulation, as amended. Pending the adoption and preparation of revised forms, and until otherwise ordered, rules, regulations, orders, directives, directions, certificates, delegations or other actions hereafter issued or taken in the name of the Director General for Operations, the Rubber Director or the Director of War Utilities in any manner heretofore or hereafter authorized shall be valid for all purposes to the same extent as if issued or taken in the manner prescribed in this regulation as amended.

PART 1090—AGAVE FIBER, AGAVE PRODUCTS AND CERTAIN OTHER CORDAGE

[Interpretation 1 of General Preference Order M–84, as Amended]

The following official interpretation is hereby issued with respect to the meaning of General Preference Order M–84, as amended:

Section 1090.1, General Preference Order M–84, in paragraph (d) (4) prohibits processors of agave fiber from processing or selling or delivering agave cordage except for certain end uses specified in that paragraph. Paragraph (d) (5) of the same order provides that each purchaser of agave cordage must furnish his seller a certificate in a form set out in that paragraph, and prohibits any person from selling or delivering any agave cordage without obtaining a certificate in the prescribed form. The signer of the certificate is required to represent to the seller and the War Production Board that the agave cordage covered by the certificate will be used or sold only for purposes authorized in paragraph (d) (4). A question has been raised whether paragraph (d) (5) extends the limitation of paragraph (d) (4), so that agave cordage produced by a foreign processor not under the limitations of the order is permitted to be sold only for purposes permitted by paragraph (d) (4).

The restrictions of paragraph (d) (5) do not apply to cordage manufactured in a foreign country by a processor not subject to the order. Such cordage may be sold or delivered in the United States without regard to paragraph (d) (4). It is of course subject to paragraph (d) (3), to any orders of the War Production Board issued pursuant to paragraph (h), and (since it is listed on List 2 of Order M–63) to any conditions on importation imposed by the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph (b) of Order M–63.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

Recording Secretary.

PART 1095—COMMUNICATIONS

[Revocation of General Conservation Order L–50, as Amended]

General Conservation Order L–50, as Amended (§ 1095.1) is hereby revoked and shall be superseded by Utilities Order U–2.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

PART 3212—BUSWAYS

[General Limitation Order L–273]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of copper and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3212.1 General Limitation Order L–273—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Manufacture" means to fabricate, process or assemble materials into busway.

(3) "Busway" means any bus duct, busway, or other device for the transmission and distribution of electric energy at 600 volts or less, and consisting of prefabricated (factory fabricated) sections or units made up of rigid copper conductors of any shape or arrangement, separated by insulators or insulating material and enclosed in a case or attached to a supporting framework, and assembled into a connected system in the course of installation, and includes plug-in devices, feed-in boxes, over-current protective devices, and any other parts designed for use therewith.

(i) "Plug-in type busway" means busway having a case (or framework) designed primarily to afford protection against accidental contact and, or extra rigidity for use with plug-in devices; and

(ii) "Feeder type busway" means busway having a case (or framework) affording mechanical protection and rigidity for the support normally required, but designed primarily to assure maximum current carrying capacity without excessive temperature rise.

(iii) The term "busway" shall no. include

(a) Busway designed for use with movable or rolling trolleys; or

(b) Busway having a cross-sectional area per conductor of less than 50,000 circular mills; or

(c) Extensions of any size or type of busway or conductors not exceeding ten feet in length furnished as an integral part of a switchboard, panelboard, or distribution transformer bank; or

(d) Step type busway designed to be used as a distribution center wherein provision is made to tap branch circuit wiring to over-current protective devices directly from the busway conductors through the use of lugs bolted on such conductors, and not having provision for the use of plug-in devices.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of orders, and deliveries. On and after April 5, 1943, no manufacturer, dealer or other person shall accept any order for any new busway, or deliver any busway under any order tendered before or after that date, unless such order bears a preference rating of AA–5 or higher.

(c) Restrictions on mechanical and electrical design. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this order, no person shall manufacture or deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of, any busway which is not manufactured in accordance with the following restrictions:

(1) (i) Plug-in type busway. No person shall manufacture any plug-in type busway having any line or phase copper conductors of any size except the sizes designated below, and such busway shall not contain more than the specified quantities of steel per linear foot:

way delivered pursuant to an order acdustrial Equipment Division, Washing-or who, in connection with this order,

Reference No.	Nominal ampere rating	Copper circular mil area for conductor	Conductor tolerance	Steel maximum lbs. per linear foot
Plug-in type			Percent
1	250	134,000	±5	4.5
2	400	301,000	±5	4.5
3	600	472,000	±5	4.5

Provided, that no person shall manufacture any such busway, with provision for the use of plug-in devices, of larger size or capacity than Size No. 3 above unless and until specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order; and if authorized, the sizes of copper conductors used shall conform to the conductor sizes, and the steel used therein per linear foot shall not exceed the quantities specified below for corresponding sizes of feeder type busway.

(ii) Feeder type busway. No person shall manufacture any feeder type busway having any line or phase copper conductors of any size except the sizes designated below, and such busway shall not contain more than the specified quantities of steel per linear foot:

Reference No.	Nominal ampere rating	Copper circular mil area per conductor	Conductor tolerance	Steel maximum lbs. per linear foot
Feeder Type			Percent
1	250	134,000	±5	4.5
2	400	301,000	±5	4.5
3	600	472,000	±5	4.5
4	800	637,000	±5	6.0
5	1,000	957,000	±5	8.0
6	1,350	1,273,000	±5	7.0
7	1,600	1,180,000	±5	8.0
8	2,000	1,914,000	±5	8.0
9	3,000	3,130,000	±5	9.0
10	4,000	5,104,000	±5	10.0

Provided, that no person shall manufacture any feeder type busway in Sizes 9 or 10 above unless and until specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order, after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the latter that the use of runs of smaller size feeder type busway would not be practicable.

(iii) For the purpose of this order, the "nominal ampere rating" shall be deemed to indicate the approximate capacity of the designated size of busway under average installation conditions and continuous operation, but shall not be construed to prohibit the use of the designated size for carrying a load in excess of, or less than, such nominal ampere rating; and the "steel maximum lbs. per linear foot" shall mean the permitted average weight in pounds of steel per linear foot included in the case (or framework), insulator supports, covers, nuts, bolts, straps, and other hardware, but excluding any hangers, or other supporting members which are used for attaching the busway to the structure in which installed.

(2) (i) No person shall manufacture more than one model or design of plug-in type busway, or of feeder type busway, in any of the sizes provided for under the preceding paragraph (c) (1), except that any person may produce not more than two models or designs in Size No. 1 of plug-in type busway. The use of any of the following types or arrangements of busway parts shall not be deemed to constitute a separate model or design within any of the sizes provided for under the preceding paragraph (c) (1):

(a) Conductors in single phase, two pole; three phase, three pole; three phase, four wire; two phase, four wire, or two phase, five wire;

(b) Use, or non-use, of plug-in or ventilating openings in Sizes No. 1 to No. 3 inclusive, of any busway;

(c) Use of additional sealing compound to afford weatherproof construction;

(d) Variations in length of sections, or in size or shape of such associated fittings as elbows, crosses, tees, connections between busway sections of different sizes or types, or special end construction to fit switchboards, panelboards and other devices not a part of the busway system.

(ii) After April 24, 1943, no person shall manufacture any plug-in type or feeder type busway, in any size, or of any design or model, unless and until he has first filed with the War Production Board on Form PD–834 a description of the size and model or design of such busway. Such description shall clearly set forth the following information with regard to such busway:

(a) Nominal cross-sectional dimensions of line or phase copper conductors;

(b) Average weight in pounds of steel used per linear foot, computed in accordance with (c) (1) (iii) above;

(c) Insulator spacing when ten foot sections are used;

(d) Type of plating or finish used on bus bar;

(e) Type of paint or finish used on case or framework;

(f) Case design with nominal dimensions and thickness, U. S. S. gauge, of the busway case (or framework).

The models or designs so described shall constitute the standard models or designs adopted by the manufacturer as those which he proposes to manufacture in accordance with paragraph (c) (2) (i) above.

(iii) Except as permitted under paragraph (c) (2) (i), no person shall alter or change any such model or design manufactured by him to such an extent that it does not substantially conform to the description adopted and furnished by him pursuant to this order, or manufacture any busway of any other model or design for any particular installation, unless and until he has been specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board, pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order, after it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the latter that such change of the standard model or design would result in the conservation of additional quantities of steel or other critical materials, or the more effective utilization of labor or production facilities without increase in the use of such materials, or that the manufacture of an exceptional model or design is essential on account of the exceptional installation conditions of the particular installation.

The application for such specific authorization shall be made on Form PD–834 if a new standard model is proposed, or by letter if a variance for a particular installation is requested, and shall include a description of the proposed model or design as specified above under (c) (2) (ii). If such authorization is granted, all busway manufactured pursuant thereto shall be in conformity with such description, and if a new standard model or design is thereby established in any size for a particular manufacturer, such model or design shall replace his former model or design in such size.

(3) No person shall manufacture any feeder type busway unless it is so designed that any designated size will carry, under continuous duty, a full power load equivalent to the nominal ampere rating for such size as indicated under paragraph (c) (1) (ii) above, and without exceeding a temperature rise of 70° C. in any part of the conductors when the busway is so placed in various horizontal positions that the maximum temperature rise in any conductor is attained at the heat saturation point (when measured for "hot-spot" temperatures in accordance with American Institute of Electrical Engineers Standards, "A. I. E. E. No. 1, June 1940").

(4) No person shall manufacture any plug-in type or feeder type busway which contains in, or as a plating or finish on, the case (or framework), nuts, bolts, washers, name plates or identification plates any of the following materials: aluminum, copper, chromium, nickel, cadmium, or zinc, or alloys thereof.

(d) Authorizations. Application for authorization by the War Production Board under paragraphs (c) (1) (i), or (c) (1) (ii), or for a particular installation under (c) (2) (iii) above, shall be made by the manufacturer, by letter, in triplicate, setting forth facts sufficient to enable the War Production Board to determine the necessity or justification for such an authorization.

(e) Exemptions. The restrictions and limitations of paragraph (c) of this order shall not apply:

(1) To the manufacture and delivery of any plug-in type or feeder type busway delivered pursuant to an order accepted prior to April 5, 1943, provided such delivery is made prior to May 24, 1943.

(2) To the use of component parts of busway which on April 5, 1943, had been fabricated or processed to the extent that use in conformity with this order would be impractical; or

(3) Until 90 days after April 5, 1943, to the manufacture or delivery of any busway to be delivered for the direct use of, the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration, to the extent that any applicable specifications of any such organization require construction, design or materials not in accordance with the provisions of this order. As used in this paragraph, the terms "Army", "Navy", "Maritime Commission", and "War Shipping Administration" shall not include any privately operated plants or shipyards financed by any of those organizations, or operated on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of all regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and amended from time to time.

(2) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production, and sales of busway.

All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(3) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, or any direction thereunder, shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–273.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

PART 3218—FERROCOLUMBIUM

[General Preference Order M–296]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of ferrocolumbium for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3218.1 General Preference Order M–296.—(a) Definition. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Ferrocolumbium" means any alloy containing 45 percent or more by weight of the element columbium.

(b) Restrictions on use of ferrocolumbium. No person shall melt or otherwise process ferrocolumbium except as specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries. No person shall deliver or accept delivery of ferrocolumbium without the specific authorization of the War Production Board. The War Production Board will, from time to time, allocate the supply of ferrocolumbium and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries thereof to particular persons or for particular uses shall be made or withheld. Such allocations and directions will be made primarily to insure the satisfaction of all war requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular contracts or purchase orders.

(d) Application for specific authorization. Application for specific authorization to acquire or to melt or otherwise process ferrocolumbium shall be made on Form PD–391 or PD–707 or such other form as may be, from time to time, prescribed for the purpose, and in addition each applicant for such permission shall report on Form PD–805. Applications and reports shall be filed at such time and in such manner as may be required by the instructions accompanying the appropriate forms prescribed by the War Production Board.

(e) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Communications to War Production Board. All reports and applications required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Steel Division, Ferro-Alloys Branch, Washington, D. C., Reference M–296.

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

Subchapter C—Director, Offices of War Utilities

PART 4500—ELECTRIC, GAS, WATER, AND STEAM UTILITIES: MATERIALS

[Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–c as Amended March 24, 1943]

Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–c is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 4500.4 Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–c—Connections to serve farm production equipment. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) of Utilities Order U–1, electric service connections may be made by producers to permit the operation of farm production equipment. Provided, That all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) The prospective consumer possesses one of the following types of electric farm equipment of sufficient capacity for the use contemplated, or can obtain such equipment without priorities assistance, or a preference rating of AA–5 or better has been assigned to deliveries of such equipment to him:

(1) Water pump for livestock.
(2) Milking machine.
(3) Milk cooler.
(4) Incubator.
(5) Brooder.
(6) Feed grinder
(7) Milk sterilizer.

(b) There is no other means of operating such equipment on the premises.

(c) The length of such connection will not exceed 100 feet per animal unit determined in accordance with Schedule I annexed hereto, and will not exceed 5,000 feet total length, except upon specific authorization from the Director, Office of War Utilities.

(d) The prospective consumer will use electric service to operate equipment for farm production, and has livestock on hand which, together with his estimated production of livestock for market, aggregates not less than 5 animal units, determined in accordance with Schedule I annexed hereto.

(e) Primary lines are single phase and are constructed of:

(1) No. 6 galvanized steel wire, or

(2) To the extent that it is available in the excess inventory of any producer, (i) copper-covered steel wire, (ii) No. 4 A. C. S. R. conductor, or (iii) No. 6 A. C. S. R. conductor, or

(3) Any conductor having conductivity equal to or less than that of No. 6 copper conductor, which, after March 24, 1943 is salvaged from plant.

(f) Secondary lines and services require not more than 30 pounds of nonferrous metal for any prospective consumer.

(g) The prospective consumer's application for service is accompanied by a certification from his USDA County War Board in substantially the following form:

(To the Utility Addressed):

Mr. ----------, who has livestock on hand which, together with estimated production of livestock for market, aggregates not less than five animal units, is eligible for an electric connection of ------ feet under the terms of Supplementary Utilities Order U-1-c. In the opinion of this USDA County War Board this connection will result in a substantial increase in farm production, or a substantial saving of farm labor, and is in accord with the spirit, as well as the letter, of Supplementary Utilities Order U-1-c.

(For USDA County War Board)

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

J. A. KRUG,
Director, Office of War Utilities.

SCHEDULE I—EQUIVALENT ANIMAL UNITS

A. Livestock on hand:
1 milk cow	One unit.
10 beef cattle (all cattle, including calves, other than milk cows and cattle in feed lot)	One unit.
30 breeding ewes	One unit.
3 brood sows	One unit.
75 laying hens	One unit.
40 turkeys or geese	One unit.
B. Estimated production of livestock for market:
20 cattle (in feed lot) per year	One unit.
160 lambs (in feed lot) per year	One unit.
30 feeder pigs per year	One unit.
250 chickens (not broilers) per year	One unit.
600 chickens (broilers) per year	One unit.
125 turkeys or geese per year	One unit.

PART 4501—COMMUNICATIONS

[Utilities Order U-2]

General Conservation Order L-50 as heretofore amended, is hereby revoked and shall be superseded by Utilities Order U-2 as follows:

§ 4501.1 Utilities Order U-2—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Operator" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, receiver, or any form of enterprise whatsoever, whether incorporated or not, the United States, the District of Columbia, any state or territory of the United States, any political, corporate, administrative or other division or agency thereof, to the extent engaged in rendering telephone communication service (and such telegraph and teletypewriter service as may also be conducted by him), within, to, or from the United States, its territories or possessions.

(2) "Exchange line plant" means all that portion of an operator's local wire or cable distribution system which extends from the central office main frame, exclusive of poles, crossarms, insulators, and non-metallic conduit, and associated hardware and guys, and exclusive of drop and block wires.

(3) Without regard to whether or not the expenditures therefor are for any reason required to be recorded in the operator's accounting records in accounts other than maintenance and repair:

(i) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a facility in sound working condition.

(ii) "Repair" means the restoration of a facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like.

(iii) Neither maintenance nor repair shall include the improvement of any plant, facility or equipment, by replacing material which is still usable with material of a better kind, quality or design.

(4) "Drop and block wires" means the portion of a customer's circuit (whether aerial or underground) extending from the inside wire (usually at the station protector or connecting block), or from the station equipment when no inside wire is involved, to the point of connection with the general overhead or underground system. This includes such circuit, carried by means of wire or small cables, extending to the cable terminal in cases where connection is made with a general cable system, or to the point of connection with the aerial wire plant in cases where connection is made with a general wire system, and also includes brackets, bridle rings, insulators, knobs, span clamps, screws, sleeves, strand, tubes, and other material used in the installation of drop and block wires; and the pipes or other protective covering for underground service connections.

(5) "Station installations" means the wires (or small cables) from the station apparatus to the point near the entrance to the building where the drop or block wire or cable terminates, or to the junction boxes where the house cable or other cable terminates; the wires (or small cables) used to connect station apparatus in the same building, such as main stations with extension stations, and stations of intercommunicating systems; the wires (or small cables) used to connect private branch exchange switchboards or their distributing frames with terminal stations located in the same building, and the clamps, cleats, connecting blocks, ground wire, ground rods, nails, station protectors, screws, and other material used in the installation of station apparatus and inside wires. The cables referred to above are the small cables used in station installations instead of wires, such as those run from wall outlets or floor terminals to the station apparatus. Inside wires (or small cables) installed specifically to serve as trunk, battery, or generator circuits from a private branch exchange to the point of connection with the permanent house or outside cables or wires shall be considered as a part of the station installation. The term "station installations" does not include the telephone instrument or other "station apparatus."

(b) General. (1) All operators shall conserve scarce and critical materials by the employment of all practical methods such as: the use of such types of equipment and facilities as will reduce the use of such materials to a practical minimum and meet necessary service requirements, the substitution of less scarce materials, when such substitution can be made without serious loss of efficiency, the reuse of existing telephone equipment and facilities.

In order to make maximum use of existing facilities and at the same time to avoid as far as practicable the use of scarce and critical materials to provide additional exchange central office call carrying capacity and exchange interoffice trunks in the event of any future substantial increase in local telephone usage, all operators shall limit the number of main telephone stations (i. e., the total number of stations and P. B. X. trunks exclusive of extension stations and P. B. X. stations) connected to any central office to 105 per cent of the number of main stations that the central office was designed to serve under prewar engineering and operating practices (except this limitation need not be applied in the case of a single-office exchange where the central office is designed to serve less than 1000 main telephone stations): Provided, however, That where the number of main stations now connected to a central office already exceeds the 105 per cent limit specified above, the number already connected need not be reduced so long as the service is satisfactory.

(2) All operators shall discontinue the further installation or reconnection of:

(i) Residence extensions, or jacks and plugs therefor;

(ii) Residence private branch exchange telephones, or jacks and plugs therefor;

(iii) Additional main lines or stations on party lines in substitution for (i) and (ii) above.

Temporary installation of residence extensions may be made when essential in cases of serious illness.

The installation and reconnection in residence quarters of telephones connected to private branch exchanges serving hotels, apartment houses, etc., may be made to the extent that no more than one such telephone shall be provided in any single residence quarters.

(3) All operators shall discontinue the placing of open copper wire in exchange line plant.

(4) All operators shall discontinue the further installation of dial private branch exchange systems and dial private intercommunicating systems. This does not, however, prohibit: the installation by an operator of such systems of less than 100 lines where such equipment is already in the stocks of operators; the installation of additions to such existing systems; or, moves of such systems for the same subscriber within the same exchange area, or to a contiguous exchange area of the same operator, where effected in accordance with the limitations of paragraph (e) of this order.

(5) Service, involving exchange central office equipment and/or exchange line plant, installed or reconnected on and after the 15th day of April, 1943 shall be on an interim basis only, that is, subject to regrading and disconnection as provided in paragraph (d). Exchange central office equipment and/or exchange line plant made available through normal disconnections shall be used to take care of current applications for service of the kind included in paragraph (e) (1) (i) before such facilities are used currently to complete applications for service in other categories. Idle facilities may be reserved where necessary to meet promptly the known or fairly anticipated service requirements of the kind included in paragraphs (e) (1) (i) and (e) (1) (ii).

(6) All operators shall discontinue the further installation of teletypewriters for persons other than those of the kind included in paragraph (e) (1) (i). This does not prohibit moves of teletypewriters for the same subscriber within the same exchange.

(7) Except where necessary to meet the needs for service of the kind included in paragraphs (e) (1) (i) and (e) (1) (ii), all operators shall limit the length along the exchange aerial cable system or the aerial wire system of further installations of drop and block wires in exchanges serving more than 1000 main telephone stations to one pole to pole span from the point of connection with the existing plant (except where this span is less than 75 feet, in which case the length along the exchange cable system or the aerial wire system shall be limited to two spans) and in exchanges serving less than 1000 main stations to two pole to pole spans from the point of connection with the existing plant.

(c) Restrictions on replacements. (1) All operators shall limit the replacement of equipment and facilities (except poles, crossarms, insulators and non-metallic conduit, associated hardware and guys and station installations) to the essential requirements of maintenance, repair or protection of existing service, except:

(i) Where necessary to provide a permanent installation in lieu of one temporarily made to meet an exigency;

(ii) A substitution of facilities necessitated either by decreased service demands or by the provisions of paragraphs (d) (1) or (d) (2);

(iii) A substitution of telephone sets necessary to effect a change in the "class" or "grade" of service, provided such change is not otherwise prohibited by this order. The "classes" of service involved are business, residence, semi-public, residence coin; the "grades" of services involved are individual, two-party, four-party, multi-party.

(d) Regrading, disconnections and substitutions. (1) To the extent necessary to meet minimum needs for service of the kind included in paragraphs (e) (1) (i) and (e) (1) (ii), all operators shall make available additional exchange central office equipment and/or exchange line plant in the following order in so far as practicable:

(i) By regrading existing service whenever current installations of central office equipment will permit, except where regraded service will not meet the minimum service needs of residence subscribers of the kind included in paragraph (e) (1) (i) or of business subscribers. In so far as practicable such service shall be regraded in the reverse order of the dates of connection at the existing locations (i. e., the most recently connected service shall be regraded first), except that service furnished on an interim basis shall be regraded before other service.

(ii) By disconnection of service furnished on an interim basis other than that of the kind included in paragraphs (e) (1) (i) and (e) (1) (ii). In so far as practicable disconnection of such service shall be in the reverse order of the dates of connection at the existing locations, except that residence service shall be disconnected before business service.

(2) All operators shall substitute other types of teletypewriters to the extent necessary to secure equipment needed to meet minimum needs for service of the kind included in paragraph (e) (1) (i) in so far as the minimum service needs of the persons affected permit.

(e) Limitations on additions. (1) All operators shall limit additions of exchange central office equipment and exchange line plant to such as are essential to the maintenance or protection of existing service, except that, when no additional facilities may be recovered or made available by the methods described in paragraph (d) above, additions may be made to the extent necessary:

(i) To meet the known or fairly anticipated demands for service essential to persons engaged in direct defense or charged with responsibility for public health, welfare or security including, but not limited to, those in the service categories shown in Schedule A attached; where their employment in direct defense or their responsibilities for public health, welfare, or security require such service for the proper discharge of such duties: Provided, That such additions shall not be made for residence service except in accordance with paragraphs (e) (1) (iii) and (e) (1) (iv).

(ii) To provide for the installation of public pay stations to meet essential public demands.

(iii) To provide service requested by producers of substantial quantities of food where such service is essential to such producers' operations: Provided, however, That in no single case shall there be used more than 100 pounds of steel or iron wire in the case of grounded circuits nor more than 200 pounds in the case of metallic circuits for each such subscriber connected.

(iv) To provide cable terminals required in existing exchange line plant to make available for use facilities not otherwise usable for known demands.

(f) Engineering and planning. Except in respect to poles, crossarms, insulators and non-metallic conduit, and associated hardware and guys, all operators shall:

(1) Engineer all replacements and additions to exchange plant so as to limit the margins for expected growth of service requirements of the kind described in paragraphs (e) (1) (i), (e) (1) (ii), to a period not in excess of one-half the period for which provision would be normally made, but in no event to exceed a period of three years.

(2) Engineer all replacements or additions to toll plant so as to limit the margins for expected growth of service requirements to a period not in excess of one-half the period for which provision would be normally made, but in no event to exceed a period of three years; provided, however, that this requirement shall not require the limitation of the margins of such growth to a period less than one year, and provided, further, that conductors in cables designed or suitable for use with carrier current systems may be provided (but not equipped) in such numbers that, when fully utilized by present or immediately contemplated carrier current system technique, they will provide for margins for expected growth of one-half the normal provision for such growth, even though such provision exceeds a three-year period.

(g) Non-applicability to certain replacements and additions. The terms of paragraphs (b), (c), (e) and (f) shall not prohibit:

(1) Replacements and or additions authorized after September 7, 1942 by the issuance of:

(i) A preference rating certificate pursuant to an application for priorities assistance on Form PD-200;

(ii) An order of the War Production Board specifically authorizing such replacement and or addition; or

(iii) Approval of an application on Form PD-685.

(2) The completion of projects in accordance with the provisions of General Conservation Order L-50 as amended September 7, 1942, the physical installation of which projects was started on or before the 25th day of March, 1943.

(h) Reports. All operators affected by this order shall execute and file with the Office of War Utilities such reports as the Director, Office of War Utilities, shall from time to time require.

(i) Records. Each operator affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning his use of steel or iron wire and number of main telephone stations connected under the provisions of paragraph (e) (1) (iii) subject to the inspection of the duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Exemption of armed services. The restrictions of paragraphs (b) (3), (b) (4) and (c) shall not apply to facilities for the official use of the armed services of the United States.

(k) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing Form PD-761, giving all information required by said form.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of the order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Office of War Utilities, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U-2.

(P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.)

Issued this 25th day of March 1943.

J. A. KRUG,
Director, Office of War Utilities.

SCHEDULE A

GENERAL CATEGORIES OF TELEPHONE SERVICE RELATED TO DIRECT DEFENSE, PUBLIC HEALTH, WELFARE OR SECURITY

1. Official Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, civilian defense services.

2. Official Federal, State, county and municipal government services.

3. Official agencies of foreign governments.

4. (a) Public or private organizations directly serving the public safety, health or welfare, such as: hospitals, clinics, sanitoria; physicians, surgeons, dentists, nurses, nurses' registries, veterinarians, ambulance services, manufacturers or distributors (wholesale and retail) of drugs, surgical, medical, hospital or dental supplies or equipment; mortuaries, burial service organizations, the American Red Cross and similar agencies.

(b) Common carriers, pipe line companies, all types of public utilities.

(c) Press associations, newspapers, radio broadcasting stations.

(d) Philanthropic and eleemosynary organizations recognized as such by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including their fund-raising offices; United Service Organizations and other similar organizations; religious establishments and their officiating clergy; Christian Science Practitioners; public and private schools; and food processing, food distribution (wholesale and retail) and food storage organizations.

5. Business concerns furnishing material, equipment or facilities under prime or subcontracts to the armed services of the United States (and their suppliers); persons rendering special services in connection with construction of defense projects as shall be authorized pursuant to Preference Rating Order P-19-h, such as contractors, engineers, architects, etc.; and labor unions having bona fide collective bargaining agreements with business concerns identified in this Category 5.

6. The business or management offices of new housing developments.

[RPS 84,[1] Amendment 4]

RADIO RECEIVER AND PHONOGRAPH PARTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment have been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Paragraph (d) in § 1336.101 is amended to read as set forth below:

(d) Other parts. The maximum price, exclusive of federal excise tax, for any part other than a part referred to in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall be in line with the net price, exclusive of federal excise tax, which the manufacturer of such part would have charged for it at any time during the period from October 1 to October 15, 1941, if such price had been calculated upon cost prevailing during such period by use of procedures and standards then employed in estimating costs and determining prices. No such part shall be offered for sale until the proposed price thereof has been approved by the Office of Price Administration on the basis of the report submitted pursuant to § 1336.101 (b). Such approval may also establish maximum prices which sellers of the parts generally may charge, including wholesalers and retailers of the parts.

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 296,[2] Amendment No. 2]

FLOUR FROM WHEAT, SEMOLINA AND FARINA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

[2] 8 F.R. 158, 612, 2598.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 296 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1651 (a) is added to read as follows:

(a) Maximum prices for primary distributors. Wherever in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 296 the words "miller" or "blender" are used they shall be construed to include primary distributors, as hereinafter defined.

2. Section 1351.1651 (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for flour jobbers. From and after March 30, 1943 to and including May 31, 1943, or sooner if this section is revoked, wherever in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 296 the words "miller" or "blender" are used they shall be construed to include flour jobbers as hereinafter defined. For sales to retail outlets, the maximum price for "flour jobbers" shall be calculated under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 237.

3. Section 1351.1656 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1656 Carrying charges. Carrying charges may be charged in addition to the maximum prices for flour from wheat, semolina and farina set forth in Appendix A hereof, except those maximum prices set forth in § 1351.1666 Appendix A, VI. Such carrying charges shall not exceed 1/6 of a cent per barrel per day for each day's delay in shipment beyond 60 days from the date of the contract of sale or beyond the delivery date specified under such contract, whichever is later, which is caused by the failure of the buyer to furnish shipping instructions (and necessary containers, if sale is made on a bulk basis) in accordance with the specifications of the contract of sale.

4. Section 1351.1658 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1351.1658 Federal and State taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing or use of flour from wheat, semolina or farina, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased: Provided, however, That the tax on the transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any product covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 296, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the basic price. Wherever in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 296 a maximum price is determined by adding a transportation charge to a basic price, the transportation charge shall be the charge computed by using the applicable transportation rate and adding thereto 3% of said transportation charge.

5. Section 1351.1663 (a) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) "Blender" means a secondary processor who buys flours from wheat, semolina, or farina and repacks them for sale. He may blend these products with one another and or with phosphating, enriching and self-rising ingredients.

6. Section 1351.1663 (a) (6) is amended to read as follows:

(6) "Cake flour" means a soft wheat flour containing not more than .447% ash calculated to a moisture-free basis (which equals .38% ash calculated to a 15% moisture basis) having a viscosity of not more than 70 degrees (McMichael) determined by the no-time method, and capable of producing satisfactory cake, when mixed with an equal weight of liquid and an equal weight of sugar together with other appropriate ingredients.

7. Section 1351.1663 (a) (20) is added to read as follows:

(20) "Family farina" means farina which is packed and sold for ultimate use in the home.

8. Section 1351.1663 (a) (21) is added to read as follows:

(21) "Primary distributor" means a person who buys flour from wheat, semolina and farina and resells without additional processing and in the original containers. He delivers to bakers and other commercial, institutional and governmental users in carload quantities and to wholesalers, jobbers, and retailer-owned warehouses in both carload and less-than-carload quantities.

9. Section 1351.1663 (a) (22) is added to read as follows:

(22) "Flour jobber" means a person who buys flour from wheat, semolina and farina and resells without additional processing and in the original containers in less-than-carload quantities to bakers and commercial, institutional, or governmental users: Provided, That this definition shall not include wholesalers, 50% or more of whose total dollar sales volume is with retail grocery stores.

10. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VI is amended to read as follows:

VI. Maximum prices for family cake flour, and family whole wheat flour, and for family farina, enriched and unenriched. (a) At all destinations, the maximum price for family cake flour and family whole wheat flour packed 12 $2^3/_4$ pound packages to the case, shall be $2.75 per case.

(b) At all destinations, the maximum price for family cake flour and family whole wheat flour packed in packages containing 5 pounds or less, but not including the package and case size covered by subparagraph (a) hereof shall be $7^1/_2$¢ per pound plus the cost of packages, labels, and shipping containers.

(c) The maximum prices for family cake flour and family whole wheat flour packed in packages containing more than 5 pounds shall be the maximum prices for family flours as otherwise determined under the provisions of this Appendix A.

(d) At all destinations maximum prices for family farina, enriched and unenriched, in packages weighing 14 ounces and 28 ounces each, and packed 24 to the case and 18 to the case respectively, shall be as follows:

	Carlots	Less-than-carlots
(i) 28 ounce packages, packed 18 to the case	$3.47½	$3.55
(ii) 14 ounce packages, packed 24 to the case	2.70	2.75

(e) At all destinations the maximum price for family farina, enriched and unenriched, packed in packages containing 5 pounds or less but not including the package sizes provided for under subparagraph (d) hereof shall be $9^3/_4$¢ per pound plus the cost of packages, labels, and shipping containers.

(f) Maximum prices for family farina in packages containing more than 5 pounds shall be the same as the maximum prices for family flour, as otherwise determined under the provisions of this Appendix A.

11. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VII (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for farina, except family farina, delivered at specified destinations. Maximum prices for farina, except family farina, delivered at specified destinations shall be determined by adding 40¢ per barrel to the maximum prices for flour from wheat, as otherwise determined in Paragraphs I, II, or III of this Appendix A.

12. In § 1351.1666 Appendix A. VII, the texts of paragraphs (c) and (c) (i) are amended to read as follows:

(c) Maximum prices for enriched and self-rising flours from wheat, and for enriched farina, except enriched family farina in packages containing five pounds or less, delivered at specified destinations. (i) The maximum prices for flour from wheat enriched in accordance with subparagraph (a) of § 15.010 of the Definition and Standard of Identity promulgated by the Federal Security Administrator, delivered at specified destinations shall be the applicable maximum prices as set forth in this Appendix A, plus 20 cents per barrel.

13. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VII (c) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The maximum prices for flour from wheat enriched in accordance with subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of § 15.010 of the Definition and Standard of Identity promulgated by the Federal Security Administrator, delivered at specified destinations shall be the applicable maximum prices as set forth in this Appendix A, plus 40 cents per barrel.

14. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VII (c) (iii) is added to read as follows:

(iii) The maximum price for farina, except family farina, in packages containing 5 pounds or less, enriched in accordance with the Definition and Standard of Identity promulgated by the Federal Security Administrator, delivered at specified destinations shall be the applicable maximum prices as set forth in paragraph VII (b) of this Appendix A, plus 20 cents per barrel.

15. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VII (c) (iv) is added to read as follows:

(iv) The maximum prices for self-rising flour, which conforms to the Definition and Standard of Identity promulgated by the Federal Security Administrator, delivered at specified destinations, shall be the maximum prices as set forth in this Appendix A, plus 25 cents per barrel.

16. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VIII (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for flour from wheat and farina in containers other than cotton sacks holding 98 pounds. Maximum prices for flour from wheat or farina in containers other than cotton sacks holding 98 pounds, shall be the applicable maximum prices as set forth in this Appendix A plus or minus the differentials set forth in paragraph (c) hereof: Provided, that family cake flour, family wholewheat flour, and family farina priced in accordance with paragraph VI hereof shall not be subject to this paragraph VIII.

17. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VIII (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) Maximum prices for flour from wheat and farina packed in packages and/or package sizes other than those set forth in subparagraph (c). Maximum prices for flour from wheat and farina packed in packages and/or package sizes other than those set forth in subparagraph (c) hereof shall be: (i) the appropriate proportion of the bulk price per barrel for flour from wheat or farina determined by subtracting from the applicable maximum price in 98 pound sacks, the amount of 32 cents per barrel, and

(ii) Adding thereto the cost of packages, labels, and shipping containers, and

(iii) Adding also the appropriate proportion of the per barrel differential in subparagraph (c) hereof under the heading "Buyer's packages, charge per barrel over bulk price for handling and packing buyer's packages" for the package size most nearly approximating that for which a maximum price is being calculated.

18. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. VIII (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Added charges for containers other than those covered by subparagraph (c). If an outside jute, cotton, or paper envelope or an outside fiber container of a size different from those set forth under subparagraph (c) hereof is used, the cost of the envelope or fiber container actually used may be added to the maximum prices for flour from wheat, or farina as otherwise set forth in this Appendix A.

19. In § 1351.1666 Appendix A. The texts of IX and IX (1) are amended to read as follows:

IX. Maximum prices for other shipments or deliveries including less than carload quantities, except in the case of sales at retail. (1) The maximum prices for shipments or deliveries of 55 barrels or more, but less than a carload quantity, f. o. b. mill or f. o. b. seller's warehouse shall be the maximum carload prices at said point (said point being deemed a destination for this purpose) as set forth in this Appendix A, plus 10¢ per barrel.

20. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. IX (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Maximum prices for shipments or deliveries of less than 55 barrels, either f. o. b. mill or f. o. b. seller's warehouse, shall be the maximum carload prices at said point (said point being deemed the destination for this purpose) plus 35¢ per barrel.

21. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. IX (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Maximum prices for shipments in mixed cars or pool cars delivered f. o. b. team or industry track at destination shall be the maximum carload prices as set forth in this Appendix A, plus 10¢ per barrel.

22. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. IX (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) Maximum prices for shipments or deliveries of 55 barrels or more, but less than a carload quantity delivered at any destination, except f. o. b. mill, f. o. b. seller's warehouse, or f. o. b. team or industry track in a mixed car or a pool car, shall be the maximum carload price as set forth in this Appendix A plus 25¢ per barrel.

23. Section 1351.1666 Appendix A. IX (5) is added to read as follows:

(5) Maximum prices for shipments or deliveries of less than 55 barrels, delivered at any destination, except f. o. b. mill, f. o. b. seller's warehouse, or f. o. b. team or industry track in a mixed car or a pool car, shall be the maximum carload price as set forth in this Appendix A, plus 65¢ per barrel.

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 335,[1] Amendment 1]

PEANUTS AND PEANUT BUTTER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 335 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.2001 is amended by adding the following sentence:

Maximum prices for persons selling these peanut products in special situations are covered in § 1351.2006 (l).

2. In § 1351.2003, the text of (a) and (b) is amended to read as follows:

(a) • • • The maximum prices per pound, carload basis f. o. b. mill, which shellers may charge for unshelled peanuts shall be: • • •

To find his maximum price for any item on a less-carload basis, the sheller shall add to the maximum price named his established price differential, if any, between carload and less-carload lots.

(b) • • • The maximum prices per pound, carload basis f. o. b. mill, which shellers may charge for shelled peanuts shall be: • • •

To find his maximum price for any item on a less-carload basis, the sheller shall add to the maximum price named his established price differential, if any, between carload and less-carload lots.

3. In § 1351.2003 (c) an item is amended to read as follows:

(c) • • •

	California, Oregon and Washington	Other States
Virginia type:	Cents	Cents
Unblanched peanuts	9.1	8.5
Blanched peanuts	9.7	9.1

4. In § 1351.2004 (a) (3) an item is amended to read as follows:

(3) • • •

	California, Oregon and Washington	Other States
White Spanish and Runner types:	Cents	Cents
Unblanched peanuts	8.1	7.5
Blanched peanuts	8.9	8.3

5. Section 1351.2004 (a) is amended by adding the following sentences after the table in paragraph (3):

However, processors who customarily sell only to ultimate consumers (other than industrial, institutional and commercial users) and who customarily sell only at the place where the peanuts are salted shall figure maximum prices as if they were retailers pricing under §1351.2005.

Example. Although the Jones Drug Store, which sells peanuts salted on the premises, is technically a "processor," it prices as if it were merely a retailer.

6. In § 1351.2004 (b) the headnote and subparagraph (3) are amended to read as follows:

(b) Pricing method for blanched, sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted peanuts. • • •

(3) The following amount for each pound of the finished item (use appropriate figure):

	Cents per pound
California, Oregon and Washington	9.6
Other states	9.0

7. Section 1351.2004 (h) is amended to read as follows:

(h) Processors having more than one shipping point. The maximum price for each item for a processor who has more than one shipping point shall be figured separately for each shipping point, but if any two or more shipping points had the same f. o. b. shipping point prices in 1942, a maximum price may be figured uniformly for that group by using the combined sales of that group in the computations required by paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section. • • •

8. Sections 1351.2004 and 1351.2006 (f) are amended by deleting the words "f. o. b. plant" wherever they appear and substituting in each case the words "f. o. b. shipping point."

9. Section 1351.2006 (k), (l), and (m) are redesignated § 1351.2006 (n), (o), and (p).

10. Section 1351.2006 is amended by adding the following new paragraphs (k), (l), and (m):

(k) Units of sale and fractions of a cent. All maximum prices which have to be figured shall be stated in terms of the same general units (like pounds, dozens, cases, etc.) in which the seller has customarily quoted prices for the product. If any maximum price so figured includes a fraction of a cent, the seller shall adjust the price to the nearest fractional unit (like 1¢, ½¢, ¼¢, etc.) in which he has customarily quoted prices for the product.

(l) Maximum prices for persons in special situations. Any person who sells a peanut product covered by this regulation and for whom no maximum price is provided by this or any other maximum price regulation shall take as his maximum price in each case the maximum price of his supplier, plus incoming freight paid by him. However, any such person selling cleaned and graded peanuts, whether unshelled or shelled, shall take as his maximum prices the maximum prices fixed for shellers in § 1351.2003, plus incoming freight paid by him, even though his supplier was a primary jobber.

Examples. When reselling farmers' stock peanuts which it has purchased from growers, the Commodity Credit Corporation is subject to the maximum prices named for growers in Section 1351.2002. (The same is true of other buyers of farmers' stock peanuts who buy for resale.) Because it does not actually handle the peanuts, transportation charges in these cases should be figured as if the Commodity Credit Corporation were not involved.

A processor selling an excess stock of peanuts cannot price it as a primary jobber, because he does not customarily handle the item for resale. Selling in a special capacity, therefore, he takes the maximum price of his supplier, except where the item is unshelled or shelled peanuts which he bought from someone other than a sheller. In that case he takes the sheller's ceiling.

(m) Position of brokers. In accordance with existing trade custom, every broker shall be considered as the agent of the seller and not the agent of the buyer. In each case, the amount paid by the buyer to the broker plus the amount paid by the buyer to the seller shall not exceed the seller's maximum price plus allowable transportation actually paid by the seller or by the broker.

11. Section 1351.2006 (l) (2), which is redesignated § 1351.2006 (o) (2), is amended by deleting the words "peanuts or" following the words "grading, labeling or packaging of any."

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED, AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 252,[1] Amendment 2]

VINEGAR CURED HERRING

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 252 is amended in the following respect:

1. Section 1364.303a is added to read as follows:

§ 1364.303a Inability to fix maximum prices under § 1364.303 (a) If the final processor's maximum price for any item cannot be determined under § 1364.303, his maximum price shall be the maximum price of the most closely competitive processor.

(b) If the processor's maximum price for any item cannot be determined under § 1364.303 or under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price determined after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on application setting forth (1) a detailed description of the kind, grade, type, or style of pack, and container type and size; and (2) a statement of the facts which differentiate it from the most similar item for which he has determined a maximum price, identifying the similar item and stating the maximum price determined for it. When authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions for determining the maximum price. Within ten days after the price has been determined, the seller shall report it to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This price shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

2. Section 1364.308a is hereby revoked.

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

PART 1380—HOUSEHOLD AND SERVICE INDUSTRY MACHINES

[Rev. MPR 139]

USED HOUSEHOLD MECHANICAL REFRIGERATORS

Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 is amended to read as set forth below:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this revision of Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

AUTHORITY: § 1380.201 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 139—Used Household Mechanical Refrigerators

SECTION 1. Sales and rentals of used household mechanical refrigerators at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell, rent, or deliver a used household mechanical refrigerator to any other person at prices or rates higher than the maximum prices or rates fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices or rates lower than the maximum prices or rates may be charged.

SEC. 2. To what products, transactions and persons this regulation applies—(a) What products are covered by the regulation. This regulation covers sales and rentals of all household mechanical refrigerators which have ever been used, or which have been in the possession of a consumer for more than five days or were manufactured for use in the year 1940 or earlier.

(b) What transactions are covered by this regulation. This regulation covers all sales and rentals of used household mechanical refrigerators by any person to any other person, including sales by an individual who is selling his own refrigerator, and sales by dealers or auctioneers, except sales by a foreign seller to any domestic buyer. This exception includes domestic buyers who purchase through a bona fide agent.

(c) What persons are covered by this regulation. This regulation applies to any person who sells or rents a used household mechanical refrigerator except foreign sellers and domestic buyers, insofar as they purchase from the foreign sellers. The term "person" includes: An individual, corporation, or any other organized group; their legal successors or representatives; the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of the foregoing.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices for sales of used household mechanical refrigerators by all persons—(a) Reconditioned refrigerators. As used in the table below a refrigerator is reconditioned if it meets the following standards:

(1) The refrigerator is capable of continuously maintaining, with normal cycling, an average interior cabinet temperature in the food storage space not exceeding 50° F., under no-load conditions, when placed in a room in which the temperature is 90° F.

(2) All cooling units, compressors, condensers, motors and controls, where such parts are exposed to the accumulation of dust, as well as all shelves, hardware and machine compartments, are thoroughly cleaned, and function properly. Belts on open-type units must be free from frays and splits.

(3) A defrosting tray large enough to catch all drip from the cooling unit, and a minimum of two corrosion-resistant ice cube trays with grids are provided.

(4) Cabinet exteriors, finished with either synthetic enamel or lacquer have all metal completely covered and free from chips, stains, scratches, blisters and other blemishes. Any such defects have been buffed, smoothed, filled, and either spot-sprayed, or the entire exterior resprayed, where one of these methods is necessary in order to obtain a finish similar to the original finish. Cabinet exteriors and interiors finished with porcelain are thoroughly cleaned, rust removed from any chips and patched with a suitable porcelain cement.

(b) "As is" refrigerators. An "as is" refrigerator is one which does not meet the standards of a reconditioned refrigerator.

(c) Guaranties. Every refrigerator which is sold as a reconditioned refrigerator must carry a written guaranty for at least 90 days from the date of its installation which provides that any part which proves defective within the guaranty period will be replaced without charge for labor or materials or other services. If the guaranty is to last for one year or more the higher reconditioned price appearing in the table of prices may be charged.

(d) Table of maximum prices for certain used household mechanical refrigerators. The maximum cash price for the following specified models of used household mechanical refrigerators (except those with factory rebuilt units) shall be:

(e) Maximum prices for later model refrigerators. The maximum cash price for any 1941 model of used household mechanical refrigerator, reconditioned and guaranteed for 90 days, shall be 70 per cent, and for any 1942 model, 75 per cent, of the original list price of the refrigerator when new. If the refrigerator is sold "as is", $3.50 must be deducted from the maximum price. If the refrigerator is sold with a one-year guaranty or more, $5 may be added to the maximum price.

(f) Maximum prices for models for which maximum prices are not fixed in the preceding paragraphs. If the maximum price for any used household mechanical refrigerator is not specified in the preceding paragraphs, the maximum cash price shall be determined by the maximum price of the refrigerator listed in the foregoing table which corresponds most closely to the refrigerator being priced, with regard to age, finish, capacity, type of model and mechanical and cabinet equipment. The maximum price selected from the table shall correspond to the conditions under which the refrigerator is to be sold, i.e., "as is", or reconditioned with a 90-day or a one-year guaranty.

(g) Maximum prices for refrigerators with new or factory rebuilt units. (1) This section shall apply only in cases in which:

(i) The refrigerator meets the standards of a reconditioned refrigerator and is sold with a one-year guaranty.

(ii) The refrigerator contains a new unit or one rebuilt by the original manufacturer, or by a reconditioner who offered such a service in February, 1942, or earlier, and furnished with it at least a one-year guaranty.

(iii) The new or rebuilt unit has been purchased by the person offering the refrigerator for sale.

(2) The maximum cash price for a refrigerator with a new or rebuilt unit meeting the qualifications of the foregoing section shall be the sum of:

(i) The "as is" maximum price for that refrigerator, and

(ii) The manufacturer's net suggested resale maximum price in effect in March, 1942, or subsequently specifically approved by the Office of Price Administration, for the replacement unit contained in the refrigerator, or if no manufacturer's suggested resale price was in existence in March, 1942, or later subsequently approved by the Office of Price Administration, the net cost to the dealer for the replacement unit, plus the dollar markup taken for the sale of the most comparable item in March, 1942.

(h) Sales in Western states. If the sale of the refrigerator is made to a person in the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington, or Wyoming, $5.00 may be added to the maximum price.

(i) Taxes. Any tax upon or incident to the sale of a used household mechanical refrigerator may be added to the maximum prices established by this regulation. Thus, if the seller has paid a Federal excise tax upon the rebuilding of the refrigerator, that tax may be added.

(j) Sales for export. The maximum price at which a person may export any used household mechanical refrigerator is established by the provisions of the Maximum Export Price Regulation.[1]

(k) Credit, delivery and other charges. Any charge which is not quoted and billed separately shall for the purposes of this Regulation be considered to be part of the selling price of the refrigerator. Charges for the extension of credit or for delivery, packing or installation, may be added to the maximum retail price set forth in this section, provided: (1) the seller during the two-month period ending February 16, 1942, made a separate charge for the extension of credit, delivery, packing or installation services the amount of which was separately stated to the purchaser, (2) the amount charged for the extension of credit or for delivery, installation or packing, is not in excess of the charge in effect during the two-month period ending February 16, 1942 upon sales of used household mechanical refrigerators, and (3) such charges are quoted and billed separately. No seller may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser accept any of the services mentioned.

SEC. 4. Maximum rental rates. (a) The maximum rate which may be charged for the rental of a refrigerator shall be determined in accordance with the maximum sale price as set forth in the table below:

Maximum sale price, reconditioned with a 90-day guaranty		Maximum monthly rental rate
From	But below
$46.50	$55.00	$2.50
55.00	65.00	3.00
65.00	75.00	3.50
75.00	85.00	4.00
85.00	95.00	4.50
95.00	105.00	5.00
105.00	115.00	5.50
115.00	125.00	6.00

Refrigerators whose maximum sale price (reconditioned with a 90-day guaranty) is $125.00 or more may be rented at a maximum monthly rate not to exceed 5 percent of the maximum sale price, calculated to the nearest half dollar.

(b) Delivery of rental refrigerators. An additional amount may be added to the rental rate to cover delivery and pick-up of rented refrigerators where such service is rendered, which may not exceed $5.50.

(c) Maintenance of rented refrigerators. A rented refrigerator must meet the standards set forth for reconditioned refrigerators in Sec. 3 (a) and during the period of the rental must carry the guaranty provided for in Sec. 3 (c).

(d) Rental payments in advance. A person who supplies a rented refrigerator may not ask for or receive rental payments for more than three months in advance.

[1] 7 F.R. 5059, 7242, 8829, 9000, 10530.

SEC. 5. Prohibited practices. (a) Any practice which is devised to get the effect of a higher than ceiling price without actually raising the dollar and cents price, is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, tying agreements, tying requirements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) The following practice is specifically prohibited:

(1) Offering to sell or rent a refrigerator only on condition that the buyer agree to pay for repairs, parts, and services.

SEC. 6. Tagging. No person shall sell or offer to sell, or rent, a used household mechanical refrigerator unless a tag is attached to the refrigerator which states whether the refrigerator is offered for sale "as is" or "reconditioned," the length of the guarantee to be supplied, the make, model and year of the refrigerator, the maximum selling price; and if the refrigerator is offered for rent, the tag also shall state the maximum monthly rental rate. A tag in the following form is satisfactory:

Make Model Year
Condition (Reconditioned)
("as is")
Guaranteed for (90 days)
(one year)
Maximum selling price: $_____
(Maximum monthly rental rate: $_____)

This tag must not be removed except by the ultimate consumer. If the maximum price for the refrigerator was determined under paragraph (f) or (g) of Sec. 3, the tag shall so state, and if the refrigerator has a replacement unit, shall carry the name of the supplier of the unit.

SEC. 7. Sales slips, receipts and invoices. Regardless of his former practice, every person selling a used household mechanical refrigerator in the course of trade or business shall furnish the purchaser with a sales slip, receipt, invoice or other writing, stating that the refrigerator sold is either "as is" or "reconditioned", the length of the guarantee supplied, the date of the sale, the make, model, number and year, the price charged, the nature and amount of any additional charges, and the name and address of the purchaser. If the maximum price was determined under paragraphs (f) or (g) of Sec. 3, this shall also be stated. A copy of such sales slip, receipt, invoice, or other writing shall be retained by the seller for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 8. Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

SEC. 9. Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any modification of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 or exception not provided for therein may file petitions for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 10. Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 139 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 139.

SEC. 11. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation apply to the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States.

This regulation shall become effective April 15, 1943.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

PART 1432—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 9,[1] Amendment 6]

HEATING STOVES

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 9 is amended in the following respects:

(1) Section 1432.13 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Anyone who wishes to supplement oil burning equipment which distributes heat through pipes or ducts to any essential living space or to working space essential to the public health or safety or the war effort, but which does not supply heat adequate for the health and comfort of the occupants of such space and who has not in the sixty (60) days before application disposed of any coal burning equipment which could have been used for heating the space.

(2) In § 1432.15 (b) the phrase "private dwelling property" is amended to read "premises".

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421 and 507, 77th Cong.; W.P.B. Directive No. 1, 7 F.R. 562; Supp. Directive No. 1-S, 7 F.R. 10668; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719)

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 1, to Order 248 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

DOUBLE-MIX, INC.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (e) of Order No. 248 under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation are amended and paragraph (h) is added; all to read as set forth below:

§ 1499.1484 Authorization of maximum prices for sales of "Double-Mix", a reagent compound in tablet form used with milk and butter to produce a butter-like spread, packed eight 35 grain tablets to an envelope, 50 envelopes to the carton, by Double-Mix, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri, by wholesalers and by retailers. (a) On and after March 25, 1943, the maximum selling price for 87,312 cartons of "Double-Mix" for sale by Double-Mix, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri, shall be:

Per carton of 50 envelopes, eight 35 grain tablets per envelope	$1 93

The maximum price established herein applies on a delivered basis to the purchasers' stations, and shall be subject to a discount of 2% for prompt payment.

(b) Sellers at wholesale are authorized a maximum selling price of $2.41 per carton of 50 envelopes containing eight 35 grain tablets delivered to the purchasers' customary receiving points.

(c) Sellers at retail are authorized maximum selling prices per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets of "Double-Mix" as follows: If the retailer's customary supplier is a wholesaler, such retailer's maximum price shall be 7 cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets. If the retailer's customary supplier is the manufacturer (Double-Mix, Inc.), such retailer's maximum price shall be 6 cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets for single envelope sales, and shall be 5½ cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets for sales of "Double-Mix" in quantities of two or more envelopes.

* * * * *

(e) On and after March 1943, Double-Mix, Inc. shall supply to each of its purchasers before or at the time of the first delivery of "Double-Mix" to such purchasers a written notification for each type of purchaser, and for a period of three months thereafter, unless its present packed stock is sooner disposed of, shall include with each carton of "Double-Mix" a written notification to retailers. If such retailer notification is enclosed in the carton, a legend shall be affixed to the outside of such carton to read "Retailer's Notice Enclosed." The written notifications for each type of purchaser shall include the following appropriate statements:

Notification From Double-Mix, Inc. to Purchasers

The OPA has authorized us to charge the following price for "Double-Mix":

$1 93 per carton of 50 envelopes, each envelope containing eight 35 grain tablets, subject to a discount of 2% for prompt payment.

Sellers at wholesale are authorized a maximum delivered selling price of $2.41 per carton of 50 such envelopes of "Double-Mix". Sellers at retail who customarily purchase "Double-Mix" from wholesalers are authorized a maximum selling price of 7 cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets. Sellers at retail who customarily purchase "Double-Mix" directly from us are authorized a maximum selling price of 6 cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets for single envelope sales and 5½ cents per envelope for sales in quantities of two or more such envelopes. A copy of a notification to retailers is included in or on every shipping unit of this item. If the initial sale of this item is a split carton sale, i. e., less than one carton of 50 envelopes, wholesalers are required to provide such retailers with a copy of the retail notification so enclosed. OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

Notification From Double-Mix, Inc. to Retailers

The OPA authorizes sellers at retail the following maximum selling prices for "Double-Mix" per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets. Sellers at retail who customarily purchase "Double-Mix" from wholesalers are authorized a maximum selling price of 7 cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets. Sellers at retail who customarily purchase "Double-Mix" directly from us are authorized a maximum selling price of 6 cents per envelope of eight 35 grain tablets for single envelope sales and 5½ cents per envelope for sales in quantities of two or more such envelopes.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 219 Under § 1499.18 (b) of GMPR]

TRYLON PRODUCTS CORPORATION

Order No. 219 under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation; Docket No. GF3-3159.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1819 Adjustment of maximum prices for Meriad Bath Crystals sold by Trylon Products Corporation, Chicago, Illinois. (a) The maximum prices for Meriad Bath Crystals, 5 lb. size, sold by Trylon Products Corporation, Chicago, Illinois, shall be as follows:

	Per dozen
Sales to wholesalers in gross lots	$4.40
Sales to retailers situated outside the city limits of Chicago, Illinois	4.87
Sales to retailers situated within the city limits of Chicago, Illinois	4.55

(b) All discounts, allowances, and practices with reference to the payment of transportation costs, in effect during March 1942 with respect to sales of Meriad Bath Crystals, 5 lb. size, by Trylon Products Corporation shall remain in effect under this Order No. 219.

(c) At the time of the first delivery of Meriad Bath Crystals, 5 lb. size, made to each wholesaler at a price specified in this Order No. 219, Trylon Products Corporation shall furnish each such wholesaler with a copy of the following notice:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us by Order No. 219 under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation to raise our maximum price of Meriad Bath Crystals, 5 lb. size, to you from $4.25 per dozen to $4.40 per dozen. This Order does not permit you to raise your maximum price, nor does this Order permit any retailer to raise his maximum price for sales of this product.

(d) At the time of the first delivery of Meriad Bath Crystals, 5 lb. size, made to each retailer at a price specified in this Order No. 219 Trylon Products Corporation shall furnish each such retailer with a copy of the following notice:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us by Order No. 219 under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation to raise our maximum price for sales of Meriad Bath Crystals, 5 lb. size, to you from ($4.40 or $4.72 as the case may be) per dozen to ($4.55 or $4.87 as the case may be) per dozen. This Order does not permit you to adjust your maximum price for sales of this product.

(e) All prayers of the applicant not granted herein are denied.

(f) This Order No. 219 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This Order No. 219 (§ 1499.1819 is hereby incorporated as a section of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 which contains modifications of maximum prices established by § 1499.2.

This Order No. 219 (§ 1499.1819 shall become effective March 30, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[SR 14[1] to GMPR,[2] Amendment 139]

MOLDED VULCANIZED VEGETABLE OIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1499.73 (a) (59) (ii) (a) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentences:

Except, That for any kind of molded vulcanized vegetable oil (other than truss pads) which is individually molded and requires special hand labor which results in direct labor costs higher than the figure which would be obtained by computing the direct labor costs on the basis of average cost per pound as required by this inferior subdivision (a) for molded vulcanized vegetable oil generally, direct labor costs may be determined each time a quantity of such molded vulcanized vegetable oil is to be priced by multiplying the estimated number of hours of each type of labor required in the manufacture of the quantity being priced by the following wage rates: The wage rates to be used shall be the highest wage rates, in effect in the manufacturer's plant for any substantial portion of March, 1942, for each class of labor involved in the production of the kind of molded vulcanized vegetable oil being priced. If the manufacturer did not employ a given class of labor in March, 1942, he shall use the highest wage rate paid for any substantial portion of March, 1942, by the nearest employer operating under comparable conditions who employed that class of labor during that month.

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

PART 1340—FUEL

[RPS 88,[1] as Amended March 24, 1943]

PETROLEUM AND PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

Sections 1340.159 (a) (4) and 1340.159 (a) (5) (ii) are amended by Amendment 83 so that Revised Price Schedule No. 88 shall read as follows:

The production, refining and distribution of petroleum and petroleum products constitute one of the largest industries in the United States. Ample supplies of petroleum products are of prime importance to the armed forces and are equally essential to the industrial activity required by the war effort and to the civilian life of the nation. Inflationary increases in the prices of petroleum and its products will not only be multiplied in the whole structure of costs and prices; they will directly increase the cost of living and the burden of supplying the armed forces.

Price stabilization in the petroleum industry was initiated on the basis of informal agreements between the Office of Price Administration and members of the industry. The increasing scope of control and the growing multiplicity of informal agreements and understandings has made it necessary to embody these agreements and understandings in a price schedule. Such action will serve to clarify the price policies of this Office as they affect the petroleum industry and to protect the industry and the public from the inflationary effects of unwarranted price increases.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1340.151 to 1340.164, inclusive, issued under E.O. 8734, 8875, 6 F.R. 1977, 4483, Pub. Laws 421 and 729, E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1340.151 Maximum prices for petroleum and petroluem products. On and after February 2, 1942, regardless of the terms of any contract of sale or purchase, or other commitment, except as provided in § 1340.159, no person shall sell, offer to sell, deliver or transfer petroleum or petroleum products, and no person shall buy, offer to buy, or accept delivery of crude petroleum at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof, incorporated herein as § 1340.159.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

§ 1340.152 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in § 1340.159, Appendix A, may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1340.153 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in Revised Price Schedule No. 88 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with a sale, delivery, or transfer of petroleum products, or a purchase, sale, delivery or transfer of crude petroleum, alone or in conjunction with any other materials, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or by a change in the quality of a product, or otherwise.

§ 1340.154 Records and reports. (a) All purchase prices for crude petroleum as of October 1, 1941, whether or not such purchase prices were posted, shall be filed with this Office within thirty days after February 2, 1942, the effective date of Revised Price Schedule No. 88 (§§ 1340.151 to 1340.159, inclusive). Purchase prices for crude petroleum described above may be submitted in the form of such price schedules or price lists as were in use on the dates specified, provided such price schedules or price lists are corrected to indicate any variance between the schedule or list price and the purchase price.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 8, 7 F.R. 3116, effective 4-29-42]

(b) Where a contract of the type described in paragraph (a) (3) of § 1340.159 was in effect as of October 1, 1941 duly authenticated copies of such contracts shall be filed with this Office within thirty days after August 26, 1942.

[Paragraph (b) as amended by Amendment 30, 7 F.R. 6680, effective 8-26-42]

(c) Where maximum prices for any sale or purchase of crude petroleum or sale of petroleum products are not provided for in § 1340.159, purchasers and sellers of crude petroleum and sellers of petroleum products shall, within ten days after the purchase or sale in question, submit to this Office the price and description of the crude petroleum or petroleum product in question.

[Paragraph (c) as amended by Amendment 8, 7 F.R. 3116, effective 4-29-42]

(d) Duly authenticated copies of all contracts entered into after March 7, 1942 involving the sale, purchase or exchange of the commodities exempted from §§ 1340.151 and 1340.159 by § 1340.160 shall be filed by the seller with this Office within fifteen days after the signing of such contracts, except as otherwise authorized in writing by the Office of Price Administration: Provided, That in lieu of the filing of duly authenticated copies of such contracts, duly authenticated summaries of such contracts may be filed by the seller with the Office of Price Administration within fifteen days after the signing of such contracts. Such duly authenticated summaries shall include the following information: seller, commodities sold, date of contract, term of contract, production origin, buyer, point of delivery corresponding to sales price, method of delivery, i. e. tanker, tank car, field pump, et cetera, volume sold barrels, price cents per US gallon, specifications of product and notes detailing special provisions of contract such as price formulae, et cetera.

[Paragraph (d) as amended by Amendment 41, 7 F.R. 9134, effective 11-12-42]

(e) Persons affected by Revised Price Schedule No. 88 shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such records as it may from time to time require.

(f) Reports required to be filed with this Office under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section may be filed up to and including March 23, 1942, notwithstanding the time limitations contained in said paragraphs.

(g) Each person participating in the pool established under Recommendation No. 12, as amended,[2] of the Office of Petroleum Coordinator for National Defense shall submit to the Price Administrator within fifteen days after March 26, 1942 a certified statement of the volume of sales and applicable revenue, classified by products, and the extra expenses incurred from the date of that person's entrance into the pool through February 28, 1942 in the transportation of petroleum and petroleum products to or in the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, east of the Apalachicola River, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, the District of Columbia and the corporate limits of the City of Bristol, Tennessee by railroad tank car or other alternative means of transportation, or any combination thereof, over transportation by tanker under the applicable rates established by the United States Maritime Commission; and each such person shall submit prior to the 30th day of each month thereafter supplementary statements of such sales, revenue and expenses for each preceding month. All persons participating in the pool referred to above shall submit jointly to the Price Administrator on or before March 26, 1942 an audit, broken down by persons, prepared and certified to by a firm of auditors and accountants, of the volume of sales and applicable revenue, classified by products, and the extra expenses referred to above incurred in compliance with Recommendation No. 12, as amended, from September 4, 1941 through February 28, 1942 and shall submit prior to the 30th day of each month thereafter supplementary audits of such sales, revenue and expenses, broken down by persons, for each preceding month.

[Paragraphs (e), (f), and (g) as amended by Amendment 8, 7 F.R. 3116, effective 4-29-42]

§ 1340.155 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

[§ 1340.155 as amended by Amendment 25, 7 F.R. 5988, effective 8-1-42]

§ 1340.155a Licensing; applicability of the registration and licensing provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.[3] The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation are applicable to every person subject to this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 selling at wholesale or retail any petroleum or petroleum products covered by this Revised Price Schedule No. 88. When used in this section the terms "selling at wholesale" and "selling at retail" have the definitions given them by §§ 1499.20 (p) and 1499.20 (o) respectively of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Said registration and licensing provisions became effective as to person selling at wholesale on May 11, 1942, and as to persons selling at retail on May 18, 1942.

[§ 1340.155a added by Amendment 25, 7 F.R. 5988, effective 8-1-42]

§ 1340.156 Modification of price schedule—(a) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[4]

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Supplementary Order No. 26, 7 F.R. 8948.]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

(b) Petitions for adjustment or exception. (1) Any corporation subject to the provisions of Revised Price Schedule No. 88, all of whose securities are owned by another corporation, or which owns all of the securities of another corporation or all of whose securities and all of those of another corporation are owned directly or indirectly by a third corporation may (i) file a petition for exception from § 1340.159 for sales of petroleum and petroleum products to such other corporation and (ii) file a petition for adjustment of such of its maximum prices for petroleum products as are required to be calculated under § 1340.159 (b) (2) on the basis of a sale of such products to such other corporation.

(2) Such petitions for exception and/or adjustment shall be accompanied by a statement under oath setting forth (i) the percentage of shares or units of any issues of securities of the subsidiary corporation or corporations held beneficially or of record by any person or persons and the names and post office addresses of such person or persons, (ii) the hardship or inequity which would result to the petitioner from failure to grant the petition and (iii) in the case of a petition filed under subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph, a statement of all the circumstances bearing on the issue of whether the last sale establishing the petitioner's maximum price under § 1340.159 (b) (2) was made at a price below that which would have been charged to a purchaser of the same class not related to the petitioner as above outlined.

[Paragraph (b) as amended by Amendment 13, 7 F.R. 3552, effective 5-13-42]

(c) Applications for adjustment. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized officer thereof, may by order adjust the maximum price established under this Revised Price Schedule No. 88, for any seller subject to the provisions thereof in any case in which such seller shows:

(1) That such maximum price causes him substantial hardship and is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of the same or similar crude petroleum and or petroleum products, and

(2) That establishing for him a maximum price bearing a normal relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of crude petroleum and or the same or similar products will not cause or threaten to cause an increase in the level of retail prices.

Applications for adjustment under this paragraph (c) shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

No application for adjustment filed after November 15, 1942 will be granted under this paragraph (c).

[Paragraph (c) added by Amendment 23, 7 F.R. 5867; amended by Amendment 39, 7 F.R. 8938, effective 11-4-42]

§ 1340.157 Definitions. When used in Revised Price Schedule No. 38 (§§ 1340.151 to 1340.164, inclusive), the term:

(a) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(b) "Petroleum products" means:

All grades of gasoline, including natural gasoline and blending naphthas; also special hydrocarbon fractions utilized in the manufacture of gasoline or the components thereof.
Liquefied petroleum gases.
Tractor distillates and similar distillate type motor fuels other than gasoline.
Kerosene, including range oil or stove oil.
Distillate burning, heating or fuel oils.
Diesel fuel oils.
Residual burning, heating or fuel oils.
Lubricating oils, including motor, aviation and stock oils (neutrals, bright stocks, steam refined stock and other stock oils) and all greases and industrial lubricating oils except core oils and core washing oils.
Naphthas, solvents, mineral spirits and other petroleum fractions when sold as antifreeze preparations.

For the time being industrial naphthas and solvents, and specialty products (such as household oils and spot removers) are excluded from the list of petroleum products subject to Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

[Paragraph (b) as amended by Amendment 69, 8 F.R. 2267, 2874, effective 2-25-43]

(c) "Pool" means any underground accumulation of crude petroleum or associated hydrocarbon substances, including but not limited to natural gas, constituting a single and separate reservoir or source of supply within a field, area, or horizon whether or not presently discovered or developed.

(d) "Consumer or commercial tank wagon prices" means the prices at which petroleum products are sold for delivery by tank wagon or tank truck to the ultimate consumer of such products or to persons not primarily resellers of such products.

(e) "Contract" means an agreement, the existence of which is established by written evidence.

(f) "Dealer tank wagon prices" means the prices at which petroleum products are sold for delivery by tank wagon or tank truck to resellers of such products.

(g) "Producers" means royalty owners or other sellers of crude petroleum at the well.

[Paragraphs (h) and (i) revoked by Amendment 30, 7 F.R. 6680, effective 8-26-42]

[1] 7 F.R. 1371.

[2] 8 F.R. 3096.

[3] 7 F.R. 8951.

[4] 6 F.R. 5538.

(j) "Tank wagon area" means the area in which petroleum products are distributed by tank wagon or tank truck from the given shipping point.

[Paragraphs (k) through (q) revoked by Amendment 68, 8 F.R. 2105, effective 2-20-43.]

(r) "Securities" means shares of stock of any class, voting trust certificates, participation certificates, bonds, notes, debentures and other evidences of indebtedness.

[Paragraph (r) added by Amendment 13, 7 F.R. 3552, effective 5-13-42.]

(s) "Receiving tank" means the tank of the producer of crude petroleum, sometimes called stock tank or shipping tank, in which the oil from one or more wells is first gauged or measured for sale, delivery or storage.

[Paragraph (s) added by Amendment 30, 7 F.R. 6680, effective 8-26-42.]

(t) "Seller of the same class" means a seller (i) performing the same function, (ii) of similar type, (iii) dealing in the same type of commodity, and (iv) selling to the same class of purchaser.

(u) "A seller's most closely competitive seller of the same class" shall be a seller of the same class who: (i) is selling the same commodity, (ii) is closely competitive in the sale of such commodity and (iii) is located nearest to the seller.

[Paragraphs (t) and (u) added by Amendment 31, 7 F.R. 7242, effective 9-16-42.]

(v) "Wet gas" means any natural or petroleum gas, and refinery gas, which is sold to be processed for the extraction of vapors and liquids, from which operation some residue gas results.

(w) "Dry gas" means any natural or petroleum gas, and refinery gas, sold for consumption either directly as fuel or to be consumed in the production of any other commodity or for use in gas lift, pressure maintenance or repressuring operations, and includes such gas when delivered directly from wells, and the residue gas incident to plant operations.

[Paragraphs (v) and (w) added by Amendment 32, 7 F.R. 7838, effective 10-7-42.]

(x) "Texas-Panhandle Area." Panhandle area of Texas is that portion of Texas north of the southern boundaries of the following counties: Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Ball and Childress.

[Paragraph (x) added by Amendment 42, 7 F.R. 9335, effective 11-17-42.]

(y) "Highest price charged during March, 1942" means:

(1) The highest price which the seller charged at the same shipping or delivery point to a purchaser of the same class for delivery of the particular petroleum product during March 1942.

(2) If the seller made no such delivery during March 1942, such seller's highest offering price to a purchaser of the same class for delivery during that month.

(3) If the seller made no such delivery and had no such offering price to a purchaser of the same class, the highest price charged by the seller during March, 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the seller's customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(4) In no event, however, shall a price charged pursuant to a contract entered into prior to March 1942 be regarded as a price charged in March 1942 unless such contract was adjustable to reflect current market conditions at or about the dates of deliveries under such contract.

(z) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who receives delivery of a commodity and resells it without substantially changing its composition, either to an industrial or commercial user or to any person other than an ultimate consumer.

(aa) "Sale at retail" or "selling at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

[Paragraphs (y), (z), and (aa) added by Amendment 69, 8 F.R. 2267, effective 2-25-43.]

§ 1340.158 Effective date of Revised Price Schedule No. 88. This Schedule (§§ 1340.151 to 1340.159, inclusive) shall become effective February 2, 1942.

[NOTE: This date refers to the original issuance of Price Schedule 88.]

§ 1340.159 Appendix A: Maximum price for petroleum and petroleum products. The maximum prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 88 (§§ 1340.151 to 1340.164 inclusive) shall include the prices on all domestic, export and import transactions, sales, transfers, exchanges or purchases of crude petroleum and on all domestic, export and import transactions, sales, transfers or exchanges of petroleum products, involving contract, bid or spot sales of crude petroleum at the well, the gathering point, tank or terminal, and of petroleum products for cargo or barge shipment, harbor delivery, f. o. b. refinery and terminal, and tank car and tank wagon delivery. With the exception of industrial lubricating oils and greases, prices for petroleum products when sold at retail at service stations, garages and stores are not governed by Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

[Paragraph as amended by Amendment 69, 8 F.R. 2267, effective 2-25-43.]

[NOTE: For maximum prices on export transactions, see Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, 7 F.R. 5059, 7242, 8829, 9000, 10530.]

No seller of petroleum or petroleum products shall reduce his discounts, such as those for quantity, prompt payment or ease of handling, to a buyer below those which he had in effect as to deliveries during the period October 1 to 15, 1941, to the same buyer, or if no delivery was made to the particular buyer during that period below those which he had in effect as to deliveries to buyers of the same general class during such period. Such discounts shall be deducted from the maximum prices established in this § 1340.159 unless, as with respect to maximum prices determined by § 1340.159 (b) (2), the maximum prices are net prices after reduction by such discounts.

[Paragraph as amended by Amendment 17, 7 F.R. 3963, effective 5-27-42.]

Except as specifically provided hereinafter, and pending the preparation of a comprehensive schedule or schedules of specific prices, the maximum prices for petroleum and petroleum products shall be the prices determined according to paragraphs (a) and (b) below.

(a) Crude petroleum. (1) The maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum from any given pool shall be the posted purchase price as of October 1, 1941 for such pool.

(2) Where on October 1, 1941, there was for any given pool no posted purchase price, or more than one posted purchase price, the maximum price at the receiving tank for crude petroleum from such pool shall be the price paid for crude petroleum at the same receiving tank as of October 1, 1941 unless this price is below the lower or lowest of the posted purchase prices, if any, and in that case, the maximum price shall not be in excess of such lower or lowest posted purchase price: Provided, however, That a price paid pursuant to a contract in effect on October 1, 1941 and entered into prior to that date, shall not be considered in determining the maximum price for crude petroleum unless the contract price reflected current market conditions on or about October 1, 1941.

[Paragraph (2) as amended by Amendment 63, 8 F.R. 1312, effective 2-3-43.]

(3) Where a contract was in effect on October 1, 1941 for the purchase of crude petroleum at the receiving tank at a price in excess of any posted purchase price for the given pool applicable to such production or for the purchase of crude petroleum at a point other than at the receiving tank at a price in excess of the sum of such posted purchase price and the differential between such posted purchase price and the price at such other point in existence on October 1, 1941, such contract price shall be the maximum price at the receiving tank or at such other point for the production covered by the contract, or any renewal of such contract, or a new contract between the same buyer and seller concerning the same production.

[Paragraph (3) as amended by Amendment 30, 7 F.R. 6680, effective 8-26-42.]

(4) Where the maximum price for any sale of crude petroleum at the receiving tank cannot be determined under (1) through (3) above, the seller or purchaser may set a tentative price for the crude petroleum at the particular receiving tank or tanks which shall be in line with the maximum prices for comparable crude petroleum in the same general area. Within ten days after setting such a tentative price the seller or purchaser shall file with the Office of Price Administration at its principal office in Washington, D. C., a written request for approval of such tentative price. The person filing such request, shall file in connection therewith a statement setting forth:

(i) Such tentative price,

(ii) An explanation as to why it is impossible to determine his maximum price under subparagraphs (1), (2) or (3) of this paragraph (a),

(iii) A description of the available transportation facilities, and a description of the gravity, characteristics and source of the crude petroleum in question.

Such tentative price shall be the seller's maximum price for such crude petroleum at the particular receiving tank or tanks unless it is disapproved in writing by the Office of Price Administration within 30 days from the date it is filed as above provided or a substitute maximum price is set by the Office of Price Administration. If such tentative price is a posted price, it shall unless the Office of Price Administration disapproves it in writing within 30 days from the date it is filed as above provided, or sets a substitute maximum price, be the maximum price at the receiving tank for any crude petroleum produced from the pool from which crude petroleum covered by the sale in question is produced. This provision also covers crude petroleum produced from wells representing discovery and development of new pools subsequent to October 1, 1941. If a seller and purchaser have agreed upon a price for the sale of crude petroleum subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration, a maximum price determined in accordance with this subparagraph (4) shall be effective retroactively to February 2, 1942 or the date of the agreement, whichever is later.

[Paragraph (4) as amended by Amendment 83, issued 3-24-43 and effective 3-30-43.]

(5) (i) The maximum price for crude petroleum purchased at a point other than the receiving tank shall be at no greater differential at such point over the maximum price for such crude at the receiving tank than existed on October 1, 1941: Provided, however, That such a differential established pursuant to a contract in effect on October 1, 1941 and entered into prior to that date shall not be considered in determining the maximum price at that point unless the differential reflected current market conditions on or about October 1, 1941.

(ii) Where a maximum price at a point other than at the receiving tank cannot be determined under subdivision (i) above, the seller may establish a tentative differential for a sale of crude petroleum at such point. Within ten days after setting such tentative differential the seller shall file with the Office of Price Administration at its principal office in Washington, D. C. a written request for approval of such tentative differential accompanied by a statement setting forth:

(a) Such tentative differential,

(b) An explanation as to why it is impossible to determine his maximum price at the particular point under § 1340.159 (a) (5) (i) of this price schedule.

(c) The location of the source of the crude petroleum in question and of the particular delivery point, and

(d) An itemized statement of the costs involved in transporting the crude petroleum from the receiving tank to the particular delivery point and of any other items comprising the tentative differential.

Such tentative differential shall be the seller's maximum differential for the particular sale and for all subsequent sales of crude petroleum from the same receiving tank delivered at that point unless it is disapproved in writing by the Office of Price Administration within 30 days from the date it is filed as above provided or a substitute maximum differential is set by the Office of Price Administration. If a seller and purchaser have agreed upon a price for a sale of crude petroleum at a point other than at the receiving tank subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration, a maximum differential determined in accordance with this subdivision (ii) shall be effective retroactively to February 2, 1942 or the date of the agreement, whichever is later. The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Paragraph (5) as amended by Amendment 63, 8 F.R. 1312, effective 2-3-43 and Amendment 83, issued 3-24-43 and effective 3-30-43.]

(b) Petroleum products. (1) The maximum price on each product sold, contracted to be sold, delivered, or transferred by a seller shall be the lowest quoted price published in the October 2, 1941 issue of Platt's Oilgram and the Chicago Journal of Commerce, the October 8, 1941 issue of the National Petroleum News or other publications designated by this Office, for a product of the same class, kind, type, condition and grade. Where such products are sold and prices are quoted on a delivered basis, then the maximum delivered price shall be the lowest quoted delivered price so published. Where products are sold and prices are quoted on an f. o. b. shipping point basis, then the maximum f. o. b. price shall be the lowest quoted f. o. b. price so published. Quotations in the above named periodicals for the States of California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Nevada shall not be used in determining maximum prices.

(2) Where the maximum price for a petroleum product at a given shipping or delivery point cannot be determined under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph the maximum price for each seller at such shipping point or delivery point shall not exceed the price charged at that point by him on the last sale of a substantial quantity of the same product to a purchaser of the same general class, within sixty days prior to October 15, 1941. Where the product is sold on a delivered basis at a given point the maximum price shall be the price charged on the last sale of a substantial quantity of the same product to a purchaser of the same general class made on a delivered basis at that point in the period specified. Where the product is sold at a given point on an f. o. b. shipping point basis, the maximum price shall be the price charged on the last f. o. b. shipping point sale at that point of a substantial quantity of the same product to a purchaser of the same general class in the period specified. The term "sale" in this subparagraph shall include sales and contracts of sale made during the period specified and deliveries made during the period specified under contracts made prior thereto which permitted adjustments to reflect changes made prior to the dates of such deliveries, in the prices of the petroleum and or petroleum products purchased or used by the seller in order to make deliveries under such contracts. Deliveries during the period specified under contracts entered into prior thereto which did not permit such adjustments shall not be regarded as sales for the purpose of calculating maximum prices under this subparagraph

[Paragraphs (1) and (2) as amended by Amendment 14, 7 F.R. 3552, effective 5-13-42.]

(3) Where the maximum price for any petroleum product at a given shipping or delivery point cannot be determined under subparagraphs (1) or (2) above, a seller may sell such product at the maximum price of his most closely competitive seller of the same class as determined under subparagraphs (1) or (2) above.

[Paragraph (3) as amended by Amendment 31, 7 F.R. 7242, effective 9-16-42.]

(4) Notwithstanding (1), (2) and (3), where contracts covering domestic sales of petroleum products had been made prior to November 10, 1941, the prices in such contracts may be charged pursuant to such contracts up to and including March 1, 1942.

(5) Notwithstanding (1), (2) and (3), where contracts covering export sales of petroleum products had been made prior to January 20, 1942, the prices in such contracts may be charged pursuant to such contracts up to and including March 1, 1942.

(6) Notwithstanding (1), (2) and (3), sales of petroleum products may be made up to and including March 1, 1942 under the following provisions:

(i) The maximum price on each product sold, contracted to be sold, delivered,

For any points in

(12) The maximum prices in the amend contracts, providing for prices on or transferred by a seller shall be the lowest quoted price published in the first issue after November 7, 1941 of the National Petroleum News, Platt's Oilgram, or the Chicago Journal of Commerce, for a product of the same class, kind, type, condition and grade. Where such products are sold and the prices are quoted on a delivered basis, then the maximum delivered price shall be the lowest quoted delivered price so published. Where products are sold and prices are quoted on an f. o. b. shipping point basis, then the maximum f. o. b. price shall be the lowest quoted f. o. b. price so published.

(ii) Where the maximum price for products at a given shipping or delivery point cannot be determined under (i) above, sellers may sell such products at the market price prevailing at the time of the sale: Provided, That notice of the sale and the price thereof is furnished to this Office, within fifteen days after the sale, when the price is in excess of the price of the last sale of a product of similar quality made by the seller prior to November 7, 1941.

(7) In the event that a seller is unable to determine a maximum price at a given shipping or delivery point for the sale of any petroleum product under paragraph (b) or (c) of this § 1340.159 which is not exempted from §§ 1340.151 and 1340.159 of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88, by § 1340.160 of said schedule, then the seller shall set a tentative maximum price for such product at the particular shipping or delivery point. This subparagraph shall be applicable even though a seller may have heretofore either determined his maximum price in some other manner or reported a price under § 1340.154 (c). The seller shall within 15 days after setting a tentative maximum price, file with the Office of Price Administration a written request for approval of such tentative maximum price. In connection with such request, the seller shall file with the Office of Price Administration at its principal Office in Washington, D. C., a statement setting forth:

(i) Such tentative price;

(ii) An explanation as to why it is impossible for the seller to establish a selling price under paragraph (b) or (c) of this § 1340.159;

(iii) Whenever applicable, that the price set by him is in line with the level of maximum prices for the three most closely competitive sellers of the same class and his own maximum prices for the same product at three other points nearest the point for which the tentative price was set;

(iv) Whenever subdivision (iii) is not applicable, an explanation supplemented by specifications, as to how the particular product differs from the two products having the most nearly similar specifications for which maximum prices are established by paragraph (b) or (c) of this § 1340.159 and the maximum prices of such products; and an explanation as to the seller's method of ascertaining the cost to him of the particular product and how that differs from the cost to him of the two products having the most nearly similar specifications.

Such tentative price shall be the seller's maximum price at the particular shipping or delivery point for the particular product unless it is disapproved in writing by the Office of Price Administration within thirty days from the date it is filed as above provided or a substitute price is set by the Office of Price Administration. If a substitute price is set, then such price shall be the maximum price.

[Paragraph (7) added by Amendment 31, 7 F.R. 7242, effective 9-16-42]

(8) Notwithstanding the provisions of other subparagraphs of this paragraph and § 1340.159 (c), where a seller of fuel oil of Grade No. 5 or lighter, was giving free oil burner service to purchasers located in the corporate limits of Baltimore City and the counties immediately bordering on Baltimore City, including Baltimore County, Anne Arundel County, Howard County, Harford County, and Carroll County, such seller may make additional charges for servicing such purchaser's oil burner on the following basis:

(i) Each call one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50).

(ii) In addition to the basic charge for a call authorized under subdivision (i) a charge of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) may be made for performance of a vacuum cleaning job once in any single twelve-month period, and a charge of one dollar ($1.00) may be made for performance of an Orsat or other instrument analysis of flue gases or products of combustion once in a single twelve-month period.

[Paragraph (8) added by Amendment 34, 7 F.R. 8478, effective October 24, 1942, except that buyers who have already made contracts with sellers to pay for service rendered at a certain rate in the event that such a charge would be authorized by the Office of Price Administration may be charged therefore in accordance with the terms of such contract if such charges do not exceed what could be charged under the terms of subparagraph (8).]

(9) Notwithstanding the provisions of other subparagraphs of this paragraph (b) or of paragraph (c) of this section, the maximum tank wagon prices for all fuel oils and heating oils including but not limited to kerosene, range oil, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 fuel oil, Diesel oil and gas oil in the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida (east of the Apalachicola River), Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and in the District of Columbia shall be 0.3 of a cent per gallon above the maximum prices in the above states and the District of Columbia as determined under any provision of this price schedule which would otherwise govern except that the total amount charged on each lot sold shall be adjusted to the nearest cent.

[Paragraph (9) added by Amendment 53, 7 F.R. 11112, effective 12-29-42, and amended by Amendment 81, 8 F.R. 3327, effective 3-16-43]

(10) (i) Notwithstanding the provisions of other subparagraphs of this paragraph (b), a seller may charge for any petroleum product on any sale thereof, pursuant to open and public bidding, to any governmental agency, whether state or Federal, or any state or political subdivision thereof, either

(a) His own maximum price under the other provisions of this paragraph (b), or

(b) The amount of the highest maximum price established under this price schedule for any person participating in the particular bidding for sale of the same product to the same buyer.

(ii) No bid at any such bidding regardless of the amount thereof shall be deemed to conflict with any provision of this price schedule.

[Paragraph (10) added by Amendment 55, 8 F.R. 157, effective 1-7-43]

(11) (i) Notwithstanding any other provision of § 1340.159 (b) a seller's maximum tank wagon price at a particular point for a particular grade of gasoline, kerosene, range or stove oil, distillate fuel oils, and tractor and diesel fuel shall be the maximum price of the reference tank wagon seller as specified hereunder for the same grade at the same point provided the reference tank wagon seller's maximum price is higher than the maximum price which would otherwise be applicable. Where more than one reference seller is specified for a particular point, and such reference sellers do not have the same maximum price for such point, then the maximum price of the reference seller having the lowest maximum price shall be controlling.

For a product of a particular seller to be regarded as of the same grade as a product of the reference seller, it must customarily have been so regarded in trade practice at the point of sale and it must be a product that has customarily been sold in competition with the product of the reference seller.

(ii) The companies hereinafter named are the reference tank wagon sellers for any point in the continental United States, in the State, States or district set out opposite the name of the company: Provided, That such company has an applicable maximum price for such point;

[1] BP = Base Price which is to be determined as follows: If a refiner has an established maximum price under other provisions of this price schedule for fuel oil meeting No. 6 Commercial Standard specifications then the base price shall be the refiner's or terminal operator's maximum price thereunder for such No. 6 fuel oil to the class of purchasers who are the principal users of such fuel oil in that price area in which the particular refiner is located.

Base Prices established hereunder must be reported by each refiner to the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. within 15 days after March 3, 1943, or within 15 days after the initial sales of any grade of fuel oil the maximum price for which is established by this subdivision.

If a seller cannot establish a base price hereunder then he shall file a tentative price with the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Administration in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7).

AA comprises Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York (excluding, however, counties of Chautauqua, Erie, Niagara, Cattaraugus, Allegany, Wyoming, Genesee and Orleans), Pennsylvania (excluding, however, counties of Potter, Cameron, Clearfield, Cambria, Somerset and all other Pennsylvania counties west thereof), New Jersey, Maryland, District of Columbia, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi Gulf Coast ports, Louisiana Gulf Coast ports, Louisiana Mississippi river ports up to and including Baton Rouge, and Texas Gulf ports.

BB comprises Mississippi (excluding, however, Gulf Coast ports), Louisiana (excluding, however, Gulf Coast ports and Mississippi River ports up to and including Baton Rouge), Texas (excluding, however, Gulf Coast ports), Tennessee, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas (excluding, however, the area within a radius of 25 miles of Kansas City, Missouri), Missouri (excluding, however, the areas within a radius of 25 miles of Kansas City, Missouri and St. Louis, Missouri), Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Wyoming.

CC comprises the following counties of Illinois: Lake, Cook, DuPage and Will; the following counties of Indiana: Lake, Porter, LaPorte; Ohio (excluding, however, the following counties of Hamilton, Clermont, Brown, Adams, Scioto, Lawrence, Gallia, Meigs); the following counties of New York; Chautauqua, Erie, Niagara, Cattaraugus, Allegany, Wyoming, Genesee, Orleans; the following counties of Pennsylvania: Potter, Cameron, Clearfield, Cambria, Somerset, and all other counties of Pennsylvania west thereof; West Virginia; and Michigan.

DD comprises that part of Missouri within a radius of 25 miles of St. Louis, Missouri; Illinois (excluding, however, the counties of Lake, Cook, DuPage and Will; Indiana (excluding, however, the counties of Lake, Porter and LaPorte); the following counties of Ohio: Hamilton, Clermont, Brown, Adams, Scioto, Lawrence, Gallia, and Meigs; Kentucky.

EE comprises Colorado.

FF comprises Eastern Montana which is defined hereby as the portion of Montana east of the western boundaries of the counties of Blaine, Fergus, Golden Valley, Stillwater and Carbon.

GG comprises Western Montana which is defined hereby as the portion of Montana west of the eastern boundaries of the counties of Hill, Chouteau, Judith Basin, Wheatland, Sweetgrass and Park; Idaho.

HH comprises Utah.

II comprises the area within a 25 mile radius of Kansas City, Missouri.

(b) Maximum delivered prices, in bulk lots, of those refiners and tanker terminal operators whose f. o. b. maximum prices are established by Tables I and II. If a refiner or terminal operator has an established maximum price or prices under other provisions of this price schedule at a particular delivery point for fuel oil meeting No. 6 commercial standard specifications, then his maximum price or prices at that point for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below shall be his maximum prices thereunder for such No. 6 fuel oil at such delivery point.

If a refiner or terminal operator has no established maximum price or prices at a particular delivery point under other provisions of this price schedule for any grade of fuel oil meeting No. 6 commercial standard specifications, then he shall file a tentative maximum price at such point for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7).

For gravities higher than 9.9° A. P. I. gravity, such refiner's or terminal operator's maximum price or prices at a particular delivery point shall be the sum of his maximum price for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below and the dollars and cents differential between the price for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below and such higher gravity fuel oil established under Tables I or II for refineries or ocean terminals located in the price area where the delivery is made.

(c) Maximum f. o. b. shipping point and delivery point prices for all sellers other than those refiners and tanker terminal operators covered by subdivision (a) and (b) above. If a seller other than a refiner or ocean terminal operator has an established maximum price or prices under other provisions of this price schedule at a particular shipping or delivery point for fuel oil meeting No. 6 commercial standard specification, then his maximum price or prices at that point for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below shall be his maximum price or prices thereunder for such No. 6 fuel oil at such point.

If a seller has no established maximum price or prices at a particular shipping or delivery point under other provisions of this price schedule for any grade of fuel oil meeting No. 6 commercial standard specifications, then he shall file a tentative maximum price or prices at such point for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7).

For gravities higher than 9.9° A. P. I. gravity, a seller's maximum price or prices at a particular shipping or delivery point shall be the sum of his maximum price for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below and the dollars and cents differential between the price for fuel oil of 9.9° A. P. I. gravity and below and such higher gravity fuel oil established under Tables I or II for refineries or ocean terminals located in the price area where the delivery is made.

(d) If a refiner, ocean terminal operator, or other seller had an established maximum price or prices under other provisions of this price schedule at a particular shipping or delivery point for residual fuel oil or blends thereof with distillate fuel oils which either meets No. 5 fuel oil commercial standard specifications, or has a lower viscosity than No. 5 commercial standard specifications, his maximum price for such fuel oil at such point shall be either the price or prices which he is permitted to charge under (a), (b) and (c) of this subdivision (ii) or the price or prices established under other provisions of this Price Schedule, whichever is higher.

(iii) Diesel oil—(a) Louisiana and Texas Gulf Coast. The maximum price for residual diesel oil of below 28° A. P. I. gravity ship's bunkers (ex lighterage) on the Louisiana and Texas Gulf Coast shall be $1.35 per barrel.

(iv) California. The maximum prices, exclusive of taxes, f. o. b. refineries and tanker terminals for Pacific Standard No. 300 fuel oil having a viscosity of not less than 25 and not more than 60 seconds Saybolt Furol (at 122° F.) and of Pacific Standard No. 400 fuel oil having a viscosity of not less than 60 seconds Saybolt Furol (at 122° F.) when sold to consumers or refiners in bulk lots for delivery by tank car, motor transport or pipelines shall be as follows:

Area	P. S. No. 300 fuel oil	P. S. No. 400 fuel oil
Fresno County	$0.65	$0.85
Kings County	.65	.85
San Luis Obispo County[1]	.95	.85
Tulare County	.95	.85
Santa Barbara County	.65	.85
Kern County	.90	.85
Ventura County	.95	.85
Los Angeles County	.95	.85
Orange County	.95	.85
Riverside County	.95	.85
San Bernardino County	.95	.85
San Francisco Bay area	1.00	.90

[1] Maximum f. o. b. refinery and tanker terminal prices at Port San Luis shall be the maximum prices established hereunder at the San Francisco Bay area.

(v) Reporting requirements. § 1340.159 (c) (6) (ii) (a), Table II, and (b) and (c), contain the following reporting provisions which have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942:

(a) Report of base price. Base prices established by each refiner must be reported to the Petroleum Price Branch of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C.

(b) Report of tentative maximum price. A refiner who cannot establish a base price shall file a tentative price with the Petroleum Price Branch of the Office of Price Administration, in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7).

(c) Report of tentative maximum price. A refiner or terminal operator who has no established maximum price, or prices, at a particular delivery point shall file a tentative maximum price or prices at such point in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7).

(d) Report of tentative maximum price. A seller, other than a refiner or ocean terminal operator who has no established maximum price or prices, at a particular delivery point shall file a tentative maximum price or prices at such point in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7).

[Paragraph (d) added by Amendment 32, 7 F.R. 7838, effective October 7, 1942, except that a purchaser and seller of wet gas may, by mutual agreement, make the effective date retroactive to May 11, 1942]

[Paragraph (6) as amended by Amendment 79, 8 F.R. 2756, effective 3-3-43]

(d) Petroleum gas; natural gas—(1) wet gas. (i) A seller's maximum price at any particular time for wet gas produced from any given field shall be the highest price that could be charged at that time under the terms and conditions of any contract which was in effect on May 1, 1942 between the seller and the purchaser for the sale of wet gas produced from such field.

(ii) If a seller had no contract in effect with a particular purchaser on May 1, 1942, for wet gas produced from any given field, then such seller's maximum price to such purchaser at any given field shall be the highest price that could be charged at that time under the terms and conditions of any contract which was in effect on May 1, 1942, between such seller and a purchaser of the same class for the sale of wet gas produced from such field.

(iii) Where a maximum price for wet gas cannot be determined under (i) or (ii), or where a maximum price has been determined under (i) or (ii), and the purchaser wishes to extract, condense and save additional products from the wet gas not contemplated by the contract nor by any contract between a seller and a purchaser of the same class in the given field, a tentative maximum price may be set. The purchaser shall make a request in writing to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., for approval of such tentative maximum price within 15 days after it has been set by him or within 30 days from October 7, 1942, whichever is later. In connection with his request, the purchaser shall file with the said Office a statement setting forth (a) an explanation as to why it is impossible for the seller to establish a maximum price under subdivisions (i) or (ii) of this paragraph (d), (b) the tentative maximum price, and an explanation of the method used in arriving at such price, (c) the maximum prices for sellers and purchasers of the same class at the two nearest fields to the one in question, if known, and (d) if a written contract has been entered into, an authenticated copy thereof. The tentative maximum price shall be the maximum price for the production from the field to purchasers of the same class unless the tentative price is disapproved by the Office of Price Administration within 15 days from the date it is filed as provided above. Ordinarily a tentative price set under this subdivision (iii) will not be approved unless such tentative price is in line with the maximum prices for sellers and purchasers of the same class at the nearest fields to the one in question. A tentative price which has been approved as a maximum price hereunder, may subsequently be changed by Order of the Price Administrator.

(2) Dry gas. (i) Where a contract for the sale of dry gas was in effect on May 1, 1942, the seller's maximum price to the same purchaser for deliveries of dry gas produced from the same source or sources as the dry gas covered by the contract shall not exceed the price that could be charged for such deliveries under the terms of the contract that was in effect on May 1, 1942.

(ii) Where a seller had contracts in effect on May 1, 1942 for the sale of dry gas but did not then have a contract with a particular purchaser for dry gas produced from the same source or sources as the dry gas covered by those contracts, the seller's maximum price to that purchaser for deliveries of dry gas shall not exceed the highest price that could be charged for such deliveries under (i) to a purchaser of the same class. If the seller had no contracts in effect on May 1, 1942 with purchasers of the same class, then, his maximum price shall be determined under (iii) below.

(iii) Where a seller cannot determine his maximum price under (i) or (ii) above, then his maximum price for deliveries of dry gas shall be the highest maximum price of his most closely competitive seller of the same class to a purchaser of the same class as determined under (i).

[Paragraphs (2) (i), (ii) and (iii) as amended by Amendment 51, 7 F.R. 11069, effective 1-2-43]

(iv) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of other subdivisions of this subparagraph (2), a seller's maximum price for deliveries of dry gas to a particular purchaser shall be either the maximum price established under subdivision (i), (ii), or (iii) of this subparagraph (2) or a price agreed upon between the seller and the purchaser and reported to the Office of Price Administration by such seller within 10 days of the date of the agreement, or February 10, 1943, whichever is later, which price must be in line with the level of maximum prices for dry gas generally prevailing in the particular producing area, or if there is only one producer of dry gas in one particular producing area, a price in line with the level of maximum prices prevailing in the nearest producing area in which similar conditions obtain. Once the seller has determined his maximum price for deliveries of dry gas to a particular purchaser under this subdivision (iv) that price is his maximum price to that purchaser thereafter.

(b) The report required in subdivision (iv) (a) shall be mailed to the Office of Price Administration, Petroleum Branch, Washington, D. C. In connection with any such report and concurrently therewith the following shall be submitted to the Office of Price Administration.

BY THE SELLER

(i) The seller's present maximum price for dry gas established by this price schedule and the maximum price agreed upon accompanied both by a statement as to the point (such as the well-head, the pipe line or pipe line terminus) at which delivery to the purchaser is made, and by copies of the contract (if any) on the basis of which the present maximum price is established and of the proposed renewal thereof, or of the new contract for the sale of dry gas contemplated by the parties.

(ii) Names and addresses of the purchasers of the seller's production.

BY THE PURCHASER

(iii) The disposition made of the gas purchased from the seller by each purchaser thereof.

(iv) Maximum prices of dry gas established for other sellers in the particular producing area or, if the seller is the only producer in the particular area, in the nearest producing areas in which similar conditions obtain. Maximum prices should be stated for each class of purchasers together with a description of each class. Estimated percentage of total volume moving at each price should be stated and the nature of the facilities used in making delivery to each purchaser should be described.

(v) A statement in writing signed by the purchaser or purchasers that they will absorb any increase in the cost of dry gas resulting from the reported price and that they do not intend prior to the expiration of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, to rely upon such cost increase as a basis of application for increase in their resale prices or in the prices of other commodities or services sold or supplied by them.

The information required to be submitted by either the purchaser or the seller may be filed either with the report or separately. Information required of either the seller or the purchaser, if filed separately, will, upon request, be treated as confidential.

(c) The seller may not accept payment for deliveries of dry gas subject to a maximum price determined under subdivision (iv) (a) until fifteen days have elapsed after mailing the report of such maximum price. Within the fifteen day period, the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon written order of the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraph (iv) as amended by Amendment 65, 8 F.R. 1642, effective 2-10-43]

(v) Nothing in this subparagraph (2) shall be construed to authorize the regulation of a rate that is exempt from control by the Office of Price Administration under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(vi) Where a seller is unable to determine his maximum price for dry gas under (ii), (iii) or (iv) above, a tentative maximum price may be set, and the seller shall comply with the requirements of filing as provided in subparagraph (1) subdivision (iii), and the tentative maximum price shall be subject to disapproval and change as therein provided.

[Paragraph (vi) added by Amendment 65]

(e) Industrial lubricating oils and greases. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) above, maximum prices of industrial lubricating oils and greases shall be determined as set forth below:

(1) Producer's maximum prices for industrial lubricating oils and greases delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale by a producer of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease which was delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the seller, shall be the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942 (as defined in paragraph (y) of § 1340.157) for the industrial lubricating oil or grease: Provided, however, That if no price was charged during March 1942 within the meaning of said paragraph (y) of § 1340.157, the producer's maximum price shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

If the industrial lubricating oil or grease was not delivered or offered for delivery by the producer during March 1942 but was delivered or offered for delivery prior thereto, the producer's maximum price thereof shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(2) Producer's maximum prices for industrial lubricating oils and greases not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale by a producer of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is not the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease which was delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto shall be the price determined by the first one of the four methods set forth in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) of this subparagraph (2) which applies to the industrial lubricating oil or grease.

(i) First pricing method: Minor changes. The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease differing from an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery by the producer during March 1942 or prior thereto, only by reason of minor changes in composition which do not substantially reduce or increase the cost of ingredients or prevent its offering substantially equivalent serviceability shall be the maximum price of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during that period.

(ii) Second pricing method: New industrial lubricating oils or greases which result from the compounding of two or more ingredients, each of which has a maximum price. The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (2) and which is produced by mixing two or more ingredients for each of which the producer has a maximum price under applicable regulations of the Office of Price Administration, shall be the weighted average by volume or by weight depending on whether the blended product is sold by volume or by weight of the maximum prices of the ingredients. In determining the weighted average mentioned above the seller shall multiply the per unit maximum price of each product being blended by the percentage (by volume or weight as above prescribed) of each ingredient and add the results of such multiplication.

(iii) Third pricing method: Changes necessitated by shortages of ingredients. (a) The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivisions (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (2) and which differs from an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery by the producer during March 1942, or prior thereto, only because of changes necessitated by shortages of ingredients, shall be the maximum price of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during that month adjusted by adding or subtracting the increase or decrease in direct ingredient cost resulting from the changes. Once the seller has determined his maximum price for a particular industrial lubricating oil or grease under this subdivision (iii) that price is his maximum price thereafter.

In calculating the direct costs of the ingredients of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 and the changed industrial lubricating oil or grease, such cost shall be regarded as the maximum price which the producer's suppliers of such ingredient or ingredients may charge under applicable maximum price regulations.

(b) Report of maximum prices. Within five days after a purchaser first agrees to buy an industrial lubricating oil or grease for which a mixmum price must be determined under this subdivision (iii), or at any time prior thereto, the producer shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the maximum price computed by him. The report shall set forth the following in the manner and form prescribed below:

The unit of sale should be the same for Part A1 and Parts B and C.

*Upon written request by the producer, information contained in the report shall be treated as confidential.

The maximum price so reported shall be the seller's maximum price unless it is disapproved in writing by the Office of Price Administration within thirty days after the date it is reported as above provided or a substitute price is set by the Office of Price Administration. If a substitute price is set, then such price shall be the maximum price. Subsequent to this thirty-day period, the price reported shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon written order of the Office of Price Administration.

After the expiration of this thirty-day period the producer shall notify in writing each person purchasing the new industrial lubricating oil or grease for resale at wholesale that his maximum price for the new product shall be his maximum price for the product being replaced, adjusted by the amount of the difference in the cost to him of the new product.

(iv) Fourth pricing method: Tentative maximum prices. The maximum price for any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivisions (i), (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph (2) shall be determined in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(3) Maximum prices at wholesale or retail for industrial lubricating oils and greases delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale at wholesale or retail of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the seller, shall be the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942 (as defined in paragraph (y) of § 1340.157) for the industrial lubricating oil or grease: Provided, however, That if no price was charged during March 1942 within the meaning of said paragraph (y) of § 1340.157, the seller's maximum price shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

If the industrial lubricating oil or grease was not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 but was delivered or offered for delivery prior thereto, the seller's maximum price thereof shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

If a producer's maximum price to a particular reseller for a particular industrial lubricating oil or grease as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation is increased or decreased by reason of the operation of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (e) such reseller's maximum price for the same industrial lubricating oil or grease shall be determined in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(4) Maximum prices on wholesale and retail sales of industrial lubricating oils and greases not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale at wholesale or retail of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is not the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease which was delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 shall be determined by the first of the two methods set forth in subdivisions (i), (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph (4) which applies to the industrial lubricating oil or grease.

(i) First pricing method: Minor changes. The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease differing from an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery by a seller at wholesale or retail during March 1942 or prior thereto only by reason of minor changes in composition which do not substantially reduce or increase the cost of ingredients or prevent its offering substantially equivalent serviceability shall be the maximum price of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during that period.

(ii) Second pricing method: Wholesale prices—changes necessitated by shortages of ingredients. The maximum price for any sale at wholesale of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (4) and which has been priced by the producer thereof under subdivision (iii) of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (e) shall be the seller's maximum price for the product being replaced, adjusted by the amount of the difference in the cost of the new product to the seller.

(iii) Third pricing method: Tentative maximum prices. The maximum price for any sale at wholesale or retail, of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (4) shall be determined in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(5) Price differentials. Every seller shall continue all his allowances, discounts or other price differentials in effect during March 1942. In the case of industrial lubricating oils or greases priced under subparagraphs (2) or (4) of this paragraph (e) every seller shall in the case of sales to different classes of purchasers adjust the maximum prices determined for one class of purchaser to reflect all allowances, discounts and other price differentials which he was accustomed to make on that type of industrial lubricating oil or grease.

(6) Transportation costs. No seller of industrial lubricating oils or greases shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of any industrial lubricating oil or grease, than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during March 1942 on deliveries of the same industrial lubricating oil or grease during March 1942. In the case of industrial lubricating oils or greases priced under subparagraph (2) or (4) of this paragraph (e) no seller shall require any purchaser and no purchaser shall be permitted to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of such industrial oil or grease, than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during March 1942 on deliveries of the industrial lubricating oil or grease used as a basis for determining the maximum price of the new industrial lubricating oil or grease.

[Paragraph (e) added by Amendment 69, 8 F.R. 2267, 2874, effective 2-25-43]

§ 1340.160 Exceptions. (a) The following petroleum products shall be exempt from §§ 1340.151 and 1340.159.

(1) All aviation gasoline of 87 octane rating or higher;

(2) The following to the extent purchased or sold for use in the manufacture of aviation gasoline of 87 octane rating or higher; components of aviation gasoline of 87 octane rating or higher, including alkylate, neohexane, iso-octane, hydrocodimers, isomate and hot acid octanes; iso-pentane, iso-butane, normal butane and butylenes, and mixtures of iso-butane, normal butane and butylenes; and aromatic hydrocarbons and base stocks or fractions to the extent manufactured for and used in aviation gasoline of 87 octane rating or higher.

(3) The following special hydrocarbon fractions utilized in the manufacture of gasoline and the components thereof and liquefied petroleum gases to the extent sold or delivered for use in the manufacture of synthetic rubber: Components of synthetic rubber, including but not limited to, butadiene and styrene; all hydrocarbons and petroleum fractions used in the manufacture of butadiene and styrene, including but not limited to ethylene, propylene, butylene, iso-butylene, propane, butane and iso-butane.

(4) Toluene manufactured from petroleum.

(5) The following to the extent sold or delivered for use in the manufacture of such toluene: base stocks from which such toluene is to be extracted, and selected charging stocks to be processed for the synthesis of such toluene.

(b) All crude petroleum transported through the War Emergency Pipelines System and sold by Defense Supplies Corporation at the eastern termini of such system shall be exempt from this price schedule.

[§ 1340.160 amended by Amendment 76, 8 F.R. 2273, effective 2-19-43]

§ 1340.161 Adjustable pricing. Nothing in this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 shall be construed to prohibit any person from entering into, or carrying out, any agreement permitting an adjustment of prices, or from making an adjustment of prices, provided the prices as adjusted are not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery.

[§ 1340.161 added by Amendment 15, 7 F.R. 3576, effective 5-15-42]

§ 1340.162 Notice to purchasers. (a) All sellers of kerosene, No. 1 fuel oil, gasoline, distillate Diesel fuel oil or range oil in the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida east of the Apalachicola River, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia and in the corporate limits of Bristol, Tennessee, shall inform all persons purchasing such products from them for resale at service stations or other retail establishments in those areas that such purchasers may increase their maximum prices for those products in the amounts, if any, by which the Office of Price Administration permitted the prices of such products to them to be increased effective as of June 29, 1942, and that such purchasers are required to state in connection with the posting of their maximum prices that such increases are approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) All sellers of gasoline to retail dealers in Quincy, Illinois, shall notify each dealer in writing on or before the date of the initial sale to such dealer after January 9, 1943, that his maximum

[§ 1340.162 added by Amendment 21, 7 F.R. 4857; amended by Amendment 56, 8 F.R. 232, effective 1-9-43]

(c) Any tank wagon seller of gasoline, kerosene, range or stove oil, distillate fuel oils, tractor and Diesel fuel, whose maximum price to a retail dealer pursuant to § 1340.159 (b) (11) of this price schedule has been increased shall notify each retail dealer in writing on or before the date of the initial sale to such dealer after February 13, 1943, that the retail dealer's maximum price for said products at his retail establishment is increased by the amount of such increase of the tank wagon seller's maximum price. Such notice shall be in the following form:

Your new Office of Price Administration ceiling price for (product) at your retail establishment is your former ceiling price plus ____ per gallon. The Office of Price Administration requires you to keep this information for examination.

[Paragraph (c) added by Amendment 66, 8 F.R. 1799, effective 2-13-43]

§ 1340.163 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade of any seller or any person as defined in § 1340.157 (a) are sold or otherwise transferred after October 15, 1941 and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same or similar petroleum and/or petroleum products, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records and make reports shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the records and reports provisions of Revised Price Schedule No. 88 and Amendments thereto.

[§ 1340.163 added by Amendment 28, 7 F.R. 6167, effective 8-11-42]

§ 1340.164 Taxes—(a) Lubricating oils—(1) Federal taxes. Effective November 1, 1942, each seller subject to this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 may collect in addition to his maximum price for a lubricating oil subject to the Federal excise tax on lubricating oils, the amount of the increase in such tax provided by the Revenue Act of 1942 and subsequent increases therein, actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of such increase or increases paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, provided the seller states the amount of such increase or increases separately from the purchase price.

(2) Puerto Rican taxes. Effective March 5, 1943, each seller in the territory of Puerto Rico subject to this Revised Price Schedule No. 88 may collect in addition to his maximum price for a lubricating oil which is subject to Act No. 25 enacted by the Legislature of Puerto Rico and approved December 4, 1942, the amount of the 3½¢ per gallon increase in such tax effected by the said Act and the amount of subsequent increases in the lubricating oil tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of such increase or increases paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, provided the seller states the amount of such increase or increases separately from the purchase price.

[§ 1340.164 added by Amendment 42, 7 F.R. 9335, effective 11-1-42 and amended by Amendment 80, 8 F.R. 3106, effective 3-11-43]

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 271,[1] Amendment 6]

CERTAIN PERISHABLE FOOD COMMODITIES, SALES EXCEPT AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 271 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1351.1001a is added to read as follows:

§ 1351.1001a Whom may remove tags. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, any seller of white potatoes or selected white seed potatoes who, on March 19, 1943, had in transit or delivered at destination carload lots or less than carload lots of white potatoes or selected white seed potatoes labeled as "selected seed potatoes" may remove the tags or labels from such white potatoes or selected white seed potatoes and sell the same for human consumption under General Maximum Price Regulation No. 271.

2. Section 1351.1019 (h) is added to read as follows:

(h) "In transit" as used in § 1351.1001a means any carload or less than carload lot of white potatoes or selected seed potatoes for which a bill of lading was issued and signed before the effective date of Amendment No. 5 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, March 19, 1943.

3. Section 1351.1019 (f) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Seller's tag. When seed potatoes are sold in sacks or other containers there shall be attached to the sack, or other container, prior to shipment from the farm or the country shipping point, a label or tag stating that such potatoes are "seed potatoes not to be used or sold for human consumption" and marked with an identifying lot number plus the name and address of the seller who attached such label or tag at the farm or country shipping point: Provided, That such label need not be so attached prior to March 29, 1943, if printed labels are unavailable before said date.

If a seller, owns seed potatoes packed in a sack, or other container which have been labeled or tagged as seed potatoes at the country shipping point (as previously provided for by § 1351.1001), but which (as permitted prior to March 29, 1943, by the last preceding paragraph hereof) does not bear an identifying lot number or the name and address of the farmer or country shipper who attached such label at the country shipping point, he must add to the tag or label an identifying lot number, his own name and address and the words "seed potatoes not to be used or sold for human consumption."

When seed potatoes are sold in bulk by a farmer direct to a commercial, industrial or institutional user, he shall state upon an invoice or other written evidence of sale an identifying lot number and his name and address.

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Supp. Amendment 17 to Max. Rent Regs.]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

Maximum Rent Regulations Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 52, 60, and 62 are amended in the following respects:

1. The second paragraph of paragraph (d) (1) of §§ 1388.16, 1388.66, 1388.116, 1388.166, 1388.216, 1388.266, 1388.316, 1388.366, 1388.416, 1388.466, 1388.516, 1388.566, 1388.616, 1388.666, 1388.716, 1388.766, 1388.816, 1388.866, 1388.916, 1388.966, 1388.1656, 1388.1706, 1388.1756, 1388.2056, 1388.3056, 1388.4056, 1388.5056, 1388.6056, 1388.7056, 1388 8056, 1388.36, 1388.136, 1388.236, 1388.386, 1388.586, 1388.686, 1388.786, and 1388.886 of Maximum Rent Regulations Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 25, 26, 27, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 55, 57, 52, 60, and 62, respectively, is amended to read as follows:

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations, by court process or otherwise, unless, at least ten days (or, where the ground for removal or eviction is non-payment of rent, the period required by the local law for notice prior to the commencement of an action for removal or eviction in such cases, but in no event less than three days) prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the area rent office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession.

2. The second paragraph of paragraph (d) (1) of § 1388.1016 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 24 is amended to read as follows:

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations, by court process or otherwise, unless, at least ten days (or, where the ground for removal or eviction is non-payment of rent, the period required by the local law for notice prior to the commencement of an action for removal in such cases, but in no event less than three days) prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the area rent office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession: Provided, however, That the requirements of this sentence shall not apply to housing accommodations within the City of Baltimore, Maryland, when the ground for the removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent.

3. The second paragraph of paragraph (d) (1) of § 1388.1806 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 28 is amended to read as follows:

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations, by court process or otherwise, unless, at least ten days (or, where the ground for removal or eviction is non-payment of rent, the period required by the local law for notice prior to the commencement of an action for removal or eviction in such cases, but in no event less than three days) prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the area rent office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession: Provided, however, That the requirements of this sentence shall not apply to housing accommodations within the Northeastern New Jersey Defense-Rental Area when the ground for the removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent.

4. The second paragraph of paragraph (d) (1) of § 1388.286 of Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53 is amended to read as follows:

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations, by court process or otherwise, unless, at least ten days (or, where the ground for removal or eviction is non-payment of rent, the period required by the local law for notice prior to the commencement of an action for removal or eviction in such cases, but in no event less than three days) prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the area rent office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession: Provided, however, That the requirements of this sentence shall not apply to housing accommodations within the Trenton Defense-Rental Area when the ground for the removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this Amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This Supplementary Amendment No. 17 shall become effective March 24, 1943.

PART 1429—POULTRY AND EGGS

[MPR 333[1], Amendment 3]

EGGS AND EGG PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 333 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1429.54 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Other reports may be required. Such persons shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section and shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as that Office may from time to time require or permit.

2. Section 1429.55 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Evasion by selling f. o. b. seller's shipping point. Except as provided in §§ 1429.67 (1), 1429.69 (b) (3), 1429.69 (c) (2), 1429.71 (b), and 1429.74 (e) hereof, the maximum prices established by this regulation are maximum prices per dozen eggs or per pound of egg products delivered to the buyer as herein provided and the provisions of this regulation shall not be evaded by selling such eggs or egg products at a price f. o. b. the seller's shipping point.

3. Section 1429.65 (r) is amended to read as follows:

(r) "Basing point city" means one of the cities for which maximum prices are specifically stated for egg items in the tables of this regulation except that Chicago, Illinois and Kansas City, Missouri, are not basing point cities.

4. Section 1429.65 (t) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(t) (1) "Area 1" means the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

5. Section 1429.65 (t) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) "Area 2", when applied to shell eggs means all of the remaining states of the United States except those included in Area 1 above described and when applied to frozen and liquid egg products means all of the remaining states of the United States except those included in the "Eastern Area" hereinafter provided.

6. A new § 1429.65 (t) (3) is added to read as follows:

(3) "Eastern Area" as used in the determination of maximum prices for frozen and liquid egg products means the States of Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

7. Section 1429.67 (g) (1), (2), (3), (5), (6), (7), and (10) are amended to read as follows:

(1) Extra large eggs of Grade AA quality when certified as such by the United States Department of Agriculture may sell 4 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs. When not so certified, the maximum price of such eggs shall be the maximum price for extra large Grade A eggs.

(2) Large eggs of Grade AA quality when certified as such by the United States Department of Agriculture may sell 2 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs. When not so certified, the maximum price of such eggs shall be the maximum price of large Grade A eggs.

(3) Jumbo eggs of Grade AA whether certified as such by the Department of Agriculture or not and Jumbo Grade A eggs may sell at 5 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs.

(5) The maximum price for medium size eggs of A, B, and C Grades shall be 4 cents per dozen less than large eggs of the same grade.

(6) The maximum price for small eggs of Grade A, B, and C shall be 8 cents per dozen less than large eggs of the same grade.

(7) Medium and small eggs of AA Grade when certified as such by the Department of Agriculture may sell at 2 cents above the prices of similar sizes of Grade A eggs. When not so certified, the maximum prices of such eggs shall be the maximum prices of similar sizes of Grade A eggs.

(10) The maximum prices of shell eggs of consumer grades having a net weight of less than 34 pounds per case or equivalent quantity of eggs shall be 14 cents less than large eggs of the same grade.

8. A new § 1429.67 (g) (11) is added to read as follows:

(11) The maximum prices for each consecutive week in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Tables A and B the first week beginning on the first Monday in each year.

9. Section 1429.67 (k) is amended to read as follows:

(k) Local delivery. Except as specifically provided in this section the maximum prices established herein are for shell eggs delivered to the individual store of the retailer or to the place of use of the commercial, industrial, institutional, or non-federal governmental user. No f. o. b. shipping point sale shall be made except as specifically provided. If the place of business of the seller from or at which he makes the particular sale of shell eggs is located in the same city, town, village, or hamlet in which the individual store of the retailer purchasing them is located; or in which there is located the place of use of the commercial, industrial, institutional, or non-federal governmental user purchasing them, but the purchaser accepts such eggs at a point in such city, town, village, or hamlet other than the individual store of the retailer or place of use there shall be deducted from the maximum price at such city, town, village, or hamlet the sum of ten cents per case or equivalent quantity of eggs, and the reduced amount shall be the maximum price of such eggs at the place of acceptance.

10. A new § 1429.67 (l) is added to read as follows:

(l) F. o. b. sales within 200 miles. If the place of business of the seller from

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

14. Section 1429.74 (d) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) When the United States or any agency thereof fails to accept delivery of dried whole eggs at the time at which the United States or such agency is obligated to accept their delivery by contract, there may be added to the maximum price $.0075 per pound for each month or fraction thereof during which acceptance of such delivery is delayed.

15. A new § 1429.74 (d) (3) is added to read as follows:

(3) When dried whole eggs contracted for sale to the United States or any agency thereof are placed in a cold storage room having a temperature of not more than 50 degrees Fahrenheit within 24 hours after completion of their manufacture and are kept continuously in such storage room having such maximum temperature until they are loaded into a carrier for delivery to the purchaser, 1 cent per pound may be added to the maximum price determined as provided in this regulation.

16. Section 1429.74 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Maximum prices for dried egg products sold f. o. b. seller's shipping point. The maximum prices for dried egg products sold f. o. b. the seller's shipping point shall be the maximum prices for any place in which the seller's shipping point is located as determined above, paragraphs (a) through (d), in this section.

17. A new § 1429.74 (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) Maximum prices for dried egg products sold to the United States or any agency thereof under contract. The maximum price of any dried egg product sold to the United States or any agency thereof under contract providing a date on which the seller shall have the product ready for delivery shall be the maximum price for the particular product on such date, determined as herein provided, if the product is manufactured within 40 days of such date. If the product is not manufactured within 40 days of the date on which the seller is obligated to have it ready for delivery, then the maximum price of such product, sold and delivered to the United States or any agency thereof, shall be the maximum price on the date on which the seller is obligated by contract to have the product ready for delivery or the maximum price of such product on the date on which it is actually delivered, whichever is the lower of such maximum prices. If the product is not manufactured within 40 days of the date on which seller is obligated to have it ready for delivery and the product is sold to the United States or agency thereof F. O. B. the seller's shipping point, then the maximum price of such product shall be the maximum price on the date on which the seller is obligated by contract to have the product ready for delivery or the maximum price on the date on which the product is delivered to the carrier for delivery to the purchaser, whichever is the lower of such maximum prices.

18. Paragraphs (1) and (2) of § 1429.76 are redesignated as paragraphs (a) and (b), respectively.

19. Section 1429.76 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) When the dried egg products priced in § 1429.74 are sold to any purchaser other than the United States or any agency thereof and are packed in containers other than barrels, the additional labor and material cost (no other costs) incurred in packing in such other containers may be added.

20. A new § 1429.76 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) When the dried egg products priced in § 1429.74 are sold to the United States or any agency thereof and are packed in containers other than barrels, there may be added to the maximum price determined as herein provided an amount not exceeding the average cost of the particular type of container as such average cost is determined by the purchaser. The purchasing agency or purchasing officer in such cases shall inform the Office of Price Administration as to the average prices of each type of container as may be from time to time required.

21. Section 1429.78 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1429.78 Period provisions of this amendment shall continue in effect. Table C of § 1429.69 (d) and Table D of § 1429.69 (e) as amended herein, shall continue in effect until 12:00 o'clock midnight on April 17, 1943, at which time the original maximum prices for the months of March and April, 1943 set forth in Table C of § 1429.69 (d) and Table D of § 1429.69 (e) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 333 as issued on February 25, 1943, shall be reinstated automatically and without further order of the Administrator and the indicated provisions of this amendment shall cease and terminate. The remaining provisions of this amendment shall continue in effect until altered or revoked by order of the Administrator.

This amendment shall be effective as of March 23, 1943.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[MPR 346,[1] Amendment 2]

CORN

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 346 is amended by adding section 25 to read as follows:

Sec. 25 Certain sales by the Commodity Credit Corporation are exempt. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to sales of all types, varieties or grades of corn by the Commodity Credit Corporation to be used for feeding purposes or for the manufacture of ethyl alcohol, butyl alcohol, acetone or rubber; but not withstanding all other provisions of this regulation, corn to be used for all other purposes may be sold by the Commodity Credit Corporation at prices no higher than 10 per cent above the lowest prices at which said Corporation is permitted to sell for said last mentioned purposes under that certain act of Congress designated as Pub. Law 674, 77th Cong.: Provided, however, That all commodities processed from corn sold by the said Commodity Credit Corporation shall remain subject to any maximum prices prescribed by the Office of Price Administration.

This amendment shall become effective March 24, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

13. Section 1429.70 (a), (b), (c), (e) and (g) are amended to read as follows:

(a) Maximum prices in basing point cities and Kansas City, Missouri. The maximum prices of frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks, and frozen reconstituted eggs sold and delivered in carload quantities to a purchaser at his refrigerated warehouse in a basing point city or in Kansas City, Missouri shall be the price per pound for the particular basing point city in Table E and for Kansas City in Table F of this section for the month in which delivered.

(b) Maximum prices in Eastern Area except New York City and Miami, Florida. In all places other than New York City and Miami, Florida within the "Eastern Area" the maximum prices of the egg products named in the heading of this section sold and delivered in carload quantities to a purchaser at his refrigerated warehouse for the month in which delivered shall be the maximum price in Kansas City, Missouri, plus the "transportation factor" from Kansas City, Missouri to the place of delivery of the egg products in the "Eastern Area" multiplied by 1.16, and in "Area 2" means the actual carlot freight rate from the place of delivery of such frozen egg products to the basing point city as provided in this section, multiplied by 1.16. If there is no actual carlot freight rate between such places, then the lowest transportation charge by other means shall be used.

(c) Maximum prices in Eastern Area for dried egg products. The maximum prices for dried egg products in the "Eastern Area" shall be the maximum prices for dried egg products in Chicago, plus the "transportation factor" from Chicago to the place of delivery multiplied by 1.16, and in "Area 2" means the actual carlot freight rate from the place of delivery of such dried egg products to the basing point city as provided in this section, multiplied by 1.16. If there is no actual carlot freight rate between such places, then the lowest transportation charge by other means shall be used.

(e) Maximum base prices in cents per pound for frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks and frozen reconstituted eggs in the cities of New York, Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Phoenix and Tucson.

A producer, selling for delivery outside an area for which his producing point is listed as a price basing point, or selling to a buyer who does not specify a point of destination at the time of the sale, may charge a price, basis f. o. b. cars at producing point, no higher than the price specified for that producing point.

(3) For sales of superphosphate guaranteed by the producer to contain 18 per cent, 19 per cent, or 20 per cent available phosphoric acid, with no charge for over-run, the maximum price as established under (1) or (2) plus $.015 per unit of available phosphoric acid guaranteed.

(b) Granulated superphosphate. The maximum price as established under (1), (2), or (3) above plus $.02 per unit of available phosphoric acid.

(ii) Bulk sales of triple superphosphate. The maximum price a producer may charge for triple superphosphate (containing 40 per cent or more available phosphoric acid) for sale in bulk to fertilizer manufacturers or mixers shall be:

(a) In the states of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico, a price of $.885 per unit of available phosphoric acid, basis delivered to the point of destination designated by the buyer, except that the actual cost of transportation and the 3 per cent tax thereon imposed by § 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942, from Anaconda, Montana, to the point of destination, in excess of $8.03 per ton of 2000 pounds may be charged to the account of the buyer.

(b) In the other states of the United States and in the District of Columbia, a price per unit of available phosphoric acid, basis f. o. b. railroad cars at the point of production, of:

(1) $.70 for any producing point in Montana or Tennessee;

(2) $.65 for any producing point in South Carolina;

(3) $.62 for any producing point in Florida;

(4) For any producing point located in the District of Columbia or in any state other than Montana, Tennessee, South Carolina or Florida, $.62 plus the cost per unit, of transportation by rail in carload lots, of 48 per cent superphosphate from East Tampa, Florida to that producing point, such transportation cost to include the 3 per cent tax thereon imposed by § 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

(iii) Bulk sales of double superphosphate. The maximum price per ton which a producer may charge, basis f. o. b. railroad cars at his plant, for double superphosphate (containing 22 per cent or more but less than 40 per cent available phosphoric acid) for sale in bulk to fertilizer manufacturers or mixers shall be:

(a) The product of 20 units of available phosphoric acid times the price per unit for a guaranteed grade of ordinary superphosphate, basis f. o. b. cars at producing point (i) (a) (3), plus

(b) The product of the number of units contained therein in excess of 20 units times the applicable maximum price per unit for triple superphosphate, basis f. o. b. cars at the producing point (ii). If the producer of such double superphosphate is not a producer of triple superphosphate, his applicable maximum price, for calculations required in this paragraph, shall be his actual delivered cost of triple superphosphate, or if none was purchased, the maximum price as established in (ii) (b) (4).

(iv) Sales of superphosphate in bags. The maximum price a producer may charge for superphosphate for sales in bags to fertilizer manufacturers or mixers shall be the applicable maximum price for bulk sales as determined under (i), (ii), or (iii) above, plus $1.00 per ton of 2000 pounds, plus the producer's actual cost of the bags used to package 2000 pounds.

(v) Sales of superphosphate to Government departments and agencies. The maximum price a producer may charge for sales of superphosphate to the United States Treasury, the United States Department of Agriculture or any agency of the United States shall be the applicable maximum price as established under (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) above.

(vi) Sales of superphosphate for export. The maximum price a producer may charge for sales of superphosphate for export shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 7 F.R. 5059, 7242, 6829, 9000, 10530.

(vii) Resales of double or triple superphosphate. The maximum price which one fertilizer manufacturer or mixer may charge another fertilizer manufacturer or mixer for the sale of double or triple superphosphate not produced by the seller shall be his delivered cost of such superphosphate plus $3.00 per ton of 2000 pounds.

This amendment shall become effective March 30, 1943.

Issued this 24th day of March 1943.

Chapter XVII—Office of Civilian Defense

[Regulations 3, Amendment 6]

PART 1903—UNITED STATES CITIZENS DEFENSE CORPS

ORGANIZATION OF STATE DIVISIONS

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 8757, dated May 20, 1941, as amended by Executive Order No. 9134, dated April 15, 1942, and Executive Order No. 9088, dated March 6, 1942, and pursuant to the Act approved January 27, 1942, It is hereby ordered, That §§ 1903.1 to 1903.17, inclusive, of this chapter (Regulations No. 3 of the Office of Civilian Defense), as heretofore issued and amended, be further amended, effective immediately, by adding thereto a new § 1903.18, as follows:

§ 1903.18 Organization of State divisions of Citizens Defense Corps. (a) The members of the defense corps in any community may be designated collectively as the [name of community] Section of the United States Citizens Defense Corps. Each State may organize, in addition to the sections of the defense corps organized by communities of the State, a section of the defense corps to operate on a State-wide basis. The State section and the community sections of the defense corps of a particular State may be designated collectively as the [name of State] Division of the United States Citizens Defense Corps.

(b) The State section of the Defense Corps shall be organized in accordance with the provisions of State law and shall be under the command and direction of such person (herein referred to as the "State commander") as shall be designated or appointed by the Governor or other authorized body in accordance with the provisions of State law. The State section shall consist of a staff unit and such other units, established pursuant to § 1903.3 (a) hereof (section 3 (a) of Office of Civilian Defense Regulations No. 3), as shall be deemed advisable for the State in the opinion of the State commander.

(c) The authority and responsibility of the State commander and members of the State staff unit and the other members of the state section of the Defense Corps shall be as provided by State law, which shall also control as to the method of designating or appointing such members.

(d) The staff unit of the state section of the Defense Corps may include persons duly assigned to duty in the district warning centers of the aircraft warning service and in the state and regional control centers within the State. Such persons shall not be required to complete the training or instruction specified in § 1903.7 (b) of this chapter (section 7 (b) of Office of Civilian Defense Regulations No. 3).

(e) All of the provisions of §§ 1903.1 to 1903.17, inclusive, of this chapter (Office of Civilian Defense Regulations No. 3) shall apply mutatis mutandis to the state section of the Defense Corps.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter IV—War Shipping Administration

[Directive 5, Revised]

PART 321—DIRECTIVES

FORWARDING AND TRANSPORTATION OF WATER-BORNE FOREIGN COMMERCE

Directive with respect to forwarding and transportation of water-borne foreign commerce of the United States issued jointly by the Lend-Lease Administrator and the Administrator, War Shipping Administration.

To all persons (including departments, agencies and officers of the United States) engaged in the procurement, transportation or forwarding of Lend-Lease cargo, or cargo procured, transported or forwarded for the government of any country whose defense has been deemed by the President to be vital to the defense of the United States pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941 (which government is hereinafter referred to as a Lend-Lease government); and to all departments, agencies, officers, governmental corporations and other instrumentalities of the United States engaged in or concerned with the procurement, transportation or forwarding of cargo for delivery overseas.

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by the Act of March 11, 1941 (Public Law 11, 77th Congress), and delegated to the Lend-Lease Administrator pursuant to Executive Order 8926, dated October 28, 1941 as amended; and by virtue of the authority vested in the Administrator, War Shipping Administration by the Act of March 14, 1942 (Public Law 498, 77th Congress), by Executive Order 9054, dated February 7, 1942 as amended, it is hereby directed:

Section 321.5, Directive No. 5, issued November 24, 1942, (7 F.R. 9460), as amended (7 F.R. 9790), is revised to read:

§ 321.5 Directive No. 5. (a) Pursuant to Directive No. 1 of the Lend-Lease Administrator, dated November 11, 1942 (7 F.R. 9359) and to Directive No. 4 of the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, revised January 26, 1943 (8 F.R. 1321) the ocean bill of lading issued by any vessel (without regard to the nationality of the vessel) for the ocean carriage of any cargo included within the scope of the aforesaid directives, or required by the Administrator to be assigned to him, shall be in the following form:

STRAIGHT BILL OF LADING—NOT NEGOTIABLE

(Short Form)

Lend-Lease Blading
3- -43

(Name of line to be inserted as required)
B/L No.

Received for shipment from the shipper hereinafter named, the goods, or packages said to contain goods, hereinafter mentioned in apparent good order and condition unless otherwise indicated in this bill of lading, to be transported to the port of discharge and there to be delivered or transshipped on the terms hereinafter stated. In every contingency whatsoever, and even in case of deviation or of unseaworthiness of the ship at time of loading or at any subsequent time, the rights and obligations, whatsoever they may be, of each and every person having any interest or duty whatsoever in respect of the receipt, care, custody, carriage, delivery or transshipment of the goods whether as shipper, consignee, holder or endorsee of the bill of lading, receiver or owner of the goods, master of the ship, carrier, shipowner, demise charterer, time charterer, operater, agent, bailee, warehouseman, forwarder, or otherwise howsoever, shall be subject to and governed by the terms of the Carrier's regular Bill of Lading, which shall be deemed to be incorporated herein, including any amendments thereto or special provisions thereof which may be in effect at the time the goods are received for shipment and applicable to the intended voyage. Copies of such Bill of Lading may be obtained on application to the Agent or the Master at the port of shipment or port of discharge or to the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, Washington. This shipment shall have effect subject to the provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States, approved April 16, 1936, which shall be deemed to be incorporated herein and nothing herein contained shall be deemed as a surrender by the carrier of any of its rights or immunities or an increase of any of its responsibilities or liabilities under said Act. The provisions stated in said Act shall (except as may be otherwise specifically provided in the bill of lading referred to above) govern before the goods are loaded on and after they are discharged from the ship and throughout the entire time the goods are in the custody of the carrier. Nothing herein contained, whether by express statement, reference, implication or otherwise, shall be deemed a surrender of any rights or immunities or an increase of any responsibilities or liabilities which the ship, her owner, charter, operator, agent or master or any carrier, bailee, warehouseman, or forwarder of the goods or the agent of any of them would have in the absence of this bill of lading. None of the terms of this bill of lading shall be deemed to have been waived by any person unless by express waiver signed by such person, or his duly authorized agent.

In accepting this bill of lading, the shipper, consignee, pledgee, holder or endorsee of this bill of lading, receiver, owner of the goods and each of them agree that all freight engagements, dock receipts, or other agreements whatsoever in respect of the shipment of the goods are superseded by this bill of lading, and agree to be bound by all its terms whether written, printed or stamped on the front or back thereof or incorporated by reference therein, any local customs or privileges to the contrary notwithstanding.

If requested, one signed bill of lading duly endorsed must be surrendered to the agent of the ship at the port of discharge in exchange for delivery order.

[Docket No. B-300]

JAKE ABBOTT

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER TO CEASE AND DESIST

On February 3, 1943, after notice and hearing, Edward J. Hayes, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, submitted a report in which he found that code member, Jake Abbott, operating the Abbott Mine, Mine Index No. 1492, located in District 8, in Belle County, Kentucky, wilfully violated the code, the rules and regulations thereunder, and the Order of the Director in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940, by selling approximately 177.5 tons of 3/8" x 0 slack, although no minimum prices had been established for such coal for rail shipment.

The examiner recommended that an order be entered requiring code member to cease and desist from selling coal when no prices, temporary or final, had been established therefor by the Division in violation of the Act, the code and the orders, rules and regulations issued thereunder, particularly the Order of the Director in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940.

Opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the examiner's report. No exceptions have been filed.

I have considered the report of the examiner, and I find that it adequately and accurately reflects the evidence disclosed in the record. Upon the basis of the proposed findings of fact, proposed conclusions of law and recommendation set forth in the report and upon the entire record in this proceeding,

It is hereby ordered, That the proposed findings of fact and the proposed conclusions of law of the examiner are approved and adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director.

It is further ordered, That code member, Jake Abbott, operating the Abbott Mine, Mine Index No. 1492, located in Belle County, Kentucky, in District 8, his agents, employees, representatives, successors and assigns, and all persons acting or claiming to act on his behalf or interest, cease and desist from violating the provisions of the Act, the code or the orders, rules or regulations issued thereunder, especially the Order of the Director in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940.

Notice is hereby given that upon failure or refusal to comply with this order, the Division may apply to a United States Circuit Court of Appeals for enforcement thereof or may otherwise proceed as authorized by the Act.

W. N. Ross

ORDER REVOKING LICENSE AND DIRECTING ITS SURRENDER

In the matter of W. N. Ross, licensee. Proceeding for revocation of license.

To: W. N. Ross, Grande Ronde, Oregon.

Based upon the records in this matter, I, R. R. Sayers, Director of the Bureau of Mines, make the following findings of fact:

1. On February 17, 1943, a Specification of Charges against you setting forth violations of the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863) and the regulations pursuant thereto of which you were accused was mailed to you giving you notice to mail an answer within 15 days demanding a hearing if you wished to be heard on the charges against you.

2. More than 30 days have elapsed since the giving of said notice. The length of time required for mail to be delivered to the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C., from Grande Ronde, Oregon, does not exceed 5 days. The only answer from you was dated March 4, 1943, and was received March 8, 1943. You have not denied the charges against you, nor denied that they constitute violations of the Federal Explosives Act or of the regulations thereunder, nor offered any adequate excuse for your violations. You have not requested a hearing.

3. The charges against you are true.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by sections 8 and 18 of the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863) and § 301.22 of the regulations thereunder (7 F.R. 5901), It is hereby ordered, That Purchaser's License No. 476,934 and all other licenses, if any, issued to you under the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863) be and they are hereby revoked as of midnight, March 31, 1943; and

That you shall surrender all licenses and all certified or photographic copies thereof, if any, issued to you under the Federal Explosives Act by delivering or mailing them to me at the Interior Department, Washington, D. C., before midnight, March 31, 1943.

Failure to surrender the licenses as provided in this order will constitute a violation of the Federal Explosives Act, punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Dated: March 24th, 1943.

The areas described, including both public and nonpublic lands, aggregate approximately 705,300 acres.

This order shall be subject to (1) the reservation made by the Proclamation of May 27, 1907, reserving all public lands within 60 feet of the international boundary between the United States and the Republic of Mexico, and (2) the transmission line withdrawal under Federal Power Commission Project No. 482, so far as such reservations affect any of the above-described lands.

This order shall take precedence over, but shall not rescind or revoke, (1) the withdrawal for classification and other purposes made by Executive Order No. 6910 of November 26, 1934, as amended, (2) the withdrawal made by Executive Order No. 8038 of January 25, 1939, establishing the Cabeza Prieta Game Range, (3) the order of the Secretary of the Interior of March 14, 1929, withdrawing certain lands for reclamation purposes, and (4) the order of the Secretary of the Interior of July 14, 1938, establishing Arizona Grazing District No. 3, so far as such orders affect any of the above-described lands. After the present national emergency has been officially terminated, this order, so far as it affects lands heretofore withdrawn for reclamation purposes, shall be ineffective upon notice to the War Department by the Secretary of the Interior that such lands are needed for reclamation purposes; and it is intended that all of the above-described public lands shall be returned to the administration of the Department of the Interior, when they are no longer needed for the purposes for which they are reserved.

The Commanding Officer, Yuma Aerial Gunnery Range, will, after consultation with the local representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, designate at least two days each month on which there will be no firing affecting the lands in T. 14 S., R. 7 W., Tps. 13 to 17 S., R. 8 W., Tps., 13 to 16 S., Rs. 9 and 10 W., to enable the field personnel of the Fish and Wildlife Service to carry out normal patrol and maintenance activities.

On the lands in T. 14 S., R. 7 W., Tps. 13 to 17 S., R. 8 W., Tps. 13 to 16 S., Rs. 9 and 10 W., bombing shall be confined by the War Department to the valley floors, and shall not be permitted in the mountain areas, which are the important mountain sheep habitats, nor within a one-mile radius of all water holes, springs, wells, or tanks. Any roads and trails on such lands which may be damaged by War Department use shall be restored to good condition by the War Department upon return of the lands to the administration of the Department of the Interior.

ABE FORTAS,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.
